Oklahoma Highway Contractors Rushing Segment to Completion

Giant machine in Oklahoma mixes and spreads 3600 feet of two lane highway each day. Cement, dirt and water are mixed in one operation.

One of the many dump trucks shown unloading some ingredients into the big concrete machine. A long procession of trucks await their turn to unload.

The contractors of the South section of a new expressway from Red River to Oklahoma City are rushing work to complete the project by April, 1964. Work on this end of the road is ahead of schedule.

Several contracts were let on the highway construction job. The South segment extends from Red River to about a half mile South of Walters at a huge interchange.

The big machine above mixes dirt, cement and water together and spreads 3600 feet of two lane highway each day. After the mixture is spread, a solution is sprayed over the top to keep it from drying out too fast. When the Walters Circle is reached, the machine will be turned around and come back to the River, spreading the other side of the four lane expressway.

The expressway is U. S. Highway 277. Texas contractors are also working feverishly on the segment from Red River to Wichita Falls. They are also working on an early spring completion schedule.

Oklahoma contractors have already completed a nice wide concrete and steel bridge spanning Red River to connect the Oklahoma and Texas highways.

NOW START DRILLING

So you have an idea you can get rich quick drilling a wildcat oil well. You are right, if you drill in the right spot. But take a look at the following figures before you mortgage your house to raise drilling money. Then you can get an idea of why a crude oil producer is granted a depletion allowance as a credit on his federal income tax. If he didn't get it you would be paying a substantially higher price for gasoline.

A new study containing a six-year analysis of the more than 8,000 new field wildcat wells drilled in 1956 shows that less than 2 per cent uncovered commercial quantities of oil or natural gas. A new field wildcat—also known as a rank wildcat—is a well drilled in an area where oil or gas has never been found.

The American Association of Petroleum Geologists, which maintains six-year records of such wells in order to determine how many eventually become profitable recently released its reports on wildcat wells drilled in 1956.

A well is considered profitable if it discovers reserves of at least 1 million barrels of oil or 6 billion cubic feet of natural gas.

The geologists' study found that of the 8,436 new field wildcats drilled in 1956, 159—or 1.88 per cent—later proved to be profitable discoveries, a ratio of about 1 in 53.

Now start hunting your drilling spot to make your million.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

One of those strange, inexplicable decisions by Congress will probably result in the American housewife paying a great deal more for foodstuffs.

For a long time, the labor barons have been trying to organize the itinerant farmworkers who cultivate and harvest crops in the Western part of the nation, principally California.

Most of C. W. Harder this work requires what is known as "stoop labor" which American workers, enjoying unemployment compensation, and relief checks, are very reluctant to engage in. For many years there has existed a formal arrangement whereby Mexican labor, experienced in agricultural work, have been brought into the nation during the harvest seasons, paid according to standards set up by government, housed and fed according to a prescribed code.

Over 200,000 of these experienced farm workers have been used annually.

This has distressed labor barons who have tried for years to convert farm labor into dues paying union members.

But as long as this Mexican labor, known as "braceros," was available, the labor bosses were stymied. Thus, the labor leaders enlisted the support of that peculiar clique composed of sob sisters, sociologists, and various mendicants who never planted a crop or harvested one and thus know nothing.

about the problem, and prevailed upon Congress to end the agreement with Mexico.

Thus, all attention will be focused on California when the needs for harvest labor reach their peak. For in California alone, there is over a million tons of tomatoes, a half million tons of peaches, more than 2 1/2 million tons of grapes, not to mention pears, apricots, and other crops which must be picked and processed when ripe.

It is expected that the unions will now have a field day, and either crops will rot in the fields or the cost of harvesting will be most prohibitive.

There has never been an adequate supply of domestic labor by sheer numbers, to harvest these crops. And sheer numbers alone do not tell the whole story, because it requires experience in farm work to do an efficient job.

Many of the bigger California growers are already discussing plans to move their operations to Mexico which has become an important exporter already in tomatoes, melons and berries to the U.S.

