Attend Austin Meeting

The State Association of Board members and the State Association of Administrators are having a joint meeting in Austin August 21-22.

Supt. R. N. Pierce said Wednesday he and perhaps some of the members of the school board would attend this meeting.

A number of interesting topics will be discussed during this meeting, and Pierce will select the ones he thinks will be of the most value to him, and attend. Several of these discussions will be going on at the same time, and he will not be able to make them all.

One Accident In The County During August

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated one accident on rural highways in Kent County during the month of August, according to Sergeant Frank Jircik, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed, one person injured and an estimated property damage of $1,000.00.

The rural accident summary for this county during the first eight months of 1969 shows a total of four accidents resulting in no persons killed, three persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $4,590.00.

With the beginning of school, the sergeant reminds all motorists of the state law regulating traffic in regard to school buses. "The driver of a vehicle upon a highway outside of the limits of any incorporated city or town upon meeting or overtaking from either direction any school bus which has stopped on the highway for the pur-

Plans Being Made To Cleanup Credit Lake

Credit Lake is remembered by many local residents. It brings back memories of summer days at "ye olde swimming hole".

Not so today. Today's youngsters know Credit Lake as a "filthy, slimy water hole, overgrown with weeds, and mesquite."

It is used as a garbage dump and houses snakes, mosquitoes, rats, flies and provides an ideal breeding ground for disease.

In response to recent inquiries by members of the Kent County Technical Action Panel, property owners of Credit Lake have agreed to permit cleanup of this lake area for use as a recreational site.

The Jayton Lions Club and many mothers contacted by Pat Nilson, Home Demonstration Agent, would like to install playground equipment, trash receptacles, lights, and water fountains, and a picnic table or two.

The cooperation of every citizen is needed to make this your park.

Committees will be organized by the Lions Club and the Home Demonstration Office.

Ideas are needed for type of equipment and facility layout.

Jaybirds Have Poor Night Against Roscoe

The Roscoe Plowboys parlayed seven Jayton fumbles and 466 yards rushing into a 32-0 victory over the District 6-B Jaybirds here Friday night.

The first score came when an unidentified Roscoe lineman pounced on a Jaybird fumble in the end zone after a scoreless first quarter.

Minutes later, Tony De-lorea returned a punt 70 yards for a tally, and Gary Rayburn kicked the PAT.

Reserve fullback Walter Hopkins scored all three markers in the final half on runs of two, six, and 29 yards, while Rayburn kicked two bonus points.

Know Your Faculty

by the Jayton High School Journalism Class

With the strains of the ever familiar "Aggie War Hymn" filling the halls of the old Alma Mater, even the inexperienced listener easily recognizes the great achievements of the Jaybird Band under it's new director, Mr. Keith Bearden.

Stemming from his desire to work with people, Mr. Bearden, a graduate of Texas Tech who completed student teaching under Mr. Doyle Gammil of Monterrey High School in Lubbock, generates a love of music in his students.

During his senior year at Tech, Mr. Bearden, former first trumpet for the Lubbock Symphony Orchestra for four years, was elected President of the Red Raider Band and of Kappa Kappa Psi, a national university bandmen fraternity.

Being a very active young man, Mr. Bearden enjoys hunting, mountain climbing, fishing, and sports of all types.

We hope that each member of our community will offer a hearty welcome to another of our new staff members at J.H.S., Mr. Keith Bearden.

Baby Sitting Can Be Fun

When you decide to become a babysitter, you're taking on a very serious job. But one that also can be a great deal of fun.

When it comes to the fun side of the job, you'll quickly learn that on your own. We would like to help you with the serious side. That is why there will be a course in Baby-sitting, September 22-25 and September 29th. It will be devoted to teaching "how to babysit" and the making of toys and games to take along in a babysitting kit.

The workshop will be in the County Extension office at 4:30 p.m. It is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and will be conducted by Pat Nilson, County Home Demonstration Agent.

Any girl or boy interested in enrolling in this free course should call 7-3345.

