These Changing Times note: In the earlier days of our work on The Review, the common complaint every Spring was about neighbors' chickens ruining gardens and flower beds. Now the general complaint is against dogs that ruin lawns and flowers.

There are two sides to the dog problem, just as there are two sides in every controversy. You can't blame a boy for wanting a dog, and harassed neighbors cannot be criticized for complaining of the unsanitary and damaging effects of roaming dogs. And, farmers who lose sheep and chickens to dog packs from town cannot be blamed for shooting the marauders that stray miles out in the country to destroy. The other side to the dogpack problem is the custom of four sisters, Mrs. J. L. Aikman tender-hearted people who, rath- of Los Gatos, Calif., Mrs. Joe er than kill them, dump their unwanted dogs in town, hoping they will find a home.

One local resident suggested city officials do something about the stray dog problem. This fellow says he is going to use .22 shells with birdshot to convince the stray dogs that he doesn't and Orville Culp, Hereford. want them around his place.

Since we began editing The Review in 1935, there hasn't been a local problem that caused more confusion than the current telephone situation. It has mushroomed into one of those three-sided deals that Uncle Fritz Struve told us about several years ago. "There's always three sides to every question: your side, my side and the right side," sagely advised Uncle Fritz.

Well, if you could tour the wholesale and retail used auctions around the country, if you could survey hundreds of used car lots you would discover tha Fords bring higher prices than any competitive make—and by substantial amounts.
THE O. B. JACKSON WHOLESALE MEATS	THAT'S WHY we feel our '53 cars should not be compared with cars in the same price range. Not because our competitors don't do a good job—obviously they do—but because we feel Ford Cars have more in common with the highest priced automobiles. The similarities are far greater than the differences.
Specialists in Custom Slaughtering and Freezing NORTHEAST OF PLAINVIEW PHONE 410	For example. Today, the most expensive cars in this country have V-type, 8-cylinder engines. Ford Cars have had this exact same type of engine for over 20 years. What's more astounding, the current Strato-Star V-8 sells for hundreds of dollars less than several other makers charge for a six-cylinder car. Now there's nothing wrong with a Six but they do cost less to make. Ford makes a Six-the most modern overhead valve Six in the industry. And if it's a

And if it's a six-cylinder car you want, Ford has it and for less money than the V-8, which is as it should be. What about ride? Here's another Ford similarity with high-priced cars Riding Comfort. One of the misconceptions for many years has been that weight—sheer weight—is what it takes to make a car ride well. Ford has found that you can make a 3000-pound car ride softer and hold the road better by far than many cars that weigh a full 1000 pounds more. In the '53 Ford, for example, front end road shock has been reduced up to 80%. We say it compares most favorably with the heaviest cars sold today.

What are Fords made of? Some people have the idea that the costliest cars are made of "better stuff." It's true that some high-priced cars have costlier upholstery and fittings. What Ford has is offer is called Fordomatic. It is the most versatile

Ford comes "for free." Ford has found that it so good, both in durability and appearance, that you probably could not tell the difference. You might even prefer it, because of its better design and more pleasing appearance.

Then there's the question of sheet metal. If you were to measure and analyze the sheet metal structure in the most expensive car, you most likely would find it identical in thickness to the corresponding panels in Ford.

After all, then, what is the difference between a Ford and the costliest cars?

In our opinion, the difference is largely a matter of dimensions, weight (and the power required to move it) plus the distinction of owning a car that not so many other people own. The desire for these things is understandable . . . and probably justified for people who are willing to pay the price to satisfy it.

As to comparing Ford with other cars in its price range, by all means do so if you wish. But, as we said before, you'll get a better picture of Ford value by comparing with cars that are most like Fords-those that are priced up to twice as much. In fact, we think you'll quickly begin comparing the other cars with Ford-because the 1953 Ford has really established the New Standard of the American Road.

Worth more when you buy it . . . Worth more when you sell it . . .

PROCLAMATION

In cooperation with the national movement set forth by our President and the program of our local Churches, I am happy to proclaim the days of April 14, 15, 16, and 17 as "Spiritual Decision Days".

The Merchants and Citizens are requested to observe the noon service time from 12:05 to 12:35 on these days.

In official recognition, I hereby affix my signature this 8th day of April, 1953.

D. Z. WARD, Mayor, City of Abernathy.
