

NICHOLS' WORTH

By: Nanalee Nichols

Father's Day is this Sunday. And, for the first time ever, I am going to direct this column to one person alone. The rest of you, I suppose, will just have to wait until next week for business as usual...or you can use this column to tell YOUR dad a few of the favorite memories he has been responsible for.

Dad, remember how much fun it was to chase jack rabbits across the pasture...not to kill them, but just for the fun of the chase?

Do you remember putting the old Ford tractor, the one I mow with nowadays, in gear and having me drive while you fed the cattle in that snowy winter when I was six?

Do you remember teaching me brick-laying skills as we built a set of back steps on the old house at the orchard...or making a trip into town for materials so we could build a gate on the horse pen? How that hand saw blistered my hand...but no white painted gate ever looked as good.

The only gooseberry pie I ever ate came from the gooseberries we carefully sheltered from the hot Texas sun with cheesecloth.

Seed and bulb orders were as exciting as Christmas presents when they came in, and you and Mother exercised a lot of patience planting all that stuff while I helped in five minute bursts, running off to do something else constantly.

Do you remember how good the sweet peas smelled in the evenings, down at the orchard?

Do you remember telling about the "Brooklyn Boys" while the frogs sang at night, or pointing out constellations on clear nights?

Remember coming in late from the Ft. Worth Stock Show with a picture of a mare and colt to delight a horse crazy ten year old?

Did you know the reason I'm familiar with every inch of backroad with a fifty-mile radius of here is because of the long hours we spent wandering down them, learning what went on where. I know where the old Artesian well near Sylvan was, and that a book "Black Oxen" was written about the location, and that daffodils mark countless vanished homesites.

I recall vividly being taken into a store for my first complete outfit of boots, western slacks, shirt and hat, and all during those years being lectured, arguing and fussing like every parent and youngster does.

Oh, yes, I remember lots and lots of things about growing up.

A desire to learn, to read, to observe, a knowledge of wildlife and nature, they all came about through trying out countless projects, watching birds build nests, turtles in pools, rabbits in the grass.

There's a mighty big collection of memories lodged away, in which you play a big part.

Thanks a lot, and Happy Father's Day.

Forty Isn't Old...If You're A Tree!

By Mollie Williams

Several weeks ago, my boss gave me a pin which read, "40 isn't old if you're a tree". Now, I ask you, was that a pun, or was that meant? But it did set me to thinking about trees and people. Can you just imagine the advice that older trees could give younger trees if only they could converse? Can't you just hear those giant old Oak trees that spread their great branches shading such large areas from the sun, warning young saplings about storms and winds that will come their way? I imagine there would be a lot of boasting among the trees as the Douglas Fir would tell of its value as a timber tree and the Juniper trees would probably tell stories of the past when they were so important to the Indians for food, shelter, fuel.

Then there would probably be those trees such as the Maple and the Cottonwood which would stand smug and confident because of their beauty. There might be some envy among the trees of the evergreens because they are able to stay so pretty all year long. But I like to think that first and foremost, among the older trees, would be the fervent desire to help those younger trees grow and become stronger and more useful, and avoid a lot of the hardships which they might have encountered.

As I attended the graduation exercises and awards assemblies at the different schools this year, I thought of how much the young people in these exercises and assemblies could benefit if they would listen to the advice of so many older and wiser people.

True enough, many young people have ideas and ambitions that should be held on to and followed through, but there's always someone somewhere that could probably help in avoiding pitfalls and calamities that are sure to come. The saying that experience is the best teacher has been proven over and over again, but all too many times, those lessons leave scars and problems that thwart the plans of many.

Forty may not be old for trees, but one thing for sure, things certainly look different for most people at 40. Things that were important at 20 seem much less important at 40 and things which weren't so important seem very important. But can you tell this to 18, 19 or 20 year olds and make them believe it? No way!

People are not like trees, however, we can talk, so the advice is available for young people, through school teachers, family members, clergy and a host of other sources. Hopefully, through this advice, many disappointments and problems can be missed by those young people who will take the time to listen.

