Minium Wage Law Gets Even More Complicated

A growing number of Congressmen and Senators in Washington are dead set on drastically altering employer-employee relationships in U. S. agriculture. And they have a pretty good start.

Beginning in 1967, for the first time in history, users of over 500 man-days of farm labor in any calendar quarter became subject to a minimum wage law. The minimum has now progressed to $1.30 an hour, which is the top under present legislation.

In December of last year Congress passed the Occupational Safety and Health Act, and it applies to agriculture as to all other industry. It empowers the Secretary of Labor to lay down and enforce health and safety standards on farm machinery, chemicals, buildings and anything else he thinks might pose a health or safety hazard to farm workers. Violation of a "Standard" could bring a $10,000 fine and six months imprisonment on a first offense. The penalty could be doubled for a second conviction.

But, according to J. D. Smith, Chairman of the Labor Committee of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., these are just the beginning. In the mill now are bills which would (1) progressively raise the minimum wage in agriculture to $1.50 in 1971, $1.60 in 1972, $1.80 in 1973 and $2.00 in 1974, and (2) bring agricultural workers under the National Labor Relations Act, virtually assuring unionization of farm employees.

The bill raising the farm minimum wage, by Congressman John Dent (D-Pa.), Chairman of the General Subcommittee on Labor, is cosponsored by almost all the majority members of the full Labor Committee. Also, House Speaker Carl Albert has announced the support of the House Democratic Leadership.

Hearings on the bill are slated for April 20 and 21. Smith says PCG will present a statement in opposition. He will also have a hand in development of the statement presented by the National Council of Agricultural Employers, of which PCG is a charter member. Ed Dean, PCG Field Vice Director, is a member of the NCAE board of directors.

"Not only does the bill raise the minimum wage for farm labor," Dean said, "it would repeal the farmer's exemption along with the exemption of other seasonal industry workers, including glass, oil mills and compressed air."

Several bills have been introduced to delete the agricultural exemption of the National Labor Relations Act. Probably the most comprehensive, and potentially the most damaging to agriculture, is entitled "Farm Workers' Bill of Rights." In addition to bringing agriculture under the NLRA, if passed this legislation would make secondary boycotts a legal tool in agriculture; would make workmen's compensation and unemployment insurance compulsory on farms.

"These pieces of legislation must be defeated if at all possible," Smith says. But he also told a meeting of the Board recently "It is no longer practical for agriculture to take a simple 'no' position on all legislation that affects our situation. There is increasing evidence that we can no longer hope to remain totally exempt from the labor laws that have long been applied to other industry, and our best chance now is in having an influence on the kind or kinds of laws that are passed for agriculture."

The NCAE is working with Secretary of Labor James Callaghan toward an amendment to the NLRA which would establish a separate Agricultural Labor Relations Board, and protection against secondary boycotts and strikes at critical periods such as planting and harvest time.

The PCG Board has adopted a position in support of the Board in its efforts to guide any farm labor legislation to the inclusion of provisions "for the protection of the farmer, his employees, consumers, and agriculture's ability to produce and fiber supplies to meet the needs of the nation and world."

COMMUNICATIONS

Scattered throughout these United States are thousands of men, women, boys and girls whose hobby is communication by means of radio. After weeks, months or even years of study and by demonstrating their knowledge and ability, they are granted licenses by the United States government to communicate with other radio operators. In addition to enjoying their privileges of communicating with each other, these amateur radio operators, commonly known as "hams," often provide very valuable services to the rest of the population. In times of disaster, when phones and power sources are torn down, they may be the only link of communication to other areas in search of help. They regularly provide direct communication between our servicemen stationed all over the world and their loved ones at home. They often report accidents and are instrumental in saving lives and property by getting aid where needed quickly. Without fanfare and without compensation, these talented hams contribute much to the general welfare of our nation. They are truly doing their part to support America.

Our priceless heritage embodied in the flag of the United States, is as alive today as it was when written for the ages in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. It stands for all the world to see and for all Americans to cherish. And in the tradition of Washington, Jefferson, and Hamilton, we, too, have a privilege, a right, and a duty. While we may disagree as to the methods, we should not disagree as to the goal—that of preserving the greatest democratic society the world has ever known.

Our flag is a symbol, not of sentiment, but of history, the history of men and women willing to live and die for it. Surely this willingness is with us still, because daily we experience more of the blessings that are ours—ours because we are Americans.

Land Bank Lowers Its Interest Rates

John C. Storey, Manager of the Federal Land Bank Association of Spur, announced today that the Federal Land Bank of Houston will reduce the interest billing rate on variable rate loans to 7 1/2%. "This reduction will be effective on installments maturing on or after June 1, 1971 and affects more than $110 million in variable rate loans to over 3200 Texas farmers and ranchers," stated Storey.

The variable rate loan, which was introduced by the Houston Bank in July 1969, lets the interest rate "float" over the variations in the money market. This is the second time since January 1 that the billing rate has been reduced and the third such reduction in the past year. "This action is in line with the Bank's policy in providing farmers and ranchers credit at the lowest possible cost consistent with sound business practices," Mr. Storey stated.

The Federal Land Bank of Houston makes long term real estate loans on farm and ranch lands throughout Texas. The Bank has over $540 million in volume of loans outstanding. The local association makes and services loans in Kent County.

Members of the local board of directors are:

- Coy Morris, Afton, C. P. Witt, Spur, Tom Wilson, Girard, M. V. Jay, Jayton, B. F. Hoy, Aspermont and M. L. Bilberry, Aspermont.

NIXON ON CRIME

President Nixon reported recently the Administration's anti-crime program is showing results. Serious crimes committed last year declined in 23 cities of more than 100,000 population. Other cities also show a downward trend.

