Call From Austin Says Burk Bank Charter Approv'd

The Star was well on its way with the last press run at 2:25 when a call came in from Austin advising us a charter had been granted to Burk Burnett Bank. Howard Clement, one of the organizers, made the call. The press was stopped for this last minute news. Burk Burnett Bank application for a charter was presented to the 3 man commission at 1:15 P. M. At 2:00 o'clock the commission gave a unanimous approval of the charter.

A group of local citizens have been working on the project for several months. An option is held on the building now occupied by the Wolfe Ford Co. Representatives of the new bank say they can remodel and be in their new place of business in about ninety days.

Harold and Joe Wolfe had plans drawn up for a new motor company building to be located on their used car lot property on Sheppard Road, in case the option is taken up.

Details of the bank structure, financial strength, directors, officers, etc. will appear as soon as the information is available.

Secret Formula No. 4,874

Shown above at right is Clark Gresham, County Commissioner, a good Rotarian, and a loyal friend of the Lions Club. Clark is smiling because he and two Lions are the only ones who know the secret formula for mixing the pancake batter. It is a secret as closely guarded as our missiles. Each year Clark takes off all day to help the Lions with their pancake and sausage sale.

This coming Saturday, February 8th, Lions will serve pancakes, sausage and coffee all day from 6 A. M. to 8 P. M. The tickets, on sale by every Lion and at the door, are $1.00 for adults and 50c for children up to 10. The deal is: ALL YOU CAN EAT.

The whole hog sausage, made from recently stolen hogs—all 900 pounds of it—is on storage at the Burk Meat Market. Gene Cendroski, manager, offered his facilities and aided the Lions in their preparation of the whole hog sausage.

Last year was the biggest sausage and pancake day the Lions have ever had, and if you'll remember, it was snowing, sleeting and raining most all day. From the number of advance ticket sales, this year should top last year.

You do not have to come at meal time—the Lions will serve you any minute during the day.

Proceeds from the day's labor go into the Lions Club Projects Fund, which includes glasses, and in some instances, medicines for underprivileged children. The local Lions also help sponsor the Crippled Childrens camp and hospital at Kerrville, Texas.

ROTARY CLUB

Burk Rotarians heard an unusual and interesting program Tuesday at their noon luncheon, according to Al Lohofener, president.

Princess NoShacco, daughter of a Chief of the Sac and Fox tribe of Indians, garbed from head to toe in tribal costume, gave a lecture on "The American Indian in Profile."

The Princess, now Mrs. Roger Johnson, MD, wife of Dr. Roger Johnson, president of the Frederick, Oklahoma, Rotary Club, held her audience spellbound in relating the history, activities and legends of her people, stating that, as the Indian has no alphabet for conveying the written word, the history of the tribe is handed down from father to son in each generation and is remarkably clear and concise.

Walter Riley, who obtained the unusual program had as additional guests, Dr. Roger Johnson, Mrs. Joe Horton and Mrs. E. F. Green.

Nixon Funeral Was Wednesday

Services for Joseph Durwood Nixon, Burk Burnett were held Wednesday at 10:00 a. m. in the chapel of Owens & Brumley Funeral Home in Burk Burnett, with Rev. Lamoin Champ, pastor of First Baptist Church, officiating.

Weldon Bailey Candidate For County Sheriff

WELDON BAILEY

Weldon Bailey announced Tuesday that he is a candidate for Sheriff of Wichita County in the forthcoming election. He stated:

"I will conduct this campaign on my twenty-five years of experience as a peace officer. Waste of the taxpayers money will be ended. I operated the sheriff's department during my last term for $200,000 less than it is being operated now. When elected, I will reduce expenditures of this office by at least that amount. All business conducted by the sheriff's department will conform to the statutes of this state and the rules and regulations set up by the Wichita County Auditor's Office."

Bailey was sheriff of Wichita County for eight years and prior to that, served with the Texas Highway Patrol for seven years.

Bailey's formal announcement will be published at a later date.

BOY SCOUT WEEK

The tragic increase in juvenile delinquency has become a national problem of the utmost importance—and a solution is beset on every hand with complexities and difficulties.

This fact alone gives high significance to Boy Scout Week, which is to be observed during the February 7-13 period. The theme of that week—and it is an apt one—is: "Strengthen America-Scouting Can Make The Difference."

