Dates for the 1964 rodeo have been announced by the Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 25, 26 and 27th.

Floyd Marten and Bryan Farris are co-chairmen of the rodeo general arrangements.

Noted Producer to Stage Rodeo This Year

One of the most noted rodeo producers in the business will stage the 1964 rodeo for Burkburnett. Frank Rush, Jr., will bring his meanest string of bucking stock, plus other attractions to Burkburnett to produce one of the wildest, frontier times rodeos ever seen in the local arena. Frank Rush, Jr., was participating in rodeos with his father when he was barely old enough to keep on a pair of boots and sit astride a moving horse. Frank Rush Sr., originated the July 4th rodeos at Craterville, Okla., way back as far as most of us can remember. That was for 35 or 40 years, the big entertainment of the year for southern Oklahoma and north Texas. It may be premature to announce it, but don't be surprised if you see some real Indians in native costume at this year's rodeo.

Barge Employee Wins Honor For Heroism

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—Wayne Key, 34, oil-barge employee from Morgan City, La., was among three persons awarded gold medals of honor today by the Joseph A. Holmes Safety Association.

The awards are made for heroism, for risking their lives while attempting to save others.

The citation for Key, a senior switcher aboard oil barges operated by Kerr McGe Oil Industries, Inc., said he boarded a flaming oil barge in the Ship Shoal area of the Gulf of Mexico on August 29, 1963.

The citation added that by his quick and effective action he extinguished the fire, which endangered the lives of all workers in the vicinity.

Formal presentation of the medal will be arranged.

Key is a former Burkburnett resident. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Key and a brother of Arlis and Byron Key, all of Burkburnett.

Grace Lutheran Kindergarten Enrollment Opens

Enrollment at Grace Lutheran Kindergarten is now open for the new school year which begins in September, announcing the pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, the Rev. Phil Otten. The kindergarten school year will closely follow that of the public schools of Burkburnett. Morning sessions will be held daily in the church's Parish Hall.

The purpose of the kindergarten is the same as that of public school kindergartens in other states throughout the country: to give the children a good start in education by preparing them for the important school years ahead. Since Texas public schools do not include kindergartens, Grace Lutheran intends to be of help to the Burkburnett community by maintaining its kindergarten.

The kindergarten teacher is Mrs. Arthur Ramming who this year is completing her ninth year as a kindergarten teacher. Before the past two years at Grace Lutheran Kindergarten she taught for seven years at St. Paul Lutheran School, Wichita Falls. Mrs. Ramming is a member of Grace Lutheran Church and serves the congregation as a regular organist. Kindergarten enrollment is open to all children who will be five years of age by the first of September. For more information, or to receive application forms, interested parents are asked to call Rev. Otten, 569-2706 or 569-3164.

Joe Salter Gives C of C Members Report of Industrial Committee

The Chamber of Commerce gathered at the Town Hall, Monday, May 4th, to hold its first meeting of the month.

Following a delicious fried chicken dinner and strawberry shortcake, Jerry Thomas, president, called upon Mr. Joe Salter, chairman of the Industrial Committee, for his report.

He informed members that the labor survey, using an ad in the Star, so far has produced little results.

Anyone interested in working for an industry located in town, should use the ad or contact a member of the chamber.

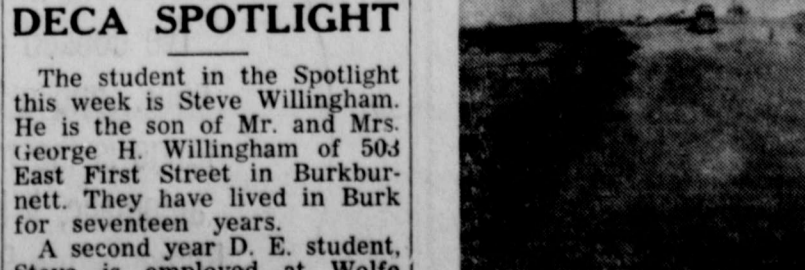

The survey is imperative to making our town a desirable location for some manufacturer. Most prospects wish to have some form of proof of an estimated amount of available help before choosing a town in which to manufacture their product.

On the agenda will be discussion of methods to entice residents to shop in town during these days of merrymaking.

Floyd Marten reported several rodeo producers have entered bids, but there is nothing definite to report at this time.

There will be a parade on the 25th of June at 5:00 p. m. The rodeo will be a three-day affair, instead of the usual two and will be held on the 25-26 and 27th of June.

Present were Mr. Dick Chambliss, secretary; Mr. Jess Whatley, manager; Mr. Harry May Pro Tem; Mr. Alexander, Mr. C. L. Jones and Mr. Joseph Janes. Phillip Carpenter was absent at the time.

