

Nichols
Worth

By Nanalee Nichols

Every now and again I have to have a blood test in order to monitor my arthritis.

Since I had been feeling pretty stiff and achy, I finally broke down and proceeded to go for the test a week or more ago.

As always, this requires a certain amount of "hassle".

The doctor must be seen...the blood drawn, and, of course, arrangements must be made with the business end of the hospital for payment before anything else is done.

So, I waited my turn (or turns, as it may be) and finally found myself at the head of the little line in the business office.

This very pleasant lady took my papers, and began punching information into the computer.

"Nanalee Nichols" she said, and proceeded to quote me my birthday, address, insurance numbers and various other bits of information that the computer revealed.

Brightly she said "Let's see now...the computer indicates that you were last in the hospital in November of 1988."

"Yes" I replied.
"You had surgery then, right" she smiled. Her smile, however, changed into a frown.

Perplexed, she furrowed her brow still further and began pecking on the computer keyboard.

She scrolled up, scrolled down, reached over and perched her reading glasses on her nose and proceeded to look things over once more.

I began wondering just what she had discovered about me when I had the surgery. Had I been a difficult patient? Did my record indicate that I had refused the chicken broth (I WAS guilty of refusing the sordid stuff). Did this mean that they were planning some absolutely horrible retribution if I ever returned?

While these wild thoughts scuttled around in my brain the lady looked up at me still bearing her puzzled, almost fascinated expression.

"We don't show to have ever DISCHARGED you" she said!
A gentleman behind me said softly, "Wow...that's going to be some hospital bill!"

All I could do was stammer that I could only assure them that I had NOT been hospitalized since 1988!

Now, I wonder what would happen if they DID send me a bill/Let's see, at several hundred dollars a day, for approximately 1,730 days, not counting all the things that they would have been doing...uh oh...I think I'm in trouble!

A Twelve-Year Old's View Of Russia

Young Gymnast Sees Country Up Close

By Nanalee Nichols

When you were twelve years old, would you have gone, without your family, with a group to Russia? Many twelve-year olds wouldn't, but for NeLeigh King, and the other youngsters in her group, it was simply another challenge to be met.

NeLeigh is the daughter of Dicky and Jayne King of Reno, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis King of Fulbright and Mr. and Mrs. Travis Bishop of Annona.

She has been involved in gymnastics since she began going to kindergarten. Along the road she has won numerous medals including state competitions.

She was among a group of thirty people-coaches, parents and girls, who have just returned from two weeks in Russia.

Randy and Kay Brown of Paris Gymnastics went, as well as Larry Matthews and daughter Kimberly, Amber Blackburn and Keri Pinalto. The rest of the group was from Georgia.

The trip came about through coach Gary Godson, who knows a Russia gym coach who moved to the US, and they take a group over every year.

The group left from DFW to fly first to Frankfurt, Germany, then on to Saint Petersburg, Russia.

From their hotel overlooking the Gulf of Finland the girls quickly established a routine. For ten days their days followed roughly the same pattern.

Up at 7:00 a.m. they ate breakfast at 8. The meal usually consisted of a fried egg and bread. The girls would bring jars of peanut butter down with them (they had been warned and came prepared with peanut butter, crackers, chocolate mixes and snacks) to help make the bread more palatable.

They rode the thirty miles from their hotel into Saint Petersburg, and worked out at a gym from 10:30 until 12:30. Then they would eat lunch in a restaurant and go sightseeing during the afternoon.

Late in the afternoon they would work out again at a different gym, then go back to the hotel for their evening meal.

One of the real treats, they quickly discovered, was that every third day the hotel had hot water! How they all looked forward to a hot shower instead of an icy one!

During their sightseeing they went into several churches. One of the things they noticed was that there are no pews or seats of any kind! The church of Saint Nicholas, NeLeigh says, was very beautiful. Another place that was gorgeous was the Palace of 1,000 Fountains.

