

Texas Litter Costs Texans Big Money

Recent research conducted on behalf of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation indicated an estimated half billion pieces of trash along Texas roadsides in late August.

Four different studies were commissioned by DHT in advance of a major effort to reduce roadside litter which cost taxpayers a whopping $20 million last year.

The Institute for Applied Research, headquartered in Sacramento, California, performed a visible litter count in key locations throughout the state. The Institute, who has performed more than 40 studies on litter throughout the United States, is considered the premiere firm in the nation on litter research. This study indicated that roadside trash is approaching an estimated half billion pieces.

Their other findings included: Fifty-three percent of highway litter is caused by deliberate acts, while 47 percent involves loss of truck loads that were unsecured or uncovered, as well as miscellaneous items blowing out of trucks.

Sixty-one percent of roadside litter can be found in urban areas. The remaining 39 percent lies on rural freeways and roads.

Litter from automobiles accounts for 30 percent of all roadside litter.

Pickup trucks are the source of a disproportionate amount of roadside litter, amounting to 27 percent. However, pickups represented only 11 percent of all vehicles observed.

Stake, flatbed, dump trucks and trailers account for 21 percent of roadside litter in Texas.

Other vehicles contributed the remainder.

As to who litters, "habitual" litterers in Texas were defined in a separate study by the Institute as primarily males, between the ages of 10 and 44. The largest category was young men, between the ages of 18 and 34. The study indicated that 71.4 percent of all deliberate littering is done by males, with females representing only 28.7 percent.

Decision Analysts, Inc., of Arlington performed two studies to probe why Texans litter and their awareness of litter as a statewide problem.

As to why Texans litter; convenience is the primary reason.

Most Texans interviewed do not approve of littering, but 43 percent admitted to littering from time to time. Less than 21 percent were able to correctly estimate the tax dollars required to clean up Texas roadways.

"The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation will use the research statistics to implement a three-pronged program aimed at significantly reducing litter," said J. Don Clark, director of the Highway Department's Information Services Section.

This war against trash will include an aggressive, targeted media campaign directed at habitual litterers, a state-wide community-by-community clean-up and beautification program and incentives for increased law enforcement.

The $20 million spent by the State last year on litter collection does not include tax dollars spent by city and county governments on local clean up efforts.

NICHOLS' WORTH

By: Nanalee Nichols

With farming in the desperate state it is currently in, and with making a living at it very difficult, this column, printed in the Crosbyton, Texas, News, was brought in by a friend who thought it might bring a smile or two to farmers everywhere.

Last Will and Testament of a Farmer:

I leave: To my wife...My overdraft at the bank. Maybe she can explain it.

To my son...Equity on my car. Now he'll have to go to work to meet the payments.

To my banker...My soul. He's got a mortgage on it anyway.

To F.H.A....My unpaid bills. They took some real chances on me and I want to do the same for them.

To A.S.C.S....my grain bin. I was planning to let them have it next year anyhow.

To S.C.S....My farm plan. Maybe they can understand it, I never did.

To the junkman....my equipment...he's had his eyes on it for years.

To my undertaker...a special request: six implement and fertilizer dealers for pallbearers. They're used to carrying me.

To the weatherman...rain, sleet and snow for the funeral. There's no use having nice weather now!

To the gravedigger...Don't bother. The hole I'm in already should be big enough.

And last: put on my monument...Here lies a farmer who has now assumed all his obligations."

Lady Patriots Lose, Win One

By James VanDeaver

The Prairiland Patriots feds opened district play Tuesday night at Prairiland in a game which they lost 33-32 to Pittsburg.

The Patriots found their debut rough on the onset as they missed numerous shots. Prairiland did not get on the scoreboard until Jenissa Baker hit a jumpshot with :46 seconds remaining in the first quarter. Fortunately, Pittsburg could not get any of their shots to fall, either. After two quarters of play with Pittsburg leading 11-7, both teams offenses began to perk up a bit. However, Prairiland could never take the lead in the game, although the outcome was never determined until Pittsburg tied up the ball with :2 seconds remaining in the game. Because of the new rule in high school basketball that gives the ball to a team on alternate possessions on tie balls. Prairiland's hopes for winning were ended as they went on to lose 33-32. Deana Watson led the Prairiland scoring with 11 points and Jenissa Baker poured in 10.

