Talk about rationalization! My husband can really convince himself about something. Only thing is, he ends up half-way convincing me too.

Since January 2nd I've been on a diet, working hard to take off weight. Thomas, too, was on one...not so strict, but he needed to shed a little from the middle.

So, I haven't put any food in the house. You can't eat what isn't available, my theory was.

And I really thought it was going along pretty well...until the other night.

We had consumed our 300 calories worth of frozen diet food (yuck) and settled down to watch a movie on television.

I didn't pay much attention to Thomas leaving the room, going out the back door to the garage and utility room. I just wasn't paying that much attention.

After a long while though, I got up and headed for the kitchen for some iced tea...and met my spouse returning from the garage with a spoon in his hand.

"What are you doing with a spoon?" I queried, still unsuspecting.

"No telling how long this spoons been out there" he replied.

We sat back down to watch the movie. But I noticed he had a guilty, funny look on his face.

Finally I said "Okay, what's going on here". The fact is, Thomas is totally incapable of telling lies. He just can't do it. His face gives him away even if he's fibbing as a joke.

He turned red. He dropped his head and grinned that Cat-At-Canary grin.

Then he 'fessed up. It seems that his sweet tooth had gotten the best of him. Unknown to me he had smuggled a half gallon of ice cream in to the freezer out in the garage. When he became hungry he was just taking a little stroll out to the wash room, and standing there eating ice cream from the carton!

"Honey," he maintained "it's so it wouldn't be a temptation to YOU".

He's told me that so many times now that he almost has me believing that his real motive was to keep me from falling off of MY diet.

What happened to HIS diet, though, tell me that, huh?

Oh well, he's the one whose waist line won't be shrinking. I tell myself that every time I think about that cold, delicious ice cream, just waiting out there! Somehow, it doesn't help much. What does help is that guilty look on his face when he got caught with the spoon in his hand!

It's This Weekend! Time For Chili Competition At It's Finest!

Come One, Come All, Eat, Play, Help Pay For The New Fire Truck The Painless Way!

Friday and Saturday Deport can expect more activities than it's used to and a world of fun.

The Chili and Bean Cookoff is finally here. So is the Friday night stew and chili supper followed by an auction.

All funds will go to the Deport Volunteer Fire Department.

Uncountable hours of time and effort, and plain old hard work, have gone in to getting ready for the upcoming events.

Friday night, April 13, the stew supper will begin at 5:00 with home deliveries being available for the elderly only from 3:30p.m. until 4:30 p.m.

For home delivery call the Deport American Legion after 1 p.m. at 652-2400. Tickets are available at the door and cost $5

At 7:30 their will be an auction of pies and cakes and a variety of other items.

Then, Saturday morning the events for the C.A.S.I. (Chili Appreciation Society International) cookoff will begin.

There will be a fire department cookoff as well as the officially sanctioned cookoff. There is also a local division.

The showmanship category is pretty mindboggling.

From fully dressed "French" chefs to outer space aliens, the showmanship entries are as much entertainment as can be imagined.

There will be a dunking booth and "Bedrock Chili" has some real surprises on hand.

At noon there will be beans and cornbread for sale by the Deport United Methodist Women. Gilbert Arriaga will have take-home Mexican butterbeans for sale at $3 a qt., proceeds going to the fire department.

Tasting cups to sample the variety of chilis will be available for a small fee, and votes will be cast for the People's Choice Awards.

All of this is to help pay for the brand new fire truck which has enlarged the Deport Volunteer Fire Department's fleet to three.

The new fire truck will be on display for all to see, along with the new equipment.

Due to the heavy rains in the area, the events have been moved off of the Foster Park grounds to main street where there will be solid surface.

EASTER BUNNY--The Easter Bunny made an appearance at the Deport Easter Egg Hunt last Saturday, and found lots and lots of boys and girls to hand out prizes and eggs to. After that, the youngsters scrambled for eggs and prizes in their age groups. (Staff Photo by Thomas Nichols)

NEW TRUCK--The Deport Volunteer Fire Department has their new fire truck now, and it has been a familiar sight this week as the firemen each took their turn driving and familiarizing themselves with the vehicle and it's equipment. More fund raising is set for this weekend to offset the expense of the much needed truck, since both of the other trucks are over 20 years old. (Staff Photo by Thomas Nichols)

New Test May Identify Blocked Or Narrowed Arteries

A special kind of electrocardiogram (EKG) taken during exercise tests may help identify people with blocked or narrowed coronary arteries, a condition that can lead to heart attacks, cardiologists at the University of Wisconsin Medical School have found.