A head of the national scout organization says: "The Boy Scouts of America for 54 years has enjoyed success and public acclaim for its part in the training of American youth in character values, citizenship skills and attitudes and physical fitness. Over the years we have grown and flourished because each of us involved had a deep conviction of the worth of Scouting to boys and to America and because we resolved to act upon our convictions."

A wide variety of events and programs will take place during the Week. Beyond these, the hope is that the publicity and notice they create will encourage more and more boys to join their local Boy Scout organization—and, additionally, will lead their elders to do whatever they can to advance the work and the ideals that Scouting stands for. Rarely does a Boy Scout become a delinquent.

Take Your Politics Seriously

What happens when a refugee comes here from a subjugated part of the world? He often kisses the earth of the good old United States and vows he will be forever grateful for his freedom. This is the first reaction—but what transpires after the initial feeling of ecstasy?

Most Americans or their ancestors came from oppressed lands. As time passes, too many of them, through indifference, add fuel to the flames that fired government domination in the lands of their forebears.

A lady and her son recently visited East Germany. One thing a relative there impressed on the son was, "take

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

A 79% majority of the nation's independent business proprietors, voting through the National Federation of Independent Business, favor the measure introduced by Rep. Bruce Alger of Texas which amends the U.S. Constitution to provide no treaty or international agreement shall affect the rights of U.S. citizens unless approved by the Senate.

It is well to consider the background leading to this proposal. In the Constitution there is a proviso that any foreign treaty over rides any national, state, or local law which may in conflict with the terms of the treaty. Of course, as originally written, all treaties and agreements had to be ratified by the Senate. Until the end of World War II, this constitutional provision did not mean much, as all foreign treaties were approved by the Senate, and were entered into with the best interests of Americans uppermost.

But formation of the United Nations changed all this. While to the public at large, UN was sold as a forum for all nations to discuss openly their differences and seek a peaceful solution, the "one worlders" really expanded the scope of the organization. Actually, UN is working toward all peoples controlled by one big world government.

Largely due to dissensions within the UN, the full impact of this control has not been manifest. But there are divisions within the UN which are supposed to control all facets of individual life, such as the International Labor Organization, the FOA to control the world's food supply, and UNESCO set up to prescribe what school children in all nations are to be taught.

In these various divisions the people of the United States are represented by functionaries of the State Dept., and due to machinations behind the scenes, they do have the authority to commit the people to many courses without the consent of the Congress.

Further complicating the situation is UN admission with full voting powers of the many new nations in Africa and elsewhere with no previous background showing they are mature enough to vote in a world body. Thus, many things could happen to destroy the rights of the American citizen.

As an obviously extreme example, the new African nations could conceivably get the UN to vote that all traffic police in all the world must speak Swahili. This would mean that every U.S. town would have to make sure its traffic officers spoke this African dialect.

Of course, the threat could be removed by disbanding the UN and starting a new world organization with its scope confined to the activities for which the majority of Americans thought the UN was set up in the first place. But this could result in no organization providing for free discussion. It is much better to keep nations talking together. Thus passage of the measure proposed by Rep. Alger would protect American citizens from present constant hazard of losing liberty on decisions of a coalition of Congo bongo drum beaters.

your politics seriously or you will lose your freedom like we have here." He told the boy that lack of interest in government is what brought about their subjugation. This incident brings home the danger of lack of interest in government.

It takes effort to preserve freedom, otherwise power-hungry minority groups gain control. Vigilance is the only weapon able to block such infiltration. Political groups seek power by using the government as a gift bag. Unless the people are alert to such methods which were used in Europe, and are now being promoted in the United States, they will find themselves burdened with a bureaucratic yoke and unable to free themselves.

We Americans as a whole have high ideals, generous hearts and great energy. We must be vigilant to preserve freedom for ourselves and those who will follow.

dollar value of the property. Landscape the home grounds presents problems, which demand study and planning, since the landscape must create an entire picture. This picture must be one which can be maintained with a minimum expenditure of money.

In general, there are four main types of home owners and each presents a different problem in landscaping.

1. Homeowners who purchase subdivision or housing development homes. (These are the largest group).

2. Families who buy new homes already designed and constructed with no specific client in mind.

3. Families who purchase a lot, have their homes especially planned and constructed for them on the lot.

4. Families who now live in older homes and desire to remodel or redesign their gardens.

All of these individuals believe, however, that some outdoor space is essential to modern living. Certainly all can have the type of garden best suited to their individual desires.

