Texas Crime Rate Shows Decrease

By Nanalee Nichols
Have I spoken of trees before? If so, bear with me while I praise their virtues once again.

The idea of pointing out the undeniable value of trees came to me while I sat under an old, twisted bois'd'arc Sunday afternoon in an attempt to keep out of the blazing sun.

It felt warm under the tree until I stood in the sun, then I realized just how much a service tree provides.

Shelter is what a tree does best. It is the finest of nature's cooling devices.

It will keep air conditioning bills down by shielding a house, it will make a porch cooler, and it is surely a nice thing to have on the edge of a hay meadow!

East Texas is blessed with an abundance of shade trees, in many varieties.

Pecans, sycamores, pine and magnolia, even the lowly hackberry or bois'd'arc shelter the world from the fiery sun and provides respite for those who work outside and those who like to watch the sun go down as the level in their ice tea glass does too.

Trees keep the ground cooler, and catch the slightest breeze.

They grace the landscape with a cool green color pleasing to the eye.

Cattle, horses and every other creature take refuge from hot summers under their branches.

And when fall comes they drop their leaves only after providing us with a color spectacle that can be breathtaking.

When winter comes trees continue in their year-round usefulness. Fireplaces crackle merrily with the wood cut from creek banks and woods. Evergreens shelter homes from howling north winds, and the leafless shade trees that blot out the hot summer sun allow the weak winter warmth to penetrate to the earth.

When spring comes the woods and roadsides come alive as dogwood, peaches, pears and countless varieties of blooming trees herald spring.

And then the cycle repeats itself once again, and trees provide that service for which they are best suited...shading East Texans from the hot summer sun!

The Texas crime rate for the first half of 1983 declined three percent compared to the same period last year, according to statistics released by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"Figures compiled by the Department's Uniform Crime Reporting Bureau showed a rate of 2,989.7 major crimes reported for each hundred thousand of population for the first half of this year," said Colonel Jim Adams, DPS director. "The rate for the comparable 1982 period was 3,083.1."

"Although the specific reasons behind this decrease would be difficult to determine, I'd like to think that widespread citizen participation in police crime prevention programs continues to be a factor," Adams said. "We hope this decrease in the crime rate will carry through the rest of the year."

A total of 456,840 major criminal offenses were reported by Texas law enforcement agencies from January through June of this year, reflecting a slight increase of 0.4 percent in the actual number of crimes.

"Every major crime category except theft registered a decrease in the first half of 1983," Adams pointed out.

The number of murders decreased by 7.9 percent, while rape declined by 7.1 percent. Robberies and aggravated assaults were down by 5.7 percent and 5.2 percent respectively.

Motor vehicle thefts dropped 8 percent. Burglaries decreased by 5.2 percent. The number of thefts increased by 6.4 percent.

"DWI arrests were up almost 42 percent in the first half of this year compared to the same 1982 period," Adams said. "This indicates that Texas police agencies are keeping the pressure on the potential DWI offenders and removing increasing numbers of these violators from the roads."

Statewide arrests for criminal offenses totaled 458,926 in the first six months of 1983, posting a 4.1 percent increase over the 1982 period.

Three Texas law enforcement officers were killed in the line of duty by criminal action during the period. Four other peace officers died as a result of job-related accidents. A total of 1,833 officers were assaulted while on duty.

Statewide totals for January - June of 1982 and 1983 are: Murder- 1,153 in 1982 and 1,062 in 1983; Rape- 3,290 in 1982 and 3,057 in 1983; Robbery- 15,723 in 1982 and 14,821 in 1983; Aggravated Assault- 22,441 in 1982 and 21,273 in 1983; Burglary- 136,961 in 1982 and 129,854 in 1983; Theft- 232,192 in 1982 and 247,085 in 1983; and Motor Vehicle Theft- 43,147 in 1982 and 39,688 in 1983.

DWI arrests for the first half of 1983 totaled 71,972 compared to 50,786 in the first half of 1982.

