

Patriots Rout Highly Rated Tigers 23 - 8

By Thomas Nichols
Cool nights, perfect weather, and high school football makes a perfect combination these days...and capping it off with a coveted homecoming win against a cross-district rival has to make last Friday night a real boost for a young Prairiland Patriot team!

Splitting the season last year in a race to avoid the cellar position in district, and rumours of a big, very tough Mt. Vernon team this year had nervous stomachs already in overtime before the game, but qualms proved quite unnecessary as the fired-up Patriots romped to a 23-8 win over the Tigers.

Although outsized, the Patriots were more than equal to the task as the two opponents opened up looking for a weak spot to hammer away at.

The running game, the Patriots main threat so far this year, seemed a likely place for the Tigers to start an attack, but a surprising passing game immediately proved them wrong.

Mike Connot, Craig Gibson and Dennis Rhodes set about streaking through what seemed like invisible opening in the line for seemingly impossible yardage. And to cap it off, there was always a surprisingly accurate passing game, and the special weapon of Barry Johnston's foot!

The Tigers scored first with 2 points on a safety and nobody went very far either way until just before the end of the second quarter when quarterback Todd Davis was sacked in his own end zone. pulled it all together for a 95 yard rally that took the ball to the 27 yard line. From there Barry Johnston booted the pigskin into the proper slot for a 3-2 lead going into the half.

Half time ceremonies, featuring both the Mt. Vernon Band, and the Prairiland performers, plus the selection of Sandra Cavender as Homecoming Queen, closed out as the Red Pride poured back on the field fired up to even greater heat.

The real fun started early in the 3rd quarter with Prairiland on the Mt. Vernon 10 yard line with a 2nd and 5 situation. Todd Davis passed to Chuck Ray for a Pat TD and a 7 point edge.

The Tigers came growling back, with about 5 minutes left in the third, as they punched and charged their way from the five yard line for a score.

At 9-8, favor of the Patriots, looking something like a baseball score, it seemed the Red Pride decided that something more was needed...and provided it.

On the first play of the fourth quarter with a 1st and 10 on the Tiger 12 yard line, Craig Gibson posted a super run for six more!

In what has come to be a much expected event, Barry Johnston simply trotted out and kicked the point after, then prepared for kick off play.

The Pats drove the final nail into the lid of the Mt. Vernon coffin as just six plays later Mike Connot rushed for a 55 yard touchdown play that sent fans into ecstasy.

The Prairiland defense literally shut down the Mt. Vernon offense.

Leading the defense for Prairiland were Robert Cody, Dennis Rhodes, Darrin Gifford, and Paul Binnion.

At the final score of 23-8, fans, players, and coaches went into a round of yelling, hugging, confetti throwing, and general joy that haven't been rivaled at Patriot stadium in many a year.

A better note to begin District 13AAA play against the Winsboro Red Raiders this coming Friday night can't be imagined.

The matchup between Jesuit and Dallas was incorrect in the contest and was not counted in the results.

second, Sophomores - third and Freshmen - fourth. A trophy was presented to Junior class president Dennis Rhodes by Sandra Cavender, Math and Science Club president. The trophy will be displayed in the

Blossom Residents To Be Responsible For Garbage

With a record number of citizens attending the Tuesday night meeting of the Blossom City Council, it appears that Blossom citizens will be responsible for their own trash.

About forty Blossom residents, as well as the city council, heard a proposal from Barney Bray to pick up trash at the curb weekly for $5 per month per house.

Many citizens expressed stated that they hauled their trash to the country, or took it to the dump ground when needed. They expressed their opinion that each individual who wished to have their trash picked up or not should be able to do so.

Jim Whitley, residents said, would pick up trash for $7 per month, when and if people needed trash pick up.

A motion was made and carried not to award Bray the contract.

In other business the sewer proposal was tabled because the council was still waiting for a report from engineers, and the water tower issue was tabled.

It was decided that the lights at the soft ball park would be turned on for the girl scout's Octoberfest, and a motion to install a street light on the corner of Moore and Holly streets carried.

Joe Mizek was appointed to be the director of emergency management and flood plain administrator.

Reggie McDowra was nominated to serve on the Board of Directors of the Lamar County Appraisal District.

In executive session the council interviewed several applicants for municipal judge. In open session it was announced that Wesley Tallant be appointed municipal judge for a period of 90 days, at which time an evaluation would be made. Salary for the position will be $100 per month plus $5 for each call out.

