Teens Sponsor Peanut Sale For March Of Dimes

"You need two ingredients for an outstanding teen project: enthusiasm and a good cause. We have the enthusiasm, and the March of Dimes has given us one of the most important causes in the health field."

Speaking was George Provence, a senior at Burkburnett High School, and President of the Student Council. That group has voted to sponsor a door-to-door sale of peanuts this Saturday, January 22, to benefit the March of Dimes. George, with the assistance of other Student Council officers, Roger Johnson, Sally Mitchell, Jimmy Creel, Donna Hudson and Donna Greer, will supervise the operation which will see about 100 young people participating, including some Junior High School students.

"We have some exciting hopes that this event will raise a lot of money for the March of Dimes and give us an opportunity to have some fun at the same time," said George. "We young people are realizing more and more the importance of a well-organized program to combat birth defects, which cripples 250,000 American babies each year. That's ten times more than polio ever caused. We're very proud to join this March of Dimes fight against birth defects," he added.

Young George, who makes his home with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Marshall, is a very active member in high school affairs. In addition to serving as Student Council President, he is also President of the National Forensic League here, is Vice President of the National Thespians Society and active in the Distributive Education Program.

George expressed the hope that Burkburnett residents would respond generously when they are approached this Saturday.

"Take it from a Teen," said George, "when you give to the March of Dimes, you're making the future safer for some child."

Among Other Matters

LaWANDA HENRY

This is Winston Freeman's last week at the Famous Department Store and we are sure going to miss seeing him there. Don't think we ever called on Winston that he didn't have something nice to say about someone. He told us he hopes folks are as nice to the new manager, R. B. (Dick) Johnston, as they have been to him the past 15 years.

We know they will be, "cause we only have nice people in Burkburnett. We have met Mr. Johnston and know he will be a welcome addition to the town.

The snows came, finally! Is there anyone who doesn't still feel a little bit excited and happy at the lovely sight of snow that has fallen during the night? Sure, it will turn to slush and feet will get wet and carpets will have muddy tracks... but we hope everyone took a few moments to enjoy the beauty of the early morning scene.

Since our boss has been confined to the hospital, we, his employees have been too busy to visit him. We didn't know bosses WORKED, but everyone's work load is heavier, so guess they do!

We join everyone in saying "Get Well Soon, Mr. Dodson."

Keep Our Food Industry Strong

In 1965 the American consumer spent slightly more than 18 cents of his after-tax dollar for food, compared to 26 cents, fifteen years ago. In 1966 U. S. Department of Agriculture statisticians say, the expenditure should fall to 17 cents.

This is positive testimony of industry's fine performance in supplying a great abundance of the most nutritious food the world has known, while keeping prices at a remarkable stable level.

C. C. Cook, President of General Foods Corporation, in a year-end statement said that U. S. food producers "have cooperated with government agencies to effectively safeguard the purity of grocery products and to control the information on labels. Food manufacturers and distributors recognize the necessity of a business-government working partner relationship."

"But sound judgment is needed," added Mr. Cook, "amid the current clamor for still more 'consumer protection.' The industry needs flexibility to provide the diversity of food products the consumer demands. The consumer must not be overprotected at the cost of being under-served."

He concluded that all segments of the food industry are essential to the inevitable task of feeding the increasing number of the world's hungry. There is a vital need for keeping the entire industry strong to meet the challenge in the years ahead.

REALLY A BARGAIN

Rising prices bedevil great numbers of American families. Inflation has cut deeply into the dollar's purchasing power and continues to cut. Yet, there are essentials that all of us buy which can be regarded as bargains today. And one of them is food.

A publication of an eastern food chain system tells the story. In 1912, the average family had an income of $11 a week and spent 40 per cent of it for food. Today, that average income exceeds $125 and only $25 of it goes for food — and it more and better food.

Comparisons with other countries are revealing too. The American worker's food bill runs to about 19 per cent of his earnings. In England, the figure is 29 per cent; in France 31 per cent; in Italy 45 per cent — and in Russia, a staggering 53 per cent.