There is also an interesting lesson here. Even though California is one of the larger states, it could not exercise enough influence in Congress to block a move which can well destroy the entire agricultural economy of the state, and there were enough Congressmen from other states who know nothing about the problem to listen to the propaganda.

The lesson seems obvious. It is necessary for all of Congress to be informed of the facts in any given situation.

"TO PERM OR NOT TO PERM"

If you're one of those who keeps saying, "This season I've got to do something about my hair . . .", now is the time to do it. A pretty style, and a pretty perm to keep it that way, will make even your mirror sit up and take notice!

And while you're admiring the view at the top, stop teasing. Your hair, that is! Experts tell us that teasing tends to break down hair "tease-ability." After all, what woman — or man — wants to put up (every evening, too!) with stringy, dry, unmanageable tresses?

What to do? Frederick Jones, a hair stylist with an eye toward a man's point of view, believes that correct styling is never out of season and that fanciful hair-do's belong at the beach as well as at the bridge table.

This season he suggests that you keep hair short at the nape of the neck with greater length from the crown of the head. The bouffant effect at the side is out — but anything else goes as long as it is up. One flip of the comb should give you a perfectly planned, impromptu hair-do to go anywhere at any time.

Of course, like charity, beautiful hair begins at home. Be good to yourself this season and start your hair style with a good permanent which not only reconditions the hair, but revives the color lost in the waving process. Of course, it gives a beautiful wave and you'll discover it lets you cut down on teasing and at the same time increases the life and luster of your hair.

To add interest to the ordinary, Mr. Jones, suggests you adopt a feather, a bow, or a ribbon of snow flowers. Voila! You've created your own individual hair-do from one magic setting, much like the ones illustrated here.

With a little practice — and a good permanent — you, too, can develop skill with comb, brush and bobby pins.

Be the first to stick your pretty neck out for a new hair style, a new you and a new Pretty Perm by Shulton, Inc.

*Attracting your man

- 1. Sheer Flattery
Cap shape — no teasing, please! Top is brushed into a soft wave which dips a bit at side of brow. Sides smoothed into sleek wide waves. Back pulled into a soft wave at nape of neck. Wear it anywhere!
- 2. Almost A Tiara
Tailored velvet bow-on-a-clip encircles a top-of-the-head pouf. Soft smooth waves at sides and back are turned under. Add a floaty chiffon dress!
- 3. Fine Feathers
Bangs brushed and draped center to side. Back twisted close to head. Top lifted into large stand-up curls. Add a red feather if you're going formal, and feel very sophisticated!
- 4. Romantic Improvisation
A ribbon of flowers intertwines with hair pony-tailing from crown of the head to achieve this lovely Grecian look. Full bangs across brow. Hair pulled back as for a pony tail and secured at sides with bobby pins. Middle hair hangs straight from crown of head.
- 5. Alter-Ego
If you're the shy type, a sassy rosette at side of brow is an intriguing touch of glamour. Top hair combed straight back; sides combed straight down into soft waves and tipped up at the ends.

News From Cong. Purcell

The American Veterinary Medical Association is one hundred years old this year. This group of 17,000 doctors of veterinary medicine celebrated this centennial last week at their national convention in New York City.

On June 25, I introduced Joint Resolution 513, authorizing the President to proclaim the week beginning July 28, 1963, as Veterinary Medicine Week. On July 15, I appeared before the House Judiciary Committee in support of the resolution. The Committee approved the bill and, in unanimous action on July 17, the House passed the resolution. The next day the Senate approved the resolution, also by unanimous action.

On Friday, July 26, it was my pleasure to accompany Dr. Dan Anderson of Fort Worth, President of the American Veterinary Association, to the White House where President Kennedy signed the resolution into law. The President also signed the proclamation that day declaring the week beginning July 28 as American Veterinary Medicine Week.

