Parks And Recreation Committee Presents Budget To City Council

Major items of concern to the Parks and Recreation Committee for the coming year are site preparation, fencing, repair and maintenance, rest areas and parking and lighting.

Due to the limited time before submission of the budget, members of the parks and recreation committee agreed that basic requirements should be met first, and a good basis laid for future development of the parks and recreational facilities.

Most urgent is the preparing of Permian Park for installation of athletic areas; rest area in both park areas are a must, and repair and maintenance of the present facilities must be carried out this year.

It is the Committee's plan to present to the City Council those items that are most urgent and items that fit into an overall recreation plan for the entire city.

Ideas and recommendations for the improvements of our parks should be made in writing to the Chairman at least two weeks prior to meeting dates. (Committee meets each second Monday night of the month.)

Never been fishing, so couldn't understand the impulse to borrow a fishing pole and go find a lake last Sunday. Fishermen tell us the simple explanation is: "It was fishin' weather!"

Roadside park with four picnic tables being constructed just outside Burkburnett.

We hope every businessman and woman in Burkburnett will attend and insist on employees attending the "Discovery Burkburnett" meetings being conducted by Mr. George Jordan, April 4. We know Burkburnett has a lot to offer tourists and newcomers... let's find out how to tell... and sell Burkburnett.

The nicest thing Burkburnett has to offer is friendly people. And we would like to say "welcome" to Mrs. Sue Rybolt who decided to live in Burkburnett because she said, "I have never seen so many friendly people in one town!"

Aren't we lucky to have Joe Salter as Chamber of Commerce President?

Wish people who do not use cream in their coffee would not be so verbal about it... makes it difficult for us vanishing Americans who do still use cream, to get it in restaurants. We sometimes sit timidly watching a cup of "black" get cold because the waitress was too timid to ask if we use cream. It IS still legal isn't it?

The Burkburnett Auxiliary Council for Retarded Children is growing in membership, a delighted president Le Beau tells us.

1966 Easter Seal Drive To Be Held This Monday In Burkburnett For Benefit Of Children's Center

The 1966 Easter Seal drive, to benefit the North Texas Rehabilitation Center in Wichita Falls, will be held April 4 in Burkburnett.

James Frye, chairman for the campaign in Burkburnett, said that all proceeds from house-to-house campaign will go to support the rehabilitation center.

"Since 32 children from Burkburnett have received vitally needed treatments at the center," Frye said, "the people of this city have a responsibility to support the rehabilitation center through Easter Seals."

"Without the center being located so near to us," he said, "these children probably could not have received the therapy which has helped them to achieve more nearly normal active lives."

Adults as well as children receive treatments at the center. "None of us knows when we might need help there," he said.

Although a sliding scale is used in the fees, no child is turned away because of his parents inability to pay. Easter Seals make it possible for all children and adults who need help to get it—regardless of the family income, he said.

Three types of therapy are offered at the center: Physical, occupational and speech therapy. All therapists are professionally trained.

Physical therapy is administered by a therapist who uses modern equipment, such as the whirlpool, in working with injured or crippled limbs. Adults and children who benefit by physical therapy are those who have suffered strokes, are victims of arthritis, rheumatism, muscular dystrophy, cerebral palsy or other crippling diseases which occur either at birth or later, or are victims of accidents.

In speech therapy, individual therapy consists of working with children and adults who are diagnosed as having delayed speech problems; cleft palate of cleft lip; stuttering or non-fluency problems; speech problems due to cerebral palsy; stroke or preceptual difficulties and reading and phonetic difficulties, among others.

Occupational therapy is administered to help the individual achieve head balance, arm and hand coordination, eye-hand coordination and feeding and dressing skills. Perceptual and pre-school readiness training is also handled by the professionally trained occupational therapist.

Frye pointed out that since

"A Community Meeting has been called by the Community Development and Tourist Development Committees of the Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce to be held at 7:30 p.m., Monday, April 4th at the Town Hall," states Arnold Oliver and Jerry Thomas, Committee Chairmen.

George Jordan, Director of Tourist Development of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will conduct and guide the meeting. Prior to the 7:30 p.m. meeting he will also conduct meetings for all merchants and employees at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. at the Texas Electric Reddy Room.

