Nichols Worth

By Nanalee Nichols

A while back during the winter we pulled up some posts and made a new entrance way into our place.

While mowing the other day, I spied a post hole left from the original fence, and immediately stopped to fill it with dirt and tamp it down.

Why so conscientious? How come everything came to a halt until that little bitty hole was all filled up?

The answer goes back about 15 years, back to a hot, summer evening a lot like those we've been having lately. It was then that I discovered about post holes.

Thomas and I had been doing some cross fencing at the pasture, and had drilled a series of nice, deep post holes with a PTO driven digger.

Somewhere along the line we changed our plan a little bit, and ended up with one nice, neat little hole extra.

It had been a long, long day, and I was hustling along in the near-dark to pick up some fencing tools.

It was one of those glorious evenings...the night hawks were swooping, the locust were shrilling, and the sun was fading away into the evening coolness, leaving behind only a faint pool of orange behind.

I was thinner, clad in shorts, and moving along at a pretty good clip.

It was one of the most heart-stopping moments of my life.

Suddenly, instead of nice, firm earth, my left foot came in contact with absolutely nothing.

It kept right on meeting nothing until I found myself with that leg bottled up in the unused post hole. The right leg was stretched out behind me, the left foot wasn't touching the bottom of the hole, and I was helpless!

Besides that...it hurt. In fact, for a minute or two I was convinced that my leg was broken.

Thomas wasn't in sight. I tried levering myself up with my arms...no luck.

I tried wiggling...that hurt. There were sharp bits down in that hole...and they were sticking into my leg.

So I resorted to the only recourse left to me...yelling for my husband at the top of my lungs.

He came on the run, screamed to a halt and looked at me.

I suppose coming upon one's wife down at ground level, looking as if the earth had swallowed her is a little bit of a shock.

In the deepening dusk he had a mighty surprised expression on his face. Then he started to laugh. He took his time about that laugh. All the time I was squirming around like a bug on a pin, trying to get him to help me out of my predicament, and he was laughing!

Finally, he pulled me free of the post hole, much like extracting a cork from a bottle.

A goodly portion of my skin stayed behind in the hole.

I stood there, blood running down my leg, gravel stuck into it, madder than a wet hen, and he couldn't stop laughing.

I wanted to get mad, I really did, but decided it wouldn't be very smart. Murder is illegal, and that was the only thing that came to mind! And he did get me out, at least.

So instead I turned away, dusting some of the gravel off my leg, grabbed up a shovel and began filling the blasted, blankety-blank hole up!

I've never left one unfilled since. Even if they aren't but three inches around, and a foot won't fit in them...I fill 'em up!

And that my friends, is the saga of the post hole!

Honesty, Friendship, Mark Years In Business For Randall Bangs

By Jeff Morrison

After more than four decades in the grocery business, Randall Bangs has called it quits.

The man, who for the past 12 years has owned and operated Bangs' West Side Grocery in Blossom, is retiring after 43 years. A leg problem which has hampered him since 1982 is what forced Bangs into retirement.

Bangs became involved in the grocery business in 1946 when he began working for Pete Humphries Wholesale and Retail. In 1950, he was hired as produce manager at Piggly Wiggly.

After 26 years at Piggly Wiggly, six of which he served as manager, Bangs was fired because as he says, "I wouldn't go along with some of the dirty work that they wanted to do to keep the union from coming in."

"There were some crazy things they wanted me to do, and then lay it off on the employees (who wanted to form a union). But I don't play that type of game...I try to be honest in everything I do."

Bangs opened his own convenience store in Blossom in November 1976, and it was his honesty and dedication to the job that endeared him to his customers.

His biggest regret is that he didn't open his own store earlier. He said that a lack of money and confidence was what kept him from starting his own business years earlier.

"I didn't have enough faith to begin it years earlier, but I should have," he explained. "But years ago, if I had had enough money and courage to go into business for myself, I would have been better off."

Bangs said that he is enjoying his retirement and being able to do what he wants, but he misses the people he was associated with.

"I miss the people. I think that's the only thing that hurt me. I have developed lots of close friendships over the years," he said.

But Bangs has no thoughts of coming out of retirement. "Someone asked me if I would take the store back and I told them 'No way. I'm doing exactly what I want to do---working in the yard, fishing, just whatever.'"

Despite the hours of labor at the store, Bangs found time to devote to the community. He was elected Mayor of Blossom in 1965 and served two terms.

He joined the Volunteer Fire Department in 1965, and remains an active member. "I don't do the work I used to do," he admits. "But I assist the younger members and help them do things."

