Worth

By NANALEE NICHOLS

Cotton season is approaching. I suppose I'm really aging fast, because the sight of the opening bolls brings back a flood of memories.

I'm sure most folks around here can recall the same things...remember when there were four gins, and they ran day and night during the ginning season? I recall that the entire town was filled with a gentle, humming vibration that went on for several months, beginning around the middle of August and going into October.

If one of the gins shut down...especially during the middle of the night, it was liable to wake people up. Lying in bed it took awhile to figure out what was the matter. It would simply be the change in the rumbling sound that filled our lives.

The fields for miles around were filled with cotton pickers. Bright colored shirts, followed by long white cotton sacks, moved slowly up and down the rows as backs bent to the difficult, tedious task of "pulling bolls".

School even let out for a couple of weeks in the fall so that youngsters could also help.

The pay was low, the work was hot, and it is doubtful if anyone who ever did it misses it now.

The sacks would be weighed at the wagon and the tally kept as the hands were paid by the amount of weight they picked.

No acid or defoliant went on the cotton, and a field would have to be covered several times before it would be picked clean.

When the first mechanical pickers or strippers appeared on the scene old-timers nearly had heart failure at the messy look of the field after the machine had gone through.

In 1957 the country had the most abundant cotton crop ever. There just weren't enough field hands to handle the amount of cotton. Seven hundred Mexican Nationals were brought in from Mexico to pick the cotton, and they did a good job, too.

They were quartered in the old cotton warehouse down on Hwy. 271 and in the old community center that was located where the housing authority is now.

After working through the daylight hours the strains of a softly picked guitar and the unfamiliar sounds of voices raised in Spanish song would drift gently over town.

It was a peculiar interlude in the communities history. And it will never come again...mostly because that was really the last year that cotton was "king". From that time on cotton began to have to compete with soy beans, milo and other crops.

But...back then...not so many years ago, Cotton was the King, and at this time of year the evidence of that was all around!

Uncle Link Sez:

"All roads this Friday night lead to the action scene of your favorite high school football team. Try one of them: you'll like it."

The Heat's On!

WIPING HIS BROW from the heat, both verbal and literal, is Dr. Richard Nash. The Prairiland school board and Supt. Leslie (Buddy) Taylor, and Nash, held public meetings at both Blossom and Deport to explain to interested citizens facts about the proposed $750,000 bond election coming up Sept. 11. Since the gym, and some of the controversy over the proposed Junior High School was warm, the idea of air conditioning in all grades may have swayed some votes! From left are board members

Rollins Files "Against" Intentions

Deport businessman Charles E. Rollins this week became the first person to file his intentions concerning the Sept. 11 bond issue election for the Prairiland School District, as apparently required under a little known state law.

Rollins filed a form at the school district's administration office Tuesday afternoon, stating he was against the bond issue. Earlier, Rollins also filed his intentions with the Lamar County clerk's office, saying he is against the countywide jail bond issue that will also be voted on Sept. 11.

According to County Clerk Margaret Coplin any person or any committee who plans to spend any money on a bond issue election must file with the county clerk's office before any money is spent on the election by that person or committee.

Coplin says the rule is required by The Prairiland Patriots' "Red Pride" practically glows as they prepare for the season opener against traditional rivals, the Rivercrest Rebels at Jophtown's Rebel Stadium Friday night, with action starting off at 8:00 p.m.

Head Coach Chet James says that "Rivercrest and Prairiland have always played each other extremely close. Both teams always play hard and we're expecting a great game."

The fact that talented fullback David Edwards, who was injured at last Friday's scrimmage against Hooks, should be back in the lineup this week isn't exactly dampening spirits on the team either.

The offensive starting lineup for the Patriots looks sharp and will consist of: Quarterback Todd David 6-0, 185-pound junior, returning after quite a lot of action last season; fullback David Edwards, 5-11, 175-pounds, feared out for the season after injury, but expected to be in playing condition after all; Nelson Hevron, 5-9, 145-pounds will fill in if Edwards can't play. Halfback Ronald Nichols, a 5-11, 160-pound senior; Darrin Gifford in the flanker position at 5-10, 155-pounds.

Tight end position will be filled by either or Vern Barker a 6-0, 165-pound junior or Chuck Ray, another junior who also weighs 165-pounds and is 6-0 tall.

Right tackle will be Dennis Bedford,

Rebs Win 5 Of 7

The Rivercrest Rebels have won five of the last seven gridiron meetings with the Prairiland Patriots, including the last three straight games.