With training and practice most young people can become first rate sitters and this is what we hope to accomplish through this course.

Earl Brownlee received a knee injury in the Roscoe game Friday night. He was taken to Rotan Hospital where he received medical treatment for several days.

Letter to Editor

Dear Editor:

I felt that I had to write you to tell you how much I enjoyed your column in this week's Chronicle. I particularly enjoyed Senator Ratliff's comments about his having voted every time for an increase in the tax on cigarettes, beer, wine, whiskey and other unnecessary items, as well as a tax on filthy movies. Senator Ratliff goes on to say that he is proud of his voting record.

As you know Editor, a tax was proposed in the Texas Senate which would cover all the food sold in Texas, including the bread we all eat and the milk that feeds the babies of this state. I'm sure the voters of Kent County would like to know how Senator Ratliff voted on this bill. We haven't had many filthy movies in the county recently, but we do eat quite a lot of bread.

Sincerely,
R. A. Moreland, Jr.

Immunization Program In Texas Continue To Lag

Forty-three Texans died needlessly last year of five diseases which could have been prevented by immunizations.

In addition, more than 6,000 others suffered from the illnesses, which are preventable, reports the Texas State Department of Health.

What are these five selected diseases? Diphtheria, pertussis (whooping cough), tetanus, measles and polio.

The breakdown of deaths in 1968 show 11 from diphtheria's 131 reported cases; seven deaths from 802 reported cases of pertussis; 13 deaths from tetanus, which showed 17 cases reported; five deaths from 5,204 reported cases of measles; and seven deaths among the 22 reported cases of polio.

During the past five years these same diseases have cost the lives of 480 persons in Texas.

Biggest killer during this period has been measles, which has accounted for 170 victims in the past five years. A thorough statewide campaign against measles has cut the death total from 68 in 1964 to five in 1968 and 71,629 reported cases in 1964 to 5,204 last year, dramatically showing the success of immunization efforts. Complete eradication of measles appears possible.

Total reported diphtheria cases in the past five years was 294 with 41 deaths. During the same period 3,693 cases of pertussis were reported brought the five-year total to 141.

These deaths, State Health Department authorities say, indicate the continuing need for intensified efforts by private physicians, public health personnel and civic leaders to insure attainment of adequate immunization levels against these diseases in Texas.

Winter Brings Rats And Mice,

With cold weather approaching, Texans may have some unwelcome guests—rats and mice—in their homes and business establishments this winter unless precautions are taken, advises the Texas State Department of Health.

In addition to causing economic loss, these guests also are a serious menace to the health of their benefactors. A costly, common enemy, the rat contaminates everything it touches and destroys upwards of a billion dollars worth of food and property each year in this country. Another loss is caused by rats gnawing insulation from electric wires with a resultant fire. It is estimated that five to 25 per cent of fires of unknown origin on farms are caused by rats.

In Texas, the major illness from rats is seen in endemic (marine) typhus fever which is spread by fleas. Other rodent-borne diseases include rat-bite fever, leptospirosis, salmonellosis, trichinosis and rickettsialpox (a disease resembling chickenpox).

Rats may be controlled by poisoning or trapping. Trapping may be used with good results, and the dead animal can be disposed of neatly. Sometimes poisoned animals die in inaccessible places.

and the Speaker such strong powers in lining up and getting passed their programs.

I heard one wit talking this week about the subject of much conversation these days, that of "Sex" education in public schools. This wit said the government and others seem to be terribly alarmed about the population explosion, and offer clinics and gadgets, and what-not to the poor people, on planned parenthood, and birth control. And then they turn around and hold special courses for young people, teaching them the details and fine points of pro-creation. Great deal!

