Again, Off Again, Here We Go Kings' First In This Here League? Must Win Again for Cincher

Somebody, please find me and give it to Cal... What? You can't even... under statement of... was made last... when the Star stated... championship of the... River Valley League... little difficult to fig... By every rule of the... appeared the Burk... were undisputed rul... they had suffered... and only a tie with... villicotho Vikings. will wear a hole in a rock. They were weakening. In the meantime, one of the Kings' wives had been sent back to field No. 1 to direct any lost Kings back to their fold. She got five back at the game site for the last quarter. The score, which was not a score, was 13 to 7 in favor of Arlington, who knew all the time it was a 2-0 forfeit.

Back at the ranch, or at the Red River Valley League bunk house, officials got together and after using a Chinese slide rule, and two pre-war atom smashers, came up with the solution that the Kings should not have played Arlington under the circumstances, which were bad at the best. The forfeit would not be honored, but the game score would go as a loss for the Kings.

Chillicothe called in a Mohamedan who could read the Chinese rule, but could not speak English. Next they found a Comanche Indian who could not read Chinese but could understand Mohamedan and translate it to English. This was the fellow who called Bob Laurick and gave him the good (?) news. Laurick protested loud and strong. He contended they were the champs, even considering the Arlington defeat. Ok. If Bob didn't like the decision, they would go into another huddle. This they did.

Matters like this must be handled fairly. This time the group even changed slide rules. They came up with a Chinese slide rule with Arabic figures. A very clever little gadget, but who could read it? So far, nobody. But it is presumed that the machine said "Hey, youse guys. If youse want to keep dis 'ting on de up 'n' up, dem thar Kings, fo' sartin, have to play Chillicothe again, and what's more, whup them 13 1/2 to 0 before they get back on the train for Houston and the playoffs, and dat is dat."

Laurick has cauliflower ears from using the telephone and making protests. All to no avail. De Kings are going to play the Vikings Sunday afternoon, December 13th (13th?) at 2:30 P. M.

IF (and those two little letters can slip into a very small space) the Kings beat the Vikings, get their state tickets and get on the train, Bob says he wouldn't be surprised if railroads all over the New Nighted States went on strike the moment they got settled aboard the cattle car.

Almost Complete Ticket Sellout For C-G Banquet

Although the Burkburnett Annual Chamber of Commerce banquet isn't until Friday night, January 15th, Jerry Thomas, president of the Chamber of Commerce, reports most of the tickets are already sold.

Ole Joostin Wilson, the Cajun speaker from Louisiana, guest speaker for the affair is the reason for the increased advance sale of tickets. Many have heard his records and seen him on television. He is acclaimed the best in his field in the Southwest.

The seating capacity of the High School Cafetorium is 458, and that means seating the speaker and honored guests on the stage area. Many table arrangements have been considered, but the maximum still comes out at 458.

Those desiring tickets are urged to make arrangements immediately. It is stressed that positively not one person will be admitted at the door who does not have a ticket, for there is absolutely no place for even one extra.

To Harry Dodson and the staff of the Burkburnett Star for the great consideration you have given us in the past and for the patience and understanding you are giving us this year, also for the time and space for our TRAFFIC HINTS.

We have had many compliments on our 1964-65 year book, not only from our club members, but from District and State officers.

Burkburnett Study Club Mrs. Glen H. Bear, Pres. and Club Members

A. G. Earp, manager of the Farmers Co-op. Gin reports they have ginned 1425 bales of 1964 season cotton. Although this is far below last year's figure on this same date, there is still a lot of cotton in the fields. A late and extremely green summer kept the cotton in heavy green foliage for many weeks later than the usual season.

Cotton being brought to Burkburnett is strict middling light spot with 15-16th inch staple and strict low middling with 15-16th inch staple.

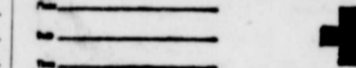

Mr. Earp estimates that 60 to 65 percent of the 1964 crop has been harvested.

"A Majority Once Knew The World Was Flat"

The Supreme Court decision holding that all state legislatures — the upper as well as the lower houses — must be apportioned solely on the basis of population hit the states like a bombshell. And it is going to keep on exploding for a long time to come.

For all of our history, it has been common for the states to apportion their House of Representatives on a population basis and their Senates on a geographical basis, such as by counties. In this they have simply followed the federal system, as laid down in the Constitution, in which each member of the lower house represents about the same number of constituents, while every state is allowed two Senators without regard to population.

