Monday Rain Brings Relief To Area

By Nanalee Nichols
A "million dollar rain" is an old expression, but that may be precisely what the area received Monday.

Seldom is rain needed so early in the spring time, but this April has been one of the driest on record...as well as one of the coldest.

March was also a very cold and somewhat dry month.

Farmers have had time to get their crops planted, but were already having to worry about tender seedlings sprouting and then dying from lack of moisture. Some had already had to replant because of the lack of seed bed moisture.

Wheat farmers needed rain to help fill out their wheat heads, which are in a crucial stage right now.

Gardeners, whose persistence has been severely tried by late frosts and freezes, were beginning to water tender tomatoes, peppers and other transplants, while seeds weren't sprouting.

Flower specialists were suffering from the same problems.

The weatherman wasn't predicting quite the fine rain that fell on Lamar, Red River and Titus Counties.

After several days of high wind, consistently gray, cloudy skies and no more than a few sprinkles of rain, Monday looked as if it would produce more of the same.

By noon, however, a fine, cool mist was falling. The mist gradually developed into a drizzle that made gardeners smile and farmers breathe a sigh of relief.

Late in the afternoon, the rain was accompanied with some thunder and lightning, and the downfall intensified until puddles were everywhere.

None of the severe thunderstorms, tornadoes or other forms of violent weather materialized in the local vicinity, much to the relief of residents, who visualized last year's turbulent skies.

Fears that May would continue in the same dry vein as April were somewhat relieved, although an inch or more of rain would have been preferred by those on especially dry, light soils.

One optimistic person was heard to remark, "Well, maybe this year nature is saving some moisture for summertime."

Hopefully for agriculturists this will prove true.

But one thing is certain...without Monday's rain, they wouldn't have had to worry about summer being dry...crops and gardens would never have made it that far!

LANDSCAPE—Forrest Lindsey, a very prominent artist and instructor, will be conducting a day-long workshop leaving from the Deport Times office on May 14. Persons interested should contact the newspaper. The landscape shown here is an example of Lindsey's work. (Staff Photo)

Blossom Garden Club Challenges Citizens

The Blossom Garden Club is moving on with its plans for cleaning and beautifying Blossom with a contest to encourage participation.

Plaques will be made and presented to the family whose yard is judged to be the neatest or most improved. Yards will be judged on cleanliness, good design, and appealing color scheme. There will also be a sign placed in the winner's yard for three months, indicating the winner of the contest.

At the end of the three months, the judging will begin again, therefore, if you have a long way to go, you still have a chance.

The first judging will take place around the last week of May. If you would like for your yard or a neighbor's yard to be entered in the judging, just call one of these ladies, Margaret Crawford at 982-5579 or Sue Seale at 982-6296 or Clara Gardiner at 982-6404 and give your name and the location of the home.

Posters will be made and placed around Blossom encouraging clean up and participation in the contest.

Bands To Hold Concert

The Prairiland High School and Junior High Bands will present a band concert on May 5 starting at 7:30 p.m. at the Prairiland Gymnasium.

Admission will be $1 and recognition of special efforts and awards will be included in the concert program.

The Junior High Band Program will consist of Blue Ribbon March, Safari, Mountain Hoe Down, Let's Go Band and Fidgets (combined with high school).

STATE'S BEST—Laura McIntire, a Prairiland High School senior, won first place in Editorial Writing at the State Journalism Contest held April 29 in Austin. The Editorial Contest involves a situation where a writer is given an issue and then the "pros" and "cons" of the issue. The writer must choose one side and defend or explain it so effectively that he or she convinces the audience of judges. This must be done in 250 words, and a 45 minute time limit is imposed.

Laura has been on the yearbook staff at Prairiland for three years, serving as editor her senior year. Last year she was awarded the yearbook award for her outstanding work. Laura is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wylie McIntire of Paris.

Day-Long Art Workshop To Be Outdoors

An outdoor workshop conducted by Forrest Lindsey will be available to anyone interested on Saturday, May 14 in Deport.

This workshop will provide a unique opportunity to learn outside with local roads and buildings the subject.

The workshop will start at the Deport Times office on Main Street in Deport. It will begin at 9 a.m. and continue throughout the day until around 3 or 4 p.m.

