GENEALOGY BEGINS WITH U

Letters For Family Info Should Be Brief, To Point

By Michael Cunningham

The ability to be able to find information of your relatives has a lot to do with the amount of time you spend looking for the information. Normally a person could not go into a library and find a listing of everyone of his relatives in one book or in that case even several books. This does not however, stop a person from obtaining the same information by following a simple plan over a course of a short period of time.

First, treat every piece of information or fact as a lead or a clue to discovering future facts. For example, Mary Ann Claypoole was baptised at Christ Church, Philadelphia, Penn. on 8-8-1748. You can contact that church for more information on her family (such as parent's names, ages, place of birth etc.).

Second, do not under

R.E. Ferguson Rites Held In Corpus Christi

Funeral services for Robert Elmer Ferguson, 87, of Corpus Christi, former Blossom resident and Deport businessman, were held Oct. 4 in Corpus Christi with interment at Seaside Mausoleum.

Mr. Ferguson, a native of Red River County, moved to Corpus Christi from Blossom in 1953. At one time he operated a cafe in Deport. He was a member of the Second Baptist Church and a member of the Masonic lodge at Blossom.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Annie Ethel Stansell Ferguson of Corpus Christi; two daughters, Mrs. LeNair Easterwood and Mrs. Wayne Vickers, both of Corpus Christi; two sisters, Mrs. Hope Kincaid of Bogata and Mrs. Fannie Hickey of Bagwell; six grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Bessie Pope Funeral Rites Held Sunday

Funeral rites for Mrs. Bessie Pope, 77, of Bogata were held Sunday at the Bogata United Methodist Church, followed by interment in Fairview Cemetery.

Mrs. Pope died Friday in Red River General Hospital. A native of Red River County, she was born March 14, 1905, the daughter of the late James E. and Cora Teasley Soward.

Mrs. Pope had resided in Bogata since 1945 and worked for Buckman Drug until retirement several years ago. She was a member of the First United Methodist Church, Chancel Choir, Circle 3 of the UMW, and the Bogata Book Club.

Survivors include one brother, Morris Soward of Ft. Edward, N.Y.; and two sisters, Mrs. Winston (Evelyn) Clark and Mrs. Addie Quinn, both of Marshall.

estimate the power of the pen or the written word. If a person were to write 20 letters a day to 20 different people (relatives and places where one might find information of your relatives: Chamber of Commerce, Newspaper, Library, and Genealogical Society) they would receive at least 60 names of their relatives.

Thirdly, when writing be as short or brief as possible. Just get the who, what, where, and when in the letter. I've found the following to be a good letter to use.

Dear Sir:

I'm writing to obtain information on my relative — (He or she) was born in (place of birth) in (year or 5 year approximation). He moved to (the area where he lived) in (year). Any information on (him or her) or their family will be greatly welcomed.

Sincerely,
(Your Name)

Here a person can briefly read over this letter and see if they have any knowledge on this person. Of course, any response to or reply you receive from this letter will depend on what is said in their letter. It is at that time you should go into great detail.

By this time if you have been following these columns you should have been able to start receiving quite a bit of information on your own family history. What are you doing with it? How are you preserving it for future generations?

Over the course of the next six weeks, we are going to interview several genealogist and several county clerks. We will learn from these people first hand how to obtain genealogical information and how to assemble all together into a book.

B. Charles Collom and Catherine Hyder married in 1817 in Tennessee. In 1819 they came to Pecan Point Miller County, Arkansas territory.

D. Other Colloms include: John M. Collom, Collin M. Collom, George W. Collom Jr., Elizabeth Collom, and Ester Collom.

Career Potpourri

By Dr. H. Don Pope, Ed.D., Coordinator Career Planning, Center for Student Development Services, East Texas State University, Commerce, Texas 75428

During the past two weeks I have written about education and careers as these two areas relate to public school students. Now, I am focusing my attention on college experiences of young people.

Those who have just enrolled in college are now in their second month of college experiences and are probably experiencing some things which are frightfully new and different.

For example, some students are adjusting to the fact that they must attend classes only two or three times a week rather than every day.

Some are coping with the fact that no one comes around to see if they have done their homework for the next class.

As is true of most similar situations, these worries shall pass. Before long, students will lose their fears of the unknown college way of life and embark upon a four-year experience which will prepare them for life after college.

They will find that the time spent in the college classroom is but one part of the college experience, that much can be gained from co-curricular activities outside the formal classroom and that Professor What's-his-name isn't the unfeeling and uncaring monster everyone said he was.

Parents can be helpful during this transition period between high school and college.

They can provide support at those points when the student feels that the world is about to end because he or she didn't make a perfect score on some test.

They can provide understanding whenever the student calls home to complain about something which happened.

