Recipes. Everywhere we look there are recipes. Recipes for light foods, cool foods, hot foods, fattening foods, slimming foods!

Microwave recipes, one dish meals, complicated and simple, recipes abound.

Monday morning I was talking with several other women, and the subject of old recipes came up.

And for perhaps the first time, I realised what a treasure there is in history contained in something as simple as a recipe.

To begin with, every area in the world has it's own recipes. Various dishes are traditional in one area and unknown in another.

And the ingredients available in a time before supermarkets dictated what kind of recipes were treasured and handed down.

Blackberry cobbler is a favorite throughout east Texas. But in many parts of the country blackberries are unknown, so no such recipe exists.

A friend who was born in the Dakotas said that cornbread was a dessert all the years of growing up. It was sweet, like cake. After marriage to an East Texas she discovered that sweet cornbread was heresy, in his opinion!

But even more than being different, old recipes that are treasured and handed down from generation to generation are an indication of the roots and beginnings of a family.

Almost everyone has a "tea cake" recipe from grandma. These cookies are delicious. They are also the direct product of modifying a Scotch shortbread recipe to fit the ingredients on hand. That, of course, reflects the Scotch immigration to the U.S.

Recipes for Jewish foods are rare in this area...reflecting the fact that there was almost no Jewish immigration into this countryside.

German recipes about in South Texas, and west, where the Germans settled in colonies and numbers.

Stews were common Irish food, and many people still call them "Mulligan" stews, as their Irish forebears did.

Chili is an acquired taste for this area, but many people have recipes that have been used for two or three generations.

Its a rare family that doesn't have two or three recipes, for a special coconut cake, shortbread, cobbler, casseroles, or even canning recipes.

Frequently these recipes are written on stained and ragged cardboard, and the title reads "Aunt Mimi's Gingerbread" or "Grandma's pecan cake".

We all make these special foods giving very little thought to the fact that they reflect heritage, a family's personal tastes, and the ingredients readily available in an earlier time.

Families might even consider making up a "family cookbook" interspersed with short recollections and stories. For the recipes are special. They are part of our inheritance, and as such, should be explained and carefully preserved for a younger generation.

Three Die, One Injured In Wreck

The community of Deport was stricken along with surviving family members Saturday evening when three Deport residents were killed and another seriously injured when a car/pickup collision occurred Saturday afternoon on FM 410 just south of Detroit.

Edith Arriaga, age 54, and her granddaughter, five-year-old Crystal Smith, were pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace James Smith, according to Department of Public Safety reports.

Tracie Smith and her son, Christopher Smith, age 9, were airlifted by helicopter to St. Michael's Hospital in Texarkana, where Mrs. Smith later died from her injuries.

Tuesday afternoon relatives reported Christopher Smith was stable, and out of Intensive Care, but still faces several surgeries.

The accident occurred about 5:45 p.m., just after a 1988 Chevrolet pickup, driven by Kelly Copelin of Paris, turned onto the eastbound lane and accelerated to speed, according to reports. Copelin told DPS Trooper

Jim Trammell that he had been adjusting the radio dials when he looked up and found he was in the wrong

The Smith/Arriaga vehicle, a 1986 Oldsmobile, was straight ahead of him, and he swerved back to the east bound lane. As he did so, Tracie Smith, the driver of the Oldsmobile, also swerved in the eastbound lane, attempting to avoid the collision, DPS reports indicate.

The two vehicles collided head on. Copelin was not injured in the accident.

Edith Arriaga was the mother-in-law of Tracie Smith and the grandmother of Tracie's two children, Crystal and Christopher. The group was on their way to Detroit to a Little League ball game. Christopher is a member of the Deport Little League Team.

Joint funeral services were held Tuesday, June 19 at the First Baptist Church in Deport with the Rev. Glen Renfro and the Rev. David Hamm officiating.

Burial followed in Highland Cemetery by Grant Funeral Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Ford Have A Way With Hobbies

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Ford are long-time Rugby residents with a variety of skills and hobbies.

They both use their hands to create interesting and unusual items. Both retired, they are seldom idle, preferring to keep busy with a variety of activities.