I am very glad I had a part in gaining recognition for the doctors of veterinary medicine on the occasion of their centennial. Their efforts, largely unnoticed by most people, have played a part, a very important part, in the health of all our citizens. As stated by the President in his proclamation, this profession "has contributed in abundant measure to the advancement and productivity of American agriculture . . . veterinary medicine continues to advance with its allied medical disciplines toward the eradication or dramatic reduction of diseases . . . to the great benefit of the health of the American people."

TEST BAN TREATY

The proposed treaty between the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union to ban nuclear tests in the atmosphere and underwater is now under discussion in the Congress. I was briefed a few days ago on the provisions of the treaty and its implication for the future by Under Secretary of State W. Averell Harriman. This was a free and open discussion of the treaty and Mr. Harriman's talks with Soviet leaders in Moscow.

This treaty will receive thorough investigation and discussion in Congress, and it certainly should. Any step of this magnitude should not be taken lightly. All the aspects of the treaty itself, and all the relevant matters in connection with it should be gone into thoroughly. Our Constitution provides that the treaty to be in effect must be ratified by a two-thirds vote in the Senate. The House of Representatives is not required or authorized to act on ratification of treaties. The House, however, is extremely interested in this matter and it will receive much attention from all members of Congress.

It should be pointed out that the treaty does not provide in any way for the United States to reduce its armed forces, its nuclear stockpile of weapons, or its vigilance against the threat of international communism. It does not require in any way that we curtail our development of weapons, except that we would not test nuclear weapons in the atmosphere or underwater. We could, and most certainly would continue to develop nuclear weapons, making our tests underground when tests are required.

I am encouraged by many statements from the President indicating that we have learned not to trust Khrushchev and his henchmen. In his nationwide address on July 26, the President said, "This treaty is not the millennium. It will not resolve all conflicts or cause the communists to forgo their ambitions, or eliminate the dangers of war. It will not reduce our needs for arms or allies or programs of assistance to others."

The familiar contest between choice and coercion, the familiar places of danger and conflict are still there, in Cuba, in Southeast Asia, in Berlin, and all around the globe, still requiring all the strength and the vigilance that we can muster. Nothing could more greatly damage our cause than if we and our allies were to believe that peace has already been achieved and that our strength and unity were no longer required.

Under Secretary Harriman underscored to me the realization of our national leaders that the lessons we have learned in Cuba, Berlin, Laos and other places must not be forgotten. He stressed that this treaty can easily be policed with our own present facilities, that it will not require any inspection by either side, that the treaty does not ban the use of nuclear weapons for defense of our Nation or any other and that the treaty provides that any party can withdraw from the treaty agreement if that party feels it is in their national interest to withdraw.

I feel it is important that we realize what this treaty will NOT do as well as what it will do. I feel, therefore, that the debate which is taking place and will continue is very important. I would urge every citizen to give his or her attention to this debate, and to express opinion on the treaty. I would welcome expressions of opinion from residents of our district on this matter.

WHEAT LEGISLATION

Of continuing interest to our district is the current situation regarding wheat legislation. As Chairman of the Wheat Subcommittee of the House Agriculture Committee, I have been very active in this field since the wheat farmers turned down the certificate plan in the May 21 referendum.

The first series of hearings on new proposals for wheat legislation have just been concluded. We heard from witnesses who have presented bills for consideration. These witnesses included Representatives and Senators who have introduced bills, and representatives of farm organizations interested in legislation. Many proposals were discussed, and many ideas were offered.

The next step in this process of consideration will be a series of executive sessions of the subcommittee to informally discuss the different proposals among the members to see if we can reach some general areas of agreement. Following this are considering the holding of field hearings in various areas to try and determine the true farmer opinion on the future of wheat production.

Any realistic observer would conclude, at the present time, that the outlook for a program to cover the 1964 crop is not too good. So far, opinion has not coalesced on any single course of action. This, however, will not be the responsibility of those of us charged with responsibility of recommending wheat legislation from Congress. We will continue to make efforts to the cause of making an adequate income for the wheat farmer, reducing the huge government stockpile of wheat, and reducing the cost of such programs to the payers of America.

