S-Sgt. Milstead Receives Medal For Heroism

The Army Commendation Medal with "V" device has been awarded to S-Sgt. Edgar A. Milstead, U.S. Army. The medal was awarded for action in Vietnam from Oct. 12, 1965 to May, 1966.

The citation read as follows: For heroism: During this period while participating in every major and minor operation involving the company, Sergeant Milstead maintained a discipline and esprit de corps within his weapons squad to be found only in the finest units. During the conduct of Operation Cocoa Beach, a Viet Cong regiment assaulted the battalion's defensive perimeter. Sergeant Milstead delayed his men's fire until a 15 man patrol fought its way back into the friendly area despite large numbers of Viet Cong visible through the trees.

As the battle progressed, the Viet Cong became desperate and began mounting assaults of suicidal proportions. Sergeant Milstead unflinchingly directed the fires of his infantrymen, neutralizing the insurgents' fanatic onslaughts. His machine guns kept the Viet Cong pinned down while another company effected ammunition re-supply from a munitions dump hastily formed in his platoon area. Always concerned first with the welfare of his men, Sergeant Milstead unhesitatingly carried ammunition and even the machine gun at times when his personnel began to tire after a sustained period of operations. Staff Sergeant Milstead's actions are in keeping with the finest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself, the 1st Infantry Division and the United States Army.

The Whole Town Is Talking About Kings' Jones Boy

The whole town's talking about the Jones boy—Norman Jones, that is, of the Burkburnett Kings. Big Norman (6'2"-250) is set to go for his fourth season in the colors of the "Big Red," as they embark on their maiden voyage into professional football, Texas Football League style, and is apt to make his presence felt throughout the young pro circuit.

Oddly enough, the big amiable fellow played neither high school or college ball. His football knowledge comes from being a charter member of the ex-semi pro Kings. He learned fast and made up for his lack of previous experience, as any of his opponents can testify.

Norman's main position is middle guard on defense, but he has also played offensive guard, tackle, center and on one occasion, took a fling at flanker back. He is unusually quick for a man his size and is as tough as a boot with it.

Norman takes on added responsibility this season, as he will become defensive coach for the Kings. The last two seasons saw him serving as captain of the team.

Norman was one of the first on hand when workouts opened on the 5th of July. He was more than ready to get down to the business of football. In fact, one teammate commented:

"I think he'd play a game right now if he was asked to!"

Norman was asked if he had any special goals or expectations for the upcoming season. He smiled real big and replied, "Well, yeah, we plan to win every game this season. Of course we're in a pretty tough league, but I think we can do it."

The funny part of it is that when you see the look on his face, you know he means it. And furthermore, with players of the same caliber of their Jones boy, the Kings might do just that.

Norman was a unanimous choice last season for the Burkburnett Star-News "Defensive Back of the Year." As player and coach this season, he should add more honors to his collection and chances are that the whole town again will be talking about the Jones boy.

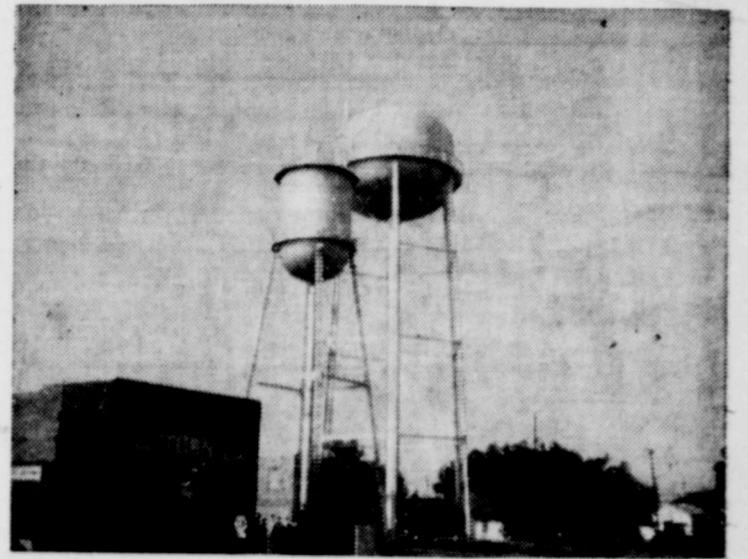

League Publicity Office In Move

Sherman—The Texas Professional Football League moved its publicity office to Sherman Tuesday. The league's public relations office will be located in the M&P Bank Building.

