Kingsons Janlee 4571565, a five year old Registered Holstein cow owned by Gene Robertson, Burk Burnett, has produced a noteworthy record of 14,600 lbs of milk and 536 lbs. of butterfat in 305 days.

Among Other Matters

BY J.L.H.

The New Year is now in full swing—but some of us haven't joined it yet!

We were pleased to listen, the other day, to merits of the Burk Burnett Police department extolled. We were told they are efficient and do their job with out fanfare.

Let's name this (unofficially of course), "Appreciate The Police Department" Week.

Add our best wishes to the many others, Mr. and Mrs. Aderan Dunn. We are happy to welcome Kim Alesia, as Burk Burnett Baby, '65.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Morris during the New Years holiday were their niece, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Meyers of Lubbock, Texas.

Eating Your Weight In Meat

If you're an average American male, you eat your weight in meat each year.

That bit of news comes from the National Live Stock and Meat Board. The figure is 173 pounds per annum, and it's the highest in the world. Further, says the Board, in return for all those succulent steaks, chops and roasts and other cuts making up the total, you pay only 5 per cent of your disposable income.

The livestock producers do a superb job in seeing to it that an abundance of meat animals go continually to market. Their production methods have changed vastly for the better, and advanced technology is as common in the ranch country as it is in the industrial areas. Then the packers take over and, in return for a profit so small as to be practically invisible, make sure that every far-flung section of the country will have the meats it wants when it wants them. Finally, the meat retailer, also operating on moderate profits, completes the job of serving the consumer.

The consumption figures, impressive as they are don't tell all the story. The rest of it is found in the improvement in the quality of the meat and in the conveniences offered by modern processing, packaging and preparation. These are fields in which research, looking for still more ways to better the product, never ends.

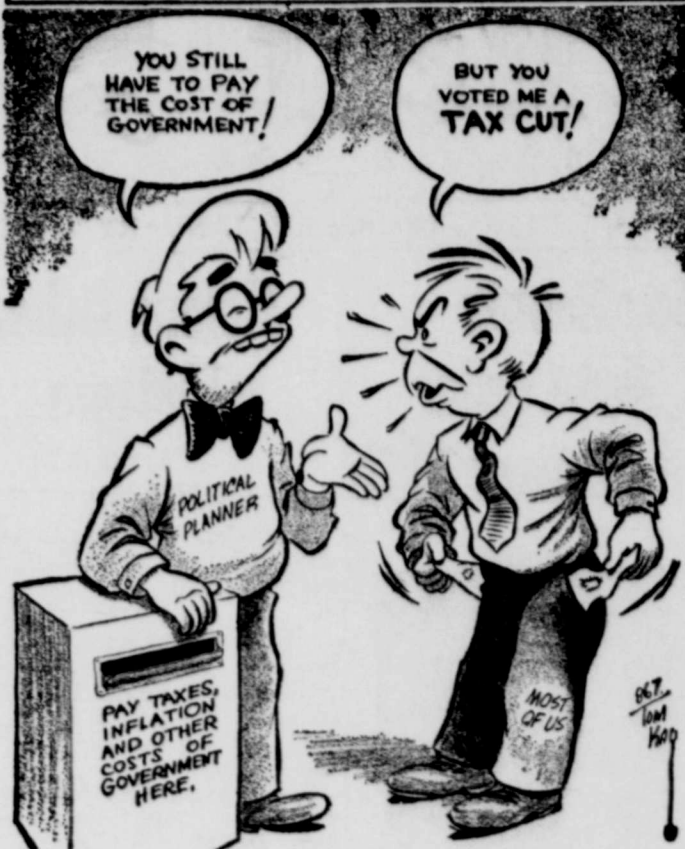

We're the best fed people on earth. And the meat industry deserves much of the credit.

What Medicare Would Not Do

One wonders how many people — and especially those in the 65-and-over age group — actually know what Medicare would and would not do.

It seems apparent that the number is comparatively small — and that most people, if Medicare is ever adopted,

THE AMERICAN WAY

Only A Cut In Government Spending Will Save Us

will be depressingly surprised at its limitations.

As U. S. News and World Reports points out, "Even the name is a misnomer . . . The very term Medicare is raising expectations that will not be met in the opening plan."

Medicare does not — repeat does not — cover physician's bill or dentist's bill. It does not pay for needed drugs except those given in a hospital or a nursing home. And of course, it would do nothing for those under 65, except tax them heavily to pay for it.