The Prairiland feds next encounter will be Thursday at Talco in the Rivercrest tournament against Detroit with the tip off slated for 4:15.

Earlier in the evening, the Junior Varsity Lady Patriots defeated the Pittsburg Pirates 53-33. The leading scorers for the Patriots were Amy Scudder with 12 points and Tarsha McCarty and Melissa with nine points respectively. The Patriots led at the end of the first half 30-14.

Blossom Kiwanis Club Meets

The Kiwanis Club of Blossom Prairie, during their regular weekly Saturday morning meeting on November 23, had two very interesting speakers, who made presentations to the club members on items of interest to the club.

Mrs. Liz Irwin made a presentation in support of the proposed Red Oak Community Center, details concerning the size, type and location of the building, and the fact that over 70 residents of the East Lamar County area have pledged support of the project.

Chet Ferguson, Lt. Governor of this Kiwanis district, spoke to the members of the background of the Kiwanis Clubs, the fact of the large number of clubs and members in the state of Texas, and the 1986 Kiwanis theme of "Walk With A Child" program.

The Chater night committee reported that the local club would receive their charter on Thursday, December 5 at 7 p.m. with a dinner catered by the Rockin W Barbecue at the Prairiland High School Cafeteria. All members and their wives are invited to attend.

Eight new members were introduced to the club, including James Crawford, John Garrett, Max Ballard, Leslie Taylor, Jimmy Freeman, Jerry Allen, Lavell Bailey and Randall Pinckard. This brings the total club membership to 56.

Anyone interested in joining the Kiwanis Club of Blossom Prairie is invited to meet at 7 a.m. each Saturday morning at the Blossom United Methodist Church.

Blossom Area Raises $140 In Mothers March

This year's Mothers March was a heartening example of how much the people of the Blossom area care about the health and welfare of their children.

The calls and visits made by March of Dimes volunteers during this year's Mother's March raised contributions amounting to $140.00. Households gave to the Mothers March to support the goal of helping to continue the battle against birth defects. March of Dimes programs of research, medical services and education are a multi-faceted attack on birth defects on the national and local level.

This year's Blossom area Mothers March chairman, Earlene Vickers said she wishes to thank everyone who supported this year's Mothers March, especially these volunteers, Red Oak 4-H Club, Mrs. Sally Fendley, Mrs. Pat Graham and Mrs. Mary Lemley.

Nominations for the honored position of Lamar County Farm Homemaker Of the Year are now being accepted. They may be made by an individual or group based on the following criteria: She must reside in the rural area of Lamar County. She must give full time support to the farm or ranch. She must be actively involved in the farm or ranch operation. Accomplishments as a homemaker. Involved in community activities.

Nominations should be limited to one typed page, double spaced.

This recognition is being jointly presented by the Overall Program Building Committee of the Lamar County Extension Service and The Paris News as sponsor of the recognition plaque.

Past recipients for the Farm Homemaker of the Year award include: Mrs. Mary Basinger, Mrs. Nancy Cannada, Mrs. Darlene Justiss, Mrs. Vicki Neisler, Mrs. Jan Chapman, Mrs. Nanalee Nichols and Mrs. Terri Darnell.

Nominations are to be sent to Mary Lou Williamson, CEA-HE, Lamar County Extension Office, County Courthouse, 105, Paris, TX 75460 by noon Friday, December 6.

Farm Homesteads Protected From Foreclosure By Certain Creditors

By Paul D. Payne

Texas is the only state with homestead laws that protect rural homesteads from foreclosure by general creditors. But the protection is limited by the type of debt owed and to a specific quantity of land.

A rural homestead of no more than 200 acres is protected from foreclosure from debts other than those for the actual purchase of the property, taxes and permanent improvements.