"Every citizen that is interested in Burkburnett and its future should attend this meeting," said Mr. Oliver. "Mr. Jordan is not coming to dictate to us how to do, but rather to prepare us and help us know what to do," he continued.

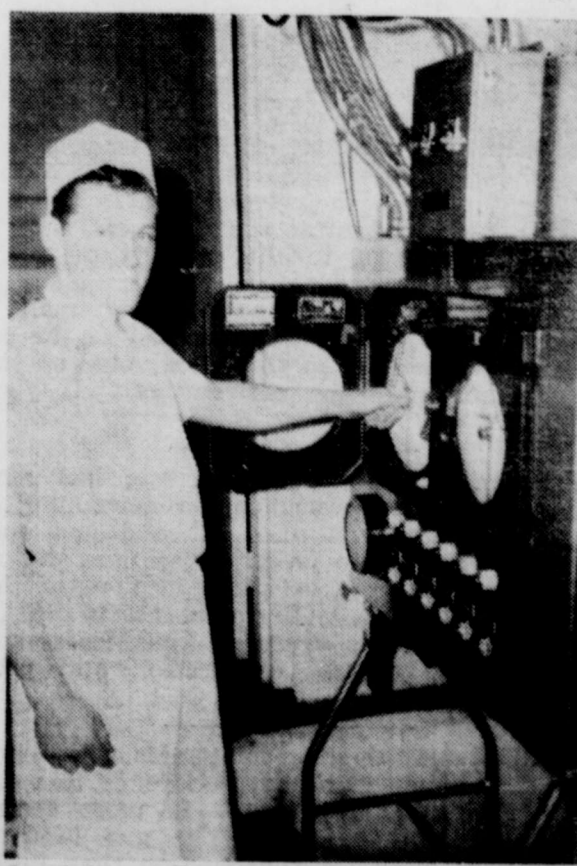

"This is an opportunity for everyone in town to help build a better Burkburnett." "If this program is to be a success it must have the support of everyone," commented Oliver and Thomas.

Burkburnett is ideally located on the route that thousands of tourists will be traveling going to the 1968 Olympics in Mexico City and the HemisFair in San Antonio. We also have a very historic past, with national recognition. If proper plans are made and carried out another boom could come to Burkburnett in the way of tourist attractions.

SQUEEZE ON RURAL VOTERS

A RURAL VOTE SHOULD COUNT

The question of state legislature reapportionment is vital to all Americans. What does the so-called "one man, one vote" doctrine — under which the Supreme Court overturned the checks and balances of state government — really mean to the voters from small towns and rural areas?

It means that they will have little voice in government, since they cannot match the urban machines that control a regimented vote.

Under the amendment sponsored by Senator Dirksen, the apportionment system that now applies to the Congress would be guaranteed to the states. In other words, one house of the state legislature would be elected strictly according to population, and the other house by geographical districts.

What does organized labor think about this issue? Well, it approves the "one man, one vote" theory even if it has to be forced on the states by federal district courts. But when the Administration proposes anti-strike legislation covering city and state employees, George Meany of the AFL-CIO says this would be "reaching far down into the lives of citizens in their own locality." He says it would violate the federal-state relationships envisioned in the Constitution.

If logic prevailed it would then seem that organized labor should agree that the people of a state should have the right to elect their legislators in the time-honored manner patterned after the Congress, too. This issue also reaches down to the citizens of each small locality.