Deport Kiwanis Hear Lawler

The Deport Kiwanis Club met at their Saturday breakfast at Granny Mc's to hear Carey Lawler, Lamar County Sheriff's Department, Crime Prevention section.

He spoke about the Crime Stoppers program, how it was organized, its function, and how it worked. He stressed that the people who report the information never have their name known, so there is no risk to calling. Rewards are picked up by an assigned number at a certain time and at a designated drive-in window.

Ninety percent of all crime solutions come from information which the general public gives, Lawler said. He continued that law enforcement must have the help of the public.

He spoke on marijuana, the different charges that can be charged. He spoke on Neighborhood Crime Watch programs also.

He will return at a later date and present a further presentation.

Damron-Pettiet Exchange Wedding Vows

Miss Dusty Damron and Scott Pettiet were married in a semi-formal, double-ring ceremony Saturday, June 13 at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents in Bogata. The Rev. Ronnie Ross officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Damron of Bogata and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Wilkerson of Bogata and Mrs. Percy Topping of Bogata. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Pettiet of Hale Center. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. L.E. Tucker of Lubbock.

The front lawn was decorated with an arch of greenery and flowers. Two stands of boston ferns with pink, mauve and burgundy ribbons completed the wedding scene.

Vince Blankenship, musician, presented traditional wedding arrangements before the ceremony. He also played the wedding marches and sang "Make My Life With You". Lynn Barker of Bogata was accompanied by Vince as she sang "The Theme From Ice Castles, Looking Through The Eyes of Love". The groom also sang "Not In My Lifetime" which he had written for the occasion.

The bride was escorted by her father and given in marriage by her parents. For her wedding, she chose a white satin gown overlaid with sculptured lace. The neckline featured three tiers of lace ruffles. A large bustle bow adorned the back of the formal. The headpiece was accented with white satin roses, ribbon, baby's breath and pearls.

She carried a cascade of red roses, small pink flowers and baby's breath. The bouquet was encased in white victorian lace and accented with pink and burgundy ribbon and lace streamers.

Miss Deanna Damron, sister of the bride, of Tyler was matron of honor. Miss Kelli Holmes of Tyler served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Kim Allen of Denton and Jennifer Glass of Tyler.

They wore gowns of pink, overlaid with sculptured lace. The sleeves of the tea-length gowns were puffed. A mauve sash tied in a side bow defined the waistline of each gown. Each carried a single rose with pink and burgundy ribbon and lace streamers. They each wore a hairpiece bow.

The flower girl, Amanda Brooke L... er, wore pink overlaid with white sculptured lace designed identically to the bridesmaids. She carried a white flower basket accented with pink and burgundy ribbon. The basket was filled with rose petals.

Benjamin Glass served as ringbearer and carried a heart-shaped satin pillow on which the rings were attached.

Henry Hunt of Plainview served as best man. Groomsmen were Dwane Green of Paris, Bo Brown of Talco and Johnny Rodriguez of Lockney. Ushers were Rusty Damron of Tyler and Ray Lou Damron of Bogata. Both are brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Pam Wilhite of Rowlett, cousin of the bride, presided at the register.

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents were hosts for a reception which was held at their home.

Those serving were Dianna Reece, Karen Caddell, Lisa Wilkerson, Angelia Wilkerson and Jody Wilkerson.

The bride is a 1982 graduate of Rivercrest High School and attended Paris Junior College and the University of North Texas. She will be enrolling in Texas Tech University for the fall semester.

The bridegroom is a 1983 graduate of Clarksville High School and attended Paris Junior College and Waylon University. He is self-employed.

Following a wedding trip to Arkansas, the couple will make their home in Abernathy.

The bride, groom and attendants were honored with a barbecue rehearsal dinner Friday evening following the wedding rehearsal. The couple presented gifts to their attendants.

The bride was honored with a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. C.D. Glass on May 30. Many useful gifts were received. Hostesses were ladies from Bogata.

