New Speed Limits Signs Placed On U. S. 277-281 and State 240

The Board of Commissioners of the City of Burkburnett passed an Ordinance December 16, 1963 setting out speed limits upon Highways, U. S. 277-281, also State Highway 240 or 3rd Street.

The speed zone markers are set to meet the recommended speeds determined by a traffic survey made by the State Highway Department, which is to promote the safety and welfare of the public.

All other areas of the city limits to remain 30 miles per hour unless otherwise marked, and the City's Police Department is responsible for the enforcement of all allowed speeds within the City Limits.

The graduated speed zone system is used in most all Texas cities on State Highways, and all law enforcement officers are constantly asking everyone to drive carefully, and observe the traffic laws, and the City government asks the cooperation of everyone to help make our City a safer and better place in which to live.

The President Demands Economy

In the vast welter of news and speculation that surround President Lyndon Johnson's first days and weeks in office, one statement of his, of potential great significance may have been widely overlooked.

Speaking before a joint session of Congress, he made it unequivocally clear that he means to press for maximum economy in the operation of the government. His avowed purpose is to get a dollar's worth of value in return for each public dollar spent.

This is not just a matter of lip service to a principle. The new President implemented it with action, in the form of orders and directives to both government agencies and concerns doing business with the government which, in effect, demand a strict accounting of all costs and the making of reductions where possible.

This does not mean that government spending will be anything other than huge. Indeed, if the space race intensifies, it may substantially increase. But if Mr. Johnson has his way, the government will watch its spending with a much more analytical eye.

It is to be hoped that the President will take still another needed step—that is, to urge the removal of government from the tax-exempt operation of commercial projects which can and should be undertaken by taxpaying private enterprise.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

MILES CITY, MONT., STAR: "In a Moscow military parade, Khrushchev wheeled out for a public view what represented was an anti-missile missile. I do not suggest that we take Khrushchev's word for it. But, at the same time we should not be trusting him to keep his word on the test-ban treaty as we seem to be doing. The flaunting of the Soviet weapon dramatically points up the enormity of the risk we are taking by not developing our own anti-missile missile with all possible haste."

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

Largely unnoticed, Congress has passed a bill which in effect does not require certain states to raise the taxes to employers to meet the high costs of unemployment payments to reimburse the Federal government for the extra contributions to these plans.

California, a leader in welfare payments, was one of the states affected. This makes an interesting case study.

As previously pointed out, in the food processing industries unemployment checks are sent to the students, housewives and other seasonal employees who only work during the summer season, and want no year around steady job. Of course, the payroll taxes paid by the employers is of necessity added to the cost of the products.

Food canning is a big California industry. The seasonal workers receive up to 39 weeks after the canning season ends unemployment checks even though they have no intention of working the rest of the year. Thus, the food canning industry is in effect giving the seasonal employees a guaranteed annual wage.

The canners in California pay the maximum unemployment insurance rate permitted by law which at present is 3.3% of the payroll. Yet economists in the canning industry have found if the canner's were taxed on their payroll a sufficient amount to equal the amounts handed out to the seasonal workers during the rest of the year, the tax would have to be 9% of the payroll.

The difference is made up by higher taxes assessed against the payrolls of all employers, even those who have practically no turn-over rate. The Federal government contributes to each state in addition to the money raised by the states taxing the employer.

But California was in trouble. Due to the unions constantly pushing up and up the wages that must be paid to these seasonal workers, unemployment payments to them also increased.

Thus, for the Federal government to get back the money it has paid out in extra funds to California, it would be incumbent on the California state government to raise the maximum rates on employers.

This, of course, would create substantial embarrassment to the state government, especially if it became public knowledge that the tax increases were necessary to keep sending checks for 39 weeks to people who do not want to work except during the season.

Thus, like the Seventh Cavalry used to sweep across the Western plains to save the settlers from having their scalps lifted, the Congress, armed with the U.S. Treasury, swept across the Sierras to prevent scalps from being lifted in Sacramento. It is a truly touching display of the principle of "all for one, and one for all," as long as the employers, food consumers, and all other taxpayers foot the bill. There is nothing that cannot be accomplished if the public can be gouged deeply enough.

a law in the popular assembly, he did so on a platform with a rope around his neck. If the law passed, they removed the rope. If it failed, they removed the platform. If this system were instituted in our Congress, it would, no doubt, cut down on the number of bills introduced each session."

