THE HEALTH OF THE DOLLAR

In October, 1965, government sources recently revealed the cost of living in this country reached a record high. According to the Labor Department's consumer price index, it then cost $11.04 to purchase a representative list of items in general family use as against $10 in the 1957-59 base period. An Associated Press news item, reporting this development, said: "But despite the most rapid rise in some five years, federal officials in announcing the October figures . . . still shied away from the scare word 'inflation.'"

It is one thing to avoid a word — it is a very different thing to avoid a fact. And the fact is that the danger of renewed inflation on a steadily increasing scale is very much a reality now. This was highlighted by the action of the Federal Reserve Board in raising the bank discount rate in order to tighten up on credit. Without going into the complexities of 'his action, or debating the pros and cons, it is essentially an anti-inflationary move. It is designed, among other things, as the Board said, to prevent inflationary excesses from damaging the economy and to demonstrate anew this country's determination to maintain the international strength of the dollar.

What will come of this remains to be seen. But, as every consumer knows, the value of the dollar has been going steadily down and many authorities feel that further erosion lies ahead. A primary reason for that is contained deficit spending in a time of unprecedented prosperity — largely for welfare state purposes.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

LAMBERTVILLE, N. J., BEACON: "... poverty is not going to be eliminated by government subsidy and dole. . . Here in this community, in the county, state and nation we have gone a long way in creating programs to aid the poor. Many are out of hand and people are getting help, lots of it, so that few would take a job if one was offered to them. This does not end poverty, it seals it into our social life. . . Let's aid the unfortunate but make certain that he or she is led out of the situation that faces him, not make certain it continues for all time."

ENID, OKLA., NEWS: "There is a lot of talk about air pollution, but you ain't seen nothing yet till the 1966 political campaign starts."

LIBERAL, KANS., SOUTHWEST DAILY TIMES: "The average person is very courteous to others under most circumstances. Most men will hold open doors for ladies (even though they don't get thanked always), assist elderly persons across the street. . . What happens to many of these same people when they get behind the wheel of an automobile? . . . They race through traffic . . . fail to allow other drivers into a lane of traffic, dash through intersections with no regard for pedestrians . . . and instead of 'pardon me', they bellow like an angry bull at every other driver on the road."

STORM LAKE, IOWA, PILOT-TRIBUNE: "In our judgment, our community school board acted wisely in deciding not to ask for $25,000 federal aid funds. . . there is a lurking suspicion that when Uncle Sam gets into a school system, he insist on keeping his fingers in the pie. In other words, he dictates to the local authorities. This isn't desirable. We can run our own school systems better than can some politicians or bureaucrats at Washington."

BARNESBORO, PA., STAR: "Our great nation was built on the principles of free enterprise and that a government which governs the least is the best government. These two great heritages are rapidly vanishing from the scene. There is very little free enterprise today amid overwhelming government oppression."

FINDLAY, OHIO, REPUBLICAN-COURIER: "Senator John L. McClellan . . . said that if the present crime rate in the United States continues through the next 25 years it will bring chaos in America. . . It is to be hoped that President Johnson's crime commission will make recommendations that will seek to solve this critical problem which is menacing the American public at this time. As the Arkansas senator has emphasized, the time has come to deal properly with this situation, if we want to preserve law and order."

The Road Report . . . BY ARBA

The AMERICAN WAY

TRUE SELF-GOVERNMENT

By Harry Browne

What is self-government? Is it going to the polls every few months and casting one's ballot in favor of a particular candidate or proposition — one that will then be forced upon ALL the people?

The word "self-government" has been perverted to indicate just that. If a man has the opportunity to vote periodically, he is said to be self-governing.

But how can this be? Even if he somehow votes for a winner in every election, there will be literally thousands of decisions made that affect his property and freedom that will not be in accordance with his wishes.

When a man votes for a candidate, he is trying to choose a representative for himself who will make decisions for him that will affect his reading habits, his spending money, his earning power, his savings, etc. How could he select anyone who would be sure to vote HIS way on all of these far-reaching subjects?

Obviously, he can't select such a man. No one will vote his way except himself.

The plain and simple point is just this: a political representative is not an example of self-government. It is rather an example of one man's decisions being forced upon all constituents—whether or not they chose that man or were even allowed to vote. Even those who voted for the winner will not get their wishes on many matters.

These observations are usually met by the retort "But there's no better way to do things. The majority must choose representatives to make decisions for us."

But there IS a better way! The better way is TRUE self-government. Self-government means that each individual makes his OWN decisions regarding his own life and his own property. And every other individual will be responsible for HIS own life and property.

This means that you personally will decide whether or not your hard-earned resources should be spent on a "war on poverty." And if you think they should be, then YOU will decide to whom you would like to channel those funds. If someone is to represent you in this particular area, YOU will decide who it will be. And if he doesn't satisfy your wishes, you will fire him and get someone else.

I, meanwhile, will make my own decisions on the same subject. But my decisions will relate only to my property—I will have no control over yours.

Each of us will decide for himself whether or not his resources will be spent on "foreign aid", or farm subsidies, or electricity subsidies, etc.

