To Shiver Or Sunbathe, That's The Question? Winter Weather Causes Problems

By Nanalee Nichols
Christmas has come and gone once more, leaving fluttering icicles hanging on discarded trees, empty boxes, wrapping paper in disarray, and another set of memories to add to the store of family gatherings.

Many folks say that they feel a let down, something of a disappointment when it comes time to take down the tree, and pack away the decorations again. For me, packing up the decorations is as special as putting them on the tree.

Each one is labeled with the year it was bought, where at (we buy an ornament for each vacation), or, if it was a gift, who gave it and when. Each is nestled in its own original box, and some of those boxes are pretty weather worn by now.

There is a special feeling that packing these ornaments away so carefully is a promise for next year...and the year after that.

Instead of disappointment, it is a time to place faith in another Christmas arriving, that another joyous holiday time will come, and that once again each piece of forgotten paper will reveal half-forgotten treasures with memories surrounding them.

Think about the memories surrounding the ornaments on your tree...aren't there some bought when the kids were little? One that was purchased on the spur of the moment in a shop somewhere?

Not just tree ornaments, but wreaths, household decorations, a multitude of other things, connected with the season store up memories that usually don't resurface until they are revealed each Christmas season.

Also while the tree ornaments are being taken down and packed away is a good time to ponder New Year's, it's upcoming promises and worries.

The Christmas season is ending, the New Year is approaching, and with it is always a little fear, a little worry about what the future brings...but the best way to cope with that is recall all the good past Christmas seasons, the New Years that made good years.

So look forward to the new year, take a deep breath, and plunge right in! Happy New Year, everyone.

By Nanalee Nichols
By the time that this is printed, it will probably be obsolete. That's how fast weather has shifted around this area lately, and according to upcoming weather forecasts, is going to continue to do so.

The weather over the past few weeks has ranged from in the low eighties degree range to the higher thirties. Bright sunshine, heavy deluge, gentle drizzle, cold rains that were almost icy have characterized the outdoors.

Predictions of ice, sleet and snow have come and gone, fortunately without materializing so far, but predictions for ice are still in the offing.

A problem to shoppers and a torment to housekeepers, the mud has posed more serious problems for agriculturists.

Some winter wheat was never put in, due to the heavy rains that set in with letting up, and no bedding or ground breaking has been possible for November or December.

Wheat stands just planted in November were heavily washed by the enormous rains that fell on them, and ranchers planning on grazing winter wheat stands are having difficulty because their cattle are bogging down to the knees in the soil.

Cattle have suffered from the violent temperature changes. Being warm one day, and then suddenly cold during the night has been detrimental to livestock. Few ranchers report their livestock as being up to usual standards. Another problem has been loss of hay, especially when fed in large round bales, due to cattle tromping it into the rotten ground.

The wet spring resulted in hay of less than best quality, which has also contributed to cattle suffering more this winter.

Calf crops are down some, and cattle must be watched carefully during calving season to prevent calves drowning in creeks and pools that are overflowing.

This week's rainfall, coming onto already saturated ground, has resulted in some flooding.

Area creeks have been out of banks, low-land pastures have been flooded and some people have reported cattle stranded for short periods of time by swollen ditches or creeks.

County roads are far from in good condition, and weather conditions have prevented road crews from doing anything about it.

A jaunt to Main Street was what appears to be vehicles of almost all one color...black mud, brown mud or sand colored mud, according to which community one visits.

Farmers have hopes of a spell of dry weather which will allow them to tend to their winter cultivation duties, but so far, the weathermen hold out little hope.

HIGH WATER near Blossom resulted in flooded pastures and impassable roads in some places. Already saturated ground has caused the recent rains to run off at a rapid pace. (Staff Photo)

DESTROYED—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Chris McCarty of Deport was totally destroyed by fire Monday morning as Deport and Pattonville firemen arrived to find the fire had too big a head start for them to control. The McCartys were not home when the fire started, apparently by lightning. The house was located about a mile west of Deport on Hwy. 271. (Staff Photo)

In Bogata, Kathy Lynn Pirtle received her BS. The students heard an address from Dr. Lawrence K. Pettit, associate commissioner for senior colleges and universities.

have a nice weekend...

High Speed Chase Ends Near Sylvan

A highspeed chase ended in both a Lamar County Sheriff's Deputy car and a vehicle belonging to a suspect becoming stuck in a muddy field Tuesday night.

Lamar County Sheriff's deputies were making a routine sweep through the roadside park just west of Pattonville when a man immediately took off upon spotting them.

The chase ended after a long time on the Sylvan road, when the suspect failed to navigate a corner and ended up in a field. Sheriff's deputies, to avoid collision, also wound up in the field.

At press time, details as to why the man, an adult white male, had fled were not available, and he had not yet been arraigned.

The Sheriff's department reported that the suspect had gone in speeds in excess of 100 miles per hour during the chase.