Degree from UCLA and holds a California lifetime teaching credential.

On the west coast, he served on advisory boards of four California universities and lectured frequently at university seminars and graphic arts workshops and was a favored guest artist in southern California art clubs, demonstrating and judging art shows before early retirement from the Los Angeles Board of Education.

His artistic career is marked by versatility. Forty years of art experience include commercial art application, free lance illustrating, fine art teaching and outstanding painting contributions to shows, competitions and galleries in the west, and more recently, in Dallas and throughout East Texas. His painting specialties include landscapes, portraiture, wildlife and western historical subjects. He works with oils, acrylics, charcoal, pen and ink, pastels and conti.

During his years in California, Lindsey consistently placed in the top awards in numerous annual West Coast art competitions, resulting in "Best of Show" and first place awards over the past thirty years. Most recent are three awards by I.G.I. 1976 annual international presentation for "Judges Commendation of Excellence", "Best of Show, color rendering" and "Best of Show, black and white rendering".

Recent commissions awarded him were twelve paintings presenting landscapes of the twelve Canadian provinces, now hanging in the Canadian Houses of Parliament, Ottawa, Canada; and a 15 by 10 foot altar painting for a church in Grand Prairie, which has been the subject of a television show.

Forrest is currently exhibiting at Jane Drake and Associates in Dallas and Baum Gallery in Arlington. As assistant professor of art at SMU, 1982 marked Forrest's fourth successful summer artists workshop at the SMU-Taos, N.M. campus where he originated the art program for SMU.

Forrest and his wife, Ruth, now live at King's Country on Lake Cypress Springs, near Mt. Vernon. He teaches art classes at "The Studio" located on the square in Mt. Vernon, and this workshop is one of many day-long events he has conducted throughout northeast Texas.

Paris Art Fair Unique Events

The 22 year old Paris Art Fair traditionally attracts artists and spectators from a wide area. Many will come this year from your community, and we wish to reach them with word of our features, attractions and delights planned for May 7 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.
 A rainbow of hot air balloons will add a new dimension May 7 to the 22nd annual Paris Art Fair, rising above the usual music, dancing and special events planned at Paris Junior College.
 Professional artists and amateur craftsmen from across the country will display and sell their work during the fair from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Entertainment from bagpipers, Indian dancers, local singers and musicians—as well as the hot air balloon antics—combine to make the Paris Art Fair an event for the whole family, the whole day.
 At least 25 huge colorful balloons will be in Paris to coincide with the fair, for a nationally sanctioned hot air balloon competition, officials noted. Beginning with preliminary runs on Friday, May 6, the balloons will perform at least three races through Sunday in the "Greater Paris Hot Air Balloon Competition."
 Balloonmeister Dr. William Bussey said that the FAA licensed balloonists would soar above the nearby countryside in competitions named "Hare & Hound," "CNT," and "Judge Declared Goal."
 Art Competitions are a traditional part of the Paris Art Fair, officials continued. Entries will be accepted from 8 to 10 a.m., May 7 in the senior division, open to any artist, including students, whose work is totally original in conception and execution. Work must not have been entered in previous YWCA Art Fair judging.
 A $3.00 entry fee will be charged for each piece, paid at time of registration, officials explained. Judging will begin at 10:30 a.m. and awards will be presented at 4 p.m.
 Entries which are for sale must have the price on the front. Sales will be arranged through the YWCA, which will deduct a 20 percent commission from the price.
 Food concessions this year include commercial vendors selling barbeque, fried chicken, Mexican food, hot dogs and corny dogs.
 "Carnival Row," a new attraction presented by Paris school teachers, will feature games for all ages. A coin roll, dunking booth, putting green, basketball, football, baseball and tissue-throw will be awarded with carnival prizes.
 The Children's Corner will entertain the kids with face painting, spin art, personalized printing and other games designed especially for younger fair-goers.
 Donated works of art from celebrated artists Sam Tuminello, Tallie Lipscomb, Jamie Carter, Garry Morell and Charles Singleton will be given away during the day.
 Equipment displays provided by the U.S. Army, Navy and Marines will be at the fair, including a tank, cannon, missile and miniship, officials said.