The league's publicity staff in Sherman will be under the direction of W. R. Morris and David Langford.

Old Water Tower Ends Life In Burkburnett With A Loud Crash

City Council action August 1st assured removal of the old water tower on 4th Street before building of the library, on the site across the street begins.

Ed Elliott of E&E Construction has purchased the water tower. He told Councilmen that removal of the unused water tower could be accomplished more easily before construction of the library building began.

The Council approved a revised bid from M&T Construction Co. after hearing recommendations of the library board for revisions, detailed by Claude Adams, board president. The recommendations for revisions were drawn up at a meeting of the Library Board held just prior to the City Council meeting.

Less expensive, but more durable furniture in the children's area, plain concrete in the courtyard and less expensive roof structure were some of the changes approved by the council.

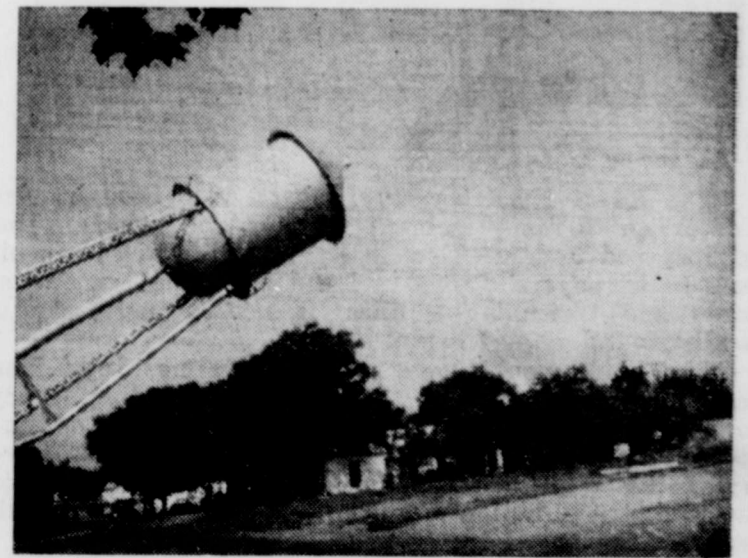

It was also decided that a committee of local people would be appointed to landscape the site. Mr. Adams stated that in addition to the $610 that could be subtracted from the contract for landscaping, the citizen participation could result in even greater civic pride in the major project.

Revised plans for the library structure will now be sent to Austin for final approval and the contract will be signed with M&L Construction Co. for construction to begin.

In other action the Council accepted the low bid of $2,784 from Joe Ray McCluskey for construction of restrooms in Permian and Hardin Park.

Information will be sought from the city of Wichita Falls on the cost of that city supplying water to Burkburnett.

City Manager Jess Whatley announced the leasing by the city of disposal grounds from J. V. Brookshear.

THIS IS NO PIGGY BANK

UNNEEDED BANK

The Rural Electrification Act of 1936 brought electric service to many isolated farmers and ranchers, but the proposed Federal Electric Bank, which could tap billion's in taxpayers' funds to build additional generating plants and transmission lines, is neither necessary or fiscally sound.

The bank would have a $1 billion nest egg from the Federal Treasury to create a mammoth lending agency. No interest would be payable by the bank on this money and there would be no definite timetable for repaying it. With this as a starter, the bank could borrow another $10 billion from the public. If the bank could not meet the payments of principal and interest, then it would be authorized to borrow from the U. S. Treasury without limit and without Congressional approval.

Loans made by the bank would not be subject to the limitation set by Congress or REA loans to rural electric cooperatives — that they be for "the furnishing of electric service to persons in rural areas who are not receiving central station service." Thus, the co-ops, which are exempt from paying a Federal income tax, would be free to invade urbanized areas with giant generating and transmission facilities financed by loans from a tax-exempt bank singularly free of Congressional control but with access to "cheap" Federal funds.

