

Texas Accident Statistics Show Decrease

During the first five months of 1986, the number of people killed on Texas roads has decreased five percent from the same time period one year ago.

Accidents and fatalities on Interstate, U.S. and State Highways have gone down about 27% and 24% respectively from January through May of 1986, compared to January through May of 1985.

Of continuing concern to traffic safety groups is the continued increase in both accidents and fatalities on both farm to market and county roads. A total of 270 persons have been killed on these roads this year, an increase of 29 over the same time period last year.

A tire's tread wear that is rated at 200 is estimated to have its useful tread lasting twice as long as a tired graded 100. Driving conditions and driving habits will affect the actual tread life.

Traction grades represent the ability to stop on wet pavement as measured under controlled conditions. Traction grades from highest to lowest are rated A, B or C.

Temperature grades represent a tire's resistance to heat and its ability to dissipate heat. Excessive temperatures can lead to tire blowouts and tire failures.

For a free copy of "The Uniform Tire Quality Grading System" write to State Dept. of Highways and Public Transportation, Traffic Safety Section (D-18TS), 11th and Brazos, Austin, TX 78701.

A word about wasps. Actually several words, none of which are strong enough to describe how I, for one, truly feel about them.

Wasps are a problem. They cause pain. They swell me up, they make me ill-tempered.

They are aerial artists, combining the tactical skills of a crack bomber squad, the aggressiveness of a fighter pilot, and the maneuverability of a helicopter.

Their birth rate this summer seems to be way, way, up, too.

They buzz out of every bush, crack and crevice, hovering with evilly glistening composite eyes (yes, evil, take a look when one is about three inches from your eyes).

They want you to move, to run or to swat at them. Such actions they read as major aggression, and that means attack!

Now understand, few things in nature bother me. Snakes don't frighten me, neither do spiders. Large dogs, rats and mice don't make me turn a hair. But a tiny wasp...that's an entirely different story.

That buzz makes the hair stand up on the back of my neck and sweat pop out on my forehead. It also paralyzes me. My feet simply won't move, and my heart thumps like a drum...in fear. Too many swollen eyes, too many doses of medicine to keep my windpipe from closing up have instilled in me a fear rivaled by few.

I can only stand there while the creature inspects me, deciding whether to sting or have mercy and go away.

When he swings away and I gather enough courage to begin to move, he always comes back again, reducing me to quivering jello again.

On a few occasions I have shut myself up in a vehicle with a wasp. I leave quicker than I enter, and will not get back until the insect has departed.

Of course, there are so MANY of the things. They come in various sizes and colors...yellow jackets, black dirt-daubers, the dreaded red wasp, which turns me pale just by making a casual fly by.

And if wasps aren't enough, there are honey bees, wood bees, bumble bees, hornets! The world is full of them. And they all hate ME.

They enjoy watching me hurt myself avoiding them. They love to sting. No matter what size they are, they all come equipped with a long, sharp, poison laden spear just for ME. It's personal, I'm convinced.

I almost didn't get to write this column this morning. When I tried to get in the car, three large red wasps cruised back and forth, right in front of the door handle.

You should have seen me, climbing in the opposite door, and crawling over the console.

I don't know if others share my phobia, but if they do, believe me, you have my deepest, heartfelt sympathy...irrational fear simply isn't controllable.

As to the wasps...may a plague afflict you. May the siders of the world spin in their webs and send you a lightning death. May you be stricken from the skies...well...you get the picture.

State Budget Deficit Will Probably Go Higher

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Monday said Texas lawmakers should expect the state's budget deficit to go higher.

"A skyrocketing unemployment rate will be one key factor moving the state's budget deficit well above the current $2.3 billion. Workers without jobs and paychecks reduce economic activity and taxes," Bullock said.

He said the 10.5 percent jobless rate announced last week is not the only economic indicator that will push the budget deficit higher.

"We expect to finish a new revenue estimate before August 1, and, frankly, none of the indicators contain an ounce of good news."

Bullock said losses in the oil and gas industry are having a detrimental effect on most other areas of the Texas economy as well as other industries.

"I'm not going to second guess the exact number we'll be facing at the end of the month, but with deteriorating conditions in the Texas economy it will be substantially higher than the current estimate."

Bullock said besides oil, construction and unemployment there are other factors affecting the state's revenue picture.

Federal energy rulings, court cases, Gramm-Rudman, loss of state income interest, to name a few, pose potential losses in the hundreds of millions, Bullock said.

He said analysts working with the latest tax and economic data have preliminary findings that indicate the state's budget crisis has not leveled out.

Deport's Youth Under Curfew

By Nanalee Nichols

The city of Deport is under curfew once again. All minors are supposed to be home by midnight, a not unreasonable idea.

The city ordinance concerning this curfew has been in existence for nearly 20 years.

As long as things are going all right, the law enforcement officials tend to be lax in enforcing it, but when vandalism and property damage reaches a certain level, something has to be done.