Medicare is essentially a hospitalization plan. And even in that it is severely restricted. It would pay the whole bill for only 45 days. The maximum hospital stay for which it would provide benefits would be 180 days and then the patient would have to pay part of the bill.

Ironically, despite all the vastly exaggerated claims made by some Medicare advocates, the existing Kerr-Mills law, which provides aid to the needy under a federal-state arrangement, is more liberal and inclusive. So are various local welfare plans, public and private. And the medical profession has pledged itself to serve any who need attention, regardless of the ability to pay.

The last Congress found Medicare wanting and refused to approve it.

UN IN ACTION

A forum for mobilizing world opinion.

The United Nations not being a super government, has no power of its own to enforce its decision and recommendations. It cannot levy a tax, enact a law issue, a currency or draft a soldier. Although the United Nations has no power to compel, it has enormous power to persuade. The UN embodies the only world code of good behavior for governments; it provides a meeting place where governments can harmonize their activities and it is the most powerful single force in the world for mobilizing and influencing world opinion.

Altho the UN cannot rule nations by making and enforcing world laws, it can bring to bear world opinion in the long run, the recommendations of the assembly of the United Nations may be all the more effective because they do not demand obedience but only ask a decent respect for the opinions of mankind.

The UN's strength, like that of any group, comes from the force and vigor of its members. When they exert responsible leadership the United Nations succeeds.

This statement issued some years ago by the U. S. Committee for the UN still holds good today. According to their statement at that time, The cost to you an American citizen is 48c per year, less than 1c per week. Broken down as follows: 10c for our membership in the United Nations. 7c for our participation in the specialized agencies. 31c for voluntary contributions to special programs such as the Children fund and the Technical Assistance program.

In spite of all the difficulties The United Nations Is Still A Force in the Fast Moving World Of Today.

A loose wrap is recommended for fresh, unfrozen poultry and meat in household refrigerators; for freezer storage a durable, moisture-vapor resistant wrap is needed to protect against drying out or "freezer burn."

In the home refrigerator a tight wrap in a moist atmosphere encourages growth of micro-organisms and development of off colors. Micro-organisms that grow on uncooked meat at refrigerator temperatures are not known to be toxic, but they do cause unappetizing tastes and odors.

Fresh meat and poultry keep best at 32 to 35 degrees F. in home refrigerators. For practical home use, here's a guide to refrigerator keeping, based on USDA and other research: Loosely wrapped fresh meat, 3 to 6 days at 38 degrees F. (shortest time for fresh pork); loosely wrapped fresh poultry 2 to 3 days at 35 degrees F. (shortest time for cut-up poultry); loosely wrapped organ meats, such as liver, 2 days at 38 degrees.

When fresh unfrozen meat or poultry reaches the home kitchen, loosen the tight film for refrigeration. Often, it's better to remove both film and paper board tray, place meat on a plate, cover loosely with waxed paper or foil and put in the refrigerator. Chicken giblets often packed in a separate bag under the pieces of cut up chicken, keep best in the refrigerator out of the bag, loosely covered and apart from the rest of the chicken.

How to Avoid A "Housewarming"

Housewarmings can be fun, but the kind of housewarming brought on by the hot summer sun only results in personal discomfort or overloaded air conditioners.

Since as much heat penetrates the walls as any other area, people building new concrete block or brick cavity homes in the southern half of the nation should welcome these tips on the value of wall insulation.

Scientists at the Zonolite Division of W. R. Grace & Co. report that tests with water-repellent granules of the mineral vermiculite prove that wall insulation can markedly increase comfort and reduce cooling expenses. The material can be installed in only a few working hours.

Besides lowering the electricity cost of cooling, many homeowners have been able to immediately save the full cost of the insulation because smaller and less costly air conditioning units were required.

Homes with wall insulation often are quieter, too. In the tests with water-repellent vermiculite, loudness was cut between 20 and 31 per cent.

FACT OR FICTION: REDWOOD TREES AROUSE EMOTIONS

San Francisco — (HK) — Something about redwood trees arouses emotions that permit myths to masquerade as facts with many tree lovers.

Philip T. Farnsworth, executive vice president of California Redwood Association, sets the record straight by comparing the myths with the facts:

MYTH: The redwoods are in danger of extinction.

FACT: Virtually all the "big trees" — the sequoia gigantea found in the Sierra Nevadas — are preserved in national parks. More than one and one-half million "tall trees"—the sequoia sempervirens found on the California coast — are preserved in state parks. Thus the danger of extinction is nil.

