

Multiple Fires And Break-Ins Pague Area

Four fires, a break-in and an attempted break-in have had the Deport, Blossom and Bogata Volunteer Fire Departments, plus Lamar and Red River County law officers busy since Thursday of last week.

A house on Front Street in Blossom was totally destroyed by fire Thursday night. Blossom Volunteer Firemen worked hard to control the blaze and keep it from spreading. The house has been vacant for around a year, and there was no electric or gas service in use. The origin of the blaze has as yet not been determined.

A late model John Deere combine, belonging to Kenneth Thomas of Deport was heavily damaged, if not totally destroyed, by fire Sunday afternoon.

Thomas was driving the combine down Highway 271 near Rugby and Dale Gray of Deport was following, with the intention of getting some tools from Thomas. Gray noticed the combine blazing at the track, stopped

Thomas, and a fire call was turned in to both Bogata and Deport Volunteer Fire Departments, who extinguished the blazing machine.

Shortly after midnight on Monday morning, a passing truck driver traveling Highway 271 near Rugby reported a house fire. Volunteer fire units responded to it, and saved outbuildings and a tractor from going up along with the house. The house was also vacant, with the power shut off at the light meter, and no gas going to it, and the origin of the blaze is undetermined.

The house is on property belonging to Estelle Montjoy, and the tractor that was saved belongs to Octavius Westbrook of Deport.

Monday night, a break-in and an attempt to break-in occupied Constable Al Parks, City Marshal C.G. Nobles and the Lamar County Sheriff's office.

Burglars attempted to force their way through the bathrooms of Francis Food Store, Highway 271 Deport, but were unable to gain entry into the building.

On the same night, burglars tried to force the lock on the Shamrock Station located on Highway 271, about two miles west of Deport and when unable to force the lock, broke the glass out. The burglar apparently sustained a cut during the entry operation, as there were blood stains on the window and floor. Some cigarettes and candy appear to be all that was taken from the station. Law officers feel that the two incidents are the work of the same person or persons.

Tuesday morning, the Deport Volunteer Fire Department went about two miles east of Deport to a round bale fire, but left the bales to finish burning up.

Maize stalks, on the property farmed by Rodger Allen of Deport, had been baled the same morning. When the baler ran out of twine, it set up enough friction to ingite three of the round bales.

Volunteer fire departments are fearful that the extreme dryness caused by the lack of rain in the area will result in even more fires if the hot weather continues unabated.

Nichols Worth

By: Nanalee Nichols

It's a fairly simple principal. One takes a hammer (a handle with a metal striking surface on the end of it) and hits a nail (a sliver of metal, with a flattened surface to hit on one end and a pointed end at the other) and drives said nail into a wooden surface with aforementioned hammer.

All it requires is a minimum of hand-to-eye coordination. THAT is where the problem begins!

It's been lots of years since I did much nail driving. And mostly I suppose the hammer hits the nail at least as much as it hits near the nail...that fact may be a little debateable.

But the real problem is when the hammer hits not the nail, not the surrounding wood, but a finger or thumb...or, as it did while working on our new home's front porch...the elbow!

Don't ask how it is possible to hit an elbow with a hammer. It is possible...that's all that needs to be said.

It is even more possible to hit fingernails, thumbs or fingers. It's put a strain on my vocabulary. The words I want to use I shouldn't. The words that are usable aren't nearly strong enough!

I occasionally remind myself of the AGGIE (you know, THE Aggie) that kept trying to drive the nails in using the wrong end. Eventually he complained to his foreman, that about half the nails were made backwards. The foreman (another Aggie) calmly replied "Stupid, those are made for the other side of the house."

Suffice it to say that they let me do simple things. Nailing down porch flooring, holding the end of a board, putting down plywood. They let me do that...but never, never under any circumstance do they let me touch the POWER SAW!

BURNED—This late model John Deere combine caught on fire Sunday afternoon while being moved down highway 271 near Rugby. The owner, Kenneth

Thomas, was driving the machine, and a pickup behind him spotted the blaze. Bogata and Deport volunteer fire units extinguished the fire, but not before it did heavy damage, if not total, damage to the combine. (Staff Photo)

Patriots Win Scrimmage Against Winnsboro

Victory is sweet, always, but particularly when victory has been as elusive as a summer breeze the past football seasons.

So when the Prairiland Patriots started off their football year with a scrimmage against the Winnsboro Red Raiders last Friday night, their 2-0 scrimmage win felt really good.

With a new coach, Mike Allen, and a young, hefty team, the Patriots looked good.

