

This Year, Celebrate The Fourth For Real!

By Nanalee Nichols
Well, it's another Fourth of July. Big deal, eh? Sometimes it seems that the fourth is just another day to be off work, a chance to go to the lake, or watch TV or let the kids make a little noise with firecrackers. Very few people pause in the usual routine to consider just how very special the Fourth of July is to this nation, and therefore, to each and every citizen. Of course, everyone knows that the Fourth is the nation's official birthday, that way back in 1776 some people signed the Declaration of Independence. Big deal again, eh? Well, it really is. Because at that time a group of patriots instituted a radical new idea, a different kind of nation that has not only survived the difficulties which faced it, but has prospered and grown and influenced the entire world! And those patriots, Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, George Washington, and those hosts of unknown, unnamed patriots who fought for the idea in the revolution, left something else. They left today's citizens with the opportunity to live a lifestyle that no other nation in the world enjoys! Sure, sometimes it seems the country is beset by problems. Sometimes it looks as if we are sliding over the edge into a frightening abyss. But it has always looked that way. In 1776 there must have been many who believed that the revolution was futile, or wrong, and would mark the end of this new country entirely.

Through world wars, depressions, recessions and civil unrest this nation has survived. And it will continue to do so as long as citizens care. The one thing that will destroy the United States is apathy. Apathy can take many forms. And one of those forms is not bothering to show how we appreciate the country we live in. This Fourth of July, celebrate.

Really think about how great life can be. Fly a flag...they don't cost much...ring a bell, set off fireworks, teach the kids what the fourth should really be about. But most of all, deep down inside, really think about the bounty and good things we have. Celebrate the memory of those who established this nation for us to enjoy. Celebrate the Fourth.

Okay, time OUT...enough already. Everyone, apparently, knows we've moved out into the country. And everyone obviously knows that I love cats.

We went through enough just moving the five cats we had, since they ranged in ages from nine years to one year in age, with most of them averaging around five to six years old, they were amazingly set in their ways.

But we got the whole thing settled down, even though two of the cats chose to go back to their original (and only) home.

We made arrangements for their care and feeding, and rather congratulated ourselves on lowering the feline population to only three...the lowest number I've had in about fifteen years!

But then, there was the starving, ugly stray kitten on Main Street, which I took in to feed. But, glory be, a home for it other than mine appeared.

Still only three cats. But then my dad's mother's cat appeared with three beautiful kittens, just about the size to begin eating on their own. And of course, they just would climb up in the motor of the car. So naturally, they all three now live at our house!

Then, yesterday, another hungry stray kitten clattered out from under a car as it parked, this one black and white and with a very vocal voice.

So....home it went. It was just the same size as the long haired siamese, the short haired siamese, the yellow and white kitten.

