

Area Harvest Prospects Looking Good

Abundant rainfall for much of the area is resulting in some excellent harvest prospects this year for farmers.

Dropping prices, as usual, mar that picture, as does midge infestation in late milo.

Milo harvesting is just getting started, but early yields indicate as high as 5,000 lb. yields.

Hay producers report better production than in the last few years but damage from drought and bitter cold has still shorted some coastal production.

Cotton and soybeans look excellent, but whether crucial rains during August come or not may well determine the actual production size of those.

Rains, mostly from thunderstorms, have swept the area regularly this year, with more cloudy days and even some very uncharacteristic drizzle during July.

Gardeners, plagued from the beginning this year with a cool, wet spring, have had some difficulty. Peas, however, have done extremely well, okra and tomatoes following close behind. It was the spring garden truck that seemed to fall below par.

Insects have been prevalent, perhaps more so than usual. Midge, the tiny insect that eats tender milo grains, and can almost destroy a crop, are becoming evident.

Cotton insects are said to be no worse than usual. Some army worms have been reported, but not in epidemic force so far.

Grasshoppers, a very serious problem in West Texas, have stayed in usual numbers in this part of the state.

Some areas have not received the benefits of the July thunderstorms, having to watch as the big clouds swept past and dumped their moisture elsewhere. Crops and pastures in those areas are not doing well.

Overall, however, the picture for harvest looks good. If August brings some more of the same, hopes for a bumper crop will be high.

Now, when hot weather seems as much here to stay as taxes, it might be nice to quit dreaming of Colorado or other cool states and just think ahead a few months.

Summer is not never-ending...and most folks are grateful for the fact. About the first of October, only a scant two months away, jackets will come out of the closets for the early morning hours. Leaves will begin their last flaming dance, and evenings will have a definite nip to them.

Then, in November, the weather will be ideal for people who like it to be cold.

There will be lots of cold rain and gray skies, providing the perfect opportunity to curl up with a good book, or a good movie on television.

December will probably show its usual warmup, and then January will blow in with its customary bitter winds and violent cold.

January, for most people, is the month when folks begin to dream just a little bit about warm weather.

That's right, I said warm weather.

Instead of appreciating the lovely fire and the feel of a hot cup of coffee in the palms, the mind goes back to summertime and what a cold glass of ice tea feels like, how the shade is dappled by the summer sun.

By February, we are all positively ready and waiting for the first feeling of warmth.

Seed catalogues spark ideas for summer gardens, and ideas for painting, remodeling or any excuse for it to be warm enough to get outside begin to arise.

Perhaps it is simply that we get too much of a certain kind of weather for too long.

We don't like the extremes...but there are no perfect places to live in this world.

No place has just the exact amount of cold and snow, just the right amount of rain, just the perfect slice of sunshine.

So, as we fan ourselves, or stagger in from mowing the yard one more time, remember, winter really isn't that far away!

And when it gets here, most of us will be ready for the summertime, too.

Chapman Keeps Democrats In Congressional Seat

In an election win that kept both candidates on the edges of their respective seats until the very last, Democrat Jim Chapman captured the Congressional seat that has been the coveted prize since Sam B. Hall's resignation to assume a Federal Judge's position.

Chapman received 52,670 votes, amounting to 50.9 percent, while Republican Edd Hargett polled 50,737 votes, or 49.1 percent.

Chapman expressed his delight, and expressed his thanks, and faith in the people of East Texas. He claims that his opponent used $1.5 million in the campaign, a record.

Chapman will meet with House Majority Leader Jim Wright and House leadership to discuss committee assignments soon. His duties will begin after the Congress ends its current recess on September 3.

A thirty-percent turnout was labeled as more than either candidate truly expected.

Chapman carried Lamar County with 56.21 percent of the vote. He also carried Red River County, which had gone Republican by eight votes in the June primary, having 1,887 votes to Hargett's 1,227.

Chapman also carried Titus County with 2,459 votes to Hargett's 2,408. The Democratic votes came from the rural boxes, for the most part, and the larger boxes produced Hargett's votes.

The Democrats have held this seat for 114 years. But the Republicans note the narrow margin as gains in rural East Texas for their party.

Cheese And Motion Pictures

By Wm. C. Barnard

In 1911, Dad, Mother and family left Washington to move back to Texas. We traveled by train and occupied berths in a pullman, or sleeping car, because it was a three day trip. We didn't always eat in the dining car because meals were rather expensive.

