Bits Of THIS-N-THAT

By BETTY BOYD

This is Boy Scout Week so let's all congratulate them and the adults who provide the wonderful training and fun. A boy really gets a good beginning in life when he has learned to be a "Good Scout."

Don't forget to get your share of the Aunt Jamima Pancakes which the Lions Club will be serving February 17, from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m., in the Town Hall. The admission is merely $1.00 for adults, (they eat more) and 50 cents for children.

They will have bacon, sausage, coffee and milk, too. Of COURSE there will be syrup!

Congratulations to the two scouts who recently were advanced to Eagle Rank, in Troop 155. James Mahaffey and Bradley Bellacicco are really good Scouts.

I have been told very recently, that some school children, while riding the bikes to school, are also riding them up and down the railroad tracks on College St. Another bike pass-time of theirs seems to be to drag the vehicles between the cars of the stopped trains.

Hey, there! Is someone trying to get killed? Could one of these little darers be yours? Better ask 'em and keep 'em alive to graduate.

The Police Department is on a campaign to clean the city of stray dogs—so be sure your pet is not a stray.

Also, city hall is carrying on a campaign. They are trying to help beautify the city by eliminating drifting trash. Keep a tightly fitting cover on that trash can.

Girls, I hope you have read about the danger in using some kinds of diet pills. Be careful. Check with your doctor before you buy any.

Lose weight, but don't chance losing your life.

LAUGH, It's Good for You—There is this to be said about the world crisis: we learn a lot of geography. Reader's Digest—Roger Allen, Grand Rapids Press. Love, B.B.

Huge Parade To Welcome Stars Of Telerama To Area

A huge parade will herald the arrival of three stars of the Wichita Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce Telerama Saturday.

The parade will start at 3 p.m. and will feature Billie Jo, Bobbie Jo and Bettie Jo, the "daughters" on the TV series "Petticoat Junction."

The trio of pretty performers will be appearing on a 13-hour telecast, starting at 9 p.m. Saturday, to raise funds for the North Texas Rehabilitation Center in Wichita Falls.

The telerama will be seen on KAUZ-TV, Channel 6, from 9 p.m. to midnight Saturday and from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday. It will be telecast in color and will include some 65 specialty acts.

Only about 70 spectators can be seated during the telerama. Reservations for one of the time periods may be made by contacting the North Texas Rehabilitation Center, 516 Denver, Wichita Falls, phone 322-0771.

The time periods are 9 p.m. to midnight Saturday and 7 a.m. to noon and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday. The Jaycees are asking for contributions with reservations. This money will be added to what is donated by the telerama viewers with all profits going to the Rehabilitation Center.

The telephone number to call in Burkburnett to make a donation during the telerama is 322-3171 and 322-6971.

Included in the parade, which will have some 60 units, will be bands, marching groups and decorated vehicles carrying the three stars.

Following the downtown parade, the stars will visit the Rehabilitation Center to meet with the children and to become acquainted with the physical, occupational and speech therapy services.

The Rehabilitation Center provides help for hundreds of children and adults in North Texas and no one is turned away because of inability to pay for therapy.

Forty-six people from Burkburnett have received help at the Center.

Mr. James Frye and Jack Mathis are the Burkburnett representatives on the Center's Board of Directors.

LIBRARY CORNER

Not new—but never out of date—although not fiction, Tom Lea's history of the King Ranch reads like a Texas "Gone with the Wind" — and once you've started it you'll hate to put it down. We also have some novels by Louisa Grace Erdman, which have the Texas Panhandle as background—Wide Horizon, Room to Grow. And a new novel with a Texas background of the middle nineteenth century, Brothers of Uterica, by Benjamin Capp.

Stop And Swap shelves now in operation — Bring in your paperbacks (good condition), leave at desk, and take your pick.

The latest in the Texas History Series by Texian Press, Battles of Texas, is now on the reference shelves. Previous books were Heroes of Texas, Frontier Forts, Missions of Texas. Thorp—a novel highly recommended in all the book reviews is now circulating.

