

NICHOLS' WORTH

By: Nanalee Nichols

The clutch was in but the gears were slipping. The lights were on, but nobody was home. The cogs weren't meshing.

When the condition is permanent, we're in deep trouble! Last week was one of those weeks that go down in our personal paper history as "one for the books".

And everything that went wrong seems to have been caused by lack of attention or simple stupidity or carelessness.

I posted the books while Cindy was on vacation...and made a few errors.

I did things like walk the length of town to make multiple copies of something...and make one copy.

I forgot to go to Mt. Vernon to pick up something...with a note on my desk reminding me to do it.

When Thomas came in, he began to process five rolls of film...and dumped in stabilizer first instead of developer. Guess what...five rolls of clear film! Five rolls of pictures that we didn't have!

Wednesday morning I began making up pages. No need to go in to the things that wouldn't fit, the Deport items that got into Bogata's side of the board, and had to be fitted in after we had already shot a page.

Finally, after a long, long day Wednesday (did I mention emptying a coin tube on a news rack all over the floor of the store?) I stumbled to work Thursday morning feeling like my brain had been sizzled with an overload of the stupids.

The minister of the First Baptist Church in Deport stopped by. He tactfully broke the news that I had a picture on the front page in Deport misidentified...put down the wrong church!

I crept home with my figurative tail tucked between my legs. All afternoon as I cleaned house (how about the tea that boiled dry?) I felt the fool. I also dreaded the phone ringing in case it was someone else to tell me what other fool stunts we pulled.

I worried all afternoon for fear that I had forgotten to do something or had done something else wrong.

Finally it seems all my "sins" had come home and we settled down to eat crow. We had crow with a pat of butter, crow cooked in pastry, chicken fried crow. Crow doesn't taste good. I'm making a valiant effort to check and double-check everything we do this week. And perhaps offering up a little prayer that the clutch doesn't slip this week!

PEOPLE AND THINGS

The Deport Presbyterian Women will hold a BAKE SALE at the church Saturday, November 21, beginning at 9 a.m. There will be a wide variety of BAKED GOODS, SWEETS and casseroles....

Eastern Star THANKSGIVING dinner will be November 21 at the Deport Cafeteria. Adults are $4.00 and children are $2.00. TURKEY and all the trimmings will be served....

There will be a WORK DAY at the Red Oak Community Center on Saturday, Nov. 14. Work will begin at 8 a.m. LUNCH will be served at noon....

CORRECTION

It's time to eat a little crow. We identified the picture on the front page of The Deport Times as the group at the Faith Baptist Church fall festival. Unfortunately, it was the First Baptist Church of Deport holding the festival. They report an excellent turn out and a lively evening. We hope they will accept our apologies.

Palette Of Color Marks Autumn Season

By Nanalee Nichols

October provided some rare opportunities this year for fall foliage appreciation, as dry weather early in the month set up a perfect color-creating situation.

Heavy rains and high winds have generally ended the palette of colors that motorists and hikers have been enjoying up until this week, however.

Before it came to an end, numerous area residents took advantage of mild, sunny days to travel up into Oklahoma, Arkansas or south Texas to view roadsides ablaze with color.

What plants and trees create this show? They are many and varied.

Maples provide one of the finest sources of color, ranging from dark red to a gorgeous yellow-red or even pure golden.

Hickory provides splashes of brilliant yellow with their large oblong leaves and shumack, the glowing wine-red bushes on the fence rows, counterpoint the taller trees.

Virginia Creeper frequently shows the trunks of trees in an autumn afghan of delicate color, and sassafras on sandy land is astonishingly bright.

One of the real surprises of the fall season is poison ivy. It's all too familiar three leaf cluster changes from a dark green into a glorious bright red or orange...but beware, the same rash-creating properties of summer still remain!

Sweetgum, the hackberry turn yellow and send leaves scuttling through the breezes.

Another surprise is the often-ignored bois 'd arc tree. All along roadsides, fence rows and creeks, the bois 'd arc casts a canopy of brilliant yellow, interspersed with the round globes of yellow-green fruit that squirrels delight in.

To add a muting, subtle tone to the whole natural palette are various other trees which turn, but not to the fiery colors one associates with fall.

