

Nichols
Worth

By Nanalee Nichols

My Aunt told me to write this column...and like the attentive, dutiful niece I am I'm following her instructions!

Last week we went down to Port Isabel to visit with my cousins and my aunt and uncle. They become "winter Texans" fleeing the ice and snow of northern Oklahoma each year for the palm trees and good fishing of the Texas coast.

On Saturday we trooped, along with six of their friends, across the international bridge to Progreso in Mexico to do some serious shopping.

Some years ago someone named Arturo built a bridge and then a Mexican restaurant in the middle of now where. Now an entire town has grown up around the restaurant.

Street vendors hawk fresh steamed corn on the cob, balloons, tacos, dulce (sweets) and a bewildering variety of other items from push carts.

At small card tables boys sell beautiful iron-wood carvings of dolphins, eagles, shells and much more. They patiently bring the items to a flossy finish by rubbing them with shoe polish and soft cloths.

Women sell lace tablecloths, eucalyptus branches, and pencils with hand-woven names on them.

Tourists and natives alike wander back and forth up the narrow sidewalks gawking, shopping and attending to daily business.

Barber shops and beauty parlors flourish, while "dentistas" offer dentures for as little as $75.

Sadly, small beggars and the very old sit on curbs and benches, raching out a hand in supplication.

It creates a medley of color, sound and smell that either fascinates (our reaction) or repulses.

"Why", you may ask at this point, "did her aunt want her to write this column?"

Well, because last week I wrote about mud...and she says I hadn't seen mud until Progreso.

You see, it was coming a light rain while we wandered the streets of Progreso, Mexico.

And in Progreso only one street is paved, the main street. And all the cars and trucks bring mud onto that one main street. Within an hour the main street was an inch deep in slick brown slime. The sidewalks weren't quite as deep, but were as slick.

Carefully we would link arms and venture across the street, dodging ancient vehicles spinning their wheels and slipping around.

We would pick our way down the tile sidewalks and try to get soe of the grainy stuff off our feet before entering a store.

Puddles several inches deep would bar the way.

But, the main difference between our sticky mud and theirs was the degree of cleanliness.

Mud up here is just mud. Mud down there, I'm convinced, might be fatal. It has to be germ-laden!

So, I counted myself lucky to have fallen in "clean" mud instead of the stuff down there. I don't need "Montezuma's Revenge", I don't, I don't!

SNOWFOLKS!! This mismatched couple arose from the imagination of young Rachel Yarborough of Deport during the recent snowfall. The tall figure was attired in a bright yellow slicker and rain hat, while the very short fellow wore only boots and a cap! The snowfall saw a vast array of snowpeople created by delighted youngsters...and some oldsters!! (Staff Photo by Nanalee Nichols)

SHOWN WITH A BATCH OF Fine Sugar Cookies is Sammie McConnell, who is sharing some of her favorite recipes in this

Country Cooking

By Gerrie Bankhead

The Country Cooking column is being shared this week from the kitchen of Sammie and Sam McConnell of Bogata. Being originally from Snyder and being married for 41 years, they have lived in Bogata for 29 of these years. They have two daughters, Melanie Klein, her husband Ken of Whitehouse and Ginger Foster, her husband Morris and two children, Jill and Allison, all of Bogata. Sammie is a retired beauty operator where she owned and operated her beauty shop in Bogata for 22 years.

Hobbies of Sammie's include fishing, sewing for her granddaughters, reading, cooking, gardening, crocheting, growing plants and helping Sam with his cattle when needed.

Fishing is definitely the most enjoyable hobby for Sammie. She enjoys fishing on their private pools and lakes. Catching catfish and Crappie is her favorite, but really loves every aspect of the sport.

Sammie enjoys reading novels, cooking desserts, gardening and having lots of fresh vegetables to eat. She enjoys raising vegetables to share with family and friends. She has a very unusual raised garden and is often teased about having the only garden you can actually fall off of. Sammie makes a lot of crafts. She makes most of her Christmas decorations and uses a lot of pine cones, cedar and tree limbs. She enjoys paper mache crafts most of all. Sammie is sharing a variety of recipes this week and we hope you enjoy them.

The Fine Sugar Cookie recipe came from her sister, Bobbie Soules of Goldtwite about five years ago, it is low in fat and low in calories. The Sour Dough Biscuits is a recipe she is always getting compliments on everytime she fixes them. It came from Alice Ann White about ten years ago. The Hominny Casserole came from Anita Stubblefield about 12 years ago. The Meat Loaf recipe came from the Methodist Cookbook by the late Mrs. Garren about 10 years ago. The Chocolate Cake recipe came from her late sister, Wilma Newton, about 15 years ago. She especially loves this recipe because it is all in one pan and you don't even use a mixer. The Osgood Pie recipe came from Lou Ella Swaim of Bogata about 20 years ago. The Green-Green Salad is her own original recipe and she calls it this because all the vegetables in it are green.

If you have enjoyed the article, want to make a suggestion, or a request, please call at 652-6032 or write to Rt. 1, Box 56C, Deport, TX 75435.

Patriots Drop To 0-3 In District

By David Singleton

The Prairiland Patriots found the going tough in the second week of district 13-3A action.

On Tuesday, the Pats traveled to Mt. Vernon. Swede Ladd's three pointer gave the Patriots their first lead at 3-2, but the Tigers pushed ahead to 6-3 at the 4:50 mark. Ladd connected on another trey to tie the game, but the Tigers scored the last eight points of the quarter.