As the odd warm days arrive and you get the spring cleaning urge remember the FRIENDS OF THE LIBRARY will be having a book sale within the next few months. So put those books you don't want to one side and as soon as plans are definite there'll be publicity on it.

The City of San Antonio built a $10.5 million three-building civic center complex on the site of HemisFair '68, including a 3,000 seat banquet hall and 2,000 seat theater.

This is the beautiful Merit Award presented to the Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce in Abilene for participation in the program, Operation Sparkle. The huge scrapbook record of the activities performed during the program, was compiled by Community Development Committee and helped Burkburnett to win 2nd place Merit Award.

Tom Nicklas, left, who accepted the Operation Sparkle Merit Award for the Chamber of Commerce in Abilene, presents it to Bill Vincent, chairman of the committee who compiled the scrapbook, as Mrs. Wanda Frye, left, and Mrs. Virginia Salter, next to Vincent and Mrs. C. M. Archer, members of the committee, watch. Mrs. Marjorie Kauer, also on the committee, was not present at the time of the picture.

ROADBLOCK TO JOB CREATION

RESPONSIBLE NEGOTIATIONS

During the past year, the cost of labor in manufacturing increased an average of five per cent, a direct reflection of sizeable wage gains combined with a much lower rate of production per manhour, according to a recent report of the United States Department of Commerce.

Higher unit labor costs in manufacturing mean one of two things, or a combination of both: higher prices and lower profits. There is abundant evidence that both factors have been present in the manufacturing sector over the past year.

The report indicates, although the figures are not final, that productivity growth in manufacturing during 1967 may be as low as one per cent, the smallest in many years, as compared to a 3.4 per cent increase in 1965 and a 3.1 per cent increase in 1966.

Labor and management have a great responsibility to the American public when they negotiate contracts this year. In order to prevent further inflationary pressures on the entire economy, they should make sure that any increase in final labor costs will be counterbalanced by a comparable increase in productivity.

Such a balance is essential if industry is to retain sufficient risk capital for expansion, in order to provide more jobs for more people.

Worst Kind Of Discrimination

Within a matter of months, we are faced with another presidential election. As in every election, strenuous efforts will be made to get out the vote. And again, millions of citizens will be deprived of the right to vote, because they did not meet state residence requirements. At present, these requirements deprive upward of five million, otherwise qualified voters, of their right to participate in the choice of President and Vice President. Every year, countless thousands of citizens are transferred by employer corporations from one part of the country to another. Through no fault of their own, they are disenfranchised when election time rolls around. They have not had time to live long enough in their new homes to become voting citizens. A bill is now in Congress establishing September 1 residency as a uniform eligibility standard in all states. As The New York Times observes, it "...deserves passage to erase some of the present discrimination against citizens on the move."

YANKTON, S. D., PRESS AND DAKOTAN: "Might we suggest that the first picture to be used on the new six-cent stamp could appropriately be an American taxpayer standing with his bare chest showing — indicating that he had already lost his shirt."

An Argument for Financial Planning

"Wages and prices chasing each other" is nothing new in our society. It is the very process that feeds inflation and cuts into the buying power of the dollar.

Every individual or family should build toward an investment program geared to provide the protection needed to meet inflationary trends.

An effective way to provide such protection is an investment in a mutual fund. There are many different programs available for investing in mutual funds. A person may invest a lump sum or he may invest smaller amounts on a periodic basis. The accumulation plan, to which the investor makes periodic payments, monthly, or quarterly, over periods of 10, 12 or more years offers one of the more popular plans.

The accumulation plan permits the individual of modest means to build an investment program with relatively small purchases, usually out of current income. Many mutual funds offer plans for as little as $50 a month or less, after a modest initial investment. The Investment Company Institute, the national association which represents the interests of the mutual fund industry, reports that accumulation plans have been growing at the rate of more than 35,000 a month.

Investing in mutual funds provides the shareholder a diversified investment program and continuous investment management. The appeal of this approach to pooled investment is illustrated by the fact that the industry has grown from less than $500 million in 1940 to more than $42 billion belonging to more than four million shareholders today.