ODE TO ARENA
By Jackie Crane

I've been patient
And I've been good.
Thought 'til now
you were misunderstood.
The cable's been lousy.
The cable's been bad.
But until today I didn't get mad.
I didn't rant,
I didn't rave,
I kept my temper
And I forgave.
The "Wheel of Fortune"
went round and round,
The "Price is Right" didn't tell me to "Come On Down!",
The "Love Boat" weighed anchor and
sailed without me,
And "All My Children"
forgot about me.
I didn't get a kiss from Richard Dawson.
Watching movies through lines is really awesome.
And so, dear cable, I've had my fill,
You're making my head
ache,
You're making me ill.
Either straighten this mess out,
And I mean today!
Or I'll buy an antenna.
And you, I won't pay.

Former Deport Couple Have Profitable Retirement

Two former Deport residents have discovered that retirement can be lots of fun!

Harley and Mary Campbell were the feature of the Lamesa Press-Reporter recently as they displayed the unusual crafts they are constructing since retirement.

The article mentioned the metal sculpture which Harley does, featuring leaves, windmills, butterflies and cotton bolls.

Mary specializes in hand crafted pillows of unusual design and detail.

Harley was employed by Kelsey Motor Company before they left Deport. He retired after 40 years as service manager for Vaughn Chevrolet, Nix Motor Company and Bob Brown Olds-Cadillac-GMC.

Mary worked for 29 years as the Director of Cafeterias for the Lamesa school system.

The couple admit they had little time for hobbies, but in 1978 decided it was time to change pace.

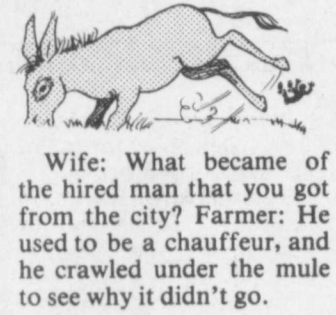

Mary retired a few years later.

The couple now take their crafts to arts and crafts shows all over the area. They now take a van to seven or eight art shows a year, and win prestigious awards.

Their latest journey was to the Lubbock Art Festival in which more than 250 artists displayed and sold their work.

Over 85,000 people attended. She usually takes around 200 pillows to a show, and he estimates he has about $2,000 worth of metal sculpture to sell at each show.

The Campbells take the Deport paper, and we hope they see this, our congratulations to a successful "retirement".

HELPFUL IDEAS FOR SUCCESSFUL RETIREMENT

GROWING OLD

On his 100th birthday, a wise old gentleman was complimented on the fact that he had grown old very gracefully and with great dignity. "How did you accomplish this feat?" he was asked. Without hesitation the centenarian replied, "One day at a time."

The gentleman was being sincere, rather than flippant. He had recognized that yesterday is prologue; tomorrow is yet to come and today is the most important day of all. If we live today to the best of our ability, it will be a happy day and we are certain to profit through some manner of achievement.

When one learns to live each day for all that it is worth, it is easier to shed the grief, the sorrows and the disappointments that were so much a part of yesterday. We cannot properly use this day if we surround ourselves with idle and unpleasant thoughts. And, sometimes we can set them aside only by the act of doing whatever it is that needs to be done, that can be done, today.

The key word is "activity." People who age gracefully do not do so in a wheelchair. They don't sit around waiting for something to happen; they make it happen.

What one chooses to do may be as simple as bowling, golfing, or just taking a walk. Or as complicated as keeping up with the stock market. Whatever it is requires initiative, requires some action. And that is what makes it worthwhile.

GARDEN

Get The Bugs Out Of The Vegetables

Bugs get hungry, too. Plant a vegetable garden in the backyard and you will serve up a variety of green things that look like a sumptuous banquet to several families of worms and beetles. The best protection against bugs and worms is a good all-purpose spray or powder. You can buy both sprays and powders with labels that say they are specifically effective against one or two bugs or insects, or specially formulated for use as protection for certain plants and vegetables. But you don't need to buy a dozen different sprays or powders.

Check with your seed supplier or county agent before investing heavily in bug protection. The best protection against severe bug damage is early spraying and constant attention. Look for early signs of bug damage, such as small holes in the leaves of plants. Spray or dust, as you prefer, but do it without undue delay. Remember, too, that heavy rains wash away both powder and spray. If you spray today and heavy rains fall tomorrow, your plant protection is either washed away or highly diluted.