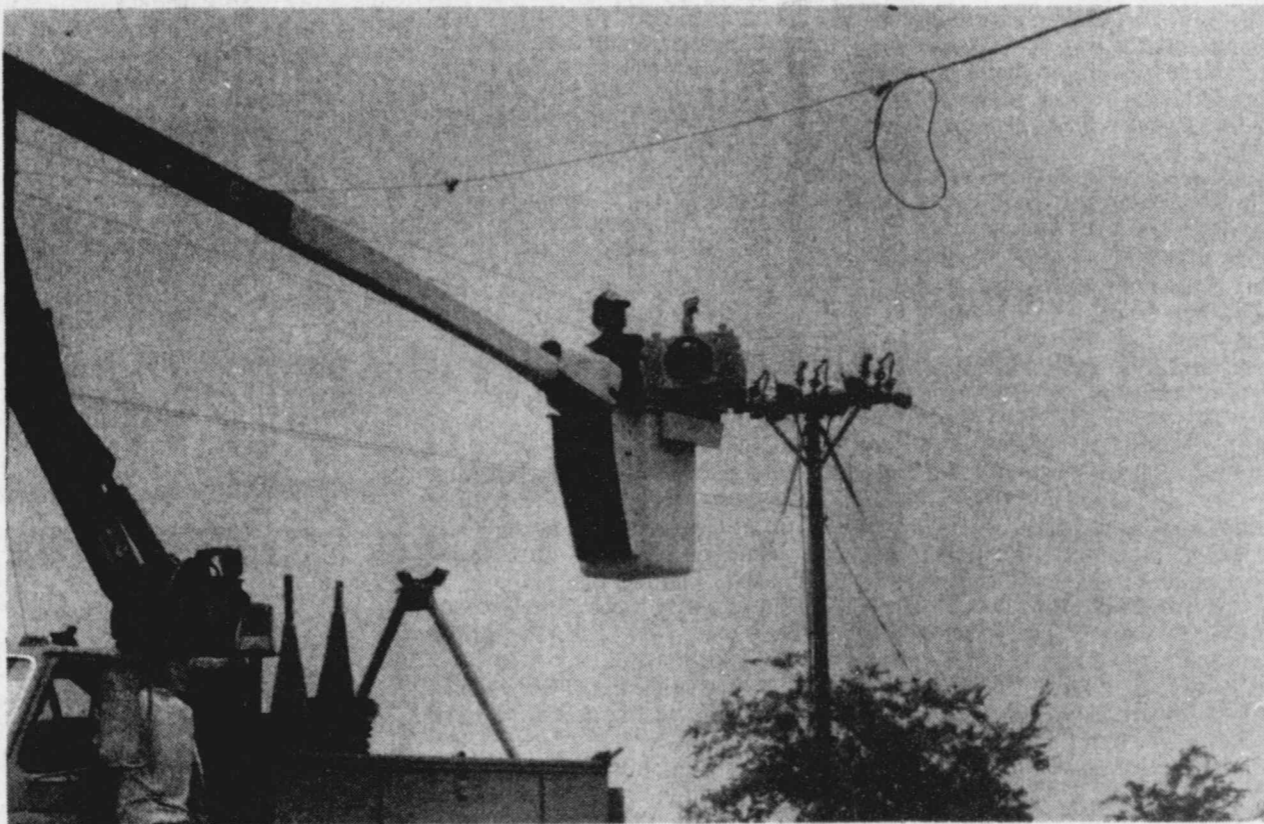

But, that night, it insisted on trying to jump on the bed and sleep on someone's face.

So, finally in desperation, we pitched the little feller out the door. Where he promptly circled around to the bedroom window and began trying to tear through the screen, yowling all the time.

For about 45 minutes we went from window to window with glasses of water, dashing them at the kitten until he finally got the message to hush.

Now, if anyone would like a beautiful, gentle natured kitten of any of the above descriptions, please do contact us.

Because there is one last thing that hasn't been mentioned. One of the cats we moved is walking around about the size of a football. Within a few more days our population is going to grow some more...so please, help!

The Vote Was Neck And Neck ... But The TV Guide Stays!

Well, we didn't get enough of a majority vote on the TV guide issue to make a decision, by the vote count, but we found out that our readers really do care about their papers. They read them, they respond to questions, and that makes us very happy.

The final vote count sent in on whether readers wanted to keep the television guide ran with only two votes difference! So, as a service to our readers, we decided that we would keep the guide. Those that do not use it can throw it away, but many of our readers say they take no other paper, and they have no other television guide to use, so we will keep it for them.

A number of people wrote little notes expressing their wishes. Several people listed stations such as the Sherman Denison station that they would like to see listed. We wish we could do this, but the coverage area on the guide that we buy is as close as we can come to matching things available in this area. No guide that we can find is exactly right within a reasonable price range.

So, for now, we will continue with the television schedule as it is, and hope that satisfies our readership.

Just as a side story, I'll mention that we received a letter from a nearby paper expressing interest in our poll. He mentioned that they too, found the guide an expensive proposition, but couldn't find out whether readers truly wanted it or not. They ran a story on the front page for several weeks and received only TWO responses.

That was amazing to us, because of the overwhelming response we received to our survey.

Thank you, all of you, for telling us the way you feel. It's the best way we can serve you. Remember, any other suggestions for improving the paper are always, always welcome.

Deport Presbyterian Observes 110th Anniversary

It takes a little while to ring a bell 100 times. But no one minded Sunday as the First Presbyterian Church in Deport celebrated its 110th anniversary.

The congregation stood outside and inside as the bell tolled its lengthy count of years as a prelude to a special day.