Coach Allen said that everyone did what they were supposed to, singling out the offensive line for its excellent play, and a hard hitting defense.

The Patriots looked a lot different from last year, with their game consisting of good, solid, very basic football. They moved steadily down the field for their two scores, without any "grand stand" plays, but simply an unstoppable progress.

Pride seems to be more of a factor than ever with the team, but it won't be "Red Pride", the new football uniforms being red, white and blue, all three of the school's colors, instead of the "Sooner" red and white of the past few seasons.

Coach Allen remarked that he and the boys, were looking forward to the season, had set realistic goals, and would be doing lots of work towards a good year.

Labor Day Highway Deaths Estimated At 54

The Department of Public Safety is estimating that as many as 54 deaths will result from traffic accidents during the Labor Day holiday.

DPS statistics for the year to date reveal a two percent decrease in fatalities statewide. Adams says the decrease in total deaths may indicate more people are using seat belts.

DPS will conduct two major programs during the Labor Day period. Operation Motorcade will provide updated numbers of traffic deaths to the news media as the accidents occur. Operation Holiday stations troopers at locations where high volumes of traffic are anticipated or where violations are expected.

Local Women Graduate From Nursing School

Dr. Dennis Michaelis, president of Paris Junior College, called nursing an important profession and discussed the value of a positive attitude when he delivered the address to the college's 1984 vocational nursing graduates Thursday, August 16, in the Paris High School auditorium.

The graduates included 77 students who completed programs taught in Paris, Mt. Pleasant and Greenville during the past 12 months. After completing the program of theory and clinical practice, students are eligible to take the state board examination to become licensed vocational nurses.

Graduates from the Paris campus included Vickie Bryant, Carole English and Debra Tucker, all of Bogata, Carol Dawson of Blossom, Pam Kelly of Deport, Judy L. Campbell of Blossom graduated in the Greenville class.

Dear Nanalee:

I just do not have the time to pursue a problem that has been troubling me. With the renovation of the school buildings, there has been some destruction that seems unnecessary. Last year when the ceilings were lowered, of necessity, the class pictures were removed from the walls of the hall where the first set had hung since about 1922.

The last I heard about all of those priceless pictures, they were stacked in a hallway or closet in the old high school. Some of the frames and glasses on the frames had been broken. By now, deterioration surely is beginning to take its toll.

I have been told that the pictures will no longer "fit" on the hall walls. But surely somewhere there is a place that these pictures could be rehung and preserved.

This is a project I know your abilities can handle. Maybe some of the alumni would come to your aid.

Melba Ladd

Dear Nanalee,

The quotation you spoke of in your "Nichols' Worth" this week is from a poem called "Pippa Passes" by Robert Browning, rather than from Shakespeare. The passage, as I remember, goes like this: "The year's at the spring and day's at the morn. Mornings at seven, the hillsides dew-pearled. The lark's on the wing, the snail's on the thorn. God's in his heaven, all's right with the world."

I thought of it because it fit perfectly with your column. Your descriptions are so vivid and down to earth! I really enjoy reading them, and I have heard many other people say the same thing.

The Deport Times has had a facelift for the better since you and Thomas took over.

Sincerely,

Virginia Kirkland

APOLOGIES to those whom I misquoted...and thanks to those who caught my error...I can remember the exact illustration on my high school literature book page for the quote, but apparently was pretty shaky on my authorship...Nanalee Nichols.

TWO GIRLS from Blossom have earned the Silver Leadership pin, a special award for Cadette Girl Scouts. Angie Smith, daughter of David and Terri Smith and Rachel Chumbley, daughter of June Barbar, earned the award while acting as aids at the Lamar County Day Camp this summer. The girls assisted adult leaders working in units with younger girls. Both girls also donated time working with Brownie and Junior Girl Scout troops in Blossom during the past year. Angie and Rachel have been active in Girl Scouting for seven years. They will be attending Blossom Junior High this fall, in the eighth grade.

Pageant to be held at the Loews Anatole Hotel in Dallas on August 31, September 1 and 2. This Pageant is the official State-wide Finals for the Miss T.E.E.N. Pageant to be held in December.

Contestants from all over the state will be competing for the title. All contestants are between the ages of 14 and 18 and must have at least an "A" average in school. They are required to participate in the volunteer service program of the Miss T.E.E.N. Pageant. Through this program many young ladies are becoming involved in community activities by contributing at least 12 hours of time some worthwhile charity or civic work.