The score was 19-6 before David Singleton scored three buckets to counter the same from Mt. Vernon. The scoreboard read 25-12 with 4:15 left in the quarter, but the Tigers took advantage of liberal foul shot opportunities to close the half at 38-14.

The second half saw a fine shooting effort by sophomore Brock Blasingame go toward the eventual Patriot defeat 64-39. Ladd led the Pats with 12 points, followed by Blasingame with 10 and Singleton with eight.

On Friday, the Patriots tangled with the ninth ranked Mineola Yellowjackets. The first quarter the Pats held in check for only eight points as the Jackets took a 17-8 lead.

Jimmy Little hit two three-pointers in the second quarter, but that was all the outclassed Patriots could muster. The score was 40-14 Mineola, at the halftime break.

In the third quarter, the Pats matched their first half point production with an additional fourteen points. Swede Ladd connected with three treys, but the quarter ended with Mineola in control, 69-28.

Wes Rhoades and Justin Gordon combined for four buckets in the fourth but the final tally read 96-43, Mineola. Ladd had 11 points followed by Little with 9, Gordon with 7 and Rhoades with 6.

trolled the scoring tempo, and came away with a 63-45 victory.

Lady Pat Jan Scudder led the Patriots with 17 points.

TAX TIPS

from Mark Bower CPA

GETTING A TAX DEDUCTION FOR BAD DEBTS

Tight economic conditions require businesses to make hard choices in allocating their cash flow. Usually, available cash is first channeled to those creditors whose continued support is required for business operations. Sometimes, the funds used for these purposes include payroll taxes withheld from employees (trust fund, taxes). This is a bad policy. Once a business begins using these funds, the peril accelerates with a speed that is often fatal. In addition to the unpaid taxes, penalties and interest will accrue and compound rapidly. "Borrowing" from the IRS by using payroll taxes for a business's other cash needs is the most expensive loan possible. Even the demise of a business does not absolve the owner (manager) of the requirement to remit the withheld taxes plus penalties and interest.

The IRS is allowed to pursue collection of withholding taxes from any "responsible person". Responsible persons include partners, corporate officers and employees who can direct payment of business funds. Besides being responsible for unremitted taxes, such persons may be liable for a penalty equal to the amount of unpaid withholding taxes (100% penalty).

Troubled businesses should make every possible attempt to keep current with their payroll tax deposits. If the complete deposit cannot be made, at least deposit the trust fund taxes (withheld FICA and federal income tax) and designate payment as trust fund taxes. This will mitigate exposure to the 100% penalty and reduce the penalty and interest applicable to the unpaid tax. Realistically assess the business's prospects. If you're using the IRS for financing, your business is probably near the end. It may be better to close the doors than to accumulate an increasing personal liability.

Call our office for more information or for assistance with these and other required tax filings.

Good neighbors with good advice for saving energy

You can reduce energy waste by taking a few simple steps to lower the amount of energy needed to heat water in your home. For many water heaters, an insulation blanket is an easy way to save energy. A leaking hot water faucet wastes energy, so check regularly for leaks.

For more ways to save energy, call or visit your local TNP office today and ask for a copy of the "Energy Management Guide."

Sue Smith, a clerk in Texas-New Mexico Power Company's West Columbia office, can help customers with their energy questions. Employees in all of the communities TNP serves are a good source of advice for using energy wisely.

Jack Malone
Candidate
Precinct 1
Commissioner
Lamar County

As a candidate for Commissioner of Precinct 1, Lamar County, I understand what it takes to keep the roads in good repair and having been in several different types of businesses, I know the value of a dollar and know that the tax payers deserve a better accounting from the Commissioners Court on how their tax dollars are spent.

I have always respected and admired the way Mr. Jimmie Sparks and Mr. Mutt Harvey stayed out in the Precinct working side by side with their men, and if elected I will do the same and not spend the majority of my time at the Court House needlessly wasting your tax dollars.

Choices for a better life. . .

Another Choice For Deport
Open Heart Surgery at St. Joseph's

If you are facing heart surgery, the last thing you want is to be away from home and family, a stranger in an unfamiliar city. And yet, when it is your heart, you want the best of care—wherever that might be.

Until recently, people in Deport who needed heart surgery had no choice—they had to leave the area to receive the care they needed.

No longer! St. Joseph's brings you another choice.

Now there is a full service heart center here, close to you, with a proven surgical team bringing years of heart surgery experience to Paris.

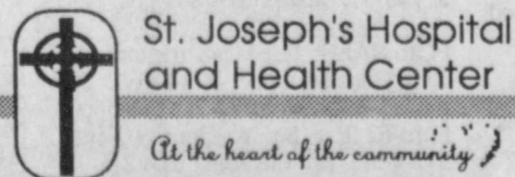

Open heart surgery team at St. Joseph's Heart Center

The Heart Center provides the region's first program of total heart care, including cardiac catheterization and open heart surgery performed by skilled and experienced surgeons. They are backed by a specialist team of surgery nurses and technologists and the most modern post-operative Intensive Care Unit in the area.

Through the center's cardiac rehabilitation program, patients can return to active lives after heart surgery.

For more information about St. Joseph's Heart Center, ask your doctor or contact the center.