MYTH: There are only a few redwoods.

FACT: The coast redwoods are numbered in the uncountable millions. They range in age from seedlings to hundreds of years. Most redwoods more than two-score years in age are impressive in height but cannot be compared in girth to the cathedral-like groves preserved in 28 public parks. There are about 2,340 square miles of redwood timberlands.

MYTH: Redwood trees grow only in scattered groves.

FACT: Any forest in which redwoods comprise 20 per cent of the trees is officially classified as a "redwood forest." Most redwoods are found in mixed stands with Douglas fir trees, but others are also common such as white fir, cypress, alder and several varieties of oak. In fact, most redwood forests are thick and impenetrable to all but the most dedicated outdoorsmen.

MYTH: It takes hundreds of thousands of years to grow a redwood.

FACT: Redwood is one of the fastest growing trees. Some known to be only 100 years old tower over 200 feet and measure as much as five feet in diameter. Only an experienced woodman can distinguish such "young" trees from others that are centuries old.

MYTH: Redwood trees are being cut at an alarming rate.

FACT: The volume of redwood timber grown each year is fast reaching balance with the amount of redwood lumber produced. All responsible redwood lumber companies practice tree farming; that is, the management of redwood timberlands on sound agricultural principles. It is in their interest to assure a continuing plentiful supply of timber to guarantee their own futures.

IN
FOOTSTEPS

What joy in life is seen in those eyes. That smile is given freely to everyone. Now look at them both. Which one am I talking about? Aren't they both the same? No, she's not an exact, carbon copy, of her mother — for when you look again, you see that there is a generation between them. She wears the bright colors in her dress with the cute designs. Her dreams are different than her mothers. She is more outgoing. Yet in the mother you can see a quiet humor and in her closeness to her daughter, a gentle protectiveness. Her mother's dreams are sometimes too ambitious, but in the "Encouragement Department" she works just fine.

There is one dream and ambition they both have, however; and that is to be like our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, and to be of service to the church. Their goodness is of God

"For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers: but the face of the Lord is against them that do evil." 1 Peter 3:12.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

BEGGARS AND CHOOSERS

One of the most recent Republican Presidents, Abraham Lincoln, liked to tell this "Welfare" story: "I used to know an old codger," Abe said, "whose cabin burned down to the ground. The folks in those parts felt sorry because he'd lost all his early possessions. So they began bringing him presents to set him back on his feet.

"Well, they made such a good job of it that, when they were through, he was far better off than he ever had been before. One day the old man was sitting on the stoop of the new cabin his neighbors had built for him and along came a friend from down the road with a bag of oats on his shoulder. "I want you to have these here oats, pardner," said the kind neighbor, setting the bag down on the front step.

"I ain't taking no oats," said the old boy. "I ain't takin' no-thing but money."

I DRAWS"
When the recent hurricane hit southern Louisiana, it left sugar cane farmers there in dire and immediate need of help in the fields. Mexicans and Puerto Ricans had to be imported by many farmers although thousands of able bodied, "unemployed" negro field hands had nothing better to do than watch the boob tube all day. When approached many such former workers disdainfully truned down all job offers saying "I draws". Translated, "I draws" means "I draw welfare payments for not working and become ineligible to live off the taxpayers if I take a job."

Of course, any able bodied person on "welfare" who turns down honest work ought to be cut off welfare and be allowed to go hungry. And "welfare" should be completely removed from the jurisdiction of the federal government and placed entirely in the hands of local and state governments. Many of the outrages which plague and permeate the entire federal welfare program would not long exist if local money were paying the bills instead of "Washington money." Going a step further, state and local government should also get out of the "welfare" business except in rare, emergency situations and turn the programs over to private charities. Then deserving cases would get better care, with a minimum of waste and racketeering.

"I STEALS"

President Johnson has announced: "We are going to try to take all of the money that we think is unnecessarily being spent and take it from the 'haves' and give to the 'have nots' that need it so much." That is Marxism. It is also stealing. We cannot, in good conscience, call it legalized confiscation, because nowhere does the Constitution of the United State authorize the federal government—or any government—to take from the "haves" and give to the "have nots."

Of course, this is nothing new. Throughout history kings and despots, Hitler and Stalin, Robin Hood and "Pretty Boy" Floyd have taken it from the "haves" and given it to the "have nots." And usually made slobbs or slaves out of "have nots" in the doing.