Texas Miss T.E.E.N. will compete for $3,000 in cash and all expense paid weekend for her and her family at the Loews Anatole, a personal appearance contract and an expense paid trip to the National Pageant in Albuquerque, N.M. Over $25,000 in awards and scholarships will be awarded at the national level of competition.

Contestants will be judged on scholastic achievement, volunteer service, appearance, poise, personality, personal interview, speech or talent and formal presentation. No swimsuit competition is required. Contestants have their choice of presenting a speech or performing a talent on stage.

Chappell Family Reunion Held

The descendants of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Chappell held a family reunion in honor of their mother's birthday on Sunday, August 19.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt Simmons of Ft. Smith, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. W.B. Morgan, Michael Simmons, Randy Willard, all of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Homer Chappell of Terrell, Mr. and Mrs.

Roy Chappell, Mr. and Mrs. Houston Chappell, all of Lufkin; Mrs. Kay Chappell of Paris; Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Chappell and Dee Dee of Denison; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Chappell and Penny Lee of White Oak and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Chappell of Pattonville.

All had an enjoyable day.

THE GUESS WHAT Contest proved to be both easy and difficult for folks last week. The very first call to the Bogata News office, made when the office (and contest) opened at 8 a.m. Thursday was correct. Joy White of Bogata won $5.00 by guessing that the mystery object was the top view of an aerosol spray can. But in Deport the phone rang for a long, long time before Claudia Whitney finally guessed the correct answer, also earning $5.00. Guesses of a pop bottle, the end of a water hose, a sink drain, and numerous others were submitted. Another picture, again a common item found around the home or office, appears above...so take a guess and call 652-4205 or 632-5322 and be the first correct caller to win yourself $5.00!

French And Italian Added To PJC Program

New evening courses in beginning French and Italian have been added to the Paris Junior College language program this year, according to Betty Clement.
 "In addition to teaching Spanish and German, we are adding these two courses in an effort to broaden our language program." The beginning French course will be taught on Mondays from 6 to 9:20 p.m., and elementary Italian is scheduled from 6 to 9:20 p.m. on Tuesdays. Four hours of college credit may be earned for each course, and a second semester will be taught in the spring.
 If interest in an evening Spanish course is shown, a beginning Spanish class may be arranged on Wednesday nights, Mrs. Clement said. Persons interested in the Spanish or in more information on the new language courses may call Mrs. Clement at 785-7661, extension 272 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Fall registration is scheduled Aug. 22-25 on the Paris campus.

Arthritis Workshop Scheduled

A workshop on "Understanding and Managing Arthritis" is set for Wednesday, September 12, in the Student Center Ballroom at Paris Junior College, said Chris Tobin, coordinator of health programs in continuing education.
 The workshop will be held from 8 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. with a luncheon break. Fee for the workshop is $20.00, which should be mailed to Ms. Tobin at Paris Junior College or be taken to the PJC Downtown Center by September 4.
 Through lecture, discussion, audio-visual and printed materials, health care professionals will be given an overview of the pathology of various forms of arthritis, nursing interventions, medical and surgical management and comprehensive rehabilitation. Emphasis will be on preventing deformities, relieving pain and improving capacities for self-care through treatment, equipment and patient education.
 The workshop is designed to give more knowledge on arthritis to registered nurses, vocational nurses, therapists and other health care professionals.

Weekly Agricultural Update

By Paul D. Payne
 Livestock producers find themselves in a severe hay shortage as the summer winds down, and now is the time to consider alternatives. There are about four options: 1) do nothing; 2) fertilize and make hay before frost; 3) plant winter pasture or 4) sell your cattle and hay.
 The first and last option requires the least amount of effort and may be the route for some to take. However, I think serious minded cattlemen should look into the second and third option.
 There is still enough time to make a hay crop before frost. In fact, some high quality hay can still be made. The excellent rains received this past week over most of the county really put a little zip in the grass. However, it really needs a fertilizer boost to produce an abundance of top quality forage. Most soil tests taken in the county call for about 60 pounds of nitrogen at this time per acre.
 One of the dangers of fertilizing grass at this time of year is the possibility of an Armyworm outbreak. The conditions are about ideal for an outbreak of this insect. Even though they will eat any grass, they do prefer highly fertilized grass. The possibility of an Armyworm problem should not be the reason for one not fertilizing, as the worms are easily controlled chemically should an outbreak occur.
 Winter pastures may be the route that some cattle producers will want to take in reducing the need for large quantities of hay this winter. Winter pastures are a high cost forage source and our extension service economist has estimated a $108 per acre cost for small grain ryegrass pasture. This does not include interest charges. This represents about a $18 decrease from 1983. The following is a projected per acre breakdown: seed, $18.40; fertilizer $77.00; custom planting $3.00; insecticide $3.00; machinery and equipment $7.00. Total $108.40.
 We suggest that one who is considering winter pastures get the pasture established prior to September 15. Also, use heavy seed rates and adequate fertilizer. Past research indicates we need to plant 100 pounds of rye or wheat plus 20 pounds of ryegrass.
 You will notice that oats are not being recommended. Although oats do have the potential for top quality forage, they also have the potential of freezing out as in 1983. Rye recommended varieties are Elbon, Bonel, Vitagraser and Wintergrazer 70.
 There are several wheat varieties that should be considered for grazing. McNair 1003 variety should be at the top of the list. In addition to its excellent forage production, it has been the top grain producer in the county variety demonstration the last two years. Others are Coker 68-15, Coker 762, Coker 916 and Southern Belle and Vona. All of these except Vona are soft wheats.