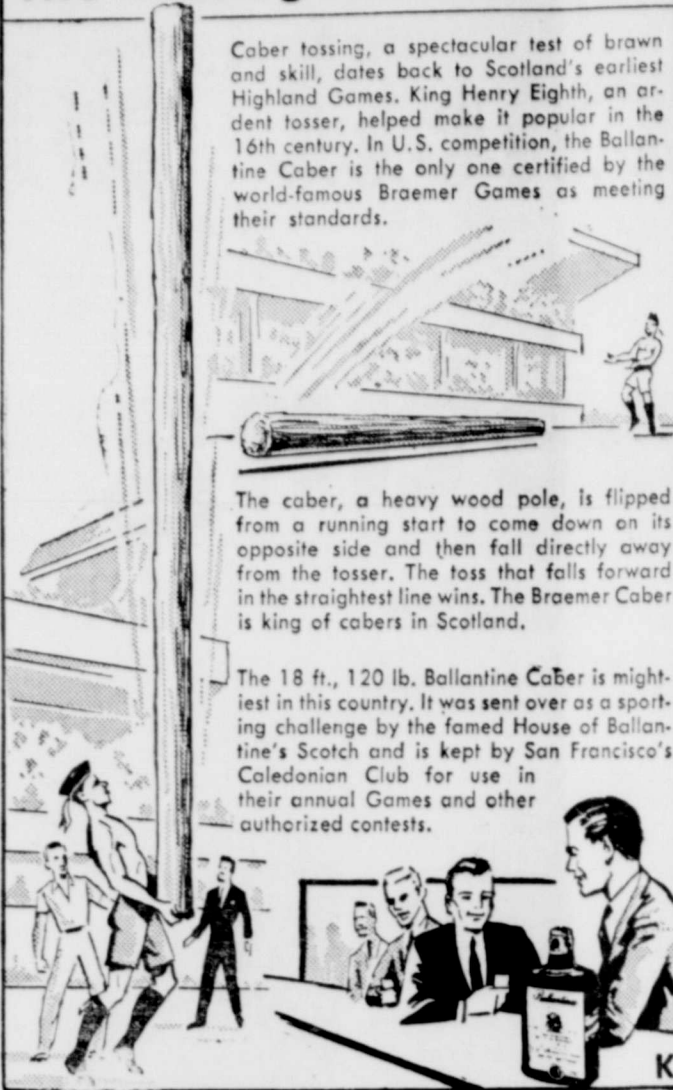

In this matter the citizens of each small locality have the opportunity to be just as vocal as the powerful urban voice of labor. If you think the voter on the Dirksen amendment should be affirmative, tell your Congressman.

The American Petroleum Institute has announced full cooperation with government in developing appropriate regulations for continued oil and gas operations in the nation's wilderness areas. In a new statement of policy, the Institute endorses the provisions of the Wilderness Act that requires affirmative action by Congress for withdrawal of large areas of land from public use and authorize the orderly exploration and production of petroleum on them.

Gas utility and pipeline companies will spend more than $5.5 billion in the next three years to extend natural gas service to more people in more communities throughout the United States. The gas industry now spends six times more for construction than in 1945.

According to the Association of American Railroads, railroad piggyback service which for 10 years made a habit of setting annual traffic records — did it again in 1965. In that year, for the first time since such statistics were originated in 1955, rail piggyback went over the million car mark.

The Tossing of the Caber

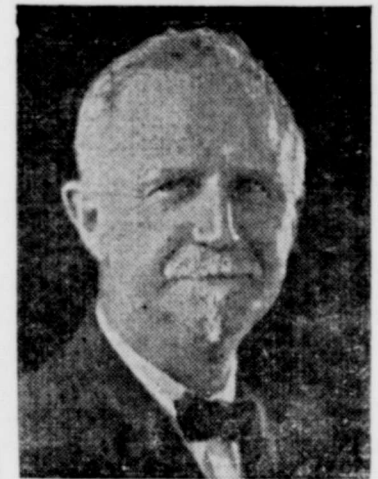

Caber tossing, a spectacular test of brawn and skill, dates back to Scotland's earliest Highland Games. King Henry Eighth, an ardent tosser, helped make it popular in the 16th century. In U.S. competition, the Ballantine Caber is the only one certified by the world-famous Braemar Games as meeting their standards.

The caber, a heavy wood pole, is flipped from a running start to come down on its opposite side and then fall directly away from the tosser. The toss that falls forward in the straightest line wins. The Braemar Caber is king of cabers in Scotland.

The 18 ft., 120 lb. Ballantine Caber is mightiest in this country. It was sent over as a sporting challenge by the famed House of Ballantine's Scotch and is kept by San Francisco's Caledonian Club for use in their annual Games and other authorized contests.