Gardens can no longer be entirely naturalistic because they do not fit into our mechanized way of living. In late years, however, walls, fences, paving and other architectural features often have been over-emphasized.

A good landscape development results only where plants and architectural materials are balanced.

The main problems of designing or arranging elements on the land lie in properly organizing and using the available space. Limited space does not prohibit landscape development.

Some of the most livable and useful gardens are those on small city or suburban lots.

Gardens should be designed for family living. In general, when there are children in the family, too little is done to make the garden enjoyable for them. Give them careful consideration in the planning so that they will find there is more fun at home than on the streets.

Miss Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent, is working with demonstrators living in homes representing all four types of landscaping. These demonstrators have made plans this month and will develop their landscape work over a period of one, two or three years. The length depending on the amount of work to be done.

Mrs. E. W. Roderick is planning to establish a lawn and add evergreen foundation plantings to the front of her home.

Evergreen shrubs in the front make a pretty yard all year.

Mrs. Hyrum Hansen has developed a plan for landscaping her new home. This plan starts with soil improvement, which may save money and time as years go by.

Mrs. Pete Dicken plans to add shade trees and an outdoor living area to her home landscape. Trees must be planted so they will shade desired areas, however, look up and down before they are planted to be sure they will not grow into wires and roots will not grow into the wrong spot.

Mrs. Pete Wyatt is planning an interest area to be viewed from a picture window. The area is to be evergreen and include a fountain. Picture windows need to view a landscape as pretty as a picture.

Mrs. T. C. Butler has developed a plan for landscaping her home, which has been moved. Shrubs will be located two to four feet from the house, so they will not grow to be too close.

Mrs. E. E. Wilson plans to move shrubs where a street is to be widened. This makes it necessary to adjust the landscape to a smaller area.

Other demonstrators to make plans in the near future are Mrs. George Wyatt, Miss Inez Kinnard and Mrs. Harold White.

Americans rank fifth in per capita meat consumption, with 164 pounds a year attributed to each person. Ahead of us ranks New Zealand with 235 pounds a year per person; Australia, with 221 pounds; Uruguay, where meat consumption is 213 pounds; and Argentina, with 202 pounds.

When explorers came to the New World they found the Indians using tobacco in much the same way it is used today. Since that time, tobacco production has spread to many countries.

The United States, however, has long been the leader in tobacco production. Total output in 1960 amounted to more than 8.8 billion pounds, with the U.S. accounting for more than 1.9 billion and China for about 1.8 billion.

India, Russia, Brazil, Turkey, and Japan are among other countries growing large tobacco crops.

North Carolina is by far the largest tobacco producing state. The 1961 crop in the Tarheel State totaled almost 844 million pounds, compared with 391.3 million for Kentucky, 153.4 million for Virginia, 151.8 million for South Carolina, and 137.6 million for Georgia.

Cigarettes took 1,212 million of the 1,487 million pounds of leaf tobacco used in the U.S. in 1960. Consumption amounted to 484.4 billion cigarettes, or 3,908 per person (15 years of age and over).

AUSTIN — Eating out and grabbing a cup of coffee are part of the American tradition.

Twenty-two million meals — roughly speaking — will be served in 16 thousand Texas restaurants this week. And enough coffee is drunk each year in the nation to float about 450 mammoth battleships.

The fact that you can go into the majority of the restaurants and eat a wholesome meal is an accomplishment.

This is especially so when you consider the 75 different communicable diseases existing in the United States — about 28 or more which can be transmitted through insanitary food production, processing, distribution, preparation and service.

One of the main reasons — among many — for this are the three-day short courses conducted by the Division of Public Health of the Texas State Department of Health for persons engaged in food preparation and service.

For more information about these food schools, contact your local or state health department.

Managers, supervisors and all other employees of eating establishments are principle participants.

However, the same principles apply to all public and private foodhandlers — whether housewife or canner.

Discussion during the three sessions of two hours each deal with the causative agents of communicable diseases: virus, bacteria, protozoa and worms; the source of these organisms (sick people, people who are carriers, and sick animals); the mode of transmission from the source to susceptible persons; and the ports of entry.

Emphasis is placed on the fact that if people are properly vaccinated, and thereafter practice sanitation, personal hygiene and food refrigeration, the majority of these diseases could be greatly reduced or stamped out.

Do you plan to eat one of the estimated 105 million meals to be served in the nation or 2.5 million meals to be served in Texas today?

