American decadence...does it truly exist?

Well, I don't know whether it's really decadence...but we surely are spoiled...And enjoying every minute of that spoiling, too!

Thomas pointed out just how enthralled he was with electric power tools Christmas afternoon.

As a gift, he received an electric carving knife. (He had a large time with a friend's carving up a brisket one day). It was cordless, and wall mounted.

So he trotted out to the barn and came back with his array of power tools to put the bracket up on the wall with.

First he drilled two holes in the sheet rock...with his power drill that he received for his birthday.

That task accomplished he used his cordless electric screwdriver to actually mount the bracket on the wall.

He then noticed he had left a lot of crumbled up dust from the sheetrock around, so he grabbed the cordless electric hand held vacuum cleaner up and cleared things away!

Three power accessories to put up yet another power accessory!

Yep, that's the American way all right.

We love power tools, power accessories, home goodies in endless array.

No other people in the world consider that someone is deprived without a full size washer and dryer.

We surround ourselves with time-saving, work-conserving gadgets in staggering numbers.

In the kitchen we indulge in blenders, food processors, electric knives, disposals, slow cookers, microwaves, fast cookers, deep fryers, electric can openers, mixers, coffee makers, grinders, choppers and butter melters.

For household cleaning we have vacuums with dozens of attachments, electric carpet shampooers, buffers, hand held vacuums and various other accoutrements.

Outdoors we use electric weed trimmers, edgers, tillers, hedge clippers, all kinds of power operated mowers and everything but an electric shovel (not a bag idea).

For shop work there are power saws from tiny scroll saws to enormous chain saws, routers, planers, bevelers, polishers and Sanders, spray paint guns, nail guns, staple guns.

For amateur auto mechanics there are impact wrenches, and electronic gadgets for calculating everything from fuel consumption to tire balance.

There are electric hair dryers, rollers, curling irons, manicure buffers, massagers, even chairs that vibrate!

While everyone doesn't have all of those appliances, everyone has one or two.

I'm not even going to go into the stereo, video, TV and remote controlled scene...it's too big.

We enjoy them, we use them, and it's absolutely GRAND that we can!

Call it decadence, call it spoiled, but basically it's just part of the good life!

No Revolution In This Year's Resolutions!

By Nanalee Nichols

Well, 1989 is here, starting yet another year. And, as usual, folks have made New Year's Resolutions, some all-encompassing, some usual, some rather different.

What are the most common resolutions? To curtail spending money and to lose weight...not necessarily in that order!

For almost everyone, the desire to lose those extra pounds, be it 10 pounds or 50, rates right up at the top of the list.

Paying off credit cards, getting out of debt, buying more practically is another biggie.

New Year's Resolutions almost invariably involve self-improvement. After all, we have very little need to resolve to be LESS self-disciplined. Most people don't have to make an effort to work less, get less accomplished, or eat more!

Exercising, eating better, getting certain tasks done, all are popular resolves on the "I'm going to do better this year" list.

So is keeping up with bookwork on time instead of putting it off, cleaning closets or pantries, not being late for appointments, and improving overall time-scheduling.

Unfortunately, most of us find our resolve and fortitude slipping pretty fast, and the resolutions fall by the wayside as the new year pounds along at it's usual frantic pace!

But think about a few "do-able" ideas.

How about "I will resolve, just for today, to smile and make an effort to be happier and more contented." Right after that one is "I'll try to smile and make others a little happier today." Not letting ill humour splash over on someone else is a tremendous improvement in affairs!

Just today I won't _____ (fill in the gap with any and all) over eat over drink-smoke-spend. Instead of aiming for the whole year, try one day...or one week. Every day it's done right is one day out of the new year in which a resolution has been actively successful!

Getting one chore done at a time is an excellent method of self-discipline. Most of us "bite off more than we can chew" by starting numerous projects at once. Just take it one day at a time, and if on one of those days you don't feel as if anything has been accomplished, over and above the normal, usual routine...so what! At least the routine was done!

We are human, with our dreams and desires, wants and needs. And we backslide all too easily.

This year another good resolution might be to recognize that fact. None of us will ever be perfect. All we can do is keep on trying...one day at a time.

You can have a ladder accident and never leave the ground

Ladder safety is more than avoiding falls. Ladders conduct electricity, so they can also cause accidents around the power lines — before you ever leave the ground.

To prevent such accidents, make sure you don't snag a power line when you're carrying a ladder around the yard. Before you climb the ladder, place it away from power lines.

Aluminum and other metal ladders are especially good conductors of electricity, but you can be injured by power lines with a wooden one too.

For more information on power line safety, call or visit your local TNP office.

Monda Stephens Fults Attends Convention

Monda Stephens Fults, secondary English teacher at Prairiland High School, recently attended the 78th annual Convention of the National Council of Teachers of English in St. Louis, MO. The convention was attended by over 5,000 teachers from all 50 states and seven foreign countries.

The theme of the convention was "Taking Language to Heart." There were nearly 200 workshop sessions in the three-day, Part I of the convention. The sections were divided into reading, literature, composition, curriculum, language, listening and/or speaking, media, measurement/evaluation, research and issues and professional concern. The highlight of the convention was the opening general session banquet. Julie Jensen, NCTE President from the University of Texas introduced the speaker, Maya Angelou, author of "I Know Why the Caged Bird Sings, Gather Together In My Name," and four volumes of poetry.

The NCTE is the world's largest independent subject-matter organization for teachers. The organization consists of 130 local, state and regional affiliate councils that seek to improve the teaching of English at all levels of instruction. Ms. Fults is a regional, state and national member.