Football Contest Offers Cash, Prizes

Those many folks who enjoyed pitting their football knowledge against the guessing contest sponsored by the Deport, Bogata, Blossom and Talco newspapers last year can gear up and try again this year.

Starting this week, and continuing through the next 12 weeks, the papers will award cash money each week to the top three guessers on a weekly list of high school, college and professional football games.

Weekly prize money will consist of $12 for first place, $7 for second place and $5 for third place.

The rules and entries are published on Page 4 of each week's paper, and the deadline is Friday at 5 p.m. for turning in entries in person at the Deport Times office or Bogata News office.

Just clip out the page and start marking predictions. Entries received in the mail may be sent to the Deport Times, P.O. Box 98, Deport, Texas, 75435, but must be in the mail by Friday.

The rules are simple, and anyone is eligible to play except employees of the newspapers and their immediate families.

On the contest page there are 28 advertisements by businesses that are joining the paper in sponsoring the contest. In each ad there is a different football contest listed. Contestants must guess the winner in each of the 27 games by making an "X" or mark in the parenthesis alongside the team they pick to win. If you believe the game will end in a tie write "tie" across the ad in which the game appears.

Do not guess the score on the games in the ads, just mark your choice of which team will win.

In addition to the 28 games, there is a "Tie Breaker" game printed in the middle of the page. Contestants should guess both the winner and the score of the tie-breaker game. The week's opener is the Rivercrest-Prairiland game.

The tie-breaker will be counted with the other 28 games in determining the contest winner, and will be used to break any ties among contestants.

In using the tie breaker game score to decide the winners, the game winner is the first step. If contestants are still tied, the margin of victory will be the next step. Total game points will be the third step if it should continue that far, and total points by the game winner will be the fourth step. If, amazingly, there should be a tie still, prize money would be divided equally.

Contestants can only submit one entry each week.

Remember, there is a different game in each of the 28 ads on the contest page, and they should predict the outcome of each of those games, not just the tie-breaker game. If a game is not marked it is counted as wrong.

Winners will be announced in next Thursday's paper, after which winners can claim their prize money.

Entries can be slipped under the door of either the Bogata News or the Deport Times if the offices happen to be closed, but should make sure they are where no one can pull them back out.

have a nice weekend...

NO SERIOUS injuries resulted from this accident, although it seems impossible that the driver, G.R. Woodard of Deport, managed to escape from the late model pickup. Woodard lost control of the vehicle on a Farm to Market road near the old Cunningham road. He managed to crawl from the pickup, and was taken home. Later he was treated and released from a Paris hospital. (Staff Photo)

Prairiland Band Marching, Performing!

The Prairiland High School Marching Band had its first meeting on July 25 and the fundamentals of marching were introduced.

Three weeks later the band was asked to "do something" at the Booster Club Ice Cream Social before the Red Pride Scrimmage.

And "do something" they did! They performed a march called "Roman Entrance", a pop song called "Bread Man" and an arrangement of the "Battle Hymn" that will become the Patriot Red Pride Fight Song.

This Friday the band will form a huge "P" and march it off the field to the fight song as part of their half time activities at the first football game of the year.

The band will perform the national anthem and school song from the field.

They will be dressed in matching red, white and blue shirts, blue jeans and white shoes.

Regular band uniforms are in the future plans for the band.

Drum majors are Lisa Leonard and Staci Risinger.

Forty-two performers will be in the unit of Friday night.

Band director Dave Clark expressed satisfaction and pride in the group he has made, especially since last year was the first year for a band program at Prairiland.

they prepare to take on the Rebels at Prairiland Stadium this Friday night in what should be an action packed game. (Staff Photo)

CORRESPONDENTS and people having NEWS to turn in are reminded that the POST OFFICES will be CLOSED ON LABOR DAY next Monday, and news delivered through the mail will NEED to be MAILED by FRIDAY in order to arrive in time for PUBLICATION.... DON'T FORGET...the pep rally at PRAIRILAND FRIDAY evening before the game...1:40 p.m. and the PRAIRILAND BAND will perform!!!!

