How do they do it?

Thomas and I were diligently cleaning up our vehicles over the weekend. I had my handy dandy little spray can of leather and vinyl cleaner in hand and was spraying the seats down. Thomas stuck his head in the vehicle and said "I really like the way that smells, it has a real leather smell".

I told him that was the reason I bought this particular brand of leather cleaner, because it kept the Jeep smelling nice and new (and takes care of the smell of cocker spaniel hair, which is usually scattered liberally around).

That set us to wondering...just how do they get that new leather smell in a can? Which, naturally, brings me to some other scents-in-a-can.

Air fresheners...consider the scents they pack in there with the propane propellants! Rainshower fresh, pot-pourri, baby powder scented, sunflower scented (hey, I've sniffed a sunflower, wasn't impressed), apple & cinnamon, orchard fresh, sea breeze, the list goes on and on. And, they all smell really pleasant, and different from one another.

Consider the anti-bacterial disinfectants...how do they put the pleasant scent into them?

Perhaps one of the most commonly used scents is that of the lemon. Citrus smells abound in air fresheners, cleansers, car fresheners, oven cleaners, even perfumes.

Which takes us on to yet another aspect of things...perfumes and colognes. Did you know that years ago some of the most expensive scents featured a very bizarre base...it was (I'm not making this up) whale vomit. And where do you think the original musk scents came from? Now that you are totally disgusted I'll ponder further...if they use that type of stuff, what other things do they blend together for those expensive scents we lavish about?

Do they fill a big room up with apple pies and then capture the air? I seriously doubt it, but can't you see a crew leaping about, swiping cans though the air and clapping the lids on them?

Oh, I know that much of the scents today are synthetically created, but they still must have to crush a lot of flowers to make those few drops of scented oil to go in spray cans and pump bottles.

I still think it's a neat trick to put the smell of a leather shop inside of a little spray can...and I'd love to know the real story behind how it is done.

Heat, Drought make fires common, firefighting horrendous

DESTROYED- the home of Rodney Norwood of Cunningham was destroyed by fire Monday afternoon. Cunningham, Deport and Pattonville Volunteer Fire Departments all responded to the blaze and kept it from affecting nearby residences. A pasture fire set from blowing sparks was also put out by the Cunningham VFD. Heat from the fire was intense. (Staff Photo by Nanalee Nichols)

BURNING HAY MEADOW-Members of the Deport Volunteer Fire Department survey the damage after a hay meadow fire at Fulbright Sunday morning. Deport, Bogata and Detroit all helped control the blaze. (Staff Photo by Nanalee Nichols)

FIRE-Deport and Pattonville Volunteer Firemen quickly extinguished the barn that was on fire at the home of Roy and Martha Castlebury on 2nd St. in Deport. Quick action saved other outbuildings, a camper trailer and perhaps even the house, all of which were close together. Wiring was the apparent cause of the blaze. (Staff Photo by Nanalee Nichols)

Murder victim's wallet mailed

Lamar County Sheriff B.J. McCoy says that a wallet belonging to Donald Ray Sanford was mailed back to the man's wife from the Blossom Post Office, and a pill bottle with Sanford's name on it was dropped into the mail slot at Blossom shortly before that.

The sheriff's office put out a call asking that anyone who knew anything about these mailings contact them and "we have had a response to the pill bottle". No one has contacted them about the wallet yet.

McCoy said that autopsy results on Sanford, who was found dead in a creek on FM 194 close to Blossom on Sunday, August 23rd, are still pending.

"Preliminary results indicate that he was kicked and beaten then dumped into the creek, where he may have drowned" McCoy stated.

Arrested was Joshua Garrison, age 18 of Blossom. He has been charged with murder and is being held in Lamar County Jail.

Bradley Wynn McClour, age 20, also of Blossom, is currently being held without bond on a motion to revoke for engaging in organized criminal activity and theft greater than $1,500 and less than $20,000 and is being investigated by Lamar County Sheriff's Department as a suspect in the murder.

Stakeholders hear proposals about four lanes
through or around towns

At a stake holders meeting Tuesday night at the Rivercrest High School Auditorium in Joliet a capacity audience discussed a 137 million dollar project to build a four lane highway from Paris to Mt. Pleasant.

