

NICHOLS' WORTH

By: Nanalee Nichols

We all have dreams...large ones and small. One of my small ones is, I suspect, shared by a number of people.

I dream of a pantry stocked with the proper ingredients for any contingency, a bathroom closet with everything ever wanted, and a hardware drawer that yields up whatever is needed to fix anything!

Light bulbs, for instance. There is never, never a sufficient backlog of light bulbs. Right now, the living room lacks two bulbs, the lamp one, and the closet light has already been cannibalized for the sake of illumination.

In the hardware drawer there are four billion screws, nails and tools. I never the ones needed for ordinary household repairs or projects.

In the bathroom the aspirin bottle is always empty, and the space reserved for all those extra packs of bathroom tissue is populated by an empty wrapper.

The kitchen pantry provides oyster stew, chinese noodle soup, and bitter-sweet chocolate squares...but never flour, spaghetti or tomato sauce.

The freezer will yield up an entire turkey, squash, frozen bread and blackberries, but never seems to have an extra pound of hamburger meat or frozen pie crust.

Out in the garage, there are screwdrivers, saws and power tools, sanders and drills, grinders and levels... but where, oh where is the hammer!

In the car there will be packets of catsup and salt, a book or two, perhaps even a quilt in the trunk...but never a box of tissue or a pair of sunglasses.

It is the way of the world, I suppose. But the thing is, I have these dreams...that my shopping abilities (and bank account), will someday expand to having all these frequently used items on hand in such quantity that when they are needed, the spares are there.

I keep dreaming that someday I will remember to purchase two packs of light bulbs when one bulb is removed from the spare package.

That we will own so many hammers that there will ALWAYS be a hammer available.

It won't happen...it never has...never will...but what a delightful dream it is!

Gardeners Seek Satisfaction In Seeds

By Nanalee Nichols

It is a time of restlessness for gardeners. Whether a vegetable grower, producer of flowers, or container cultivator, every gardener is ready to delve in the earth.

But the earth is not ready. In spite of warm days, the bitter nights keep soil icy and wet.

The autumn satisfaction of being through with outdoor chores has long since faded away, the holiday rush is over...gardeners want to garden!

What to do, then, since nature says no? Many find refuge in the old standby...the seed catalog.

Burpee's, Starks, Johnson's or any other, the bright pictures and descriptions of new varieties and old standbys attract gardeners like flowers attract bees.

The seed catalog provides a glimpse of the upcoming spring, relieving the winter doldrums, helping allay cabin fever.

Like any catalog, the seed catalog must be used with care. The temptation to spend more money is there...the glorious photographs of prize vegetables and breath-taking flowers prompt the pen to extend the list of seeds and plants.

A serious gardener may sit for an afternoon, coffee at hand, lap full of publications, perusing page after page, making decisions as to what to order. Almost invariably, the list must be shortened until it is more realistic. But when all the chaff has been separated, and only the necessary things listed in the columns of the order blank, few gardeners can resist adding just another item or two. They "treat" themselves to something new, exotic, or perhaps only marginally suitable to the area.

With the order blank filled in, totallied up and check included, a trip to the mail box or post office takes care of it. The satisfaction is almost equal to an afternoon in the outdoors!

Then, of course, comes the wait. One fine day, the mail will yield it's mini-harvest of seeds. The envelopes are tiny works of art, yet the twisted, withered and dried seeds within are a long way from the glorious results pictured on the packet.

That, every gardener knows, is the true miracle, to place those wizened seeds into the earth and help them grow into luxuriant plants.

Hopefully, by the time the seeds arrive, the gardener will be into the beginning of spring. Bulbs, planted in the dismal November, will be fulfilling their promise with green shoots pushing up. It will be time to prepare beds, dry-cleaning the dusty soil into a velvety richness. English peas, onions, other cold-resistant plants can be set out.

But for now, in the middle of winter, gardeners must be contented with seed catalogs and quick walks around the garden, and the age old promise that "there are sleeping seeds under the bitter earth, waiting for the warm sun of spring".

It is as it always has been, a part of the cycle of the earth, something every gardener is aware of.