BAND SHIRTS-Band director Dave Clark and band members Briscoe, Emmons, Connie Briscoe and Mike Clark proudly display the new shirts they will wear for band performances this year. The newly formed band is perfecting it's marching skills, and will perform at half-time at the first football game of the year this Friday night. The red and blue shirts feature the classic

Prairiland Patriot, but instead of a musket...he has a drum! (Staff Photo)

Prairiland To Kick-Off Season

The blazing heat didn't seem to affect the Prairiland Patriots at workout Tuesday afternoon.

The only thing on their mind was getting ready to take on the Rivercrest Rebels this Friday night.

Quite like it doesn't seem though it football season, it is, and kickoff between the two teams will come at 8:00 p.m. September 2 at Prairiland.

Head coach Chet James says that the Rebels are "better than last year".

"Every time we play them, it's the same kind of game. It's been decided by a touchdown for the last 3 years. Whoever is hungry enough will come out the winner," he stated.

As to the Patriots, James says that "we're way ahead of last year. There is more participation, so we have more talent to choose from. Right now there are 45 boys on the squad." Some of those will go to junior varsity later this year.

There are six sophomores starting this season, so there will definitely be some new moves and talent to be seen at their opener.

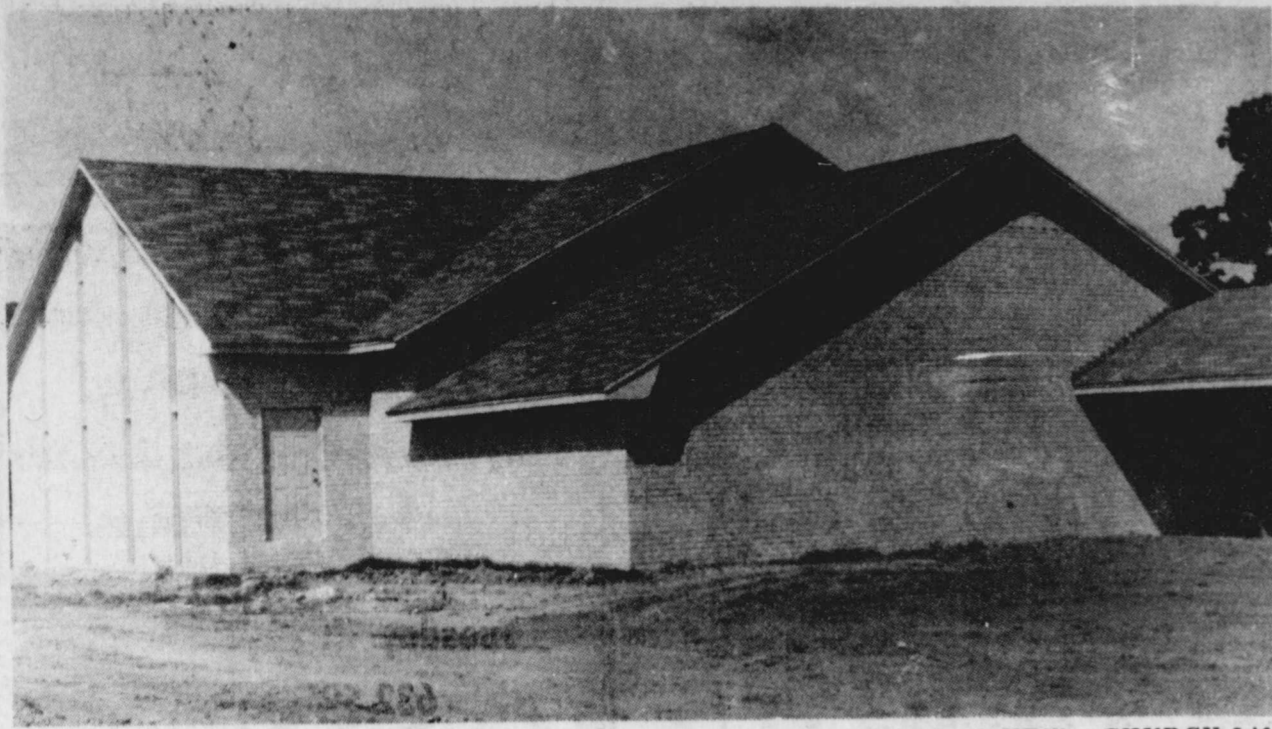

Prairiland's scrimmages have been split...one victory over Valliant, one loss to Hooks, traditionally a tough adversary.