Roger W. Babson Weekly Report

MOUNTING STATE AND LOCAL TAXES

Babson Park, Mass., March 31 —In a recent column we discussed living costs,—emphasizing the increase in consumer prices that has occurred. Today we give attention to taxes—especially to those levied by state and local governments.

Trend Is Up

Right at the moment, the federal tax burden on individuals and corporations is less than it was a few years ago, in spite of the January increase in social security taxes. But our state and local levies are rising at the rate of about 9% per year. 36 states and the District of Columbia have income taxes. 39 states and the District of Columbia tax retail sales. Virginia is about to collect a 2% sales tax, and a 3% limited sales tax becomes effective in Massachusetts April 1.

Mayor Lindsay of New York has attracted national attention by sponsoring a proposal for a graduated income tax on those living or working in that city that would take an amount equal to 50% of what they are paying in taxes to the state of New York. It is not widely known that 10 American cities already have municipal income taxes—among them Cincinnati, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and St. Louis.

Why So Much Need?

For the most part, the need of the states and cities for additional revenue is pressing. Since World War II, the federal government has been siphoning off a much larger share of individual and corporate earnings than in earlier years. This has forced the states to adopt sales taxes, often in addition to state income taxes. It has also forced the cities and towns to depend on real estate taxes for the bulk of their revenue.

Why do state and local governments still need further large amounts? Partly because federal fiscal policies have led to higher government costs generally. Partly because there are so many more Americans to provide government services for than there were 30 years ago when our population was only 127 million compared with today's 195 million—an increase of more than 50%. And partly because we are demanding a broader range of services than ever before.

Crisis Is Fiscal Responsibility
Obviously, the states and cities will not be able to provide all of the government services requested. Their resources just are not large enough to permit them to follow the paternalistic pattern set by the federal government. But, goaded by special interests, the states and cities do tend to bite off more than they can chew.

There is, fortunately, very little deliberate fiscal mismanagement at state government levels. But there is a good deal of actual mismanagement because the states do not always take the trouble to go to the expense of hiring the best-qualified personnel to handle services and projects involving the expenditure of large sums of money. And there is a very great deal of fiscal irresponsibility in the matter of directing state government policies into channels that will provide real economic growth for all the people.

Higher State Taxes Coming

Costs of police and fire protection, for education, and for health and welfare services are mounting. Hence state and local government costs will certainly be upped further in the years ahead. But many state and local government projects are either ill-planned or unnecessary. A closer watch by citizens on their state houses and city halls would curb such boosts in local spending.

Also, it is very much to the advantage of citizen—especially businessmen—to keep informed as to what is going on in local government. Big business has its lobbyists who often succeed in forestalling heavy imposts on its operations. Small business has its trade associations which also perform good service in this regard. But the average citizen has no such watchdog to look out for his interests and to keep him informed of what's coming up next by the way of new spending and new taxes. He must knuckle under and pay—UNLESS he gets gumption enough to make his views known and his influence felt.

Air Force To Begin Training Of German Pilots

Air Force Association Convention, Dallas — German Air Force student pilots will begin training in greater numbers in the United States beginning this year in a project which will add another flying training mission to Texas, Lt. Gen. William W. Momyer, Commander, Air Training Command, Randolph Air Force Base, announced.

Training contracts, signed recently by the United States and the Federal Republic of Germany, call for establishing an Undergraduate Pilot Training School at Air Training Command's Sheppard Air Force Base, near Wichita Falls, Texas. The basic contract covers the first year of a minimum five-year program.

Gen. Momyer said that according to present plans, the first students will enter flight training in the fall of 1966 with peak student loads to be reached in August, 1967. The school is expected to train 212 students per year.

Training will be similar to that given United States Air Force pilots, with a total of 132 flying hours in the Cessna T-37 primary phase jet aircraft and 130 hours in the supersonic Northrop T-38 basic phase trainer. An additional 349 hours of classroom instruction will be given.

The German Air Force will pay tuition to the United States at the rate of nearly $10 million annually to cover operating costs of the program. Under the terms of the agreement, the German Air Force has placed orders in the United States for purchase of 93 training aircraft, instrument trainers, spare parts, and ground support equipment. This equipment, which has an estimated value of $42 million, will be loaned to the United States Air Force for use in training the German students.