Winter Is Time To Control Weeds

By Herb Brevard

Winter is an excellent time to control some weeds in pastures, hay meadows and lawns. However, when using preemerge herbicides, they must be applied before spring weeds germinate, says Dr. Sim A. Reeves, agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Preemerge herbicides form a barrier across the soil and as weeds begin to germinate and grow they pick up the herbicide which is then translocated within the plant and causes the plant to die.

Good, even coverage of the herbicide across the area treated is very important. Weeds will not be killed in any area missed. Reeves says a boom sprayer generally does a better job than a cluster nozzle.

There are numerous preemerge herbicides to select from. Consult the label for the rate to apply, mixing instructions, safety precautions, what crops the herbicide is approved to be used on, grazing restrictions and other pertinent information.

A granular form of preemerge herbicides is used on many lawns. Fertilizers containing a granular form of the herbicide are also available. Therefore, fertilization and herbicide application is done in one operation.

Blossom Chili Supper This Saturday

The Volunteer Fire Department of Blossom will sponsor their annual Chili Supper and Cake and Pie Auction on Saturday, January 31 in the Blossom School Cafeteria from 5:30 until 9 p.m.

Tickets for adults are $3.00 each for all you can eat. Children under 12 will eat free, if they are accompanied by an adult with a paid ticket.

If you can donate a home baked pie or cake and have no way to deliver it to the school before 5 p.m., Saturday, call 982-5299 on Saturday morning and one of the firemen will pick it up.

Tickets may be purchased from any of the firemen or at Bang's West Side Grocery on Highway 82 West.

If more information is needed, call Joe Miskel at 982-6325.

All donations will be greatly appreciated, as the money raised will be used for departmental needs of the Fire Department.

Lone Star Gas Robbery Crime Of Week

On January 8, 1987 at 3:37 p.m., a white male robbed the Lone Star Gas Company office at 901 W. Kaufman in Paris.

The suspect was wearing a brown coat with a hood on it, a cap, sunglasses and had a heavy mustache. He was armed with a pistol. The suspect demanded the money, then left on foot after receiving it.

Crime Stoppers will pay up to $1,000 this week for information leading to the arrest and indictment of any persons responsible for this crime. Callers do not have to give their names. Crime Stoppers will also pay for information on other felony crimes.

POISE-Leslie Morton, owner of The Morton Agency in Paris, lectured the Prairiland FFA classes Tuesday on poise, posture, business and professional speaking and success in young people. She is a former Miss Paris, Commerce and Dallas, and toured with Miss USA and Miss Universe. Mrs. Morton currently is working for KOB-KK TV in Paris, and her agency incorporates charm and beauty to instill confidence in young people. She encouraged students to seek their goals in life and to better themselves by being prepared mentally, spiritually and physically to meet life. (Staff Photo)

Same IRS Tips For Preparing Tax Returns

Follow these tips when you prepare your federal income tax return and speed any tax refund due to you. The Internal Revenue Service says:

Have all your necessary records and forms available. Get an early start to allow plenty of time. Make sure you have a Form W-2 from each of your employers. Read your tax instruction booklet carefully.

If you need additional information, check with IRS, they have free publications that will answer your questions.

Double-check the following before you mail your return:

Attach all W-2 forms and related schedules. Verify all arithmetic. If you rounded off numbers, did you round consistently? Make sure you used the correct tax figure from the correct tax table. Sign and date the return, both spouses sign if it is a joint return.

Use the peel-off label and pre-addressed envelope that was supplied with your tax package. Use the correct amount of postage on the envelope. Keep a photocopy of the return for your records. Make sure social security numbers are entered correctly at the top of the return.

Sparks-Crawford Exchange Wedding Vows

Miss Teena Diane Crawford and James Christopher Sparks were married in a semi-formal ceremony at 7 o'clock Friday evening, January 2 at the First Baptist Church in Deport.

The bride is the daughter of Sue Clifton of Paris and Donald Crawford of Deport. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Crawford of Deport and Mr. and Mrs. T.E. Kincaid of Texarkana. She is the great-granddaughter of Mrs. Verdine Betterton of Deport. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sparks of Parks. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Simmons of Paris and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Sparks of Deport.