SURE HANDS OF THE SURGEON

A child walks... an arm is straightened... a growth is removed... these and many other things are the result of the fine work of the surgeon. This is an occupation and a labor worthy of appreciation.

A star... a new born baby... the world itself... these and many other things reveal God to us. "The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handywork."

Psalm 19, 1

God has wrought a great work. Let us show our love and appreciation by worshipping him in Church each Sunday

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

New Easy-Open And Resealable End Label A Welcome Improvement In Bread Packaging

NEW RE-SEALABLE BREAD WRAPPER — A new bread package now in the stores features a pressure-sensitive end seal that can be resealed each time bread is taken from the package. End seal pulls open easily and closes with just a touch of the finger.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

TRIBAL LAW

American Indians are the only 100 per cent native Americans. Indian matters come under Federal law and the terms of some 3,900 Indian treaties which are also the law of the land. Thus long ago Rev. Samuel Worcester, preaching to the Cherokees, refused to take out a license, and to swear allegiance to the State of Georgia. When Georgia jailed him for not taking a loyalty oath, the U. S. Supreme Court freed him.

The Court would not allow no state to interfere in United States Indian affairs which our treaties governed. In 1834 Congress set up the Bureau of Indian Affairs to make and carry out rules made under these treaties. Until the Civil War, the Federal government regarded Indians as wards and dependent nations—foreign nations, yet under U. S. Control. In 1871, however, Congress declared that Indian nations were no longer independent. Indians still ran their own affairs for the most part, as illustrated in a case titled IN RE CROW DOG.

In 1883 Crow Dog killed another Sioux for stealing a friend's wife. Crow Dog made amends under tribal law, and the tribe close his case. Soon afterwards federal officers sought to try him for murder, but the Supreme Court said no: Such cases did come under tribal law and this one had been settled. Shortly afterwards Congress gave Federal courts jurisdiction over most criminal cases on Indian territories. Accordingly, just the other day, the U. S. Supreme Court invalidated the conviction of a California Indian for murder. He must face trial in a Federal court instead. Indian tribal courts still try Housewives demanded it. And now it's here. A new bread wrapper that opens easily and can be re-sealed each time bread is taken from the package.

The new wrapper is the latest development in modern packaging. It is as big a step forward in bread packaging as the zipper was for clothing.

No longer is it necessary to tear open the package to get into the bread. The new wrapper has a pressure-sensitive end seal that opens easily and can be resealed with just a touch of the finger. The feature housewives like best is that it re-seals tightly time after time.

"After a few slices have been removed, this new label permits the housewife to re-seal the package," said Dudley Johnson, general manager of Mrs. Baird's Bread Plant. "This keeps the loaf fresh for the next use."

The new label is a real and needed improvement in bread packaging," Mr. Johnson added.

POPULAR ADDITION

Surveys indicate that family rooms rank high on the popularity list of home additions. These are areas where the entire family can gather for games or relaxation. They are located in attics, basements, enclosed porches, and occasionally garages.

According to the Southern Pine Association, competent handymen can do most of the work themselves in creating family rooms. The conversion can be achieved economically with modern patterns of wood paneling which are easy to apply directly to existing wall surfaces.

some criminal cases; and within the tribes, tribal law still holds. For example, they can tax and license traders on reservations. Recently, a tribal adoption ceremony was confirmed even though it took place off the reservation. In another case the Federal courts recognized a tribal divorce by mere voluntary separation.

With less orange and grapefruit juice available from this year's crop, prices have risen — especially for orange juice. Delicious alternatives for your menu include tomato, prune and apple juice and any number of tasteful blends.

We've found a convenient new product for cleaning kitchen pans. Paddy soap pads, just introduced by Brillo, are the first disposable soap pads on the market. A special metal fiber contains enough soap to clean several pots and pans — and a soft backing safeguards fingers and manicures.