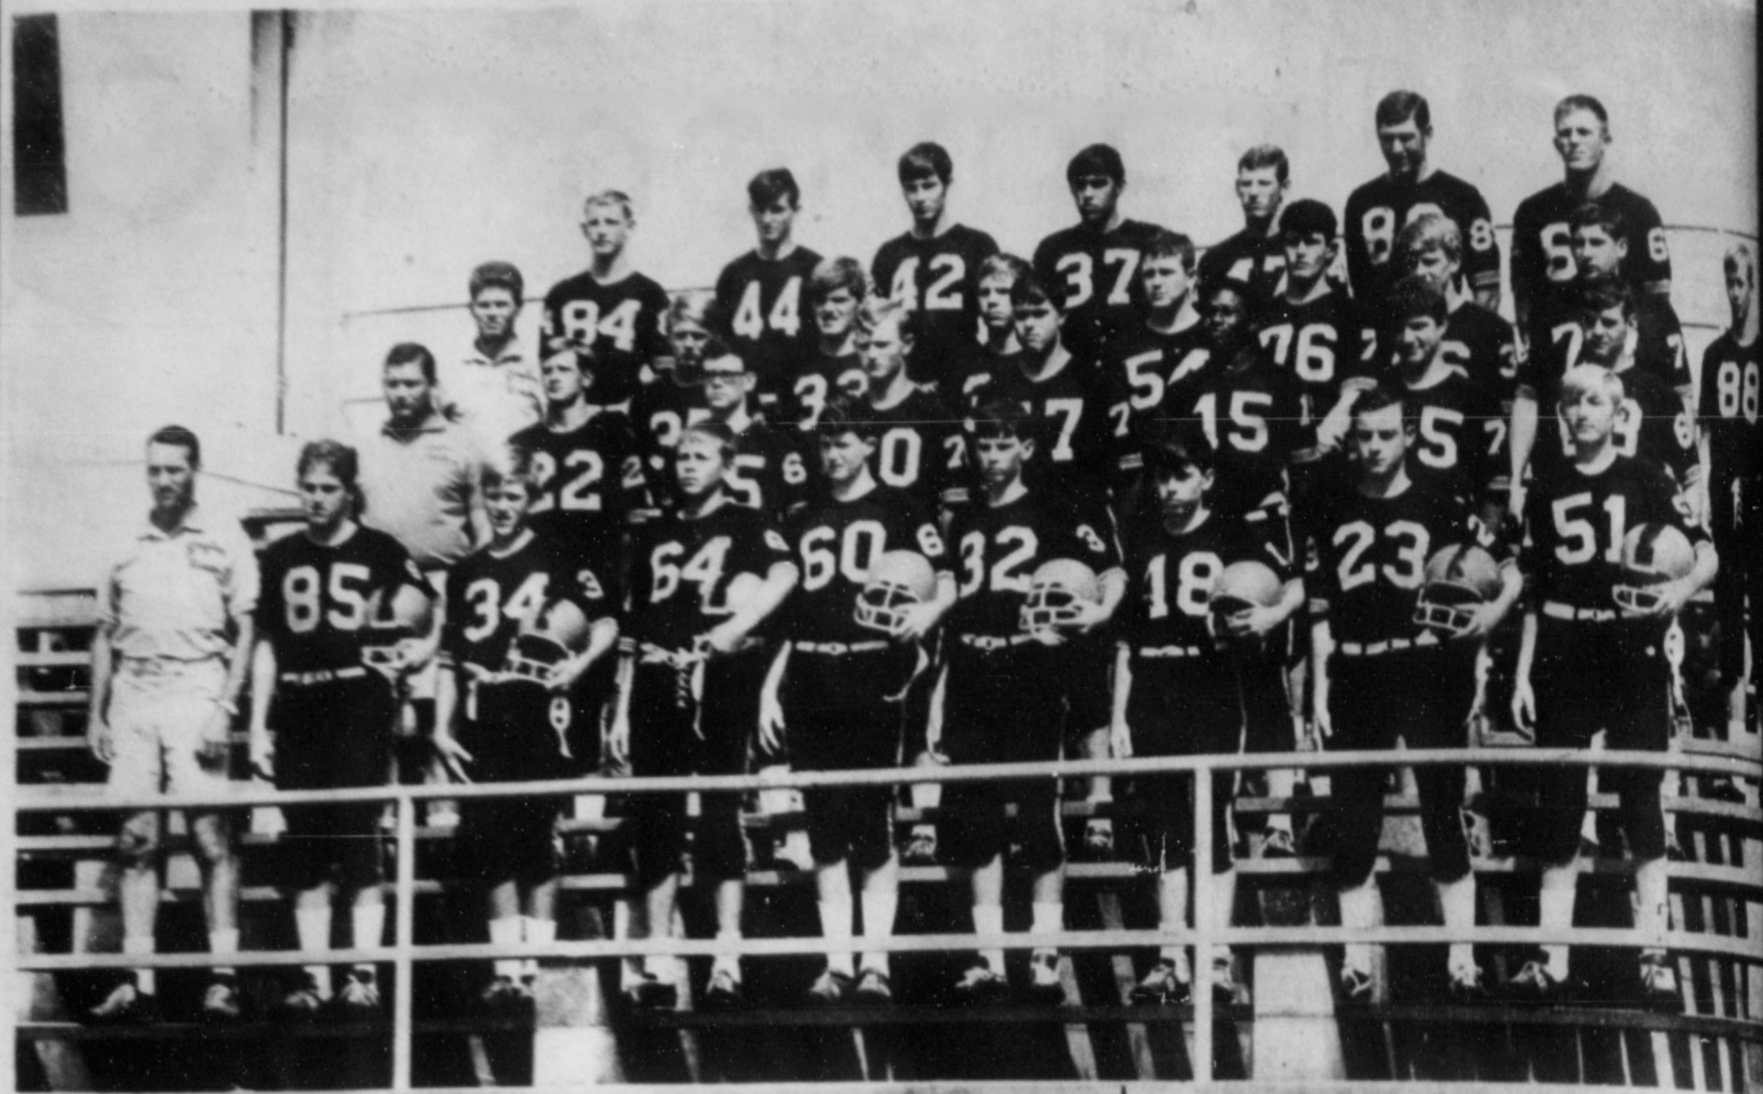

I also noticed in one of the daily papers, a quote attributed to the great church leader in Rome, Italy. Some one was questioning him about some trouble, or some problem he was having, and he is quoted as having said, "Well, after all, I am only human."

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Stanley and family and Mrs. Ab Ham visited in Sweetwater over the weekend with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Kidd had their son-in-law, Charles Bryant, of Oklahoma City spend the night with them Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Stanaland, Mrs. H. T. Stanaland left Thursday morning to take Mrs. Billy Stanaland, Shona and Mrs. Jody Stanaland to Meridian, Mississippi where Billy and Jody are at work.

THE LAND AND THE PEOPLE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Jim has a college degree in agriculture—Helen, a diploma from junior college. And they're back on the land.
Less than five miles from the farm where they'll start their married life is a church. They'll be part of it.
For they know the greatness of the nation in which they were born; a greatness rooted in the land and the people.
It's the same land their forefathers tilled. It's got to be the same kind of people.
That's why there's a church less than five miles away . . . and why they'll be part of it.

Two well known men who made the headlines for years died last week. Everett Dirksen, a United States Senator, and Ho Minh, Dictator of China. Although the governments of the United States and China time out to pay tribute to these two men, and our government and allies called for a day halt in the fighting of a deadly enemy, we still have the notion that slowing the fighting just to satiate the enemy makes little sense.

Mr. L. C. Sherer was taken to the hospital at Aspermont last Monday very ill. He underwent a blood transfusion and was feeling much better on Wednesday, our last day.

This country has been blessed with fine rains. It is raining straight down at the moment.

Word comes from Mrs. Barton Down in Austin that she is getting along real well after surgery. One of her legs was removed recently due to an infection.

Nineteen Kent County parents were on hand at Home Ec. Cottage last Thursday night for their regular meeting. Officers were elected for another year and other business was handled. Sandwiches, cake, pie, coffee and tea were served to the group, and then, the minoes and fun began.

Mrs. Hugh Turner has spent the last three weeks in Lubbock with her daughter and grandchildren. Like this bubbler, ole' Hugh has had a good time of "batching".