The Russian girls that the American girls worked with all spoke some English. The American girls gave them tee shirts, blue jeans and even gym bags. They were thrilled, and tended to wear the clothing each and every day after that.

Although it is well known that Russian athletes receive excellent treatment, the girls only had one gym outfit apiece.

In fact, the very little girls practice in only their underwear. One knows they have the potential to be a good gymnast when they earn their gym practice outfit! The gyms were cold, with no heat.

"Goody Bags" filled with gums, candies and small items were received by these young Russian gymnasts with obvious delight.

After ten days in Saint Petersburg, the group boarded the famed Orient Express to travel all night across the huge country to Moscow. Of course, if they stayed awake they could see the country going by...the nights are currently only about an hour or so long. One of the things they noticed were many nuclear power plants.

In Moscow the girls were delighted to find that they had hot water daily! They could also drink the tap water...something they were not supposed to do elsewhere in the country because it could cause sickness. Cokes were available for between $1 and $2. Otherwise it was hot tea to drink.

In Moscow they worked out at different gyms morning and evening, went shopping or sightseeing.

NeLeigh says one of the first things they were taken to see was Lenin's body...literally, his body, lying in a glass "box thing".

They saw Red Square and the Kremlin, the famous St. Peter's Basilica with its swirling onion domes and gilt, and went to a place called Scott's which was a blackmarket. Shopping there is an accepted thing, and it was there that the girls found the best prices, and the best goods.

A beautiful hand made porcelain doll, with flaxen hair and hand beaded silk dress cost the young shopper $20. The "stack dolls" that are so well-known were inexpensive, as were lovely handpainted lacquer boxes.

Tee shirts in Russian, clothing and books lined the booths.

A meal at the world's largest McDonalds prompted the record in her diary "Today-RealFood". Mostly, she says, they were served chicken, cucumbers and bread...and more chicken, cucumbers and bread, along with the ubiquitous "Borsch" (beet soup).

What does this young gymnast remember most when asked?

That there was no hot water, that public restrooms expect you to bring your own toilet tissue, that poverty was everywhere and there were beggars outside the churches.

She says that "all the cars look alike, no matter what color or how old, they are all boxes with four doors".

She will tell you in awe that they were served egg and onion pizza, and that on the streets almost everyone wore dark clothing.

She will tell you about a U.S. Coach in a bakery giving an old woman enough money to buy a loaf of bread, because she didn't have enough to buy a slice of bread.

And, she will tell you about the going away party...where all the girls and coaches they had worked with gave the American girls gifts.

The girls actually have nothing to give...literally nothing. So, they had coaches and others bring things that could be spared.

Among the gifts are a baby rattle...post cards, a menu planner (at least that's what she thinks it is) and a book of Russian Fairy Tales, tattered and obviously much-used.

The generosity behind these offerings is obvious...the poverty equally so.

The group from Paris returned Saturday, tired, but much enriched. Working on their gymnastics skills was the smaller portion of all they learned. They encountered a culture most of us basically know little about.

NeLeigh will tell you that she might go back, and had a grand trip. She learned several words of Russian in the two weeks there... "yes", "no", "thank you", "tea", the word for grandmother and the phrase which she greeted her parents with. "Ya Dona" she cried, running full tilt into her mother's arms... "Ya Dona, ya dona"... "I'm Home, I'm Home".

Country Cooking

By Judy Screws

Well once again I'm between a rock and a hard place. I have pictures and write ups but no recipes. This is what I plan to do. Please bear with me. I'm going to go ahead and run the article and picture of Daisy Moss and Ruby Ross from the Woodland Caring and Sharing Fellowship Club, which meets at the Woodland Church weekly. I'll use some other recipes, and when I get their recipes, I'll run them.

Daisy Moss lives in Novice and attends the Lamar Avenue Church of Christ in Paris. She has a son, Benton Moss, who lives with her. Mrs. Moss has 3 grandsons, David, Daniel, and Dean. She also has 3 Great grandchildren, Melanie, Matthew and Megan.