There's a recipe for tasty butterscotch walnut buns on the package containing Fisher's English walnuts (and other nuts packaged by Fisher include appropriate recipes, too). Remember that pastries and desserts prepared with nuts have higher nutritive values and provide a wonderful source of quick energy.

The term "crimp-set" on sweater labels means that the normally straight nylon fibers have been crimped to give the garment more of the qualities of wool — less shiny, soft and springy to the touch.

It's amazing how many clever things can be done with children's balloons. The Oak Rubber Company, which has just been awarded the Parents' Magazine Commendation Seal, offers three booklets: Games and Decorations with Balloons, Picnic Balloon Games, and Balloon Craft for Fun, Education and Decoration. Send 10 cents for your choice of one — or 25 cents for all three — to OAK, Ravenscroft 10, Ohio.

"FACE LIFTING"

The Southern Pine Association comes up with this novel suggestion for providing a striking new "face" on older two story homes equipped with long narrow windows:

Eliminate unsightly or excessive decoration; then apply lumber siding diagonally on both sides of windows at symmetrical angles. The resulting focal points are sharp and the exterior acquires a dramatic streamlined appearance.

KEEP YOUR POWDER DRY

A fast tip for campers suggests the use of plastic laundry bags instead of duffel bags if wet weather is a possibility. Waterproof plastic keeps clothes and gear dry. Added tip: Smart boatmen have been using this tip for years to keep duffel and dinner dry.

When the cocoa butter hardens again, the chocolate turns white. Only the appearance of the chocolate is affected by this separation. Usually, there is no loss of flavor. The rest of the package goes back in the freezer for another day — and you have no leftovers. Several other foods, like frozen fish steaks and sticks, come in divided packages. Use the top layer one day; save the rest for later. Some cake mixes come in small packages holding just enough for a single layer cake. At least one brand of muffin

Are you looking for ways to prepare quick and tasty meals. Ready-mixed, precooked, and frozen "convenience" foods can be a big help, says Miss Wirges. More of these foods are coming on the market all the time. Several offer special advantages for the newly married couple and couples without children at home — such as divided and small-size cartons and plastic bags that let you remove only as much as you need for a meal. Gelatin fruit desserts and mixed fruit cups are other convenience food favorites that you can combine for new dishes. Applesauce is a handy item that fits into almost any meal. You can spice it with a little powdered cinnamon or clove and serve it with the meat course. Or adding it into a dessert by adding orange, orange slices, cherries or crushed pineapple.

Pudding mixes, too, can be blended with any of several go-togethers—fresh, frozen, or canned fruits, ice cream, or chopped nuts. For the homemaker with limited storage space, convenience foods offer an added bonus.

The Wichita County Junior Horse Show will be held at the Sheriffs Posse Arena on Saturday, August 10. The show will start at 9:00 a. m. Ribbons, belt buckles, trophies will be awarded as prizes.

The Wichita County Junior Horse Club will have their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, August 13th. The meeting will be held at the 4-H Barn. The value of Texas, farm and ranch production is exceeded by only one other raw material, oil. The value of the state's total yearly agricultural production exceeds the payroll for manufacturing, or the total of construction awards or the payroll for retail trades, points out B. T. Haws, county agent.

Farm and ranch production each year has a total value of just under 21 billion dollars, but, agriculture adds much more to our total economy than just income from the sale of products. Business firms which assemble, process, distribute, transport wholesale and retail the products of Texas farms and ranches employ about 20 percent of the labor force of the state and add about 3.9 billion dollars to the agribusiness economy. Their primary concern is to get the agricultural products to the final consumer in the desired form and at the right place and time.

Simple addition shows that the sale of agricultural products plus the cost of processing and distributing them annually adds to the state's economy about $6.3 billion. The economic destiny of most Texas counties, the county agent adds, hinges primarily on the agribusiness economy.