The bridegroom's uncle, the Rev. Fred Fangio, heard their double-ring vows beneath a brass archway decorated with greenery and red and white flowers topped with a red velvet bow. It was flanked on each side with baskets of white gladiolas and red chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Mark Hardy presented pre-nuptial selections and the traditional wedding marches. Mr. and Mrs. Hardy sang "To Me" and "Nobody Loves Me Like You Do". Matt Doyal sang "We've Only Just Begun".

The bride, escorted by her father and given in marriage by her parents, wore a formal gown of white silk organza. Lace veiled the bodice and accented the high neckline. Single rows of lace extended down the full sheer sleeves to the wrist cuffs which were also covered with lace. The circular skirt formed a chapel length train and was bordered with a narrow band of lace. The bride wore a headpiece of pearled lace which held her fingertip veiling edged in scalloped lace.

Stephanie Crawford, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a tea-length off-white dress of lace over satin with accents of red.

Dewayne Icenhower served as best man.

Wade Sparks, brother of the bridegroom, and Craig Crawford, cousin of the bride, were ushers.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church following the ceremony. The bride's parents were hosts.

Members of the houseparty were Angie Bratton, Becky Williams, Janie Hyder and Tammy Fangio. Camille Sparks presided at the register.

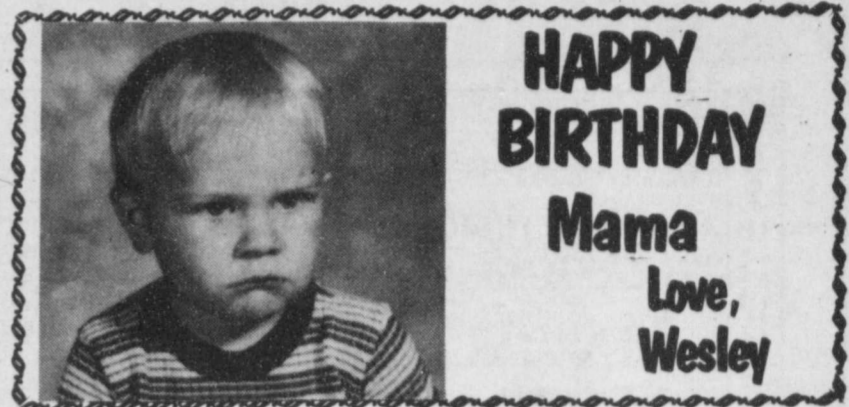

The bride is a student at Prairiland High School. The bridegroom is a graduate of Prairiland and is attending Paris Junior College. He is employed at Sherwin-Williams.

Following a short wedding trip, the couple is making their home in Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sparks were hosts for a rehearsal dinner at the Sirloin Stockade. The honorees presented gifts to their attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. James Christopher Sparks

Keep Your House Warm with a special blanket

Nothing keeps you warmer in the winter than a cozy blanket. When you're wrapped in its warmth, cold air stays out, and warm air stays inside.

This same principle can also work to keep your house comfortably warm for a reasonable cost. When you install proper insulation, you're using a different kind of blanket on your house.

Without proper insulation, your home loses warm air in the winter (and cool air in the summer). Your heating and cooling system must work harder to maintain a comfortable temperature. The proper amount of insulation will make your home more energy efficient and comfortable.

Learn if your home meets the recommended "R" value for your area by contacting us today for a free booklet on energy efficient homes.

Clardy News

By Virgie Ballard

Mrs. Kay Hancock took her daughter, Mary Ann, to Deport Thursday evening for a Brownie scout meeting.

Mrs. Betty Stansell of Paris died Wednesday and was buried Friday. She was well known by many here.

Many senior citizens were in Deport last Wednesday to pick up their month commodities.

Sam Skidmore of Deport has been ill with the flu or whatever this is that is going around. Eugene has been attending him daily.

Mrs. Louise Clement had word last week that her sister, Mildred Humphrey of Houston, had suffered a light stroke. She was doing better at this report.

Hollis Towers of Shady Grove is back home and doing well after several days in a Dallas hospital. Encouragement and prayers are extended to him from everyone around.

L.T. Clement is able to be out and go for pleasure rides. He had a good check up at his doctor's Friday and we are all glad.

Mrs. Evelyn Greger of Detroit spent Thursday with her sister, Louise and Lewis Clement.