Read in the News where the new cars for 1970 will be another $125 or more per car. Yet, profits for 1969 were greater than in 1968. It appears to the average American that they are again taken on a costly ride and again being robbed without a gun.

Woodrow Hodges and George Darden had business at Spur last Thursday.

All this fine rain is really good on the wheat, oats, barley, etc. recently planted. When I sowed some oats (not wild oats) just one day before the good rain started.

J. C. (Pete) White, who has been ill for quite some time, recently underwent surgery again in Lubbock. Both feet have been removed due to infection and his condition remains serious.

Thanks to Mrs. Hartene North and Odell Harrison of Jayton who are new subscribers to the Texas Spur, and to Carlos Dickerson for a renewal of the paper.

George Darden visited Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Pickton in Hamlin last Friday. He also visited Mr. L. C. Sherer in the Aspermont hospital.

The folks in this neck of the woods will be happy when the hospital at Spur is again in operation. Last Friday I visited in the hospital in Aspermont and Hamlin and watched the folks come and go for medical attention. It just makes good sense for people in this part of the country to want a good hospital close to home.

The Elbert Walkers and the Raymond Hoopers attended the West Texas Fair in Abilene one day last week. They all reported a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hooper visited her mother, Mrs. Homer Wilson, in Lubbock one day last week.

Visiting in the M. A. Darden home last Saturday were their grandson and wife, the David Dardens, from Dallas.

A good letter comes from the Pete Sherers who are temporarily making their home in Tucumcari, N.M.

The George Dardens returned to their home last Sunday after attending a wedding of their granddaughter in Crane. Mrs. Sim Reeves accompanied the Dardens home for a visit. Mrs. Reeves' home is Ft. Stockton.

And, from the Free State of Kent, that's it folks.

Mrs. Rex Alexander, Mickey and Pat Ball returned home last Friday from Dallas after taking her mother, Mrs. Mary Cade, home.

Frankie Harrison was home from Methodist Nursing School to spend the weekend with her parents, the Odell Harrisons.

Student Council Members for 1969-70 are Rickey Hall, president; Roy Dodds, sponsor; Denis Cheyne and Randy Hall, 12th; Nickey Williams and Susan Wallace, 11th; Harold Judy and Karen Ewing, 10th; Bill Parks and Stephanie Owens, 9th; Becky Brownlee, 8th; and Disney Burrow, 7th grade.

Olga Garcia Is Winner of Football Contest

The Jayton Chronicle football contest this week ended up in a seven way tie. Seven people missed four games each. When the tie breaker game was used to determine the winner, it came out Olga Garcia, right on the nose with 33 points. Tommy Ewing was second 1 point off, and Nickey

Williams third, 3 points off.

If you didn't enter last week, be sure and get in. There are no experts, as you can see, with the closest being four losses.

Get your entry to the Chronicle office by 5 p.m. Friday (today) or get it postmarked by 5 p.m. for $3, $2, and $1 prizes. It is a lot of fun, and anyone is liable to win.

D. P. Graves Funeral

Funeral services were held Friday, August 29, at 10 a. m. in the Girard Baptist Church for Douglas P. Graves, 75, a retired civil service worker.

Mr. Graves died in Annona where he had lived since his retirement in 1957. He was a former resident of Girard.

He was a member of the American Legion, Masonic Lodge and a Veteran of World War I.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Oma Graves, Annona; one daughter, Mrs. Buddy Page, Annona; four sisters, Annie Wagley, Plains; Maggie Jones and Lillian McCrae, Floydada; and Sisolou Fambrough, Breckenridge; one grandchild and one great grandchild.

Pallbearers included Calvin Simmons, Eudell Cooper, Linden Cooper, Burl Page, Marvin Coats, and Floyd Barnett.

Interment was in the Girard Cemetery.

Mrs. Conner is in the Rotan Hospital receiving medical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hancock have returned from California after visiting with their son, Mr. and Mrs. Billie Glenn Hancock and family.