World's Tallest Concrete Tower

WORLD'S TALLEST — This is the preliminary proposed design of the tower structure which will be located in the center of the 1968 "Fair of the Americas" to be held in San Antonio. It will be the tallest concrete structure in the world, with a minimum height of 650 to 700 feet stretching almost 70 stories in the air. It will be constructed with a capital investment of $4.5 million and have observation decks and restaurants at the top and intermediate levels. The illuminated tower will be visible for 100 miles when seen from the air at night. Hemis Fair architects are now working on the exact design and specifications which will bring to reality the future permanent Texas landmark.

ROAD TO SECURITY

THE United Steel Workers of America, more than a million strong, are demanding "complete career security." Of course, all of us would like to have just exactly that, but is it possible aside from a completely regimented society such as a benevolent autocrat or an autocrat which not many of us want?

Dr. Kershner

The best wages and the highest standard of living have been attained in a free society with very great economic flexibility. To be fully employed we must compete with other producers. If a guaranteed annual wage proved to be so costly to the steel companies that they could not compete with foreign producers or with non-ferrous products in our own country, the scheme would break down. The consumer is still the boss, and if he will not buy enough steel to supply all these guaranteed jobs, they will cease to exist.

The greatest measure of security any of us can enjoy is to remain competitive in produce goods and services that will sell in the marketplace. That is the only way to create jobs in a free society. The alternative is a totalitarian government directed economy wherein the bureaucrats decide what is to be done, who is to do it, and how much will be paid for such job. That form of society can provide "complete career security," but it can do it only on a low level basis of living and security. We know that is true because it exists throughout the communist world. There is no reason to hope that we could do any better.

On the other hand, a free society and a flexible economy involves some risk, but if we put the interest of the consumer first and allow the necessary flexibility for change and adaptation, the result will be not only continuing freedom but a much greater abundance of material goods than can ever be achieved under communism.

$168 Million New Telephone Construction for Texas in 1965

Continuing improvements in telephone system will make your service even more dependable and valuable

Telephone service in Texas ranks with the world's best. It always has. Even so, in 1965 Southwestern Bell will spend another $168 million to make it better still.

This construction program is the biggest in history. It is necessary to provide for the growing telephone needs of Texas.

But it's more than that.

It also is an intensified effort to make even better the service you already have, whether you live in a big city, a small town, or on a farm or ranch.

Our objective is to make your telephone service more useful, dependable, convenient and valuable than ever before.

Texas will also benefit economically from this telephone construction program. Because hundreds of individual projects reach into virtually every community served by Southwestern Bell, the economic impact will be significant and widespread.

New jobs will be created. We expect to add 500 new telephone jobs in Texas in 1965 — bringing to 25,000 the number of people on our payroll in Texas.

But more important will be the economic boost for the hundreds of Texas firms which sell supplies, services and materials to the telephone company.

Here are some of the things we'll do in 1965 to make your telephone service better

NEW STORMPROOFING

In 1965, we'll put more than 500 additional miles of telephone cable underground, because that's the safest place for it. Safe from wind, rain, hot weather, cold weather, stormy weather. This will add to the dependability of your long distance service.

Angelo, Fort Worth and Waco, Houston and Beaumont. Via a network of such microwave antenna towers and transmitting stations, your phone calls are relayed from point to point with the speed of light.

DOD IMPROVEMENTS

For those customers who have Direct Distance Dialing, service will be faster and easier than ever before. Complex new testing and trouble-reporting equipment is being built into the system to help maintain the quality of transmission and quickly trace and remedy problems that might affect your service.

We are looking ahead to another year of telephone progress in Texas in 1965:

- Your telephone service will be a better buy, dollar for dollar.
- Texas everywhere will benefit from the surge of new dollars, created by our expansion program, into the state's economy.

NEW BUILDINGS, WORK CENTERS

Southwestern Bell will erect 15 new buildings in Texas in 1965. The largest will be the new $13 million South Texas headquarters building in Houston. Other new telephone buildings will be erected in Amarillo, Midland, Dallas (two buildings), San Antonio, Beaumont, Rosenberg, Cleveland, Waco, Pasadena, and a three-building complex in northwest Houston.

Additions are planned for telephone buildings at Fort Worth, Dallas, Amarillo, Forney, Monahans and Houston.

Also, 16 new installation, repair and construction centers will be built across the state.

