HERE and THERE AROUND BURKBURNETT

Mr. and Mrs. Neal Hall Sr. visited over last weekend in Dallas with their son. Mr. and Mrs. Neal Hall Jr. While there Mr. Hall attended a Philatelic Convention.

Mrs. Carl Miller and Mrs. Troy Miller left Wednesday a.m. for Brownwood, Tex., to attend the Miller family reunion and visit relatives for a few days.

Mrs. Rufus Redman who underwent major surgery about two weeks ago has returned to her home here and is recuperating nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Rogers and daughter of Malakoff, Tex., and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cox Edson and niece of Troup, Tex., visited their aunt, Mrs. S. E. Edson at 503 8th St., recently.

Miss Margie Ferguson of Fort Worth visited Miss Nathalie Foster here Tuesday and Wednesday. Miss Ferguson and Miss Foster taught school in Germany a year ago and had been room-mates while teaching in Fort Worth several years. Nathalie taught in Japan last year and plans to resume teaching there this coming year.

Mrs. Jesse (Fannie) Rice who resides at the Eastern Star Home near Arlington, Tex., arrived in Burk Wednesday of last week. When getting out of the car she fell and broke her wrist and is now recovering and being cared for in the Evergreen Manor Nursing Home. Mrs. Rice had made plans to visit her son, Leslie Rice, of Wichita Falls, who has had surgery in Temple, Tex., and has been quite ill. Mrs. Rice is a long-time former resident of this area.

Mrs. Lucy Drullinger of Yuba City, Calif., arrived Wednesday of this week for a visit with her sister and husband, Sylvia and Al Lohofener.

Mrs. Wallace (Dorothy) Robison entered the Wichita General Hospital this week for observation and checkup.

Mrs. Opal (Eoren) Callison left Tuesday a.m. for Dallas enroute to Singapore to join her husband, Robert E. Callison, who is employed by Lofner Bros. of Tulsa, Okla. Opal has been staying here with her mother, Mrs. S. E. Edson for several weeks preparing for her trip and the two year stay in the Orient.

Among those from out-of-town attending the funeral services of Mr. John Allison, Friday were — Mr. and Mrs. Leon Allison and family of Minot, N. Dak., Bill Allison of Comanche, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Kirkwood and family of Sioux Falls, S. Dak., Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Allison of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin McCreary and children of Tulsa, Mrs. Alice (Vaughan) Kidd of Thornton, Tex., Mrs. Lucile (Vaughan) Jones, of Denison, Joe Vaughan of Dallas, Jack Vaughn of Fort Worth, Mrs. Marilyn (Vaughan) Hartman of Dallas, Mrs. Margaret (Vaughan) Wittenweyer of Houston, Mrs. Callie Baumhardt of Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Monty McCreary and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bostic of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Monty C. Allison Jr. of Abilene.

Mr. T. A. Banning who has been in the Wichita General Hospital for several days receiving X-rays and treatment, plans to return home later this week.

CARD OF THANKS

Our heartfelt thanks to everyone who helped during the illness and following the death of our loved one.

For all of the flowers, food and other acts of kindness, we are truly grateful.

Wichita County Farm Bureau To Dedicate New Iowa Park Bldg.

Wichita County Farm Bureau's new office building in Iowa Park will be dedicated during open house ceremonies Sunday, June 20 at 2 p.m.

Participating in the ribbon-cutting ceremony will be Mayor Erwin F. Soell of Iowa Park and Raymond Schroeder, county Farm Bureau president. The building committee composed of Pres. Schroeder, Loys D. Barbour, T. J. Pace, L. B. Slaughter and Carl Moeller will be recognized. Other members of the county board R. L. Farr, J. W. Bibb, J. W. Tole, Frank Krajca, Newton Crane, Brack Preston, Jr., Norman Roberts, Ed Foster Jr., Robert Wilcox, Lloyd E. Bell, Floyd Brose and Bob Wittenbach will host the dedicatory ceremony. Charter members, past presidents and secretaries will be honored.

Located in Iowa Park at 520 West Highway, the buff brick building has approximately 1600 square feet of space, two offices, a director's room, reception area and snack area. The new building is the organization's third home, the first they have owned.

In November 1935, G. R. McNeil, county agent, called a county-wide meeting at Fair Park Auditorium in Iowa Park for the purpose of organizing the Wichita County Agricultural Association. The late Will L. Hodges made a motion that the county organization be organized and the motion carried unanimously. Walter Scott was elected temporary chairman from Iowa Park, C. A. Morgan from Burkburnett and Will L. Hodges from Valley View community. The annual membership dues were set at $2.00. Mr. Scott served in 1935 and again in 1936. Mr. Scott was the first secretary. Those present for the organizational meetings were: Will L. Hodges, J. M. McFall, Mrs. W. C. Williams, G. R. Mc-

Neil, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Loys D. Barbour, T. J. Pace, Sr., L. L. Kuntz, Swan Reaves, Chas. A. Morgan, Ed Foster, Sr., Mrs. James L. Barbour and O. W. Prechel.

Other presidents who have served Wichita County in addition to Mr. Scott are: H. J. Flusche, deceased, 1937; Loys D. Barbour 1938-42; T. J. Pace, Sr., 1943-44. Mr. Pace has served continuously the local board since the beginning in 1936 and presently serves as Secretary-Treasurer. Loys D. Barbour, 1945-46; Chas. A. Morgan, 1947; George A. Lewis, 1948-49; Wymore Downing, 1950-51; T. H. Eckelkamp, 1952-54; Ed Foster, Jr., 1955-56; Joe Price, 1957; Jack Brazeal, deceased, 1958; Terry Brogan, 1959; Frank L. Krajca, 1960; Carl Moeller, 1961-65; J. W. Tole, 1966-67; and the 1968 president, Raymond Schroeder.

While there have been sixteen presidents there have only been five secretaries during the 33 year period. In addition to the first secretary, Mrs. Walter Scott, serving were Mrs. Miles Hines, Mrs. Merle Wesley, Mrs. T. H. Eckelkamp and Mrs. Ruth Gard. Mrs. Gard has been secretary for the organization since June 1959.

With 15 charter members in 1935 and dues of $2.00 the 33 years have brought about many changes. The annual membership fee of $2.00 has changed to $10.00 and from a membership of 15 to the present membership of 630.