KENNETT, MO., DUNKLIN DEMOCRAT: "If soaring deficits should set off a major new wave of inflation, some leading authorities think is almost certain, the loss in the dollar's purchasing power would far offset any tax cuts. Then, beyond that, the weakening of American prestige and economic power in today's chaotic world would compound the disaster, to unknown dimensions."

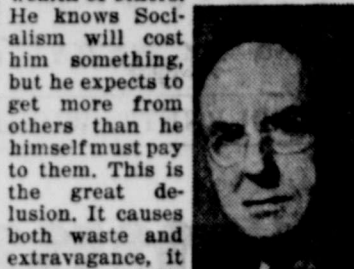

ALBANY, KY., NEWS: "Democrats and Republicans in Congress are accusing one another of playing politics. That's like accusing Daniel Boone of carrying a gun."

IT'S UP TO YOU

By

Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

THE main spring of Socialism is the belief that the individual is going to get some of the wealth of others.

Dr. Kershner

He knows Socialism will cost him something, but he expects to get more from others than he himself must pay to them. This is the great delusion. It causes both waste and extravagance, it relaxes diligence, destroys self-reliance and promotes all manner of scheming upon the part of the individual to find ways of living as much as possible from the labor of others. It is not only costly, wasteful and unfair, but viciously destructive of moral character. It violates two of God's Commandments against coveting and stealing; it places heavy burdens upon the people and greatly reduces the amount of goods and services they could enjoy if they would abide by the moral law of God and seek to meet their own needs and wants, with Christian charity providing generously for the ill and the unfortunate.

In this connection let me refer again to the timely warning of the late President Woodrow Wilson:

The history of liberty is a history of the limitation of governmental power, not the increase of it. When we resist, therefore, the concentration of power, we are resisting the process of death, because the concentration of power is what always precedes the destruction of human liberties.

The profound truth is, as Wilson pointed out, that every addition to the power and function of government is hastening the destruction of human liberties and advancing the processes of death to our free society. Every American should ponder Wilson's words carefully, and face up to the fact that every extension of Socialism is destroying his liberty and bringing nearer the death of the free society which we all so greatly enjoy.

I wish I could burn those words into the mind of every American: "The concentration of power always precedes the destruction of our liberties." "When we resist the concentration of power we are resisting the process of death."

Howard E. Kershner's Commentaries, Inc., New York 13, N. Y.

The first American Dictionary was published by Noah Webster in 1828.

The District Junior Beef Show will be held in the 4-H Barn in Wichita Falls on February 4, 5, 6, and 7. This show is sponsored annually by the Wichita Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce. 4-H and FFA boys and girls from twenty-eight North Texas and Southern Oklahoma counties participate in the show. This is one of the outstanding major livestock shows in Texas. Anyone interested in seeing some good beef steers are invited to attend any part of the show.

A soil conservation meeting will be held at the Valley Farms Community House on Tuesday, January 21 beginning at 7:30 p. m. This will be an outstanding meeting and one you will not want to miss.

Two of the country's most destructive insects, the cabbage looper and cotton bollworm, have been successfully controlled by mass produced insect viruses that are harmless to man.

Tests conducted by the U. S.

Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Service much of the work was done at the research center at Brownsville, indicate that early-season spray applications of virus will artificially induce epidemics and control the insects before they can damage crops.

Work is now underway to determine timing, rates and frequency of application of the viruses. Studies indicate only a small amount of insect virus material is needed for effective control. The scientists believe a man probably could hold enough powdered cabbage looper virus concentrate on the nail of his small finger to treat five acres. They also believe the looper and bollworm viruses can be produced at prices farmers can afford. But artificially produced viruses for insect control are still experimental materials and none are available for use by the public.

Highly successful eradication measures, cold weather and the need to conserve funds have prompted eradication officials to cut the production of sterile screwworm flies by 50 percent.

An average of 70 million flies per week will be reared in the weeks ahead; production had been hovering near the 140 million per week mark during the fall. Eradication workers are confident this number will be sufficient to adequately treat those areas of Texas where native screwworms can survive the cold temperature.

The use of chemicals for weed control continues to increase in popularity with cotton growers. The reason — their use saves both time and labor.

The recommended chemicals for use after the cotton is up include diuron plus surfactant and herbicidal oil. Recommended on a trial basis is prometryne plus a surfactant. Lateral oiling — from the acres treated — is the most widely used practice involving chemicals for weed and grass control.