Proper spraying or dusting is essential because you need to kill both adult and larvae. This is particularly true of beetles, as both adult and larvae feed primarily on leafy plants.

Follow manufacturer recommendations carefully when using sprays and powders. Some say you can spray just before harvest, some say you can spray the day before harvest, others say wait longer to harvest after application. But, there's no need to spray or dust and then harvest. Pick the produce, then work on the bugs.

Pond Management Is Important

By Warren E. Brashier "A fishpond on the farm is just another pasture". Springtime develops desires for outdoor recreation activities for most people.

Fishing in one's own farm pond can be just as exciting and productive as any of the well known fishing lakes in the area. However, the fish pond must be managed for fish production. Proper construction, proper stocking and controlled harvest are the main points.

Construction should be done to provide shorelines deep enough to restrict growths of water plants. Such growths interfere with fishing from the bank and result in loss of catch during landing. Approved herbicides have been developed for control of undesirable vegetation in ponds.

Stocking should be according to pond size. Ponds less than one acre surface are usually limited to channel cat and fathead minnows or some other single species sport fish with forage species. Bass and bream are recommended as additions to ponds greater than one acre surface.

Government agencies no longer furnish fish for stocking private ponds and lakes. Commercial stocking suppliers' locations and species are available from Soil Conservation Service office in Paris.

Fish food cycles consist of insects, microscopic plants and smaller fish. Fertilizing increases the microscopic plants, these attract insects, the small fish feed on the insects of shorelines and on water surface, larger fish feed on both the insects and the smaller fish during this feeding process. If a pond is muddy, it can be cleared up by addition of agricultural limestone or agricultural grade of gypsum. Fertilizing can then be done at intervals as needed from March 1 to October. The fertilizers used will usually be about the same formula as used on adjacent pastures. The plant life developed by fertilizing should be dense enough to limit visibility below a depth of 16 inches.

Finally, some species of fish which are popular on larger lakes should not be stocked in farm ponds and lakes less than 10 acres in surface. Those which tend to overstock and create an unbalanced condition are crappie, goggle-eye, sand bass, stripers, carp, bullheads and others.

Women To Hear Helen Hammond

The Fellowship of Christian Women will have their last meeting of the year on May 5 from 11:45 to 1:30 at the First Methodist Church. It will be a salad luncheon and everyone is asked to bring either a salad or bread. There will be no charge and reservations are needed only for the nursery. They can be made by calling Judy Jordan at 784-5115.

The topic of her presentation will be "Coping through a Divorce". She was married to a very prominent rancher for 26 years when it ended tragically. Helen Hammond will share the hurts, frustrations and disappointments of a divorce, but most of all, the victory of overcoming it through the power of Jesus Christ.

Guest speaker will be Helen Hammond of Clovis, N.M. She is a well known speaker to Christian Women's Clubs throughout the area. In addition to being a leader of Friendship Bible Coffee's, Helen Hammond is a Hospice volunteer and a P.E.O. organizer.

Special music will be provided by Mark and Christi Hardy and the Handbell Choir of the First Methodist Church.

The Fellowship of Christian Women is a non-denominational organization and its main goal is to reach women of all ages for Christ.

Clovers With Grass Can Reduce Fertilizer Costs

By Steve R. Smith
Ranchers can shave the cost of nitrogen fertilizer by overseeding with clovers. Kimberly Dacus of Woodland and Lawrence Lyons of Detroit are two cooperators with the Red River County Soil and Water Conservation District who have overseeded their pastures with yuchi arrowleaf clover.

A good crop of clover will produce about 16 pounds of nitrogen for each ton of green weight per acre.

By growing both clovers and grasses in combination, you can improve the quality of forage and increase the protein content. However, much more management is required when growing both clovers and grasses together, rather than one or the other.

Both Dacus and Lyons planted the yuchi arrowleaf clover about a year ago. The clover reseeded and has a volunteer stand this year. It was overseeded in common bermuda grass pastures to improve forage quality. Yuchi clover is an annual and has to be reseeded each year unless it is allowed to reseed itself.