Haskell Draper, Water Superintendent, was present to give a report on the new station to connect the wells to increase the capacity in the area of and below Bowling Alley, Boomtown.

The station is located in the vicinity of Bishop Road. Draper reported that he changed the working hours crew at the station to give longer and more continuous coverage of it and the wells.

The floor and inside of the station, the valves and two motors have been painted, he informed the council, and everything is going well.

Mr. Whatley and Mr. Simmons reported that more pipe is needed to complete connections at the new wells and the council approved a plan to order it.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved by the members of the council.

The meeting was adjourned at 11:00 p. m.

Security and Freedom Too

The "search for security" has helped build civilizations and it has contributed to their destruction. Right now in the United States how we decide to pursue the goal of security will determine what kind of a country our children will have to live in.

For years politicians have found the magic of success to lie in the direction of making government responsible for solving more of the individual's problems at taxpayer expense. But the drawback to this course are daily becoming more apparent. As every person knows who has ever been connected with a government program involving the payment of money, when the state sets out to take care of us, it is also going to tell us what to do. The minority who need help can be cared for in every respect without it being necessary for the majority to paddle around with all heads at the same level in a lukewarm paternalistic pea soup. Alternatives are open as long as compulsory public welfare is prevented from mushrooming and eliminating by taxation, the individual's ability to plan for his future security.

The insurance industry makes available one of the answers to the welfare state — and it works in two ways. Through insurance, and in line with his own resources and particular needs and wishes, the individual can provide for his future and that of his family or his business. Secondly, every time an insurance policy is sold, capital is accumulated to finance the growth of free enterprise to build a home, an office building, a factory, a pipeline, etc. Since the end of World War II, life insurance companies alone have made available more than $42 billion, not tax money, to help over 4 million families acquire their own homes.

The insurance industry helps build job producing free enterprise that can do more to bring security and a better life than can a debilitating welfare state.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

There now emanates out of Washington a great plethora of figures on the subject of unemployment, and also the need for a war on poverty. Some of these computations are mighty box car in scope.

But perhaps it is most important to bear in mind the sad case of the government statistician who drowned while seeking to wade across a river with an average depth of three feet.

C. W. Harder

It would seem logical before any vast sums are voted to help the poor, to refrain for employment, to do many other proposed things, that some study be made of the situation.

A continuous year long field survey on the situation started the first of the year by the National Federation of Independent Business so far seems to indicate that a great many of those who are unemployed have no skills to offer.

Unanswered, of course, are these questions. How many of these have the mental ability to learn a skill? How many are too shiftless to learn a skill?

Also, when it comes to attacking poverty with tax money, there has been no convincing studies made of the basic questions involved. What is poverty? Why is there poverty?

To some, poverty means being a National Federation of Independent Business ing forced to be content with a Chevrolet instead of a Cadillac. To others, poverty means having enough to eat. Here again is a wide area where information is needed.

If unemployment and poverty is due to shiftlessness; if it is due to a fondness for staying in a fog with the aid of cheap, potent, practically tax-free fortified wine; if it is due to a complete lack of individual responsibility, that is one thing. On the other hand, if it is due to a lack of opportunity, that is an entirely different matter.

If the majority of the unemployed and poverty stricken are in that position due to the lack of opportunity, then it is high time that the political forces of the nation quit stalling and face facts.

A job is only created when someone hires a person. Without an employer there can be no employee.

Huge corporate complexes, automating as rapidly as possible, are not expanding their ranks of employees. Thus rapid growth by independent business is needed to supply jobs.

But so long as the government continues to let the spirit of free enterprise which is the yeast that causes new employers to rise be hamstrung by destructive tax laws, by a Labor Relations Bureau, by hordes of other meddling bureaucrats, the nation will continue to have not only the poor who deserve to be poor, but also, unfortunately, the poor who do not deserve such a condition.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

COVINGTON, LA., ST. TAMMANY FARMER: "The United States has spent and is spending billions, but we have failed to buy a friend. Uncle Moneybags has dropped cash the world over, and eager fingers have grabbed it, but in these places, there are signs that say 'Yankee, Go Home', and there are people who spit upon Americans and call them foul names. Seems that I recall in years gone past when we were pretty friendly with South and Central America back when we weren't trying to buy that friendship."

MT. PULASKI, ILL., TIMES-NEWS: "Even though taxes give us pain—we still demand more services, passing the tax bill on to some other taxpayer, if possible. It is little wonder that we have increasing poverty for much of the initiative has taken away from present generations."