Prairiland's last victory over their neighboring Rebels came in 1978 when the Pats came from a 10-point half-time deficit to nip the Rebs in the highest scoring game of the series, 34-30.

The two schools did not meet in 1974. Results of the annual games since then have been as follows:
1975...Patriots 12, Rebels 6
1976...Rebels 12, Patriots 8
1977...Rebels 8, Patriots 0
1978...Patriots 34, Rebels 30
1979...Rebels 14, Patriots 6
1980...Rebels 13, Patriots 0
1981...Rebels 13, Patriots 6

Football Guessing Game Offers Cash

Armchair quarterbacks can begin proving their expertise at forecasting winners today--and try for $24 weekly cash prizes, in the annual football guessing contest sponsored by the News-Times newspapers of Bogata, Deport, Blossom and Talco.

Starting today and continuing through the next 12 weeks, the News-Times will award cash money each week to the top three guessers on a weekly list of 28 high school, college and pro football games.

The weekly prize money will consist of $12 for first place; $7 for second place and $5 for third place.

Games and rules for the first week's contest are published on Page 4 of today's paper--with 5 p.m. this Friday the deadline for turning in the entries at either The Deport Times or Bogata News.

Just clip out the page and start marking the predictions

The rules are easy and everyone is eligible to compete except employees of the sponsoring newspapers and their immediate families.

On the contest page, there are 27 advertisements by businesses that are joining the Times-News in sponsoring the contest. In each of the 27 ads there is a different football game. Contestants must guess the winner in each of the 27 games, by making an "X" or some identifying mark in the parenthesis alongside the team they believe will win. If you believe the game will end in a tie, mark a "T" or write "tie" across the ad in which the game is published.

Do not guess the score on the games in each of the 27 games, just mark your choice of what team will win.

In addition to the 27 games, there is the "Tie Breaker" game, printed in the middle of the page--and contestants should guess both the winner and score of the tie-breaker game. For this week's opener, the tie-breaker game is the Rivercrest-Prairiland game.

The tie-breaker game will be counted along with the 27 other games in determining the contest winners, with the score used to dissolve any ties among contestants.

In using the tie-breaker game score to break ties among contestants, the game winner is in the first step. If contestants are still tied, the margin of victory will be the second step. Total game points will be the third

Ramblin Round

By BERT WEST

Here we go again, with another high school football season. After 35 years in the newspaper profession (we start on the 36th yearstone next Tuesday), there is still a special ripple of invigorating excitement when the first Friday night in September rolls around each year. We have witnessed and reported on many of the touted sports biggies, such as the 500-Mile Race and Kentucky Derby, along with major league baseball; college, pro and high school basketball and football; pro bowling and golf; harness racing, ice hockey and even steeplechase horse racing. None, in our opinion can compare to Texas high school football and its accompanying partners of marching bands, baton twirlers, jumping and screaming cheerleaders and all those delicious fans.

High school football, Texas style, brings together community spirit and pride with the spirit, pride and teamwork of the school, its athletes and student body.

Football, probably more than any other sport, demands more close-knit and dedicated teamwork from more athletes at one time than perhaps any other activity...and when it involves fresh-faced and eager young men of high school age, the atmosphere of exciting pride is even more impressive.

In the 29 years of walking the sidelines of probably more than 300 high school varsity games in all sections of Texas and in football stadiums of all sizes, in all kinds of weather...the thrill of being amid the roar and cheers of the crowd, rousing band music and the spirited emotions of the players—sometimes joyous, sometimes bitter and sad—is there with each opening kickoff.

After all these years, we're probably more like the old firehorse who hears the siren and is ready for action.

That charge is there again this week as we fidget around, waiting on the Rebels and the Patriots to get with it Friday night. It will be a little strange this time around. For the first time in quite a few years we won't be watching a son out there playing ball or having a son or daughter tagging along the sidelines helping with the stats.

Those years have now turned into memories—dam good memories.

But now it's a brand new season. So, let's get with it. When the season is over the records will show more losers than winners—but that's only on the scoreboard.

The real winners are all those young men who participate in the sport and enjoy it and all of us on the sidelines or up in the stands who get to watch them.

Years ago, country folk believed that the seventh son in a family possessed unusual gifts.

Skull Session For Patriot Coaches

The Tale Of The O-R-T

By NANALEE NICHOLS

Continuing the tale of the O-R-T railroad, it was discovered that some of the laborers who sweated in the hot Texas sun to complete the line never did receive the pay due to them for their work.