The daughter of Mark and Gaye Ellison of Quitman has had a bout with scarlet fever. She is better if no complications set in. She is a great-granddaughter of Mrs. Virgie Ballard and all send hope and prayers that she will be completely well soon.

Mrs. Ruby Hudson of Jennings has been sick with this flu. Friday her son Pete and Norma went to town when they came home they brought her a fish for lunch, which she enjoyed very much.

Mrs. Eugene Skidmore was ill during the weekend with the flu bug. We hope she will be better soon.

L.C. and Jerry Nell Stout of Pattonville visited with Lewis and Lorene Clement last Wednesday.

Everyone was glad for the beautiful weather last week. All were hoping it would continue.

Janie Ballard and Ginnifer of Gladewater and Marlene Ballard of Daingerfield visited Mrs. Virgie Ballard Saturday afternoon.

A.G. and Norris Ballard were in Paris Saturday to see their granddaughter and daughter, Kelli, play basketball at the church.

Mrs. Doris Ballard visited Mrs. Dixie Helen Gunn of Paris last Tuesday.

Mrs. Doris Ballard and granddaughter, Mary Ann Hancock, were in Paris Sunday to see Mrs. Maude Hancock, who fell sometime back and broke her hip. She is doing well.

Doris and A.G. Ballard were in Paris last Wednesday on business and while there visited Mrs. Annie Robertson and Mrs. Tollie Brazeal.

Mrs. Charlotte Muecke of Wolfe City spent Saturday afternoon with her parents, L.T. and Lorene Clement.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bornman of Texarkana spent last Wednesday with her brother, L.T. and Lorene Clement. They had a nice day.

FIRE SAFETY TIPS

- Make a fire drill fun but serious at the same time. Making a game of it will avoid frightening children. Use races. Try a blindfold race — can you find your way out when wearing a blindfold?
- Use the smoke alarm to start the drill. This acquaints the family with the sound of the alarm — and gives you a chance to test it.
- Sleep with bedroom doors closed. Smoke is the greatest enemy in a night fire. Teach children that the door is their castle gate to keep them safe.
- Teach children two ways out of each room. Tell them to feel the door as hot as they can reach. If it is warm — not, don't open it. If it's cool — open it cautiously.
- Stay low in smoke. The cooler and fresher air is near the floor.
- Teach children how to open windows and take out screens. And teach them to stay near the window if they can't open it. Be sure children have something to climb upon to reach the window.
- Once out, stay out! Never, never, never re-enter a burning building for anything or anyone!
- Have a meeting place outside. Go to the meeting place and stay there until everyone is found. (Fire fighters have died searching for people who were already safe.)
- Practice calling the fire department. Use a role-playing technique to help children learn their home address and how to report an emergency clearly. Teach them not to hang up until the dispatcher tells them to.
- Visit the fire department. Fire fighters enjoy meeting kids and teaching fire safety.

Choosing A Tax Preparer

Since the only person who is really responsible for your tax return is yourself, the Internal Revenue Service says that it pays to be very careful when choosing a professional to do your federal tax return. Accordingly, the federal tax agency offers the following guidelines for dealing with a tax preparer:

- Do not sign a blank return, nor one which is partially completed, nor one prepared in pencil.
- Make sure that the preparer signs the return and gives his or her identification number, as required by law.
- Get a copy of the completed return from the preparer. Avoid preparers who promise a refund, claim a special relationship with the IRS, or boast of ways to beat the tax system.
- Do not allow a paid preparer (other than bank preparers) to endorse, cash or negotiate your refund check.

Pension Income May Be Taxable

Pension income may be fully or partially taxable, the Internal Revenue Service says, and, consequently many retired taxpayers choose to have federal income taxes withheld from their pension payments. Although withholding is not compulsory, some retirees find it a convenience that can spare them penalties when they file their federal income tax returns. Any retiree can apply to their payor for exemption from withholding by using Form W-4P, the IRS says. Those who choose not to have tax withheld from pensions may be required to pay quarterly estimated payments to avoid a penalty. Additional information can be found in Publication 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax, available free from the Internal Revenue Service.