Signal-averaged electrocardiograms may be able to detect coronary artery disease at least as well as standard EKGs and with more precise numerical readings, according to Dr. E. Wayne Grogan, Jr., UW Medical School assistant professor of cardiology and director of cardiac electrophysiology at UW Hospital and Clinics. The procedure, which involves no risk or discomfort to the patient, may help physicians determine who should be tested further.

"Exercise tests detect only about 75% of all patients with coronary artery disease," Grogan said. In addition, the standard EKG is affected adversely by medications the patient might be taking and other heart conditions unrelated to coronary artery disease, problems which do not appear to affect signal averaging, he added.

Although another more precise test, the thallium test, can detect up to 90% of these patients, it is expensive and involves injecting a small amount of radioactive substance into the body.

So Grogan and cardiology fellow Dr. Dirk Ver Steeg, UW Medical School clinical instructor, used a signal-averaged EKG to see if it could analyze the effects of exercise and determine which people have coronary artery disease.

They will present these findings in May at the annual meeting of the North American Society of Pacing and Electrophysiology in San Diego.

Dr. Grogan is the son of Dr. and Mrs. E. Wayne Grogan of Rockville, Maryland and the grandson of Vera Grogan of Bogata.

Patriot Sports Report

Pats Fall To Mt. Vernon Tigers, 19-1

The Prairiland Patriots faced the Mt. Vernon Tigers last Monday in their first baseball game of district play. The Patriots took first bat and three consecutive outs in the first inning. It was then Dexter Baker up to pitch for the Patriots. The Tigers hit three homers before the third out was obtained. The score at the end of the first inning stood at 3-0, Mt. Vernon. The second inning was again 3 up-3 down for the Patriots, bringing Mt. Vernon up to bat. The three outs against Mt. Vernon were secured at first with one batter being walked. The next inning still failed to yield a score for Prairiland. Mt. Vernon, however, batted in five runs for an 8-0 lead before their turn at bat was up. Michael Madewell advanced to first in the fourth to be batted in by Shane Morton with a drive to center-field. Baker was relieved by Jimmy Little in the bottom of the fourth inning. Little gained one out before being replaced by Brandon Bell, who added one out, striking one batter out. The third out came from a pop fly caught by Chris Sturch, but not before the Tigers had exhausted 15 batters and scored 11 runs. The fifth inning was again 3 up-3 down for the Patriots, and the game ended with the score 19-1. The Patriots also played Mineola and Rains last week, losing to each by a one-point margin, with the scores standing at 6-5, 13-12, respectively.

Overjoyeditis Afflicts Firemen!

It's been reported that a number of Deport citizens, mostly male, are suffering from a peculiar affliction. They are suffering from severe muscle cramps of the face.

Expert Medical opinion states that this condition is the result of smiling delightedly for more than 48 hours straight...and that is what has happened to these victims of "OverJoyeditis Deportius Firemanius" better known as Deport Volunteer Firemen who are tickled pink with their new fire truck!

Yes, citizens, the long-awaited, long worked for fire truck is here. (Hey, the work isn't done yet). Most of the people in town must be aware of this, since the new, shiny truck has been driving up and down the streets since its arrival Sunday night! And each and every one of those volunteer fire fighters, when they take their turn at learning the operation of the vehicle, have a smile as wide as can be.

In all the smiles, though, they haven't forgotten the real purpose of the truck, which is to better serve their community and the area by providing them with the finest fire protection possible. And they haven't forgotten all the donations, all the time, and all the herculian efforts that have gone towards making this new fire fighting equipment a reality eith.

So, when that big red truck goes by as they make a practice run, return those smiles and give 'em a wave...and remember, you had a big part in making the truck a reality too!

DEPORT VARIETY STORE & CITY DRUG STORE

Hello, Doctor? It's my daughter...she's running a fever and it's getting worse...Can you...hello...

hello?

At Contel, we know how important a properly functioning phone system is. Sometimes, it can literally be a matter of life or death.

Unfortunately, not everyone understands. Every month-especially in the spring--numerous phone cables are cut in Contel's local serving area due to digging.

Contel posts warnings on telephone line pedestals and along cable routes indicating where cable is buried in the area. A toll-free 24-hour telephone number (1-800-628-2DIG) is printed on those warnings so that anyone planning to dig can call Contel. We will immediately dispatch someone to mark the exact cable location, free of charge.

Please, call Contel before you dig. Because when you cut a phone line, it is more than just inconvenient. A lot more.