The homestead provisions of Texas law will not protect the home from attachment, execution and forced sale for the payment of debts arising from all or part of the purchase money for the homestead, property taxes, or mechanic's liens for work and material used in constructing improvements on the homestead.

The occupant-owner of the homestead cannot increase the "burden" or amount of the outstanding loan on the homestead. The owner may refinance the homestead property when interest rates become more favorable, but the outstanding balance of the note can be increased only if the extra money covers the cost of improvements, property taxes or refinancing costs.

The protection extends throughout the lives of both spouses and to the minor children and unmarried children remaining with the family of the deceased while they continue to use and occupy the property. Single adults living together, however, cannot claim homestead rights.

These rights also insure that one spouse cannot sell the homestead without the other's consent. Therefore, both spouses must sign a deed to convey the homestead regardless of whether it is separate or community property.

As a general rule, once a homestead is established it continues until another is acquired. To switch a homestead requires a physical change of residence accompanied by an intent for the new residence to become the new homestead.

During the farm crisis, homesteads will be protected from general creditors under Texas laws. However, the protection is not available from the creditor loaning the money to purchase the homestead property. For answers to questions about homestead laws, contact a financial institution or an attorney.

"Amahl" To Feature Local Students

Paris Junior College's production of Amahl and the Night Visitors will feature college music and drama students along with some area talent, said Ray Karrer, director for the Christmas presentation. The colorful production of Gian-carlo Menotti's one-act opera will be presented Dec. 6, 7 and 8 in the Theater at PJC.

Reuel Swint, a sixth grade student at Cecil Everett Elementary School, will play Amahl, the crippled shepherd boy whose life is changed forever the night he sees the three Kings.

Portraying his poor widowed mother will be Amy Hiner, PJC music student from Rockwall. David Smith, who plays Kasper, is a former Paris High School music and drama student.

Also a PHS graduate, Aubrey Robertson is a music major at PJC and played the lead in the musical, Robber Bridegroom, last year. He will portray Melchior in Amahl and the Night Visitors. Tim McNeil, who will be Balthazar, is a graduate of Pine Tree High School in Longview.

Dancers for Amahl and the Night Visitors will be Chance Dawson and Andy Pryor of Clarksville, Melissa Thompson of Hugo.

Members of the shepherd's chorus will be Jeff Stone of Pattonville and Tim Wood of Bogata.

Tickets for the play, to go on sale November 25 in the College Store, are $4 for general admission, $2 for students and free to PJC students.

The featured highlight on Sunday's program will be a performance of George Frederick Handel's best known and loved work "The Messiah".

The Northeast Texas Community Chorus, conducted by Dr. Ron Clinton, is a group of 45 of the finest singers from the Northeast Texas area.

Mrs. Patrick B. Farr

Gordon-Farr Exchange Wedding Vows

Miss Kristy LuAna Gordon became the bride of Patrick B. Farr in a formal double ring ceremony at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening, November 30, in the Church of Christ, Highway 82 West, Clarksville. Gene Wolfe of Hurst, former minister of Northside Church of Christ in Bonham, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gordon, Route 1, Deport, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Massey. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Xenos of Bonham. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Al Kreutzer of Bonham.

Mrs. Howard Dunham presided at the register in the church foyer. Miss Jennifer Dunham handed each guest a keepsake book marker.

A capella music was presented by Miss Angela Latimer who sang "Surround Me With Love" and "God, A Woman, and a Man". Alvis Dunlap sang "Always and Forever" and "Today My Love". Mr. and Mrs. Bob Buckel sang "Perhaps Love" as the professional for the bridal attendants, "With This Ring" during the ceremony and "Father, Hear This Prayer We Offer" at the close of the ceremony. Miss Latimer sang "Up Where We Belong" as the recessional. The bride entered to "Take My Hand" sung by the bride and groom. Gerry Allen read "Desiderate".