LABOR DAY

Labor Day Weekend Will Claim Lives

The Texas Department of Public Safety has estimated as many as 51 persons will be killed in traffic accidents during the Labor Day holiday. The estimate includes traffic deaths which may occur on urban streets and rural highways.

Colonel Jim Adams, DPS director, says Texas has about 14 percent fewer fatal accidents now than at the same time during 1982.

"We are hopeful the trend will continue downward for the remainder of the year. However holiday weekends always seem to bring higher death tolls than do other times of the year," Adams said.

The DPS reported 50 deaths during Labor Day last year. However, the inclusion of subsequent deaths due to traffic injuries received during the 78-hour period raised the final count to 57.

"During the 1982 holiday, 27 people were killed in accidents where DWI or speed was a contributing factor. This represented close to half of all the fatalities which occurred during that particular holiday," said Adams.

The DPS director called for sober driving, use of seat belts and a reduction in speed.

"We know alcohol con- tributes to about half of our traffic deaths, so it is obvious that a driver should not drink and drive. Also, we can prove the lifesaving effects of seat belt usage and our statistics show that slower speeds enhance one's chances for survival if an accident occurs," said Adams.

The DPS said the most recent holiday, July 4th, was one of the most deadly recorded in the past decade. "We had 55 persons killed during the Fourth of July and some are still seriously injured and will probably die before the year is over. This makes that holiday the deadliest 78-hour period holiday since 1970," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Troyal Barker, Amanda and Britt of Blossom; Mr. and Mrs. James Brockway (Mary Elizabeth Day) of Paris; Mr. and Mrs. William Cope (Marilyn McDowra) of Burkburnett, Mr. and Mrs. Shag La Prade (Nancy Ingram) Irving; Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Harrell, Jennings; Mr. and Mrs. James Norwood (Patsy Winters) Mendy, of Cunningham; Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Winters (Frieda Sparks) Pattonville; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sugg (Mary Helen Stell) Paris; Jimmie Jo Young, Pattonville, Mr. and Mrs. James Wood, Jamie of Clardy.

Teachers attending were Mrs. Elizabeth Bell, Mrs. Sallie Scott, and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Swindle.

After leaving the Fish Fry everyone went to the home of Reva and Johnny Stout for a visit and reminiscing. A picture album and old annuals were a center of interest. Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Salters (Mary Helen) stopped by for a visit. Also Mr. and Mrs. Marilyn McDowra.

A prize was given to the one going the farthest, the most children and the most grandchildren.

Marilyn McDowra Cope came the greatest distance. Mary Helen Stell Sugg had the most children (4), and Mary Elizabeth Day Brockway had the most grandchildren.

The next reunion will be held in 1988.

Footprints From The Past

By John W. Hood

I played four years for old Deport High and played with some good boys and now some have passed on to their life after life and the rest of them are scattered all over the U.S.A. Sure wish some of the old gang had enough energy to gather us all together and we could have a big get together and tell some more big lies about how we were the best player of some particular game and how we won the game and the Coach never did say anything about it. We had a lot of fun and as I have said we must have really wanted to play as we had to furnish all of our uniform except the pants and we also had to furnish our own transportation the most of the time, but I would not take anything for the fun and the friends that I made while playing football, basketball and competing for track.

This is the time of year when you look back on the summer just passed and think about the things that you did and try and remember if you did anything that you planned on and to plan what you want to accomplish in the coming winter months ahead.