Chemicals for spot oiling Johnsongrass are in wide use and those recommended for use in 1964 include naphtha, general contact weed oils and diesel oil fortified with C-56. Dalapon is also recommended for spot treatment use as a foliar spray on Johnsongrass.

Diuron layby is the only chemical recommended for layby treatment, the agent adds.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THE GARAND RIFLE: THE "M-1"

The .30 caliber M-1 rifle, official arm of servicemen in World War II and Korea and currently in use, was invented and developed at Springfield Armory in Springfield, Massachusetts by Canadian-born John C. Garand, according to the National Rifle Association, a non-profit membership organization recognized as the governing body for shooting in the U. S. Garand, a civilian engineer who had been employed at the Armory since 1919, designed a series of rifles, but the one finally adopted by the Army in 1936 was gas-operated. It replaced the bolt action .30 caliber 1903 Springfield which cannot deliver the firepower of the M-1 Garand.

semi-trailer (except certain farm vehicles) used on a highway is required to be registered, regardless of its size or use. This includes boat trailers. The registration year runs from April 1 to midnight March 31 of the following year. The owner of a vehicle is required to register his vehicle in the county of his residence.

Persons moving to Texas from MOST other states (military excepted) are required to register their vehicles when they establish a residence or take a job in Texas, even though the registration has not expired in the state from which the vehicle is moved. An owner in doubt about his status should consult a County Tax Collector or the nearest office of the Department of Public Safety.

Passenger cars and trucks must have license plates on both front and rear.

If a license plate is lost the owner must take the odd plate to his County Tax Collector, make an affidavit that he lost the plate and obtain a set of replacement plates. It is illegal to operate a vehicle with license plates issued to another vehicle.

CERTIFICATE OF TITLE
A Certificate of Title is required for all motor vehicles and house trailers registered or sold in Texas. An owner or driver does not have to carry a Certificate of Title while driving a vehicle. This Certificate of Title can be obtained through the County Tax Collector who acts as agent of the Texas Highway Department.

TRANSFER OF USED MOTOR VEHICLES

When a person sells or transfers a used or second-hand vehicle required to be registered in Texas, he must deliver to the purchaser at the time of delivery of the vehicle (1) the registration receipt for the current year, and (2) a properly assigned Certificate of Title. Assignment requires a signature before a Notary Public attesting ownership and the fact that there are no liens except as may be shown on the Certificate of Title. It is unlawful to deliver a Certificate of Title to the purchaser of a motor vehicle without filing in all the required information.

Within ten (10) days after purchasing a used vehicle, the purchaser is required to file the registration receipt and the properly assigned Certificate of Title with the Tax Collector of his home county and to make application for a transfer of title and registration of the vehicle. A fee of $5.00 must be paid to the Tax Collector if the filing is delayed over ten days.

WICHITA FALLS COMMUNITY SINGERS TO MEET JAN. 19

The Wichita Falls Community Singers will meet at the Fellowship Baptist Church at corner of Ave. C and Bell Street, just off Monroe Street, Sunday, January 19, 1964. Time 2:00 till 4:00 o'clock. Have a special program of good gospel singing. The public is cordially invited. Avis Caldwell, Secretary.

Managing a home is a full-time job for some homemakers, while others have time for many outside interests. Emphasizes Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent.

Planning is the first step toward good management of a smoothly-operating home, she says. Many homemakers fail to make use of all their resources or make poor use of some resources, she explains.

Miss Wirges suggests making plans for a week at a time. List all the things which have to be done and the things you would like to do. Don't overlook including family members when making the list. They might rather have you join them on a picnic than to have a spotless house—or they may be willing to do the housework so you can make a dress or a shirt. Next, arrange the jobs into a week to allow you to get the things done and also have time to enjoy your family, your neighbors, or a hobby.

Be sure to share the home-making jobs with all family members—no matter how young or old. Starting helps them to feel that they belong.

Check your plans. Have you listed something which could be left undone? Are you sure each family member understands what his responsibilities are and does he know what standards are to be met? Are the standards too difficult for the small fry?

"Good working plans must be adjustable. There are always emergencies, or you may even change your mind about what you want done. Routine makes for efficiency, but it can also make for unhappy family members. Miss Wirges reminds.