NEW MICROWAVE MAGIC

The magic of microwave will provide thousands of new voice ways for long distance calling in Texas this year. For example, new systems will link Sweetwater and San

ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON DISCUSSES UNESCO

One of the most valuable of 14 agencies associated with UN is UNESCO—the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization. Its purpose is expressed in its charter as "to contribute to peace and security by promoting collaboration among the nations through education, science, and culture, in order to further universal respect for justice, the rule of law and for the rights and fundamental freedoms which are affirmed for all peoples of the world, without distinction of race, sex, language, or religion by the Charter of the United Nations."

Universal Education
The Universal Declaration of Human Rights asserts that everyone has the right to education. Yet, half the world's population cannot even read or write. To meet this challenge of literacy, UNESCO has undertaken major programs in Latin America, Asia and Africa. The problem is not one that can be solved quickly. Before education of the illiterate can begin, teachers must be trained and schools constructed. Technical and vocational education is needed at all levels. Also, after one learns to read one has to have materials to read—books, papers, pamphlets. UNESCO has planned a program also to help solve this problem. It has sent out more than 200 international specialists to work in national systems of education.

Natural Sciences

A nation's economic, social and cultural life is directly related to the level of its knowledge of the basic sciences—mathematics, physics, chemistry, biology, geology—and their applications. Offices in Latin America, the Middle East, South and Southeast Asia advise UNESCO of the scientific needs in the different regions.

For example, the Intergovernmental Oceanographic Commission is advancing the knowledge of marine science. The Indian Ocean Expedition is a five year venture for study of the world's least known ocean.

Social Sciences

The principal objectives of the programs in the field of the social sciences are to contribute to the social and economic development of countries, and to study and promote such legal, political and economic aspects as will lead to greater extension of human rights.

UNESCO assigns social scientists to various areas, and also maintains research centers in South Asia and Latin America and a clearing house in Paris for exchange of information among member states of the United Nations.

Cultural Activities

By encouraging members of all nations and of all races to know and understand one another, this organization hopes to develop the spirit of peace among the various peoples of the world.

AIRPLANE PRESENTED TO TEXAS RANGERS

A twin-engine aircraft has been presented to the Texas Department of Public Safety for the use of the Texas Rangers by Col. D. Harold Byrd of Dallas.

The Lockheed Lodestar, which seats ten passengers, was accepted on behalf of the Texas Department of Public Safety by Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., Director. "We are grateful for Colonel Byrd's generosity in presenting this airplane to the State of Texas to be used to enhance the State's law enforcement effort and emergency services," Col. Garrison said.

"This aircraft will be utilized to great advantage on occasions when speed is of the essence in transporting law enforcement and other personnel and equipment from one part of the State to another," Col. Garrison said.

This is the second aircraft that Col. Byrd has presented to the Texas Department of Public Safety. The other was a Twin Beech which he gave to the Department in 1958.

Col. Byrd, who has been active on behalf of aviation in Texas and the nation for many years, is an honorary captain in the Texas Rangers.

It endeavors to cultivate an appreciation of the art and literature of the many nations by exchanging the cultural material of each nation with the others.

Mass Communication

The organization is also working to provide all possible means of communication among the people of the underdeveloped countries. A group is now working on development of a low price radio receiver for mass production and distribution. This would be particularly useful in regions where most of the people cannot read or write and where they will not be able to do so for a long time to come.

Wherever radio and television are operative they can spread the messages of peace more quickly.

International Exchange Service

Some 800 fellowships in education, science and the arts have been granted in 1963- and 1964. Opportunities are being provided for people in all walks of life to meet people in other countries. Grants are being made to workers in many fields to travel in other lands.

The general purpose of all of UNESCO's program is to make the world a more enlightened, better, safer, and more peaceful place in which all the people of the earth may live.

Postmaster Appeals To Rural Patrons To Help Mail Carrier

Postmaster W. T. Zimmerman today appealed to postal customers of rural routes to help their rural carrier make mail deliveries during bad winter weather.

The Burkburnett post office has one rural route, covering an area of 74 miles in length in and around the city.

He said that at the same time he hopes all authorities concerned with rural routes where snow and other bad weather hampers the carrier will continue to cooperate to help the mailmen get through.

The Postmaster listed these points of particular concern:

1. Approaches to rural mail boxes must be kept open by customers.

2. Obstructions to delivery of mail on rural routes should be removed or minimized to the fullest extent possible.

3. All patrons names on boxes.

Where rural boxes pose a problem, the carrier may leave form 4056, "Your Mailbox Needs Attention," a notice to keep box approaches clean by promptly removing all obstructions, including snow, which may make mail delivery difficult or impossible.

Unless approaches are cleared, it may be necessary to temporarily withhold delivery of mail, the Postmaster pointed out.