And they can provide direction whenever the student starts to wonder if going to college is really worth the effort and energy required.

Questions should be sent to the author at the above address.

Arson is becoming a major activity in our state and Texans are getting the bill. Last year, more than 5,000 buildings were destroyed, an estimated loss of 100 million dollars in structures. When criminals play with fire for revenge or profit, you pay the price with higher insurance rates. A key element in detecting and prosecuting an arsonist is the exchange of information between concerned law-abiding citizens, insurance companies and public officials. By facilitating the exchange of information, more fraudulent arson claims will be denied and the number of arrests and convictions will increase. Governor William P. Clements and the Texas Legislature have provided the state's criminal justice system with new tools to fight crime in Texas and stiff laws with which to prosecute. For the month of September, the Crime Stoppers Advisory Council is focusing its statewide "Crime of the Month" on arson. Any citizen having information regarding arson activities is urged to call the anti-crime hotline at 1-800-252-TIPS. Cash rewards are available for information leading to the arrest and indictment of these criminals.

If arson schemes are to be curtailed or controlled, we need your help. Call 1-800-252-TIPS today and help burn an arsonist.

Leased Floodlighting A Bright Idea For Business Security

Wise businessmen know that wide area outdoor lighting is one of the best business security ideas around. Well-lighted areas like store entrances, stairways, or storage areas can mean fewer business losses from vandalism or after-dark accidents. These metal halide units are automatic... turn themselves on at dusk and off at dawn. And outdoor leased metal halide units give you more light for your money than incandescent bulbs. Call Texas-New Mexico Power Company today and ask to have outdoor leased floodlighting installed on your property.

'7' Does it Again!...

Rhonda Branch Wins First In Grid Contest

Guess what? Seven again is the winner in the News-Times weekly football guessing contest!

That was the fewest number of mistakes made by Rhonda Branch of Bogata on the 28-game card in last week's contest as she finished two ahead of the closest pursuers in becoming the first member of the fair sex to cop top dough of $12.

Rhonda's seven bobbles came on the Oklahoma win over Texas, Illinois over Purdue, Iowa over Indiana, Wisconsin over Ohio State and Alabama over Penn State in addition to the two tie games between Oklahoma State-Kansas and James Bowie-Redwater. No one guessed either of the tie games.

Four contestants tied for second place, each with nine wrongs. They were Edwin Parker of Paris, James Van Deaver of Deport, Kay Byndas of Bogata and Lee King of Bogata.

In going to the contest tie-breaker game, won by Rivercrest over Maud by a 20-0 bombing, Parker and Byndas quickly fell to the wayside since they each had figured Maud was best. The second step in breaking ties is margin of victory and here King won out for the $7 second place dough by figuring Rivercrest would win by seven points, 20-13. Van Deaver, who has almost become a weekly money winner, guessed the Rebs by only four, 22-18, and so he has to settle for the $5 third place award.

Fifteen contestants just missed the money consideration circle as they each finished with 10 mistakes. One of the 10 might have made it, but failed to guess any winner on the Mt. Vernon-North Lamar game.

There's a new contest game published elsewhere in today's paper, with this Friday the entry deadline unless mailed, in which case the entries must be received no later than the Saturday morning mail.

Winners of the games used in last week's contest were Pittsburg, North Lamar, Daingerfield, Cooper, Houston, Winnsboro, Oklahoma, Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Georgia, Vanderbilt, Notre Dame, Northwestern, Wisconsin, Clemson, Washington, Air Force, Alabama, Arkansas, Linden-Kildare, TCU, SMU, Big Sandy, Hooks and Rivercrest, plus the two games that ended in a tie.

NOTICE

IF YOU SMELL NATURAL GAS, FOLLOW THESE 3 STEPS TO SAFETY.

The natural gas industry has an excellent safety record.

The fact that you can smell natural gas is because we add a harmless chemical to it as a safety feature. Otherwise, it would be completely odorless.

If you are outdoors and smell gas, call your local Lone Star Gas office.

If you are indoors and detect faint whiffs of what you think may be gas, investigate. It may be that a pilot light has gone out or a burner valve has been left partially open. These are corrective steps you can take yourself.

If your equipment seems to be working properly and the odor persists or intensifies, please follow these precautions:

1. Do not switch anything electrical on or off. Do not use the telephone in your own home. Do not strike a match. Do not do anything that might cause a spark.
 2. Have everyone leave the house immediately, leaving doors open to help ventilate.
 3. Go to a nearby telephone and call Lone Star Gas Company. Wait until we have found the source of the odor to determine whether it's safe for you to return to the house.

jump about midway in the first period when Gibson sprinted 67 yards for a touchdown. The extra point kick was blocked.