"I don't make all the grass fires I used to, but I'm there if there is a hose fire or if someone is in any danger. I believe there has only been one fatality since I joined the fire department."

Bangs is also a member of the Kiwanis Club which helps underprivileged children.

"I've always been concerned with the community and have wanted to be part of it," he said. "I still think people should be an active part of the community."

Along with his service to the community, Bangs also devotes plenty of his time to the Lord. He serves as a Deacon at the Fellowship Baptist Church in Blossom, and spends some of his free time working at the church and assisting members of the congregation.

Bangs said that to be successful in a business, it's the way you treat people that keeps them coming back.

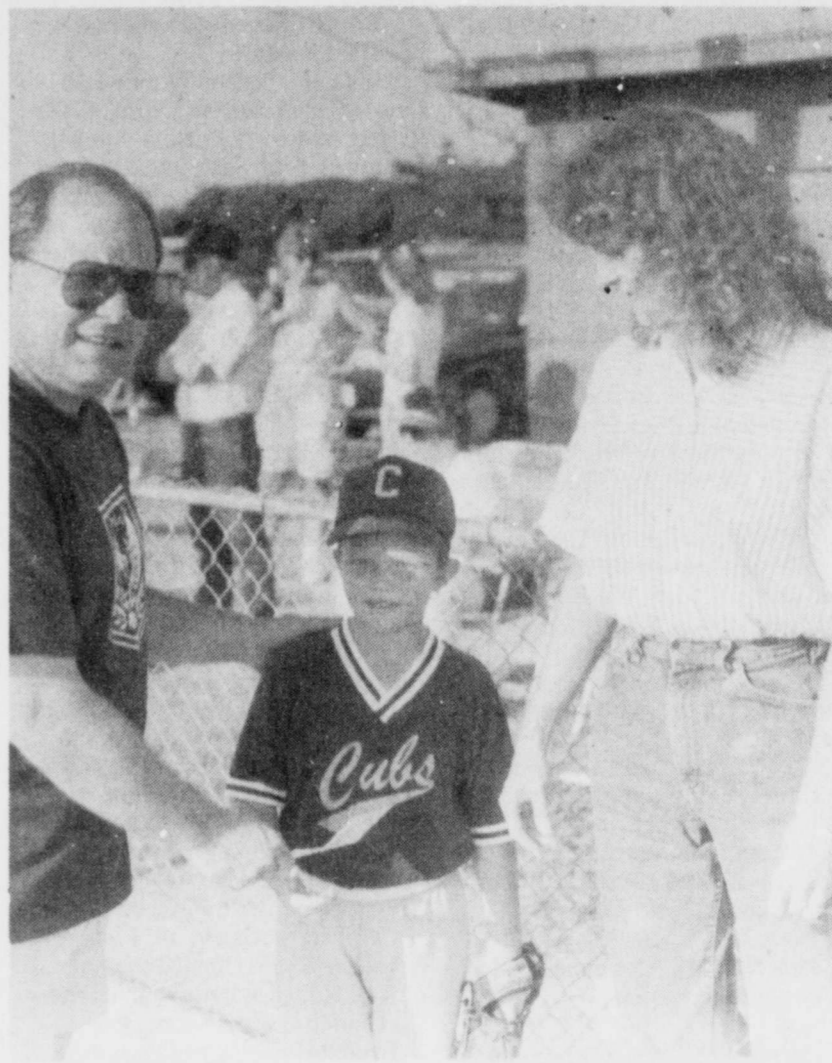

"I think the key to the business was being there, taking care of the people, and being nice to them," he said. "I always told the people who worked for me that the customers paid their salary, not me. If the customers didn't come---no salary."

"I don't think it was anything I did, it's just being nice to the people. It doesn't matter what type of business you go into, if you can't get along with people and don't have friends...you're not going to make it."

Bangs also explained that there were bad times as well as good times in the business, but that he worked through the bad and enjoyed the good.

"You're going to have a bad streak every now and then. But the good outshadows the bad by far."

And in Randall Bangs, the good has also outshadows the bad.

By Mrs. Virgie Ballard

The ladies adult Sunday School class of Bethel Baptist visited Mrs. Virgie Ballard in Deport Nursing Home. They were Mrs. Dorris Ballard, Era Rader, Mamie McMellon, Louise Clement, Lorene Clement, Eugenia Skidmore, Zada Dunn, and Mary Stone.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Clement were hosts for a birthday supper at their home Monday, June 26, to honor the birthdays of Bobby Winters and Clayton Carlow. Others attending were Bettie Winters, Kim Carlow and Wes Winters and Lisa Icenhower. All enjoyed a bountiful supper and wish the honorees many more good birthdays.