The ATC Commander said that the Flying Training Program now conducted by the Command for a limited number of German student pilots at Williams Air Force Base, near Phoenix, Arizona, will enter its last class in July, 1966. This program was begun in 1963.

Many benefits accrue to both the United States and Germany in this training arrangement, Gen. Momyer said. Most of the cost of the training, including the aircraft to be used, is being paid by Germany, thus relieving "gold flow." This joint training program also overcomes the inclement weather and air space saturation problems common throughout Western Europe.

Wise Gardener Protects Hands

GROWING PRIZE-WINNING roses need not mean scratched skin and roughened cuticle for this flower lover. Instead, she protects her hands with colorful household gloves made from Du Pont neoprene. Pioneer Rubber Company offers several types, including Ebonettes and cotton-down-lined Super Ebonettes. Gloves are textured for non-slip gripping, have curved fingers for better fit, and are made of weather-, oil-, and chemicals-resisting neoprene processed to be soft and flexible for more comfort. A sturdier glove, Bluettes, has a cotton-knit lining to absorb perspiration, and a longer cuff for protection of arms and wrists. Whatever the choice, gardeners know that wearing neoprene gloves pays off in prevention of skin damage and irritation.

When we see in war, crime, greed, hatred, and selfishness the AWFULNESS OF OUR SINS, we cannot but be humbly amazed at GOD'S GRACE. Modernism scoffs at man's need of REDEMPTION FROM SIN, saying that he is essentially good — will inevitably get better. BUT EXPERIENCE, as well as the Bible, HAS PROVED TO EACH OF US THAT there is such a thing as real, DEEP-DYED SIN — that man CANNOT save himself and therefore needs the Savior!

IN THIS TROUBLED, SINFUL AGE, GOD'S GRACE SHINES CLEARLY AS OUR ONLY HOPE! If He had required absolute justice, none could have hope; but thanks be to God for offering us His undeserved mercy, Titus 2:11, 12.

OUR receiving of GOD'S GRACE is dependent upon our accepting, by faith, Christ as Savior. SUCH FAITH INCLUDES TRUST, DEPENDENCE, SUBMISSION, AND OBEDIENCE. It does NOT include any merit on our part. However, we must be submissively obedient to ALL our Lord requires, which includes REPENTANCE (turning from sin, to God), CONFESSION (of Christ), BAPTISM (into Christ) — Acts 2:38; Rom. 10:9 & 6:3,4. Living the Christian life; doing works of LOVE; and preaching the gospel to the WHOLE WORLD are also included. Doing all this does NOT cause us to merit God's mercy, but when we thus accept HIS grace, He forgives us through Christ's atonement for us!

SHOW YOUR APPRECIATION for God's grace, by worshipping Him, with us, Sunday at 10:45 A. M. (Bible Study, 9:45 A. M.) and 6:00 P. M.

Famous DEPARTMENT STORE

By Mary Whitman

Many coin collectors who want to vary their numismatic activities have started collecting Canadian coins.

There are two basic reasons for popularity of Canadian issues, points out Ken Bressett, numismatic editor at Whitman Publishing Company, Racine, Wis.

One is the similarity between United States coins and those of Canada, the other is the value of Canadian coins.

"Since the Canadian decimal series began in 1858, more than 450 different coins have been minted," says Bressett. "These coins would have a combined face value of around $100."

"However, their numismatic value could be as high as $21,000, if all were acquired in uncirculated condition. The challenge of completing a collection in the best possible condition seems to appeal to nearly every collector," he notes.

All Canadian moneys are listed, priced and described in Whitman's Standard Catalogue of Canadian Coins, Tokens and Paper Money, by J. B. Charlton. This volume is regarded as the most authoritative reference on current retail values of Canadian coins.

Among the rarest and most valuable Canadian issues are the 5-cent and 50-cent pieces of 1921, says Bressett.

After more than 2.5 million of the 5-cent pieces were struck, it was decided to substitute a larger nickel coin for this denomination. Most of the originals were then melted down, and only 100 are known to be in existence today. The coin is valued at $1,500 in very fine condition.