Haynes got the Raiders in the game and on top to stay when he returned a Davis punt 50 yards for a touchdown, then legged across the go-ahead two point dessert to make it 8-6.

A Prairiland fumble gifted the Raiders to their second score. Taking over at midfield after the fumble, the Raiders scored in three plays with a 36-yard cruise by Keith Clayton doing the damage. Haynes' PAT kick sailed wide and Winnsboro had a 13-6 half-time lead.

Most of the second half was a punting exhibition, although late in the third the Patriots had a scoring chance when junior Robert Cody intercepted a Raider pass and returned it to the Winnsboro 25. However, after three plays resulted in 20 yards going the wrong way, the Patriots had to punt. Neither team had a serious threat after that, until the Patriots came up with the sizzling, but unsuccessful rally.

Gibson, enjoying his best running night of the season, finished with 117 yards in 19 carries from scrimmage, a solid 6.1 yards per carry average.

Now, it's a new week and here comes North Lamar.

The Friday game is Prairiland's next to last home affair. After this week, the Patriots travel to Clarksville, then host Mt. Vernon in a game that counts before closing up the regular season at Pittsburg.

And, remember, this is the year that both the district champ and runner-up goes into the state playoffs. So far, no team has demonstrated the outstanding ability to claim either of the positions. All of which means, there's still time for the Patriots to put in a claim.

MIRACLE---

ternal factors affecting prices, producers may have no other choice than to participate in government programs.

They predicted that participation in the program could mean the difference between profit and loss in the 1983 crop year.

Turning to livestock production, Dr. Randall Grooms, Extension livestock specialist, said that if producers would use the proven research findings that are currently available, their position in production and marketing would be greatly enhanced. Every management tool must be utilized to the fullest extent, he said.

Cows which fail to produce good calves each year must be culled from the herd. Grooms said that most cow-calf producers would be in a better financial position if they culled the bottom 25 percent of their cow herd. By selling the lower producing cows, capital outlays for feed, facilities, labor and other inputs could be reduced and management concentrated on fewer numbers.

Additionally, the money received from the culls could be applied to debts and thus reduce the financial strain on the producer.

Total beef production would be affected very little by the sale of the lower 25 percent of the herd. Basically, these cows are low producers and do not make a significant contribution to marketable beef, Grooms said.

Even though the outlook is bleak, producers were told that the future of agriculture is good for those who are willing to make the right decisions and utilize the production and marketing techniques which are available.

A second seminar dealing primarily with livestock and timber is scheduled Oct. 29 at the Ag-Youth Center at Pittsburg.

and Mark Webb on whose land the demonstration was located.

The county milo variety demonstration has been located on the Webb Farm for four years and the Webbs always do a super job with the demonstrations. Demonstrations such as this one take extra effort on the part of the demonstrator and there is always the chance that some of the varieties will not produce up to par.

So, to Melvin, Mark and Mr. Les, a big thanks from the entire county for a "job well done".

Seed Trials

We also had a Paymaster Seed Company variety demonstration on Melvin's place. There were seven varieties in this planting and production ranged from 4870 pounds up which is good, for any seed company's variety.

Results are as follows: Paymaster 1125-6150, 1018-6140, 1090-6000, 1138-5900, 1075-5510, 1035-5400, 1035-5400 and 1099-4870 pounds. This was the first year for some of the varieties to be planted under field conditions.

Dairy Meeting

Dairymen of Lamar County and area will be meeting today (Thursday) beginning at 1 p.m. in the Texas Power & Light building in Paris. Dairymen will take a look at management information D.H.I.A. members are receiving and share ideas on use of this management program. All dairymen are invited to attend.

The purpose of the public hearing will be to receive citizen input on the community development needs of the City of Deport and to identify projects to address those needs.

The Paris Commercial College (later to become PJC) was accepting a bale of cotton for a semester's tuition to help students out since cotton was depressed and cash was scarce. The cotton had to be transported to Paris.

30 YEARS AGO Oct. 9, 1952

The First National Bank of Deport was celebrating its 50th birthday. Dr. J.H. Moore was credited with founding the bank. Officers were Mrs. J.H. Moore, president; J.B. Griffin, Vice President and Cashier; and M.V. Anderson, Asst. Cashier.

The last oak bridge on Hwy. 271 between Paris and Mt. Pleasant was being dismantled and replaced with a new steel and concrete structure.

The 8-mile FM 1503 from Deport to Minter had been completed. Minter residents were reported delighted.

Clarksville Tractor and Implement Co. had new John Deere tractors (the popular "popping Johnnys") for sale, advertising that they had plenty of power.

20 YEARS AGO Oct. 5, 1962

The mercury had dropped to a chilly 43 degrees as a massive cold front plunged into the area.

Murl Roach had leased the Texaco station and moved his butane business to it. Buddy Malone had formerly operated the business.