The aisle to the altar was lighted with hurricane lamps tied with burgundy ribbons. The altar was banked with fresh ferns, psalms, two oval 15 branched candelabras and two three-tiered candelabras holding burgundy candles. The focal point was three matching pedestals holding white Grecian urns filled with Boston fern. Lighting the altar area where the couple pledged their vows, was a grouping of hurricane lamps. Two matching seven-branched candelabras lighted the steps to the altar.

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin overlaid with sherr lace. The empire waistline formed a soft point at the back and the Queen Anne neckline was outlined with lace. The fitted bodice was trimmed with sequins and beaded lace medallions, and lace medallions accented the dip to the back waistline. The sheer, full sleeves were caught to a cuff and were decorated with lace and lace medallions. The slightly flared skirt was edged with lace and formed a train. The bride's fingertip veiling of illusion was caught to a garland of white chiffon flowers with a pouf of illusion and was edged with lace and lace medallions. She carried a cascade bouquet of roses, enchantment lilies and French carnations tied in ribbons and white lace. Tucked into the bouquet was a wedding handkerchief given to the bride by D.R. Nethery of Port Angeles, Washington.

Mrs. Johnny Robertson of Bogata, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Beth Gordon of Clarksville, also a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Marian Xenos of Texarkana, step-sister of the groom, Mrs. Jerry Kountz, sister of the groom, Mrs. Ronnie Latimer and Pam White, all of Bonham, Ms. Jane Kizer of Greenville, Annete Swaim of Houston and Staci Brooks of Paris.

The attendants wore formal length two-piece mauve satin gowns designed with a batequ neckline in front falling to a low drape in the back. The batwing sleeves tapered to the elbow and the loosely fitted bodice pulled in at the waistline with a wide self belt forming a softly gathered peplum. The slencer skirt featured a side pleat. Each wore a single strand of pearls, and each carried a burgundy candle sui rounded with mauve roses, French carnations and azaleas tied with grey, navy and mauve ribbons. Each wore matching silk flowers in her hair.

Chay Robertson of Bogata, the bride's niece, was flower girl. She wore a long dress of mauve satin with a high band neckline, leg-o-mutton sleeves, gored skirt with a ruffle and a cummerbund.

She carried a pale mauve basket decorated with darker mauve and gray flowers tied with mauve ribbons. Michael Noirris of Bonham was ringbearer.

Wayne Watson of Bonham served the bridegroom as best man. Groomsmen were George Xenos, step-father of the groom, Ronnie Latimer, Mark Daniel and Jerry Kountz, all of Bonham, Ken McIntosh of Mesquite, Johnny Robertson of Bogata, Howard Dunham and Kenny Backus both of Clarksville.

Ushers were Bart Dunham and Darrell Dunham of Clarksville.

Candlelighters were Stacy Latimer of Bonham and Wyatt Bowden of Clarksville.

The bride's parents were hosts for a reception in the fellowship hall of the church following the ceremony.

The bride's table was laid with a white knit cloth covered with lace draped at intervals with white chiffon flowers and white lace ribbons. The appointments were of silver and crystal with a centerpiece of burgundy and mauve carnations in a stemmed crystal bowl. The bride's three-tiered colonade cake was decorated with white icing, fresh mauve roses with streamers of mauve ribbons and topped with a porcelain bride and groom. Punch was served from a silver punch bowl. Serving were Mrs. Bob Buckel of Gainesville, Mrs. Mike Wrinkle of Lubbock, Mrs. David Goodwin of Bonham and Mrs. Joe Kelsey of Bogata.

The groom's table was covered with a burgundy cloth. It held the silver coffee service, the groom's chocolate cake, nuts, mints, a centerpiece of a crystal lead fish supporting a burgundy candle tied with a navy bow and cascading English ivy. Serving were Mrs. Wayne Watson, Sherman, Mrs. Mark Daniel and Mrs. Jay Grizzle of Bonham and Tonya Cooper of Clarksville.

Other members of the houseparty were Mrs. Ruby Bagwell, Mrs. Graham Ballard, Mrs. Kenneth Shelton, Mrs. Tom Collins, Mrs. Lewis Bartlett, Mrs. Lawrence Bell, Mrs. Marshall Warren and Mrs. Billy Ervin, all of Clarksville and Mrs. K.C. Winn, Jr. of Athens. Miss Paige Bowden and Miss Lauren Bowden of Clarksville distributed rice bags.