ELIZABETHTOWN, KY., NEWS: "People who want the Government to do something for them should reflect that those most successful, have lived without it."

DRY LINES

Some fishermen like to dry their lines at the end of a day's fishing. This tip makes it easy. Buy a regular rubber heel for a shoe. Nail it to board or side of your boat. Now split it part way with a razor. Cast out, fit line in slit and reel in. Dry as toast.

Roger W. Babson Weekly Report

ROGER W. BABSON

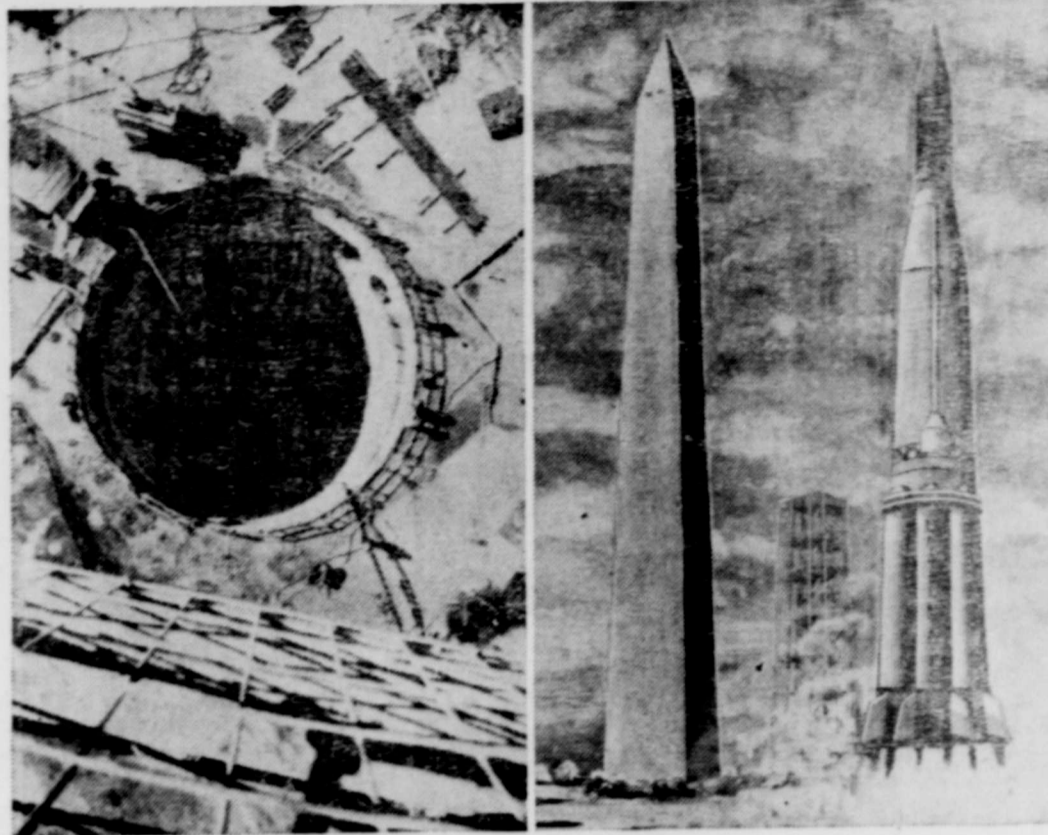

BABSON DISCUSSES THE CROP OUTLOOK

BABSON PARK, Mass.—The farmers of our nation last year grossed about forty-one billion dollars, to set a new record. The big question now is: Will they do as well in 1964?

Spring Planting Intentions
If farmers stick to their early 1964 planting intentions, U. S. crop acreage will just about equal that for 1963 and will be a small 2 percent above 1962. The Agriculture Department's Crop Reporting Board says that a total of 261,000,000 acres will be seeded to the 17 major crops covered in its March 1 planting intentions survey. If we add the minor crops not included in that survey, the total for ALL U. S. crops this year will probably amount to 310,000,000 acres — the fourth smallest ever recorded.

The Crop Reporting Board looks for declines in acreages seeded to barley, corn, flaxseed, and oats; but it expects these downturns to be offset by the larger acreages that will be seeded to soybeans and spring wheat. Our Babson commodity analysts foresee ACTUAL 1964 plantings a bit higher than the figure indicated by the Crop Reporting Board.