Their very pleasant house features a perfect miniature windmill, patterned after the Dutch windmills, as a centerpiece for a flowerbed. The windmill was hand made by Lloyd from plans he found in a magazine.

Mrs. Ford paints and pieces quilts. Many of the quilt tops go to Colorado City and Houston, where they are sold for top dollar.

The Fords originally lived in the Paris area. They had a place at Ford's Academy from 1942 until 1946, but the construction of Camp Maxey, the war-time army camp, meant that they had to move.

They purchased a place on the highway in Rugby, located between Deport and Bogata, from Mr. Lemons.

The couple opened a country grocery store, with all the usual items for sale.

It wasn't until 1950 they Herbie Stevens was talking to Lloyd about having problems with the lawn mower he had bought. Lloyd vows he said he didn't know much about them, but he'd try. He managed to fix the machine, and soon everyone in the area was bringing their lawn mower to him for repairs.

That became an even bigger business as more and more people told friends and relatives about his proficiency with lawn mowers, and eventually the grocery became a lawn mower business.

Lloyd recalls that his mother lived in East Post Oak back in 1950. She had electricity, so he traded her an

Roadside Mowing To Begin

Now that most wildflowers have gone to seed and the native grasses and high weeds have begun to overshadow the ones that are left, the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation has awarded 17 contracts to mow the rights-of-way of more than 2,600 miles of highways located in the nine-county area of Atlanta District.

According to Lawrence L. Jester, Jr., district engineer, there are usually two cycles of mowing each year, with the first beginning in early June right after the wildflowers have gone to seed, and the second beginning in late September toward the end of the growing season so the roadsides will remain clear all winter.

Jester noted that hiring private contractors to mow rights-of-ways allow the department to holds costs down by not having to bear the added expense of hiring temporary personnel and purchasing and maintaining extra mowing equipment.

The cost of this year's contracts totaled $934,340 and will cover mowing rights-of-way along all state maintained highways in Bowie, Camp, Cass, Harrison, Marion, Morris, Panola, Titus and Upshur Counties, Jester said.

Kent To Attend FHA Meeting

Holley Kent, junior at Prairiland High School will be one of 400 Texas delegates attending the 1990 Future Homemakers of America National Leadership Meeting, July 14-17 in San Antonio.

Representing more than 42,000 members of the Texas Association, she will be among approximately 3,000 delegates throughout the nation attending the four day conference.

The youth developed meeting theme "Accept the Challenge" was designed to focus on challenges the new decade brings. Members are encouraged to accept the challenge to make a difference by being actively involved in national programs addressing the issues facing today's youth. Students will participate in competitive events during the week, as well as share success stories from Texas chapters, and attending sessions and in-depth programs and leadership roles.

Future Homemakers of America is a vocational student organization for home economics education students in junior and senior high schools. This organization is the only vocational organization that is the family as its central focus and is an integral part of the vocational home economics curriculum.

Accompanying Holley to the conference will be her advisors, Sandra Graves and Rhonda Bangs.

McDowell Reunion Held

The McDowell reunion was held in the Dunlap Rescue Squadron Building in Dunlap, TN on June 9.

A catered lunch was served and the president, Wilburn McDowell, presided over the business meeting and recognized several out-of-state guests. Prizes were awarded for traveling the farthest and the oldest and youngest in attendance. Guests were from Illinois, Tennessee and Texas.

The reunion is planned for June 8, 1991 at the same location with Wilburn McDowell as president. Ruth and Stanley O'Brien received the prize for traveling the farthest from Garland, Texas.

After the reunion, Clay McDowell of Illinois gave a tour of the old John H. McDowell home at Rock Island, TN, purchased in 1865, a two-story, complete with underground cellar and double fireplace. The original kitchen detached from the house, has been removed and attached to the house, complete with water well on the porch. The tour of the grounds included the huge log barn where he rested his horses and exchanged horses for his stage coach drives. Part of the grape vineyard is still producing and the spring that served water for livestock and family washing is flowing among the trees. Also land joining the McDowell farm was owned by his daughter and son-in-law, the late Jesse and Mary E. McDowell Day who came to Lamar County in 1901, along with their six children, all deceased. They were John H. Day, Tom Day, Cummings Day, Mary Helen McHam, James E. Day and Herman Day, most of the family is buried in Shady Grove Cemetery.

