

NICHOLS' WORTH

By: Nanalee Nichols

Raise your hand if you are self-conscious and embarrass easily. Of course, if that is the case, you're too embarrassed to raise your hand...right?

Somewhere in the hazy mists of time, I can recall being easily embarrassed. I can recall lying awake saying something really stupid and worrying about the matter.

I remember when I was embarrassed to be seen making my way to a public restroom, and having difficulty ever striking up a conversation with strangers.

The newspaper business broke me of all that years and years ago.

Events such as barging in on people to do an interview, and finally finding out that I was in the wrong house tend to boil a little of the shyness away.

The first time I ever had to walk down the sideline at a basketball game to take pictures, I was sure every eye in the gym was pinned on me. A few months of that and I realized I was flattering myself...no one cared if I was run over by the players as long as I didn't interfere with the course of the game.

After a few years of climbing up on fire trucks, laying down on the grass or crawling up on top of my car to get the best camera angle while bystanders looked at me strangely, I completely forgot that there was anything embarrassing about the situation.

The person who wouldn't raise their voice at a public meeting vanished somewhere along the line, to be replaced with someone who could bellow at a line up of "antsy" teenagers, "Don't move, don't even breathe until I tell you to...stay where you ARE!"

I learned to interrupt meetings to ask questions, to speak in public without blushing beet red and to stand in the middle of a football field to take homecoming pictures without feeling conspicuous.

It's excellent training. I may even consider starting up a course to help people develop their own self-confidence.

Through the years I've learned that being chewed out over the phone, or having an irate citizen yell at me in anger because they disagree with me isn't fatal. I've figured out that everyone is going to have a side...and no matter what we say, sometimes we're going to find that both sides think we're against them!

Somewhere along the line I figured out that everyone has to go to those public restrooms...and when they aren't available, just head for a nice clump of bushes.

Oh, yes, I've changed a whole lot over the years.

But my husband says I may have carried it a tad too far. When we were in Oklahoma recently with friends, he died of embarrassment when my friend and I stationed ourselves in a handy, close to the door parking place and proceeded to turn attempted parkers away, calmly saying "I'm sorry, we are holding this for someone." The guys brought the car around and took the parking space, but they were both so bright red they glowed!

Perfect Attendance Could Gain Students And School Cash

The Prairiland CISD will be giving money to some fortunate students who have perfect records from October 5 to October 30, 1987.

There will be one student from each campus, Blossom, Deport and high school, who will be winners of several hundred dollars for being in school every day during the month of October.

For every student who has a perfect attendance record for October, there will be one dollar put into a fund at each campus. During the first week of November, the names of each student who have a perfect record will be put into a basket and one name will be drawn. That student will receive from 100 to 300 dollars. Each campus will have their own drawing.

There is a reason for this. Prairiland school receives approximately $1,800 for each (A.D.A.) average daily attendance per year. If one student attends all 20 days of school during October, the school will receive $1,800. If that student only attends 10 days of that time, the school only receives $900. Keep in mind, all students must by law attend 165 days of school per year. They can not be out more than 10 days of unexcused absences and still pass.

Please help us have 100% attendance for the month of October.

Sessums, Wood, Sessums Claim Football Loot

Carol Sessums of Blossom was the first place winner in last week's football contest, missing two games and saying Prairiland would win 20-12. Carol will receive a check for $12.00 for first place.

Winning second was Tim Wood of Bogata, who also missed two games but said Prairiland would win 21-14, for a point total of 35. Tim will receive $7.00.

Taking third place last week was Bradley Sessums of Blossom who missed two games also, and said Prairiland would win 20-13, for a point total of 33.

Winning teams were Prairiland; Celeste; Paris; Cooper; Rivercrest; Fannindel; Mt. Vernon; Clarksville; Daingerfield tied Henderson; Clemson; Nebraska; UCLA; Alabama; Mt. Pleasant; Texas A&M; Oklahoma; Texas; Notre Dame; Florida State; Baylor; Tennessee tied Auburn; Miami, Florida.

FINISHING TOUCHES-P.G. Morrison, No. 4, puts a finishing touch on a tackle of Caddo Mills leading

Patriots Take Homecoming Win

By Thomas Nichols

What's better than winning a football game? Winning a homecoming game, of course. That's just what the Prairiland Patriots proceeded to do Friday night, when they defeated Caddo Mills 29-16.

The Patriot win was bought with a mixture of running plays using a mixture of ball carriers.

Craig Ladd led the pack again with 145 yards, followed by Steven Johnson with 117, Giovanni Searano with 47, Martin Babb with 38, P.G. Morrison with 17, and Mike Ray with 17 and Wade Sparks tackled on 5 more.

Jack Kindle caught two passes for 45 yards and one for a touchdown.

The Patriots started the game running, with Steven Johnson returning the opening kickoff for 30 yards to set the offense upon their own 40-yard line.

On the Caddo Mills Foxes first possession, Lloyd Whelchel, Steven Shirley and Joseph Whelchel were the leaders in stopping the opposition's running game with Randy Barber breaking up the passing game.

On the Patriots next turn with the ball, quarterback Martin Babb and halfback P.G. Morrison set Jack Kindle up for the first score of the evening with a field goal from the Fox' 20-yard line.

The Patriots continued the attack with five minutes left to play in the opening quarter. Caddo Mills fumbled the Patriot kickoff ball when carrier Danny Alexander was dealt an awesome tackle by Giovanni Searano. Even though the Foxes recovered the fumble, they were unable to pick up a first down against a fired up Patriot defense.

On the Pats next possession, Steven Johnson carried the ball to the Caddo Mills 15-yard line. A personal foul on Caddo Mills set the ball on their own 8-yard line. Three plays later, Steven Johnson broke the barrier for six points. The point after was good and the Patriots owned the game with 10 points and still a minute fifty-three seconds left in the first period.

The Prairiland big red machine proved to be doomsday for the Caddo Mills Foxes until the final two minutes of the first half.

The Foxes finally mounted a successful drive based mostly on the running of quarterback Glen Swafford from the Patriots 37-yard line to make their first score. The two point conversion was good and the Patriots lead was cut to only two points.

The Patriots, however, wanted more...fast! Wade Sparks returned the kickoff to the Patriot thirty-five, Craig Ladd rushed to the Foxes' 43-yard line. Steven Johnson twisted and turned for 13 more yards. Patriot quarterback Martin Babb threw a pass to Jack Kindle that was just perfect, to make the score even higher. The point after was bad and the Patriots settled for a sixteen to eight point game.

With just over six minutes left in the third quarter, Caddo Mills quarterback evened up the score with a touchdown run and a two point conversion making it 13 to 16.

The Patriots would not give up, though. Five plays later from the Foxes' six yard line, P.G. Morrison put the Patriots on top to stay with a touchdown run. This time the point after was good and the Patriots bested the Foxes 23-16.

The Patriots' final TD came with just over seven minutes left in the game. Giovanni Searano did the honors.

The Patriots dominance wasn't threatened seriously again, and time ran out with the Patriots holding on to 29 points and the Caddo Mills team settling for 16.

Coach Chambers, standing in the victory circle, stated "It's a great feeling! The Patriots had real good practice sessions last week, and the Big Red Machine did a super job. If the boys continue to play as they did tonight, they can compete with any football team in any district."

Coach Chambers also expressed his appreciation to the enthusiastic Prairiland fans for their support.