George S. Perry, Jr. was recently hired as service agent for the Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies. Kidd Auto Supply at 211 North Wall is the servicing agent for Farm Bureau tire and batteries.

Open house will be observed from 2-5 p.m. on June 30 and the public is invited to attend the dedication services.

BEAUTY CLASS OFFERED BY YOUTH CENTER

A class called Girl Beautiful will be offered at the Youth Center beginning Wednesday, July 10 at 1 p.m. The class will last until 3 p.m. and will be instructed by Sandy Wright.

Sandy, a licensed hairdresser and cosmetologist, will teach ways of good grooming and other facets of bringing out a girls best.

Burk Masonic To Install New Officers June 29

The Burkburnett Masonic Lodge will hold its annual installation of officers at the lodge hall on June 29 at 8 p.m.

Officers to be installed are: Loren Cole, Worshipful Master; Bowen Cox, Senior Warden; Billy Arrington, Junior Warden; Archie Faulk, Treasurer; B. L. Turner, Secretary; James Goforth, Chaplain; William Thomas, Senior Deacon; Robert Keene, Junior Deacon; Jack Mohr, Senior Steward; Jimmy Lindsey, Junior Steward; and Frank Germany, Tyler.

All masons, their relatives and friends are invited to attend.

Are You Game?

In old-time mansions, the very wealthy had gaming rooms where the silence was broken by the soft click of billiards. Today home owners usually section off one part of their basement or family room for table games. But the right kind of lighting can set off this area nicely.

Table tennis, billiards, and pool all require diffuse lighting. Because of high-flying balls in ping-pong, it's usually wisest to install recessed fixtures in the ceiling over the table. Two shielded recessed fluorescent fixtures each holding two Sylvania 40 watt, 48-inch tubes or two recessed fixtures with Fresnel lenses holding 150 watt bulbs are minimum requirements. If you're very serious about the game you play or are professionally inclined, three fixtures are suggested; one located directly over the center of the game table and one a little beyond each end.

Since there are no high-flying balls in pool or billiards—if you're playing correctly, that is—pendant or large-area surface-mounted fixtures are good and two will set the game table off decoratively.

An excellent way to get quality light for small cost is via two or three silver bowl reflector fixtures suspended over the table. Two 150 watt or three 100 watt silver bowl bulbs should be used. Any game you play is enhanced by the proper lighting; you'll not only see clearly why your opponent is scoring so well, but you'll be well illuminated as to your mistakes too.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to extend our heartfelt thanks to our kind relatives, neighbors and friends who were so helpful during the illness and passing of our loved one.

Many thanks for the cards, visits, food and prayers. A special thanks to Dr. Carpenter who was so kind and helpful, so we would fulfill her last wishes.

May Gods blessing be on each of you.

LETTER to the EDITOR

June 21 1968

Dear Sir:—

I am writing you to say that I won't be renewing my Burkburnett Star and News subscription this year because I am not able to read very much anymore because of my eyes and health. I have enjoyed the papers so much through the past 25 years. I wish you and your staff the best of health and happiness.

Thank you.

Central Baptists Return From Glorietta Camp

Training Union and Youth Week from June 13 through 19th, was enjoyed by youth from Central Baptist Church in Glorietta.

Three o'clock was a little early to depart but the anticipation and excitement of travel to take place, forgetting a purse, late sleepers, did not back set the trip much.

Clines Corner was an exciting place for trinkets, eating, and relaxing, and then it was only forty miles on to Glorietta.

In Glorietta Pass, 18 miles east of historic Santa Fe, New Mexico lies the Glorietta Baptist Assembly Ground of the Southern Baptist Convention. The twelve weeks summer program offers top level experiences in Christian fellowship, missionary endeavor, bible study and the promotion of recognized methods and plans for all phases of the denominational work.

Upon arrival at the camp, registration to apartments was quick and rest was needed by the counselors.

Conference programs offered the best in training, inspiration, worship and dedication. All afternoon was free to compete with other states in baseball, basketball, miniature golf, fishing or other forms of entertainment such as mountain climbing, horseback riding, ski lift ride, visiting in Santa Fe, or touring the prayer garden which covers 11 acres. It has flowers, beautiful trees, lake, benches, levels where water runs down the whole garden with walks on both sides.

The beautiful 3,000 seating capacity auditorium with glass tower with spiral steps going to the top and lighting was very beautiful every night. Bells ring from the tower in the morning for wake up time for everything is done on a schedule there. These bells play very beautiful hymns. Lighting, spotlights, musicians, organ music all finish off this beautiful auditorium.

The program for adult teachers on any class they teach at their own church can attend this class all week and learn the latest in teaching.

Southern Baptists have spent nine million dollars for this beautiful place.

Richard Jackson was one great preacher of the week from Phoenix, Arizona. He taught and spoke to the intermediates in the mornings. Seven went at different times in the week for rededication and one for a call for foreign services.

Church recreation was a class Mrs. Hodges and Mrs. Herring attended in the evening.

Those attending from Burkburnett were: Theresa Herring, Pam Richards, Cathy Davis, Debbie Cummings, Vickie Littlejohn, Lynda Bruno, Cathy Hawk, Charles Richards, Bill Hawk, Randy Allmon and Meedames Barbara (Hawk) O'Connell, Doris Hodges, Oletia Herring.

Capt. G. O. Young Receives Nation's Highest Award

SHEPPARD AFB, Texas — Capt. Gerald O. Young, a helicopter instructor pilot at Sheppard Air Force Base and the third living member of the Air Force to receive the nation's highest award for bravery, the Medal of Honor, was once again decorated along with two other members of the 3630th Flying Training Wing, Monday morning (June 24).

Col. A. K. Moore, commander, 3630th Flying Training Wing, made the medal presentations during ceremonies conducted in his office.

Captain Young received the Air Medal and first Oak Leaf Cluster to that medal for service in Southeast Asia from September to November 1967.

The Air Force Commendation Medal was presented to Captain Young for his service as a U-6A aircraft and UT-1F helicopter pilot while assigned to the 381st Strategic Missile Wing at McConnell AFB, Kansas, from October 1965 to April 1967.

Maj. Albert K. Johnson and Capt. R. Richard Muller received the Air Medal for their services in Southeast Asia. Major Johnson was decorated for his service as a C-124 Aircraft commander with the 128th Military Airlift Support Squadron from September 1964 to April 1968. The captain received the Air Medal for service as a combat crew member from August 1967 to September 1967.