The electric generating and transmission facilities which these borrowers could duplicate or even displace would be those of the investor-owned electric companies serving some 80 per cent of the nation's electric customers and paying a $2.9 billion annual tax bill to all levels of government.

SCHOOL DAYS ARE BACK

All good things come to an end — at least temporarily. And so it is, as the long school summer holiday draws to a close. Very shortly, millions of youngsters will be shouldering their school books once again. Other millions will see the inside of a schoolroom for the first time when school opens this fall.

While it is true that an educated man does not get all his education in the classroom, the fact remains that formal education is the foundation and best hope of civilization. Education is the seed bed of tolerance and understanding. It is the source of progress in every field of human endeavor.

Tomorrow's astronauts, engineers, scientists, technicians, men of medicine and the arts and business will be trudging back to the halls of learning, as the crisp days of autumn approach. Their return is an omen of a steady advance toward a better life.

Roger W. Babson Weekly Report

FOUR-YEAR TERM FOR CONGRESSMEN

Babson Park, Mass. — Congress has been asked by President Johnson to approve a constitutional amendment that would extend the terms of Congressmen from two years to four. This proposal—which is not likely to be acted upon at this session—has stirred up a good deal of comment pro and con.

Promotion of Efficiency The President himself has served with great effectiveness in both the House and the Senate. He is widely regarded as an expert on congressional procedure with knowledge in this field second to none. We would assume, therefore, that his arguments in favor of a four-year term for Congressmen seem valid and constructive to him in the light of his experience, both as member and as President.

Mr. Johnson pleads that this change has become necessary because of the expanding volume—and the complexity—of legislation. He also points to the high cost of campaigning which is burdensome to candidates for the House of Representatives and especially distracting to those who are running for re-election. In short, he believes we would have more efficient Congressmen if the length of their term were doubled.

Competitive Pressures The President deplors "the competitive pressures imposed by the two-year term, when the incumbent must remain in Washington into the fall to attend to public business." He contends that, because of these competitive pressures, the ability of a Congressman—to legislate as well as to campaign—is impaired.

Granted, the frequency of campaigning under the two-year term is a burden, especially in these days of skyrocketing costs. But is it a heavy enough burden to warrant depriving American voters of the right to express their will in selecting Members of Congress every second year?

Effect on Perspective As a matter of fact, the whole question of campaign funds is a burning issue with which Congress must come to grips before very long. There is a wide difference of opinion regarding the ethics involved in raising and in spending campaign funds. There are also broad differences on the matter of limiting the amount a candidate may spend in seeking a congressional seat. Once the question of campaign funds is settled, the issue of a two-year versus a four-year term will fall into clearer focus.

In the earlier years of our Republic, and in practice pretty well known to the presidency of Herbert Hoover. Congressmen "sojourned" in Washington, but still maintained homes in their districts as principal places of residence. Thus they kept in close touch with their constituents. Now, congressional sessions are so lengthy that most Members actually live in Washington year-round, making only fleeting visits to their home states for holiday observances, vacations, and some "politicking." Caught up as they are in the artificial atmosphere of Washington with its multitudes of government employees, their perspective is easily distorted, their feel of the pulse of the nation unsure. Change-over to a four-year term would not be likely to improve that perspective.

Checks And Balances

The four-year congressional term is proposed in the name of greater efficiency. Most of us will agree that there is a need for more efficiency in our federal government operations. But it is to be hoped all the angles will be explored before we scrap the two-year term in the name of efficiency.

Undeniably, the four-year term would tend to make Congressmen more "independent." Would it also make them less responsive to the will of their constituents? If, as the resident's plan provides, they were elected during presidential years, would that have a truly beneficial effect, or not? Finally, would a four-year term tend to weaken — perhaps eventually destroy — the system of checks and balances designed by the Founding Fathers to insure that neither our government, nor any of its branches, can become tyrannical?

HANDLE WITH CARE

No matter how you view them, sharks are exciting!