Corn and Wheat
It is officially estimated that corn plantings will be 1.7 percent less than in 1963 and 7 percent below the 1958-62 average. The reason for this is that farmers have decided to take more of their corn land out of production so they can qualify for payments by the government under its new feed-grains diversion program. Even with this smaller acreage, however, most experts believe that corn output will equal the 1963 record of 4,081,395,000 bushels. I

SPACE FLIGHT SUPERLATIVES

Brunswick, Ga.—The biggest caisson-type pit ever dug is being completed south of here to accommodate a 12-story-high solid fuel rocket motor to be built right in the 120-foot deep pit (photo left). The pit will also serve as a giant test bed for static firing of the six million pound thrust rocket motor. The Thiokol Chemical facility has been designed to build the largest most powerful rocket engine to date. To keep in step with the projects superlatives, the 50-foot diameter pit has eaten up 525 tons of construction steel and 23.5 million pounds of concrete. A 15-foot deep concrete plug seals the bottom. Photo on right is Jack Carlton's artist's conception of a NOVA-type rocket launch with a cluster of 108-foot tall solid fuel rockets from the Brunswick facility making up the first stage booster. The NOVA-type vehicles is one of the new generation of space craft to be built for lifting heavier payloads into orbit and for manned flights to the moon.

Government reports on U. S. spring-wheat plantings indicate that there will be a boost of 6.5 percent from last year, but that the total will still be about 3 percent below the five-year average. Of course, the new farm bill just enacted will encourage farmers to cut plantings back even more. But, assuming average yields per acre, I am convinced the total 1964 wheat production will still come very close to the five-year average. While the wheat surplus does not loom so large as it did a couple of years ago, that problem is still far from licked.

What About Cotton?
This spring the outlook for the cotton crop is more uncertain than usual, because some cotton was already in the ground before the new farm bill became law. This law reduces farm price supports for cotton from 32½ cents to 30 cents a pound. Cotton growers had originally intended to plant just about the same number of acres as in 1963, which would be just below the five-year average of 15,435,000 acres. My guess is that less land will be sowed to cotton now, though the cutback won't be as great as it would have been if the farm bill had passed earlier in the season. The cotton provisions of the farm bill may be an improvement on the old "two-price" system, but I predict they will not be the cure-all some people expect. Continued government tinkering with production and prices will make matters worse in the long run; it will simply postpone the day of reckoning for those farmers who cannot—or will not—adjust to economic reality and changing marketing concepts.

Prices and Income
Some months ago everyone was excited at the prospect of Russia buying vast tonnages of wheat, and possibly other grains. But—although the Soviets have taken fairly sizable amounts—our hopes for really large shipments of wheat and other grains beyond the Iron Curtain have fizzled. Grain surpluses are still with us. Although we have cut back our plantings, we are still over-producing.

For this and other reasons, we have right now considerable downward pressure on prices of farm products. Hence, I predict that 1964 farm prices—on average—will be a little lower than last year's. Farm income will do well to hold its 1963 level.

HIGH FASHION FOR FISH

Maybe fish aren't as "fashion conscious" as it seems. With the arrival of each new fishing season all sorts of "revolutionary" barbed contraptions are hurled into the water with the expectation of getting more and bigger fish. Sometimes the new models are successful; sometimes they aren't. Among fishermen, tastes in artificials change frequently. If you know plugs, you'll be able to spot year-to-year progression of lure design in the tackle box of the typical bass fisherman.

But a good angler, maintain the Mercury fishing experts, can be relied on to fill a stringer using lures and baits that newer fishermen consider antiquated.

If the new models are not so vastly superior, then why is it that a recently introduced plug will earn a reputation for being "hot" on a particular lake?

Usually it turns out, most of the fishermen are spending most of their time using this lure only. The fish have few other choices, so naturally the popular new plug racks up a good score.

Tests have shown that a proven lure properly fished will match the effectiveness of a new one during a given period of time. If a certain plug was good once, it's still good.

Don't be too hasty about retiring old favorites. Just keep in mind, any good plug handled carefully will catch fish — sometimes.

Ideas for Interiors

by DEDE DRAPER, Guest Columnist - Partner, Shaw & Draper, Inc., NYC and Past President, NSID

The Contemporary House . . . A Study in Color, Texture and Dimension

When the World's Fair opens, millions of visitors will view the HOUSE OF GOOD TASTE, in reality, three houses — a Traditional, a Modern and a Contemporary House, each by a renowned architect. The Contemporary House was designed by Architect Jack Pickens Coble; the interiors were planned by a committee appointed by the National Society of Interior Designers, consisting of Michael Greer, Dora Brahm and Arturo Pini di San Miniato, with myself as Chairman, and with an advisory committee of ten NSID designers.

As Designers, we have dedicated our efforts to provide a background for gracious living, where each member can enjoy advantages of family life without sacrificing the individual's need for privacy. Throughout, warm cheerful colors — yellow and flame, with blue and green accents — combined with comfortable furniture and carefully chosen accessories, create a decorative and relaxing atmosphere.