Cattlemen's Roundup For Crippled Children Set Here

A cattle sale will be held Monday, September 29, in Abilene at 1:00 p. m. by the ranchers and farmers who give their time and cattle to help the West Texas Rehabilitation Center for Crippled Children.

Howard W. Goswick has volunteered his services to carry any livestock to Abilene for this worthy cause. You may contact him by calling Jayton 237-3086. You may also call George Branch or Bilby Wallace in making arrangements for the transportation of the cattle. Be sure to make arrangements early so there will not be a delay in getting the cattle to the Round-Up.

Some Notes On Taxes

It's customary for a lot of housewives to take a part-time job shortly after they have bundled the kids off to school in September. This contributes to the family budget and gets mama back into the excitement of the business world and away from housewifing chores for at least a little while.

Surprisingly enough, these mothers who work part time create more than their share of tax problems. First, the employer figures that the housewife won't earn enough to be required to pay any tax and he doesn't withhold. But, unfortunately the housewife—due to community property law in Texas—has already earned enough to owe taxes—due to her half of the husband's income, and the law requires withholding regardless of the amount.

The second problem comes from the housewife claiming her own exemption on her W-4 form without having her husband drop her as an exemption on his W-4. This usually results in the family owing a tax at the end of the year. It is better on a part-time or temporary job of this type for her to claim "0" as her exemptions and let the husband's withholding continue unchanged.

And, finally, some

housewives happily sign the joint return with their husband on his earnings, and file a separate return and claim a refund on their temporary or part-time earnings. The computer has a program all ready to send the housewife and her husband a notice of audit. You can't file separate returns in Texas without splitting the income and the withholding and deductions for both spouses.

Official Memorandum

By PRESTON SMITH
Governor of Texas

AUSTIN, TEXAS

GREETINGS:

Agriculture continues to be a basic and vital part of our expanding economy. Capable and well-educated leadership is needed to maintain and improve the efficiency of American agricultural production, to the end that both producers and consumers will be greatly benefited.

The State Association of Young Farmers of Texas is organized through the vocational agriculture program in the public schools for the purpose of providing continued educational opportunities for young farm families in a complex and rapidly changing business. Young Farmers, while working to increase their skill and efficiency in their chosen agricultural careers, are also carrying on many chapter activities designed to improve their communities, state and nation. Capable and well-educated rural leaders are being developed, and good citizenship is being promoted.

The past achievements of the State Association of Young Farmers of Texas merit public recognition and public cooperation in their current activities.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of September 20-27, 1969, as in Texas, and urge all citizens to join in appropriate observance.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this _____ day of Aug., 19 69

Jayton Key Rate Increase Slated

Reporter-News Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — A three-cent raise in the fire insurance key rate for Jayton will mean an additional burden for fire insurance buyers in that city from Monday as a result of the discontinuance of the night watch service.

The State Board of Insurance set the key rate for Jayton at 66 cents, up from the previous 63 cent rate. Earlier in the year, Jayton had their key rate lowered from 69 cents to 63 because of water works repairs. The state agency arrives at the key rate through a system of charges for fire hazards and credits for fire prevention practices in the city.

Jayton had a total of 72 cents in charges, due to deficiencies in the water works, water mains, fire hydrants, pumping station, fire apparatus, and building laws as well as having a wholly volunteer fire department, inadequate fire apparatus, no fire alarm system, principle streets in the resident and mercantile districts not paved, and conflagration hazards in the mercantile district of overhead wires and frame ranges, and combustible roofs in the residence sections.

Then it got a number of credits. They were one per cent for having at least one 100 gallon booster tank extra, two per cent for having one standard separate booster tank truck with 200 gallons, three per cent for fire prevention and principles of fire insurance in all public schools, and two per cent for maintaining an arson reward. Jayton lost some credit for discontinuing the night watch service. This totaled to eight per cent of credit, equal to six cents, bringing the total key rate to 66 cents.

Remember in 1964 when . . .