January is a good month to begin planning. Thelma Wirges is working with individual demonstrators this month on plans for yearly projects. This past week Mrs. Pete Wyatt made plans for work as a part improvement demonstrator while Mrs. John Jones and Mrs. Floyd Steiner made remodeling and home improvement plans made their homes. Thirty-three homemakers have enrolled as demonstrators for 1964.

Combination washer-dryers offer some advantages over the separate units for some families points out Thelma Wirges. Some of the advantages are:

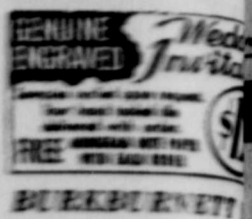

1. Space requirements are cut in half.
2. Less time needed for handling clothes.
3. Your time is free for doing other things as the washing and drying cycles will be completely finished without assistance from the operator. Simply load and set for the wash and dry desired.
4. Shorter cycle required to complete the cycle since no time is required to change clothes from washer to dryer.
5. Washer-dryer combinations may be operated for either washing or drying without the complete cycle being used. There are some disadvantages to the washer-dryer combinations, too. Some of these are:

1. More time required if the total laundry for one week is done in one day. Clothes should be sorted and a load done each morning or as needed.
2. Shower spin speeds used by some brands are not as efficient in removing water from the clothes, making for longer, more expensive drying periods.
3. A breakdown in either unit might deny you the use of both units.
4. Repairs may be more expensive because the repair is more complicated. Study your needs, your decision based facts, the agent suggests.

Extensive operating expenses—necessary for the family nest—cost John Q. Homemaker and family about an hour-and-a-half's wages every working day.

To preserve the current homestead plumage and to get the most from whatever has to be spent, more and more homemakers are devoting extra time these fall cleaning days painting, polishing and reforming.

Unlike yesteryear, the person tackling today's fall cleaning schedule must come to grips immediately with a wide variety of new plastic surfaces, synthetic fiber materials, anodized metal fixtures and the like in addition to objects made from ordinary wood, steel, canvas, etc.

New materials have done wonders to improve the U.S. home, but knowing how to clean them may occasionally strain the most ambitious workman, reports cleaning and refurbishing expert, David T. Bushing at Talcott Corporation, Cincinnati.

Generally if the cleaning procedure is not the same as for ordinary materials, he says, it's no more difficult—just different. To assist do-it-yourselfers in cleaning and restoring clothes, industry has developed a number of special products for use on new materials.

Roger W. Babson Weekly Report

ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON URGES SUPPORT FOR "INDEPENDENT" COMPANIES

BOSTON PARK, Mass. — When you are looking for a share in a good business venture, don't bypass the possibilities among the "independent" firms. In my years of counseling, I have many times pointed out that there are more hidden opportunities for sound profits among independents than is generally recognized.

Big Business vs. Independents
I believe that the future of our country depends to a considerable extent on encouragement of the independents in all lines of endeavor. Some investors buy only blue chip" stocks, or perhaps just those in the Dow-Jones Industrial group. But, in a sense, such investors are "cutting their own throats" by contributing only to the already established concerns.

In fact, it is to the interest of our system of democratic free enterprise to support smaller companies — for a number of valid reasons. For one thing, competition of a healthy sort can be fostered only in a climate where the independent is not overwhelmed and blotted out by the giants. During the birth of the electronics industry, many firms now leaders in our nation first saw the light of day in somebody's garage or in a make-shift laboratory in somebody's attic.

Many Improvements From Small Companies
An amazing number of products now known throughout the world were the brainchildren, originally, of small independents. Here are a few items which were invented and first marketed by such establishments: Penicillin, colored motion pictures, electric light bulbs, automobiles, long-playing records, instant coffee, fountain pens, frozen foods, zippers, toasters, hearing aids, vacuum cleaners, irons, Kodak — and Polaroid — cameras, electric heating pads, radios, flashlights, paper towels, and a great galaxy of household appliances. Then in most instances, the big companies came along and swallowed them up, along with their markets.

Then in most instances, the big companies came along and swallowed them up, along with their markets.

If you are not served by a Bell or independent unit, you can always buy into the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, which supplies the whole country — including Bell and the independents — with long distance coverage. The telephone industry has been one of the fastest growing of them all, and I expect still further expansion in this field as our population fans out. Also, innovations that mean more efficient service, more time savings and more conveniences will be constantly developed over coming years.