Representatives of Dannenbaum Engineering Corporation first discussed the types of lanes to be built and the process of surveying areas along present U.S. 271. The new lanes proposed are to be built in the same style of surface that the present U.S. 271 is built of.

The project will be built in five phases.

The first phase will be advance planning and environmental study and development of the right of way. This could take from 2 to 2 1/2 years to complete.

Phase 2 will be the appraisal and catn take up to 2 years.

Phase 3 will involve funding for the project which was set at 137 million two years ago.

Although some funding is available now for White Oak, Ripley and Mustang Creek and Sulphur River bridges.

Phase 4 will involve developing contracts to build.

Phase 5 will be the actual work on the project.

Projection of the start date for the project can be as long as five years from now.

The first phase of the project will start at Paris on the south side of the city with a six to seven million dollar interchange. The next section would be built from Paris to Pattonville at a projected cost of 9-11 million dollars.

At Deport, Bogata and Talco relief routes around the cities are being studied. For an example, at Deport on the west side an area from north of County Road 15300 extending east and back south across FM 1149 on the east side of the city back to the existing U.S. 271. The south boundary starts at the west side of the city and takes a turn to the south east crossing of FM 1501 and 1503 just south of Milton-Minter Road on east and south of the Old Deport Cemetery and turns back into the present U.S. 271 on toward Bogata.

According to Steve Ekstrom, the four lanes can be located anywhere between these boundaries.

At Bogata and Talco the areas from north to south of the cities form a loop on both north and south and come together on the east side to join the presently existing U.S. 271. Again, any area between the north and south boundaries could be where the four lane routing could actually be built.

According to Ekstrom, plans are to keep as much of the existing road in use as much as possible. If a relief route is used around any of the cities between Paris and Mt. Pleasant, the old part of US 271 will become a business U.S. 271 and will be state maintained.

The need for a four lane highway on U.S. 271 is cited to relieve the traffic load on Interstate 45. Officials say that I-45 at the present time is over loaded with traffic.

A question and answer session was held after a short recess. Many landowners were concerned about entrance, exits, crossings and bridges along the route.

Market values and distance of highways to property lines were discussed as well.

Many land and home owners didn't receive a right of entry from Dannenbaum Engineering Corp., Hayter Engineering, Inc. Hicks and Company and Aerial Data Service Inc., they said.

Forms were handed out to those present who did not receive one in the mail prior to the meeting. The forms are needed so that the surveyors can enter property in the proposed areas for a large X to be placed at approximately 1800 foot intervals. Aerial photos will be made in December after the foliage has dropped.

Maps of the proposed areas will be available at the Texas Department of Transportation in Paris and Mt. Pleasant District Offices for the public to view.

The entire 50 mile stretch from Paris to Mt. Pleasant will be available at both locations.

Another meeting is set for December 15th at Rivercrest High School for the general public and all news media to attend after the maps are complete from the aerial flight to be made.

Another ETMC First

At age 77, F.B. Hearon went to the doctor — for the first time.

His doctor discovered prostate cancer. F.B. discovered the ETMC Cancer Institute — and a new treatment called Radioactive Seed Implant.

"I never went to the doctor till I was 77 years old. But when the wife found out my brother has prostate cancer, there was no way around it, I had to go to the doctor.

FB's urologist sent him to the ETMC Cancer Institute.
"I was impressed with this place, I really was. I was impressed with the people, the cleanliness and everything. Everybody's been real professional.

The ETMC Cancer Institute offers a treatment option that dramatically reduces side effects: Prostate seed implant, a one-day procedure in which radioactive seeds carefully placed inside the prostate gland apply radiation directly to the cancer.
"I had the implant the 16th of September, and I've done just real fine. I've never had a problem of any kind.

FB. Hearon made some new friends here.
"It starts with the front desk. Everybody's been just as friendly and nice, and after the first visit, everybody seemed to know me.

And he has a new attitude about getting regular checkups.
"It's not something to be afraid of. It's like what they told us in the army about a hand grenade: Don't be afraid of it, but respect it. This cancer's the same. Don't be afraid of it, get hold of it early and respect it, because it's the number two killer of men. So every man ought to get hold of it, from the time he's 40 years old or so. Get a checkup, go in for a PSA, they draw a little blood, and it doesn't hurt. Get it checked, find it early, it's curable.