Pecans and some oak trees provide a softening influence on the woods and roadsides. Darker and more dramatic than ever are the cedars and pines to that furnish even more contrast.

The whole choreography of color is a delight to the eye and to the soul. Fragile, the rains and winds of winter have swept it away, except from the hearts of those who have taken advantage of one of the loveliest autumn seasons in years, and carry it inscribed in their memories.

SECOND PLACE in District 13-AAA, the Prairiland Girls Cross Country team placed fifth in regional competition over the

Deport Council Accepts Bid, Lot

The Deport City Council held a public hearing before their regular meeting Monday night, and it was agreed that Bill Hayter would file application for a grant with the Texas Department of Community Affairs for grant funds available for the city.

If the grant goes through, money to resurface more streets in Deport would be available.

Tommy Williams' bid of $1,800 for the M-20 backhoe the City had for sale was accepted, and the City accepted the donation of a lot from the Deport Volunteer Fire Department.

The Fire Department purchased the lot and deeded it to the City as a public service. Located just west of the fire station, and an old house on the lot is being torn down.

The Fair Housing Ordinance No. 005-1987 was adopted by the council, and James Short appointed as administrator and Duane Glover and Nancy Gresham were appointed to the Housing Commission.

The Council's votes went to Rufus Merritt for Lamar County Appraisal Board.

A motion was carried to refund Ronnie Landers on his 1986 taxes as he was inadvertently double assessed.

Minutes were read and approved and bills paid.

Board Hears Audit

The Prairiland Board of Trustees presented past board member Harold Morrison with a plaque of appreciation Monday night, and swore in Morrison's replacement, Ronald Roddy.

The board met at the Deport School cafeteria and held their regular meeting after a meal was served.

Jackie Shelton, representative of McClanahan and Holmes, gave the board an audit report, reporting that they were basically "in good shape".

Lowell Ford was hired as a custodian.

They went over the school's annual performance report.

Bids were let to Roy's Striping to put stripes on the new track at Prairiland. Cost will be $1,575. It will meet U.I.L. specifications when finished.

It was decided that the last $5,000 owed to the contractor who built the track would not be paid until a cracking problem was properly corrected.

A discussion about building new cafeteria facilities at Blossom was held, but no action taken.

Minutes were read and approved, financial report heard and payment of bills authorized.

The next board meeting will be at the Blossom cafeteria.

Deport Neighborhood Crime Watch Formed

Nearly 60 people attended the formative meeting of the Deport Neighborhood Crime Watch last Thursday night.

Lamar County Deputy Cary Lawler was on hand to present the program.

Among the major points brought up at the meeting about ways to prevent crime were: engraving household items, including electronics and tools with a driver's license number; secondary locks on windows, dead bolt door locks; and neighbors watching for unusual or suspicious activity.

According to Lawler, 92% of criminals say that they are deterred by a Neighborhood Crime Watch program.

What the county law enforcement officers need, Lawler said, is advance notice of a crime in progress. Neighbors who notice something going on can phone the deputies and they have a much better chance of stopping or solving a crime than if the crime is discovered hours later.

People, he continued, should learn to identify vehicles by size, color, whether pickup, van or car, and major features like that.

The sheriff's department will provide the electric engravers needed to use on marking items.

Numbers should be close together so that thieves cannot add an additional number at the end or in the middle. For example, an item should be marked as TXDL000000* with no space in between, and the number symbol at the end.

All serial numbers should be recorded so that they can be provided to law enforcement in case of theft.

A question and answer session resulted in many questions being posed by residents, varying from how to mark antiques, trespassing laws and four-wheeler problems.

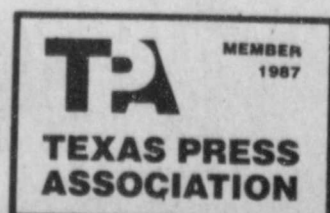

Residents, the deputy stressed, should be willing to file a complaint when they want something done, as many problems cannot be touched by the Sheriff's Department without a complaint being filed.

Lawler stressed that a Neighborhood Crime Watch program was a way for people to help themselves, and was proven to cut down on crime.

Crime Watch signs cost $1.30 each, and are 12 inches by 12 inches. People wishing to order these signs can contact James C. Short, Carlos Ladd or Thomas Nichols to order the signs.

