This Week

This column appreciates some clippings sent by Earnest Goodrich from the Amarillo paper about the Jayton and Groom game. The Amarillo paper had some good stories. Thanks.

We have only 16 days left until Christmas. Are you ready for it? I am sure not. It seems only a few days ago that my wife was rushing me up, telling me we had to get around and do some Christmas shopping. And here it is that time again. I think we have sort of lost the real meaning of Christmas. Outside of the spiritual meaning of the day, it has become something entirely different. No more is it a day that is a season, always starting the day after Thanksgiving and many times earlier. This year, before Thanksgiving, in a nearby city, the Christmas stuff was already hanging out. Really, the Christmas festivities are for children.

Over at Texas Tech they have a great way of getting rid of their top-brass when they get tired of them. They just pile up a bunch of the tax payers money, and give it to them to step down.

Over in the athletic department they have two more, one time top coaches they have semi-retired on huge salaries. All of these big salaries in the athletic department is one thing that keeps them in a financial bind all of the time. Coaches salaries run more than a quarter of a million dollars a year, and they are getting new ones this year.

But the biggest deal of all happened this past week. They apparently bought the president, rover Murray off, and retired him on a huge bank of tax money.

He is reported to have been working as president on a salary of $56,000.00 which seems to be ample, even for a University president. In the ranks of the board of regents there have been those who were ready for Murray to go. So recently he announced he was resigning, and would like to have a professorship at the university.

Sure enough, last week when the board of regents met, they accepted the chief's resignation. Their announcement said Murray would get $100,000.00 annual salary for being a professor, but headlines in the Avalanche-Journal placed his salary at a point above $50,000.00 per year.

So, apparently what they did, they just bought him off--of course with tax money.

You take a professor, teaching for a year, if he works 50 weeks a year with two weeks vacation and I am sure he don't work that much) five days a week, that figures $1000 per week, or $200 per year. Break that down further, and you see by the year, it figures a pretty good salary. And how many students do you suppose he will be in contact with during that period of time?

Our conservative Governor, who says he believes in economy in government should become concerned with some of these things.

After recent testimony before Congressional committees, what do you think of the former FBI director J. Edgar Hoover? Well, for one thing, his name is sort of tarnished. As the publisher of one weekly paper in this area put it, it has turned out that he was just a dirty old man.

Of course witnesses before Congressional committees have been known to lie, but underlings of the FBI while Hoover was the chief, have dug up all sorts of sordid stories about how Hoover led the agency for political chicanery, extortion, blackmail, and what not.

These two agencies, the FBI and the CIA are supposed to be above internal politics, but it is very apparent now, that the president all along in the past has used these two agencies for all sorts of unsavory dirty work.

These two agencies operate the most of the time behind a cloak of secrecy, in so far as the general public is concerned. And well they should, they operate the way it is being told now to Congressional committees.

President Ford has made his trip to China and returned home. There has not been, and we are sure there will not be any public announcement of the purpose of the president's trip to China, nor any discussion of what he did or accomplished on the trip.

What most Americans keep wondering about, what he gave away while he was over there? Money? Farm machinery? Wheat? Other Grain? What?

Anyway, what ever it was, the president does

Lady Jays Win First in the Roscoe Tournament

The Court Passes Three Orders Mon.

The Kent County Commissioners met Monday in a regular session and passed three orders.

One of these was on motion by Parks and seconded by Carriker, they voted to buy an IBM typewriter for the Tax Assessor's office for $518.00.

Another order, on motion by Taylor and seconded by Carriker, they voted to purchase a citizen band base station radio for the Sheriff's department, from Z. R. Chisum, for $305.97 installed.

The other order was the routine matter of approving the bills.

All members of the court were present for the meeting, Dec. 8th at 9 a. m., the minutes show.

The Jaybirds Bring Home The Trophy In Consolation

The Lady Jays took the court Thursday afternoon in Roscoe, and left with the tournament Prize Saturday. In between arriving and leaving the Ladies beat Aspermont 54-44, Roby 55-44 and Loraine in the final match 65-58.

The girls now have an 8-2 record.

The Jaybirds lost to Aspermont 61-54 in the opening round, but came back against Westbrook 51-44 and Bronte 39-36 to win consolation bracket.

Against Aspermont Gene Cleveland had 18 points, Mark Fincher 13, Bobby Kelley and Harold Parker 9 each, Gary Sumner 3 and Deral Cox 2 points.

The boys had a hard time finding the basket as they hit only 16 of 37 percent from the line.

The ending of events may not be as happy as Billy December provides an ending for every year. As we pulled the November leaf from the calendars, to the final page, another year has gone with many unpleasant memories, but as happy ones.

Sometimes we wonder with a miracle Parker thought as to why we could not reverse, a born into advanced age and die as an infant, they know life with all the ups and downs, an appreciation of age. Much like the fowl of the which makes his way across our land, with changing season.

Then it occurs to us that D... and 28 RBs, Fincher had 9 steals and 19 RBs, Cleveland 2 steals and 23 RBs, and Parker 3 steals and 23 RBs.