Rural carriers are not required to perform service on foot when roads cannot be traveled with the vehicles normally used, but they are expected to make every reasonable effort to serve as many of their patrons as possible without physical exertion or added financial cost, he explained.

If excessive detours are necessary to effect delivery of mail, customers should temporarily relocate their boxes on the new line of travel, arrange to receive their mail through other patron's boxes, or make other arrangements for their mail until travel on the roads affected can be resumed.

World's Longest Bridge Is Opened

NEW YORK—The majestic Verrazano-Narrows Bridge, longest single-span suspension bridge in the world, will be opened to traffic after an official dedication ceremony on November 21, 1964. Built and financed by the Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority under the chairmanship of Robert Moses, the $325,000,000 bridge links Brooklyn and Staten Island across the famed Narrows, entrance to New York harbor. Shown in photo is the famed New York skyline (top left), Brooklyn (right) and Staten Island (lower left). The bridge with its immediate approaches is nearly three miles long. Its center span of 4,260 feet is 60 feet longer than the former world's record-holder, the Golden Gate Bridge. The new bridge is a twelve-lane, double-decked artery with a capacity of 48 million vehicles annually. The upper level is to be opened initially; the lower will be opened when traffic volume requires the additional capacity. Connecting with new expressways, the bridge is a major link in the Interstate Highway System of the Eastern seaboard, and will carry millions of motorists to the New York World's Fair in 1965.

THE AMERICAN WAY AS VIEWED BY
M. Byrd
By HARRY BROWNE
Editor, Freedom Magazine

HOW FREEDOM WILL BE WON

In California, in 1962, protesting parents elected a new Superintendent of Public Instruction—a man who had run in opposition to "progressive education."

Now, two years later, many of these parents have their children enrolled in profit-making schools—which are spreading all over Southern California. For only profit-seeking schools are required to satisfy their customers.

Every day, consumers with packages to mail turn to United Parcel Service, REA Express, and other carriers. They know that the government's parcel post operation is too slow and often more expensive. They're not interested in reforming the U. S. Post Office because they know that only a profit-seeking company will take pains to give them good service.

What does all this mean? Just this: more and more people are recognizing that government can't educate, that it can't carry the mail, that it can't operate any business as well as a profit-seeking company can.

The California parents first tried to "reform" the state's educational system. They spent hundreds of thousands of dollars and hours of their time to elect "their man." But he was incapable of changing the system.

So the parents then realized it would be cheaper to pay double-once in school taxes and again in tuition—and get exactly what they wanted. They now know it's worth it.

Each parent selects the school that provides the exact education he desires. He's not required to convince a majority of the voters to agree with him. He can buy the 3 R's or "progressive" education, prayers or no prayers, academics or life adjustment."

And most of the private schools provide a curriculum that is several grades ahead of the government-operated schools. So the parents—many with low incomes—rate their own children important enough to warrant the cost.

These parents have realized they can't reform a bad system. Perhaps this is what prompted over 40 million Americans of voting age to stay away from the polls this year. Maybe these non-voters realized that the majority vote process is not the proper basis for making economic decisions.

When enough Americans realize this, the government's economic powers will shrink. Not because people will vote for one man or another—but because they will refuse to accept any economic favors from the state and will refuse to pay for anyone else's favors.

Freedom can only be sold by the example set by people who act like free people. These freedom-loving individuals go to the market-place to solve their problems. They open or patronize private schools, they launch business in competition with the state wherever possible, and they refuse to accept any hand-outs from the government.

They make no attempt to force their views on others at the polls; they simply let their happier, more prosperous lives speak for themselves.

And many Americans are apparently getting the message.

Argentina, Brazil, Chile are known as states.

Golfers, long accustomed to sand traps and doglegs and water holes, must now reckon with a new kind of hazard; the damage suit. According to the Institute for Safer Living, flying golf balls inflict 10,000 disabling injuries every year. And a substantial number of these injuries result in claims.

When are you legally liable for such an accident? On the whole, the law is pretty tolerant. The bare fact that you caused an injury is not enough, in itself, to spell liability. Nor is the fact that you hooked or sliced your shot.

"To hold that golf player was negligent merely because the ball did not travel in a straight line," commented a sympathetic court, "would be imposing upon him a greater duty of care than the Creator endowed him with faculties to carry out."

But the law does insist that you give fair warning to others in the zone of danger.