A Final Word for Independents
It should be kept in mind that while the big Bell companies serve most of the large cities, the independent phone companies serve nearly twice

TACKLE BOX IN HOT WATER
One sportman has fashioned a small stand near the air grill on his hot water heater. In from fishing, he stores his tackle box on stand directly where it receives the warm dry air. Results a continuously dry tackle box and less bother from rust and corrosion.

Burk Hicks Bomb Optimist All Stars

Paced by Billy Moore and Cliff Albin, with 36 and 21 points respectively, the Burk Hicks basketball team, composed mainly of teachers and coaches, drubbed the Optimists club All Stars, 76-52 in the Jr. High Gym Tuesday night in a benefit game.

Taking advantage of long passes and the torrid shooting of Moore, a 6' 3" freshman coach, the Hicks poured on the steam and built up a 28-12 first quarter lead. Albin, a math teacher, and Mike Matherly, also chipped in to pad the lead.

With "Hoot" Gibson, Bill Reasoner and Ed Thornton leading the way, the Optimists came on stronger in the second quarter, dropping in 12 points to match the output of the Hicks for the period.

Trailing 40-24 at the half, the Optimists fought gamely to try and stay in contention, but could never overcome Moore and crew.

With a 20 point lead, 58-38, going into the final stanza, the Hicks outscored the Optimists 18-14, for the final margin of 76-52.

Matherly was the only other Hick to hit in doubles with 11 points. Gibson paced the losers with 22 points.

The Hicks next outing will be later this month against the PTA fathers. Their season record is now 1-0.

TAKE YOUR PROBLEMS TO CHURCH -- MILLIONS LEAVE THEM THERE

PRIDE AND JOY!

Proud Father... you bet... this is my child... she's sweet, trusting, lovely and brings great joy to my life. I work harder in order to better my income so that I can provide for her. She thrills me, and already I am making plans for her future. Right now we are all dressed up and getting ready to go to church. I love her, and I want the best for her. I want her to know early about God, and that he means a lot to me, and I want God to mean a lot to her, too!

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

FRIENDLY VISITORS

Can you describe a group called Friendly Visitors? I hear they visit shut-in and older folk. How can I get on their list?

Friendly, Cranston, R. I. Do you want to get on their list as a volunteer or as a friend to get some friendly visiting? I appreciate another letter clearing this up, because I'm not sure which way you and I are visiting! Do write again, to National Senior Center, Lehigh Acres, Fla. Friendly Visitors is a group of volunteers directed by a professional. Yes, the volunteers gladly visit shut-ins and older people. Volunteers are interviewed and oriented. One superb technique I saw in action is to view an excellent film produced in Cook County, Chicago. The film dramat-

SURGERY AT ONLY 80

I am 80, a longtime widow. My doctor says I need surgery. This is terribly risky, isn't it? I keep trying to tell him how scared I am. After all at my age, I am

No Spring Chicken, Monticello, New York No Spring Chicken, but lets make it A Wiry Old Hen! One of today's big new concepts is the fact that chronological age has little to do with surgery or much else, actually. Age doesn't alter many of our most vital organs and functions. This I reported in a previous column you may have read, I hope. Research experts on tissues recently reported that aging is primarily dynamic, not degenerative. Today a family friend is coming home from the hospital after major surgery for intestinal obstruction. She's only 87. Cheer up!

THE MUSIC MAN

Our city is small and one of our pleasures are the weekly park concerts. When it's cold the concerts are given in the high school auditorium. They've always been free. This year the city fathers want to charge 25c admission. This means a lot of us won't be able to afford it. I wrote several letters to protest, but I guess they threw them in the wastebasket. What else can we do?

Low Note, U. S. A.

Start hollering! The same thing took place last year in a big city. Suddenly the free concerts became tickets for sale. Well, let me tell you they got switched back pronto when every patron yelled. Protest letters flooded city hall. A delegation of older folk put themselves on the agenda at the next city council meeting. They roared. They boycotted that week's "paid" concert; the orchestra played to a vast zero of solidly empty seats. The city fathers got the message. They realized the concerts were important not only as music, but as a community opportunity to socialize, to meet with friends, to sit together in companionable groups, to saunter out later for coffee or a juicy baked

BRIGHT FOR BREAKFAST

Nothing gets Christmas off to a better start and helps keep tempers smooth through the busy day than a hearty breakfast — with a present for each child, of course. Set the table the night before — after Santa has filled the last stocking and put the final nut and bolt in the doll's house or tricycle. Here we're ready to go with mugs, cups, bowls and plates in Dutch Treat, a bright new American-made glass breakfastware in white with cheery turquoise kitchen motifs. Approx. prices: cup and saucer, 30c; mug, 15c; bowl, 15c; 9" plate, 29c. From Hazel-Atlas Glass, Div. of Continental Can.

apple. What can you do? Rally a protest like this. And how many of you are registered voters? This gives the music a high score!