More than 200,000 50-cent pieces were minted in 1921 and most were melted owing to lack of demand. The coin is valued at $5,000 in very fine condition.

Final Deadline Signup On Wheat Program

By April 1, is the last day growers may file applications to take part in the 1966 wheat program, Howland Anderson, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced. Signing up is the first step in qualifying for the program benefits, including price support. Growers who sign up and carry out provisions of the voluntary wheat program are able to get domestic price certificates in addition to price-support loans and other benefits for their wheat crop. The "domestic" part of the program, which is available through loans and price certificates, will be at 100 percent of parity as of the beginning of the marketing year 1, 1966. (The Feb. 4, 1966 wheat parity was $2.53 per bushel.)

amended and it no longer offers spring wheat growers payments on additional voluntary diversion below allotments.

While the payments will still be available for winter wheat growers who had already planted crops with the provision in mind, these growers are encouraged where ever possible not to reduce their acreage below the farm allotment during the present signup period. Instead, such wheat growers who are also eligible as feed grain growers are encouraged to participate fully in the feed grain program. Feed grain stocks continue to be more than sufficient.

The current signup period in Wichita County, began January 24, 1966, and will end April 1, 1966. Farm operators are urged not to postpone filing program applications. As the deadline approaches, the county office is likely to be crowded and delays inevitable.

News From The County Agent

Farmers in Wichita County are urged to check their small grain for greenbugs and spray when necessary. Greenbugs are controlled more effectively when temperature is above 50 degrees F. Parathion and Methyl Parathion may be used. Malathion may be used at the rate of 1 1/2 to 2 pt. per acre if a less toxic material is desired but it is not as effective as parathion or methyl parathion.

Prices received by Texas farmers and ranchers on February 15 for all farm products were 3 percent above a month ago and 12 percent above a year ago, reports the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. The index for livestock and livestock products rose sharply from a month ago while the all crop index rose only slightly. The livestock and livestock product index is at the highest level since mid-July, 1952.

County Agent B. T. Haws says he is a firm believer in the old saying, "the most profitable fertilizer dollar is the one spent for a soil test." There is still time to get soil tested before spring planting but samples must be taken very soon and mailed to a testing lab. The county agent, vocational agriculture teacher or Soil Conservation Service personnel can provide information on how to take good soil samples.

All signs point to a favorable year for beef producers. A slight decline in the nation's cattle numbers plus a good demand for feedlot animals; plus the herd rebuilding which seems underway and a growing population with more money to spend for the meat they want on their tables all add up to a good year ahead.

Guar meal, a high protein 35-45 percent) by product of the guar seed processing industry, is providing its worth as a protein supplement for feeder cattle. In 3-year tests at Texas A&M University's Coastal Bend Experiment Station, guar meal has given results comparable to those from other protein supplement sources for fattening steers.

Export sales of U.S. farm products for the fiscal year ending in July, 1966 are expected to total $6.2 billion. Such Texas agricultural products as grain sorghums, rice and soybeans going into foreign trade during the last half of 1965 were at record volume compared with previous years.