YOUTH CENTER ACTIVITY

TEENAGE DANCE

A teenage dance will be held Friday night June 28 from 9 p.m. - 1 a.m. at the Youth Center. Music will be furnished by the Trenchmen. Admission will be $2.00 per couple or $1.25 single.

A First Aid Course has been scheduled to begin Monday, July 1 at 1 p.m. This will be a 15 hour course and is being offered FREE to anyone who is interested. Chief of Police, Buck Abbott, will be the instructor.

IT'S SHOWTIME!

The robin is almost obsolete. This traditional harbinger of spring has been replaced... at least for outdoorsmen. Now the earliest sign is the annual sports show — in progress or about to begin all across the land.

Though snow may be falling at certain-time, and ice-out is weeks away, the show is positive proof that fishing is a hot other long-awaited warm weather activities are near at hand, claim the rod and reel boys at Mercury outdoors.

Getting the jump on spring within the warm confines of an equipment-jammed auditorium is fun for the entire family.

Here's a chance to go boat-thumping, to dream of far horizons where fishing is always better, to fiddle with gadgets of infinite variety, and to longingly caress the finest wares of the sporting goods makers.

It's an exciting treat for the small fry, too.

Armed with shopping bags, they'll have a heyday collecting colorful literature of every description. This "look" has a habit of becoming a permanent part of a youngster's treasure, and woe to the mother who in-house cleaning tosses out a dog-eared motor or tackle catalog.

Reserve an evening or an entire day on the weekend for visiting the show in your area, urge the Mercury ads. You may come away a bit weary and foot sore, but you'll have a grand time.

ABWA Monthly Meeting Held In National Room

The Boomtown Chapter of American Business Women Association met for its monthly meeting Monday night at the National Room in Burkburnett with nine members and four guests present.

The speaker for the evening was Mr. N. A. Moore of City National Bank, Wichita Falls, speaking on the topic "Problems." He told of the many different problems one has in a lifetime — some with answers and some that are never solved. The question he raised was do we have faith in ourselves. To end his talk, Mr. Moore gave us this sentence for our thought of the day — A man is never so tall when he is on his knees before God.

Laura Todd, a dental assistant in the office of Dr. Carl Morrison gave us her vocational talk. She told about how to train children to brush their teeth and how to make the time rewarding as they grow older.

The chapter voted to send Mrs. Laura Powell as our delegate to the National Convention in Jacksonville, Fla., and Mrs. Ruth Larson as alternate.

The chapter thanked Mrs. Nila Eraden for the lovely display she had on Early Education for Heritage Week in Burkburnett. The display was in the Burkburnett Bank Window.

Our scholarship recipient Joy Stockstill, wrote the chapter a letter letting them know about her enrollment in TWC in Denton and how she was enjoying this term of college.

The meeting was dismissed by Mrs. Pauline Evans. Our guests were Shirley Cox, Judy Pemberton, Virgie Tobias and N. A. Moore.

CARD OF THANKS

Our heartfelt thanks to everyone who helped during the illness and following the death of our loved one.

For all of the flowers, food, and other acts of kindness, we are truly grateful.

Odin Lay is very handy at building things. His wife, Naomi, is handy at welding a paint brush. The talents of this pair have saved the Community Service Center $125 by donating their time and talent to building and painting a set of hollow blocks and special boards for the Day Care Center of the organization.

Material costing a mere $25 was purchased by the Center for the project. Had the blocks been purchased the cost would have been $150.

Made of ponderosa pine, the wood was sanded smooth, shaped and glued into hollow 8"x8"x8" — 4"x8"x16", weighing five pounds; and 8"x8"x16" weighing eight pounds. Hand holes were carved into the toys designed to build arm and back muscles of the tots who will play with them.

Boards 1"x8"x32" and 1"x4"x32", weighing four pounds and two pounds were also constructed and painted by the Lays. The boards will help the children to build more imaginative things with the hollow blocks.

All of the blocks and boards were painted, with non-toxic material, red, blue and aqua to help brighten the hours of play.

Mr. and Mrs. Lay, who reside at 1311 Shady Lane, used 50 volunteer hours to complete the job.

Mrs. Lay is chairman of the Supervisory Board.

Mrs. Betty Futch, director of the Day Care Center, reports that there is room for at least 11 more children who qualify for Day Care Center. For further information please call her at 569-1942.

WE VOTED FOR IT

Statistics tell us the country is more prosperous than ever but the practical experience of a great many people tell us the statistics are out of kilter. It is becoming harder and harder to make both ends meet. Family budgets are stretched thinner and thinner and, of late, wage increases show a tendency to lag behind price increases — all of which is inevitable when steady monetary inflation becomes a way of life.

Many well meaning persons ask, "Can't industry, or can't the farmer, or the businessman do something to restore stability?" They forget that for more than a generation the people themselves have voted time after time for the philosophy of more and bigger government. Whether they have realized it or not, they have voted for the philosophy of socialism. As a consequence, we live in a semi-socialized state, in which much of the authority for decision making in economic matters rests with government. In reality, political pressures now dominate economic decisions. Instead of business cycles, we have political cycles, which determine fluctuations in fiscal and monetary policies of government.

It is easy to blame the war in Viet Nam for our current troubles, but the war is not wholly to blame. And as to the question of whether business and industry can preserve stability, the answer is, they already have to a remarkable degree. Living standards are at record levels, and every resource of technology is being called upon in competitive business world to help improve efficiency and cut costs. But beyond this, the philosophy of the socialized state is the root cause of current instability — and we voted for it.

MULTIPLE USE

Much will be heard of the term "multiple use" with reference to land. The timber industry has supported the multiple-use concept as the only way the needs of an expanding population for both recreation facilities and commercial timber utilization can be met.

The petroleum industry is another illustration of the importance of multiple use, since petroleum must be taken from the earth where it is found — and it is found in some strange places, including the middle of cities, wildlife refuges as well as under the sea. The petroleum industry has learned to extract the black gold from the earth without disturbing either nature or man. For example, an office like structure in downtown Los Angeles is in reality an oil well. On Alaska's Kenai Peninsula, oil is being produced without disturbing the habitat of herds of moose, and in Texas, where the rare Whooping Cranes winter, oil companies have gone to great lengths not to disturb these rare fowls. And so it goes. This multiple use to the nth degree.