When you are a teenager and growing up you start to plan what is ahead of you in the coming school year and if you will be successful in your studies and if you will make the football team and where you will be playing and what kind of season you will have. Where I went to high school we always went into the season thinking that we would not lose a game and we would believe that until after the first time we got beat and that usually was the first or second game then we would play for the fun we got out of playing and to get out of school on Friday afternoon.

We did not have any budget for any athletics so every one had to buy their own uniforms. The only thing that the school furnished was the ball and sometimes you had to get your own way to the games and we had to buy our own eats or do without.

We never did have too many out for football as it was so expensive unless you could get some second hand shoulder pads and some hip pads. I forgot that the school did furnish the pants, but we had to buy everything else, and we never have over fourteen or fifteen players and sometime we only had about twelve. I was one of the linemen I played left tackle and we had to play both offence and defence for we had no one else to play a lot of the times.

Overton Perry a cousin of mine played left guard and he had some of the biggest feet I have ever seen and he usually had a tack or two sticking out that was just right to catch me on the shin and I had a sore shin from the time we started to play until after the season was over. I finally got smart and got me some hip pads and would wrap them around my shins and tape them to my legs to

Use Energy Wisely... STOP HOT WATER WASTE

Up to twenty percent of total energy used in your home is probably used to heat water. A leaking hot water faucet dripping at a rate of only one drop per second can waste a whopping 113 gallons per month. Water you bought and then paid to heat is going down the drain. To use energy wisely check all your water faucets and repair as necessary. For more energy-saving tips ask for our free booklet, "A Guide To Better Home Energy Management."

THOUGHT FOR FOOD By GOULD CROOK

Chilled Sour Cream Mushroom Soup

1 pound fresh mushrooms, sliced

1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice

1/4 cup (1/2-stick) butter

1 leek, chopped

2 tablespoons flour

1 1/4 teaspoons salt

1/8 teaspoon pepper

4 cups light cream OR half-and-half

1 cup dairy sour cream

Chopped chives, if desired

Sliced fresh mushrooms, if desired

Toss mushrooms with lemon juice. Melt butter in a 3-quart saucepan. Saute mushrooms and leek until tender, about 8 minutes. Stir in flour and seasonings until smooth. Remove from heat and gradually stir in cream. Heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Boil and stir 1 minute. Cool to lukewarm. Stir in sour cream until well blended. Chill, covered, several hours until icy cold. Serve garnished with chopped chives and fresh sliced mushrooms. Yields 7 cups.

PJC To Present Seminars

To promote enjoyment and appreciation of literature, Paris Junior College will present a series of four seminars in August, September and October.

The seminars, which will be open to interested persons at no charge, are sponsored by a grant to PJC from the Texas Committee for the Humanities, a state program for the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Seminars are designed to interest adults and high school students who have reading skills but who might wish to formulate an individual reading plan and learn to enjoy and appreciate various types of literature.

The emphasis will be on enjoyment of literature rather than an interpretative approach. Mrs. Hancock noted, and information presented will be especially helpful to parents who are concerned about adequate college preparation for their high school students.

At the orientation session on Tuesday, Aug. 23, participants will learn the benefits of pursuing a lifetime reading program and be able to select a reading list appropriate to their needs.

In addition to reading lists, participants will receive a bibliography of resources available in regional libraries. All materials will be distributed at no charge, said Mrs. Hancock.

Mrs. Hancock will conduct the first session along with Mary Hanson, acting director of learning skills at PJC. The session will be at 7:30 p.m. in the Alford Center.

The final three sessions will feature programs on the pleasures of reading fiction, poetry and drama. Dwight Chaney, dean of academic instruction at PJC, will be moderator for the fiction session on Sept. 8.

Dr. Jim Byrd, literature and languages profess or at ETSU will discuss the pleasures of fiction reading in both short story and novel form.

On Sept. 26, the Sulphur River Poetry Revival will include poetry read by four poets who are associated with the Sulphur River Poetry Review.