The dominant central core building houses the entrance and formal living area; dining and service wing are to the right of the central core; and the family room and guest study are between parents' and children's quarters.

Throughout the Contemporary House, special attention has been given to use of texture, color and dimension. Wallpaper was used to supply these in the living and dining rooms, pantry and a portion of the kitchen. Master bedroom, girl's room, boy's room, guest study, and three halls were also wallpapered.

In the living room, a subdued grid patterned paper of white lines on soft beige silk background blends nicely with sheer woven silk and linen casement curtains. Separating the living room and dining room is a hall, in the same white textured paper used in the entrance hall . . . an excellent background for paintings used in this area.

In the mustard and yellow formal dining room, walls are papered in textured yellow and white, enhancing oiled walnut and amber furniture. Shades of blue and white dominate the kitchen, where wall treatment had to be practical and durable as well as decorative.

Master bedroom walls in soft yellow silk paper blend with the sunny colored furnishings. Children's bedrooms are furnished with emphasis on durability and ease of maintenance. Colors are blue, green and white, bright and gay, offsetting the natural cherry wood of two other walls. A gay vertical design of blue and green flowers on a white ground dominates one large wall of the girl's room; matching paper in thin stripes of blue, green and white was chosen for the boy's room.

In the black and white guest study, which doubles as a quiet area for the family as well, a white dimensional paper offsets bright red and blue accent upholstery colors. Same paper was used in the family room which was designed to encourage an interest in and enjoyment of music.

We worked closely with the Wallpaper Council which was selected to provide the papers for this Contemporary House, and with the other participants. We really believe that visitors to the World's Fair will find many ideas all through the house that will contribute to their own pleasure and comfort.

MOTHER

It is so important that a child feel secure and loved the first weeks and months of its life. Our foremost authorities say that if a child's spiritual and emotional welfare is neglected in the early weeks of life, there is a great chance of permanent damage to its personality growth.

Therefore, on this day, we honor not only the beloved mothers of our adults and youth, but the very young mother who has both the tremendous responsibility and the precious opportunity to mold the life and character of the very young child. May she seek early God's help, who in the person of the Son, said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Will Your Chicken Lay a Golden Egg?

The 4-H Club members enrolled in a poultry program soon learn that to raise even a small flock successfully requires some knowledge of the poultry sciences related to feeds, breeds, disease control and production.

They get this information from extension poultry bulletins, from the local 4-H Club leader and from the extension worker. And applying what they learn often produces the "golden egg" that discloses a future career.

Project Determines Career

High school students say that experience gained in tending a flock of birds determined their choice of college courses to prepare them for a career in the poultry industry.

The $6 billion industry in the United States involves scores of specialized fields such as engineering, genetics, nutrition, pharmaceuticals, and large-scale production. And, according to a recent survey made by the Western Poultry Congress, there is a shortage of college trained young people to fill these jobs.

Among 500 commercial firms surveyed recently, the lowest starting salary for college graduates was $5,000 (see illustration above) and potential earnings over $30,000.

Jobs Go Begging

What's more, the survey reveals that in one year less than 100 students were graduated with a bachelor's degree in poultry science. There were more than 250 jobs waiting to be filled.

One prospective employer, Heisdorf & Nelson Farms, Inc., helps to get 4-H'ers started in a poultry project, and offers incentive awards along the way.

Through arrangements made with the National 4-H Service Committee and the Cooperative Extension Service, the firm annually provides six national $500 college scholarships, educational trips to the National 4-H Club Congress and medals for high ranking poultry members in the county.

Statistics forecast that many boys and girls will leave the farm to earn a living elsewhere. There appears to be a golden egg in the poultry industry.

Jet-smooth Luxury Chevrolet makes crooked roads feel like going straight Chevrolet's Full Coil suspension makes the crookedest S-curve seem on the level. With a double-acting shock absorber in each corner, it takes the jumps out of bumps. With 4-link leveling control, you get away with Jet-smooth acceleration.

With built-in anti-dive control, you come to Jet-smooth stops. And with low-friction Ball-Race steering, you waltz over twisting roads as gracefully as a ballerina.

All seven Chevrolet engines are precision balanced for smooth operation. And because your Chevrolet has over 700 insulators and sound deadeners, you don't have to shout to have yourself heard.

It's Trade 'N' Travel Time at your Chevrolet dealer's—the perfect time to try the Jet-smooth ride. Find the meanest stretch of road you can. Then see for yourself how straight a crooked road can feel.