Patriots Overwhelmed By Daingerfield, Lady Pats Win

By Eric Foster
The Prairiland Patriots were overwhelmed by the Daingerfield Tigers last Tuesday, 57-46. The boys in the first half were incapable of mounting an offense. The biggest part of their offense was free throws which contributed to nearly half of their nineteen points. The half ended with the Patriots behind 33-19. In the third period the only offense was Joseph Whelchel who scored six of the eight points for the Patriots. The Patriot defense picked up the slack for the offense as it allowed only six points for the Tigers. The period ended with the score 39-27. Joseph Whelchel, again in the fourth quarter, was the Patriot offense as he scored 13 of the total 19 points.

The Lady Patriots gunned down the Daingerfield Tigers 53-42. The girls, who never trailed from the start, played an excellent game of offense led by Jenissa Baker and very scrappy game of defense.

In the first half, the girls opened up a six point lead, 18-12.

The fems opened up in the third period and outscored the Tigers eight points to fourteen points. The period ended 32-20.

In the final period, the Tigers in trying to catch up to the Pats, fouled them relentlessly. The strategy, however, did not work as the fems kept making their charity shots.

The Patriots could have a big argument as to enlarge the court. The Patriots watched a 12 point lead dwindle and saw themselves being given another loss 57-54 by the Paul Pewitt Brahmans.

The Pats started out slowly in the first period and could only get a one point advantage 12-11.

The boys widened their lead to five in the second period, 28-23.

In the third period, the Pats were only able to get a six point lead as with only 3:03 left the Brahmans had pulled to within two. The Patriot offense answered back though to keep their lead.

With 5:25 left in the game, the Pats had a comfortable lead of 12 points when the Brahmans got a hot hand and routed back to tie the game at 2:36.

Jack Kindle gave the Patriots a one point lead as he hit the front end of a two shot foul, with 1:29. With :43 left, the Pats were stalling but David Jackson stepped out of bounds to give the Brahmans the ball. The Brahmans went downcourt and put in a bucket and then fouls from the Pats gave them the game.

The Lady Patriots suffered their second loss in district play to the Paul Pewitt Brahmans 57-42.

The fems never seemed to get their offense on the go, but the defense did play well for the first half to keep the girls to within four, 20-16.

In the third period, the girls were able to tie up the game early because of holding the Brahma offense

WHOA-The ball is up in the air, and there are plenty of Prairiland Patriots there to get it. No. 13, Ricky Minter, No. 30 is Steven Johnson and No. 22 is Joseph Whelchel. The Patriots lost 57-54 to

Shot At Buzzer Gives JV Win

By Eric Foster
A last second shot by Dana Frazier gave the JV fems a win over the Daingerfield Tigers 30-28. The fems started out very slowly. In the first period they were able to score only three points to the Tigers nine.

The girls were unable to decrease the deficit in the fourth period. Stats for this week's games are, in points, rebounds and steals: Glenn Dobbs, 8-6-1; Robbie Fuels, 18-2-1; Ricky Minter, 4-3-0; David Jackson, 4-2-2; Joseph Whelchel, 37-18-3; Craig Ladd, 2-0-1; Stephen Johnson 2-2-1; Lloyd Whelchel, 6-12-1.

And for the girls: Karen Burdine, 4-3-2; Jana Pomroy, 10-3-5; Jenissa Baker, 41-8-2; Erin Morgan, 13-11-2; LeAnne Anderson, 8-11-1; Melissa LaRue, 12-13-0; Amy Scudder, 1-1-2; Mendy Norwood, 2-0-0; Toni Dockray, 4-0-1.

In the second period, Toni Dockray, who scored all the points in the first period, scored five more of the fems twelve points. The period ended with the girls down 17-12. The fems lost lots of ground in the third period as they were unable to make but one bucket. The fems ended the third period down by ten points, 24-14. Free throws, a hot Dana Frazier, and a great defense gave the girls the victory in the fourth period, outscoring the Tigers 16 to 4. The Patriots trailed with :10 left and Toni Dockray was on the free throw line and made both to tie the game. Then with :06 left, she stole the ball and passed to Dana Frazier who put it in for the win. The stats are as follows with points, rebounds and steals: Toni Dockray, 17-12-7; Traci Smith 4-7-1; Lisa Icenhower, 0-0-2; Sheila Withers, 1-1-2; Amanda Owen, 1-0-0; and Dana Frazier, 7-5-4.