ON FARM-DECLINE

The Agriculture Department has reported the number of farms in the United States are not declining at the rate of the long-term slide in the past. Department experts estimate farms in the United States are down less than two per cent this year from 1970 figures.

MORE FOR CANCER STUDY

A government official has reported that President Nixon plans to spend $28-million more for cancer research in the current fiscal year than was originally planned. Congress appropriated $230-million for cancer—$28-million more than the President requested—and the full amount will be used in fiscal 1971.

Clarendon College To Honor Ex-Students

Ex-Students from the Falls area are invited to attend the first combined Ex-Student Association Reunion to be held on the new Clarendon College campus here April 30, May 1 and 2.

A search is being made for ex-students of Clarendon College dating back to 1898 when the college was first organized. Clarendon College is located in the rolling plains at the eastern edge of the Texas Panhandle, a stone's throw from the new Greenbelt Lake and an hour's drive from Amarillo.

The college was organized and operated by Texas Methodists until 1923 when the church moved its facilities to Abilene to form McMurray University. The Clarendon College property was purchased by the people of Clarendon and continued to operate as a locally-supported school until recent years when it obtained additional support with a brand-new campus as a Texas junior college.

One of the highlights of the reunion will be the presentation of the famed musical "Oklahoma" by the college drama department Friday night, April 30 following registration and visitation during the day.

Saturday, May 1 will be for late registrants with coffee and visitation at the cafeteria while the first official meeting will be held at 10 a. . . The afternoon schedule calls for art and artifact shows, golf tournaments, tea sessions, tours of the new Clarendon campus and nearby Greenbelt Lake and Country Club. The annual banquet and dance will conclude festivities Saturday night while visitors will be invited to attend the church of their choice Sunday morning and enjoy a noon luncheon at the college cafeteria.

Herd Performance To Be Stressed At Meeting

Area Emphasis Promotion and Guide Lines Herd Performance Records will be the subjects under discussion at a special meeting of the West Texas Polled Hereford Association to be held in cooperation with the Texas PHA, at 7 p. m. Saturday evening, April 24, at the Holiday Inn in Brownwood.

A two point program has been planned, the first part on developing and using both identification and performance records in a registered cow herd and the second part on promotion and merchandising of purebred cow herds in order to fully develop potential markets, according to Sam Swann, Merkel, President of the West Texas PHA.

The meeting is related to the American Polled Hereford Association's Area Emphasis Program implemented last year to guide the efforts of the individual Polled Hereford breeders in promoting the sale for their own cattle.

Your Ford Dealer's got the right cars right now.

Price is only part of a good deal. It's what you get for your money that counts. And your Ford Dealer can do justice to you on both scores.

independent survey. Maverick offers a choice of 2-door, 4-door and sporty Grabber. And now there's a V-8 to go with three economical Sixes.

Ford LTD gives you the strength and luxury of cars costing hundreds of dollars more and a quiet ride that many of the more expensive cars can't measure up to. Maybe that's why LTD is tops in its class in sales.

TO THE EDITOR

I just want to say that in order to correct a possible erroneous impression, that Joe E. Thompson placed in the Railroad History book in the School Library, and dedicated it to the memory of John Martin Johnson. I just happened to have a picture of the early Jayton Railroad Station, Adolphus Moreland

Over the past years, anyone who has ever been in New York remembers the famed Flatiron Building, no longer in existence, of course. When it was built, it was New York's first skyscraper, with the view from the top of the 21 story structure commanding a view across the city, by far the highest structure in the city, the view stretched out across the city, the elevated railways, the river, the ships in the harbor.

At that time, too, restaurants served a full dinner for 55 cents, which included an appetizer, soup, roast beef, vegetables, dessert and beverage.

Food markets were selling bacon for 12 cents a pound, oranges for 20 cents a dozen; and a man's suit was $9. A blanket was 35 cents.

1919 In France

Letter from a soldier boy now in France

LaMans, France, Jan. 15, 1919

Dear Mama:—After a space of two or three days, I'll write you again I'm so restless that I'm almost miserable. When I go to bed I think of something I want to get up and do, so up I come then I go to bed and try to read. But the lines all get to looking like crooked rows of cotton. I have a dandy story started now. "The Man of Silver Mount."

We sure have plenty to read, most any kind of magazine, or book and New York Herald every day only cost four cents. It seems nice sometime to just lie here, read smoke having nothing to do, but I had rather be going. However it doesn't grow so monotonous, for the nurses and orderlies are a fine jolly bunch. I guess I will be able to evacuate in two or three weeks. I haven't seen a great deal of the country, but what I've seen I sure like. I am in the third story of the Hospital on a wing extending eastward. At sunrise of a clear morning I don't think I've ever seen a more striking scene. It's a wide, shallow valley, hedged by tall slender trees of some kind and dotted with dwellings which compose the suburbs of the town. There is one thing here we don't see so much in America, not in cold countries and that is so many different kinds of evergreen trees. It came in handy Christmas.

Well they let me start to work at noon (kp) It will be the first I've done. It isn't bad though. Every one wants to hear from America. We sure can buy things cheap at red cross canteen about 60% cheaper than at other places. The K. of C. gives us candy and cigarettes once a week. The Govt. issues one sack of Durham a week, so you see it cuts down on expenses a great deal.

You know I didn't like stick candy, but I sure do now. Got a pound, want a stick? It's all we can get a present. I started this letter about ten p. m. and it is now four thirty a. m., so I guess I had better quit for this time, hope this will find you well, I am. Your son,
Lee Roy Powell

This same edition of the headlines were saying, "Epidemic of Influenza the greatest of Calamities".

The Epidemic of influenza has been one of the greatest calamities to visit our country. War and drought have been inconsiderable in comparison with the ravages of this disease. It is hoped that it has run its course and here after be unknown.