The productive power and efficiency of the American farmer must be given much of the credit for this. But other factors play a major role as well. That is the case with American retailing. Working on the mass distribution principle typical retailers operate at a profit that is almost unbelievable low. The chain store publication points out that the average family spends $1,170 a year for its food — and the average retail profit on that sum is just $16. Yes — food is really a bargain.

LEADERS OF INDUSTRY

NEW IDEAS IN HOME DESIGN, CONSTRUCTION, FINANCING AND LAND USE CAN HELP CREATE A BETTER LIFE FOR EVERY AMERICAN, SAYS LARRY BLACKMON, NEWLY ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE 46,000 MEMBER NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF HOME BUILDERS.

ONE OF HIS GOALS IS MORE AND BETTER HOUSING FOR MODERATE-INCOME FAMILIES--IN LATIN AMERICA AS WELL AS THE U.S. HE HIMSELF IS INVOLVED IN FOREIGN HOUSING PROJECTS.

BLACKMON PLAYED AN IMPORTANT ROLE IN SHAPING THE HOUSING ACT OF 1965 AND WAS ALSO A LEADER IN THE CAMPAIGN TO ESTABLISH THE NEW CABINET-LEVEL DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT.

BLACKMON'S OWN FIRM BUILDS THROUGHOUT TEXAS. NEAR FORT WORTH HE MAINTAINS A CATTLE AND HORSE RANCH. HE IS A TRUSTEE OF TEXAS CHRISTIAN UNIVERSITY.

ECONOMICS IN BUSINESS

The idea exists that economics is a science far removed from one's daily existence. And yet, an understanding of the natural laws governing supply, demand, prices, etc. would seem to be absolute necessity for success in business or even running the family budget. Economics is truly, as George Bernard Shaw put it, the art of getting the most out of life.

Businessmen, in particular, can make distorted decisions when those decisions are based on a narrow, one-sided view of the economy. An understanding of the overall picture, and what he must do to succeed in man.

A good place to start for the seriously-ambitious individual is the recently-republished work "Value and Price" by Eugen von Bohm-Bawerk, an Austrian economist prominent at the turn of the century. What does Bohm-Bawerk know about your 20th-century American business? As you read his work, you're inclined to wonder if he doesn't know more about your business than you do!

"Value and Price" is a 135-page extract from a 3-volume work "Capital and Interest," published by Libertarian Press, South Holland, Illinois (the extract is $2).

Bohm-Bawerk deals with the theory of pricing—how market prices are determined within the framework of supply and demand. And the importance of such knowledge is evident from the one great conclusion established in this lengthy essay.

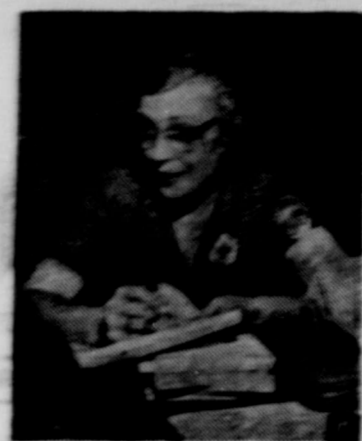

For the author lays to rest the age-old fallacy that prices are established by the cost of production. In actual fact, prices are established by the consumer—as he evaluates the alternative uses for his limited spending money. He, consciously or unconsciously, assigns values to each possible use; and only as the producer can find ways to fit his costs within the price the consumer will pay can successful production take place.

Bohm-Bawerk takes into consideration the many possible exceptions to this fact and discusses each of them patiently and fully. His conclusions are not presented as cliches, to be rattled off religiously. Rather, he develops his points logically—working from self-evident premises.

What relevance does the theory of pricing have to the day-to-day pressures of business? A great deal. The man who believes that costs of production determine the final selling price will make innumerable business errors that could have been avoided. He will, for example, assume that because a higher cost has been handed him by a supplier, by union demands, or by higher taxes, that he can pass this cost onto the consumer in the form of a higher price.