PICK ME A HOBBY?

At a meeting last week even the Mayor of this city was very insistent about ceramics, woodcarving, painting, etc. as if a hobby is a necessity. I can agree that a hobby is pleasant for spare time, but I don't give a darn about those hobbies. How can I find a hobby I like?

Annoyed, Indiana Good for you. "Get a hobby, it's great!" is for the birds. A hobby should be meaningful, not just a way to kill time. It should reward you with personal satisfaction, self-worth, achievement and recognition. One good retirement community offers newcomers a choice of over 100 hobbies. They can try a different one every week until they discover the RIGHT one!

WE CHASE THE HORSES

My husband and I enjoy the sport of kings. We travel the country, following the horses and horse-racing. We will be in Florida for the opening of the racing season. Can you recommend a small apartment not too far from the track? We are quiet and refined, no smoking, no drinking.

Mrs. R. T. Terre Haute So sorry, but I am not in the apartment-rental business. I willingly recommend retirees apartments and other forms of good housing for long-term living. Why not get a copy of the newspapers published in the "horsey" area you want to live in, and scan the Apartments For Rent classified Ads? This should do it for you for a racy 90 days.

Clara-Fairview HD Club Met January 9

The first meeting in 1964 for the Clara-Fairview Home Demonstration Club was held January 9, 1964, in the home of Mrs. J. H. Bentley.

Mrs. E. J. Simons, president, called the meeting to order at 2:00 p. m., led the prayer and the singing of "Daisy."

Mrs. J. A. Fouts, T.H.D.A. Chairman of Wichita County, was welcomed by Mrs. Simons and presented the program "Effective Organization." An organization becomes what the members put into it. She gave twelve points to consider to see how your organization functions. In closing, she gave a recipe for 1964.

An article on "What kind of a club member are you?" was read and roll call was answered by nine members with "How I rate as a club member."

The minutes of the November 19, 1963, meeting were read and approved and the treasurer's report was given.

Mrs. Claude Adams resigned as secretary-treasurer and reporter and Mrs. J. H. Bentley was elected to the office.

Committees for the new year were appointed by Mrs. Simons. Mrs. W. Ray Stimpson made a motion that the members draw names for secret pals. Motion seconded and carried.

The Constitution was read and approved.

Blunderbuss

While the blunderbuss is usually pictured with a Pilgrim, it is believed not to have been brought to America until the middle of the 17th Century. Developed in Europe in mid-1600's, its name derives from Dutch "Donderbucse" or thundergun. Short barrel and flaring muzzle often thought to scatter the shot, but tests show that the shot charge is not influenced by the muzzle flare.

THE NATIONAL RIFLE ASSOCIATION Teaches Shooting Safety

Mrs. Elmer Klinkerman made a motion to have a Bake Sale January 18th at the Corner Drug Store. Motion seconded and carried.

The next meeting will be January 21st in the home of Mrs. Simons with Mrs. Adams as hostess. Members present were Mrs. dunes Newt Crane, J. D. D. Beck, E. D. Gellner, Elmer Klinkerman, E. J. Simons, Joe Slama, W. Ray Stimpson, Claude Adams; the hostess, Mrs. J. H. Bentley and the guests, Mrs. J. A. Fouts.

BINOCULARS

A pair of binoculars is invaluable to the outdoorsman. Yet few sportsmen know what to look for in binoculars. This whether the binoculars are used in hunting or boating or maybe just to watch a football game.

With telescopic sights coming more into vogue, you see fewer hunters lugging binoculars about the woods. But have you noticed that a great majority of the blue-ribbon hunters usually have a pair handy?

There is a good reason, of course. The top notch hunter is a meticulous individual. He spends more time looking and less time traveling.

Get on a knoll or hillside or even up in a tree — with a pair of binoculars — and just spend your time looking. You'll be surprised how much more you can see.

A high quality pair of binoculars has the ability to almost penetrate brush. The lenses capture and intensify the light, making it easy to see under feeble light conditions.