Russell Reunion Held

The descendants of two Civil War veterans, Willis Russell and John W. Keel gathered for their first reunion at Armstrong Church of Christ picnic grounds on June 10 in Irving College, TN. The original church has been rebuilt, along with covered picnic areas, and on the slope of the mountain is the Armstrong Cemetery. Willis Russell's grave was decorated with the Civil War marker and confederate flag, placed by his great-great-granddaughter, Glenda Stubblefield Young, who directed the tour of the cemetery and served as president of the reunion.

A picnic lunch was served to approximately 70 guests, including several generations traveling from parts of Tennessee and Texas, Michigan and Ohio.

Clinton Keel of Nashville was elected president for the 1991 reunion to be held on June 9 at the same location. He gave the invocation and presided over a brief business session. Door prizes were awarded and Stanley and Ruth O'Brien received a painting as first prize.

Willis Russell was a farmer in Safety Holler, part of the acreage now owned by Clinton Keel. John W. Keel owned 400 acres on the mountain and moved to Manchester, TN where he is buried.

Rodgers Graduates Staff School

Capt. Richard L. Rodgers has graduated from the Army's Combined Arms and Services Staff School at Fort Leavenworth, KS. The cornerstone of the Army's officer education system, the course is designed to train officers in the skills needed to be effective staff members with the force in the field. The curriculum included preparing a command budget, setting up training programs, mobilizing and deploying mock units, and giving staff presentations. Rodgers is the son of Joe N. and Waka N. Rodgers of Blossom. His wife, Audelia, is the daughter of Bernabe and Maria A. Rodriguez of Copperas Cove. He is a 1974 graduate of Prairiland High School and a 1982 graduate of the University of North Florida at Jacksonville.

4-H News

By John Senter
The County 4-H Council Elections will be Thursday, June 21 at 7 p.m. at the Chamber of Commerce. All members of the 1989-90 Council will be expected to attend and help select officers for next year. Applications for the County 4-H Ambassador team are now available. The team will be selected from the submitted applicants and members will represent the County 4-H program at various civic clubs, fund raisers plus county and district activities.

Some of the criteria to be met are: members must be 13 or older; applicants must be active in all aspects of 4-H; must be willing to speak in front of groups. The KOYN Concert will be July 3 at Maddox Stadium. If you are at least 13 and have a green 4-H t-shirt and want to work and see the concert, call us. The county 4-H record book training held on July 9 was successful. All county record books and project completion forms will be due no later than July 5. This is the absolute deadline so don't let it slip up on you.

Dr. White Announces Opening of Dr. Silverman's Office In Paris

Dr. E. Sidney White has recently announced the office opening of Robert A. Silverman, M.D. at the Wardell Race for Life Building, 1025 DeShong Drive in Paris, in the practice of Internal Medicine beginning June 18.

Silverman, a native of Petersburg, Virginia, has achieved numerous awards and certifications in his medical career. He was the recipient of the Physicians Recognition Award of the American Medical Association in 1982 and 1985, and has been certified in advanced trauma support, basic cardiac life support and is an advanced cardiac life support instructor.

An undergraduate for the Virginia Commonwealth University in Richmond, VA, he received his Bachelor of Science degree in 1975 with honors. Upon completing tenure in the Air Force, he attended the Medical College of Virginia in Richmond. He completed his internship and residence at the Wilsford Hall U.S.A.F. Medical Center in San Antonio from July 1979 to June 1982.

At the completion of his residence, Silverman served as a staff internist in Tampa, Florida and opened his private practice there also. He became director of internal medicine at the U.S.A.F. Regional Hospital at MacDill Air Force Base.

In April 1987, Silverman joined a group practice at the Medical Arts Clinic in Ennis. At Baylor Medical Center, Ennis, he has served as vice chief of staff, Director of Infection Control, and served on the Pharmacy and Therapeutic Committee, Utilization Review Committee and Medical Staff Quality Assurance Committee.