The train usually stopped at noon to change crews or engines, and Dad would leave the train, find a restaurant and purchase sack lunches. In passing through Utah, we stopped at a place and a cafe wasn't handy, but a delicatessen was.

Dad bought a chunk of Limburger cheese and a loaf of rye bread. Mother wasn't impressed, but she opened the package and started making sandwiches. When the aroma of the cheese began to drift through the coach, people began to look around, wrinkle their noses, clear their throats, and finally leave and go to one of the other coaches. Mother was embarrassed. Dad didn't buy any more Limburger.

Uncle Jim Williams and Aunt Sue, Dad's sister, lived in Shawnee, Oklahoma. We traveled through Oklahoma on our way back to Texas, so we stopped to visit with them a while before coming on to Deport. While there, Uncle Jim wanted to show us some of the sites. There was a new thing in town called a Motion Picture Theater. We had never been to one. There were Opra Houses back in Washington, which we sometimes attended, but no Motion Picture Houses. Dad went with Uncle Jim and took me along. The show was about K.C. Jones, the great locomotive engineer. We had seats up close. There was no dialogue, just lifelike motion pictures flickering on the screen, and a player piano going full blast.

When he lights went out and the picture came on, it showed K.C. Jones as he mounted to the cabin. It showed the engine racing down the track with drive wheels rolling, the piston rods and connecting rods churning, and the black smoke pouring from the stack. It was impressive and exciting, everyone was sitting on the edge of his seat.

The next scene showed the engine in the distance coming toward us at breakneck speed. Steam was blowing from the cylinders at each stroke of the pistons, K.C. with his hand on the throttle, and leaning out the window and looking straight ahead.

Just as the front of the engine and cowcatcher filled the entire screen and it seemed as if we all were going to get killed, someone yelled "Look out!" That's when I ran over Dad and Uncle Jim trying to dodge the engine.

Permission To Erect Monuments Now Necessary

Placing of monuments in Highland Cemetery in Deport with out supervision of cemetery officials will no longer be allowed.

Your cooperation will be appreciated.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents. Wide double ruffles of organza covered the shoulders of long fitted

The flared skirt formed a train and was completely encircled with lace and rows of wide double ruffles of organza which were stiffened on the edge with wire to cause a rippling effect. The bride wore a Gibson hat with the brim swept up on one side, trimmed with lace and pearls and an illusion veiling. She carried a colonial bouquet fashioned by her aunt of silk white anemones, daisies, morning glories, miniature carnations, gypsophilia and blue tea roses with white satin streamers tied in love knots.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd D. Willard of Blossom. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Earl Bailey of Remlap, Alabama.

Melissa Dressler sang "Flesh of My Flesh," accompanied by Rhonda Cronin, pianist, who also played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, wore a gown of Chantilly lace accented with sequins and fashioned with a high neckline, fitted sleeves and basque waistline and trimmed with Venice lace motifs. The skirt formed a semi-chapel train. The bride wore a lace-covered picture hat accented with side roses which held her veiling of illusion. She carried a silk cascade of pink and burgundy roses and white carnations with strands of pearls, fern and pink and burgundy satin ribbons and streamers.

Ushers were Charles Branum and Will Larsewing, both of Blossom.

The bride is a 1984 graduate of Prairiland High School and attended Paris Junior College.

The bridegroom is a 1982 graduate of Locust Fork High School and is attending Samford University majoring in religion.

Ray Mullins sang "The Lord's Prayer." The bridegroom's father officiated as the couple repeated their double-ring vows before the altar, decorated with two heartshaped candelabras and two Boston ferns and the unity candle.

When the bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, she was wearing a gown designed with an Elizabethan neckline outlined with a ruffle and pearls. The gown's fitted bodice was covered in pearled Venice lace and the Elizabethan sleeves were accented with pearlized crystal organza and Belgium lace. The full skirt was accented with re-embroidered lace and cascaded down the back formed a cathedral train. The hemline of the gown and train were encircled with a double flounced ruffle. She carried a bouquet of silk spring flowers in pastel colors and greenery.

