Burk Firemen Attend West Texas Fireman and Fire Marshals Meeting

Fourteen Burkburnett firemen and their wives attended the 70th semi-annual meeting of the West Texas Firemen and Fire Marshals Association held at Munday, Texas, Sunday May 5, 1968. The Burk firemen turned out in good numbers but failed to win the attendance prize. They had won the attendance prize twice in a row in 1967, but had to settle for second place this time in attendance with 14 members out of 27 present, batting 51 per cent this time.

Burk firemen won several of the door prizes and did all right in the races in spite of some bad luck by being over anxious or slightly nervous from the tension generated that goes with a contest of this sort. The winners of prizes from Burkburnett that was drawn from the program and meal tickets were Billy Mize, Lois Thornton, Sue Luttrell, Pear Draper and Harry Elliott. Jess Whitley didn't have to compete in the drawing for a good prize as he won his good prize for being the oldest fireman present.

The welcome address was given by Jim Reeves, Mayor of Munday, and the response by Gene Robinson, the President of WTF and FMA. The main address was given by Clyde

The Million Dollar Round Table is a voluntary association of the world's top echelon of life insurance salesmen. Members have developed to the highest levels their knowledge and counseling skills of life insurance as they relate to personal, family and business uses.

The Round Table is one of the most exclusive organizations in the world. Contrary to its name, however, it is not composed of millionaires. It does not actively seek members. Throughout its existence, high standards of service and character have established membership in the Round Table as one of the most coveted honors to be attained by a life insurance agent.

The exclusive aspect of the Round Table is reflected in the fact that the membership comprises about one per cent of all life insurance salesmen. Contrary to the concept of most professional associations and social clubs, the members of the Million Dollar Round Table must prove themselves every year.

In 1967 there were 923 Life Members in the entire world. Burkburnett has one of these 923 members in T. M. Cornelius. He resides at 111 Tejas.

SCREWWORM SITUATION

Screwworm cases in Texas continue to crop up in South Texas. If cases go undetected, they could mean trouble ahead for livestock producers further to the north and west. Officials of the eradication program urge livestock producers to continue sending in worm samples from all animal wounds. Once a case is located immediate treatment of the area with insecticides can stop further spread of the pest. Be alert.

MOTHER'S DAY

We're not much for campaigning for this cause or that. We think the editorial page is a place for talking about the issues that we face, as individuals and as a nation. We do have an idea we'd like to pass along for this Mother's Day.

When dawn breaks on May 12, there will be 82 mothers in our midst who won't be hearing from sons, or wives who won't be hearing from the fathers of their children. They are the mothers and wives who keep the lonely, prayerful vigil for the men of the USS Pueblo.

There has been an unbroken chain of empty days for these mothers and wives nor has it been eased by the seeming indifference that flows from official Washington. Newsmen who persist in asking about the state of negotiations are greeted with a response more nearly a snarl than anything else, as if it were improper to continue to ask.

It seems to us that just about the most rewarding thing that an American could do this Mother's Day would be to sit down and write a note of gratitude and condolence to the mother of a Pueblo captive. Of course, we don't have any names and addresses to print here. They haven't been released by Washington. The Communists have the names and addresses to be sure, and these mothers can be bombarded with hate mail by minions of their tormentors. But we who share their grief are not afforded the information which the enemy has.

The Navy Department in Washington has all the names and addresses; your Congressman probably can get them. Maybe somebody in the White House would even be so compassionate as to forward the letters.

In any event, it seems to us that a short letter to one of those mothers would be a good investment this Mother's Day. There's no need to be fancy or maudlin. Just say what their sons can't communicate this year. And even if the letter isn't delivered on the precise day, it will make its point and the waiting ahead a little easier.

Wouldn't you feel better if you wrote such a Mother's Day letter?

SEN. RALPH YARBOROUGH'S NEWSLETTER

This week I will discuss with you some facts about education for cold war veterans and the amendments I introduced a few days ago to my Cold War Bill of Rights.

After World War II, Congress passed the GI Bill, and under that bill about 8 million veterans—or half the returning GI's—went back to school or into job training.

That bill was duplicated for Korean veterans. In all, about 11 million American veterans of World War II or the Korean conflict have gone to school under GI Bills, including on-the-job training, flight training, and on the farm training.

I first introduced my Cold War GI Bill 10 years ago because it paid off for our country just after World War II and the Korean conflict. And I knew it would be a great boon to our nation for veterans of the cold war. I worked and fought eight years to pass it, but in 1966 the Cold War GI Bill became law. We had to compromise on many of its educational opportunities to get it passed, and so last year I introduced and Congress passed my Revised Cold War GI Bill of granted veterans of World 1967 to improve it. Today's veteran is still not getting the full education opportunity that was War II 20 years ago, or veterans of the Korean War a decade ago.