Constable Al Parks and the Lamar County Sheriff's Deputies have been notified to begin strict enforcement of the curfew in an effort to curb the vandalism, graffiti and destruction which has plagued the city recently.

In the past few months, there have been thefts of flags, breaking out of street lamps, destruction of property on Main Street and an outbreak of graffiti which must be keeping the white shoe polish industry in business.

The graffiti started out to be fairly harmless, but has progressed from occasional names and statements to words and phrases which can only be termed "filth".

Everyone is well aware that kids like to pull pranks, but currently the situation is getting out of hand.

Parents, know where your children are, make sure they aren't roaming around with nothing to do but get into trouble!

Kids, think just a little before you do something. If it is destructive and distasteful, forget it. After all, it only stirs up resentment...and can get you into an awful lot of trouble!

Come on folks, let's bring this to a halt!

Hay Quality Variable This Summer

By Herb Brevard
Due to wet weather, hay has been cut at odd times this spring. The 28 day schedule, normally used as a guide for determining the cutting time, has not held due to the unpredictable weather. Therefore, according to Dr. Sim A. Reeves, Jr., agronomist, it is difficult to determine the quality of the hay without testing.

Reeves says that each cutting of hay should be tested and properly identified. Hay quality is important whether selling or buying hay. The quality will determine the best use for the hay, since different classes of livestock require different nutrition levels. Higher quality hay should be fed to lactating cows and developing heifers. The lower quality hay is generally sufficient for dry cows if the protein content is near seven percent.

Some hay has gotten wet after cutting and before baling. This can be a very discouraging situation, particularly if the hay supply is limited. The longer the hay stays wet, the more quality is lost. Reeves says that if the hay can be fluffed so that it will dry quicker, less quality will be lost.

The production of hay is a very expensive practice on most farms and ranches. Therefore, it is a definite economic advantage to study the cost of production, cost of harvesting, investment and labor requirements, and the best use of the land available before going into the hay baling business. Many smaller producers find it advantageous to purchase all their hay and use their land and capital for other purposes. The situation will vary drastically from farm to farm.

Is our love for the great outdoors killing our forests?

Last year, millions of Americans went wild over the great outdoors.

We camped, hiked and biked across our forests in record numbers.

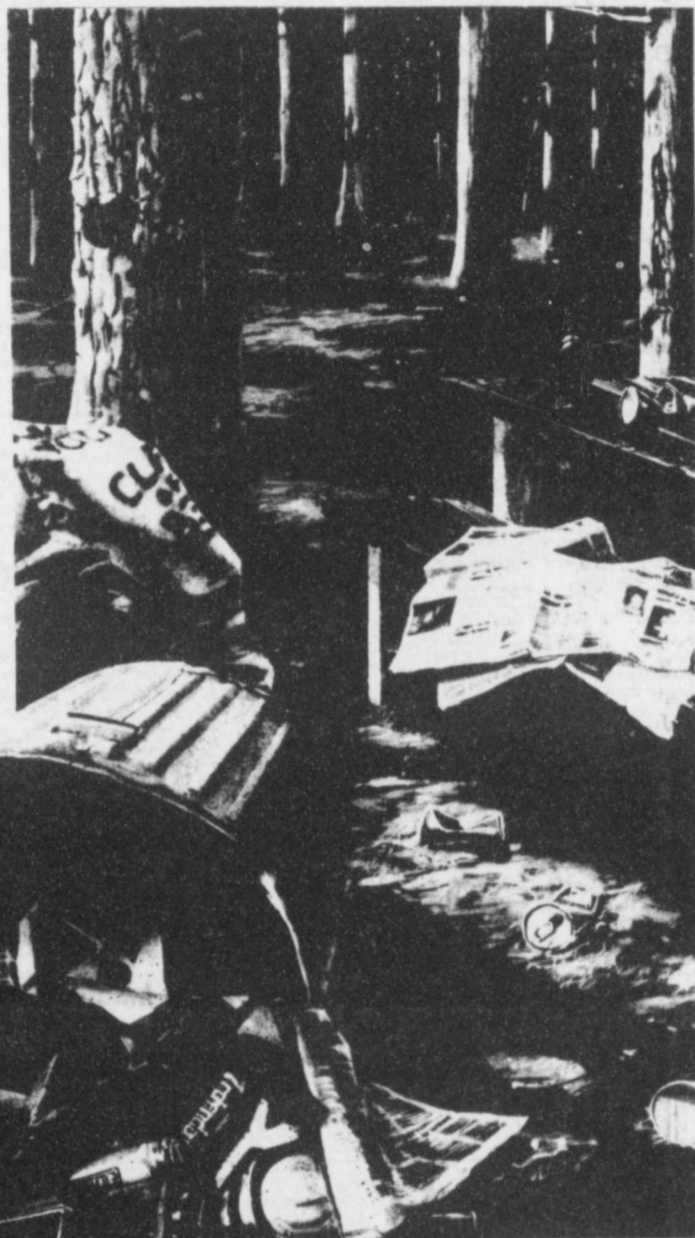

Unfortunately, too many people abused the fine line between nature and recreation.