A tie vote on Peterson's request for one week of double time pay was broken by Mayor George Lemley, and the pay was awarded to Peterson.

The meeting, which lasted until 11:30 Tuesday night, adjourned with approval of payment of bills.

That we live in a rural area all of us know. Agriculture and the desire to live in small communities has influenced almost everyone at one time or another.

But while I was "killing," the classified page the other day, I got to noticing just what an assortment of items we had advertised, and how they reflect the local lifestyle.

We have, over the past few weeks, had a large variety of animals for sale. Pigs, cattle, bulls, and horses are the most commonly found four legged critters in the classified.

But we also have had a youngster advertising ducks for sale. His small flock had multiplied to giant proportions, and within two weeks of his ad he had reduced it to only three ducks left!

Hens, chicks and geese are also frequent appearances on the For Sale List.

Less usual, but still pretty common are the rabbits, and what a variety of rabbits there are!

Tractors from the giant four wheel drive variety down to the old, durable popping Johnnies and Ford 8 n's abound.

Pickup trucks, trailers and farm implements are always to be found in the listings.

Garage sales, especially during this cool, fall weather, list articles in abundance. And almost everyone can figure out who is holding the sale just by the address.

Occasional ads for antiques appear, along with the standards of houses for sale, tires, cars and other old favorites.

All in all, when looked at as a form of entertainment, the classified ads can be absolutely fascinating.

For years, as I marked out those ads that didn't run or circled those that did, I never saw the page for what it is, an expression of the world we live in! Take a look, it might show you something new...and you might find something you want in the bargain!

Dear Mrs. Nichols
Thank you for stopping our subscription back in June.

We traveled in our motorhome for three months, and spent the time in Colorado, Utah, Arizona, and New Mexico.

We are now back in our retirement home out of Winsboro.

Please start sending the paper again. We are looking forward to getting the hometown news again.

Sincerely,
James Hayes

Jail Grant Approved For Lamar County

Lamar County Judge Brady Fisher has announced that the County has received approval of a grant application for correctional equipment for the Lamar County Jail.

The amount of the grant is $11,992. Fisher had applied for the grant in March of this year. The application was then reviewed by the Ark-Tex Council of Governments Law Enforcement Advisory Committee and Executive Committee, both of which Fisher serves as member. The project received a high priority designation by both committees and was submitted to the Criminal Justice Division of the Governor's Office.

Footprints From The Past

By John W Hood

Fall of the year is almost upon us and it takes me back to the years of my childhood and of all the fun I had watching the trees shed their leaves and also changing their colors. We are lucky to live in the part of the country that we do for we have so many different kinds of trees and they all take on their different hues and colors. Some are brown, some red, some keep their green foliage all year long.

It sure is a pretty drive when you go out on some of these country roads as you can see all the colors of the rainbow. And this is the time when the persimmons are getting ripe, if you have never tasted a persimmon on some frosty morning just after a big frost you don't know what you have been missing and you should either find you a persimmon tree and stake it out until the first frost or find some one who know where to find one and get them to take you with them when they go out to have their first bite of persimmons. I think that I use to like persimmons as well as the o-possum.

Besides all the pretty sights that the leaves give you they also give you some thing else and that is the privilege of raking them up and you get to burn them and I do believe that is one of the best smells there is. We all should be glad that we still live in a part of the country where we still get to burn our leaves, as you know, there are places where you can not burn your leaves, you have to put them in a plastic bag and have them hauled away. I can remember that when I was a small boy that one of my greatest delights was to run and jump into a pile of just raked leaves of course that would just scatter them and Dad or Mom one would just have to rake them again so I doubt if they enjoyed it as much as I did.

Fall of the year also brought on all the excitement of getting ready for another winter with all the long nights where all the family would be together for all the long talks. I can still remember the tales that Dad would tell us kids of the times when he was a small boy and all the differences then and when he was growing up. We had it alot better than the people who lived then as we had some advantages that they did not have like we had kerosene cook stoves and all they had was the wood stoves and also the Model-T car was just being brought into this part of the country and all they had was the buggy and horses to pull them with we had one disadvantage that they did not have and that was that when it rained we could not use the cars as there were no hard surface roads and when the rains came we had to park the cars and use the wagons or go horseback or mule back one of the two.