In a policy statement on the subject, the American Petroleum Institute said, "The Institute firmly believes in and strongly supports the concept of multiple use of publicly-owned lands under which two or more functions may be carried on compatibly. This policy will provide the greatest benefit to the greatest number of people." Yes, we will be hearing a lot more about multiple use. The petroleum industry is helping to show that multiple use is the best way for man and his environment to get along amicably.

A LOSING GAME

We don't hear so much now about a little inflation being good for the country. We have reached the point where even the most slow-witted should perceive that they can't keep ahead of the game. According to official figures, the U. S. dollar lost 3.5 cents in purchasing power during 1967. This year, economists predict the dollar will suffer an even bigger loss. Federal spending and the huge budget deficit are cited as the principal causes.

During the fourth quarter of 1967, the average per capita income after taxes rose $33 with all but $6 of it eaten by inflation. As time goes on, if inflation is not halted, wage and income increases will mean less and less. Keeping up with inflation resembles trying to run alongside an express train as it pulls out of the station. The race should be called off. Inflation should be stopped at its source. Federal spending on limitless welfare programs that will gradually become meaningless as federal budget deficits mount, thus feeding fires of more inflation, should be brought to an end.

LIBRARY CORNER

In most book reviewing sections of magazines and newspapers there is usually a section devoted to adult books which are recommended for young adults. We're going to try something different and see what kind of a response we get. For all you adults who are fed up with the modern novel, or for what passes as one, we would like to suggest a trip to the junior section. From the comments we have had about current fiction there are quite a few of you.

For those who like historical fiction we have among others: RED LION AND GOLD DRAGON by Rosemary Sprague a novel of the Norman Conquest; THE MARK OF THE HORSE LORD by Rosemary Sutcliff on the Romans in Britain; MY LORD BROTHER THE LION-HEART a tale of Richard of England and the KING'S CRUSADE to the Holy Land, by Molly Costain Haycraft (daughter of Thomas Costain); and THE MARSH KING by C. Walter Hodges — the story of King Alfred the Great's battles against the Danes. All of these writers are not only experienced as writers but are specialists in the historical fields in which they write.

A little different novel is EULOWIRREE WALKABOUT by John Kiddell, an Australian, which is about three college boys and the trip they make from Sydney to Adelaide (about 900 miles). Also a collection of short stories by Elizabeth Allen entitled YOU CAN'T SAY WHAT YOU THINK. We also have two classics which you have always meant to read, but which are quite forbidding in the original. Adapted they are fascinating reading — PILGRIM'S PROGRESS, by John Bunyan, and THE ADVENTURES OF DON QUIXOTE DE LA MANCHA

News From The County Agent

Brides and grooms have many official records to change, reminds Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent.

Working brides should make sure all the records at their places of employment show their new status. Failure to do so can cause confusion later in regard to state, federal and local income taxes.

In addition, check all insurance policies and their benefits which frequently are offered through employers or labor union. Make sure all the names are in order on the benefits.

Other records that need to carry the bride's new name are social security records, driver license and credit cards. These changes should be made as soon as possible after the wedding.

The Social Security office has a change of name card that must be filed. The main office issues the bride a new card with her new name.

A duplicate driver's license with the bride's new name can be obtained from the local drivers license office for one dollar. If license expires within 90 days then the license will just be renewed with the new name on it.

The change of name on credit cards varies with the company. The bride should notify the companies that she has changed her name. They will let her know if there are additional forms to be filled out or they will change the name and send her a new card.

Give the bride you know one or more basic small tools which homemakers use every day suggests Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent.

The list they might select includes these categories: Pots and Pans: A large chicken fryer; a small frying pan

(on which the musical THE MAN FROM LA MANCHA was based).

TEXAS READING CLUB is moving along and now have over 100 members. There is still time to join for any junior who can read 12 books before the second week of August.

with cover; one quart two-quart and three-quart saucepans; an oblong cake pan or large utility pan; a loaf pan; a covered casserole with pie-pan lid; six custard cups; and a coffeemaker.

Kitchen Tools: A measuring cup or cluster of cups; a set of measuring spoons; a set of mixing bowls; a perforated mixing spoon; one spatula; a rubber scraper; a paring knife; a vegetable peeler; a vegetable brush; a small strainer; an egg beater; a rolling pin; a can opener; a pancake turner; a long-handled fork; a grater. Some first additions: A cookie sheet; a cooking rack; a tube cake pan; two pie plates 9-inch size; two round cake pans, 8 or 9 inch size; one muffin pan; a teakettle; one or more salad or pudding molds; a potato masher; a wooden spoon; a utility knife; and a carving knife.

Tips on meat cookery for the June bride might include:

Meat cooked at low moderate temperatures is generally more tender, juicy and flavorful than that cooked at higher temperatures. In addition, there is less loss through evaporation, shrinkage and drippings.

Cook pork long enough to allow heat to penetrate into the center of the meat. Pork heated to 137 degrees is safe to eat but it's more tender and flavorful when cooked to higher temperatures.

A good test for "doneness" of pork is to make small cuts next to the bone into the thicker part of the meat. If the juice is still pink, it isn't done. For thick cuts, a meat thermometer helps eliminate guesswork.

Do not allow foods to dry on the broiler pan. Cool slightly and wipe grease from the broiler rack and the pan. Sprinkle with detergent, pour boiling water in the tray, and lay wet paper towels over the rack. Allow to "soften" while eating meal.

It is possible to misuse meat tenderizers. Adding too much tenderizer is not advisable because it is likely to result in meat that has a mushy, crumbly texture similar to that of tender liver. Meat is usually less juicy and harder to swallow.

NO MORE SLIP-UPS

The problem of lingerie that rumples under knits and woollens has caused designers' brows to wrinkle. Static electricity—aye, that's the rub, for when fabric and fibers rub together the "electricity" causes your slip to ride up.