In one case, a golfer, disgruntled by two bad shots off the tee, decided to try a third. Although a fellow player had already started walking ahead, he failed to cry "Fore!" This time he really connected. The ball slammed into his companions' heads putting him out of action for weeks. Verdict: $5,000.

How wide and how far ahead is the zone of danger? Obviously there is room for a difference of opinion on a particular shot. But don't count on getting the benefit of the doubt in the courtroom. There is too much chance that the judge or jury, faced with the harsh reality of harm done, will not see things your way.

Of course, you shouldn't let the fear of a lawsuit scare you out of playing golf. But here are a few suggestions:

1. Think of liability insurance as an integral part of your golfing equipment. Your insurance man can guide you as to the coverage you need.
2. Keep a healthy respect for the destructive power of a golf ball. Well hit, it may travel faster than 250 miles an hour.
3. Cry "Fore!" just a little more often than seems to be necessary. No one has ever been sued for that.

Saudi Arabians Use Sky Hooks To Lift Nation Into The Future

Dhahran, Saudi Arabia — (HK) — The great distances between population centers in a country covering nearly one million square miles, combined with the aridness of the terrain, make flying a natural for transportation within Saudi Arabia.

The rapid growth of Saudi Arabian Airlines has been a logical development. Today this airline has the biggest fleet of propeller-driven Conquairs and Boeing 720B jets in the Middle East, and an excellent record for reliability and safety.

Present operations average five million miles annually over 13,182 route miles. Saudi Arabian Airlines connects 15 international centers with 20 Saudi airports — the most impressive of which is the large international airport at Dhahran, located in the busy oil field area on the Arabian Gulf.

The passenger terminal, pictured above, at Dhahran airport has been called by critics one of the most beautiful architectural concepts of recent times. It represents a blend of Arab elegance of line with ultra-modern functionalism.

Constructed by the United States government in 1962, and designed by American architect Minoru Yamasaki, who received an award for its imaginative and indigenous design, the terminal building covers 84,000 square feet of floor space. With associated buildings and civic structures — 300 of them — the airport complex covers 1,400,000 square feet of area.

Other principal airports are at Riyadh and Jeddah. Plans have been worked out for building new air facilities at Medina and Taef. Some 25 smaller airports to be built elsewhere throughout the country will complete the serial transportation network that is already playing an important role in bringing the regions and peoples of Saudi Arabia closer together and with the outside world.

DEATH NEVER TAKES A HOLIDAY

Bang! Bang Bang! The kids will be practicing draw-a-la the Lone Ranger or some other western hero.

Perhaps nothing much wrong in that. However today's toy pistols look so much like the real thing, that holdups have been staged with them.

A year or so ago a little girl was shot in the eye by her brother six, Daddy who usually kept the loaded gun in the glove compartment locked up, forgot. When anyone starts to handle my gun I tell them its loaded. They usually set it down and don't fool with it. Just as easy to point a real gun as a toy one. Too often they go off with a bang. Then we dig another hole in the ground.

Death never takes a holiday. Over the Christmas weekend

587 people lost their lives in the U. S. Make sure your guns are not lying loaded around the house. Lock them up in a gun case or rack. So far there is no open season on people, but small children don't know that. Stay Alive in Sixty-Five. Drive A Safe Car Safely!

The 1965 Ford rides quieter than a Rolls-Royce!

From the introduction of the 1965 Ford, the owner's riding enjoyment was improved by the new road noise insulation. The new sound deadening material was tested in the laboratory and on the road. The result: The 1965 Ford is the quietest car in its class.

...and now let's talk about some other Ford surprises...

Test-drive a Ford—and you're in for some surprises. Leading acoustical consultants conducted tests in which 1965 Fords (Galaxie 500 Sedan, XL and LTD Hardtops) with 289-cu. in. V-8 engines rode quieter than a Rolls-Royce. These tests were certified by the U. S. Auto Club.

When you feel a 1965 Ford in action—with the strongest Ford body ever... a revolutionary new frame that "tunes out" vibration... new ultrasoft coil spring suspension—you're bound to be impressed. But the ride is only one of Ford's surprises...

■ New sweep-back instrument panel adds five inches extra knee room. ■ Transmission tunnel is lower for extra foot room. ■ Trunk has more space than ever—holds four 2-suiters standing upright. ■ Handy new "reversible" ignition key—works either side up.

SEE AMERICA FIRST
This slogan was one of the first great national advertising programs launched by the late Dr. Harvey Specer Lewis, former head of the Rosierucian Order (AMROC) in this country. Since that time national advertising has grown by leaps and bounds.