While various members of this tribe are considered nuisances, they are certainly not known as "leasers on a line," note fishing authorities at Mercury outboards. Concurring in this opinion is the International Game Fish Association, which recognizes six different species as game fish.

Whether you fish briny waters frequently or only occasionally, sharks are part of the scene. And if you really look for fishing thrills, go looking for sharks!

Shark chasing resembles bill-fishing in many respects... big boats, heavy tackle. But small boats and ordinary gear do as well, and even pier and surf-casters get in on the fun. For instance, a 260-pound-plus mako was subdued on 12-pound-test monofilament.

Proper techniques hold the key to shark success. Chumming with cut bait is a favorite tactic for many of the species. Refined approaches include trolling with belly sections of larger fishes and blood-letting of caught fish behind the boat.

Since some sharks display no trace of shyness, they'll quickly follow a trail of chum right up to the transom. Fishing for them under such conditions consists of merely tossing out a tidbit concealing a hook, and bracing for the fireworks.

But, generally shark fishing requires more finesse. This is best learned when in company with a charter skipper or a fisherman experienced in the art. In many regions charter boats specialize in this type of fishing, and the trend is on the upswing as new anglers continue to discover the sport.

There are little sharks, big sharks, and even good-eating sharks, say the Mercury lads. And none give up without a fight. So go gunning for shark if you want a "ton of thrills."

Groundbreaking Ceremonies For New Library Are Held Wednesday

Friends of the Burk Burnett Library hosted a coffee and press conference at the National Room of the First National Bank just prior to formal groundbreaking ceremonies at the library site, Wednesday morning.

The Burk Burnett Library was initiated in Feb. 1965 as a project of the Federated Study Clubs of Burk Burnett. After several months of researching methods of establishing and financing libraries, the Study Club committee recommended to the City of Burk Burnett that it adopt the library as a city facility. This the City did, appointing a Library Board of seven members and appropriating $45,000 for the building and equipment. Application was made for matching funds under the Library Services and Construction Act Public Law 89-299, as administered by the Texas State Library. On June 23, 1966, the city was notified of final approval of these matching funds. Advertising for bids for construction of the building began immediately; bids were opened July 27; and the contract approved on August 1.

The building will be of contemporary design, windowless, with a glass entranceway and with a glass wall in the north side, overlooking an enclosed courtyard. The interior will include area for periodicals, children's, young adults and adult books, reference volumes, storage, office and rest rooms. The building will be of brick and block construction, completely air-conditioned, and the public areas will be carpeted.

Facing Town Hall on Fourth Street the building will cover two city blocks and contain 5950 square feet of floor space. One of the lots was the gift of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bohner, of Burk Burnett; the other was purchased by the City as a library site.

Library Board Members are Claude Adams, chairman; H. R. Hays, Glen Bear, E. D. Potter, Mrs. Harold VanLoh, Mrs. Joe Salter and Mrs. Marjorie Kauer.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Clayton of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Mishey Sparkman of Fort Worth have returned home from a very enjoyable vacation in New Mexico, Arizona and California. In Hollywood, California, they visited the Clayton's son, Billy Clayton; attended a baseball game between the Mets and Dodgers, and an exhibition game between the movie stars and editors and writers; attended the horse races and took an ocean cruise from Santa Monica. Points of interest they visited in Arizona were the painted desert, petrified forest, Grand Canyon and other historical sites.

Over half of Lancashire County, England, is underlaid with coal.

According to the Texas Forestry Association, the average per capita consumption of lumber is 224 board feet annually.

Each $1 from standing trees adds $25 to Texas' economy through harvesting, manufacturing, construction, transportation and marketing, according to the Texas Forestry Association.

Witnesses To Go To District Meet In Dallas, Texas

Congregational activity of Wichita Falls' Jehovah's Witnesses will be suspended this week as the entire group has been invited to serve as official delegates to the "God's Sons of Liberty" district assembly in Dallas, August 3-7.

"All program sessions will originate at Dallas' giant, new Market Hall," Harold P. Bruce said. "The Dallas convention is one of ten set for the United States this summer, and our delegation will help make up the more than 30,000 anticipated for the five day event."