The final session on Oct. 18 will be a discussion on drama by Dr. Tom R. Arp of the English department at Southern Methodist University.

Ray Karrer, chairman of the fine arts division at PJC, will be the moderator.

Keep Aluminum Doors and Windows Looking Their Best

My aluminum doors are beginning to lose their shine and turn white. What can I do to prevent them from showing their age? I don't want to paint them.

New aluminum doors and windows will keep their shine if coated with paste wax or an aluminum preservative, which may be purchased in a spray can. Older doors and windows that have some evident signs of corrosion should be cleaned with fine steel wool. This restores the shine and the application of wax or spray preservative will keep it that way for a longer period of time.

Recently, a friend came by as I was finishing a painting job and saw that I was cleaning my paint brushes with kerosene, the only thing I had on hand for the job. He said the kerosene would damage the bristles of the brush and probably cause painting streaks the next time I use the brushes. Is he right?

Most professional painters consider kerosene an acceptable brush cleaner. They should know. If you have doubts, clean the brushes again in paint thinner before using them.

Other than price, what are the basic differences between plastic and ceramic tile?

Ceramic tile is the more permanent installation. Plastic tile, particularly when used in bathrooms or areas subject to moisture conditions, expands and contracts, becomes less adhesive, and tiles begin to drop off.

AUSTRALIAN LIONS—Ron and Linda Tisk of Gloucester, Australia, display a Blossom Lions Banner and a Blossom Methodist Cook Book. The two gifts were sent as part of an international "Lionism that resulted in gifts going to Lions in the Australian group from the Blossom Lions. The Australians had sent a check to pay for the items, but the Blossom group returned the check along with the gifts. A long letter from the Australian Lion President expressed great satisfaction and pleasure in the project, as did the Blossom Lions Club.

D. E. Anderson

Durward E. (Dub) Anderson, 69, 850 S. Main, Apparently died of a heart attack brought on by a car accident, physical strain and the heat Friday afternoon, according to the Department of Public Safety officials.

Justice of the Peace Chester Oakes pronounced the death after the 4:40 p.m. accident - which occurred on a gravel road south of Prairiehill High School near Pattonville - and ordered an autopsy.

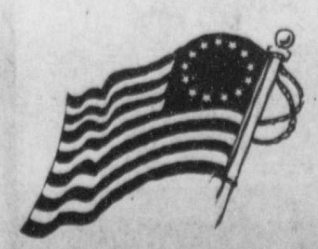

DPS Trooper Bob Carico said that Anderson had picked up his granddaughter Kimberly Anderson, 16, in Pattonville and was returning to Paris when he lost control of his car on the gravel and skidded into a ditch.

Neither door could be opened from the inside, but the girl managed to climb out her window, open the door from the outside and help her grandfather out of the car, Carico said. He was hot, but not physically hurt, she said.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to thank my friends and neighbors for the cards, visits, calls while I was in the hospital. Thanks to Dr. Brooks and the hospital staff. May God bless each of you.

Sue Hudson.

HORSEBACK policemen are not infrequent in London. This "bobby" as they are called, helps two tourists with information upon a closed off street. Policemen in Britain do not carry guns except when at the scene of an armed robbery or similar crime. Instead, they use a night stick. England citizens are extremely proud of this fact. (Staff Photo)

Travel In Britain, Many Ways Around!

By Nanalee Nichols
Britain offers one of the widest varieties of transportation choices anywhere in the world.

Driving our own car is the major method we chose...but we tried many other ways also.

Admittedly wandering around in a nation not your own is a little less relaxed than traveling within the U.S.

But is also filled with new things to see, to do, to learn.

In a nation where the average person is more likely to travel to and from work on a bicycle than a car, public transportation is bound to be available.

Forewarned not to attempt sightseeing in London by driving ourselves around the central part of the city, we decided to try public transportation.

It was good advice...traffic in London is absolutely hair raising!

We caught a train from Windsor to Clapham Junction, and from there to Victoria station. British railroads are clean, cheap, fast and efficient, stretching the length and breadth of the nation.