Fall meant that it was not too long before all the family get together, there was Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's. There were also fun times at school. You had alot of holidays the first one that comes to mind is Halloween, Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year, April Fool's Day. I do believe that we enjoyed April Fool's Day the best of all. For all you young ones who do not know what April Fool's Day meant back in my time it was the one day that all the kids were supposed to come to school then slip off and play hookey and come back to the school house just in time for the last bell and to gather up your books so you could study for the next day's lessons.

East Texas Eating

Cool fall evenings call for a little heartier suppers than many of us have preferred during the summer. It is even nicer if you can put the meal on to cook in the slow-cooker in the morning and have it ready-to-eat when the family gathers for supper. Corned beef brisket or other cuts can fill both bills. And, corned beef can provide a pleasant change of tastes for your family.

The corned beef brisket can cook slowly all day in the slow-cooker (Crock Pot etc.) while you are working at other tasks. Then, 30-40 minutes before serving time, potatoes can be added to the simmering stock, and a few minutes later, wedges of cabbage can be put in to steam to tender goodness. There you have supper in a pot!

A nice bonus with corned beef is that left-overs (for planned overs) make delicious sandwiches and even the very last fragments of the meat and vegetables can be cooked into a hearty hash.

Corned Beef
1 (3-4 lb.) corned beef brisket
1/2 cup chopped onion
If desired: 1 garlic clove, 1 bay leaf

Place the corned beef in a slow cooking pot. Barely cover with water. Add onion, garlic, and bay leaf. Cover and cook on low for 10-12 hours.

NOTE: The corned beef can be cooked conventionally—in a pot on the stove. Cover with water and cook at a simmer, about 1 hour per pound, or until a fork can penetrate to the center.

Corned Beef and Cabbage
Slow cooker: Lift corned beef out of pot. Turn control to high. Drop wedges of cabbage into the simmering liquid. Cover and cook 20-30 minutes or until cabbage

Corned Beef Hash

Chop the left over corned beef potatoes, and cabbage. Brown the mixture in a hot skillet in 2 tablespoons vegetable oil until a brown crust forms.

Corned Beef with Potatoes and Cabbage

Add small or quartered, peeled potatoes, to the simmering stock after brisket has been removed. Simmer for about 15 minutes. Add cabbage and simmer another 20-30 minutes—or until cabbage is tender. Serve hot

Product Codes Call for Shopper Savvy

Today the Universal Product Code and its scanners are everywhere.

As a consumer checks out, a scanner reads the Universal Product Code, translates the stripes and numbers into items and prices, rings up the sale, totals the bill and prints out an itemized tape with all this information on it.

If a store uses scanners, it usually uses shelf-pricing; which means the price of the item is found on the shelf and not on the package. Therefore comparative shoppers will need to check the shelf area for information about item, name, weight and price. Unfortunately, shelf prices are not always found directly under a product.

When reaching the check-out counter, a shopper will need to observe each item as the computer makes the tape.

PATRIOT Volley Ball Scoreboard

By Penny Edwards

The Prairiland Volleyball girls traveled to Winnsboro to compete in their first District volleyball game of the season. The Lady Pats downed the Raiderettes in two straight game win. 15-11, 15-1.

With one district win in their pockets, the Lady Pats will go on the road again to face the Clarksville Tigers. "When we play Clarksville, we always have a good game and we are very much looking forward to playing them again this year," exclaimed Rita Salters, coach of the Lady Pats. Perhaps the efforts of the Lady Pats will focus mainly on containing the ever powerful spikes of Gretta Dillard. But with the setting abilities of Kelli Salters and Tanya Burdine, as well as back up setter Paula Farmer. Patriot spikers Vicki Bridges and Kim House, may prove very successful in their own spiking efforts.

cattle have more value, and you are building immunity in your herd against this costly disease. Cattle producers with heifer calves between the ages of 4 to 12 months should make plans to get them vaccinated for brucellosis control with the reduced dosage of Strain 19 vaccine.

Brucellosis Vaccination Time Is Now

For cattle producers, fall is round-up time. And it should also be vaccination time for brucellosis control suggests Dr. John W. Holcombe, executive director, Texas Animal Health Commission, Austin.

Vaccination with the reduced dosage of Strain 19 vaccine is being encouraged in this county by the Texas Animal Health Commission as the most important chore a producer can do to build up immunity in his herd against this costly disease.

"Vaccination for brucellosis control should be considered as a routine management practice. We are encouraged by reports we receive from this county relating to increases in vaccination of heifer calves," Dr. Holcombe said.

This county is included in a 32-county area in East Texas in which vaccination is being encouraged. The area generally has about 50 percent of the known brucellosis infection in this state.