Won't work? That's like saying it wouldn't work for each of us to decide whether or not he'll support the Red Cross. Or that each of us should not be allowed to decide which foods we will purchase at the grocery store . . . that instead we should all vote and everyone will abide by the majority decision. In that case, we'd all have to buy at the same store and eat the same foods—but it would have been what the majority decided (some consolation).

"Self-government" has nothing to do with the fiction of supposedly controlling our own lives through ballot boxes. Self-government means SELF government—where the individual decides what he will do with his own life and property—but not with anyone else's.

Self-government means working for what you want, deciding what you will do with what you've earned, and protecting yourself against those who would like to take what you have away from you.

Protection

The signal light is man's guide to safer travel. However, they protect only as they are obeyed.

The Bible is God's Signal Light and guide for man's path through life.

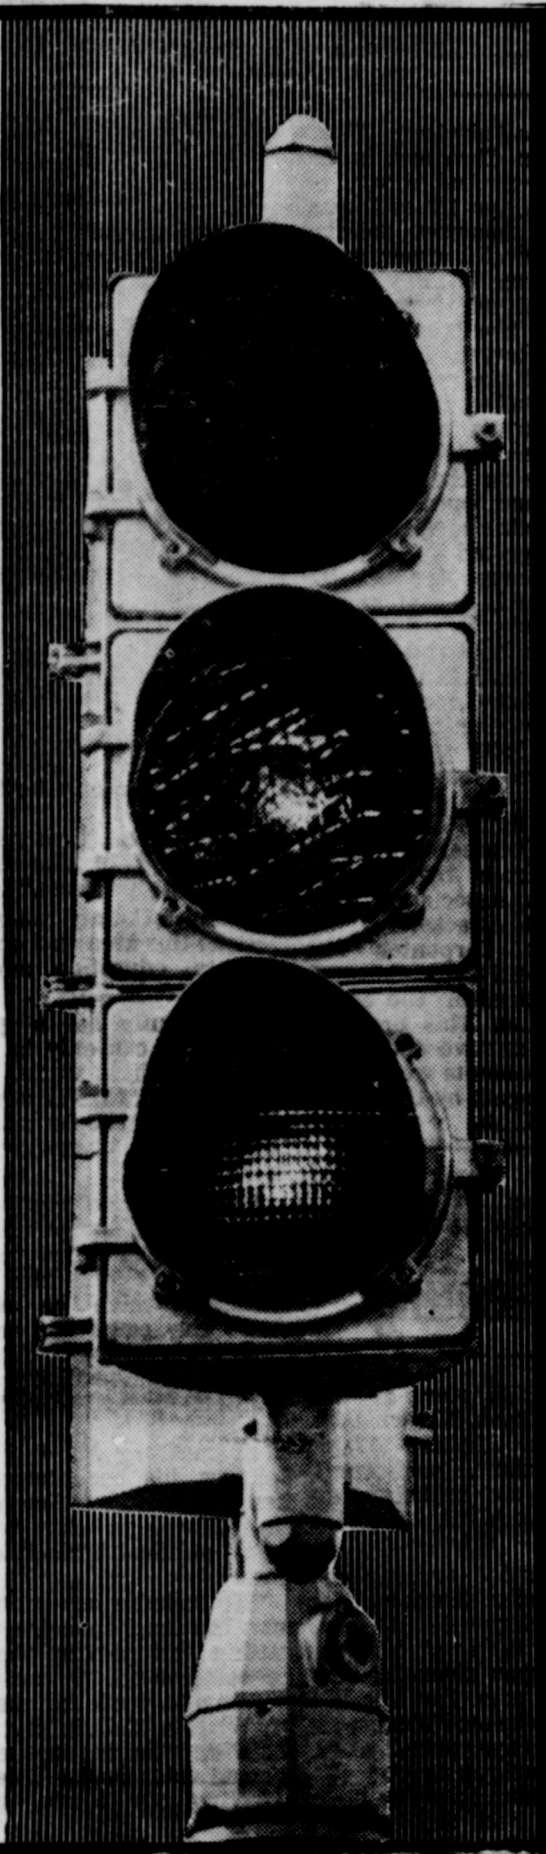

"Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path."

Through study of God's word, we learn His will for our life, and He will lead in paths of righteousness. ATTEND CHURCH THIS SUNDAY, SEEK GOD'S WAY.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Dave Allred In Race For Texas House Of Representatives Seat

Dave Allred of Wichita Falls announced recently he is a candidate for the Texas House of Representatives, saying he wants "to work to help Wichita County continue its progress." "Wichita County has a special place in this area as a center for business, education and medicine," Allred said. "This county has a great future, but it can only be reached by a lot of hard work," he continued. "And that is what I am offering the people of Wichita County—just plain hard work in their behalf."

Allred particularly pledged support of Midwestern University, which he called "an excellent school," and the medical complex, which he said has made the county a treatment center for North Texas and Southern Oklahoma.

The 32-year-old Allred said he has been interested in government most of his life and he believes his background qualifies him for the office he seeks. He has been an active worker in many political and civic activities.