Some trains go as fast as 125 miles per hour. The commuter train we took did not, stopping at tiny villages and towns to pick up passengers and let them off.

Victoria station rivals a major airport for "bustle". Indians in turbans and silk saris, Africans in white robes, little old ladies that look like something from "Mary Poppins" mix and mingle with executives, tourists and shop clerks.

One runs to catch the train, and had better hop off fast too!

Catching a city bus was also an experience in itself. During many hours of the day central London traffic is closed to anything except buses and taxi traffic. And the buses seem determined to prove that they can outride on another...not to mention the taxis.

They wing and sway in and out of traffic, cutting off other bus drivers, violently pulling in front of a big, black taxi, horns honking. But no one but us seemed to take it seriously.

I, for one, kept reminding myself that "we're the biggest critter on the road". There was some consolation in that.

The buses stop every few blocks, but watch out. The driver had told us he would call out the stop for Saint Paul's Cathedral. But we failed to recognize his cry of "Sem ples", "semple" as having a relationship to our destination.

The undergrounds are clean and safe...but hectic during rush hour.

We recommend a taxi. Told that they were expensive we found that they were well worth the money as fast, easy method to get around. Obviously, they would be expensive for those who travel daily to and from their jobs, but for the tourist they are a good way to see London.

Canal barges are also a common method of sight-seeing.

They drift up and down the Thames river, and throughout the nation of streams and rivers.

Although we didn't have time for that, it was an appealing idea. All in all we found ourselves sampling one of the widest varieties of transportation ever...from jet airplane to cog railway (which took us from plane to terminal) to car, to trains, to buses and taxis!

It was fun, scary at times, but well worth it! And, as we've said before...when lost, just ask for directions...they always helped!

TRACK NUMBER TWO? Windsor station is considered a small train station in England, but is still proved a maze of schedules, track and fun for American tourists. Trains run every few minutes and thousands of London workers, from bank executives to laborers, take them to and from work each day. They often can be seen dozing off until their stop, when some "second sense" wakes them just in time! (Staff Photo)

CALCIUM DEFICIENCY
Calcium is very important for building and maintaining strong bones and teeth. But many older Americans do not get enough calcium in their diets.

Foods rich in calcium include not only the milk and cheese we are all familiar with, but a number of others as well.

To supplement calcium in your diet, if necessary, eat dark leafy greens such as kale, collard, turnip and mustard greens and seeds, legumes and nuts, such as sesame seeds, beans and almonds.

have a nice weekend...

Accident Statistics Show Drop

The Texas Department of Public Safety Highway Patrol Troopers in the six county area of North Central Texas, Hunt, Delta, Fannin, Lamar, Grayson and Cooke counties investigated one hundred and sixty six accidents during the month of July, 1983. One fatal accident occurred in the area resulting in one fatality, this fatality occurred in Fannin County. There were sixty nine injury accidents in which one hundred and seven persons were injured.

Supervision of the Highway Patrol for Hunt and Delta Counties wishes to compliment the motorist of Delta County for the small number of accidents and request the continued cooperation of all motorists in each of the counties he supervises of their better driving habits.

Counties reports that even with sixty four accident in Grayson County that accounted for fifty one injuries we are still in good shape as far as fatalities are concerned, Cooke County showed the greatest decrease of all counties reporting for this area, and it is believed that the selective traffic enforcement program (DWI) for Cooke County is greatly responsible for the drop in accidents in Cooke County.

Sergeant Hanna, Area Supervisor of Fannin and Lamar Counties advises that even with the fatality in Fannin County his area has shown a decline in the number of accidents and request the motorist of the counties to please observe the speed limit and restrict their drinking of alcoholic beverages while driving.

Sergeant Carey, Area Highway Patrol Supervisor for Grayson and Cooke Counties request the assistance of all motorist in his area to be better drivers by observing the speed limit and not using alcoholic beverages while driving and that all motorists please use seat belts no matter how short the trip.