Financial assistance is available for producers who wish to have their calves vaccinated. Complete information is available at your area Texas Animal Health Commission office.

Dr. Holcombe lists these advantages for vaccinating your heifers: a vaccinated animal has more freedom of movement; vaccinated cattle are worth more; vaccination provides protection against brucellosis.

Recommended ages for vaccination are 4 to 12 months for all breeds.

Vaccination is a key element of the Texas brucellosis program. Regulations relating to movement of cattle in the Texas brucellosis program favor the vaccinated animal over the non-vaccinate.

More than 1 million calves were vaccinated in Texas this past fiscal year. That represents 35.7 percent of all eligible calves in the state. Figures for this county will be available in the near future.

Good results are being obtained in this area with an increase in numbers of heifers being vaccinated for brucellosis control. Official vaccination ages are 4 to 12 months for all breeds. The reduced dosage of Strain 19 vaccine is recommended. Vaccinated cattle can move more freely in market channels than non-vaccinates.

A program to encourage vaccination of heifer calves in this area is continuing. Vaccination for brucellosis is a sound management practice. Complete details may be obtained by contacting your area Texas Animal Health Commission office or your county agent as well as your own veterinarian.

Consider vaccinating your heifer calves for brucellosis control. Official vaccination ages are 4 to 12 months for all breeds. Vaccinated cattle can move more freely in market channels than non-vaccinates. Vaccinated

Hall States Need For Return Address

Congressman Sam B Hall, Jr. said this week that constituent mail for 1983 had already surpassed the amount of mail that he has received in any year since coming to Congress in 1976.

At the same time, Congressman Hall expressed concern that approximately 10 percent of the single issue cards he received on legislation before Congress did not contain a return address.

He explained that many First District constituents are members of various national organizations that encourage their members to send 3x5 post cards to their elected Federal officials on key issues being debated by Congress.

In most instances the cards are signed but there is no return address on a large volume of them.

My policy is to respond to every piece of correspondence from my constituency, regardless of the issue involved. However, on many occasions I receive cards either without an address or an incorrect address.

"A key element in or democratic process is communication between a Member of Congress and his or her constituents; thus, it is very frustrating when a response cannot be provided due to an address problem," Congressman Hall said.

"On some issues I will receive hundreds of cards, and in one case earlier this year—the 10 percent withholding on interest and dividends—I received over 37,000 cards and letters from constituents in the First District and in every known instance where a return address was included on this mail, I responded," he added.

The correct address for Congressman Hall is 2236 Rayburn House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515.

The addresses for his First District offices are: Marshall - P.O.Box 1349, Marshall, Texas 75670, Paris - P.O.Box 350, Paris, Texas 75460, Texarkana - P.O.Box 1410, Texarkana.

PRICE INDEX

American consumers are talking about inflation—and government economic figures such as the Consumer Price Index (CPI).

Simply, the CPI compares the prices of goods and services in the current month against what those same items cost a month or a year earlier, to provide a basic structure of price increases or decreases.

Prices are selected from a sample of retail establishments and service outlets in the 50 states.

The most recent survey on which the index is based was conducted in 1972. Because of this, the current market basket still reflects the buying habits of the early 1970s, before oil prices rose and double-digit inflation arrived.

Weekly Agricultural Update

With a few cool nights behind us and more ahead, plants should be prepared for transfer into the greenhouse or home, says Dr. James Robinson, entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. One phase of that preparation is making sure the plants are free of pests such as spider mites, mealy bugs, aphids and others. By controlling the insects or mites prior to moving the plants indoors, many problems will be reduced or eliminated.

Dr. Robinson says he receives numerous calls each year concerning the control of insect pests in the home pantry or food storage areas. Several beetles and weevils infest flour, meal, cereal or seeds stored for a long period of time. Stored food items should be kept in sealed containers to prevent infestation. If seed crops such as peas and beans are harvested from the home garden, they may be infested with insects at the time of storage.

Light insect infestations may be controlled in some items by placing the items in the home freezer for seven days at zero degrees or colder. Other items such as peas and beans may be placed in a shallow pan and heated in the oven for 30 minutes at 130 degrees fahrenheit. Robinson points out that these are only temporary control measures.

The best control of pantry pests is through strict sanitation practices. Food storage areas should be thoroughly cleaned with soap and hot water. After clean-up, treat the area with an approved insecticide.