The Deport Chamber of Commerce was hosting a county-wide Rural-Urban meeting, featuring a barbecue, and held at the Deport High School gym.

Birthdays of Frank Griffin, Shirley Parks, Carol Nixon, Gary Jackson, Terry Johnson, Charles Nichols, and Tommy Good were noted in the newspaper.

Six amendments on your November 2 ballot

One of the best kept political secrets is that Texans will have a chance Nov. 2 to make six changes in the state constitution while they are balloting for governor and U.S. senator.

Only one of the proposals — No. 2 — has attracted enough public interest to cause an organization booster group to try to get it passed.

Proposition No. 2 would remove the present $80 million ceiling on the amount of state aid that can be matched with federal money for Aid to Families with Dependent Children, or AFDC.

Proposition No. 1 affects every taxpayer in the state. It simply repeals the state property tax. Although the repeal proposal was the main reason for a special session of the Legislature in May, there has been little said about it recently, and no organization is pushing it in the November election. "I guess everybody thinks it will pass because it repeals taxes," said one official.

Three of the proposed constitutional amendments were passed by the regular session of the 1981 Legislature and the other three in the special May session.

Should the six proposals pass in November, that would make a total of 253 changes voted in the constitution since it was adopted in 1876.

Five of seven other constitutional amendments approved by the 1981 regular session were approved by voters in November 1981.

"I think chances are excellent for passage of the welfare amendment," said Phil Strickland, head of Citizens Concerned About Children, which claims the support of the governor, lieutenant governor and House speaker.

"Because of inflation, cutbacks in federal assistance and population increases, Texas is fast approaching the present ($80 million) ceiling," says Strickland, who also is director of the Texas Baptist Christian Life Commission.

"Unless Amendment No. 2 is adopted, the average $34 per month benefit, which ranks Texas 49th among the states, will be cut or truly needy children will be dropped from the program and denied assistance." The proposed amendment removes the present ceiling on the amount of state aid to dependent children and their caretakers and sets a new ceiling of $160 million for the 1982-83 period and 1 percent of the state budget after that.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby estimated the next Legislature will need about $100 million for matching funds.

Arguments against the amendment come from those who think welfare spending should be reduced instead of raising the ceiling on assistance grants.

The proposal to repeal the state property tax is part of a long, bitter fight over financing of construction at state colleges not in the University of Texas and Texas A&M systems. In these two systems, construction is paid by income from the Permanent University Fund, which has been built up mostly from oil and gas leases on state-owned lands.

In 1956 the Legislature authorized a state levy of 10 cents per $100 valuation to help 17 state colleges outside the two systems, and it was approved by voters. The tax was challenged in court, and in 1980 the Legislature reduced it to .0001 percent, which made it unprofitable to collect. However, in 1982, Midwestern University of Wichita Falls went to court claiming the Legislature had no right to change a tax rate that was set by popular vote in the constitution.

The proposed constitution change on the Nov. 2 ballot would repeal the 10 cents tax, still in the constitution, and would authorize the Legislature to make general revenue appropriations to the 17 colleges for building funds.

The special legislative session in May also approved a bill, effective only if voters change the constitution, to appropriate about $151 million to the 17 colleges for building purposes.

Although no organization is pushing approval of the amendment, Gov. Bill Clements mentions it frequently in his campaign speeches.

"There's no such thing as too much tax relief in my opinion," he says. The other proposed constitution changes on the ballot include: — No. 3, exempting agricultural machinery and equipment from ad valorem taxes. This would expand the present exemption of "implements of husbandry" owned by individuals to include partnerships and corporations.

— No. 4, limiting terms for members of governing boards of certain water districts and other special districts to four years. Currently most are limited to two years.

— No. 5, abolishing the office of county treasurer in Tarrant and Bee counties and shifting the duties to the county auditor, if voters approve.

— No. 6, increasing the maximum interest rate allowed on state general obligation bonds to 12 percent annually. The current limit is 6 percent, and bonds have been increasingly difficult to sell.

DO YOU KNOW?
The Ulcer-Cigarette Link
Research has established a definite link between smoking and duodenal ulcers. It puts cigarette smoking right at the top of the list of culprits associated with this disease.

It affects the development, severity, healing and recurrence of ulcers. Among the facts recently defined:

- Cigarette smokers are about 1.7 times as likely to have duodenal ulcers as nonsmokers;
- Ulcer disease is more common among heavy than among light smokers;
- Ulcers do not heal as rapidly in heavy smokers; and
- Death due to ulcer disease is about twice as common among smokers.

If you smoke and have chronic stomach pain, you should see a doctor to find out if you have a duodenal ulcer.

This information comes from Smith Kline & French Laboratories, discoverers of the prescription drug "Tagamet".