The Institute points out that investments in mutual funds should be considered long term investment programs, practical and convenient for accumulating capital for objectives such as retirement, building an estate, or providing funds for the education of children.

PUEBLO DEFENSE BUDGET

The last week certainly has been a hectic one for Washington and for the entire nation. On top of the very major business of receiving and analyzing the President's large budget, we have faced the continuing Pueblo crisis.

There is little point in rehashing again what happened to U.S.S. Pueblo except to say that the violent pirate action of North Korea in seizing an American ship in international waters was a deliberate, calculated escalation of international lawlessness.

Two questions were immediately raised:

What to do about getting the ship and crew back?

And, how could it have happened?

The Administration's immediate answer to the first question was to attempt recovery through diplomatic means.

First the Soviet Union was asked to help. Not unpredictably the U.N. proved unable to even talk, much less to help at a crucial time.

Despite these rebuffs the Administration continued diplomatic efforts apparently in the desperate hope that when the North Koreans finish stripping the ship and interrogating the crew they will eventually have no further use for them and will give them back.

From the very beginning, with the chances for diplomatic settlement so invariably dim, it was suggested and widely anticipated that at the appropriate time American military power would be brought to bear to free the men and to recover the ship. This was not done. It is appropriate for the American people to ask why.

The safety of the crewmen is reason enough for us to ask why strong attempts were not made to save them.

Of perhaps even greater importance is the maintenance of a believable American foreign policy. It is very important that we made it clear and credible to adventure-loving communist bloc nations that just as we will not tolerate warlike acts by major powers, neither will we allow warlike acts by smaller powers. In other words, our power to deter violence must extend to and be believed by small nations as well as big nations or our international policies fall flat on their face and everybody is free to push us around.

Why then, was no U.S. military power applied when diplomacy stalemated?

It is very possible that it was not applied because it could not be applied. It is possible that our nation was not sufficiently strong in the area concerned that we could have recovered Pueblo in those first days even if we had tried.

I realize that this is a very serious thing to say, and I do not say it lightly.

On the basis of information available to me I have asked the Senate Armed Services Committee to undertake a full investigation of what U.S. strength was when the Pueblo was committed to an engaging in her assigned mission. I believe it is important for us to know whether or not she was sent into such dangerous waters, in effect, totally unprotected.

May I say that—and Texans know this—I have for many months been concerned about the policies of the outgoing Defense Secretary, Mr. McNamara. Those policies have stripped men and equipment from U.S. forces all over the world to support the Vietnam effort.

There is some evidence now that this policy has left our nation astonishingly weak in other potential-crisis areas of the world.

I frankly believe the American people are entitled to know what the situation is. And, they are entitled to know whose fault it is. They may very well desire some changes of both policy and personnel.

Just a word now, about the defense budget presented for the coming year. It calls for expenditure of some 80 Billion dollars. That is a fantastic sum, but the American people should know that it is only 80 percent of what our military experts think we need in the world in which we live. The defense budget represents a 21 Billion dollar difference between the military services and the Administration's McNamara-guided policy.

There is a very real possibility that even the Administration knows it is not asking for all the defense funds it needs and that it intends to ask for more before fiscal year 1969 is over. I hope Congress will try to find that out now. The American people are entitled to know whether shortchanging on national defense is likely to bring them any further Pueblo disasters.

We certainly owe it to the 83 Pueblo crewmen to see that none of their fellow sailors is ever again placed in danger from which a shortchange policy may prevent his rescue.

SHEPPARD AIR FORCE BASE, TEXAS — M Sgt. Horst K. H. Heugle, right, receives congratulations from Brig. Gen. John M. ## OUTSTANDING AIRMAN OF YEAR NAMED AT SHEPPARD

HQ. ATC (ATCPS)—MSGT. Horst K. H. Heugle, a native of Germany who received his technical training in U. S. Air Force schools and his Bachelor of Arts degree under operation bootstrap, has been selected as Outstanding Airman of the Year for 1968.

Sergeant Heugle is currently assigned as senior instructor at the Veterinary Department of the Medical Service School, Sheppard Air Force Base.