They threatened to bring suit to the courts and hold the rolling stock and rails through court action until they got their pay.

Upon investigation they learned that the whole outfit, lock, stock and shady barrel, had been borrowed or leased from people, and there was no sign of the main promoters of the scheme left, only honest people who had been taken advantage of.

Folks around Deport and Blossom who were major loser in the venture didn't like to talk about it. The businessmen who invested in the haphazard transaction have long since departed, but it's a fair bet that the folks who proposed the whole deal were showered with some pretty strong epitaphs during that period in time.

The Paris and Mt. Pleasant Railroad that reached Deport from Paris in 1910 was financed by a stock company of reliable and substantial citizens of Paris, Mt. Pleasant, Deport, Bogata and all the other towns along the line.

Of course, people were still smarting around Deport from the financial sting of the little O-R-T attempt, and after very careful investigation of the stock company, they rallied and subscribed liberally to this new road.

They had been hoodwinked once, and made sure that they weren't going to be again.

In the beginning the Paris and Mt. Pleasant wasn't a class A railroad, but it was much superior to the O-R-T.

The first carload of merchandise that was carried on the rails was consigned to Sam Bell, a Deport merchant. The car that brought it from Paris was at the end of the construction train which was laying track toward Mt. Pleasant.

A regular passenger train was added in addition to the freight cars at a later date. These were true passenger cars, not box cars with benches bolted down on the floor like the poor old O-R-T.

The train would usually consist of engine, baggage car and two coaches. The freight trains were larger.

The train was well patronized by folks for a number of years and road conditions made the railroad a benefit to all. Gradually, however, the passenger list dropped as roads improved and autos did too.

Highway 271, which was built parallel to the railroad, nearly did the passenger service in.

Trucks and buses took a lot of the freight business, and sometime about the middle of the 1950's the railroad ceased to run entirely.

The last chapter in this story will come up next week, and then we'll turn to something else.

Jayvees Clash Tonight

Although Friday is opening night of the high school varsity football season for Prairiland and Rivercrest, the junior varsity units of the two schools will swing into their seasonal first, tonight (Thursday).

The Rebel and Patriot jayvees will open their season against one another tonight at the Prairiland field, with a 7:30 p.m. kickoff.

method in breaking ties and total points by the game winner will be the fourth step. If there is still a tie among two or more contestants, the prize money will be divided equally.

It is requested that a contestant submit only one entry each week. In event there is more than one entry from a contestant, that person will be eligible for only one prize in that contest week.

Contestants are reminded that there is a different game in each of the 27 ads on the contest page and that they should predict the outcome on each of those games—not just predict the outcome of the tie-breaker game. If a game outcome is not marked, it counts as a "wrong".

As stated, all entries—unless mailed, must be in the contest box at either The Deport Times office or The Bogata News office no later than 5 p.m. Friday of each contest week.

Entries may be mailed, but they must be mailed intime to arrive with the Saturday morning mail; otherwise they will not be counted. Mail entries must be addressed to either The Deport Times, P.O. Box 98, Deport, Texas 75435 or The Bogata News, P.O. Box 306, Bogata, Texas 75417.

James says that "the boys didn't keep their composure when Edwards was hurt, and the thought of losing him for the whole season (as was first thought) kept their minds off the game too much. The lightning knocking out the lights on the field kept us from really getting to see what we could do."

The Patriots had headed into the game to work on a pass attack and see what they could do in the air.

James says that "the problem was really a matter of people being in the wrong place at the wrong time...defensive mistakes...steps, of course, have been taken during the week to work on that problem"

James was pleased with much that he saw, even if the Pats didn't outplay the Hornets. He says that "when you have people with more speed and talent you have to play better technique, and that's what we're working on".

The Patriot Red Pride will be eager to head down the road to Rivercrest, and a "Red Tide" of Prairiland fans will be right behind them Friday night!

The Campaign Reporting and Disclosure Act and applies no matter what amount of money will be spent.

In addition to filing the intentions, the person or group must also designate a campaign treasurer, the county clerk says.

There is no filing fee, although a person may face misdemeanor charges if the form is not filed.

Although the law is apparently unknown in many counties and cities, two other persons have joined Rollins in filing their intentions in regards to the $1.8 million jail bond issue election. Austin Dowdy of Novice has filed against the jail bond issue and attorney Bill Flanary has filed in support of the issue.