The first bale of cotton was ginned August 27, 1964. It was brought in by Jesse Arnold in the Duck Creek area.

The Jaybirds played their first 11 man game September 11, 1964. A winning of 20-0 over Rule.

Lady down the block was boasting to her neighbor about her highly successful son. "He lives in a beautiful apartment and wears expensive suits and he goes to Europe every year," she gushed.

"Not only that, he goes to a fancy doctor — he lies on a couch and he talks for an hour and pays him $25 a visit."

"Twenty-five dollars an hour? What do they talk about?" the friend asked. "About ME!" the mother replied proudly.

"I can't figure out our neighbors," said she to her spouse. "They have only one car, no piano, no full-time maid, they never go abroad, and she doesn't have any expensive furs or jewelry."

"Well," replied the husband, "maybe they have some money."

The newlyweds were driving from church to the reception. The groom pulled his bride toward him, put his arm around her shoulder, gave her a loving hug and whispered in her ear: "Now, Honey, what's all this jazz about you quitting your job?"

Gertie, the steno, was flashing a big diamond ring. "Where did you get that?" asked the boss. "Oh," she replied, "Grandma left $1,000 for a stone in her memory."

We are constantly amazed at those young things with their fancy hairdos and skin-tight pants. And the girls are even worse.

Said the kind old lady to the Internal Revenue clerk: "I do hope you'll give my money to some nice country."

"Father is pleased to hear that are a poet."

"You see, he tried to throw my last boy friend and he was a poet."

"Do you think it's the amount of money a fellow's father that's important?"

"Certainly not! It's the amount of the father's money that the girl has."

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS
BY VERN SANFORD

'Tis said that the sunflower is for the birds. But now it's also for industry.

Texas farmers within the past few years have learned that sunflowers are a valuable crop. Sunflowers are processed for their vegetable oil with a value equal to or better than soybeans.

It seems the program was started in southern Canada where a group of farmers planted a Russian variety. The flower is about the size of a breakfast plate, but when properly cultivated its production is heavy.

With a short growing season, the sunflower can be harvested and grain sorghum planted on the ground for a later season.

Birds love the sunflower seed. Where fields have been harvested with combines, there is a great concentration of doves, particularly in the fall of the year.

Last year Texas farmers harvested heavy crops of the seed. This was done through the efforts of the Texas Cotton Seed Crushers Association of Dallas. Seeds were processed at local cotton oil mills.

Perhaps the greatest concentration of the sunflower crop is around Pecos where some 2,000 acres are harvested. Other active areas include the Panhandle, the McKinney section north of Dallas; the honey producing fields of Uvalde and in Central Texas around Rockdale and Thorndale.

Dove hunters like the sunflower fields for their shooting. In the past these have been wild sunflowers, many of them not much larger than a silver dollar but a few are as large as a saucer. They grow in profusion along fence rows, country lanes and even low mesquite pasture land.

When they are near a stock tank, there is both food and water for doves and quail and the birds spend much feeding time there.

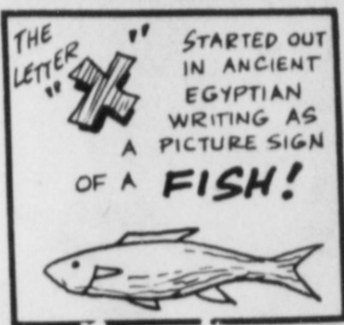

Of the domestic sunflower, there are several varieties. Basically, however, they are about the size of a breakfast or salad plate, not the large decorative heads that grow in back yards.

Seed for them sells at around 25 cents a pound and a pound will plant an acre of ground. They do demand some attention, however. They must be cultivated to keep out weeds and sprayed to keep down bugs.

They are harvested with modified combines, usually operated on a co-operative basis. Crop dusting is done pretty much in the same manner. County agents have been able to get good assistance for the growers and the same crop dusting equipment used in other row crops is available.

Sportsmen would be wise to plant a few acres of sunflowers in their favorite hunting areas. Although the seeds are much larger than the wild sunflower, they do attract the bird just as well.