If you do, look for the restaurant's placard and personnel certificates showing their interest in a high standard of health by participating in the available training.

KITCHEN NEEDS MEMO

Do you ever suddenly discover, in the middle of cooking meat loaf that you've run out of catchup? Resolve to let this happen no more. Keep a memo pad and pencil handy — in a kitchen or near the kitchen — so you can jot down needed items. But don't wait until you're down to the last drop. The time to buy another is when it's only three-quarters empty.

Soil Bank, any feed grain base included in the Soil Bank land will become a part of the farms total base. Information on this program is available from the county ASC and Extension offices.

Individual situations, existing cover, possible uses of the land, yield prospects, and such things as credit equipment and livestock available will have to be considered carefully, says Haws.

Cattle lice may not create much of a problem in the warm months but its a different story during the winter season, explains County Agent B. T. Haws. Closer confinement aids the spread of lice from infested to clean animals.

By the time the lice are easily seen, much of the damage has been done. The time to treat for lice is now while the infestations are light, says Haws.

Sprays which are recommended and have Food and Drug Administration approval for use on dairy cattle are pyrethrins, rotenone and ciodrin. The county agent advised that the manufacturers directions on the labels of these insecticides be followed very closely.

Malathion, lindane, co-ral, ronnel, toxaphene, coidrin, methoxychlor, ruelene, sevin and delvan are materials which may be used for lice control on beef animals. They are usually applied as dips or sprays. The county agent added that a second application, usually two or three weeks after the first, may be needed to get new lice as eggs hatch. Usually two treatments will control the pests on beef cattle for the winter unless new animals are placed in the herd or feedlots. Haws recommends the treatment of new stock before putting them with clean animals.

Lice generally cause milk production to drop in the dairy herd and weight loss in beef cows and reduce feed efficiency in feedlots, points out Haws.

You can't be too careful in carrying out the manufacturer's directions, cautions the county agent. Treating milk cows with the wrong insecticide, treating them while they are in milk production or treating beef animals too near slaughter time can get you in trouble with the Food and Drug Administration.

Falcon proves it's America's toughest compact in the rugged Monte Carlo Rallye!

Four Falcons started from Oslo, four from Paris, on routes calculated to be equal in difficulty and length. Weather conditions varied from clear, bitter cold through freezing fog to blinding snow—and the time schedules made no provision for delays. Here a Falcon swirls through a sudden snow shower, testing traction in a practice run.

Falcon entered two classes in Europe's 2,700-mile winter ordeal—won them both and finished 2nd overall out of 299 cars. That's durability!

In the Rallye's five special Alpine sections, Falcon was first overall in four, tied for first in one. That's roadability!

In the Rallye's final test around the Monte Carlo racing course, Falcons were first and second. That's maneuverability!

MONTE CARLO—The 33rd Monte Carlo Rallye started with 299 cars. Some 2,700 miles and 3 1/2 days later, only 163 were still in the rally when the field struggled into Monaco—but they included all eight of the specially equipped Falcons that originally started! This eight-out-of-eight record was perhaps more remarkable than the fact that, despite a handicap formula that favored the smallest cars, a Falcon captured second place overall. One car can have luck . . . but eight have to have total performance. Because the Rallye samples every variety of weather and road conditions the continent can provide, and because it winds up on the most remote byways in the French Maritime Alps, it is a supreme test of all the car's abilities. Falcon steering had to be flawless on glare ice above a 1,000-foot drop. Those fabulous V-8's had to run like dynamos.

The final results in the Monte Carlo Rallye gave Falcon 2nd place overall, 1st in Class 8 of the Touring category, 1st and 2nd in Class 5 of the much tougher Grand Touring category, 1st and 2nd in the final three-lap test on the Monte Carlo circuit. The best finish by a Valiant was 88th overall. Falcon gained invaluable experience in how to build a car better, make it tougher, sharpen up its total performance. That's the real reason Ford is interested in open competition—and why Ford-built cars have got so much more to show drivers. Drive one and see; it won't have six lights, or a horn you can hear for four miles in stormy weather, or the other special rally equipment—but it'll sure surprise you!

TRY TOTAL PERFORMANCE FOR A CHANGE!

Prayers of St. John The Divine

Message from Bishop

Keeping with the thoughts when I sent to each a prayer card at Christmas which had printed "Be not overcome of evil overcome evil with good," I want to say this at the beginning of Lent.