You Wouldn't Want Them to Face the Winter Without Proper Insulation.

Why Let Your House?

When you dress your children in warm clothes before letting them go outside in the winter, you are helping ensure that their bodies' warmth will not escape and let the cold air in. Insulating your home works the same way. By keeping warm air in your house, insulation keeps cold air out. In the summer, it keeps the warm air out and the cool air in.

If you are building a new home or thinking about making your current home more energy efficient, call one of the energy management experts at Texas-New Mexico Power Company. They can give you the information you need to make decisions on insulating your home and on other steps you can take to maximize your energy dollar.

DPS Urges "Back To School Caution"

"Schools are opening throughout the state which means motorists will have to be more careful," Atlanta District Engineer L.L. Jester, Jr. warns. "The increase in traffic will cause more accidents involving school buses and school children. One way to help reduce these accidents is by following safe operating procedures as well as the laws pertaining to passing a stopped school bus."
 State law requires drivers on the same roadway as a school bus that has stopped to load or unload school children to stop and remain stopped until one of three things happen: 1) the bus driver signals you go on by, 2) they turn off the flashing red lights, or 3) the bus itself goes into motion. The law applies whether you are meeting the bus or whether you are going in the same direction as the bus. It also applies inside the city limit as well as outside. The only exception to the law is when driving on the other side of a divided highway. Motorists who fail to stop for a school bus could be fined up to $200.00.

 When you see the amber lights flashing atop a school bus, prepare immediately to come to a complete stop. When the red warning lights atop a bus are flashing, you must come to a complete stop a safe distance from the bus and remain stopped until the red lights are turned off. Always give special observance to the proper courtesies and rules of the road when driving near a school bus.

I Got a Dog, His Name is Blue

Pet names often express an expectation by the owner which is sometimes naive or unrealistic, says a leading expert on animal behavior. Dogs and cats that substitute for children usually receive a human name, while elegant names are given to pets which satisfy an owner's ego trip. Just as often, troublesome pets receive derogatory names like Stinky, while we all know what dogs called Sarge and Killer are expected to do.

Shady Grove News

By Kathy Day
Saturday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Richey were Mr. and Mrs. John Rushing, Melissa, Amanda and Cody of Bonham; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gentry of Arlington; Floyd Salter and Melanie Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gentry of Arlington spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Richey and family.

Mrs. Belle Day of our community recently visited her aunt, Mrs. Maggie Clark of New London. Mrs. Clark is 97 years old and in very good health for her age. She was once a resident of Jennings and has many friends in this community.

Robert Russell has also been helping work on the Shady Grove Methodist Church but last week I failed to include his name. The Shady Grove Cemetery has been mowed recently and looks very nice.

Jerry Day of Pottsboro and Hoover Day of Sylvan visited relatives in this community over the weekend. The Shady Grove Methodist Church is holding a revival September 13 through the following Sunday with the homecoming being held that day. Everyone is invited to attend.

Kim Anderson, daughter of Neil and Sue Anderson, is out of the hospital and back in school, recovering nicely. Some young people of this community attended a youth rally Monday night in Paris. Anyone wishing to report news or happenings of this community, please call me at 785-4409, and I will be happy to print your news.

Footprints From The Past

By John W. Hood

This past Thursday the wife said that it was time to get some peaches to put up for winter when we would like some peach cobbler or some preserves or maybe some good fresh peaches. We set out to see what we could find.