Burglary Is Crime Of Week

May 25 at about 3:30 a.m. an older blue Ford van believed to be a 1962 model, bearing Oklahoma license plates, was noticed parked on US 24 south just south of Highlands Building Materials. The next day it was reported that the house where the van was parked had been burglarized during the night. It is believed that the van was used to haul away the items stolen from the house belonging to the Legrend family. Anyone having information about this blue early 1960's model Ford van or information about this burglary may qualify for a reward of up to $1,000.00.

Shawonna Rhoades Receives Award

The United States Achievement Academy recently announced that Shawonna T. Rhoades has been named a United States National Award winner in Science.

This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 10 percent of all American high school students.

Shawonna, who attends Detroit Junior High School, was nominated for this National award and will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and upon the standards of selection set forth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability and recommendation from a teacher or director.

Shawonna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary E. Rhoades and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Mitchell of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. G.W. Rhoades of Paris.

She is an honor roll student with a nine month grade average of 99 in science. Her grade point average for the school year is 96.2 out of a class of 35 eighth grade students maintaining a letter grade average of A plus in all other subjects. She ranks third in her class.

She received recognition for participating in the National History Day at East Texas University, received a certificate for sports participation in volleyball, basketball, track, placed third in the 880 yard dash at North East Texas Track Meet and second at the District Track Meet and was a participant in the one mile relay track team winning second in both the N.E.T. and District meets.

She was awarded the National Merit Science Award of her class by the science teacher, Randal Clarkson. From this honor she was selected as an Academic All American Student.

Shawonna has been an active member of the Midway 4-H Club for four years and won many awards in various categories in county and local shows. She has been a member of the FHA and Girl Scouts at Detroit and was chosen cheerleader for Detroit High School this fall and will attend the East Texas Cheerleader Camp with her peers in July. Shawonna is an active member of the Candy Strippers at St. Joseph's Hospital under the director, Mrs. Kay Osburn.

She has played for seven years on the Detroit girls softball team coached by Glen Coleman and Mrs. Becky McCoin. She was selected as a player on the All Star team for the past two years as hind catcher.

She is an active member of the Paris Lanes Junior Bowling League Association for the past five years and won the high game series trophy this year, the high team series trophy, first place in the adult and child tournament and several patch awards.

This summer she plans to attend some classes at PJC as she did last year. Her hobbies include sewing, cooking, rabbits and swimming and computer science.

Diseases Taking Toll On Vegetables

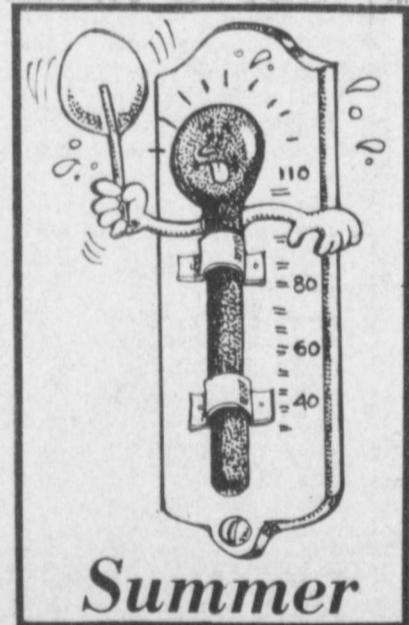

By Herb Brevard

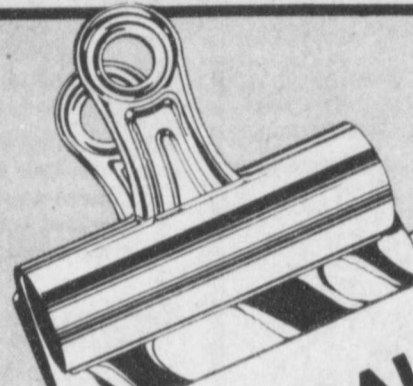

Diseases are taking their toll on vegetable crops in East Texas, says Dr. George Philley, plant pathologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Fusarium wilt is very common, primarily on tomatoes, but is also affecting beans, peas and watermelons. No chemical control is available for fusarium. The plants will not recover once they are infected.

One method of diagnosis for fusarium is to take a longitudinal cut on the stem near the base of the plant. A dark discoloration or brownish color in the woody part of the stem is indicative of infection. Planting fusarium resistant varieties and rotatin are still the only protection against the disease.