Today's binoculars come in many different sizes and price ranges. There has been an increased output from Japan. Most of Japan's binoculars are economical and acceptable. But like anything else you get just about what you pay for.

The big idea is to know what to look for before you purchase binoculars. Most people simply wander into a sporting goods store, put a pair to the eyes, adjust the focus, look around for a moment, and then say, "I'll take them."

But later you might find that you can't look through the glasses for any length of time without your eyes protesting. Although everything may appear all right, the glasses may be out of alignment and put a strain on your eyes.

A quick check for alignment is simple. Focus the glasses on some distant object, such as the top of a building, and slowly push the binoculars away from your eyes. As the glasses get toward arm's length, if you see two distinct images, the glasses are not aligned properly. With good alignment, both images will emerge into one even when the binoculars are at arm's length.

A pair of binoculars has many advantages over the scope sight of a rifle for the job it is intended to do.

For one, it is tiring to hold a rifle up to your shoulder for any length of time. Binoculars are much lighter.

For another, binoculars have a wider field of view, thus permitting you to study a larger area at one glance.

For instance, a good six-power binocular will have a field of view at least 450 feet wide at 1,000 yards. A seven-power job won't be far behind, something like 400 feet.

Compare this to a six-power scope which has a view of roughly 200 feet at the same distance.

Contrary to popular belief, a number such as 6X30 and 7X35 does not in any way indicate the field of view of that particular glass. Instead, the first number indicates the power of the binoculars while the second is the diameter of the objectives or forward lens. The larger the objective lens will permit the entrance of more light and consequently you'll be able to see better in weak light conditions. A 7X50 pair of binoculars, for example will permit much more light to reach your eye than will a 6X30 glass.

In a few instances, the field of view may be indicated on the binoculars. Usually it is indicated with a figure like seven degrees, plus twelve, which of course, is an angular measurement. Since one degree field of view is 52 1/2 feet at 1,000 yards, you can compute the field of your instrument by some simple mathematics. In the above case, it would mean multiplying seven times 52 1/2, then adding 12 more feet.

Binoculars are focused to the user's eyesight in two ways. With the center focus unit you can adjust both eye pieces at once. Individual focus is achieved by adjusting the focusing knob on each eyepiece.

There are several things which determine the price of any particular pair of binoculars.

Power of magnification and size of the objective lenses combine to make one. The stronger the power and the larger the objective lenses, of course, the higher the price.

Durability and type of construction also have a lot to do with price, along with the quality of the lenses.

Important to consider, however, is that the stronger the power and the larger the objective lenses, the more the instrument will weigh. A pair of 6X30 binoculars will be considerably lighter than the 8X50 size.

If you're going to carry a pair slung around your neck all day, it may be wise to sacrifice some power for lighter weight. This again is a matter of choice. So, pick a pair that suits your own individual needs and desires.

VETERANS Questions & Answers

Q—I understand my daughter although over 18 may continue to receive her nonservice-connected pension up to age 21 if she is attending a VA approved school. How can we tell what schools are VA-approved.

A—Most well-known and recognized schools and colleges are on the AV-approved list. However, if you are in doubt about a school, contact the Department of Education in the state in which you live or the nearest VA office.

Q—I am a veteran about to retire. Will my Social Security benefits and also 26 weeks of unemployment compensation be considered as income?

A—Your Social Security benefit will be considered income but not until you have been given full credit for your personal contributions from wages to the Social Security fund while you were working. All unemployment compensation benefits are considered income.

IT'S UP TO YOU

By Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

THE common law of England on which the legal code was built much later, is based squarely on the moral law as set forth in the Bible, especially the Ten Commandments. The writings of England's great Chief Justice, Lord Coke, as well as those of Blackstone, make this entirely clear. Blackstone's commentaries down to the latter part of the last century were the principle studies of law students in our country. Many a man has been admitted to the bar when he had acquired a fair knowledge of Blackstone.

Since our system of jurisprudence stems straight from the common law of England, it likewise is based squarely on the moral law as set forth in the Bible. To this day the common law is a very important feature of law both in our country and in England.

Lord Coke, as Chief Justice of England during the early part of the 17th century, based the limitations which he applied to the British government, on the moral, sometimes called the natural law, or God's law for the human race. There was at that time, and is today, no written constitution in England and the moral law remains the basis of the jurisprudence of that country.

Although the United States adopted a written constitution in 1789, the moral law was the basis thereof and remains to this day a parallel and antecedent authority to the Constitution itself.