It is not going to be overcome by any force except God. The fact that the victory is already won through Christ's Resurrection is a fact of history. Millions of people must in their experience the overcoming of evil by good in their lives. They have to see the victory that Christ won on the Cross must be appropriated by many people to themselves only as they win personal victories. Or to another way the victory Christ won on the Cross does not mean that we go scot-free and evil do exist. The sin is a very real factor in our lives and I have seen people in control of sin and evil and act to the power of the Holy Spirit.

This enthrallment has been broken by Christ's victory. Yet Lent therefore is an opportunity for us creatively to use such forces and sacrifice so that the power of evil is around us may be completely overcome. When we have prayed in the ordinary sense of the word and we have fasted, read and meditated Scripture and led as we could a devout life we find we need a practical act to set us free from hindrances of the past and breathe the life-giving breath of God the Holy Ghost. A practical act is frequent acts of making one's confession of sin. The Prayer Book states that if we cannot by our conscience by direct conversation with God we are to our parish priest and ordain ourselves so that he exercise the authority of Church and pronounce our liberation from sin. No one

NEW TEXAS NATIONAL PARK SOUGHT

Texas' Senior U.S. Senator Ralph Yarborough and Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall confer in the Cabinet member's office on the Senator's bill to create a 77,000-acre National Park in the Guadalupe Mountain range in Hudspeth and Culberson counties. The location is in the Trans-Pecos area of Texas. It is 55 miles from the Carlsbad Caverns and 110 miles from El Paso, a gateway to Mexico. "Secretary Udall was very helpful in my long effort to win passage of the Padre Island National Seashore Recreational Area which became law when President Kennedy (shown in the background) signed it on September 28, 1962," Senator Yarborough said, "and he is also supporting the Guadalupe Park bill."

save yourself forces you to do this. You and you alone must make up your mind that this is the way you want to make a new start. There is no use wasting time debating whether priests of our Church are given power to pronounce absolution of sin. The Church gives them this power. It is creative power, not a negative power. It is God who forgives but many of us need to hear the words of forgiveness in order to be confronted and strengthened for the days ahead. Paul said "Fight on the armour of light, etc." and he didn't mean for us to put on that armour to go to a masquerade party. He meant it in the sense of a fight to displace evil. As a successor of Paul I urge all of us to put on this armour for a fight to win the day so clearly that men see it. You and I can put on the armour by really praying and sometimes praying when you don't want to do so. We can put on the armour by fasting and I do not mean just giving up meat in order to eat shrimp. I mean fasting, going hungry for a purpose. The purpose of fasting is to gain control. We can put on that armour by hard study of the word of God. This isn't easy and if you think it is you have not tried it.

These words are not idle. Too long we have made of Christ's religion a weak, ineffective thing and we in the world are paying for it. This Lent is a time of renewal. Let us use it. C. Avery Mason

TAKE YOUR PROBLEMS TO CHURCH -- MILLIONS LEAVE THEM THERE

This highway began to decay the day that it ceased to be used and repaired. Deterioration sets in with the onset of neglect. When a nation's spiritual life is neglected there is a possibility that nation will not long endure. Let us strengthen our nation and our society by attending church regularly and reaffirming our faith in God.

"And let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works: Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching."
Hebrews 10:24, 25.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Pineapple Stars in Pantry Casserole

This quick and thrifty casserole combines handsome canned pineapple slices with baked beans and corned beef hash. Many budget minded homemakers regularly stock cans of these popular items in their pantry. This supper favorite goes together in a few minutes and bakes brown and crusty in a hot oven in less than half an hour. Plan it on a menu with tossed green salad and hot rolls.

PINEAPPLE BEAN BAKE

- 2 (1-pound) cans baked beans in tomato sauce
- 1 tablespoon minced onion
- 1 teaspoon horseradish
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- 1 (1-pound) can corned beef hash
- 1 (8 1/2-ounce) can pineapple slices
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Combine beans, onion, horseradish and mustard in shallow baking pan. Slice corned beef hash into 8 slices; arrange with drained pineapple slices on top of beans. Sprinkle with brown sugar; dot with butter. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 25 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

It's The Law In Texas

AVOID LEGAL TROUBLES IN REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS

Thinking of buying or building a new home this year? Whether you buy a completed house or simply a lot to build on, how will you know whether you are receiving a good title to the property you purchase? The safest method is to have a title examination made — that is, a careful study of the abstract and other title evidence.

Here are a few of the common sources of trouble in real estate transactions to show why the minor expense of a title examination is justified.