The team has a 2-2 record through the weekend.

The Great Plains Program Proves To Be Great Farm Aid

Once dust from the Great Plains of the U. S. darkened the skies over Washington, D. C. Dust storms are just one of the many climatic hazards of the great plains area.

The Great Plains Conservation Program administered by the Soil Conservation Service was started in 1958. It has proved to be a more permanent solution to erosion and pollution problems.

Through the GREAT PLAINS CONSERVATION PROGRAM the SOIL CONSERVATION SERVICE provides technical and cost share assistance to install permanent soil and water conservation measures. Some of the measures include: Terraces, water ways, pasture planting, farm ponds, fencing, range seeding, brush control and pollution abatement practices.

Land users in 115 counties in Texas are eligible for assistance through the Great Plains Conservation Program. Since 1958 one half million acres of unproductive cropland have been converted to pasture land and almost a million acres depleted range land have been reseeded.

A total of 67 farmers and ranchers in Kent County have completed Great Plains Conservation Contracts on a total of 301,847 acres of land.

For more information on the Great Plains Program contact the Soil Conservation Service located in the courthouse in Jayton.

Farmers Are Putting Down Irrigation Pipe On Their Lands

According to William Reeder, District Conservationist at Jayton, many conservation minded farmers are installing underground irrigation pipelines as a conservation measure.

Here Charley Kimmel of Girard is installing plastic irrigation pipe to replace aluminum pipe which had excessive friction and leaks. A new pipeline will conserve energy through reduced pumping cost and conserve water because of less leaks and connections.

"The Soil Conservation Service furnishes technical assistance for carrying out conservation practices to farmers and ranchers of Kent County, through the Duck Creek Soil and Water Conservation District" Reeder said.

- ★ For best results, use flat bottom utensils with tight fitting covers. Utensils of medium or heavy weight aluminum conduct heat faster, transfer heat evenly and respond quickly to temperature changes.
- ★ Match the utensil to the size of the unit. Use 8 inch units for large utensils. Use 6 inch units for small to average sized pans.
- ★ Use high setting for a quick start for any surface cooking, or to boil water quickly. When cooking temperature is reached, switch to a lower setting.
- ★ Do not pre-heat the oven for roasting or broiling, but do pre-heat the oven to the temperature given in the recipe for baking.

Does winter have days with less sunlight than the other seasons? Is this why it's the coldest of our seasons?

Strangely enough, winter does not have less sunlight than any other season. Fall, which ends December 21st, this year, averages the same amount of sunlight, per day, as does winter.

The shortest day of the year, December 22nd, is the winter solstice and from then until the summer solstice, in June, the days are getting longer. So the days actually begin to get longer as soon as winter begins.

Winter is the coldest of seasons because the earth loses most of its summer heat by January and February, the coldest months. But January and February contain more daylight than November and December.

Everybody and his cousin too... notice the lone man in the foreground of the picture. He must be wondering if he will ever get his shopping done. Even with his back to us he looks confused and bewildered.

Most of us have felt the pangs of loneliness in the midst of a crowd. Surrounded by people, we couldn't escape that feeling of utter desolation. It may engulf us in a busy department store, a crowded supermarket, a jam-packed subway, but suddenly it strikes... this feeling that no one cares about us or about our burdens.

When our hearts cry out for assurance that somebody cares, we can always turn to the truth and love revealed by the Holy Word of God: "Lo, I am with you always."

At the heart of the universe there are great resources of strength. Discover them for yourself by worshipping each week in the church of your choice.

Beware For The Poisonous Plants

Many of us who live in the country or in towns do not realize that we are literally surrounded by poisonous plants. Many children are taken to the emergency rooms at hospitals every year poisoned by plants.

For instance, children have been poisoned by making tea out of plum leaves - or eating the wrong kind of berries. They love to play house in the backyard and are unaware of the problems which might be caused by an unwise choice of what to fix for lunch.

Small children are more often poisoned. Plants like Dieffenbachia or Dumb Cane are inside many homes. A child will bite into the leaves which contain oxalic acid crystals. The crystals become imbedded in the tongue, causing it to swell, and the child can no longer breathe. Very few actually die, but recovery is very slow.

Jimson weed is a beautiful plant - large white flowers, dark green leaves. It contains alkaloids similar to Peyote and African Rue. Jimson weed has been used medicinally for hundreds of years. The hippies make a tea out of the leaves and sometimes take a trip from which they never return.

One of my favorite plants is the Oleander.

However, the Oleander is so poisonous that if you cook a hotdog on an Oleander stick, you will be poisoned. It is said that hummingbirds are killed by drinking the nectar of the flowers.

There are many other plants that are toxic to some extent. The berries of Privet hedge, Wisteria seeds, Lantana seeds, Poke salad, and poppy seeds.

Last - the Texas state flower, the Bluebonnet has been known to poison sheep.

So, be careful when you have small children around the house and yard. Put dangerous plants out of reach of toddlers. IF YOU HAPPEN TO ENJOY EATING WILD PLANTS* GO AHEAD BUT BE CAREFUL. Be sure you know exactly what you are preparing.