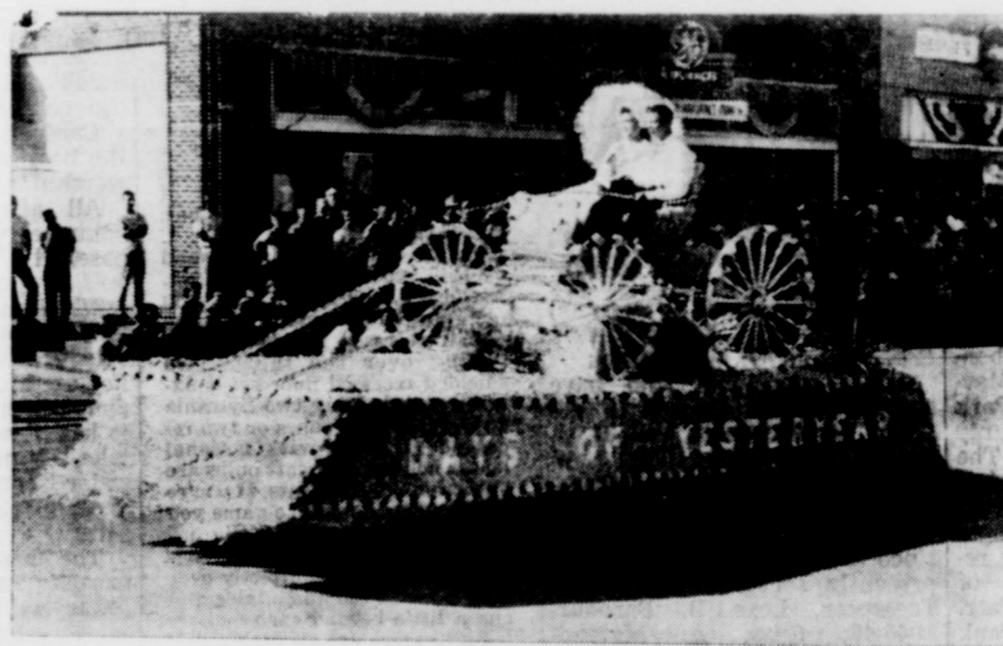

To ease this classic friction, a new idea has come between suit and skin—a static-free line of non-cling lingerie. Fabric and fiber companies have been trying for years to cut out the cling. Now Sears Roebuck has done it with Fortrel, a polyester tricot that is treated with a permanent non-static finish.

Knits look just fine when the slip is not a clinging vine.

VA estimates that six out of ten veterans may need to change beneficiaries listed on their insurance policies.

"WHY DO TOENAILS OFTEN BECOME THICKENED AND DISCOLORED?"

Unusually thickening of the toenails may be due to a number of disease conditions and injuries. These disorders, in turn, produce pressure on the toenail bed, nutritional deficiencies of the nail bed or root, inflammation, infection and disease or thickening of the phalanx (the small bone beneath the toenail plate). The toenail gradually becomes thickened and a change in the coloring of the toenail plate usually occurs. The result is an uncomfortable and potentially serious problem.

Diseases such as diabetes, arthritis, and hardening of the arteries sometimes cause such nail changes. They are commonly observed with psoriasis and acute eczema. However, infections beneath the nail plate are by far the most common cause of the thickening, distortion, and discoloration of the toenails.

Fungus Infection Blamed
The most frequent is the fungus infection. In fact, so common is this type infection that many podiatrists and the public generally equate thick toenails with the presence of a fungus organism, according to an Atlanta, Ga. Podiatrist, Dr. E. Dalton McLanary.

An article published in the Journal of the American College of Foot Surgeons stated that most of the patients having onychomycosis (fungus nails) share a common mechanical problem. That is, the majority of them have toenails that are entirely too wide for the amount of supportive tissue present beneath the toenail. This results in crowding or curling in of the sides of the toenails into the nail grooves. Such a condition makes it impossible to properly clean out beneath the nail margins. Dead skin cells accumulate in the nail grooves and remain there to decay. The decaying skin cells retain moisture and also lack the acid barrier which normal healthy skin has present to help resist bacterial or fungus infection.

Podiatrists Can Correct
This same article suggests that where thick fungus nails are present the problem may be corrected by permanently narrowing the toenail plate. If the nail plate is narrowed (by permanent sterilization of part of the nail root), it is impossible for dead skin to accumulate under the plate. Without the dead skin, the fungus has nothing on which to feed. Infected nails then return to normal thickness and color as they grow out.

Whatever the cause of the thick nails, podiatrists feel that it is essential that they be either corrected or controlled. If not corrected, they continue to gradually thicken until infection beneath the nail becomes severe and the bone becomes involved. It is not unusual in the diabetic or among the older patients for the neglect of this problem to result in blood poisoning or in gangrene. Even the loss of an entire foot or leg is not rare.

Detected early, thickening of the nails is a minor disorder which can be readily corrected. Neglect invites far more serious and possibly disabling problems.

SENATOR RALPH YARBOROUGH'S NEWSLETTER

In Texas there are 22 public senior colleges and 40 public junior colleges. According to figures released by the coordination board of our state college and university system, these 62 public institutions enroll nearly 300,000 students.

A recent study by the Life Insurance Agency Management Association showed that fixed costs — that is, tuition, fees, room and board — at 28 private colleges in Texas average $1,601 per year. That is double the average fixed costs at public colleges in our state.

Since the total four-year cost for students at private colleges ranges above $10,000 moderate and low income families in Texas must look to public colleges and junior colleges as the primary educational hope for their children.

In spite of this, the men who control the public college system in Texas are pushing for legislation to double the tuition at these schools. This is a cynical move to get more revenue while preventing young people from moderate and low income families from going to college.

In his June 16, 1968 Austin Report, editor Stuart Long, who has been looking into the reasons for this attempt to double tuition in Texas, reported that doubling tuition was directed not only toward raising money, but also toward "holding enrollments down."

It is not the rich Texan, of course, who will be kept out of college. The student with a Thunderbird parked in front of his fraternity house will still be there, for his parents will not even notice a $100 annual increase. But not every young Texan can afford this additional charge. In 1966, 84.1 per cent of Texas households had incomes under $10,000 and 46.9 per cent — almost half — had annual incomes under $5,000. Over one-fourth of our

Sunglasses Are Everywhere This Year

That old question of "Where are my sunglasses?" has some fresh and different answers this year. For those who follow the sun, specs will be placed atop floppy hats, tucked into the neckline of sweaters and the straps of bathing suits, and perched on top of the head—but they'll always be handy.

"Today's sunglasses have found their place among the most important fashion accessories," says Dick Huggins, Ray-Ban sunglasses designer for Bausch & Lomb. "And the sunglasses wearer will no longer have to sacrifice fashion for good eye protection. Many sunglasses are now available that truly guard the eyes as well as enhance them."

Favorites for eyes of all kinds this season include the big and rounded shapes, the ovals, and the squared-off Ben Franklins. They come in many colors and sizes.