Mrs. Moss reads a lot. She also enjoys quilting. She cooks just about everything, but her family enjoys her Banana Pudding.

She worked as a practical nurse in Dallas 10 years, taking care of the elderly, then she took care of newborns for 15 years. Mrs. Moss was helping to quilt the quilt which was hanging on the quilting frames in the fellowship area of the church. If nothing happens, you should be able to enjoy her recipes soon.

Ruby Ross lives in Woodland. She is a Methodist. She has 2 sons, Jimmy Melton of Woodland and Dean Melton of Tulsa. She has 3 grandsons and 1 granddaughter.

Quilting, traveling, and painting are among her favorite things to do. She is taking lessons in Paris and Detroit.

Mrs. Ross enjoys cooking all kinds of vegetables. When she is supposed to take a covered dish somewhere, she usually takes pies and cobblers. Her cooking is not done much by recipes but rather by pinches and dabs.

Mrs. Ross taught school for 35 years in Detroit elementary school. In fact, she retired from teaching at Detroit. I also plan to feature some of Mrs. Ross' recipes soon.

You all don't give up. I'm sure these recipes will be worth waiting for when we get them.

Have a great week!

With Attic Ventilation, Saving Energy Is Under Control.

Even with insulation and tightly sealed joints, your home needs attic ventilation to control moisture—and to control attic temperatures. Moisture can build up during the winter and reduce the effectiveness of insulation. Stephen A. Wright Participates in Military Training Exercise
Navy Petty Officer 1st Class Stephen A. Wright, a 1977 graduate of Prairiland High School of Pattonville, TX, recently participated aboard the aircraft carrier USS America, homeported in Norfolk, VA, in "Ocean Venture 93," an Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force and Coast Guard training exercise. Wright was one of the more than 20,500 servicemembers who trained with forces from the United Kingdom, France and the Netherlands. Participants in "Ocean Venture 93," which took place off the coast of Puerto Rico, demonstrated the ability of continental United States-based forces to operate in a joint/combined environment with little or no preparation. The exercise, conducted by the U.S. Atlantic Command, included joint airborne, amphibious and helicopter-borne assaults ashore. These units also showed their ability to provide rapid military support to neighbors and allies of the United States, while the joint task force commander and the joint force air component commander demonstrated the ability to operate from ships at sea. USS America is a Kitty Hawk-class aircraft carrier which supports and operates aircraft that engage in attacks on airborne, afloat and ashore targets threatening our use of the sea. The carrier can also engage in sustained operations in support of other forces. This training exercise exemplified the Navy's new strategy entitled "...From the Sea," in which forces are poised to swiftly respond, on short notice, to crises in distant lands, from the sea. He joined the Navy in December 1978.

MODEL 660

KEEP HAYMAKING ON SCHEDULE

The New Holland Model 660 Roll-Belt™ round baler delivers high capacity and excellent reliability. That results in a measurable difference in hay production and bale quality.

The twine-tie mechanism helps make a better bale. Twine tension spring clamps mounted on the twine tubes keep twine tight on the bale for a nice finish across the top. No need to manually extend the twine to start tying.

Flags Make Beautiful Display In Deport

The response to the Deport Community Service Club has been tremendous. Members report compliments from all over town as people enjoyed the sight of 71 flags flying in the breeze July 4th.

One lady reported that when she got up Sunday morning the flags looked absolutely beautiful. Her grandchildren stood outside and pledged allegiance to the flag.

Another reported that main street, with its line of brilliant, red white and blue flags, almost brought tears to her eyes.

The club ran out of materials for the poles or there would have been even more flags up. By Labor Day there will be even more flags flying!

They are still accepting orders for anyone who would like to add to this display. It costs only $15 per year to have them come out five times a year to put a flag up. They furnish flag, pole and socket. The sockets are low, so that lawn mowers can be run over them without any problem.

Contact a club member, call Carlos Ladd or the Deport Times to order your flag today!