And commenting upon the future of the Texas agricultural industry, Haws emphasizes the future will belong to those people and states which work to keep their agricultural economy competitive with other areas of the nation and world. Agriculture, he adds, is no longer a way of life, but rather a big competitive business. He's strong for keeping the industry in Texas in a strong competitive position.

A new method of insect control, chemical sterilants, strike at the insect's most effective weapon — its ability to reproduce tremendous numbers. This technique not only lowers insect reproductive capacity, but also reduces its ability to develop resistance to chemical control.

While the number of farms and farm workers in the U. S. has steadily declined, the farmers' total expenditures continue to increase, says the USDA. Production expenses have quadrupled in 40 years from less than $7 billion in 1922 to $28 billion in 1962.

Sixty-two per cent of our present cropland needs conservation treatment, says the county agent. Erosion control is needed on 161 million acres, 60 million are under excess water, unfavorable soils exist on 36 million, and adverse climate is a problem on 14 million acres.

Visi-Belle will star in the Dallas Health and Science Museum's special State Fair presentation, "The Story of Life."

Family FINANCIAL PROTECTION

Policyholder Questions Answered by the Institute of Life Insurance

Q. The latest financial report from my life insurance company shows that the company has almost $150 million in "surplus funds." If this money isn't needed, why doesn't the company give it back to the policyholders?

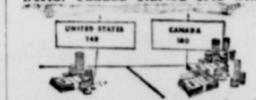

A. The word "surplus" merely means that this money is not part of the specific reserve funds your company maintains in order to meet the foreseeable hazards and obligations of doing business. But so-called "surplus" funds are still very much needed. The main purpose of "surplus" is to serve as a financial buffer against unpredictable losses—such as a big, unexpected increase in death rates or a severe drop in a nation's economy.

For example, in order to meet its obligations to you, the company must build the reserves behind your insurance and the cash value of your policy at the guaranteed interest rate stated in your policy contract—probably between 2% and 3% a year. If earnings on life companies' new investments should ever drop below that guaranteed rate, (as happened during the 1930s), your company would make up the difference from its "surplus."

Or if a bad epidemic should strike (as has happened several times in this century), your company might have to draw on its "surplus" in order to meet a sharp rise in death claims.

Q. Is it true that Canada owns more life insurance than the United States?

A. In one sense, it is true. In relation to her national income, Canada owns more life insurance than any other nation in the world. Canada started 1962 with almost $51 billion of life insurance in force, which equalled 180% of her national income for one year. Of course, the United States actually owns many times that amount, but the $629 billion of life insurance in this country at the beginning of 1962 equalled only 148% of U.S. national income. By this yardstick, the United States ranks second to Canada.

dry weather and heat slowed terracing operation in the Wichita County portion of the Wilbarger-Wichita Conservation District. Studding greatly reduces erosion, however, terracing is needed on most farms.

to control heavy rainfall. Grain farms can be severely damaged by heavy rains about sowing time or soon afterward before the grain develops a good root system, according to W. C. Fleming, Soil Conservation Service technician at Iowa Park.

Some cooperators of the Wilbarger-Wichita Soil Conservation District who have recognized the need of terraces on their farms and have recently installed terrace systems are: W. A. Kohn, N. T. Crane, Leo Wolf, M. H. Hunter, Mrs. Lucille Preston and Mrs. Walter Siber.

Mr. Krohn has constructed approximately 25,000-ft. of terraces on his farm northeast of Iowa Park. He is now in process of installing another waterway. Presently he has four waterways well established in permanent grasses.

N. T. Crane of the Clara-Fairview Community has begun a terrace system on two of his farms. He plans to construct more later when his waterways are better established.

Mrs. Lucille Preston of Electra has constructed 8,500 feet of terraces and a two acre waterway. Fritz Begeman is oper-

Fashion Tips... by Celeste Rose

IF YOU ARE TALL...
Achieve an attractive fashionable look by wearing longer jackets, wide belts, bold color contrast. Medium size prints are good...and don't be afraid of high heels!