The economically-astute businessman will realize that the consumer is totally uninterested in the businessman's higher costs and will simply do without part of the product's supply in order not to have to dig into other of his limited resources. "Value and Price" is not quick and easy reading. But for the individual who wants to understand the economic forces affecting his own success—or who wants to understand some nationally-prominent fallacies—this is a good book with which to start.

Miss Erna Deigmayr of the New Orleans Travelers Aid chapter, was loaned to another United Fund agency, the Red Cross, to aid hurricane flood victims. During and after World War II she spent seven years working for refugee relief organizations in Europe.

The Longest Street in the World

Wall Street, merely seven blocks from end to end, could, in theory, be called the longest street in the world. With today's growing investor population, there are few cities, towns or hamlets across the continent that do not fall within its shadow.

This accumulation of wealth and broad financial experience today serves an investor population of well over 20 million, up from only 8.4 million in the early 1950's. People now turn to the financial page as readily as they turn to the theatre and sports sections.

Adding the crest of this "explosive" interest in the stock market is the mutual fund industry. Of today's 20 million shareholders, one out of six, or 3.5 million, own shares in mutual funds—shares worth about $34 billion.

Mutual funds have proven themselves to be the natural vehicle for people wanting to invest in the stock market, but who do not have the time, or sufficient knowledge, to go it alone in the market.

Basically, mutual funds are a simple convenient way for individuals, regardless of economic status, to pool their money and become partners in American business and industry.

They offer professional investment management and the sound principle of diversification, which tend to reduce risk. One fund share represents a proportionate interest in the securities of as many as a hundred or more companies.

The sound concept of the mutual fund has attracted shareholders living in every one of the 50 states, and is being practiced in such far-off places as Liechtenstein, Thailand, and Australia.

Home Builders Class Of First Methodist Have Party Jan. 12

Home Builders Sunday School class of the Methodist church held a party in the home of Mrs. Gloger January 12th at 2 p.m.

The President, Mrs. Henry, presided. The opening song was "Praise Him, Praise Him." The prayer was given by Mrs. Gragg.

Mrs. Jessie Jones gave the devotional taken from Matt. Chapter 7-7-11. The subject was "Dear Children of our Father."

Then she gave a beautiful reading, "Decision Beyond Common Sense."

Mrs. Gilbert read a story on greeting for two. After a short business meeting, the class benediction was said.

During the social hour the hostess, Mrs. Gloger served refreshments to the following members: Mesdames Riever, Moody, Marman, Bruce, Hodges, Grace, Gilbert, Gragg, Jones, Lowery, Henry, Gervinnie, and Miss Gladden.

This was one of the loveliest parties we have had. Everyone enjoyed being there.

We were very sorry that Mrs. Gage had to be hospitalized on account of a heart condition. We missed her and we trust that she will soon be able to return home and be able to meet with us.

When Taking A Trip

"When you take a trip involving numerous overnight stops there's a way of organizing your suitcases that will save you hours of packing, unpacking, and searching for buried items," according to American Oil's Women's Representative. It's done with dividers, sized to fit your bags. Make them out of lightweight cardboard, flexible plastic, or extra-heavy pellen, adding end tabs that read "swim togs," "sleepwear," "lingerie," etc. These dividers let you pack your suitcases in layers, with everything in a certain category going into the same layer. As you need things, you simply lift them out by layer without having to unpack completely.

YELLOW CATFISH

By Vern Sanford

There's one thing that as the hackles of a trotlineerman is is for someone to ment that his sport requires skill.

No skill? One trotlinerer at a challenger. "Well, I'd like to know why one catches 'cats' consistently better than others don't?"

This is a logical question and that can be answered simply.

Does require skill to catch on a trotline, particularly finicky flathead, more commonly known in Texas as the yellow catfish.

Low, as trotline fishermen tell you, there are catfish there are catfish. In one category is the channel cat, the cat, and the bullhead cat, the other, all by its lonesome, the yellow cat.

Cats Hard to Catch
People who know will tell you makes more know-how, more sense and more understanding of your quarry to take a yellow catfish than it takes to take a jumbo black bass.