The bride is a graduate of Rivercrest High School, Paris Junior College and Abilene Christian University. She received her master's degree from East Texas State University and is a speech and hearing therapist in the Bonham Independent School District.

What To Do With Turkey Leftovers

By Mary Lou Williamson
 Now that Thanksgiving is over, we must consider whatever to do with the left over turkey. Some families enjoy leftover turkey from Thanksgiving. In fact, some like the leftovers better than the holiday meal itself!! The key to using leftovers effectively is to plan ahead when packaging. If your family prefers turkey sandwiches and creamed turkey dishes, you can freeze the leftovers in slices and small pieces. If possible, cover the slices and pieces with broth or gravy to prevent contact with air. This technique lengthens storage life. Package in air tight, meal-sized packages or containers and freeze quickly. Label package or container with number of servings, cooking instructions and the expiration ro shelf life of the product. Frozen turkey does not improve with age, and it does not retain good eating quality for as long as some other meats. If you are going to freeze turkey, remember this storage guide: one month for slices or pieces, six months for slices or pieces covered with broth or gravy and six months for turkey casserole dishes. Tasty casseroles can be prepared by combining cubed turkey with vegetables, sauce, seasonings, cooked spaghetti, macaroni, noodles or converted rice. Regular rice and potatoes become mushy after freezing. Prepare the turkey casserole, cool it quickly and place it in a meal-sized freezing container. Cover tightly with moisture-vapor resistant wrap and freeze immediately. By planning for leftovers, you can spread the enjoyment of turkey over a longer period of time and save food preparation time later during the busy holiday season. To help you prepare for the festive season will share a humorous poem on the subject of turkey meals, turkey leftovers and when will this turkey be gone!

On the second day, the same food, heated up, Seemed rather less attractive as we settled down to sup. On the third day, strong brew and fancy ices Helped take the curse from sandwiches of breast and drumstick slices. On the fourth day, we dined by candle light, Pretending that the entree was not fowl again that night. On the fifth day, I simmered up the bones, Into a reminiscent soup turkey under tones. On the sixth day, in cream sauce laced with sherry, The scraps made appetizing toast, although perhaps not very. On the seventh day, my true love wished to know How long, O Lord, and shuddered when I figured five to go. On the eighth day, an oozing casserole, Of stew beneath it biscuit crust was greeted with "My Soul!" On the ninth day, he eyed the pots a-bubble, Ad whisked me to a restaurant for T steak on the double. A holiday wish is that your turkey leftovers are turned into turkey planned overs by freezing family size portions for later use when the appetite is more willing and appreciative of the bird. As one philosopher once said, "There was no respect for youth when I was young, and now I am old, there is no respect for age, I missed it coming and going." Most parents want their children to learn respect for others, yet it's a concept that cannot be taught directly. Rather, respect is something that is modeled and learned as others practice it. Respect wears many faces. It can be viewed as self-respect, respect for others or respect for property. It is most obvious when it is missing. The hallmarks of a family that teaches respect include the following: The family respects individual differences within the family. The family knows that self-respect means just that, respect for oneself. The family respects all groups, yet does not feel compelled to condone all groups. The family respects individual decisions and will continue to offer support if failures occur. The family shows respect to those outside the family. The family respects the property of others. When respect is taught at home, it will extend beyond the home. The family who respects others has self-respect. It is also secure enough in its own being to trust each family member. A trusting, respectful family is perceived by others as being a respected, trustworthy family. Lamar County Judge Brady Fisher was recently presented a plaque by the District 5 Extension Homemakers Association in appreciation for support of programs impacting families. Presengin the plaque was Billie Brown, District 5 Texas Home Economics Director. My thanks to the readers who located the owner of the unusual doll quilt with tatting around the edge. Doll quilt owner is Mr. s C.L. Porterfield of Detroit. She will be happy to talk to interested quilters about her unique quilt. She has an unusual hobby, she knows how to tat.