Bruce said several car caravans were being organized for the trip and that any interested Bible students wishing to attend the convention with the local group may do so by making their needs known.

"We are going to Dallas for Bible education and fortification," he said. "We are certainly living in critical times when the Christian's spiritual strength is being tapped constantly. We plan on the Dallas assembly to replenish and vitalize us spiritually."

Bruce added that the program will be bilingual to assist the many Spanish-speaking Witnesses making the trip to Dallas also.

A series of Bible-based discourses, dramatizations, symposiums and panel discussions will complement the total program.

All local meetings will be held at their regularly scheduled times next week at the Kingdom Hall.

Mrs. Herbert Lawson, 503 W. Sycamore, received a call on her birthday, July 29th, from her husband in Viet Nam, via Mars Radio.

Capt. Lawson's mother, Mrs. Annie Mae Lawson lives at 436 W. Main in Burk Burnett.

It Takes a Lot to Satisfy
A HEALTHY APPETITE

Anyone that has ever tried to fill the bottomless pits of growing boys will tell you that it is practically an impossibility. Yet we must continue to feed them so that they will continue to grow.

With the right kind of encouragement from parents, these boys will develop a hunger for God's word. Take them to church Sunday where they may study and learn more of God's word.

"Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Casserole + Cold Relish = Cool Picnic

Plan a cool picnic in your backyard and join the fun. Get together with your perennial summer favorites, change your menu with a tasty casserole, hot dogs and mustard, with a tasty casserole of scalloped potatoes, and a peppery crock of sauerkraut. These dishes would do top justice to any frank in a bun. Add a dash of piquancy the onion and caraway seeds to the sauerkraut, while using French's packaged potatoes makes preparation of this dish—a snap!

1/2 teaspoon French's Seasoning Salt

French's Scalloped Potatoes
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup butter
Thin sliced crisp

SAUERKRAUT RELISH

1/2 cup sauerkraut
1/2 cup French's Instant Onion
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon French's Caraway Seed

FROM UNDERWOOD'S IN PARKER PLAZA — BURKBURNETT

News From The County Agent

When cutting hay, cure and bale it as quickly as possible, says County Agent B. T. Haws.

By curing and baling almost immediately, you keep most of the leaves, color and nutrients—and conserve the quality.

The moisture content of hay plants when cut ranges from about 60 to 80 percent. They must be dried to 12-18 percent for safe storage.

Curing time for large-stemmed hay plants such as alfalfa and Sudan may be reduced by one-third to one-half with a hay conditioner. The machines are most effective when used immediately after hay is cut. Hay should be put through a conditioner on Bermudagrass hay because the fluffing action causes faster drying.

Hay conditioners are two general types; one cracks the stems of plants lengthwise, while the other type crimps the stems at close intervals. Conditioning hay permits moisture to evaporate quickly from the stems. This means less exposure of the hay to sun, wind, dew, and possible rain.

Hay quality is often lost by baling hay too wet. This results in excess heating and molding. Hay allowed to dry too long also is lower in nutrients than hay baled at the proper time.

Timing is important—don't wait too long, but don't bale too wet for highest quality hay, concludes Haws.

A Letter From An Old Church

By The Scribe

To our friends in Burkburnett, grace and peace to you from God our Father.

On September 7th at 7:30 p.m. Rev. Merriman will begin a new class at St. John the Divine Episcopal Church, 1000 S. Berry Street which will deal with doctrine, discipline and worship of the Episcopal Church which will be designed to inform those who are not familiar with the Episcopal Church and the nature of Anglican Christianity. During this series special attention will be given to the reformation of the 16th century in order to determine at what point modern protestantism has forgotten the work and teaching of such people as Martin Luther, John Calvin, and John Knox. Please do plan to attend these very informative sessions.

Have you been hearing bells lately? Daily at 7:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. the bell at St. John the Divine Episcopal Church is rung to call to worship for morning and evening prayers. Anyone may attend who wishes to join in the daily worship of God.