The Deport Kiwanis Club will be dividing the city into sections and there will be neighborhood captains with maps that will identify houses in order to facilitate the crime watch.

Country people can also take advantage of the program, posting crime watch signs and having passers-by watch their property for them.

WEDNESDAY November 18

MRS. JAMES LOWRY, representing the George Washington Steel Chapter of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas in Paris, presented a copy of James Michener's novel "Texas" to the Blossom Elementary School Library on November 3. This was the date in 1793 when Stephen F. Austin, known as the Father of Texas, was born. The presentation was made in the Texas History room of Charles Price. Mr. Price and Mrs. Jackie Clinton, librarian, accepted the book for the school. Mrs. Lowry gave the students a brief glimpse into the section dealing with the first settlers who came to Texas under the leadership of Mr. Austin. Mrs. Lowry also told the class about the founding of the D.R.T. and that they will celebrate Founder's Day on November 6.

"LETTER TO EDITOR"

Dear Nanalee:
We received this letter from Bill Farney, State Athletic Director, in reply to the letter we sent asking for help in more fairly dividing District 13-AAA competition. Needless to say, we were extremely unhappy with the tone and unhelpfulness of the letter.

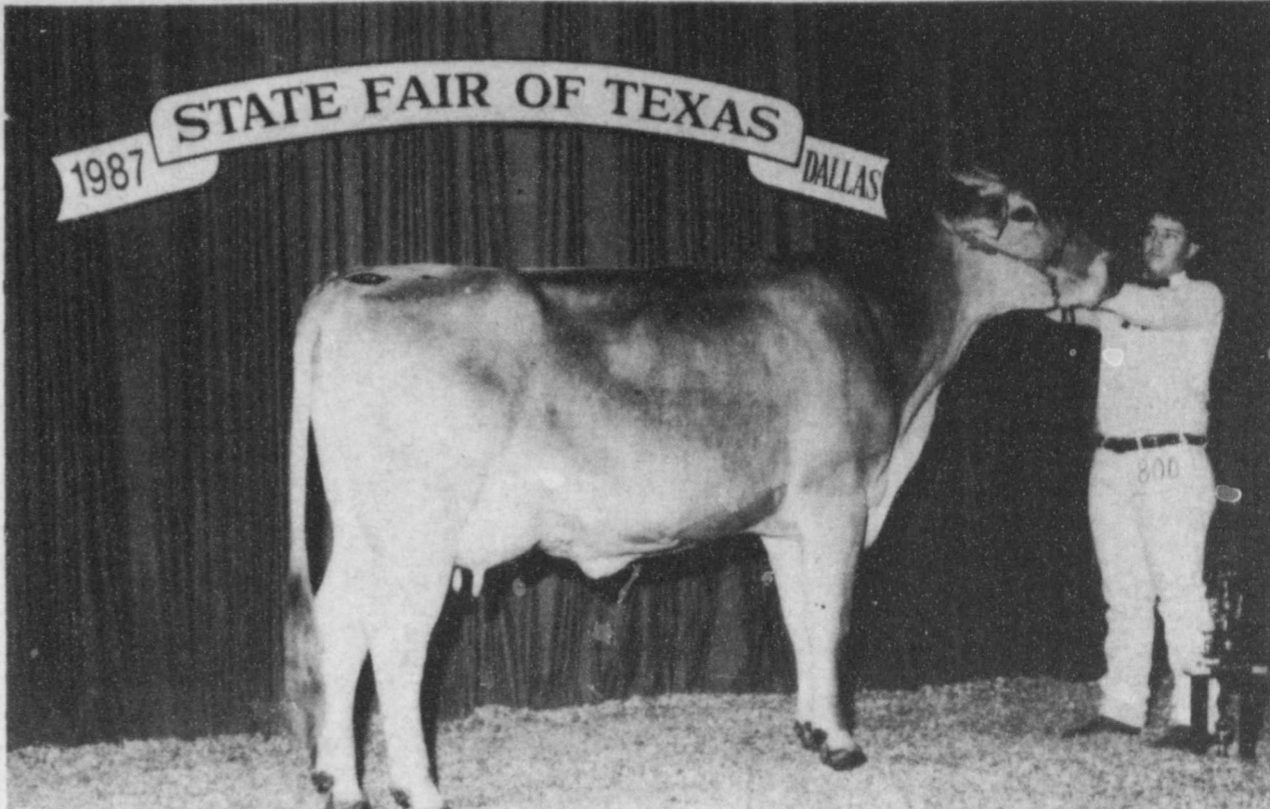

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Babb:
Over the past eleven years, three separate committees involving citizens, superintendents, legislators and officials from the UIL have studied the problems of reclassification/realignment. One of the difficulties expressed in every meeting was the problem of smaller schools within a conference playing schools in the upper range of enrollment in that conference. There have been a number of recommendations to try to offset this problem. Every suggestion for remediation ended with a final conclusion that travel would be increased so extensively by changing the procedure we now use that the end result would be counterproductive to the original intention.

I know it does not solve the problem. We at the League office understand that it is difficult for youngsters to participate against schools with larger numbers. Even though having a smaller number of students is a disadvantage, a number of schools with smaller enrollments do compete well. Factors which cannot be isolated are those of community support, attitude of the students, traditions of the school, and ability level of participants in the contest. Invariably when a community gets "down", the students at that school perceive low expectations for themselves. Often the result is a performance less than it should be. I am not saying this is true in your school, but it has been proven true in other places. A positive outlook is difficult to maintain if the scoreboard is always lopsided. But parents and boosters can influence youngsters with a negative attitude to the extent that it produces negative results.

We can assure you that everything will be done to make the realignment fair and impartial within the guidelines and policies that we must follow. If you would like to make specific recommendations or even a personal presentation to the Policy Committee in June, 1988, please let us know. The League is a democratic organization that receives input from any individual or organization.