Arrestment was apparently expected when all reports were complete.

THIS 1974 FORD pickup was heavily damaged after plunging off into the creek known as Lake Drain between Deport and Bogata last Thursday morning. Oscar Kyle of Jolntown, age 83, was not injured in the accident. The vehicle, located on Hwy. 271, was spotted by Donald Crawford of Deport, who called the Highway Patrol. (Staff Photo)

LETTERS
Dear Mrs. Nichols,
Please renew my subscription of the Deport Times. I love to get my hometown paper, just like a letter. I can keep up with school friends from the old Deport High.
I enjoy the Nichols Worth and John Hood footprints from the past.
Thank you.

Clardy News

Relatives here had word last week that Roy Ballard of Port Neches was critically ill in a Houston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Ballard spent their 55th wedding anniversary at home Friday with a family dinner.

Wright-Low Exchange Vows

Miss Judy Michelle Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kerry Wright of Mansfield was united in Matrimony on Saturday, December 18, 1982 at six o'clock in the evening to William Richardson Low, Jr., son of Mrs. Jean Low and William R. Low, Sr., both of Houston, Texas, in the sanctuary of the First United Methodist Church of Mansfield.

The Rev. Charles Humphreys, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Nuptial music was provided by Mrs. Bob Livingston who sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer", accompanied by Stuart Heard, organist.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of ivory organza featuring a ruffled Queen Anne collar and scoop neckline accented with chantilly lace and seed pearls. Full lace sleeves complimented the gown which also had an empire waistline. The full organza skirt was decorated by layers of lace at the hemline which flowed from a peak in the front and were met in the back by a matching panel to form a chapel length train.

Complimenting the gown was a white Cavalier bridal hat of Schillie lace and seed pearls with an illusion back puff that extended to chapel length.

The bride carried a bouquet consisting of a cascade of silk white rose buds, stepanotis, touches of burgundy sweetheart roses and complimented with lace edging. She was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Eugene Wright, sister-in-law to the bride of Pine Bluff, Ark. served as matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Sheila Hill of Pine Bluff, Ark.; Sheila Richardson of Houston; and Margi Low, sister of the groom of Houston, Texas.

The groom's attendants were Jeff Low, his brother, of Houston as Best Man. Groomsman were Eugene Wright of Pine Bluff, Ark., Allan Wright of Mansfield and Tim Kenefick of Pasadena, Ca., brother-in-law to the groom.

Ushers were Mike Lawson of Pine Bluff and Paul Knapp of Mansfield. Lighting the candles were Eugene Wright and Allan Wright, brothers of the bride, who also served as groomsmen.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church, which was decorated with plants and greenery for the occasion.

The bride's table was centered with white gladiolus and pink carnations in candelabra while the groom's table was adorned with an arrangement of fruit.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Randy Pearson, cutting the bride's cake and Jennifer Brown serving punch. Debbie Kruger cut the groom's cake with Cindy Morris serving the coffee.

Joe'l Odom presided over the guest book.

Following the reception, the couple departed for a short wedding trip to San Antonio, Texas, after which they will be at home in Houston.

The Bridal Brunch was given by Mrs. Bill Lowrey and Mrs. Boy Church in the Lowrey home in Mansfield.

The Rehearsal Dinner was hosted by William R. Low, Sr. at the Old Church Inn in Mansfield.

Save 10%

on your 1983 seed cost

Pay for your Pioneer brand seed during Pioneer Days (January 3 - 8) and we'll knock off a full 10% from your seed bill.

That's like getting one bag free for every nine you buy. So even on borrowed money it's a good deal. Besides getting more for your money, you get these advantages:

- Assurance of the varieties you want when you're ready to plant.
- One less chore to worry about when you're busy in the spring.

Come see us during Pioneer Days. Save 10% and get a new cap just for paying for your seed or visiting with us about your seed needs.

RENT NO MORE

As of January 1, 1983, Continental Telephone of Texas will sell rather than rent telephones to new customers and to existing customers seeking a change in service.*

Our action stems from plans to deregulate the telecommunications industry by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC).

Customers currently renting business or residence equipment will have the option of continuing to do so or they may purchase that equipment at a price far below its replacement cost.

Your local Continental business office can answer any questions you may have about service changes including convenient ways to purchase your present telephones.

Private ownership. When you think about it, it has a nice ring to it.

*Party-line customers are not affected by the change in policy.

THOUGHT FOR FOOD BY GOULD CROOK

Cheddar Tuna Sandwich
1 can (6 1/2 oz.) tuna, drained and flaked
1/4 cup chopped pimiento-stuffed olives
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard
4 slices whole wheat bread, toasted and buttered
4 slices Cheddar cheese
Combine tuna, olives and onion. Combine sour cream and mustard; toss with tuna mixture. Spread bread with tuna mixture. Top each sandwich with a slice of cheese. Broil until cheese melts, about 2-3 minutes. Serve immediately.