Burkburnett Garden Club Meets Recently In J. L. Caffee Home

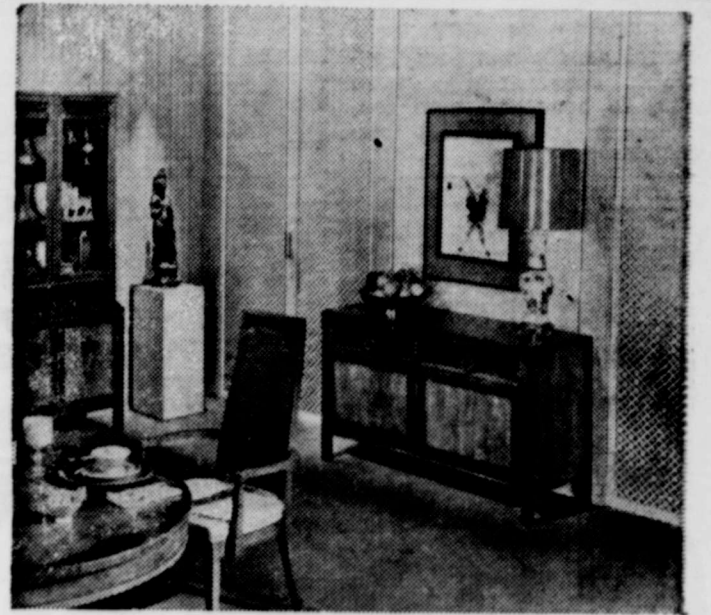

Mrs. J. L. Caffee was hostess to the Burkburnett Garden Club Wednesday evening, March 23. The theme of the day was "Color from Spring thru Summer," stressing the "Easter Parade."

Mrs. M. E. Taliaferro, president, conducted the business session and introduced the gracious speaker of the day, Mrs. Curtis Smith of Wichita Falls. Mrs. Smith talked on "Tuning up for Spring," stating it was too late to do much about the winter damage but it is a good time to tune up the shrubs, roses and trees and displayed a few new insecticides and plant foods that are on the market. The speaker gave each member a small begonia plant. Mrs. Smith is the former Jessie Ruth Preston and was no stranger among us. She and her husband own and operate the Smith Nursery in Wichita Falls.

Roll call was answered by each relating what the Easter Bonnet they were wearing was made of. They were decorated with live plant material. Several pictures were made of the group. Mrs. Taliaferro's hat was voted the most beautiful. It was made of pear blossoms.

A white elephant sale was held with Fern Bloodworth as the capable auctioneer. Mrs. Caffee served lovely refreshments to 16 members, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Bill Vincent.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

SPOKEN IN JEST
Several guests at a party, exchanging idle gossip, were startled to hear one man confide that the hostess had committed adultery.

In due course this remark reached the ears of the hostess herself. Being totally innocent, she lost no time in suing the man for defamation of character.

At the trial, he protested that he had been speaking only in jest—with no guilty intent. But he was held liable anyhow. The court noted that, whatever his intent, the remark had been taken seriously by his audience. The law of defamation is shaped by the meaning of the word defamation: injury to reputation. The key issue is whether the victim's good name has been soiled in the minds of others.

Thus, in judging a joke, the law is less interested in how the speaker meant it than in how the audience took it.

In fact, the very same words might be harmless, when told to one kind of audience, yet defamatory when told to another.

For instance, an after-dinner speaker told an insulting story about one of the guests of honor. But it was an "in" joke, clear enough to everyone at the dinner. Unhappily, the story was reported—straight—to the general public the next day. This was held defamatory, since the larger audience, not being "in," would naturally take the story to be true.

ably obvious, but the victim himself can't see anything funny about it? Again, since the law is concerned with reputation, the victim's own reaction is less important than the reaction of others. Thus:

A man claiming insurance for a fire loss received a joshing letter from the insurance agent, an old friend. Among other things, the agent wrote: "You must need money. Otherwise, there would have been no occasion for the fire." Not at all amused, the man sued for defamation. But a court found no liability, since a third party who read the letter could tell it was not to be taken seriously. The court added:

"Men daily use accusing words toward each other in a spirit of playful, friendly banter. Such is considered the peculiar privilege of intimate friends."

CARD OF THANKS
I would like to take this means of thanking everyone shown me during my hospital stay in the hospital. For the beautiful cards and gifts every prayer in my behalf for the foods brought me for my return home. For the remembrance I am deeply grateful, and may the Lord bless you.

We all thrill to a...
FAMILIAR TUNE

It is so soothing, comforting, and pleasing to listen to our favorite tunes when played by capable artists. These tunes can make our minds wander back to pleasant memories of days gone by, and also awake us to new joys. Each Sunday we have the opportunity to be thrilled by the preaching of God's word, and the story of God's great love for us. Attend church Sunday and enjoy worshipping God with others.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

New Mouthwash for Moderns

The first recorded use of mouthwash was by Roman actors, who gargled before performances to be able to project their voices properly, which was not easy considering the size of a Roman amphitheater and the distance between actors and audiences. Two thousand years later, Lord Chesterfield, that famous arbiter of mores and manners, wrote his son, "I hope that you take great care of your mouth and teeth and that you clean them every morning with . . . tepid water, with a few drops of arquesusade water dropped into it." Today the latest solution to a problem that has worried people for centuries is new Colgate 100 which has an exclusive formula (containing benzothionium chloride) that keeps the germ count lower longer than the best-known mouthwash. This red mouthwash, now available coast to coast, was eight years in the research laboratory.

through the series. Rev. Bob Terrell, pastor reported.