Many persons sign "earnest money contracts" believing that they are mere receipts with no serious implications. In reality they may specify, among other things, the kind of title you must accept.

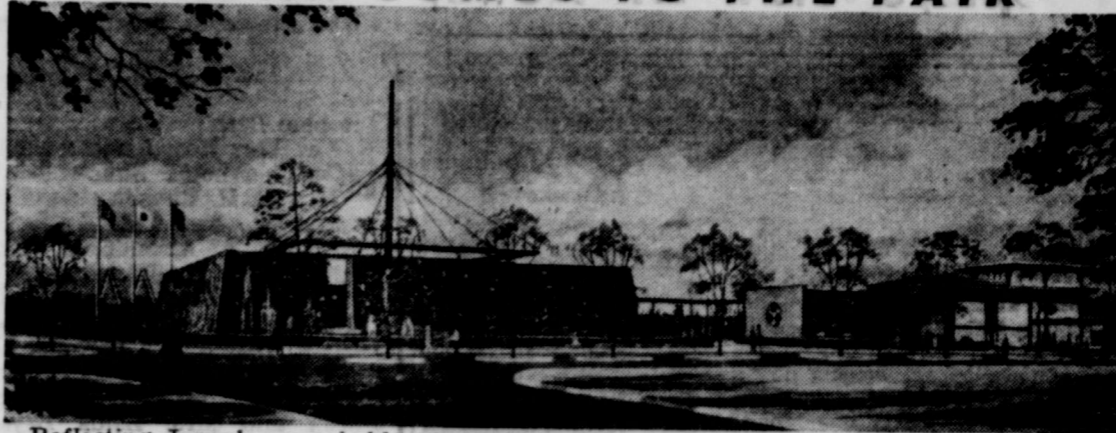

A "warranty deed" from a responsible seller is comforting to have but it is a poor substitute for a careful title examination. A warranty deed does not guarantee a marketable title.

Moreover, serious title defects may not come to light until long after the seller on a warranty deed is dead, has moved to an unknown address, or is bankrupt. Even if he is available, a good title is much better than a law suit.

The fact that the seller has possession of an "abstract" does not mean that he owns the property. An abstract is only a history of a title. Possession of an abstract no more indicates ownership of land than possession of the history of Texas means that you own the state.

Some purchasers of land feel

JAPAN COMES TO THE FAIR

Reflecting Japan's remarkable economic progress in recent years, the Japanese Government has gone all-out to present to visitors to the forthcoming New York World's Fair an insight into Japan's technological and industrial development as well as other aspects of Japanese life. The Japan Pavilion, second largest of the foreign exhibits, will consist of three buildings — the first and second units will feature a variety of Japan's industrial products against a background of the many facets of Japanese economy and culture, and the third building, House of Japan, will offer an authentic Japanese restaurant with a stage for traditional Japanese entertainment.

safe because the title is being examined at the time of purchase by an attorney for the mortgage lenders, or because a "mortgage" title insurance policy is being furnished. This seems logical but is a dangerous theory. The "mortgage policy" protects only the lender, and mortgage lenders are sometimes willing to accept less than good record title as security. This is sound business for them because, among other reasons, the chances are that the mortgage will be paid off so that no expense in perfecting the title would ever need be incurred. However, it is risky business for you when you are putting your life savings into the purchase. And, even an "owner's" title insurance policy may not cover every possible defect, or the value of improvements added after purchase.

These are a few of the reasons why a title examination is an important safeguard to you

When it is completed, the attorney gives you a written opinion stating his conclusions as to whom owns the land, the defects in or charge against such ownership, and the requirements to be met, if any, to make good record title.

Off-hand this may seem a simple operation. In fact it is not. It requires the interpretation of numerous deeds, mortgages, wills, court decrees and other instruments; the consideration of the order in which transactions and events affecting the title occurred; and the application of statutes and court decisions to the various situations disclosed in the abstract.

If you've finally convinced the man of the house it's time to go shopping for that new suit, help him choose carefully. Clothes may not make the man, but quality in a suit pays dividends in long-lasting good looks, comfort, and low cost of upkeep. Much that affects the quality is hidden, and there is no sure way to tell by appearance whether a suit is the best buy for the money.

But there are a few tips on selecting a suit from a U. S. Department of Agriculture publication prepared by clothing specialists in the Agricultural Research Service. The booklet is entitled "Men's Suits — How to Judge Quality," HG-54.