They littered campsites.

Painted rocks, carved on trees. Even hacked apart picnic tables to feed their fires.

Vandalism won't kill our forests. It will just make the great outdoors harder to find.

Vandalism. It's time to draw the line.

Give a hoot. Don't pollute.

Gordon-McIntosh Exchange Wedding Vows

Joy Elizabeth Gordon of Clarksville and Kenneth Ross McIntosh of Mesquite were united in marriage in a formal ceremony at 7 o'clock Saturday, July 12 in the Clarksville Church of Christ. Steven Neville of Texarkana, former minister of the church, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Gordon of Deport and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Massey, Luther Jewett of Reno is her step-grandfather. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McIntosh of Dallas.

Favorite selections of the couple were sung a cappella prior to the ceremony by Carla Higgins and Steve Whitley of Clarksville and Robbie Wolfe of Mesquite. Steve Whitley sang "Lady" as the mothers of the couple were seated; Carol Higgins sang "Where Do I Begin" as the male attendants entered and the bridesmaids entered to "Through the Eyes of Love" sung by Robbie Wolfe. The bride entered to "Take My Hand" sung by Patrick and Kristy Farr, her brother-in-law and sister. Steve Whitley and Carla Higgins sang "To Me" and Robbie Wolfe sang "Father, Hear the Prayer We Offer". "The First Time" was sung by Robbie Wolfe as the unity candle was lighted and joined Carla Higgins and Steve Whitley sang "We've Only Just Begun" as the recessional.

The altar was a natural setting of Boston ferns accented with a backdrop of arcea palms, fiddle figs and other greenery. Pew markers were bows of teal and seafoam ribbons. Family pews were marked with a single candlelight ribbon rose and teal ribbons.

When escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents, the bride was wearing a gown by Scharfs of candlelight cotta satin with an overly of candlelight Chantilly lace. The chemise featured a dropped waistline with a drape just below the hipline accenting the gathered skirt that extended into a chapel train. The bodice of the dress featured a jewel neckline and sheer lace sleeves which formed a scallop at the wrists. The bride wore a derby style hat covered with lace and decorated with candlelight camellias. She wore a pearl necklace which had been worn by her mother at her wedding and carried a bouquet of large candlelight rose, miniature rosebuds and camellias with streamers of ribbons and lace and a cascade of trailign roses and dwarf camellias.

Mrs. Howard Dunham of Clarksville was matron of honor. Annette Swaim of Houston was maid of honor and Jennifer Dunham of Clarksville was junior maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Patrick Farr of Bonham, sister of the bride, Mrs. Jonny Robertson of Memphis, TN, also a sister of the bride, Staci Brooks, Paris and Mrs. Kenny Backus, Clarksville.

Chay Robertson of Memphis, TN, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Jimmy Brantley of Clarksville was ringbearer. Debbie and Kim Rash of Mexia and Beverly and Rachael Beth Rose of Rosenberg registered guests. Kim George and Cyndie George of West Palm Beach, Florida distributed wedding scrolls.

The bride's parents were hosts for a reception in the fellowship hall of the church following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a candlelight cloth overlaid with candlelight lace. Appointments were of silver. The colonade cake decorated with fresh flowers, greenery and ribbons in hues of aqua, teal and fuschia, formed the centerpiece for the table. Two bridesmaids hats were placed on an end of the table. Mints, mixed nuts, and aqua napkins completed the table appointments. Serving at the bride's table were Mary Majors of Houston, Mrs. David Miller of Valley View, Beth Raulston of Sulphur Springs and Mrs.

Rick Morgan of Abilene. The groom's table featured an ecru hand crocheted lace cloth over teal. The centerpiece was a lead crystal fish holding a globed candle tied with ecru ribbon and fern. The groom's chocolate cake, mixed nuts and iced tea were served by Mrs. Montie Devinney of Mesquite, Mrs. Tom George of West Palm Beach, Florida and Mrs. James Brantley of Clarksville.

Other members of the houseparty were Mrs. Ruby Bagwell, Mrs. Graham Ballard, Mrs. Morris Cooper, Mrs. G.W. Geer, Mrs. Lewis Bartlett, Mrs. Bill Jennings, Mrs. J.P. Harvey, Mrs. Lawrence Bell, Mrs. Billy Erving, Mrs. Preston Matlock, Mrs. Richard Harvey and Graham Ballard all of Clarksville, Mrs. Homer Jolley of Wortham and Mrs. K.C. Winn of Athens.

The bride is a graduate of University crest High School, attended Fred Hardeman College in Henderson, TN and received bachelor's and master's degrees from East Texas State University. She is a member of Delta Kappa Gamma Sorority and will be employed as a special education teacher by the Mesquite Independent School District.