Unless this court decision is negated — and a constitutional amendment, apparently, is the only way to do that — the big centers of population will almost completely dominate state government, at the expense of the rural areas and rural people. Their problems and needs, which often are different from those of the cities, will be submerged and their voices largely stifled. A braking power on the excesses of numerical majorities will be lost.

The argument for this revolutionary reapportionment is that the majority should rule. Washington colum-

Within five minutes you can also rest your eyes with pads of cotton soaked in witch hazel, or avoid that down-at-heel look by having the heels of your shoes repaired. You can even subtly highlight your hair or blend in those gray hairs within five minutes. With five minute color, Clairol's new shampoo color conditioner, you simply shampoo in the color highlights.

GIVE A GIFT OF HEALTH FOR CHRISTMAS

You can do more than toast the health of your family and friends this Christmas—you can give them a gift to promote their health and vigor on a year-round basis.

To make sure a child or teenager gets fresh air and muscling exercise, give him or her a bike. If you want to help a mate or parent stay in good physical shape, do the same.

The light workout of bicycle riding may be just what the doctor ordered—it helps keep you trim, and relaxes you. One hour of moderate cycling will burn off up to 600 calories. Youngsters can work off excess energy, make sure their muscles are developing strong and healthy.

These may be some of the reasons more than 1,000,000 bikes were given as Christmas gifts last year, not only by parents to youngsters, but by adults to each other. And interestingly enough, more tandems were bought last year than at any time in history!

The old song about "a bicycle built for two," seems to express a popular opinion. Tandems are favored gifts for young-at-heart families, couples, children; and They're such fun to ride, they encourage the healthy practice of bike-hikes, short exploring trips, long-distance rides for a Sunday picnic.

And don't forget, gals: that old song about fun on bikes also says, "You'll look sweet!" According to veteran bike-riders, it's true!

Distributive Education

Junior and senior students at Burkburnett High School who are interested in the retail, wholesale or service selling fields have the opportunity to participate in the Distributive Education program.

This vocational training program allows the student to attend school one half a day and work one half a day. It is required that the student be sixteen years of age and is able to work three hours a day. Mr. Loyd Bloodworth, D. E. teacher hunts down perspective jobs and schedules an interview for the student. Acquiring the job depends upon the student himself.

Each student has one class in D. E. a day, either third or fourth period according to the schedule of the job. In the classroom each student will cover 5 areas of Distributive Education: 1. School and business relationships; 2. Basic selling techniques; 3. Mathematics of distribution; 4. Communication of Distribution (Advertising); and 5. Organization of distribution. Mr. Bloodworth usually spends three days of the week working on one of the five areas, using demonstrations and participation of students. The other two days are used for individual attention of each student and the type of job he holds.

The student is graded on his attitude, work habits, personality traits, class participation, and his performance in the job he holds. Mr. Bloodworth keeps in touch with all employers, and every six weeks has them fill out a performance sheet showing their conception of the student's performance. This is a major part of the student's grade. The Distributive Education program is worth two credits a year, one for class work and one for holding a job.

The students who are already participating in this program and the jobs they hold are:

Second year, Richard Alexander, Mobil; Gary Dwyer, Piggy Wiggy; Jimmy Lindsey, United Food Store; and Daryl Waddel, Gill's Grocery.

First year, Jeff Barfield, Manhattan Dept. Store; Robert Beeman, Jiffy Food Store; Larry Bills, Bills TV and Appliance; Linda Bryant, First National Bank; Eddie Bumpus, Campbell Auto; Terry Burk, Spinks Fina Station; Denny Dondson, Ideal Cleaners; Theresa Farley, Bennie's Dress Shop; Terry Key, Corner Drug; Coy Martin, Russel Mobil Station; Wade Nickens, Nick's Produce; Dawn Taylor, First Savings and Loan; Norman Woolen, Sloan's Fina Station; Mike Young, White's Auto; and Pat Winger, Jackie's Beauty Shop.

Three Cookies From One Batter Are Holiday Timesavers

Here are two new twists on a cookie that's made American history. The first twist is a "cookie pop." The second twist is an "easy-do" bar cookie. And the cookie that made history is the Toll House® Cookie, a scrumptious invention that all began when somebody added nuggets of semi-sweet chocolate chopped from a semi-sweet chocolate candy bar to a traditional drop cookie batter — and created the cookie that's now America's favorite. Semi-sweet chocolate morsels, created just to make the wonderful new cookie, have made history, too, in a whole new art of shortcut chocolate cookery.