As fishermen undoubtedly take issue with that. But in his views, Bobby has not his share of both big and big bass.

First off, it might be well to take a little about Bobby and his background. He's on the banks of Granite

THE FIZZLE FAMILY

Shoals (Lyndon B. Johnson) Lake in Central Texas. There he runs a fishing camp and a large cattle ranch. He was born and reared on the shore of the Colorado River before the big dam was built to impound waters of Granite Shoals Lake. He's been fishing longer than he can and he's very good at it. He recalls.

Mezger's hobby is fishing, sistically catches five-pound bass and frequently comes in with a huge yellow catfish that goes better than 30 pounds.

"Yes," Mezger said, "It is much more difficult to catch a big yellow cat than it is a big bass."

I asked him how that could be?

"Well," he went on, "for one thing, there are more large bass in a lake like Granite Shoals than there are big yellow catfish. For another, big bass are apt to be scattered all over the lake, while the big cats are very restrictive in their movements. A bass might hit a lure for some other motivation besides hunger. Maybe he is just mad. But a yellow cat—he's got to be hungry before you'll get him to take your bait."

Must Know Where to Fish

Mezger's record on big yellow catfish is remarkable. Every year he catches in the vicinity of 50 yellows that will weigh better than five pounds apiece. He sums his success up briefly: "Knowing where to fish and staying with it almost every day."

There is more to it, of course. But Bobby considers these the most pertinent points.

He remembers how the lay of the land looked before the topography disappeared under the lake. Realizing that yellow cats like gravel and sandy bottoms and ledges and rocks to get beneath and spawn, Bobby places his trotlines in such places, knows that's where the yellow catfish hang out.

"Yellows seem to follow fairly well defined trails along a lake floor," he said. "You can have a trotline out and catch yellow cats on one or two hooks and no others. You'll take the yellows every time just on these hooks. You might catch channel catfish anywhere on a line, but not a yellow cat."

Yellows Like Live Bait
Bobby also pointed out that yellow catfish like fresh, natural bait. Something alive is best. A yellow like a large sunfish (perch) or a carp, something that will remain alive and active on a line. On rare occasions a yellow might be taken on dead bait. But only if it is fresh! Once it gets an odor a yellow won't have anything to do with it.

"I've put a carp on a hook and left in in the lake for maybe a week before I'd get a yellow to take it," Bobby added. "You can't hurry an old yellow cat. You've got to play the game his way."

Yellow catfish not only have baffled fisherman down through the years but also have proven to be some sort of a mystery to aquatic biologists.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission has been trying to successfully raise yellow cats in captivity, but they've enjoyed only moderate success.

First, they had trouble getting the yellow cats to mate in holding ponds. They found you can't simply pick out a pair of yellows, a male and female, and expect them to mate.

A yellow cat must choose his own mate. Once paired up, they are reluctant to use the artificial spawning boxes constructed for them.

Finally, at long last, the biologists did get some offspring, only to ruefully discover that they couldn't induce the young to eat.

Yes, this yellow catfish is a strange one.

Mr. Bell liked to make things better...

After Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone in 1876, he did not rest on his laurels. He helped form the National Geographic Society, developed the basic method of making phonograph records on wax discs and pioneered a method of locating icebergs by detecting echoes from them. He made suggestions and contributions that helped give us air conditioning and the iron lung. For 46 years after inventing the telephone, he lived a vigorous and creative life.

Southwestern Bell likes to make things better, too. Six short years ago, we did not offer the Princess® telephone, Home Interphone, Wide Area Telephone Service, Centrex service, Data-Phone data communications service or Panel Phone. There was no electronic artificial larynx, no automatic dialer and no Speakerphone. Today, these new items help us provide the best telephone service in the world. But we want to make it better. That's our legacy from Mr. Bell.

Phase two consisted of collecting approximately 300 used and unsold Christmas trees for use in controlling surface erosion. The trees were hauled to Perkins, Jan. 7, and under the supervision of Mr. Babb, Perkins Ranger, placed in an area to control erosion.