Patriot Sports Report

Patriots Hold Off Bears, 57-55

By Wade Sparks

Shannon Baker, Randy Huddleston and Jack Kindle managed double figures for the Patriots Friday night as Prairiland came away with a thrilling 57-55 victory over the DeKalb Bears.

Baker started and finished the scoring for the Patriots in the first quarter with eight points, including two three-point baskets. Huddleston added a bucket and a couple of free throws as the Patriots moved out to a 13-8 lead after one quarter of play.

In the second period, Kindle scored six consecutive points that gave Prairiland an 11-point lead. Huddleston came away with numerous rebounds and six points for the Pats throughout the quarter. DeKalb's Brandy McGill led the Bears on a 14-6 run. His two three-pointers and Greg Whitaker's three baskets pulled the visitors within two points at the :45 mark. A Jeff Akard break-away layup in the closing seconds of the quarter gave the Pats a 31-27 halftime lead.

In the third quarter, McGill sparked a Bear rally. Floyd Williams hit a jumpshot midway through the quarter to give the Bears a 36-35 lead; however, Prairiland's Rydell Minter and Kindle rolled off 10 unanswered points. This gave the Pats a 45-36 lead at the end of the third quarter.

Kindle, Trevor Upchurch and Jamie Borden each scored a basket at the start of the fourth quarter to give the Patriots their biggest lead of the night, 51-36.

McGill, Whitaker and Marlin Ford each scored four points for the Bears; however, after pressure free-throws from Baker and Huddleston, DeKalb missed on a last-second jumpshot to secure a 57-55 Patriot victory.

Kindle finished with 19 points, while Huddleston managed 11 and Baker added 10.

For the Bears, McGill scored a game high 21 points, while Whitaker dropped in 10.

The Patriots will play host to Mt. Vernon on Friday, January 6 for their district opener at 8 p.m.

Lady Patriots Rout DeKalb, 56-32

By Wade Sparks

Prairiland, led by 14 of Amy Scudder's game-high 19 points, outscored DeKalb's Lady Bears 18-7 in the second quarter to give the Lady Patriots a 29-12 halftime lead. Prairiland rolled on to a 56-32 victory Friday night at home.

Scudder put the Lady Pats on the scoreboard with a three-point play midway through the first quarter. Star Ruckman gave Prairiland a six point lead with two consecutive jumpshots. Dana Bradford threw in a shot at the buzzer to give the home team an 11-5 lead after one quarter of play.

Scudder put on a show in the second quarter as she scored 14 points compared to DeKalb's 7. Most of the Lady Bears' points came from Trisha Williams, who managed a team-high 15 points. Bradford added two jumpers to widen the margin to 29-12 at the half.

Bradford had the hot hand in the third quarter as she scored four baskets for the Lady Pats. The Bears' 10 points were scattered between three starters as they trailed 45-22 at the end of the third period.

DeKalb's Arlinda Lewis came alive in the fourth period with seven points, including a three point play; however, that didn't match the scoring of Rhonda Eatherly, Shelly Ladd and Ruckman. The Lady Patriots went on to defeat DeKalb, 56-32.

Scudder scored a game-high 19 points for Prairiland, while Bradford poured in 15 and Ruckman had 10.

Williams led all DeKalb scorers with 15 points, Lewis added 10.

The Lady Patriots will meet with Mt. Vernon for their district opener in the Patriot Gymnasium beginning at 6 p.m. Friday, January 6.

Ladies Auxiliary Meets

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3990 met on December 20 for a regular meeting with Virginia Atkins, president, opening the meeting. Rebecca Lenoir, Chaplain, gave the opening prayer and Lyna Cook led the Pledge to the flag. There were 29 present with two new members and three reinstated members.

Motion was made and passed to have a short meeting with no committee reports. Motion was passed to give $100.00 to PJC toward a student nurse scholarship.

Motion was made and passed to pay Pat Friday for her expenses on her PAC project. The winner of the gift certificate from her PAC project was won by Gus Guston.

Beverly Moore chairman for the Teacher of the Year, reported she turned in eight entries. Motion was passed for Rebecca Lenoir to turn in all her project to the restoring of the Battleship Texas her total is now $446.50.

It was reported there was enough food for 23 baskets and toys for all their children for needy families for Christmas.

The delegates to go to Austin in January were Pat Friday, JoAnn Faulkner, Geraldine Rowe, Cleo Heflin, Rebecca Lenoir, Natalie Ray, Velma Pool, Daisey Seiler, LeVerna Williams, Margie Washburn, Jackie Cutbirth, Linda Shawhart and junior girls, Tracey Cutbirth and Mollie Jean Smith.

Meeting closed according to ritual to meet again on January 3.

Tuesday 42 Club Meets

The Tuesday 42 Club met Tuesday, January 3 with Mrs. Vada Hoover.

May Storm won high score for members and Mary Westbrook won high score for guests. Ethel Epps won the gift.

The next meeting will be with Jimmie King on February 7.

A refreshment plate was served and everyone had an enjoyable time.

Auto Thefts Crime Of Week

Paris has been experiencing an unusually high incidence of automobile thefts in the last few weeks. One car was stolen out of the owner's garage.

Most of the vehicles have been abandoned and recovered within hours of the theft, leading Paris Police investigators to believe that juveniles are joy riding. Considerable damage has been done to the vehicles in order to gain entrance and start the vehicles.

This week, Crime Stoppers is offering up to $1,000.00 in cash rewards for information that leads to the arrest and indictment of the person or persons responsible for these crimes. Callers do not have to identify themselves to collect a reward.

Call Crime Stoppers at 785-TIPS.