"Notch Year" Question Continues

The question concerning "notch years" in social security continues! Some people have said there was no truth in it...others that it is true...others that it is somewhat true.
 So for now we are going to publish a letter from Congressman Sam B. Hall to a constituent concerning the subject, and that is all we can do. The copy of the Chairman's remarks inserted in the Congressional Record are quite lengthy, but apparently this issue, like most government issues, is quite confusing and difficult.
 Read on:
 Thank you for your recent expression of concern regarding the social security program.
 I am enclosing herewith a copy of the response by the Chairman of the Social Security Subcommittee to "Dear Abby", along with a copy of the Chairman's remarks that were inserted in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD on the "notch" issue.
 You will note that the benefit formula was changed in the Social Security Act of 1972 to address a financial problem that threatened the solvency of the social security system. In 1977, about half of the existing long-range deficit in the social security system was the result of what the Subcommittee described as unintended effects of the cost-of-living increase provisions of the 1972 revisions in the Social Security Act. In 1972 the Congress initiated the policy of indexing social security benefits for inflation. The committee advises that the indexing formula adopted in 1972 was flawed in that it resulted in providing excessive adjustments in benefits which were draining the resources of the social security trust fund and driving the system to bankruptcy.
 The Chairman advises that the corrections made in the indexing formula in 1977 will not be overturned for reasons of economics. He further informs that to return the program to the 1972 indexing formula would cost the social security system $9 billion a year that it does not have.

 I trust that this information is helpful to you and I will continue to give this matter careful attention. However, it appears highly unlikely that the Social Security Subcommittee will entertain legislation to reinstate the 1972 indexing formula.
 Sincerely,
 Sam B. Hall, JR.
 Dear Abby:
 In response to a letter in your column, a lot of people contacted Members of Congress about the social security "notch". Unfortunately, the writer's letter is not entirely correct.
 There is a notch between benefits for those born in or slightly before 1916 and those born in or after 1917. Here's why:
 In 1977 Congress enacted a new benefit formula for all who turn age 62 after 1978 because the benefit computation set out in amendments in 1972 (when we "indexed" social security benefits) vastly over-compensated for inflation. This was a chief cause of the long-range financial troubles facing social security shortly thereafter, and by the time Congress corrected this problem, relative benefit levels had already climbed higher than any time in the history of the program. These are the high benefits enjoyed by people born in or just before 1916. A line had to be drawn somewhere, and any delay would have made the problem worse. Already it would cost about $9 billion in the first year -- more thereafter -- to go back to the old formula.

 Your writer's reference to the birth years 1917-1921 was particularly confusing. He must be referring to the five year phase-in (from 1979-1983) for the new formula. But the new formula does not affect them alone -- it affects everyone born after 1916. The new formula provides steady new benefits levels which, for a worker with average earnings, will equal about 41 percent of one's final wages. This will be true for all future retirees.
 The problem is not with anything in the recent 1983 amendments or with the 1977 formula. The problem is with the 1972 over-indexed formula. Because of this there is no help possible other than to raise overall benefit levels for new retirees -- and to enact very substantial tax increases to pay for these new benefits. In all honesty, I do not think that is likely to happen.
 With best wishes, I am
 Sincerely,
 J.J. Pickle, Chairman
 Social Security Subcommittee

GARDEN Save "Extra" Garden Seeds For Planting Next Season?

Don't enlarge the size of your vegetable garden next spring just because someone gave you some seeds from a pumpkin that weighed a hundred pounds. In your garden, the seeds may produce pumpkins weighing 25 pounds, or no pumpkins at all. The quality of the seeds and the soil in which they are planted are determining factors.
 Every gardener becomes excited when someone scores "big" with an out-sized vegetable, whether it be a pumpkin, yam, eggplant or whatever. We'd like to do the same, for a great part of the fun in vegetable gardening lies in the display of our produce. We will succeed only when everything is right -- the soil, the seed, the planting time, growing conditions-- when the variables are in the proper order.
 Many gardeners save vegetable seeds from year to year, seeds from crops, seeds that were unused when all planting was done. Sometimes they produce successful crops, often they come up spotty or not at all. In this writer's opinion, seeds are the least-expensive item in the garden endeavor and seed distributors know what they are doing when they put season dates on the packages they sell.

 The keys to growing a successful vegetable garden, maybe even with a prize-winner or two, lies in soil preparation, soil analysis, with supplements as needed, high-quality seed from an established supplier, and the hours of hard work required to keep the garden disease, insect and weed free.
 Can we count the days until spring?