Selected for the honor by an ATC board of officers who screened nominees from activities throughout the command, Sergeant Heugle will represent ATC at the Air Force Association Convention in Atlanta, Ga., April 3-5. The sergeant and his wife, Elizabeth, will be honored along with outstanding airmen and their wives from other Air Force commands and activities.

SEN. RALPH YARBOROUGH'S NEWSLETTER

This week I am going to report of my new worker health and safety bill. America's workforce and our employment statistics are shattering all records today. More than 75 million workers are holding jobs and earning wages in the United States—in small shops and offices, in private businesses and government, and in our big plants and industries.

That is the sunny side of our labor picture. Unfortunately, industrial accidents are also at a record high level. Inadequate state laws and sloppy enforcement in many states where safety laws are on the books have resulted in a tragically high incidence of death and injuries among our workers.

Every year 14,500 workers are killed on the job in the United States. Every year 2.2 million American workers are injured on the job. Every year in the United States some 250 million man-days of production and more than $1.5 billion in wages are lost by accidents on the job.

Industrial accidents bring personal tragedy to the worker involved and to his family. There is no way in the world to adequately compensate a man or woman for an arm or leg or eye lost on the job. In addition, occupational accidents cost more than $5 billion in productivity to our nation each year.

So President Johnson, in his message to the Congress on his job safety last week, called our worker safety situation "the shame of a modern industrial nation."

The Texas job safety picture is the most shameful of all. Since 1947 more than 19,000 men and women have been killed on the job and more than 5 million Texans have been injured in on-the-job accidents while working in Texas. More Texans are hurt in occupational accidents than in traffic accidents.

Texas was the last industrial state in the nation to pass an industrial safety law. The law finally passed by the Texas legislature last year is still very weak, and has too many loopholes to do the job.

The Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1968, which I introduced in the Senate on January 23rd, seeks to reach every working man and woman in the country and assure him safe and healthful working conditions. My bill would require industries operating in interstate commerce across state lines and subject to interstate commerce regulations to maintain safe standards for their employees. My bill also provides federal funds to the states to help them set up and enforce their own safety standards for non-interstate industries. This is a federal-state cooperative bill.

The 75 million working men and women of the United States deserve better treatment and that's what the Occupational Safety and Health Act hopes to give them—and America.

Local Witnesses Plan Convention In Fort Worth

The Central Unit of Jehovah's Witnesses in Wichita Falls is meeting in Fort Worth, Syncamore Park Recreation Center, March 1-3, for their Texas Circuit 6 semi-annual convention.

On January 1 the Watchtower Society, directive agency of Jehovah's Witnesses, rearranged the congregations and circuits putting the Wichita Falls congregation in a 16-congregation circuit from Wichita Falls east along the Red River and south to Fort Worth.

The presiding minister of the Central Unit, Harold P. Bruce, said, "More than 1,000,000 ministerial workers in 197 lands or 25,000 congregations are divided into circuits of about 16 congregations to the circuit in order to accomplish the goal of preaching the good news to the kingdom in all the world."

Some 800 delegates are expected for the three-day training program. They will hear talks and observe dramatizations on the theme, "Fortifying Ourselves for the Future."

Bruce said, "Christians today find themselves faced with many tests of faith. The purpose of this assembly is to fortify with acts of faith set forth in the Bible."

The Central Unit of Witnesses was previously in Texas Circuit 9, from Wichita Falls to Muleshoe and Haskell to Altus, Oklahoma. The last assembly was held in Altus.

News From The County Agent

As soon as the small grain fields are dry enough it will be time to topdress your small grain. We need to start top dressing before the wheat starts jutting, which may be early this year. From 30 to 60 pounds of actual nitrogen is recommended per acre. Our sandy soils will utilize more nitrogen than the tight soils. Small grain following cotton or grain sorghum will require heavier applications of nitrogen.

Cattle lice may not create much of a problem in the warm months but its a different story during the winter season. Reminds county agent B. T. Haws. Closer confinement aids the spread of lice from infested to clean animals.

By the time lice are easily seen, much of the damage may already have been done. The time to treat lice is while the infestations are light.