However, when choosing these new sunglasses fashions, make sure your selection includes the real protection and comfort your eyes should have. Frames should be sturdy and keep their shape, color or finish — look for good fit here. Most important, the lenses should offer clear and undistorted vision—they should be of a dark grey or green tint for minimum color distortion.

Ray-Ban sunglasses use quality frames of high fashion styling. Precision ground lenses, made of optical glass, were especially developed by Bausch & Lomb to offer the most effective protection against glare as well as invisible infra-red and ultra-violet rays.

Where are your sunglasses? It's no longer a question. You'll spot them everywhere this year.

Special Holiday Safety Message

From the Texas Highway Department Travel and Information Division, Austin.

The Fourth of July, perhaps the favorite American holiday has become a traditional time for traveling. Americans take to the beach, visit friends and relatives and go on holiday outings of every kind.

The trend is followed in Texas, too, and thousands of travelers are expected to increase traffic on Texas highways this Fourth of July.

The Texas Highway Department works to make highway construction areas as safe as possible. Heavy holiday traffic however, poses additional hazards.

This bulletin pinpoints these construction projects. One or more of these may be in your area.

The Texas Highway Department urges you to call these construction areas to the attention of your readers and listeners. Repeat this safety message as often as possible during the holiday period.

Include a reminder to observe highway warning signs, and above all, urge safe driving in construction areas.

Your use of highway safety messages now and through the year is a public service greatly appreciated by the Texas Highway Department.

Low Care Rates High In Windows

Choosing good windows for your home is as easy as A, B, C. Modern wood windows are available, beautiful and convenient.

Today's homeowner can find a variety of attractive window styles — from contemporary sliders and casements to Colonial bows and traditional double-hungs — in stock sizes of ponderosa pine at local lumber dealers. They come ready to install and precision-made for easy fitting.

But, the biggest news is their convenience features. Among them are:

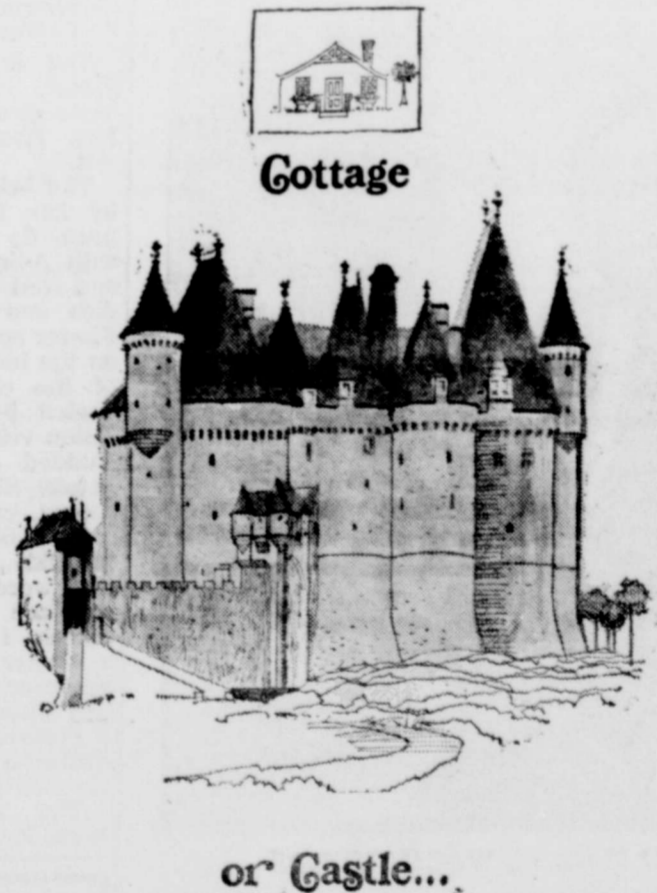

1. The availability of insulating glass, which used to be a custom feature, in all stock sizes and styles. This minimizes the problem of heat loss and high fuel bills that might otherwise result from the use of windows with large glass areas. It also eliminates the need for hanging, maintaining and storing storm sash, and cuts window washing chores by half.

2. Removable grilles, which give windows an attractive small-pane appearance, can be snapped into place over the inside surface of the glass. At window-washing time, they simply snap out to reveal one easily-washed pane of glass.

3. Many wood window styles are now available with lift-out or pivot sash for safety as well as convenience. Both sides of the window can be washed from inside the house.

4. Modern wood windows are factory-treated with a chemical preservative that gives them long-term protection against weather abuse.

5. Window hardware has also been improved. A combination of metal and plastic fittings assures smoothly-operating, non-stick windows.

TONI ELLIOTT MARRIED TO RUSSELL WARD, FRIDAY, JUNE 7

MRS. RUSSELL LESLIE WARD

The First Methodist Church in Burkburnett was the setting on June 7th for an exchange of wedding vows by Miss Toni Diane Elliott to Russell Leslie Ward. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Edd Elliott, Burkburnett, and Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Ward Whittier, Calif.

The Rev. Don Youngblood, Pastor, officiated. Baskets of white gladioli flanked the altar. Mrs. Maxine Creel was organist. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white peau de soie gown designed with A-line skirt. Alencon lace and seed pearls covered the bodice and circled the hemline. Flower appliques were also used on the neckline. The train, made of the chosen lace, was connected by a bow and her illusion veil was attached to pearl studded organza flowers and petals. She carried white feathered, carnations.

Miss Billie Jones of Marietta, Okla., was maid of honor. She wore shocking pink alencon lace over a peau de soie sheath. Her veil was held by a cluster of pink flowers and she carried a nosegay of pink and white carnations.

Fredrick Roughside was best man and Don Powers and Ronald Bianchi were ushers. The bride's parents were hosts for a reception in the National Room of the First National Bank. The table was covered with white lace and was accented with an arrangement of pink carnations. Flowers of the same color also decorated the register table.

Assisting were Mesdames Kenneth Sanders and Mike Hrazdil and Misses Dicy Wharton of Gainesville and Doyleene Crutsinger of Bowie, Debbie and Donna Hall, nieces of the bride distributed rice bags.

The bride was graduated from Burkburnett High School and attended Cooke County Jr. College in Gainesville where she was also employed. Ward was graduated from Lowell High School in Whittier and is in the U.S. Air Force stationed at Sheppard AFB.