Mrs. Mary Stone received word of the arrival of a great-grandson, born to Mr. and Mrs. Troy Henderson in Nacogdoches, named Travis Colt. The mother is the former Lisa Pomroy of Paris. Grandparents are J.C. Pomroy of Paris, Linda Fletcher of Nacogdoches, great-grandparents are Mrs. Ruth Fletcher and the late W.E. Fletcher of Nacogdoches, also grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. Henderson. The new baby has a sister, Brooke Henderson, age 2.

Mr. and Mrs. L.T. Clement visited their sister-in-law, Mrs. Elsie Clement in McCuiston Hospital Sunday. She is much better.

J.C. Pomroy of Paris, who has been under treatment of a doctor for the past six weeks, is doing much better and visited his mother, Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Stone some last week.

Mrs. Alpha Russell of Jennings community became seriously ill last week and was taken to McCuiston Hospital by Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Harrell, where she was admitted to ICU for several days, but is out in a private room now and doing real good. We hope she can be home soon.

Gary Stone and wife called his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rant Stone Sunday from Crestview, Florida where Gary was sick with a severe cold.

Lewis and Louise Clement and Mr. and Mrs. L.T. Clement visited Mrs. Alpha Russell in the hospital Sunday.

Mr. Susie Gillian and son Brandon and friend of Balch Springs and Ann Baker of Denison, James and Kay Kennedy all were dinner guests of Era Rader and Mamie McMellon

Sunday and attended church at Bethel Baptist.

Tammie Wisdom and Tamathia and J.C. Pomroy of Paris visited Mary Stone Saturday.

Mrs. Peggy Evans of Paris has been ill at her home for several days but is better now. Her brother, Lewis and Louise Clement visited her Friday.

We had 75 at Bethel Baptist Church Sunday morning, Rev. L.C. Stout delivered an inspiring sermon at 11 a.m. Special singing was sung by Madge Skidmore and Judy Pomroy. Services were dismissed Sunday night, as the church is taking part in the Paul Jackson Crusade at the Maddox Stadium on North Lamar school grounds. A large crowd attended the crusade Sunday night and many decisions were made with good singing and preaching. It was estimated to be 2,000 there that night.

Mr. and Mrs. L.T. Clement attended the Clement reunion Sunday at the rodeo and horse club in Paris. There were 35 present and there was plenty of good food and a good time was had by all.

Norris Ballard is attending an agriculture meeting in Huntsville this week. Randy Stephens of Paris and Kenneth Hancock accompanied him.

Andy and LaNelle Clement and Amy of Whitehouse spent Saturday night with Lewis and Louise Clement.

Bobby and Betty Winters, Clayton and Kim Carlow, Lewis and Louise Clement met Andy Clement and family and Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Crow of Winnsboro in Sulphur Springs Saturday for dinner.

Bobby and Betty Winters, Lewis and Louise, Peggy Evans visited Walt and Donnie Crafton of Viewpoint Sunday.

Mary Ann Williams of Bogata visited Lewis and Louise Clement Monday.

Mike, Janie and kids of Bogata spent the weekend with home folks and enjoyed the Bogata rodeo.

Ann and Ike Jewett of Reno visited in Deport.

The bingo at Deport Nursing Home was a big success. Everyone had a good time.

Mary and Delbert Ballard came to visit Mrs. Virgie. While there they mowed her yard.

MELISSA WOOFER, left, of Texas-New Mexico Power Company, presented certificates to Billie Ford, Anna Beth Allen and Dora Stidham, who successfully completed a workshop "Electrical Circuits and Motor Theory" in Lewisville on June 20. The course was sponsored by Texas Agri-Business Electric Council, Texas New-Mexico Power Company and TU Electric. They were among 100 teachers attending the workshop.

East Lamar High School Reunion Held

The reunion of the 1949 class of East Lamar High School was held on June 24 at the American Legion Hall in Deport.

Graduates attending were Ray Clement of Farmers Branch; William L. Currin of Mesquite; Hammond Day of Parker; Clayton Skidmore of Clardy; Mary Westbrook Esop of Kermit; Margaret Wilson McLemore of Plano.

The evening meal was enjoyed by each classmate. Each member gave a short history of themselves for the past 40 years. Everyone enjoyed taking pictures and fellowship.

The class members held a short business meeting and decided to have the next reunion in June of 1991. The class also voted to invite the class of 1950 of East Lamar High School.