With nearly 200 in attendance, Rev. Sam Rice greeted members, former members and well wishers from the community to begin the service.

Rev. Carter McKemy brought the message, "Believing as a Beginning." McKemy is the older minister who has served the Deport church and traveled from Kansas for the day.

The First United Methodist Church of Deport turned out their regular service to join the Presbyterians in the celebration.

After the service the group went to the school cafeteria for a barbecue meal catered by Underwood's of Sherman, then returned once more to the church to see a film taken by Carter McKemy at the church's 75th anniversary celebration, to visit, to look at a display of old mementoes, to sing and generally visit.

The church has been redone both inside and out in preparation for this event, with new cedar siding, a minor bell tower remodeling, complete new paint, doors on the inside in places, plus a thorough cleaning by the women of the church.

Flowerbeds have been established, and the old parsonage has been moved away. A parking area will soon be established on the area where the house had set.

Papers To Adopt New Format

Effective as of July 1, 1984, Thunder Prairie Publishing Company will join thousands of other newspapers over the entire United States in providing a standard format.

The Deport Times, Talco Times, Bogata News and Blossom Times will all be made up in a new, standard six column width instead of the eight columns currently in use.

Each column will be wider, providing easier reading and better advertising space usage.

Advertisers will be charged for fewer column inches, while receiving exactly the same amount of space. The advertising rate will be adjusted so that the price will be within a few cents of the same rate as it has been. No rate increase has been effected.

The classified pages will remain in the eight column format.

All area papers will be going to the Standard Advertising Unit, or SAU.

Lewis, Burson Capture Grand Prizes In Fishing Contest

The grand prize of $25 for the biggest bass was captured in the last round of the fishing contest this week by Irby Lewis, with a 6 pound, 1 oz. whopper. Mr. Lewis, a Talco resident, will receive a check for $35, the $25 grand prize, and the $10 weekly prize. He edged out Cowboy Denny, who won the $10 weekly prize the first week of the contest with a 6 pound bass.

Crappie offerings were scarce this year, with the biggest one going to Junior Burson of Bogata for his 1 lb. 13 and one half oz. entry.

All total the number of entries did well, but the fish seemed to be either very large or very small, with quite a gap between.

The big bass were right in the six pound range, then dropped to two and three pounders.

As mentioned crappie didn't seem interested in biting at all, as numerous fishermen mentioned that they just hadn't caught any of any size at all.

Several fishermen mentioned that the change during the month of June from extremely wet and cool to very hot and dry had probably affected the fish and their feeding habits.

We'll be looking forward to more fun and giving away more cash prizes to fisherfolk in the newspaper contest next year!

Judge Fisher Elected President Of Judge's Organization

Lamar County Judge Brady Fisher was elected president of the North and East Texas County Judges' and Commissioners' Association at the annual conference held recently in Anacogoches.

Fisher is the third Lamar County official to serve as president of the thirty-seven year old organization. Former County Commissioner James Rheudasil served from 1959-60 and former County Commissioner James P. Peace served from 1965-66.

SINGING ALONG-the Blossom Church of Christ Vacation Bible School was highlighted by a youth group from Channelview, Texas. Youngsters followed movements

New Wheat Variety 2157
Superior Yield • Excellent Standability • Outstanding Grazing

"I was surprised how quick the variety was ready to graze."
"In fact, some of my neighbors tried to rent my pasture when they saw how much better established it was than others all around us."
Pioneer variety 2157 gets off to a fast start, quickly establishing the kind of healthy, vigorous growing stand so necessary for good pasture. Its upright growth habit helps provide maximum available grazing.
And because 2157 has proven to be such a good yielder, you can count on it to deliver top-quality wheat at season's end.
If pasture is part of your wheat program, new 2157 should be, too.

"That 2157 was standing out there good and straight. And when I moved down the rows, I could hear the cylinders running full."
Farmers who've seen this impressive new high yielding variety like its standability and tolerance to dry growing periods and severe weather. It has excellent resistance to leaf rust, fungal leaf blights, soil borne mosaic virus and the Hessian fly.
In side-by-side comparisons, Pioneer brand 2157 wheat has consistently out-yielded other popular varieties. And it has shown consistently high test weights.