School Reunion Set For Sunday At Clardy CC

A reunion for the Bethel, Clardy, Plainview and Tollette schools is scheduled for Sunday at the Clardy Community Center.

Visitation begins at 6 p.m. followed by a picnic supper at 7 p.m., and concluded with a business session and program to start at 8 p.m.

Those attending are requested to bring a picnic basket for the meal.

high with classrooms, library, science lab, rest rooms and complete facilities. Cost on that was estimated at $177,000. In addition a band hall, cafeteria and kitchen (serving all the Pattonville campus) would be built. Cost estimates on that were set at $145,000. The junior high gymnasium would cost around $168,000.

The old kitchen-cafeteria located in the high school would be converted into classroom space.

In addition the schools at Deport and Blossom would be renovated. Ceilings would be lowered, floors covered, wiring and lighting replaced and central air conditioning installed for all grades.

Cost approximations on that were set at $177,000 to bring the old high school building and two story building up to standard at Deport and the two story building and newer classrooms at Blossom around $118,000.

In addition to the $750,000 bond money, from $50,000 to $70,000 in funds already available to the school could be used to do this work.

One of the questions asked at both meetings was whether the tax increase, which would be from the current rate of 53 cents per $100 valuation to 80.7 cents at a 10 percent interest rate on the bonds or 83.3 cents at a 12 per cent interest rate, would remain fixed from now on, or whether it would be lowered automatically when the school's indebtedness was paid off.

The school board pointed out that the rate did not automatically reduce because of the indebtedness being paid off, but could be reduced by the school board taking action to do so.

Several school board members pointed out that Prairiland has one of the lowest tax rates around in the area, and no industries of any size to help support the district.

Another issue brought up was busing. Several citizens expressed their opinion that it would decrease busing since the football team and band members would have to be bused to Prairiland for practice.

Others felt that busing would increase with a junior high since all the 7th and 8th graders would have to be transported to Pattonville and back daily.

Actual statistics were not available on the issue, but Supt. Taylor expressed his feelings that there would actually be little difference either way.

Whether construction on the junior high and Prairiland buildings would begin first and renovation of the grade schools come later was another concern. It was speculated that construction and work would begin on all three locations as soon as the bond passed.

Although tempers became a little frayed at both meetings, for the most part they were well organized and ended on a note of good feeling.

Citizens and board members alike seemed to feel that many questions had been answered satisfactorily, and it was pointed out repeatedly that the bond issue had been called so that "you, the voters, can go to the polls and express your opinion, whether for or against the issue."

Absentee voting on the bond election is from 8 to 4 daily at the Prairiland administration building at Pattonville, and will end four days prior to the September 11 election date.

The Way We Were

By Nanalee Nichols

74 YEARS AGO
August 28, 1914

At a meeting of the Deport Community Club Dr. J.H. Moore, Joe A. Grant and Marshall Jones were appointed to secure information on building a cotton warehouse in the city of Deport. A mass meeting of all farmers and merchants from the area had been set for the tabernacle to take definite action when the committee had all the facts.

V.C. Oliver, C.E. Binnion, W.P. Evans, Marshall Jones, C.R. Jones and J.L. Johnson set out to Paris one morning. They reached Blossom at 3, and had to have the car worked on until 6, then started back from Paris by way of Sylvan. They got stuck, and had to push the vehicle to dry ground. Back at Blossom they broke a spring and had a flat. Then discovered that a shower had muddied the roads further and had to hire a team of mules to pull them all the way back to Deport. The happy group arrived at Deport at around midnight.

A plan for a Model Rural School house was a feature of the paper. It had a hip roof, 2 rooms, coatrooms, vestibule, and chimney for two wood stoves, one for each room. The plans look almost exactly like the old building at Minter.

30 YEARS AGO
August 28, 1922

Albert Roach, an innovative area farmer, had planted two acres of sesame seed at his farm near Minter. The crop was almost ready for harvest, and a number of area farmers had been to examine the crop with an eye towards future production.

A local man had installed a water cooler, but was puzzled when the machine HEATED his house instead of cooling it. After about ten days he called the installers to come and remove the machine. At that time they discovered that the water line connected to the cooler was the HOT water line!

20 YEARS AGO
August 30, 1962

Representative Wright Patman had notified Deport that they would retain two rural routes, and not have them consolidated.