I don't believe veterans of today, men who served in that hot war in Vietnam and in other military posts, deserve second class treatment. The present Cold War GI Bill gives them the chance to go back to high school or go to college—or to accept on-the-job training on the farm training, or flight training. But unlike earlier bills, veterans today get only one month of training for every month they serve. Other GI Bills gave veterans one and one-half months of schooling for each month of service, and I have offered an amendment this year to give our Cold War GI's the same one and a half months of schooling for one month of service—the opportunities they deserve.

On-the-farm training was highly popular with earlier veterans. But the Veterans Administration has made the rules so tough under the present bill that no veterans have chosen on-the-farm training. I have offered an amendment to change the classroom requirement back to the Korean conflict requirement so that our Cold War veterans can get on-the-farm training. Hardworking farmers should not be expected to commute into cities 100 miles away, night after night, for 12 hours of classes a week after a full day in the fields.

Finally, the present Cold War GI Bill offers commercial flight training, but to qualify for it, veterans must already know how to fly and have a private pilot's license. It costs up to $500 for lessons that lead to private pilot licenses and so I have proposed low interest loans for veterans who want to become commercial pilots under the GI bill, but lack initial training. If they go on into commercial training, part of the loan debt to get into commercial pilot training would be erased.

These changes are aimed at giving veterans a better return to civilian life, but also at giving America continuing prosperity through a well-trained, well-educated adult population, and to give our Cold War GI's as good a chance as the Korean conflict veterans.

Elderly persons have more leisure time than most of us who average five hours of free time a day. And many have a problem using that time.

You might like to use this time reading and there are several ways to read a book. Talking books aid those who are unable to read because of sight or other physical handicaps. To receive the books completely free (and the postage delivered all material without charge) contact Texas State Library, Austin, Texas for information.

A qualified person should furnish a brief statement regarding the characteristics of his disability from a doctor, registered nurse, optometrist, professional staff member of a hospital or from a professional librarian. In cases of total blindness a prominent member of the community may write the statement.

Large type books, with some in bold print, are available also at the State Library. For those who are able to see, many pocket size books and paperbacks are available at a nominal cost. Free public libraries are another source.

First Aid For Gardener's Hands

HOW to keep hands attractive and comfortable is the theme of a new manual for gardeners offered free, in time for the gardening season.

The booklet, titled "First Aid for Gardener's Hands," recommends practical ways to care for hands and nails by the male as well as female garden enthusiast. It is available for the asking from the Pfizer Pacquin Division, Dept. FB, 235 E. 42nd St., New York, N.Y. 10017.

More Skin on Him

Did you know that the average male gardener has about 15 per cent more skin surface to protect on his hands than the average female?

Did you know that the average woman's hands get rough and dry faster than the average man's, because her skin is a little thinner?

The booklet advises gardeners to be careful about injuries to fingernails, and to treat them quickly. It stresses consulting a physician to avoid chances of serious injury to a nail.

First Aid

Quick treatment of infections with Pfizer bacitracin antibiotic ointment is also recommended. This handy first-aid remedy is available at all leading drug counters.

The combination of an open scrape and cut and garden soil is a direct invitation to trouble, according to the gardening booklet, unless treated immediately.

LETTER to the EDITOR

Stronger Laws Needed

Editor, the Star:
Not being an editor or professional writer, I have never written to a newspaper before, however after reading quotations from the newspapers, magazine articles and listening to a program on the subject "America is a Sick Nation," I felt compelled to write.

I do not feel ashamed for events over which I have no control. As a matter of fact, when Jack Ruby killed Lee H. Oswald, this repelled me as against our society, whether much as any stab against America's Laws. Our great law state: "A man is innocent until proven guilty."

We should not feel guilty for an assassin, but should feel guilty for not demanding that our laws are made stronger—strong enough to deal with people who commit crimes, violence, riots or any wrong acts they be black, white, red or green.

Some of the laws that are now pressured into being passed are wrong. They are wrong because laws should not discriminate against any American.

I like the majority of citizens in Wichita Falls, do not want to be classified in the same files as Jack Ruby... the Boston Strangler or any other persons who commit crimes or advocate violence. A few people are sick, but not our nation.

America, America, God shed your Grace on these... I thank God, that I am an American.

The first two copies of the 1968 Derrick (Burkburnett High School's Yearbook) were presented in dedication to Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Evans. Announcing the dedication and presenting the books is Glenn Gilbert, co-editor of the 1968 edition. The dedication read as follows: "With pride and gratitude (on behalf of hundreds of students), we, the 1968 Derrick Staff dedicate the 1968 Derrick to Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Evans, hoping that, in this way, we can convey at least a part of our appreciation for their years of dedicated service to the schools and students of Burkburnett."

day night. The TB stood for Tom Bullington of Munday who had opposed him for the DA post. In the race for 2 man pumper hookup and hose race, Seymour won 1st place in 14 seconds flat, Saint Jo 2nd in 14.5, and Burk 3rd in 14.6. Archer City drew a no time in this event.

In the 6 man pumper hookup Electra won 1st place in 18.4 seconds, Archer City, 2nd in 20.2 and Seymour 3rd in 26 seconds. Burk drew a no time in this event.