Septoria leaf spot is also prevalent on tomatoes. The disease is characterized by small circular lesions on the foliage that eventually result in defoliation. The fungus does not affect the fruit. Most fungicides cleared for use on tomatoes will control Septoria is applied at the shortest recommended interval.

Caution should be taken when applying hormone type herbicides to control weeds near the garden site. Some of the herbicides are very volatile and easily drift into the garden. Sprayers may be contaminated after using a herbicide and are difficult to clean.

ELECTRICAL SAFETY CHECKLIST

for Concerned Employers

As an employer, you can better ensure safe working conditions by following these guidelines.

1. Instruct your employees to avoid any contact with power lines. Your employees should keep all types of antennas, sign installation equipment, ladders, heavy boom equipment and tall farm machinery from power lines.
2. Install child safety plugs in reception areas of your business and other places where children might go.
3. Never allow water to stand near electrical appliances. Make sure your wiring is not exposed and complies with all codes.

Prairiland Extension Club Meets With Ann Betenbough

The Prairiland Extension Club met recently in the home of Ann Betenbough. Edna Lee, vice-chairman, opened the meeting with members repeating the club prayer. Peggy Parsons called the roll and read the minutes from the previous meeting. Nettie Chappell gave the treasurer's report.

Ann Betenbough read a devotional entitled "Keep in Touch". She gave the program on how to save dollars when you don't have a dime to spare. She explained that by changing your spending habits on the purchase of small items it can be a savings of over $500 per year on one item alone. Six questions to ask yourself before purchasing an item are: Do I need this? Is it even good for me? What would happen if I could not have this? Is there a better way to spend this money? Do I still want it? Why?

Ms. Betenbough demonstrated how to block crochet snowflakes by using a sugar-water solution. Edna Lee received the hostess gift. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

The next meeting will be July 13 in the home of Mrs. Vada Mae Hoover.

Bits of news from East Texas Deaf and Hearing Association, Tyler. Summer picnic June 20, Tyler State Park, 10 until 7, covered dish, soft drinks, cups, plates etc. 21 Labor Day camp-out, Tyler State Park, Sept. 5-6-7. TTY/TDD Phone Directories: In-

Did you know the huddle was started at the turn of the century by a deaf football team? It seems that the opposing players would watch their signals and be able to block the lay. So, the start of the huddle.

Constitution BiCentennial Has Goals

By Congressman Jim Chapman

This year America joins together in a special nationwide celebration: the 200th anniversary of the U.S. Constitution.

The Constitution is the foundation of our society, it guarantees our freedom. It was written not only to protect our legal rights but also to express common values. To Walt Whitman, the Constitution was the "bible of the free" for the modern world.

In honor of the bicentennial of the Constitution, many celebrations will take place throughout America. These events, however, must be more than celebrations. The U.S. Constitution is the oldest constitution in the world and the only constitution our nation has ever had.

In 1983, there were 159 other national constitutions in the world and 101 of them have been created since 1970. El Salvador has had 36 Constitutions since 1824, an average of one of every four and a half years.

Our Constitution is a remarkable and resilient document. Yet many Americans, particularly young people, do not understand the principles embodied in the Constitution.

A new Hearst Corporation survey revealed that eight in ten Americans believe the Constitution declares that "all men are created equal" and 64 percent say it establishes English as the national language. Another nationwide poll showed that 76 percent of the American adults did not know the principles embodied in the First Amendment. Those principles, freedom of speech, the press and religion, are the foundation of our democratic society.

These polls reveal that a wide river of ignorance of our constitutional system flows across America. Only if people understand and appreciate the workings of our constitutional system, can they fully participate in government and appreciate the role of their elected leaders in representing them and protecting their liberties.

A major purpose of this year's celebrations is to build a bridge of understanding and appreciation of this unique document that guards our liberties.

Former Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, Chairman of the National Commission of the Bicentennial, said that the celebrations should provide a "history and civics lesson". It's a lesson we all should take the time to learn.