Court Docket

Christmas Opera To Be Presented At PJC

Amahl and the Night Visitors, a colorful production of Gian-carlo Menotti's one-act opera will be presented by the Paris Junior College Fine Arts Division on December 6, 7 and 8, according to Ray Karrer.

The production is scheduled for 7:30 on Friday and Saturday and at 3 p.m. on Sunday in the Theater for the Performing Arts at PJC. Tickets are priced at $4 general admission and $2 for students except PJC students who are admitted free. They go on same Nov. 25 in the College Store.

The well known opera concerns the Three Wise Men's unscheduled visit in the home of a crippled shepherd boy and his poor windowed mother. A heart-warming production, it has been viewed by millions since the first NBC performance on Christmas Eve of 1951.

"I decided to present the Christmas story this year because the college his quality drama students who are capable of filling the roles," Karrer explained. "It is a challenging score and a wonderful Christmas story for children and adults alike."

Karrer will be the director, and Lon Chaffin will direct the orchestra and chorus for the production. John Wright is scene and technical director, and Jennie Vaughan is rehearsal accompanist. A 10 or 12 member orchestra will be composed of community residents and professionals.

PJC and North Lamar High School students will be chorus members and dancers.

Drivers Ed Course Set

Paris Junior College's next driver education course will begin Monday, Jan. 6, but reservations for the course are due Dec. 20 when PJC closes for the Christmas holidays.

The course was held in October and November, but no December classes were scheduled because of the holidays, said June Jones, director of community services. Driver education includes required classroom hours, observation and driving hours needed to obtain a driver's license. It is open to anyone 15 years of age or older, Mrs. Jones said.

Classes will be held from 4 to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday, beginning Jan. 6 in the Alford Center at PJC. The course includes 32 hours of classroom instruction, and observation and driving is scheduled with the individual student. Fee is $145.

Instructor is James E. Jones, retired Paris Independent School District driver education instructor.

Reservations must be made by paying the fee in the Alford Center at PJC by Friday, Dec. 20. Checks payable to PJC may be mailed to the Community Services office, PJC by that date. Classes are limited so reservations should be made early.

Other classes are scheduled to begin the first of each month. More information may be obtained by calling 784-9445 or 784-9447.

Soybean Demonstration Results Announced

By Paul D. Payne

IMS 4982 was the top yielding variety in the county soybean variety demonstration planted on the Kessell Farm near Blossom. This group IV maturing variety averaged 32 bushels per acre. Following close behind were Asgrow 3420 and Ring Around 450 at 30 bushels each.

Other results were Ring Around 452-29 bushels; Ring Around 480-28 bushels; Hartz 5252-212 bushels; Ring Around 481-20 bushels; Asgrow 3966-20 bushels; and Hartz 5370-15 bushels.

The two Asgrow varieties are group III varieties and were ready for harvest approximately six weeks before the plot was harvested. Severe shattering was noted in these two which reduced the final yield. One should take this into account when studying the results. Both varieties have good seed holding qualities, but cannot stand a prolonged harvest delay.

The demonstration was planted on May 8 and harvested November 7. This planting date was late for the group III and IV maturing varieties. The late maturing ones made adequate stalk but did not set beans during the August day spell.

Based on these results, those in other counties and similar production results by other county producers need to stay with the group III and IV varieties in order to obtain the more consistent yields. Even though these varieties do not have the 60 bushel potential they will produce in the 30 bushel range if planted early enough.

The days when a farmer or rancher could go to his banker, FHA or PCA office and obtain a loan for his next year's crop without providing a net worth statement, cash flow projection as well as other management information are gone.

These are management areas that many producers do not feel comfortable working. However, producers must be able to compute enterprise budget projects. One must know what is going to cost to produce a bushel of wheat or corn.

Producers will be able to learn these basic farm management principles at a workshop to be held at the Roxton Bank on December 18. The session will begin at 10 a.m. and conclude at 3 p.m. with a lunch break at noon.