Sewage Problem Is Discussed At Council Meeting

By LOIS LUECKE
Wichita Falls Times and Record News

Burkburnett, confronted with a pollution problem because of an overloaded sewage plant, probably can solve it with improvement of existing facilities, according to a consulting engineer.

The engineer's opinion was given at a meeting of the Burkburnett City Council Monday night.

James E. Laughlin, of Forrest and Cotton Inc. of Dallas recommended that the city upgrade its plant. He said the plant, capable of treating sewage for a population of 12,000 to 13,000 was running at about 50 per cent of capacity.

Overload of the sewage system apparently is caused by the plant's inability to handle milk products waste from the large dairy.

Laughlin suggested that the dairy institute certain conservation practices to reduce the milk load on the sewage plant.

Upgrading the plant includes installation of additional piping and longer operation under supervisory personnel. "There is a good possibility to make what you've got work," Laughlin said. Other possibilities, he said, were separate handling and disposal of milk wastes by spray irrigation requiring a 25 to 35-acre irrigation area and by oxidation by construction of 4 to 5-acre lagoons.

Waste from the Burkburnett plant flows into the Red River.

Port Sesquicentennial Buffet

Two delicious buffet dishes—Filet of Beef Wellington and Chicken Cockburn—have been created to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the Duke of Wellington's victory at Waterloo. The same year Robert Cockburn arrived in Portugal from England to establish the famous Port wine that still bears his name. To mark the double sesquicentennial, the Cockburn people offer these gourmet delights.

Chicken Cockburn

One broiling chicken cut into pieces. The following ingredients make up the marinade:

- 1/2 cup Cockburn Aldous Port
- 4 tablespoons salad oil
- 1 onion, chopped
- 1 clove garlic, crushed
- 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
- 1 teaspoon marjoram
- Rind of 1/2 lemon
- 1 bay leaf, crumbled

Combine ingredients for marinade in a large bowl. Season chicken parts with salt and pepper. Add to marinade. Marinate for 2 to 3 hours, turning occasionally. Place chicken on broiler pan. Broil, 6 inches from heat, for 15 minutes each side. Baste frequently with remaining marinade. Makes 4 servings.

Filet of Beef Wellington

- 1 filet of beef (8-4 lbs.)
- 4 slices bacon
- 1/2 cup liver pate
- 2 Packages (10 oz.) pie crust mix
- 1 egg beaten
- For Marinade: 1 cup Cockburn No. 25 Port, 2 onions, chopped, 2 tablespoons salad oil, 1 teaspoon thyme, 1 bay leaf, 1/2 teaspoon ground pepper

Combine ingredients for marinade in a large bowl. Place file in marinade for 2 to 3 hours, turning occasionally. Remove file, wrap in bacon slices, place in baking pan. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 15 minutes per pound for rare, 20 minutes for medium rare. Baste frequently.

Remove filet from oven and allow to cool. When completely cool spread with liver pate. Prepare pie crust according to package directions, roll into rectangle one-fourth-inch thick on floured board. Roll filet in pastry, trim, seal edges with beaten egg. Place on baking sheet. Decorate with pastry trimmings cut into leaf shapes. Brush entire surface with beaten egg. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) for 30 minutes until golden brown. Remove from oven. Cool to room temperature. Cut into thin slices. Makes approximately 25 slices.

SCIENCE and GOD

Not too long ago, a man determined from accounts in the bible that oil could be found in certain areas of bible lands . . . now this country is rich in oil wells.

In the past, vigorous arguments arose between some scientists and bible scholars, however with the passing of time, new discoveries in science have helped us to have a better understanding of God's word and now most scientists and bible scholars are in accord. God's word has not needed to be proved, for it will stand forever.

"For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea." ATTEND CHURCH AND STUDY GOD'S WORD.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

To The Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce
January
It was a pleasure for me to accept donated to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bohner them for their contribution of the old Clergy to the City of Burkburnett toward new library.
Both the Bohner and Clarkson families is a most worthy endeavor and we are part of it. We trust it will result in more literature being published and read.
We thank all of you for this plaque your appreciation and look forward to completion of the project.
Sincerely,