Rev. W. N. Bond, Fort Worth, will be in charge of the services. The song leader for the revival has not yet been announced.

Fire Starter

A short plumber's candle is the best fire starter you can buy . . . that if you're starving you can also eat.

Unity With Landscape

Unique architectural styling with lumber can create striking unity between house and landscape along with pleasant outdoor living.

For example, this suggestion from the Southern Pine Association—the yard is bordered by a high louvered fence. Overhead—between fence and house—extends a sweeping trellis of rafters to filter sunlight. Exterior house walls are surfaced with rough sawn lumber in three-dimensional patterns and finished to match the fencing and trellis.

Pressure-treated lumber is recommended for fencing and open trellis since they are constantly and directly exposed to weather. Exterior stain finishes—combining pigment, water repellents and preservatives—have high retention value on rough sawn Southern Pine siding.

Letter From An Old Church

Dear Readers:

Last week I told about the Holy Ghost. Today I would like to speak to you on the Ministry of the Church of Jesus Christ.

We read in the Gospels that Jesus made the Apostles the first ministers of His Church. He gave them full authority to act as His agents in teaching the Faith and administering the Sacraments of the Church. This included the authorization to pass on the others, through the Sacrament of Holy Orders, the power and authority they had received from Christ. They could give all or only a part of the power and authority, in other words, they could ordain both successors who would have full apostolic power, and assistants who would have some but not all of the apostolic powers.

The exercise of this authorization has resulted in the three-fold ministry of the One? Holy, Catholic (universal), Apostolic Church of Jesus Christ, or the Episcopal Church. Bishops are in the full sense successors of the Apostles. They are the guardians of the Faith and can administer all seven Sacraments of the Church. Priests or Presbyters are the second order of the ministry. They may teach the Faith, subject to review by their Bishop. They may administer the Sacrament of Baptism, Holy Communion, Penance and Holy Unction and can bless marriages.

A Deacon, a step lower in the order of the ministry, may preach, if licensed by the Bishop. He may assist in infant Baptism if no Priest is available. He may assist a Priest or Bishop in the Distribution of Holy Communion, but he may not celebrate it. And it must be noted that only a Bishop may confirm, that is make a new member in the Church of God, and only a Bishop may ordain, or Bless Oil for Holy Unction.

Where do we find Scriptural Grounds for these statements? Again we refer to the Acts of the Apostles, Chapter 1, verse 20-26. Where Matthias was elected to serve as an Apostle, and to St. Paul who was made the 13th Apostle or Bishop of the Church of Jesus Christ.

The first minister chosen by the Church was Matthias who was made one of the Twelve, taking the place of Judas. Barnabas, Paul and others were eventually either recognized as having been made Apostles by Christ himself or Ordained by the Apostles to that office. We also see in Scripture how the Twelve Ordained seven men to a lower office of the ministry, or Deacons. Deacons were established very early in the Church with the Ordination of St. Stephen which again is Scriptural. Does all this sound strange to you? Perhaps it does. I do hope you find these articles informative and interesting. If you have any questions please write me and I'll try to answer them. Or better yet, come to the Mid-Week Service and Forum at 7:00 p.m. each Wednesday at Saint John the Divine Episcopal Church, 1000 Berry St., Burkburnett, a true part of the Church of Jesus Christ.

I wish to remind the members of the vesting board, who take care of the business affairs of the church, there will be a meeting April 1 at 7:00 p.m. Have you noticed the church building on S. Berry is being weather-proofed and painted. Then on April 1 and 2 the members of the church will get together and give the building a good spring cleaning. We must have the church clean for Easter, the greatest fete of the year.

Again, I certainly would like to hear from you, my readers. God bless you. The Scribe