In closing, I do not agree with all of your logic, particularly in the area in academic competition. Many smaller schools participate well and even dominate against larger schools in the academic area. But, obviously, you do have a problem or you would not have written. We hope for your child and other children that the University Interscholastic League will provide an avenue for educational competition to benefit the students involved.

Respectfully,
Bill Farney
State Athletic Director

"Fire Detectives" Cub Scout Theme

"Fire Detectives" was the October theme used by Deport Cub Scout Pack 19. Visiting the fire station and studying fire safety were some of the activities included in monthly den meetings. The month's activities were highlighted by a pack meeting held Tuesday, Oct. 28 at the United Methodist Church.

The Tiger Cub Den presented a skit on fire safety and Den 1 shared their recipe for Cub Scout Stew. The following boys received their Bobcat badges after being processed through the Bobcat Machine: Allen Johnson, Cliff Adams, David Sawyer, Hagan Allen, David Darden and Chris Turner. Important safety tips from Lone Star Gas

You can take comfort in Natural Gas.

Trusting gas for your home is a natural. After all, Lone Star Gas Company has been faithfully serving its customers for more than 75 years. Through the years, we have worked to earn your trust by providing safe, dependable natural gas.

Do you know why gas has a strong odor? Because we have added a harmless odorant to the gas that lets you know it's there. This is for your safety, so if you ever smell the strong odor of gas in your home, follow these rules:

- 1 Do not switch anything electrical on or off. Do not use your own telephone (telephones use small amounts of electricity). Do not strike a match, and do not do anything that might cause a spark.
- 2 Have everyone leave the house immediately, leaving doors open for ventilation.
- 3 Go to the nearest telephone and call Lone Star Gas Company. Wait until we have found the cause before returning to your home.

Since gas lines run underground, you should also take precautions against disrupting these lines, particularly if you plan to:

- 1 Put in a new fence.
- 2 Install an underground sprinkler system.
- 3 Perform any major landscape renovation.

Before you dig, call your local Lone Star Gas office. If you smell a gas odor while you're outside, immediately contact Lone Star Gas.

In our continuing effort to provide better, safer service, local Lone Star Gas offices are ready to answer any questions that contractors may have concerning the location of gas lines in their areas.

The safety record for natural gas is impressive, and peace of mind is an important part of what natural gas has to offer. By following these simple rules, you can take even greater comfort in natural gas.

Patriots Close Season With 30-13 Victory

The Prairiland Patriots closed out their season with a big win against the Mt. Vernon Tigers, defeating them 30-13 on Prairiland's turf.

The Patriots were fired up for the game, even though Mt. Vernon went on the scoreboard first, taking the opening kickoff 68-yards in 6:53 minutes.