A good fertilizer for clovers in this area is 300 pounds of 0-20-20 per acre. The fertilizer may be applied in the fall of the year. The clover should be given a chance to get started by excluding grazing. After the clover has reached 4 to 6 inches in height it will furnish some grazing during winter and spring.

Inoculate the clover seed with the proper inoculant. The inoculant furnishes the necessary bacteria for the plant to grow and affix nitrogen.

If you expect continued reseeding, defer the cattle in the spring from June 1 through July 1 to permit a good seed crop.

For additional information on the different types of clovers, their seeding dates and rates, contact the Soil Conservation Service.

Footprints From The Past

By John W. Hood
Finally spring of the year has arrived. When I was a small boy it was time to get with some of your best friends and go fishing.

Fishing meant digging worms, finding a long cane pole, tying the fishing line to the pole, putting a worm on the hook and throwing the hook in the water and waiting. You had to be alert enough to get the fish out of the water before he got off the hook. When I got older I began hearing some of the fishermen talk of flies they used to catch certain kinds of fish. Me, I didn't know what they were talking about. I didn't know there was anything but a big ole catfish or maybe a perch, and the "fly" part, I surely thought they were talking about houseflies and the big horseflies.

So, you can see that I was behind the times and to this day I still think the best way to fish is with a cane pole, a piece of cord and put a hook on the end of it and throw it into the creek and let the fish beware.

I can remember one time that Dad had gotten my brother and I to go down to the pool with him and we set out our hooks by baiting them and sticking the handle of the pole into the bank. Then we went home because it was getting late and we had to do chores before dark. Well, the next morning we all went down to the pool to see if we had caught any fish. We checked all the poles except mine, because we didn't find it for a long time. Dad finally saw it on the other side of the pool. When we got to it there was a catfish on the hook that we took home and weighed at over six pounds.

I went around bragging about the big fish that I had caught for the longest time, in fact I still brag about it. But when you don't have very good luck fishing, you tend to remember the ones that you do catch.

In later years, I have learned that a fly does not necessarily mean a housefly or horsefly and I have learned to half-way fish with a rod and reel and to tell the truth, I still don't catch many fish. I still like to go though. I am going one of these days and if I catch any fish I will invite all of you to come over and help me eat it, for I know that it will be a very large one and enough for all the people in the community who like fish. Don't wait for me to call for it is likely usual I will be out about $4 or $5 for all different kinds of bait and still not catch any large enough to keep. I have a lot of fun, but not much luck.

Weekly Agricultural Briefs

By Paul D. Payne
Many wheat fields in the area have been hit by a different type of rust than that in 1982. The type this year is called Stripe Rust, and it does present some new problems for the wheat grower. We do not want to alarm growers, just to re-emphasize what we have been saying all winter long that is for growers to check each field often to determine the disease situation field by field. The disease is not present in each field in the county. One field in a community can be severely infected while another one a mile away may be free of the disease.

Unfortunately, I nor your chemical dealer, can tell you with one hundred percent assurance that a field does or does not need treating. Only you can make that decision. I will attempt to summarize the information which we have gathered.

First, be sure you know what Stripe Rust looks like. It can normally be found in a hot spot in your field. In this spot, most of the leaves will be severely affected. The rust pustules are situated in a straight line up and down the leaf. In severe cases, the entire leaf may be affected, but one will still be able to see the streaks of rust.

Cool temperatures of late have been ideal for rust growth and development. One factor to halt the situation is some hot weather. Hot weather is 70 degree night time temperature and 85 degree day time weather.

It is a systemic type disease. The plant tissue between the leaf covering is attacked and will continue to develop even though a manzate or dithane fungicide is applied to the leaf surface. It is doubtful that an application of either fungicide already infected with Stripe Rust would take care of the situation.

Dithane, Manzate and the Sulphur compounds may do an acceptable job of preventing the disease where not much headway has been made. However, more than one application of these materials will be needed.

Yield potential is important when contemplating use of chemicals. Use a 35 to 40 bushel yield potential as a guide. It is doubtful that one could expect a return on their money if expected yield is below this figure.

Applying a chemical will be expensive. Two applications of either the mentioned fungicides at two pounds per acre will cost $16 per acre. If a field is already severely infected, it may take upwards of six ounces of Bayleton. The cost of the sulphur material will be less than either fungicide.