I called my brother and he said he knew where we could find some good peaches, so we went by and picked up he and his wife and sure enough, we found some. After stopping and having a good meal of catfish, we came on home and proceeded to peel and put the peaches in plastic bags for the freezer that was not too much of a job for all we had to do was to peel them, cut them to the size we wanted them and put them in a plastic bag and seal them and put them in the freezer.

The jellies were a little more trouble as we had to cook them just right and put them in jars and seal them, but first the jars had to be washed and scalded and then when the jelly and preserves were cooked, we put them in the jars and sealed them and put them away for this winter. But in the days when I was growing up, it was a lot different as there were no freezers to put them in and all the peaches or whatever you were canning had to be cooked some as we had no gas stoves we had to build a fire in the wood cookstove, heat the water in the teakettle, put the jars in an old dish pan and wash them. Then we had to keep the fire going so we could cook whatever we were canning, then we would seal the jars and let them set overnight. The next day we would check them to be sure that they were sealed good, for we didn't want all that canning to spoil and that is just what it would do if there was just a little leak.

I always hated canning day because, first there was the wood to cut and bring in for the stove, and then it had to be fed every so often to keep it going and all the time the kitchen just kept getting hotter and hotter and the flies would eat you up if you got outside where you could get a little breeze, and I never could decide which was worse, the flies or the heat, so I usually just stayed in the kitchen and fussed about having to help with women's work when I could have been playing ball or doing something. But that winter when we were eating some good homemade jelly or had a fresh peach cobbler I was mighty glad that Mom had made me stay in and help with the canning.

Back in those days you could not go to the store and pick up fresh vegetables like you can now, so we would can them and put them in the storm cellar for the winter.

I can still remember how hot it would get canning. I think two of the jobs I hated the worst was washing jars, peeling peaches and churning it was always hot and the flies were awful.

FORMER U.S. PRESIDENT DWIGHT EISENHOWER WAS A PRETTY FAIR OIL PAINTER BUT HE COULDN'T DRAW VERY WELL, SO AN ARTISTIC SOLDIER SKETCHED SCENES ON CANVAS FOR IKE TO PAINT OVER.

PASSENGER PIGEONS WERE FOUND IN THE EASTERN UNITED STATES UNTIL THE END OF THE 1800'S. IN SUCH LARGE NUMBERS, IT WAS REPORTED BY JAMES AUDUBON THAT A FLOCK OF THEM TOOK 3 DAYS TO FLY BY, AND THEY DARKENED THE SKY! BUT HUNTERS' GREED CAUSED THEIR EXTINCTION. THE LAST KNOWN ONE DIED IN 1914, IN A CINCINNATI ZOOLOGICAL GARDEN.

Weekly Agricultural Update

By Herb Brevard

Many lawns in East Texas suffered severe damage from last winter's cold and some have not completely recovered. To increase the cold tolerance of lawn grasses, fertilize lawns now with a fertilizer high in potassium, says Dr. Sim A. Reeves, Jr. Research has shown that the healthier the grass, the better it will survive the winter.

Potash also increases disease resistance of grasses going into the winter. In the spring, potash enables the grass to release stored nutrients in the rhizomes and begin growth faster.

If the lawn has bare spots, Reeves says it is too late to sprig grasses since they will not have time to develop enough root system to survive a severe winter. However, bermudagrass lawns with bare spots can be overseeded with ryegrass. To overseed, mow the grass as close to the ground as possible and remove the thatch. Broadcast ryegrass seed and keep the lawn watered. Use a complete fertilizer after the seed germinates.

Overseeding with ryegrass will probably produce the greenest lawn in the neighborhood, but will also necessitate mowing all winter.

It is time to apply an insecticide for controlling the peach tree borer, according to Dr. James Robinson, entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Good coverage of the tree from the soil up to about 24 inches is essential for good control. Several insecticides including Dursban, Lorsban, Thiodan and lindane are approved for peach tree borer control.

Robinson says the borer has one generation per year. The moths are active in July and August. In late August, the eggs hatch into young larvae. This is the best time to apply insecticides to prevent damage the following year.

The larvae bores into the trunk of the tree and interferes with the transportation of food by the tree. A jelly-like substance is secreted by the tree.

Pecan weevils should also emerge from the soil in late August or early September following soaking rains. If rains are light, fewer weevils emerge and do not survive as well. To determine the infestation of the pecan weevil, a commercially available sticky band or a burlap bag can be wrapped around the trunk of the tree. Since adult weevils cannot fly, they must crawl up the trunk of the tree. The sticky band or burlap bag traps the weevils and the infestation can be determined. One spray application of Sevin is usually adequate if timed properly.