Anglo Saxon law is based on the concept of right and wrong, and the best guide to making that distinction is found in the Bible.

The Declaration of Independence plainly says that our rights are granted to us by God. We are entitled to enjoy them only so long as we obey the moral law. Disobedience to God's law deprives us of His protection and since the common law of our country is based on the moral law, it also endangers our rights as citizens.

The whole concept of right and wrong comes from the natural law as set forth in the Bible.

CHEVY-VAN!

Chevrolet's new low-cost quality delivery truck!

This introduces you to Chevy-Van—our new economy delivery truck.

It has a low price tag, over 40 sq. ft. of completely usable flat floor 7 1/2 ft. long, the engine up front, and a lot of quality features which make it a better buy. The body and frame-floor are welded together. The truck is strong, rigid, stable. Doors are double-wall construction.

Chevy-Van has unusual resistance to rust and corrosion. Especially vulnerable areas such as front stepwells are galvanized. Sealers are used at all critical joints inside and out. Certain sections are treated with high-zinc-content primers; others with an aluminum-wax preservative.

The windshield is a big flat practical one-piece unit. The big 90-hp 4-cylinder standard engine is more powerful than some 6s, yet is remarkably economical. If you need more power, Chevy-Van offers a 120-hp six at extra cost. Side doors and rear windows also cost extra.

Last but not least, it's a Chevrolet. Which means that it is built to work for you a long time at minimum cost.

LIFT

According to the Southern Pine Association, a raised platform floor system of lumber gives a natural "lift" to the feet.

With modern stain-type finishes, this species, light golden in its natural state, can be given any shade the user desires. Dark blues, deep lavenders, even ebony hues, can be applied.

APPENDICITIS

Q. If a woman developed appendicitis during pregnancy, would the doctor operate? so, would this damage the child?

A. The doctor would operate if the mother's life was in danger. The child would not necessarily be harmed.

PRESERVING SIGHT

Q. What precautions should an older person take to preserve the eyesight? Would it be to avoid reading in bed, to wear sunglasses to avoid watching TV, etc?

A. So far as eye health is concerned, there are no special restrictions that need be applied to older persons. No special dangers arise from reading in bed, watching television, and moderate exposure to sunlight. Normal use of the eyes won't affect the vision.

HAIR DRESSING

Q. Do hair creams and other kinds of hair dressing cause loss of hair? What sort of hair dressing is best?

A. For a person with normal hair and scalp the choice of hair dressing is entirely a cosmetic matter. So far as we know, hair dressings available in this country do not cause hair loss.

Remember — the diagnosis and treatment of hair loss is the function of the patient's personal physician.

The personal interest we take in the health of those we serve is of equal importance with the professional skill we put in the dispensing of prescribed medicine.

Soil Fertility Meeting To Hear Leading Soil Scientists

Dr. William O. Trogdon, Executive Vice President, Best Fertilizer Company, Plainview, Texas, will be guest speaker at the Wichita County Soil Fertility Meeting to be held at the Valley Farms Community House Tuesday, January 21 beginning at 7:30 p. m.

With the American farmer beginning another year of intense farming operation under the price-cost squeeze and a depleting soil fertility bank account, Dr. Trogdon's remarks can be of valuable service to the farmers in this area.

A native of Oklahoma, Dr. Trogdon graduated from Oklahoma State University with major work in Agronomy (Soils) receiving the B.S. degree in 1942. He received the Doctor's degree in 1949 from the Ohio State University in the field of soil fertility with minor work in the fields of plant physiology, soil chemistry and soil physics.

He has worked with the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Temple, Texas, with the Soil Conservation Service Research Division, was Chairman, Department of Agriculture, Midwestern University, Wichita Falls, Texas and Director, Soils Laboratory of the Wichita County Water Improvement Districts. In 1953, Dr. Trogdon became Agronomist for the Mathieson Chemical Corporation, in the Southwest-ern States.

Dr. Trogdon has had wide experience in soil testing, soil fertility problems, fertilizer uses, and soil management problems, both as a research worker and a commercial agronomist.

The program will be as follows:
7:30 — 8:00 — Guar Production, Lester Brooks, Superintendent Iowa Park Experiment Station.
8:00 — 8:45 — Possibility of Castorbean Soybean Production in Wichita County, Billy Gunter, Agronomist, Lubbock County.