You'll find the recipe for authentic Toll House Cookies on every package of semi-sweet chocolate morsels. To make the "easy-do" bar cookies, just spread the Toll House Cookie batter evenly in a greased 13" by 9" by 2" pan and bake in a 375° oven for 12 to 14 minutes. The same batter is used for the cookie pops.

Toll House Cookie Pops

Make the batter for authentic Toll House Cookies, following the recipe instructions found on every 6-ounce package of semi-sweet chocolate morsels. To make cookie pops, drop batter by tablespoonfuls 4 inches apart on greased cookie sheet. Flatten slightly with back of spoon. Insert 5-inch sticks — push sticks from edge to about two-thirds through batter. Bake at 375°F. 10 to 12 minutes. Remove gently while warm with wide spatula. Let cool thoroughly before serving. YIELD: approximately 1 1/2 dozen 3" cookies.

Choral Clinic

The Burkburnett High School Mixed Chorus participated in Choir Day, Saturday, Nov. 21st, at Midwestern University with singers from fourteen area schools.

The 15th annual MU Choral clinic began with a performance by the MU choir. Each participating group performed two numbers for the clinician, Dr. Gene Kenney, professor of music, Texas Tech, Lubbock, Tex.

"Wonderful job, keep up the good work," said Dr. Kenney after the performance of the BHS choir. The numbers presented by the choir were "Gonna Build a Mountain," a musical production number and "Rejoice Today," an anthem. Choir director is Mrs. Sydney Askins.

For the fifty member unit, participation in the clinic was a new experience. The purpose of the clinic is to help choir members and their directors in improving the vocal music departments of their schools. Critics received can make choir members aware of problems and help them to overcome them.

John Doe ?

During the last war Kilroy was the name of the man who had been there. John Doe, the encyclopedia tells us, is the name used in legal documents to describe a person whose real name is unknown.

You do not know the name of this darling baby, and his name may be unknown to us, but in his eyes dwell love and trust. His eyes are like doe-eyes. Yet the male deer is a young buck, rather than a doe, and he is known for his swift running and his ability to jump to high places.

Our prayer for this young man is this:

May the Lord strengthen and establish you. Then as Isaiah says in the 6th verse of the 33rd Chapter, wisdom and knowledge shall be the stability of thy times, and strength of salvation: the fear of the Lord is his treasure."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Peggy Dittmar

Talent and a double portion of hard work are the keys to 4-H success for a pretty blond from Lometa and a young man from Chireno.

Peggy Dittmar, 17, of Lampasas County, has been named top girl from the Lone Star State in 4-H achievement. Joe Bill Mettauer, 16, of Nacogdoches County, was picked as top boy.

Miss Dittmar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dittmar, will receive a $150 college scholarship donated by the Ford Motor Company Fund.

A high school senior, Miss Dittmar has previously won awards in clothing, cooking, food preservation, gardening, flowers, livestock and junior leadership.

Her most prized honor came in 1963 when she won a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago as Texas winner in the automotive program, an area usually dominated by boys. She emphasized auto safety in her project.

As evidence of skills in more traditional fields, she has sewed bridesmaids' dresses, a cheer-leader outfit and several coats. In her seven years of 4-H,

Joe Bill Mettauer

Miss Dittmar has twice been president of her club and has held several county offices. She lives on a 219-acre farm and plans a career in home economics.

Mettauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Brown Mettauer, has excelled in safety, forestry, cattle and homestead improvement.

To start his livestock program, he and his younger brother leased land from their grandfather with an agreement to improve it and then borrowed money from him to purchase his cattle. The two boys now own 78 head of cattle.

Mettauer has held several local offices, including the presidency during his six years in 4-H.

His county awards include being chosen outstanding student farmer by the Farm Bureau and being named 4-H gold star boy. He feels that 4-H has taught him the value of the dollar.

The mothers of both Mettauer and Miss Dittmar serve as 4-H leaders. The two teen-agers were chosen for their honors by the Cooperative Extension Service from 2,200,000 rural and urban 4-H'ers in the 50 states and Puerto Rico.