The workshop is being sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Farmer's Home Administration, Roxton Vocational Agricultural Department and First Bank of Roxton. Dr. Gerald Cornforth with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will be instructor.

Individuals who have never obtained their private pesticide applicator licenses will want to reserve December 17. This is the date of the annual training session in Lamar County to be held at the Texas Power and Light Building located at 635 Clarksville Street. The three hour training session begins at 7 p.m.

Fireants Very Active

By Herb Brevard

Fireants are very active in East Texas, according to Dr. James Robinson, entomologist. This is a good time to treat mounds with an approved insecticide.

Mosquitoes have increased tremendously since the rains across the area. This problem will continue until a heavy frost.

Robinson says this is a good time to treat pets for fleas and ticks and get the infestations cleaned up prior to cold weather.

Ponds are full from recent rains. Before stocking ponds, a water sample should be taken and analyzed. Billy Higginbotham, Extension wildlife and fisheries specialist, says that even ponds that were checked a year ago should have another water sample checked. The flushing caused by the heavy rainfall could have affected the pH of the water.

Fish farmers currently have a good supply of fingerlings available. Sport fish species such as catfish and forage species such as threadfin shad can be supplementally stocked in laeks that already contain fish.

For new ponds and lakes, Higginbotham says that this fall would be a good time to stock catfish. For larger ponds to be stocked with bass, forage species such as bluegill, redear sunfish and threadfin shad should be stocked. Once the forage species are established, bass can be stocked next spring.

have a nice weekend

PJC Choral To Perform Concert

Paris Junior College's Chorale will present a Christmas concert at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 26, in the Church of the Holy Cross in Paris, according to Lon Chaffin, choral director for PJC. No admission will be charged for the concert.

The major work performed at the concert will be Schubert's Mass in G, a piece from the Romantic Period. It has been relatively challenging for most of the students this semester, Chaffin said.

In addition, the Chorale will sing a collection of Christmas carols by Chaffin. The music director, who writes a carol for his Christmas cards each year, has composed seven original pieces.

Blossom Girl Scouts Have Pizza Party

Blossom Junior Girl Scout Troop 136 met November 23 for lunch at Ken's Pizza in Paris and proceeded to Wade's Park for some exercise.

The scouts viewed the mural at Market Square and sampled old fashioned rock candy. Two antique shops on Highway 82 east were the highlight of the day, where the scouts stepped back in time in preparation for the Sesquicentennial. The day concluded with the girls working on a needlework project.

Troop members are Kelli Worthey, Kristi Young, Kare Titsworth and Marleena Bryant.

Blossom 7th Grade Girls Win

The Blossom 7th grade girls beat Clarksville 46-6 while the Blossom 8th grade girls beat Clarksville 27-9 recently.

High point for seventh grade girls was Melissa McLaughlin with 14 points; Star Ruckman with 12 points; Brandy Hall with four; Tracy Hicks with two; Jeania Jackson with six; Peggy Huntsberger with four; Amy Whitley with two; Darla Hart with two; and Holly Townsend with two.

High point for eighth grade girls was Dana Bradford with 11 points; Gina Harrington with six points; Crystal Lott with four points; Sheila Withers had four; Camille Sparks had two points.

4-H Events Scheduled

By John Senter
The second meeting for the 4-H Rabbit Project Group will be Thursday, Dec. 5 at 7 p.m. in the Alford Center at PJC.

If you were not able to attend the first meeting, please try to come to this one. Shannon and Sherry Welch are in charge of the group and the first get together was great. If you have rabbits as a project, you will sure have missed some great information if you miss these meetings.

Do yourself and your bunnies a big favor, attend the meeting and be ready when show time arrives.

Beef cattle have become one of the most popular projects in the 4-H programs. To keep in step with the other projects and also to increase the success of beef projects, we have finalized plans for the first meeting of the 4-H beef project group.

The meeting will be Tuesday, December 10 at 7 p.m. at Texas Power and Light. As with the other groups, the beef group will deal with both market and breeding beef so there will be some very valuable stuff for all beef owners.