Proposed Junior High Classrooms

THE PROPOSED bond election coming up for Prairiland School District voters to pass judgement on Sept. 11 would, if passed, result in the construction of a Junior High School at the Pattonville campus. The classrooms, library and science lab would be incorporated into the band hall and two classrooms currently under construction at Prairiland. The floor plan would look much like this architect's drawing.

Proposed Band Hall-Cafeteria

THE BAND HALL and kitchen-cafeteria facilities that would be built at Prairiland would serve all the high school and junior high students. It would be separate from the proposed Junior High School. Construction of the Junior High and new cafeteria-kitchen hinges on whether Prairiland School district voters approve a $750,000 bond issue when they vote Sept. 11. In addition to the plans for the two new buildings at Pattonville there would be a Junior High Gym built there and renovation of facilities at Blossom and Deport elementary campuses.

Blossom Reprieve On Sewage Deadline

The City of Blossom has received a three-year reprieve from its court orders to have a new sewage facility constructed by the end of this year.

District Judge Henry Braswell last week extended the deadline from Dec. 31, 1982 to Dec. 31, 1985.

The judge granted the extension following a hearing with city officials and representatives of the Texas Department of Water Resources. City Attorney Bill Flanary pointed out that due to the halt in federal funds Blossom could not possibly meet the 1982 deadline.

The city had hoped to qualify for federal funds under which the city would have to provide for only 25 percent of the total cost, with federal and state funds available for the balance.

Elimination of federal funds for such projects was one of the first cutbacks ordered by the Reagan Administration when it took office. There is a possibility that some type of federal aid will be resumed within the next one to two years.

Meanwhile, Blossom officials have indicated they will continue to explore the possibility of financing the project without federal funds.

West says he wants to issue a special invitation to all producers in the area to attend the meeting, both members and non-members.

"We think it will be well worth the time to attend and take part in the meeting," he says.

Winters Nominated For National Honor

Kip Winters of Pattonville has been nominated to receive the American Farmer Degree, the highest degree presented by the National Future Farmers of America (FFA) Organization.

Kip was nominated for the degree by the Texas FFA Association. The nomination was approved at a recent meeting of the National FFA Board of Directors in Alexandria, Virginia, virtually assuring the awarding of the degree. One of 751 FFA members nominated for the American Farmer Degree, Kip will receive the degree in a special ceremony on Thursday, Nov. 11, pending a final vote of 120 student delegates representing nearly half a million FFA members.

Travel awards will be presented to American Farmer Degree recipients to offset their travel expenses to the National FFA Convention in Kansas City. At the convention each American Farmer Degree recipient will be presented a gold key and certificate. The travel awards and gold keys are co-sponsored by JI Case, A Tenneco Company, Racine, Wisconsin; Federal Land Banks, Denver, Col.; the Chevrolet Division, General Motors Corporation, Warren, Michigan; Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc., Des Moines, Iowa; Production Credit Assn., Denver, Col. and Na-Churs Plant Food Co., Marion, Ohio.

The American Farmer Degree is much sought after because it is only presented to approximately one member in 600 of the 475,923 member organization. It is presented only by the National FFA Organization to members who have demonstrated exceptional agricultural and leadership achievements.

Kip is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Winters of Pattonville, and is currently attending PJC majoring in Agriculture.

He earned the American Farmer Degree on the basis of Beef cattle, swine, sheep, agriculture cooperative program and leadership.

Prairiland high school vocational agriculture instructor and FFA advisor is Bobby Winters and Douglas Salter of Pattonville and Frankie Norwood of Cunningham.

To qualify for the American Farmer Degree, FFA members must have advanced through a system of degrees unique to the FFA organization. FFA members begin as Greenhands and after one year of membership may be advanced by the local chapter to the degree of "Chapter Farmer". The third degree, that of "State Farmer", is presented by the State FFA Association to two percent of the State's FFA membership in any one year. Only students who have earned the State Farmer Degree are eligible for the American Farmer Degree.

The National FFA Convention is an annual event of the Future Farmers of America and is carried out in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Education. This year over 20,000 FFA members, vocational ag teachers, parents and guests are expected to take part in the 55th National FFA Convention.

The convention is conducted entirely by student members between the ages of 14 and 21. Six National FFA Officers take charge of all business sessions and 120 official delegates represent the membership in voting on all issues of business.

In addition to the American Farmer Degree, many other FFA awards are presented during the convention. Several guest speakers of national prominence address the convention audience and entertainment is interspersed with the business. The convention is the largest annual youth convention in the nation. It closes on Saturday evening with the installation of six new National FFA Officers.