"My training as a newspaperman has taught me the value of getting and proving the facts," he commented. "I can put this training to work for the people of Wichita County by seeking facts and so casting more informed votes on the vital issues affecting our county and our state." Allred holds a B. A. degree in journalism from Texas Christian University and a M.S. degree from the graduate school of journalism at Columbia University. As a reporter for the Wichita Falls Times, he has covered activities at Midwestern University and many other aspects of economic and civic life in the county.

"This has given me a keen understanding of the problems in these areas," the candidate asserted.

He began working for newspapers with a job during his summer vacation from college in 1952. His experience includes time with The Associated Press and as a Washington correspondent.

Also, he has worked on the staffs of Sen. Ralph Yarborough (D-Tex.) Congressman Ray Roberts (D-Tex.) and the House Government Activities Subcommittee, a subcommittee working toward more efficiency and economy in the federal government.

He is a member of First Christian Church of Wichita Falls.

He served two years with the U. S. Army and presently holds the rank of captain in the active Army Reserve.

Allred and his wife, Patricia, have two children — Becky, 4, and Stephen, 2. They live at 1808 Hayes in Wichita Falls.

He is entering the Democratic Primary seeking the nomination for Place 2 from District 81 (Wichita County).

Allred is a son of the late James V. (Jimmie) Allred, who served as attorney general, governor of the Lone Star State and U. S. District Judge. His widow is a teacher at City View School.

The topic for discussion by Mrs. T. G. Jeffers was "Santiago: Holy City of Spain." She told how "Travelers in Europe had a rare opportunity in 1965 to relive one of the most extraordinary adventures of Western man. In Paris the journey began over the mountains to the sacred city of Santiago. More than a half of million people move along this road each year."

The description of the pilgrimage was colorful, depicting the cultures, superstitions and traditions of Spain and its Holy City, Santiago.

It's Lamb and Louisiana Yams

Louisiana State University has been among the leaders in developing a sweet potato of the very finest quality... the Louisiana yam. These are plump, sweet, extra-moist and stringless, rich in vitamin A and contain generous quantities of vitamin C.

What do Louisiana yams go with? Certainly all kinds of meats... and especially with fine Winter Wonder lamb. Lamb is nutritionally sound, too, with its high quality body-building protein, vitamins and minerals. And because lamb is a young meat, coming from sheep less than a year old, it is always tender when cooked.

PLANTATION LAMB AND YAMS (Makes 6 servings)

- | | |
|--|--|
| 5 pounds boned rolled lamb shoulder | 1 1/2 tablespoons grated orange peel |
| 1 teaspoon salt | 1 tablespoon cornstarch |
| 1/2 teaspoon pepper | 1/2 cup orange juice |
| 1/2 teaspoon cloves | 1 cinnamon stick (about 3 inches long) |
| 6 medium Louisiana yams | 1 1/2 teaspoons dried mint leaves |
| 1 can (1 pound, 4 ounces) minced pineapple | |
| 1/4 cup firmly-packed brown sugar | |

Rub lamb with combined salt, pepper and cloves. Place lamb on rack in shallow roasting pan; bake in 325° (slow) oven 1 hour. Meanwhile, cook yams, covered, in boiling salted water 25 to 30 minutes or until nearly tender. Drain; peel and halve lengthwise. Drain pineapple, reserving syrup. In saucepan mix brown sugar, orange peel and cornstarch. Stir in orange juice, pineapple syrup and cinnamon stick. Cook and stir until thickened and clear. Drain drippings from lamb; begin basting meat with pineapple-orange sauce. Bake 1 1/2 hours longer, or until meat thermometer registers 175° for medium doneness, basting occasionally. Arrange yams around lamb last half-hour of baking; baste. Add pineapple and mint to remaining sauce. Heat and serve with lamb. Garnish lamb and yams with parsley, if desired.

Don't Be Surprised

When you're vacationing this winter, don't be surprised to find carpet around the swimming pools.

This new carpet is cropping up in the most unexpected places from poolside to kitchens. At resort and home swimming pools, the carpet brightens up drab concrete aprons and provides comfortable footing for swimmers since it won't get hot from the sun.

This new luxury under foot is made possible by a carpet fiber that won't shrink, rot or mildew. It resists stains which makes it practical for kitchens, and resists fading from the sun which caps its utility around the pool.

The poolside shown here is covered with Ozite Town 'n' Terrace Outdoor-Indoor carpet, which can be hosed clean or vacuumed.

FORD 7-LITRE HARDTOP

When we go skiing, we go in style...in our '66 Ford. I choose the speed I want with the automatic speed control...select the music I want with the stereo tape player...and relax with one of the world's quietest rides.

(I should have stayed in the car.)

Ford sales are booming! One reason—engineering magic like this:

New stereo tape player option with easy-loading cartridges. ■ New station wagon Magic Doorgate—swings out like a door for people and down like a tailgate for cargo. ■ New automatic speed control option. ■ A ride so quiet that owners of European luxury cars—from a handcrafted Jaguar to a $14,000 Mercedes—have said, after a demonstration ride in a Ford XL or LTD, that it was even quieter than their custom-built cars. ■ Quiet-test a '66 Ford for yourself.