Ice cream, because it is high in calories, will tend to warm anyone who eats it.

Disaster Loan Assistance Available For Small Businesses

Businesses in some counties in Texas can now apply for disaster loan assistance from the U. S. Small Business Administration (SBA). Economic Injury Disaster Loans (EIDL) are available to eligible small businesses that suffered a substantial loss of income as a result of severe storms, tornadoes and flooding which occurred May 8 through May 26, 1993.

These loans are not intended to cover physical damages resulting from the severe storms, tornadoes and flooding.

To obtain an application, interested businesses should call the SBA toll-free number, 1-800-366-6303 or TDD 817-267-4688, for the hearing impaired. The deadline for filing an application is February 14, 1994.

Businesses in the following counties can apply for these loans: Clay, Cooke, Fannin, Grayson, Lamar, Montague, and Wichita.

The disaster loan is a working capital loan that can help a business meet installments on long-term debt, accounts payable and overhead expenses that would have been met had the disaster not occurred. Refinancing of long-term debt, however, is not eligible under this loan program. The loan is designed for those businesses with substantial disaster-related needs and will supplement monies the business owner can provide from other sources.

Loans are available for up to $500,000 of actual disaster-related financial needs of the business. Interest rates are 4% and terms may extend to 30 years, depending upon the repayment ability of the individual applicant.

To qualify, businesses must be small by SBA size standards. Businesses that can meet their financial needs through other sources are not eligible. Farmers and ranchers are not eligible for these loans; however, they may be eligible for disaster assistance from other Federal agencies.

Who Says Cows Can't Fly?

Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry bid bon voyage to Texas Brahman heifers bound for Thailand through the TDA export pens at Houston Intercontinental Airport on Monday. The Brahmans are part of a record-breeding sale to the Thai government.
Over 700 Texas cattle, costing more than $840,000, will be sent to Thailand in three air shipments. Thai government farms have been purchasing Texas breeding stock since 1986. A 1991 Brahman purchase by Thailand was the largest of its kind at the time.
"Texans don't know the meaning of the word impossible. We've learned that cows can fly and be happy living somewhere people don't speak in a Texas twang," Perry said. "Texas has long been known for excellent cattle genetics, and the Thai have had great success with our Brahmans. The climates are similar, and our Brahman have helped the Thai improve their own cattle stock."
Ausswin Wongwan, director of Complete Agriculture Systems of Thailand, purchased the cattle for the Thai Department of Livestock Development. The Thai government runs 32 farms and the Brahman heifers will be distributed over those farms to improve the quality of Thai Brahmans.
On Monday, 310 heifers were loaded onto special 747 jumbo jets bound for Bangkok. The cattle were selected from 69 Brahman breeders across Texas. The total economic impact of the deal is over $2.6 million.
In 1991, The Thai government purchased 660 head of Texas Brahman, the largest single Texas cattle purchase by any foreign country in the past 20 years and the largest effort ever by Thailand.
Under Perry, TDA began a marketing program called "Texas Livestock...Best in Any Language," which promotes the excellent quality of Texas livestock around the country as well as to foreign countries.
Texas has now exported over 3,000 head of livestock valued at over $3 million through Houston Intercontinental since January, and over 300,000 head through all TDA export pens. Over 2,000 sheep were shipped to India through the Houston pens a month ago.

THERE ARE ABOUT 400 KINDS OF Hummingbirds... BUT ONLY 19 TYPES LIVE IN THE U.S. IN THE SMALLEST OF THESE TINY BIRDS, THEIR WINGS MOVE 60 TO 70 TIMES A SECOND! SMALLEST IS THE BEE HUMMINGBIRD OF CUBA, WHICH GROWS ABOUT 2 INCHES LONG. IN AMERICA, THE 3" LONG CALLIOPE HUMMINGBIRD IS SMALLEST. THEIR NESTS ARE THE SIZE OF HALF A WALNUT SHELL. EGGS? SMALL AS NAVY BEANS.