The route of the great big baked Potatoe, Fifty-seven varieties. Have you a little Fairy in your Home? When Better Cars are Built? will build Them. You can be sure if. Progress is our Most. Greater things for better living thru. America lives by slogans. Advertising today is big business. Advertising tells the world about you and your products. It pays to Advertise—if you got the Goods.

Clara - Fairview HD Club

The installation of officers was the high light of the meeting of the Clara-Fairview Home Demonstration Club held Tuesday, Jan. 5, 1965. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Joe Slama and called to order at 2 p. m. by Mrs. W. Ray Stimpson, president. The members repeated the Lord's Prayer in unison and then sang "When Its Springtime In the Rockies" and "Club Work." The thought for today is "The High Cost of Living Isn't Nearly So Costly as the High Cost of 'Living it Up'."

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and the treasurers report given. The following chairmen were appointed to serve this year: Finance committee, Mrs. E. Klinkerman; EEE Committee, Mrs. Joe Slama; Yearbook, Mrs. E. J. Simons; Recreation, Mrs. E. Klinkerman; 4-H, Mrs. J. H. Bentley; Safety, Mrs. F. Kelley; Hospice, Mrs. N. Crane; Marketing, Mrs. Ann Vogel; Parliamentarian, Mrs. E. Klinkerman and Program chairman, Mrs. R. C. Gilbow.

was read and two new amendments were discussed and adopted. A motion was made by Mrs. E. Klinkerman that we have the Children's Center in Wichita Falls as our Club's project for this year, and that we do something special for them at least every 3 months. Mrs. R. C. Gilbow presided at the installation of the new officers. She read a short piece about office and then presented the officer with a pretty hat decorated with articles appropriate for that office.

The new officers are President, Mrs. W. Ray Stimpson; vice pres., Mrs. Newt Crane; Secy-Treas., and reporter Mrs. J. H. Bentley; and Council Delegate, Mrs. E. J. Simons. Secret pal names were exchanged. A game was played and Mrs. R. C. Gilbow won the prize. Mrs. Newt Crane won the door prize.

Delicious refreshments were served to two visitors, Mrs. Otis Waddell and Mrs. Rose Griffith and members, Mesdames Mary Blannar, J. H. Bentley, Newt Crane, Ed Gellner, R. C. Gilbow, Elmer Klinkerman, E. J. Simons, Joe Slama and W. R. Stimpson. Next meeting will be Jan. 19 at the home of Mrs. R. C. Gilbow.

The Friberg-Cooper Community Holds Meeting Jan. 4th

The Friberg-Cooper Community Organization met in the Friberg Schoolhouse Monday, Jan. 4th at 7:30 p. m. in regular session.

Sam Spencer, president, called the meeting to order, and W. P. Rogers offered prayer. Minutes of Nov. 2nd and Dec. 15th meetings were read and approved as read; thank you notes were also read. The visitors were welcomed and the president asked the members to rise and introduce themselves, and the visitors do likewise so all could get better acquainted.

Olen Baley, Jr., program chairman of the evening, introduced C. D. Martin with the Internal Revenue Service, and B. T. Haws, County Agent, as speakers of the evening. Mr. Martin said the 1964 Income Tax was a three phase program. He spoke on the changes in itemized deductions, mileage in business, discussed livestock, the keeping of complete records and the saving of receipts, and asked all to study the Farmers Tax Guide.

Mr. Haws discussed the Bridwell Soil Awards program for the year 1965, and stated the individual phase has been removed, it is now on a community participation. The speaker said the communities should strive to get new members to join, and to work in the community. He distributed copies of Family Report that will be used in the Community Book. The planting of legumes will be of great concern. Jan. 12th a county-wide Income Tax meeting will be held at the ASC office in Iowa Park. January 18th, in the ASC community room in Iowa Park, a meeting will be held on soil fertility. George Moffett will be present and speak on re-districting.

Feb. 1st, in the Friberg-Cooper Schoolhouse a "42" party will be held at 7 p. m. Mrs. W. T. Jenne will be in charge of the evening.

A delegation consisting of B. B. McCalip, Ted Hanks, James Hillis and other, discussed the possibility of a water project. Monday, Jan. 18th at 7 p. m. in the Friberg School house, was set aside for the interested parties to meet and discuss the matter fully.

Refreshments were served by Olen Baley, Jr., and his committee to approximately forty-five members and guests.

The M. O. Swans of Dundee, Texas, visited friends in Burkburnett during the holidays.