Four species of lice suck blood from cattle and one feeds on hair and scales. Cattle infested with lice have a rough course appearance and do not make normal gains. The pests, explains the county agent, are more abundant during the winter and spring when the hair is long.

Because of restrictions on the use of various insecticides available for treating cattle, the county agent suggests that a copy of MP-691, "Texas Guide for Controlling External Parasites of Livestock and Poultry" be picked up at his office. The guide lists the various chemicals along with the amounts to use and the restrictions on their use. Formulations for both dusts and sprays are given. In addition to information on lice, the guide also lists control measures for many other livestock and poultry parasites and also a dilution chart for mixing sprays and dips.

Milk production in Texas during December was up 6 per cent over a year earlier. Production per cow averaged 690 pounds, up 82 pounds. For the nation, milk production for December was down 2 per cent.

PROGRESS

Progress is on the march. There is a great boom in building. Cures are being found for maladies that have killed mankind for centuries. Industry is doing magnificent things. But what sort of progress is being made in human relations—this term that includes respect for the person and property of others and good will among men.

There is one agency striving for progress in this field. This agency is the church. At the birth of Jesus Christ, the following prophesy and promise was given to mankind by a host of angels: "Glory to God in the Highest Heaven! Peace upon earth among men of goodwill!" Luke 2:14, (Phillips translation). Only when the majority of men on earth are men of goodwill, will we have peace.

Attend church this week and align yourself with the forces of God.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Businessmen, customers and friends help Mrs. Ina Gilbert, owner of the Elite Dress Shop, 3rd St., celebrate the anniversary of 35 years in business. Mrs. Gilbert, is on the right, enjoying the conversation of C. J. Lippard and a friend.

Mrs. Ina Gilbert, owner of the Elite Dress Shop, was surprised with an open house party by her employees and friends on the 35th anniversary of her business. From the left, surrounded by some of the many plants and flowers she received, are: Mrs. Gilbert, Mrs. F. T. Felty, Mrs. John Brookman, and Mrs. Johnnie Hageman.

Elite Dress Shop Marks 'Birthday' With Open House

A day of open house was held Thursday, February 1, at the Elite Dress Shop to celebrate its 35th year of business. It was held as a surprise for Mrs. Ina Gilbert, proprietor, by employees and friends.

Mrs. Gilbert taught grade school in the Fairview School west of town, for two years before marrying. She and her husband, who passed away in 1962, lived in Electra.

Mr. Gilbert was a driller for the Wagoner Drilling Co. and a resident of Burkburnett. They made the move to town in 1933 when Mrs. Gilbert began her Elite Dress Shop on February 1, 35 years ago. The date is also her birthday.

C. W. Gilbert, their only child, is married and has four children: Glen, a senior at BHS; Gay, a junior; Gregg, in the eighth and Gary in the sixth in BJHS. Mr. Gilbert has recently been transferred to New Orleans where he will be joined by his family at the end of the school year.

Hostesses who served coffee, cake, cookies, and doughnuts to the many friends, businessmen and customers during the open house celebration were: Mmes. Bill Bean, Raymond Van Loh, J. N. Hicks, John Brookman, an employee approximately 18 years; Johnnie Hageman, I. E. Harwell and F. T. Felty.

Nearly 150 persons signed the registration book and offered congratulations to the proud owner of the Elite Dress Shop, Mrs. Ina Gilbert.

HemisFair'68 is located in the heart of downtown San Antonio, just two blocks from the historic Alamo.

Women's Missionary Society Of Central Baptist Church Meets

The Women's Missionary Society of Central Baptist Church met at 9:30 a.m., Feb. 1st in the fellowship hall for the Royal Service program.

Our president, Mrs. Bee Bryant, opened with a short business session, followed by a song led by Mrs. Archie Wheeler and accompanied by Mrs. T. D. Chapman. Mrs. Kenneth Bradshaw brought the calendar of prayer.

Our study entitled, "Money for Missions," opened with a short skit by Mrs. Bryant and Mrs. Jerry Baber.