Andy Anderson will be in charge of this project. Andy has spent many years around all phases of the beef cattle business. He also spent some of his early years as Vocational Agriculture Teacher in West Texas. The knowledge and expertise he gained will surely be valuable to your beef projects. On top of that, the State 4-H office has just come out with a 300 page beef program guide. I have had some time to look through the material and it is super. It deals with everything from selection to feeding, to showing and grooming to advanced reproduction.

All 4-H members that dream of driving a pig into the championship in April need to remember one thing, the pig!

If you want one of the pigs that Rick Vance and I have located, you must call and leave word with Rick, myself or the secretary at the office before December 13. We must have an accurate count of how many pigs we need before we leave to go get pigs.

If you are not sure whether or not I have your name down, you had better call and make sure before the 13th.

In Hammerfest, the northernmost town in Norway, the sun does not set between May and July. This brings many visitors to the town to see the "Midnight Sun."

S&WCD Accepts Teacher Nominations

Nominations are being accepted for the national "Conservation Teacher of the Year" awards program according to James E. Pearce, Chairman of the Red River County Soil and Water Conservation District. The competition is open to all full time teachers working at the kindergarten through high school level who have developed an outstanding program of conservation education.

The National Conservation Teacher of the Year will receive $1,000 in cash and an expense paid trip to Reno, Nevada for the 1987 annual convention of the National Association of Conservation Districts. The national second place winner will receive a $500 cash award and the first place regional winner will receive $200.

Co-sponsored by NACD and the Deutz-Allis Corporation, the purpose of the awards program is to encourage the development of creative learning experiences in conservation for young people. "Any teacher in a public or private school in our conservation district who puts emphasis on conservation as a regular part of the instructional program is eligible for nomination," said Pearce.

Interested teachers can obtain additional information and nomination forms from the Red River County S&WCD, phone 427-2975. The awards program also honors the conservation districts judged to have provided the most effective stimulus and help for conservation education programs within the district.

Garden Club Meets With Mrs. Roberts

The Blossom Garden Club met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roberts of Reno. Pauline Roberts, a well known watercolor artist and art instructor in and around Paris, was hostess to the Garden Club on November 21.

Members of the club treated their husbands to a dinner with an array of assorted menu.

Each member prepared a dish that was unusual and different from everyday eating. A beautiful and delicious table of food was displayed and enjoyed by all. A recipe of each dish was issued to each member for their own use. Forty-two and dominoes were the entertainment for the evening.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Roberts, Rev. and Mrs. Bob Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Tow, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Pilip, Mr. and Mrs. Randall Pinckard, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roberts, Clara Gardiner, Aravana

Goble, Mr. and Mrs. James Crawford, Natalie Ray, and Leah Bradford.

The president of the Garden Club, Clara Gardiner, announced the Club's Christmas dinner will be at the Colonial House on December 21.

Work Planned To Protect Roads

While Texas' roadways are suffering under the winter's storms, highway department engineers are already planning work that will help protect road surfaces next winter.

The State Highway and Public Transportation Commission approved a $2.3 million seal coat contract for nearly 60 miles of roadway in five northeast Texas counties. The contract was awarded to Duinick Brothers and Gilchrist Company and is funded through the highway department's safety and betterment program, which received a boost recently when highway funding was increased.

Seal coat preventative maintenance programs provide a protective layer of asphalt over the highway's surface, according to Billy Rogers, a highway department design engineer. The procedure helps prevent the formation of potholes, which occur when the ground under a highway surface freezes and expands.

More than 15 miles of highway in Lamar County, eight miles in Hopkins County, 11 miles in Franklin County, approximately three miles in Fannin County and nearly 20 miles in Red River County will be included in the project. Several miles of US 271, US 82 and Texas 37 are the primary roadways to be coated.

Roy Tomblin, an engineering technician with the Paris highway district, said the roadways were among the more heavily traveled arteries in the area. A number of people commute to major firms in Paris along those highways, he said. Tomblin said the project will be completed between April and July of 1986.