IF YOU ARE SHORT...
Vertical lines, high hats and heels, slim shortskirts, narrow belts and single-color costumes are best for you.

IF YOU ARE THIN...
You're probably a natural born clothes horse. You can make the most of soft drapery fabrics, bright satins or spongy tweeds, full pleated skirts, ruffles and bulky knits.

IF YOU ARE PLUMP...
Concentrate on tailored lines and dark colors. Flared skirts flatter your figure... ruffles, thick tweeds and sleeveless frocks don't.

KEY INNOVATIONS
Key innovations in home building are floor systems of "engineered wood."
One method utilizes Southern Pine decking over widely spaced beams of the same species. Not only does the deck form an attractive surface, but it also serves functions that normally require separate sub-floor and flooring.
The simplicity of the system generates economy and the natural resiliency of wood assures walking comfort. While raised off the ground above masonry or concrete piers, the arrangement is streamlined to conform with the low contours of the contemporary style.

M. H. Hunter has completed the terrace system on his farm four miles northwest of Punkin Center by installing 6,400 feet of terraces. He has an excellent well established waterway.
Mrs. Walter Siber, whose farm is located northwest of Burkburnett has completed her terrace system and made corrections on the outlets of old terraces.
Terraces are being constructed on the Steward and Woodward farm northeast of Electra. This is the beginning of a rather large terrace system, some of which will have to be delayed until waterways are established.
E. C. Graf, operator of Mrs. Emma Shulz's farm east of Punkin Center is constructing a 2-130 cubic yard farm pond. This is an enlargement job and Mr. Graf removed the mud at his own expense before staking was done by SCS technicians.
Arnold Holtzen, operator of the Mrs. Frances Ann Duncan farm in the Clara Community is constructing a 5,600 cubic yard pond on this farm. Also, he is installing a trickle tube in the dam to control the water level in the pond. This soil is highly erosive and an earthen spillway will not withstand long periods of flow.
Farmers will do well to remember the benefits of legumes in crop rotations. Austrian winter peas, alfalfa, and vetch are excellent winter legumes.

Space problems happily solved here.

Families on-the-grow often create the need for more living space. Frequently this can only be obtained by moving into larger quarters. Best solution, in many cases, is to buy a new home of their own. If this raises the question of financing, we have the best answer to that. We'll arrange a Home Loan that can be repaid just like rent. A single monthly repayment is usually set up to include principal, interest and property taxes as well. Cost of the loan is low. Service prompt. Come in, talk it over.

In other cases, the necessary extra living space can be developed right in the family's present home by finishing off extra rooms in attic or basement, enclosing a porch, converting an attached garage. The necessary funds can be obtained on a low-cost Home Improvement Loan from us.

Wesleyan Guild Annual Patio Dinner

The Wesleyan Guild met August 8th at 7:30 p. m. in Mrs. Homer Gilbert's home with Lucille Duvall as cohostess.

Mrs. Bertha Majors presided. Joy Pirtle gave the blessing. The beautiful patio was a veritable garden of potted plants and greenery. The beautiful meal consisted of fried chicken, black eyed peas, green beans, all kinds of salads, pickles, olives and all the trimmings, also iced tea and wound up the meal with one of Mrs. Winford Henry's famous cherry cobblers.

The business meeting followed the meal. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The treasurer gave a wonderful report—quite a number of donations of $10.00 to $25.00 had been made within the past month, with a nice balance still in the bank.

The Guild will sponsor a Wedding Shower for Margaret Vaughn on August 20th.

Mrs. Pete Martin brought the lesson which was given in a very instructive manner.

Mrs. Pirtle dismissed with prayer. Guests present were Mrs. John Rigby and Mrs. Van Deren.

Members present were, Mesdames Joe Nichols, Morris Simonson, Coy Jones, Pete Martin, Jim Pirtle, Jim Morris, James Brady, Glen Schroeder, A. A. McKinnis, Bertha Majors, Winford Henry, Lucille Duvall, O. E. Melton, Bess Kirsh and Gilbert.