Mrs. Beth Bryan spoke on "Do We Have A Plan For Giving?" Yes, through our cooperative program which was organized in 1925, our way of dividing our regular and special offerings. "What is Accomplished Through Our Mission Gifts," was the topic of Mrs. Paul Loveless' talk.

Our money we give to missions, works 24 hours a day for churches, hospitals, publishing houses, missionary salaries and countless other things.

Our next special offering will be the Annie Armstrong offering for home missions in March. Their primary target right now is spreading the gospel in the cities. "How Does This Plan Work in Our Church" was presented by Mrs. Bryant. We support our Baptist work by tithes and offerings and this is distributed through the cooperative program.

The total amount of our three special missions, foreign, state and home, is received in our churches and goes to state and convention offices and from there to the Foreign Mission Board.

The total State Mission offering goes through the church directly to the state office. Therefore we do as Christ commanded in Act 1:8 "Witness To Him Unto The Utmost Part of The Earth," by giving to missions.

Mrs. T. D. Chapman spoke on the topic, "What About My Giving?" Do we tithe? Do we give to the special offerings? What does our giving say about our love for God and his missionary program? Jesus Christ gave everything; What Will We Give?

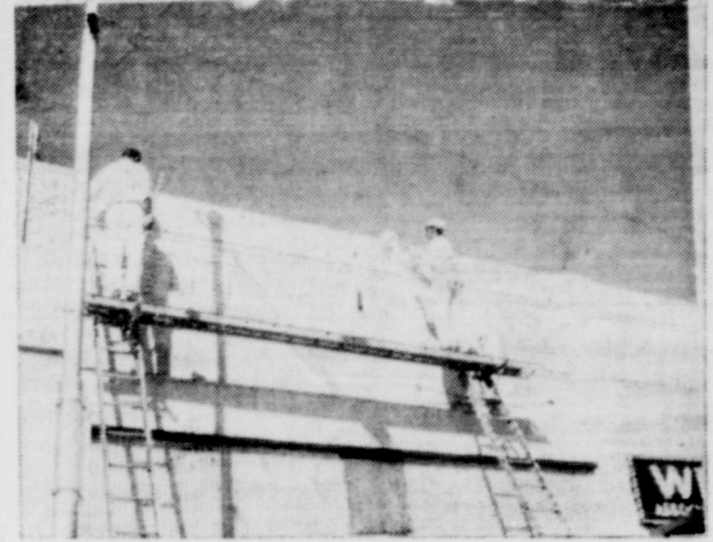

Those present were Mrs. Bee Bryant, T. D. Chapman, R. N. Hill, Kenneth Bradshaw, Beth Bryan, Charles Davis, Paul Loveless, Jerry Baber, Archie Wheeler and George Hodges.

We were led in a special silent prayer and dismissal by Mrs. Bryant.

Western Auto Gets Sandblasted

As a sandblaster worked on the side wall, these painters began applying a fresh coat of paint to the fronts of the Western Auto Store and Gill's Grocery and Market, in a refurbishing plan. Western Auto is expanding into the portion of the building which was once Maxwell Bros., then Thaxton Bros., followed by Herring Hardware Store.

HemisFair'68 in San Antonio April 6-Oct. 6 is the first official World's Fair in the United States since 1962. More than 7.2 million persons are expected to visit HemisFair '68 during its six-month run in San Antonio.

You say you fell out of a tree and it'll be eight weeks before you're back in school?

Cheer up. Even Tarzan mis-times a leap now and then. And don't give up on your school work. We've made it possible for many shut-in students to attend classes even though they're confined to bed. Our school-to-home service is the answer. It's a two-way communications system that lets the student speak and listen to anyone in the classroom. It's helped many a bright youngster through some pretty gloomy confinements. After all, we've had years and years of practice in developing phone arrangements for special problems. We offer phones for hard-of-hearing people, blind people, people who can't use their hands—phones so kids in bed can be in school. We'll be glad to tackle your problem, too. Just call the telephone business office.

Maybe we can help.

This year's recognition is a special tribute to the staff of the Information Office who during this time served under three