4-H Members Help Promote Water Safety

SPECIAL — Attention swimmers, non-swimmers, water skiers, boaters! Don't be one of the 6,000 drowning victims this year.

If you're in, under or on the water, be sure you know how to swim, or make certain that in case of an accident you can be rescued.

A large group—540,000 boys and girls—is doing something right now about water safety. They are 4-H members participating in the national 4-H Safety program sponsored by General Motors. The emphasis for 1966 is on water safety.

During the summer when families are overflowing the beaches, lakes, rivers and pools for fun and relaxation, it should be remembered that about a third of the drowning victims will be youngsters between 5 and 15 years old. Also boys and men account for nearly 87 percent of the drownings.

The 4-H Safety bulletin gives specific suggestions for members which can be heeded by everyone: (1) learn to swim (2) learn to swim better (3) learn rescue techniques (4) know your own swimming capability.

Some rules set forth for swimmers, which if observed could prevent drownings, are avoid swimming right after eating; know the condition of the water depth, undertow, tides and if there are rocks, log or other debris on the bottom.

The 4-H'ers engaged in the safety program are from 9 to 19 years of age. According to carefully kept project records, they not only practice water safety themselves, but get their families and communities to be water safety conscious.

Besides the personal satisfaction these youngsters experience in carrying out a life-saving project, they are further gratified by competing for honors and awards.

For the second year, General Motors will present $1,000 scholarships to eight boys and girls completing the best 4-H Safety projects throughout the entire nation. Prior to 1965, the scholarships were for $500 each.

The most outstanding member in the entire state will be a delegate to the National 4-H Club Congress as guest of the sponsor. And it is from the 50 state award winners that the scholarship recipients are chosen.

A safety medal goes to top county achievers. Individual clubs also are recognized at both county and state levels.

All classes of award winners are judged by the Cooperative Extension Service which has set up the national 4-H Safety program.

Thrifty Utilization

A wide variety of forest products are currently manufactured from the leftovers of Southern Pine lumbering. For example—20% of the South's total material for pulpwood production is derived from chips made in turn from slabs, edgings and other leavings of the saws. Conservation aspects are enormous.

MRS BAIRD'S

Stays Fresh Longer

PLANNING TO BUILD?

In Matthew 7, two builders are described. Each was able to get materials, and both constructed houses. One man built upon the rock, but the other built upon the sand. Jesus said the man who built upon the rock was wise, while he who built on the sand was foolish.

The Christian is a wise builder; a builder of character, a builder of communities, of nations. The only force he seeks to destroy is evil.

Every person is erecting some type of building. Are you building a beautiful, enduring house; or are you building a life that will ultimately be like unto a lonely, deserted shack?

Jesus said the wise builder is the person who hears His words and does them. Are you hearing and doing the words of Jesus?

Strive to build a noble, Christian life; then your building will endure the severe winds and rain, and serve you throughout eternity.

Critical Link

One of the most critical points, when hurricanes strike, is the link between house and foundation.

The Southern Pine Association says that solid bolting of the floor structure to foundation walls is vitally important.

The floor structure should be formed with lumber that is properly seasoned and pre-shrunk before being surfaced to final size. Bolts, nails and other fastenings will not loosen in pre-shrunk lumber as they do when un-seasoned wood dries in service.

COOPERATIVE HOME & FAMILY SERVICE
COMMUNITY CENTER
HQ

Summer vacation time heralds the home canning season for many homemakers. If your pressure cooker is still where you placed it at the end of last year's canning season, now is a good time to check it out, says Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent.
For safe use of your steam pressure canner, clean the safety valve and petcock openings and check the pressure gauge.
Faulty pressure gauges may result in loss of food, the agent cautions.
Check the safety-valve and petcock openings by pulling a string through them. Then carefully check the dial gauge and weighted gauge.
Use your pressure canner to can all meats and vegetables.
Tomatoes, however, are an exception, for they may be safely canned by the boiling water bath method for canning fruits.
The water-bath canner should be checked to see if it is deep enough so that water will cover tops of jars adequately. The lid on the canner should fit tightly.
Both the water bath canner and the pressure canner should contain a rack inside on which to place the jars.