Fabric — Check the fiber-content label. Individual taste and way of life will influence choice of a fabric. Try to pick the best one for your man's needs. Flannel is serviceable; wears well and holds creases but sharkskin is neat and sturdy, good for office wear. Gabardines become shiny with wear and cleanings. Cheviot stands rough wear, but does not hold creases and shape. Twist is extra hard wearing. Cord and seersucker are light and cool for summer wear. Tropical worsteds, designed for spring and summer, but gaining favor for year-round wear, resist wrinkles and give good service. Manmade fibers do best when combined with each other or with natural fibers, emphasizing the best feature of each fiber.

Workmanship — Look for a tag or pocket stuffer that gives facts about the lining. Good quality linings are closely and firmly woven, yet supple. Pocketing should be closely woven twill cotton, heavier in the trousers than in the coat. Squeeze the coat front in your hand; it should feel soft and springy and resume shape quickly when released. Pockets should be flat and neat and reinforced at the openings. Sleeves should not pucker at the shoulder seam and should hang so that the front fold comes to the middle of the coat pocket. In trousers, look for a waist interfacing of linen, which preserves fit of the waist. The crech of good trousers is not pitched. All seams should be stitched with silk thread for strength and elasticity and should be generous for letting out. In striped and patterned material, check the pattern matching at back coat seam, front coat overlay, and breast pocket. Although matching doesn't improve the serviceability of the suit, it usually means quality workmanship throughout.

Look for a label or tag that tells how to care for the suit and follow it carefully.

If you'd like a free copy of "Men's Suits — How to Judge Quality," send a postcard with your name and address to Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent, 305 Federal Building, Wichita Falls.

Homemakers interested in advanced sewing may attend a pre-workshop meeting Tuesday, February 11 at 10:00 a. m. in the Wichita Falls, Texas Electric Auditorium. At this time, Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent, will give information on the construction workshop and workshop members will enroll.

For more information contact Mrs. George Wyatt, Chairman of the Clothing Committee or Miss Wirges. The workshop is open to all interested homemakers.

The Travelers Insurance Companies

Question: What are all these highly publicized "living benefits" of Life Insurance? I still think the straight death benefit is the most important.

Answer: The "death benefit" fulfills a vital function of your present Life Insurance and certainly is the basic reason most of us buy Life Insurance. However, the "living benefits" such as cash in the event of an emergency, collateral for education loans, purchase of a home, etc., and the monthly income provisions at time of retirement can be of inestimable value and should certainly be regarded as an important part of your insurance program.

Question: A week ago I made a loan on my Life Insurance policy and I notice that the company is charging me interest. Why should I be paying interest on my own money?

Answer: This question has been asked many times and is perhaps the most difficult for the layman to understand. Your Life Insurance premium was actually computed on the basis that the company would have this cash value to invest, the earnings enabling them to reduce what the actual premium would have been to you. When you withdraw all or part of this cash value, the money is no longer earning interest for you or the company. Therefore you are charged a low rate of interest to help replace this loss.

Question: I think I need $10,000 more Life Insurance, but my agent insists on "doing a program" for me. This seems like an unnecessary effort and hocus pocus—what do you think?

Answer: Your agent is on the ball! More agents should recommend and even insist on this type of service to their clients. By astute knowledge of the workings of Life Insurance and the many benefits of the various settlement options, your agent may be able to save you a great deal of money. Perhaps you will discover you need much less than $10,000 in extra protection—or even none at all!

WEATHER AND THE COMMON COLD
Q. Why do people take cold when the weather suddenly changes?
A. They don't, according to Cornell University doctors. In a four-year study of students' sniffles, the physicians found that temperature changes, wet weather, and getting tired had very little to do with catching cold. The doctors kept a week-by-week record of students who visited the cold clinic. The records matched year after year. There were a peak number of visits after each vacation period, with the biggest peak of all at the beginning of the school year when the weather was unusually good. There were almost exactly the same number of colds at opposite extremes of weather conditions - on the hottest and coldest and on the wettest and driest days, as well as on days with the greatest and least fluctuations in temperature.

CANKER SORES
Q. What causes canker sores?
A. The exact cause isn't known. These bean-size, crater-like mouth ulcers which seem to form without any reason, are quite painful. Home remedies seem to do very little good. Ordinary canker sores usually heal within a week or so. Mouth sores which drag on should be examined by a physician or dentist.