Mrs. Dyle Vaughn Hostess To Blanche Groves Circle

Mrs. Dyle Vaughn was hostess to Our Circle, Monday morning at nine o'clock, August 4th, 1963. Chairman, Mrs. R. P. Thaxton, presided at the meeting.

The Secretary-Treasurer read the report of our last meeting, that met in the home of Mrs. R. P. Thaxton. Song, "I Need Thee Every Hour," was played by Oma B. Van Cleave. Prayer was by Mrs. Margaret Parrish. Devotional by Mrs. Sue Vaughn.

Our Prayer Chairman, Mrs. Sue Vaughn read the Prayer Calendar that has names of the Missionaries. The Community Chairman, Mrs. Sue Cantrell was absent on account of the illness of her sister in Lawton, Oklahoma.

There were six members present as follows, Mesdames John Parrish (Margaret became our new member of our Circle), R. P. Thaxton, Mae Van Deren, Sue Vaughn, Marie Hinkle, Margaret Parrish and Miss Oma B. Van Cleave.

Mrs. Marie Hinkle and Margaret Parrish finished the Second Chapter of our Mission Book, "World Awareness." Our secretary had us to mark our cards for August.

Dismissal Prayer was by Mrs. R. P. Thaxton. The refreshments served by our Hostess Sue Vaughn were frosted Cokes and cookies. Our next meeting will be with Eileen Cox, the 3rd Monday, August 18, 1963. All members of the Blanche Groves Circle reported a good meeting. Reporter, Miss Oma B. Van Cleave.

Better Health Through Knowledge

Medical Mirror

PETIT MAL — GRAND MAL

Q. Is petit mal a chronic condition? Is there any connection between petit mal and grand mal?

A. Petit mal and grand mal are different forms of epilepsy. Both may occur in the same patient but one does not necessarily lead to the other. Epilepsy of either type is a chronic condition which can be controlled but for which there is no cure.

DOUCHING

Q. Should unmarried women take douches and if so, how often? Also, should they use tampons?

A. Unless there is some medical reason for doing so, regular douching is unnecessary. Many women have the mistaken idea that douching is essential to cleanliness when in fact, the healthy vagina does not require frequent mechanical cleansing. The internal type of absorbent is quite satisfactory for women—married or single—who prefer this type.

Zone A Optimist Meet August 4th

Zone A Optimist met Sunday, August 4th in the meeting room of Parker Square State Bank in Wichita Falls.

Mike Duncan, Lieutenant Governor was in charge of the meeting.

District Officers present were Dr. Lloy Lake, Gainesville, past president; Gov. Guy Herrell, Odessa; Dr. J. D. Strickland, secretary-treasurer, Odessa; and Newt Secrest, Pampa.

Local Optimist attending were Ken Blankinship, president; Webb Sharp, 1st vice president; Clarence Ward, secretary-treasurer; James Spinks, director and finance chairman; Clyde Slusher, program chairman.

Many new ideas for boys work were discussed as well as the Young Texan Program, sponsored by the Troy V. Post Foundation. James Davey, was first runner-up for the Texas Boy of the Year in 1962.

The local Optimist feel that there are many deserving boys in the area and will submit a boy each month for this outstanding award.

Ken Blankinship further stated the local Optimists were cooperating with the directors of the swimming pool in setting up the First Annual Swimming Competition Sunday, August 18.

The board of directors for the pool have done an outstanding job again this year and the 18th should be an outstanding event. Plan to attend and support these fine directors.

DIAGONALS
According to the Southern Pine Association, vertical and horizontal placement aren't the only possible arrangements of exterior wood siding.

A third option is diagonal placement on either flanks of triangular windows. This creates a series of tangents and interesting focal points.

Recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schroeder were their granddaughter, in Campbell, and a girl from Margy Ayers, of Duncan, Oklahoma. While here they enjoyed a bowling party and shopping spree in Wichita Falls.