He and his wife, Anne, are the parents of two children, Eve and Jeremy.

Dr. Silverman is a member of the American College of Physicians, The American Medical Association, and the Texas Medical Association, Ellis County Medical Association, Reference Committee on Scio-Economics and to the 1989 Annual Session, Texas Medical Association.

EIA Test Is The Law

Barrel racers, calf ropers, steer wrestlers, team ropers, trail riders or anyone taking horses to fairs, races or events must have the animals tested for Equine Infectious Anemia, an infectious virus that can weaken or kill infected animals. Although some horses infected with the virus develop symptoms of fever and weight loss, other horses appear healthy, but carry the virus and could spread disease.

To protect against the virus, the Texas Animal Health Commission requires that, along with the customary certificate of veterinary inspection, an EIA test document must also be shown when horses are taken to an event.

The certificate of veterinary inspection is valid 45 days for animals that are not to be sold. The EIA test, commonly known as a Coggins test, must have been run within the previous six months. To run the test, a veterinarian draws blood from the animal and sends a sample to one of the U.S. Department of Agriculture approved laboratories, of which 30 are located in Texas.

EIA can be transmitted from an infected horse by biting flies, blood transfusions, or by the use of unsterilized and contaminated medical instruments, such as needles or scalpels. Animals affected by the disease include horses, donkeys, asses and other members of the equine family.

During the state's 1989 fiscal year (September 1988-89), 484 EIA reactor horses were found in Texas, with most cases occurring in Northeast and Gulf Coast Texas. Since September 1989, another 414 EIA reactors have been found, and 164 of these were in TAHC's Area 4, which includes Mt. Pleasant.

When an EIA reactor is confirmed, a TAHC veterinarian or animal health inspector works with the owner and private veterinarian to determine how to care for the animal. State regulations require that the owner must choose either to keep the infected animal permanently quarantined at least 200 yards from other horses; obtain a permit to transport the animal to a TAHC-approved research or diagnostic facility to aid in disease research, or have the animal destroyed.

Sarah Kelly To Be Honored

Sarah Kelly, the daughter of Nancy and Ledford Kelly of Georgetown, and a student at Georgetown Junior High School, will be honored for her academic achievement at a statewide ceremony on June 11, 1990 at Trinity University in San Antonio. The recognition ceremony is sponsored by the Duke University Talent Identification Program (TIP) to salute the seventh-graders from Texas who qualified in TIP's tenth annual Talent Search. All students invited to the ceremony have earned scores on the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or the American Testing Assessment (ACT) comparable to college-bound high school seniors.

The highest scores will also receive scholarships and books.

TIP conducts recognition ceremonies in each of the 16 states it serves in the Southeast, Midwest, and the Southwest. Over 55,000 mathematically and verbally gifted seventh-graders are identified by this program each year. TIP offers additional educational opportunities for gifted students in seventh through tenth grades.

TIP is a nonprofit educational organization established in 1980 with a five year grant from the Duke Endowment. The program receives continuing support from the student fees, individuals, corporations, and foundations.

Presbyterian Women Meet

Mrs. Myrtle Singleton entertained the circle of the Deport Presbyterian Women at her home in Blossom on June 11. Nine members were present for a buffet meal.

Mrs. Reba Temple, moderator, opened the meeting with prayer.

The Least Coin devotion was given by Miss Edith Fuller, featuring "Justice, Peace, Creation, Let Us Act" using the scripture Isa. 61:1-3. The devotional was written by a woman of El Salvador entitled "A Voie from El Salvador". The Bible lesson was directed by Mrs. Tom Foley, "Prepare To Make A Defense" from I Peter 3:8-17. The lesson emphasized fine things that all Christians need for the community of faith to be united. The fine things needed by all Christians are listed in verse 8 are: "unity of spirit", "sympathy", "love of the brethren", "a tender heart" and "a humble mind". In the church all must be of like spirit, share the feelings of all, and be of a humble mind. Mrs. Foley closed the study with prayer.

For the mission study, Mrs. Temple discussed the work being done by the women of the First Presbyterian Church in Whitesboro, Alabama.