Leslie H. Taylor Honored With Retirement Party

Approximately 125 people attended the gala dinner and special program honoring Leslie H. Taylor upon his retirement from the Prairiland School System as superintendent. The table had a blue cloth with gold and white runners and gold stars, and the Cunningham High School class picture of 1948 which he graduated with. A tiered stand held his Cunningham basketball jacket and sweater and basketball. The stage backdrop was white lattice with the letter "C" picked out in red and blue balloons and red, white and blue eagles and the American flag. Throughout the evening there was music by local talent, poems and reflections beginning with Taylor's boyhood days, his high school days, college and Air Force days, talks by ex-students of Cunningham, Prairiland School days. The Taylor family was introduced and several tributes paid to them.

ASCS News

By James B. Allcorn

Round and round she goes, where she stops, nobody knows! The familiar song of the man running the roulette wheel as he spins the ball. Bettors hold their breath as winning or losing hangs on each spin. Sort of reminds me of the legislative process in Congress and government programs in general, but that is another story. Folks keep asking what the 1989 disaster bill is going to provide. Right now the only answer we can give is that the House has passed its version, Judging from a quick glance at the bill, it is about identical to the 1988 disaster bill that Congress enacted. Like the roulette wheel with its spinning ball, he still waits Senate passage, House-Senate Conference Committee overhaul and President Bush's approval before it becomes law. This Friday, June 30, marks the end of the sign up period for cost sharing on needed conservation work. In addition to establishment of 1990 spring seeded/sprigged grasses, requests are also being taken for cool season grasses this fall, pools, drop structures and toe wall structures, waterway construction, critical area shaping, and parallel terraces. After the sign up is completed, either ASCS or SCS personnel will visit your farm and determine the rate of erosion actually occurring on the area you are wanting to place the conservation practice. Requests will be approved based upon the degree of erosion. Those requests with the highest rate of erosion will be approved first. We have received several soil test results from the testing lab in Nacogdoches. The test results are good tools for making sound management decisions on farms and ranches. Soil tests are required for all grass establishment practices from an approved State laboratory. We must have the soil test results in the ASCS office by July 15 in order to approve cost sharing for a grass establishment practice. The soil test must be taken from the area where the grass is to be established. Soil test kits are available free from ASCS, SCS and the County Extension Service. Practices involving heavy equipment such as drop structures, waterways, critical area shaping, pools and terraces do not require soil tests.

Social Security Application Firm Not Connected With Government

Should you pay $18 to get your social security application processed? People around the nation have been receiving mail from an organization called the Federal Benefits Assistance Corp. offering to assist them in filing for Social Security retirement benefits for an $18 fee. The Federal Benefits Assistance Corp. is not connected with the Social Security Administration or Federal government.

First, there is no need to pay any firm money to help you file a Social Security application.
Second, you may actually lose money and delay the processing of your claim by sending your application to a private company. Social Security applications are not officially filed until they're actually received in a Social Security office.
The representatives in any Social Security office will provide free all of the service you need to file your claim for benefits, including:
*Giving you the proper application form;
*Helping you complete the form; and
*Telling you what documents you need and how to obtain them.

DPS Challenges Drivers

To Drive Safely, Push Down Fatality Rate

The Director of the Department of Public Safety has challenged Texas drivers to show that the DPS traffic death estimate for the long July 4th period is far too high.

"The DPS Statistical Services bureau has indicated that as many as 52 persons could be killed on Texas roadways during these hours," Col. Joe Milner said. "But the number will be lower if more drivers will slow down, avoid drinking alcohol and use a well known safety precaution, seat belts."

Col. Milner mentioned that the July 4 period will include the weekend before Independence Day.

"The DPS Public Information

Office will conduct the traffic fatality count for 102 hours, beginning at 6 p.m. Friday, June 30 and continuing until midnight Tuesday, July 4. As before, we'll be keeping count with the assistance of local law enforcement agencies along with DPS troopers and communications personnel", Milner said.

The final count for the 1988 July 4 period, which was 78 hours in length, totaled 32 fatalities.

Col. Milner said as part of his agency's "Operation Holiday" additional troopers will be deployed to help minimize the risk of driving on all roadways in rural areas.

Traffic fatality totals for Texas will be tabulated and released three times from the DPS, at 10 a.m., 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. The first report will be made at 10 a.m. on Saturday, July 1.

When school ends, your children have one more lesson to learn

You can help protect your children this summer by reminding them of the dangers of electricity. Children often play outdoors during the summer, so they should know these basic rules.

- Never touch power lines with anything.
- Don't play in trees near power lines.
- Substations are not playgrounds. Children — and adults — shouldn't go near them.
- Power poles are not for climbing.

For more information on electrical safety, call or visit your local TNP office today.