The next event was the 2 woman hose race for pumper hookup, Burk and Archer City tied for 1st place in 15 seconds each and Electra made it in 17.9. Burk and Archer City had a runoff for 1st and Burk had some bad luck when the nozzle blew off when the pressure was turned on. When this happened Betty Pruett got wet but automatically won second place with Archer City wrapping up 1st place in this event.

In the 6 woman pumper hookup Burk won 1st place in 21.6 seconds and Electra second in 31 seconds flat. The Archer City flames had bad luck in this event at a nozzle blew off and they drew another "No Time".

In the water polo a flip of the coin determined the winner each time as there was a high wind blowing right down the water polo cable and the team lucky enough to win the coin toss of position would almost automatically win this event as the team winning the coin toss would take the end with the wind, at their backs and could easily win over the best of the competition. In the first game Burk won the toss over Seymour and easily won. The second game Saint Jo over Electra and the 3rd game Saint Jo over Archer City and then Saint Jo played Burk in the finals and Saint Jo won the coin toss and easily won the trophy. Bud Harrison, the chief of Saint Jo Dept. and Nozieman in the water polo team stated he wanted to win the water polo contest for his 100 times even if it took the wind advantage to do it and he did just that.

There was no team willing to face the Burkburnett Sparks Water Polo team as the wind was high and the water was cold, and this made this one easy for the Sparks as they won 1st in water polo, by default and didn't use as much water as they would in just washing the dishes.

Burkburnett won the next spring meeting as they beat out Seymour who also requested the spring meeting. The fall meeting will be held in Sept. 68 at Saint Jo and the next Spring meeting in May here at our own Burkburnett.

There were two guests at the meeting who acted as field judges along with District Attorney Clyde Whitehead. The two were Richard Odum of the Texas Fire Appliance Co., of Texas in Wichita Falls and Fire Chief Tom Watson from Haskell.

Some good news was our neighbor Iowa Park is back in the association and Fire Chief Pete Shock stated that they hope to field a team and be in competition at the fall meeting in Saint Jo. It was stressed again for all of the cities in the West Texas District to contact their neighboring towns who haven't been participating and help and urge them to get back into the association and become active participants which would build up interest in each city and the citizens would be more aware of their own volunteer Fire Dept.

After years of disappointment in the search for petroleum in Australia, Petroleum Today reports that oil companies operating "Down Under" are now producing 25,000 barrels of oil daily.

Petroleum chemicals furnish the "building blocks" for making many drugs and pharmaceuticals, ranging from vitamins and tranquilizers to aspirin. Petroleum Today notes.

Gaslights and gas grills provide an extra room outside at low cost to enterprising homeowners seeking more living space in spring and summer months.

MOTHER

It is so important that a child feel secure and loved the first weeks and months of its life. Our foremost authorities say that if a child's spiritual and emotional welfare is neglected in the early weeks of life, there is a great chance of permanent damage to its personality growth.

Therefore, on this day, we honor not only the beloved mothers of our adults and youth, but the very young mother who has both the tremendous responsibility and the precious opportunity to mold the life and character of the very young child. May she seek early God's help, who in the person of the Son, said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

News From The County Agent

Hay supplies were tight at the end of the current winter season and now is the time to make sure the same situation doesn't happen again. The very favorable county wide soil moisture situation gives hay producers the opportunity to make large tonnages of high quality hay this year.

But, says the county agent, moisture alone will not do the job. For top yields of high quality, adequate fertilization is a must. He suggests a soil test as a guide to proper fertilization. Don't expect high quality forage nor good growth rates from hay crops which lack adequate plant food. Though soil moisture is good now, the situation can change in a hurry and proper fertilization will help the plants more effectively utilize available soil moisture.

The timing of the harvest is also important in the production of quality forage. Quality goes down rapidly as hay crops reach the mature stage of growth. Bermudagrass should be harvested after about four weeks of growth. Sudan myrbrids, Johnsongrass and others should be harvested before seed heads are formed. This growth stage is reached also after about four weeks of growth. Research has shown that the performance of animals receiving the hay is directly influenced by its quality. High animal performance comes from feed high quality hay and drops off as quality declines.

No reliable pest control operator will attempt to impress you with the urgency of immediate action. You will have ample time to investigate the reliability of the operator and to compare his diagnosis and estimate of cost with that of other operators. You may want to check with your local Better Business Bureau. Membership in a National or State pest control association is also evidence that the firm meets certain standards. Termites inspection requires much experience and knowledge about the habits of termites. A correct diagnosis is most essential to successful treatment.

A reliable operator will provide a plan of the inspected premises, indicating points of infestation and hazardous conditions and a written statement of the work he proposes to do and its estimated cost. The homeowners should understand what obligations he is assuming and what he is getting in return. The lowest bidder may not be the most reliable operator. If his work is not thorough and based on well established principles of termite control, the results may prove to be the most expensive in the long run.