All of which makes for better hunting!

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Murder Without Motive

"We've got to find the motive!" hundreds of detectives in hundreds of murder novels.

It is true that finding the motive points the finger of suspicion on the murderer. But motive is not an essential element of the crime. In the eyes of the law, a man may be guilty of murder even though motive is never discovered. As a court commented in convicting a man for an apparently motiveless murder:

Sometimes knowledge of the motive may die with the man, or be locked up in the last of the slayer."

Does this seem unfair? To understand the law's reasoning, consider an oft-overlooked distinction between two common words: "intent" and "motive."

Suppose a man enters a store, daily shoots the proprietor, and walks off with the contents of the register. He had both an intent and a motive.

His intent—that is, his immediate purpose when he pulled the trigger—was to shoot the victim. Knowing such an intent is indeed essential to the state's case. It would not be murder if the gun had gone off by accident.

But his motive—that is, his underlying purpose—may have been perfectly proper. Perhaps he wanted money to buy a new car. Or to take his wife on a vacation. After all, a desire to become richer is the very motive that inspires millions of law-abiding citizens in their daily activities.

Clearly, therefore, guilt or innocence should not depend on the underlying motive that leads a man to kill. Whatever his motive, good or bad, known or unknown, it is still murder to kill with intent to kill.

Of course, even though motive is not an essential element of murder, it may still be an important piece of evidence in a particular case. By showing that the defendant had a strong incentive to kill, it may help to convince the jury that he really did kill.

Thus, proof that the butler stood to profit from the victim's will, or that he coveted the victim's wife, would make it more plausible that he administered the fatal poison.

Motive alone is not decisive. But motive, when added to other evidence of guilt, may spell conviction for the defendant. And lack of motive, added to other evidence of innocence, may set him free.

Fish tale . . .

Word has gotten around that there was good fishing at the White River Lake last week. A five year old, Terry Foster, pulled a 1 1/2 lb. catfish out; and then, that wasn't enough. His mother, Merle, caught a 3 1/2 lb. bass. What I haven't heard is, just where was Lanier and what happened to all of that fisherman's technique?

TRACING FASHION TRENDS

What's the liberated look? It's the newest fashion trend among pace-setting young females who want the breezy freedom of a man's clothing without surrendering their femininity.

It's a look in sportswear that says women are "sympatico" with his kicky bellbottoms and versatile vests, but they still want men to truly "wear the pants."

The new "Spirit of the male" image, which is popular

For the "liberated look" try combining the bankers grey and white striped pants in 100% cotton knit, and a men's-styled denim body shirt. Both by Four Corners Sportswear.

among young thinking females of all ages, has been featured by such forward-thinking companies as Four Corners, manufacturers of young women's sportswear.

Four Corners, which has been particularly successful in keeping its pulse in beat with today's youth, claims it has maintained close contact with its audience by working in concert with a firm that serves the fashion industry by researching behavioral patterns and social attitudes.

Says Four Corner President, Milton Rattet, "Finding out what the customer wants isn't enough today. We want to know why she wants it, and who she wants to be both today and tomorrow." And today, research shows girls want the liberated look in fashion. It matches their new found freedom in career choice, sex and education.

4-Hers ALERT to

ACCIDENT PREVENTION

"Safety starts with you." That is the assumption of 4-H youths throughout the state. Regardless of where they live, who they are or what they do, they soon learn that safety pays big dividends.

These young citizens participate in the national 4-H Safety program sponsored for 25 years by General Motors. Scores of adults work with the 4-Hers as volunteer leaders under the supervision of the Cooperative Extension Service. For boys and girls to become safety conscious early in life is the aim of the 4-H Safety program, says a 4-H spokesman.

The program is geared to youngsters in the 9 to 19 age bracket. A checklist of hazards encountered in everyday activities becomes the focal point of many projects.

Right now during vacation time 4-Hers, and their families as well, strive to stay safe while they enjoy swimming, boating, hiking, camping, hunting, fishing, bike or horse-back riding.