A trip to California is planned for late July. The couple is presently residing at 420 Ave. C, Burkburnett. Ward will leave for Sham Stein, Germany in late August. The bride will follow shortly.

Why is the home an attractive target for the burglar? "Watchman, watchdogs, highly-intricate alarm devices have been employed by business, while homeowners don't even bother to lock their doors when they go out," says Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies.

Coffee, Tea, or...

The ritual of after-dinner coffee is delightfully civilized. After a well-planned meal, the tart, strong taste of rich, black demitasse is the perfect capping off touch. However, you're going to run into some problems if that's all you've provided. Before you can say, "espresso, everyone?", there'll be someone who pipes up, "I'll have tea if you don't mind," or "I'd prefer something cold to drink."

If you're set on showing off your new demitasse set or espresso coffee-maker, these requests are going to jolt you. But if you're a considerate hostess you will have prepared for this common contingency and have alternatives ready.

Some people adore strong, black coffee, but others can't abide it. Even if it's the unfashionable thing to do, provide cream and sugar. Some people will prefer after-dinner tea served in thin tea cups so make sure you brew some for this segment. There are individuals who love tea-served in glasses with lemon slices and lump sugar in the Russian manner—about an hour after the meal.

For many, a cold beverage seems preferable to a warm one and for those you'll want to have a good supply of well-chilled Pepsi-Cola. This refreshing drink should be brought into the dining or living room—both proper settings for the after-dinner sipping—in a pitcher or in the bottle. Some guests simply like ice water, so make sure you have some of that, too.

It's always the best policy to offer choices. While it might mean a little more work for the hostess, it can save strained pauses and awkward refusals. People in their infinite variety have vastly different habits. And there's just no accounting for taste.

Civil War deaths were 90 times greater than in the Revolution.

TEA HONORS BURKBURNETT COUPLE ON ANNIVERSARY

MR. AND MRS. W. W. CHAMBERS

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Chambers were honored Sunday, June 23, with a tea in observance of their golden wedding anniversary.

Hostesses were their three daughters, Mrs. W. H. McLean and Mrs. B. H. Alexander Jr., of Burkburnett and Mrs. Joe A. Bowles, Jr., of Austin.

The event was held in the Chambers home. The serving table was covered with a white embroidered cloth and held an arrangement of pink rosebuds, the honoree's chosen flower, in a high stemmed cut glass bowl which was a wedding present. Other appointments included an antique cut glass punch bowl and a coffee service, from the collections of Mrs. Chambers and Mrs. McLean.

Mrs. John Page and Mrs. C. D. Landrum assisted in hostess duties. Also present for the occasion were the Chambers' grandchildren, Burns and Cathy Alexander and Mark McLean of Burkburnett and Barney Fudge, a student at the University of Oklahoma. Two other grandsons, Lt. Joe Bowles, now stationed in Thailand and Wayne Bowles of Austin, were unable to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Chambers met in Kentucky where she was attending Kentucky State Normal School and he was an instructor in mathematics at the University of Kentucky, from which he received a Bachelor of Law degree in 1914. They were married at Mrs. Chamber's family home in Newburg, N.Y. on June 22, 1918.

Attracted by the opportunities in the booming Burkburnett oil fields Mr. and Mrs. Chambers moved to Burkburnett in 1922. Since then Chambers has been an independent oil and real estate operator and has developed several subdivisions in Burkburnett.

Chambers is a long-time member of the Burkburnett Lions Club and Mrs. Chambers is a member of the Current Literature Club in which she has held several elective offices.

Fact Or Fancy

In Grandma's day, there were all sorts of rules for hair care which everyone followed unquestioningly. "Brush your hair one hundred strokes a day... shampoo it only once a week... cut your hair to make it grow" - these were the words of wisdom that ladies knew by heart. But today we're asking, "Was Grandma right? Dermatologists who have taken a look at these well aged ideas say they "ain't necessarily so." One hundred strokes of brushing, for example, is too much. It can damage the hair and even yank out strands that may never grow back. Do brush, of course, but twenty strokes is plenty.

Another unwritten law that can remain unwritten - and unheeded - is the limit on shampoos. Grandma had good reason to forego frequent shampoos because she had to make her own soap and heat her own water - no easy matter. But the modern miss should shampoo as often as necessary. For oily hair, this may even mean every other day.

Normal shampooing doesn't injure hair, but other things certainly do. Overspraying, over-tinting, over-permanenting, tight setting - all take their toll. But while Grandma had nothing for damaged hair, her Space Age granddaughter has Gentle Care conditioner by Wella. Used right after every shampoo, Gentle Care's rich ingredients turn dry hair into soft, shining, well behaved tresses.

And what about cutting the hair? Will shearing it make it grow? Definitely not. Once it leaves the follicle to appear on the outside, nothing can be done to change its rate of growth. So if you're waiting for your locks to grow long, treat what you have with gentle care and remember what grandma used to say - "patience, my dear, patience!"

Generations

Isn't it grand when the whole family reunites on holidays or on anniversaries! How good to see grandparents and great grandparents and the new crop of babies. Seeing them all together gives you a feeling of continuity, and a sense of oneness with all creation.

It gives you, also, a glimpse of God's plan in the life cycle. When you see the off-spring of the patriarch grandfather, you marvel at the great legacy he is bequeathing the world. All the children that have issued from him are in themselves a great contribution to the world of mankind.

There is marvelous potential in all these spirits. The great things they will do thrill your heart when you contemplate them.

This legacy of lives and spirit can be strengthened, sweetened and nourished by the church. We invite you to take your family to church this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

It Pays To Creep Feed Beef Calves

Many beef cow men have found that by spending $7 to $8 per calf for a top creep feed for 90 to 100 days, they can get up to $15.00 per head more for their calves at weaning time.

Whether you're growing out feeder calves under range conditions or finishing slaughter calves on pasture, you will find it pays to creep feed.

Many ranchers say they like to creep feed because their calves wean easier, shrink less, are gentler and carry more bloom. Others have commented that calves are more uniform at weaning time with fewer tail-enders as a result. Some have listed the indirect benefits, such as more size in their replacement heifers.

Of course, to get the most from creep feeding, you need good beef type animals that will fatten when young. It will require time and patience for you to get calves started eating from a creep.

The best bet is to separate a few calves and place them in the creep. They'll act as decoys for the rest of the calves.