Mrs. Sherryl Dieckman of Commerce was matron of honor and Mrs. Dee Ann Cummings of Garland, sister of the bridegroom was brides matron. Bridesmaids were Miss Tami Dyke of Wylie, sister of the bridegroom and Miss Starla Kay Maddox of Blossom sister of the bride.

A.J. Dieckman of Commerce and Jay Dykes were ringbearers and carried pillows created by Mrs. Virgie Baxter of Paris, great-aunt of the bride, from the material of the bride's mother's wedding gown.

Wylie Dykes of Dallas served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Ronnie Cross of Wylie, Gary Foster of Dallas and Dale Morris of Dallas.

Ushers were Jim Cummings of Garland and Bruce Cryer of Wylie.

Out of town guests included Dr. Ralph L. Brown of Wichita Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Fodge of Paris, Mr. and Mrs. L.P. Brown of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Maddox of Paris, Mr. and Mrs. Craig Skidmore of Paris, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Janeway of Blossom, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Maddox of Nacogdoches, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Harris of Tyler, Mrs. Hugh Brown of Detroit, Frank Maddox Jr. of Houston and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Maddox of Blossom.

Red River Valley Expo Drawing Near

By John R. Senter
 The Red River Valley Fair is just over three weeks away and time is fading fast. The entry deadline is getting close and you need to start thinking about your entries. The fair will run from Monday, September 2 through Saturday, September 7. There will be classes for dairy females, breeding beef cattle, prospect steers, breeding sheep, swine, horses and even a kiddie class and a suck bucket class. The various open breeding beef shows will be held throughout the week.

Entries are $5.00 per head in the junior beef, dairy and steer shows and need to be mailed by August 21. Entries in the sheep and swine shows are $4.00 per head. The horse show can be entered on the day of the show, September 7, with $3.00 per head in halter classes and $2.00 per head in the performance classes.

This may seem a little early but you need to be aware of the deadlines and the fees. If you have questions or need more information, please let me know.

A while has passed since we met! As summer begins to turn to fall before school cranks up again, we need to get together and get on track for a new 4-H year. With this in mind, the next 4-H council meeting will be held on Thursday, August 15 at 7:30 p.m. at Texas Power and Light Meeting Room.

This will be the last meeting for the 1984-85 officer and delegates and we will miss them. But, we have an excellent bunch of new officers and delegates to take over. But first, we have some very important items to take care of.

The fair, the Achievement Banquet and National 4-H week are not far off and we need to put some thought into these and other things.

Please plan to attend, see you the 15th!

Nellie T. Ross of Wyoming held two important firsts for women. She was the first woman governor in the U.S. from 1925 to 1927 and later was the first woman to serve as director of the U.S. Mint.

Orientation will be offered only at one time this fall, and attendance both days is required. Reservations for the course should be made by August 16 or by writing or calling the Counseling Department, Paris Junior College, Paris, TX.

Students complete the orientation should register for ORN 101 during fall registration. Freshmen registration is scheduled alphabetically from noon to 4 p.m. Wednesday, August 21; from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Thursday and Friday, August 22-23, and from 8 a.m. to noon Saturday August 24.

Sign Up Time For Calf Scramble

By John R. Senter
Any Lamar County 4-H'er that has participated in the Houston Livestock Show Calf Scramble will verify the fact that it is a great experience. Since 1982 Lamar County 4-H has had ten scramble winners and some 4-H'ers have placed well in the junior scramble show.
It is once again time for interested 4-H'ers to sign up for the 1986 Calf Scramble. District 5 has been allotted 16 scramble positions and they will fill up fast!

Any member between the ages of 12 and 18 as of January 1, 1986 and is not enrolled beyond their junior year in high school is eligible to compete. The Houston Show also suggests that participants weigh at least 100 pounds.
Any 4-H'er that catches a calf in the scramble will be awarded a certificate for $600 to be used toward the purchase price of a heifer. The heifers must be registered and the 4-H'er may buy either a beef or a dairy heifer.

The scramble nomination form is due in the District office before September 15, so if you are interested, come by as soon as possible.
Please keep in mind that if you are a winner, you will be required to keep and submit monthly records and also you must return to the calf scramble show at the 1987 Houston Livestock Show.

This is an excellent opportunity for all 4-H'ers that are interested in showing registered beef heifers. Where else can you get stomped, kicked, bruised and a $600 certificate for a few minutes of work?
Please let us know if you are interested.