The meeting was closed with the Mizpah benediction.

Helpful Hints On Cleaning

Did You Know?
A soft towel wet with chlorine bleach will remove stains from your butcher block end table.
Always test stained areas before trying to remove the entire stain.
Test a small area of the stain using a medicine dropper filled with soapy water.
Stained outdoor chrome furniture can be cleaned with vinegar, a sponge and water.
If a fabric stain is stubborn, work detergent into a paste and let stand overnight before laundering.

A Farewell To Holland, All Too Soon

By Nanalee Nichols

The last day in Holland. Determined to make the most of it, we set off that morning for the Van Gogh museum in Amsterdam. Because of the parking problems, our bus let us off at the door and drove away.

Imagine our surprise when, one of the first in line, we were confronted with an angry guard who didn't want to let us in. It seems that the travel agency had handed Anne Marie the wrong packet of tickets, giving our group tickets for the previous day, and the previous day had received ours. Since it all balanced out equally, we couldn't understand what the fuss was about. Finally, I put hands on hips and said "it isn't OUR fault, you know". It acted like a switch! The gentleman immediately apologized and promised to take it up with the tour company, not us!

Inside the modern, contemporary structure we progressed through over two hundred of Van Gogh paintings, through his years of struggle, through his years in an insane asylum, through his years of progressive depression.

There on the wall were sad, moving portraits and amazing interpretations of a landscape we had seen daily for the last ten days.

Then, that afternoon we went on to Zaan Schauns, a sea-side town where the buildings were all in dark green, trimmed with pristine white and curved, false facades.

There five windmills sat in a row along a dike, turning in a cold, high wind. It created a picture from the past.

We wandered through a cheese factory where fresh milk was converted into rich, yellow rounds of cheese.

On to a clog makers we saw hundreds upon hundreds of pairs of wooden shoes...painted, carved, plain and varnished, they hung from walls and ceilings alike while workmen bent over lathes and used hooks and knives to create the unusual, but practical shoes. The work "clomp" comes from the Dutch word for the loud footwear "Klommen".

We climbed up into the inside of a windmill, feeling the huge structure rumble and shake from the power of the wind whirling the huge blades. The blades have sails on them so that their speed and strength can be regulated.

The windmill we were in is called "Van Katt" "the cat". Most of the mills have names, often affectionate. And indeed, they almost seem to have personalities.

Climbing through the 3 story structure on narrow, steep ladders, I finally began to get claustrophobic, and left my fascinated husband filming moving wooden cogs and wheels. Making my way slowly and carefully down the last ladder it was with shock that I felt a tremendous blow to the top of my head. Nearly knocked out I clung desperately to the ladder. Momentarily stunned, I finally registered that a Dutchman in wooden clogs was hanging on to the ladder above me.

"This ladder is for going down" he said indignantly.

"Yeah," I retorted angrily, and that's exactly what I was trying to do!"

Instantly remorseful he said "Oh, sorry, you were going down carefully" and with that he jumped around me and swarmed down the remaining ladders much like a monkey, wooden clogs and all!

Sitting outside, out of the wind waiting for Thomas I nursed the big lump on top of my head, thinking dark thoughts. As soon as the headache ended, so did my ill temper, however.

We went to bakeries, candy makers, the dairy and costume museum.

Little canal laced the immaculate town, and the ever-present bicycles whizzed up and down.

Finally we had to leave, and return for our last night in Amsterdam. There, revived by hot tea and a hot shower, we readied ourselves to walk through the streets of the city as a group for the last time.

We arrived at an Indonesian restaurant for a "Rikstable", and Indonesian speciality where various dishes are served to be passed up and down the length of the table. The best way to describe the food, which ranged from mild to fiery hot, was a cross between Chinese and East Indian food.

Finally, our farewells said, our group already dissolving, we wandered through the streets of Amsterdam, past shimmering canals and garish "joints", monuments and tacky souvenir shops, for the last time.

The next day it was one last ride to Shiropol airport for a ride on the big KLM Royal Dutch Airlines jet to Atlanta. Left behind was a nation of proud, clean people, whose views on the world may be different from ours, but who were friendly, healthy people.