Here are some other tips on creep feeding that will increase your profit this year:

- (1) Locate your creep feeder near water holes, salt licks, or shade where cows and calves loaf regularly.
- (2) Calves will not go very far from their mothers for supplemental feed.
- (3) Mineral boxes should be attached to the end of the creep feeder.
- (4) More and more cattle producers find that if their creep feeds contain disease-fighting Aureomycin, they get greater growth and least-cost gains plus improved control of scours and foot rot.

At the end of a 112-day self-feeding trial in Colorado, calves receiving Aureomycin continuously in a creep feed weighed 61 pounds more than calves creep fed without the antibiotic. Result—the medicated calves averaged a 36 per cent greater daily gain and a 26 per cent improvement in feed efficiency.

(5) Once started, creep rations should be available at all times. Calves will usually start eating creep feed at 3 to 4 weeks.

No doubt about it, say many beef producers today—creep feeding tends to make a deeper, wider and beefier calf. Meaning—creep feeding more than pays for itself if handled properly from start to past weaning.

Chicken Festival Feeds Thousands

More than four tons of chicken were consumed at the recent 21st annual Delmarva Chicken Festival held at Onancock, Va. Feature of the Festival was the giant 10-foot diameter frying pan which fries 200 chickens at a time. Placing the first piece of chicken in the pan is Penny Adams, 15, at left; and spooning out part of the 1,075 pounds of shortening required to fill the pan is Kathy Hartman, 14. A total of 158 finalists from 50 states competed for prizes in the National Chicken Cooking Contest, another Festival highlight. H. C. Kahn, of the Crisco Home-Frying Bureau, a Festival participant, reports that Americans annually consume approximately seven billion pounds of chicken, for a per capita consumption of 37.2 pounds.

IDEAL

- Atatum design creates an ideal environment for a home swimming pool.

According to the Southern Pine Association, such homes are built around central courtyards where the pool is located. Since the house itself raises a buffer against busy streets and neighboring abodes, swimming and sunbathing can be conducted with complete privacy.

Col. L. Rice, Jr. To Escort CAP Cadets To Austria

SHEPPARD AFB TEXAS — Lt. Col. Luther B. Rice, Jr. chief, Base Operations and Training Division, 3750th Air Base Group, Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas, is scheduled to escort six Civil Air Patrol Cadets to Osterreischer, Austria, for the CAP's International Air Cadet Exchange to be held from July 21 to August 15, 1968.

Colonel Rice was selected from a nomination made by Maj. Gen. John M. McNabb, center commander, through an invitation from the Civil Air Patrol to Sheppard Air Force Base. He will be going to Washington D. C. where he will meet his cadets and undergo a general briefing programed by the State Department. After that they will depart for Austria, arriving in Vienna July 25th.

The 191 cadets, ranging in ages from 16 to 19½ and the escort officers participating in the exchange program were selected from units all over the United States by the National Headquarters of the Civil Air Patrol.

Numerous groups of cadets, much like the one to be escorted by Colonel Rice, will be hosted by 20 foreign nations around the world. These groups will be functioning toward the purpose of the exchange which is to foster and encourage the air-minded youth of the free nations of the world.

A plane coming in for a landing at a small airport thumped the runway, bounced high, smacked the airstrip again and bounced a second time. After the third bounce, it finally stayed down. Having taxied to the hangar, the pilot radioed the control tower for the time of his landing to enter the log. A quiet voice replied: "Which one, sir?"

Polyholder Questions Answered by the Institute of Life Insurance 277 Park Ave., N.Y., N.Y., 10017

Q. All my life insurance policies name only one beneficiary. My wife. Would it be wise to name a second beneficiary?

A. Usually, yes. A contingent beneficiary is someone you want to receive the money if your first beneficiary should die before you do. Unless you have named a second person, the money from your policy may be paid into your estate. There it may be depleted by settlement expenses, and may not even go to the person you want to have it.

Q. A few years ago I was terribly overweight. Instead of paying a normal premium for my life insurance, I came under a special risk situation which required that I pay about $5 more per thousand dollars of coverage. In the last year or so, under the supervision of a doctor, I've managed to bring my weight down to normal. Is there any way that I can also decrease my premium payments?

A. Life insurance companies are always happy to consider changes in special risk ratings when a condition, such as extreme overweight, no longer exists. You should check with your agent about a re-examination. If everything checks out, your premium will be reduced.

It is interesting to note that this situation cannot work in reverse. For example, if a person purchases a life insurance policy when he is at a normal weight and later gains an inordinate number of pounds, there is no loss of policy or increase in premium. The same is true of a person who on purchasing a policy is employed in a relatively risk-free occupation and then later goes into a hazardous type work such as deep-sea diving or test piloting.

One of the more common entrances for breaking into a home while the family is away is the unlocked window, according to Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies.

PRODUCTION UP
Production of Southern Pine lumber has increased for six consecutive years. The 1967 output—estimated at 6.7 billion board feet—was 18% higher than the 1961 figure.
According to the U.S. Forest Service, this rise can be attributed to improvement in the Southern Pine sawtimber supply, manufacturing and marketing practices.
"Available data on timber supplier indicate that further increases are possible," the Forest Service says. "Thus, a growing proportion of the nation's expanding needs for softwood lumber may come from Southern forests."

SNACKS FOR YOUNG PEOPLE
Most physicians face questions about teen-age nutrition almost every day. Many articles on nutrition emphasize the fact that teen-age eating habits are in need of improvement.
Girls in particular seem always to fall short of nutritional recommendations when surveys are made. Boys, on the other hand, often score well just because they eat enough in general to cover the recommended nutrients. The primary limiting factor in the girls' eating is, without a doubt, that girls want to be slim and don't properly select these foods and quantities that they do eat.
What Should Parents Do?
So what should parent do when it comes to the food habits of their young people? Particularly, what about the snacks young girls seem always to be consuming?
For one thing, parents should remember that food is more than nourishment. It is also related to social factors and should be enjoyable. Thus, for example, hamburgers and hot dogs — often complained about by parents — may not be the menace to good eating habits that is often supposed. Take a teen-age girl whose mother is concerned for fear her daughter's visits to the snack shop are taking the place of well-planned meals.
True enough, if meals at home, or at school lunch, are frequently foregone because of social eating situations, it can be difficult to keep track of what your daughter is actually eating. But an approach better than just worrying or griping about it would be to seriously consider with your daughter whether she is getting proper food on an