The Lamar County milo variety demonstration was planted this past Monday even though the soil temperature was not as high as desired. Fourteen varieties were included. Our demonstration cooperator is Bobby Preston of Midway in the south central part of the county.

Varieties planted are

Funks G 611 and G 1400; Paymaster 1090 and GR 1018; Stauffer S 9750 and 530 GR; Pioneer 8493 and 8222; Ring Around 808 GB, X 1806 and X 1807; Conlee Top Hand II and DeKalb 42 Y.

Junior Show Time
There will be big happenings out at the Fairgrounds this Thursday and Friday as 4-H and FFA members in Lamar County and adjoining counties display their finest beef cattle, dairy, swine, sheep, horses, goats, rabbits and poultry. Show officials expect a big show.

Mini-Courses Set At PJC

Paris area youth from kindergarten through the 12th grade will have an opportunity to take mini-courses at Paris Junior College this summer, said June Jones, director of community services for PJC. The summer program, entitled "Thinking Can Be Fun" will include courses in art, drama, music, reading, math, microcomputer, photography, Spanish, wildlife study, racquet ball and tennis for the various age groups.

In a three week period from June 6 through June 23, courses will be offered from 8:30 to 10 a.m., from 10:15 to 11:45 a.m., and from 1 to 2:30 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays, Tuesdays and Thursdays and Friday. A nine hour computer course for students in grades 9 through 12 will be taught from 2:45 to 5 p.m. and may be completed in any one of the three weeks, or the course may be taken on three Friday mornings. The computer course for the entire family will be taught from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Mondays and Wednesdays for three weeks.

Courses to be taught include reading aloud for kindergarten through second grade students; Spanish and wildlife study for those in kindergarten through the ninth grade; art for kindergarten through the 12th grade; literature for third through eighth grade; drama, choir and math magic for third through ninth grade; tennis for third through 12th grade; microcomputer for third through 12th grade; photography and racquet ball for sixth through 12th grade; and pre-algebra, ninth through 12th grade. Classes will be arranged according to age groups, Mrs. Jones noted.

Preparatory music classes in piano, voice, guitar, brass instruments and beginning percussion also will be taught at PJC this summer. Complete schedules of the various courses are printed in brochures which are available at PJC and will be distributed through the Paris schools and mailed on rural routes. Course fees range from $15 to $25, depending upon the instructional hours.

First Baptist Of Blossom Presenting Unusual Film

"God's Prison Gang," a newly released film featuring Al Capone's getaway driver, the last member of Bonnie and Clyde's gang and two other notorious criminals who have become Christians will be shown at the First Baptist Church in Blossom on Sunday, May 8 at 7 p.m.

The film, shot behind the walls of New York's Attica prison, is hosted by Art Linkletter. It tells the story of how the work of International Prison Ministry is accomplishing what more guards, higher prison walls and greater financial expenditures have failed to do—keep released inmates from returning to lives of crime. Telling their stories in the 44-minute film are George Meyer, Al Capone's favorite driver; Floyd Hamilton, (Public Enemy No. 1) the last of the Bonnie and Clyde Gang; Jerry Graham, the "robber king" of California; and Ted Jefferson, convicted of crimes from drugs to robbery and murder.

Also featured is "Chaplain Ray", whose Dallas-based International Prison Ministry has changed the lives of thousands of inmates over the past 18 years.

The Rev. Tom Littlejohn, pastor of the First Baptist Church, said he hopes all citizens concerned about the problem of rising crime will attend the free screening of the film.

THE MARKET BASKET

Finding the best food buys this week, as every week, depends upon comparative shopping.

At the meat counter, for example, you'll find beef prices a little lower, but demand is sluggish because of large supplies of competing meats.

You'll find good buys in cuts from the chuck and in ground beef. Remember, it's cost per serving rather than cost per pound that's important.

In the pork department consumers will find prices are down and all pork cuts are good buys. Anytime you can buy a whole loin or a family-sized package, you'll save on cost per serving.

There is a wide range of prices between brands of bacon and sausage, so now is a good time to try different brands. The fat content of pork breakfast sausage varies, so select one that has the flavor and fat content your family prefers.