The Patriots stormed back with an 85-yard drive of their own, with Craig Ladd carrying over the line for the TD and Jack Kindle tying up the game at 7-7.

Then the Patriots allowed the Tigers a first down before driving 76-yards that included excellent plays by Martin Babb, a pass from Babb to Kindle and a 12-yard run by Steven Johnson before Wade Sparks carried across for the Patriots to take the lead, never to relinquish it for the rest of the evening.

Jack Kindle made the score 14-7 with the point after.

In the third quarter, the Patriots struck pay dirt again making a 68-yard scoring drive, again utilizing Babb, Steven Johnson and this time Mike Ray. Kindle again capped off the points, making the score 21-13.

The Tigers tried yet again to score, but punts that put Mt. Vernon on inside their 20-yard line over and over kept them a long way from a score.

With 1:49 left in the game, Mt. Vernon tried a pass but Lloyd Whelchel and Shannon Osborne eliminated that problem.

Wade Sparks returned the punt on the Tigers' 37, then Steven Johnson ripped through the line and raced into the endzone. Kindle did his job yet again, making the final score 30-13.

Johnson carried for 132 yards on 19 carries; Babb 99 yards on total offense, 45 in the air and defensively Wade Sparks intercepted twice and Joseph and Lloyd Whelchel, P.G. Morrison, Giovanni Scarnano and Jeff Fendley all did some important work.

It was a sweet note on which to end this year's football season.

STEVEN JOHNSON carried the ball 132 yards on 19 carries, including one 35 yard touchdown run against the Mt. Vernon Tigers last Friday night. The Patriots capped their season with a 30-13 win over

Winter Forage Information

By Herb Brevard

In determining when to begin grazing winter pasture, Dr. Sim A. Reeves, Jr., agronomist, says that the height of the forage is not as important as a good root system. If the root system has not developed sufficiently, the cattle will pull up the forage instead of biting it off.

If fertilizer was applied at planting, most of it is still available because of the lack of rain in many areas. Due to the shortage of rain, the plants have not been able to utilize the fertilizer and it should not have leached. Consequently, if adequate fertilizer was put out at planting, no additional fertilizer should be needed now.

If less than 50 pounds of nitrogen was put down at planting, additional fertilizer, at least 50 pounds of nitrogen, will be needed when the plants begin growing.

Before fertilizing, regardless of when you planted, the producer should adjust the fertilizer rate to the stand of forage, Reeves says. If thick stands are present, fertilize heavier. If the stand is scattered, use less fertilizer.

If the winter pasture was planted in a sod and the winter pasture is taller than the sod, fertilizer can be applied. If the sod is still taller than the winter pasture, delay fertilizing.

Agricultural Briefs

By Paul Payne
 The recent rains received in the county were generally received, but enough is enough. What was good for one producer is not necessarily what was needed for another. The rains were very much needed to bring up the wheat, but soaked ground could lead to a disaster for the peanut producer with peanuts remaining in the soil. Only time will tell.

The only other crop remaining in the field is the late maturing soybeans. However, they will not be ready to harvest until the first frost arrives in the Red River Valley. Some truck farmers have sweet potatoes to dig and the water logged soil will not be good for them. Also, some fallen pecans could have been lost in the rain swollen creeks Sunday night.

The cattle marker was off last week as a result of the Wall Street happenings. Consequently, one cannot compare this week's market with the previous week. It took a really fancy 400 pound steer to bring $1.00 per pound. Few calves at the sale Saturday reached that level, however, a number of Limousin calves sold in the $1.02 and $1.09 range.

The question on every beef producer's mind is how did the Limousin cattle sell? The 400 weight Limousin steers averaged 419 pounds and sold for an average of $.94 a pound or $394 a calf. The same number sale run steer calves selected randomly from the sale sheets averaged 429 pounds and $.86 per pound for an average of $370.

Quality cattle bring top money irrespective of breed. Beef producers need to make a few sales to see type cattle in demand.

Changes are definitely taking place in the markets and one had better strive to produce the type cattle in demand or be prepared to absorb greater losses.

The Brahman breed has made a valuable contribution to the industry. Some Brahman blood is great, but it appears that too much results in a big penalty.