It may well be one of the best trips we have ever taken, and one I would recommend to anyone with a love of beauty.

WINDMILLS-at the Zaan Schauns, a traditional Dutch sea town, are numerous windmills, three stories high and grinding a variety of things from limestone for linoleum to flour. The immaculate town was picturesque, and included cheese and clog makers. (Staff Photo by Nanalee Nichols)

Rodeo, Frontier Day Activities Planned For June 28-29-30

Each year during the last full weekend of June, one of northeast Texas' most exciting events takes place right here in Bogata. You've got it, the Bogata Rodeo Association's annual championship rodeo and the Bogata Lions Club's Frontier Day activities.

This year, the weekend is June 28-29-30, with three rodeo performances scheduled for 8:30 p.m. nightly at the Bogata Rodeo Arena, just three blocks southwest of downtown Bogata.

In addition to the championship rodeo events scheduled for this year's rodeo, a new, exciting event will take place on Thursday night, June 28, for females only, the first annual Calf Dressing Contest. This event is open to three-member teams, and only the first six teams will be accepted. Each team is required to have a sponsorship of $50.00 for the competition. Anyone interested in entering the Calf Dressing should contact Eddy Denny at 632-5716.

The Frontier Day activities will begin at 7:30 a.m. on Saturday, June 30, with a free pancake breakfast for everyone, compliments of the Lions Club.

Following the pancake breakfast, a host of events will be held at the Bogata Community Center during the day, including the famous dunking booth, featuring Bogata's upstanding businessmen and the city's finest. A complete schedule of the day's activities are listed below.

Anyone interested in an arts and crafts booth should contact Donnie Lewis at 632-5387. There is a $5.00 charge for space.

The second annual Duck Race will be held at 12:45 p.m. on Saturday, with a $1,000 purse. Registered ducks, please. Tickets for the race may be obtained from any Lions Club member at a cost of $10.00 each.

On Thursday afternoon at 5 p.m., the first of two rodeo parades will tour downtown Bogata. The second parade will be held on Saturday afternoon, also at 5 p.m.

The Bogata Lions Club will be in charge of the concessions at the Bogata Rodeo this year.

Summer-like temperatures will soar when the Bogata Rodeo Arena stands fill up to watch the 1990-style Bogata rodeo, sponsored by the Bogata Rodeo Association, and produced by the Wing Rodeo Company, home-based in Bogata.

This year will mark the 23rd consecutive year that the Bogata rodeo has been produced by the Wing Rodeo Company.

This year's rodeo is approved by the Cowboys Regional Rodeo Association, headquartered in Shawnee, OK, and co-approved by the Central Rodeo Association, a state association based in Irving.

Thursday night's performance will be highlighted by the annual drawing for the Hub Whiteman savings bond.

Also on Thursday night, the Arigo Riders drill team will perform, and again during Friday's performance.

On Friday evening, that performance will be dedicated to the memory of Ronnie White of Bogata.

On Saturday, the Red River Riders drill team will perform.

A calf scramble for the youngsters will be held at each performance of the rodeo, and the rodeo band "Texas Express" will be back in Bogata again to entertain spectators with their musical talents.

Winners from last year's Bogata rodeo include: bareback riding, Jimmy Rivette, Katy, TX; saddle bronc riding, David Warren, Bogata, TX; calf roping, Robby Woodrell, Sapulpa, OK; steer wrestling, Coty Battles, Stringtown, OK; cowgirls barrel racing, Suzie Pruitt, Ardmore, OK; team roping, Ryan Hammett-Todd Williams, Bogata, TX. Rick Yocham of Bartlesville, OK was the All Around Champion and was awarded a trophy belt buckle, along with his prize money winnings.

Rodeo tickets are on sale now from any Princess contestant for $3.50 advance for adults. Tickets at the gate will be $4.00 for adults and $3.00 for children.

Entries for the rodeo will be open on Monday, June 25 from 5 to 10 p.m., at 214/966-2231. No early or late entries will be accepted. Local entries within a 25-mile radius will be accepted at the discretion of the rodeo committee.