"I think you can beat it."

Recently, ETMC waged war on prostate cancer with $5 PSA blood tests for East Texas men at risk, and more than 12,500 men responded. If you are age 50 or over, or if you are African American or have a family history of prostate cancer, please call your personal physician or urologist to schedule a PSA blood test for early detection. Prostate cancer is 93% curable if it is detected early. The ETMC Cancer Institute stands ready to help, with treatment that is at the forefront of the fight.

First in East Texas. Second to none.

What the pledge of allegiance means

Pledge of Allegiance
 As interpreted by Red Skelton

I-Me, an individual a committed of one pledged-dedicate all of my worldly goods to give without self pity. Allegiance-my love and my devotion to the flag-our standard "Old Glory" a symbol of freedom, wherever she waves, there is respect. Because your loyalty has given her a dignity that shouts freedom is everybody's job.

United-that means that we have all come together.

States-individual communities that have united into 48 great states, 48 individual communities with pride, dignity and purpose. All divided with imaginary boundaries, yet united to a common purpose and that's love for country.

And to the Republic-Republic-a state in which sovereign power is invested in representatives chosen by the people to govern and government is the people and its from the people to the leaders NOT from the leaders to the people.

For which it stand, one nation-ONE nation meaning so blessed by God. Indivisible-incapable of being divided

With Liberty-which IS freedom, the right of power to live ones own life without threats, fear or some sort of retaliation. And justice-the principals or qualities of dealing fairly with others. For all-for all means its as much your country as it is mine. This is the original pledge of allegiance. Later two states and two words were added "Under God". Wouldn't it be a pity if someone said that this is a prayer and it too would be eliminated from our schools?

The above is a version of the pledge of allegiance written by the late and beloved Red Skelton.

I've thought about the words a lot lately, and the symbol of our nation is the flag.

It is not just a symbol of a nation, but the symbol of a nation that God has blessed and brought through wars and conflicts for over 200 years.

Please read the above and pledge again and realize that this symbol still stands because our founding father's knew who the true leader of our nation was...and we need to remember that today.

A&M develops computerized social services intake system

COLLEGE STATION - A new computer database developed by Texas A&M University researchers will make it easier for people to apply for social services while also telling the government how much it's spending on social services and where the money is going.

Dr. JoAnn Martin said that when the Employability Requires Literacy Skills (ERLS) project goes online next month in two Central Texas counties, it will become the first program of its kind in the nation used for social services intake.

Instead of trekking all over town and filling out different application forms for each agency, aid applicants can apply for all sorts of assistance by filling out one online form they can access at shelters and social services agencies.

"We see this as just a phenomenal help for everything from getting health care to getting food if you're hungry," Martin said.

In the past, applicants have borne the burden of finding out what kind of aid was available from which agency. ERLS takes this burden off their shoulders by first asking them to select from a list of aid available from social services agencies. The computer program incorporates questions from these agencies into the application.

Dummy roping contest to be held during fair

A "dummy roping" contest for children six through twelve years old will be held for the first time this year during the Red River County Fair at Clarksville.

Reggie Grizzle, contest sponsor, stated three age groups will compete; six and under; 7 through 9 and 10 through 12.

Montana Silversmith belt buckles will be awarded in each division. Buckles are sponsored by Crazy House Western Wear, Full Belly Feed, Community National Bank, Hardy Stewardson, DVM, Moore's Texaco and Reggie and Dana Grizzle.

Each contestant must bring proof of age to receive a prize. Rules and regulations for the contest will be posted at the fairgrounds.

Ropes will be available, Grizzle said, or the kids can bring their own.

Everyone is invited to attend the event at 6:45 p.m. Thursday night, September 24 at the livestock show ring.

PBR coming to McCurtain County, OK

On October 24, area bull riding fans won't have to pack up their kids and drive several hours to enjoy a Professional Bull Riders event. The bull riding phenomenon that has taken the world by storm is coming to Wright City, OK for one night of exciting action.

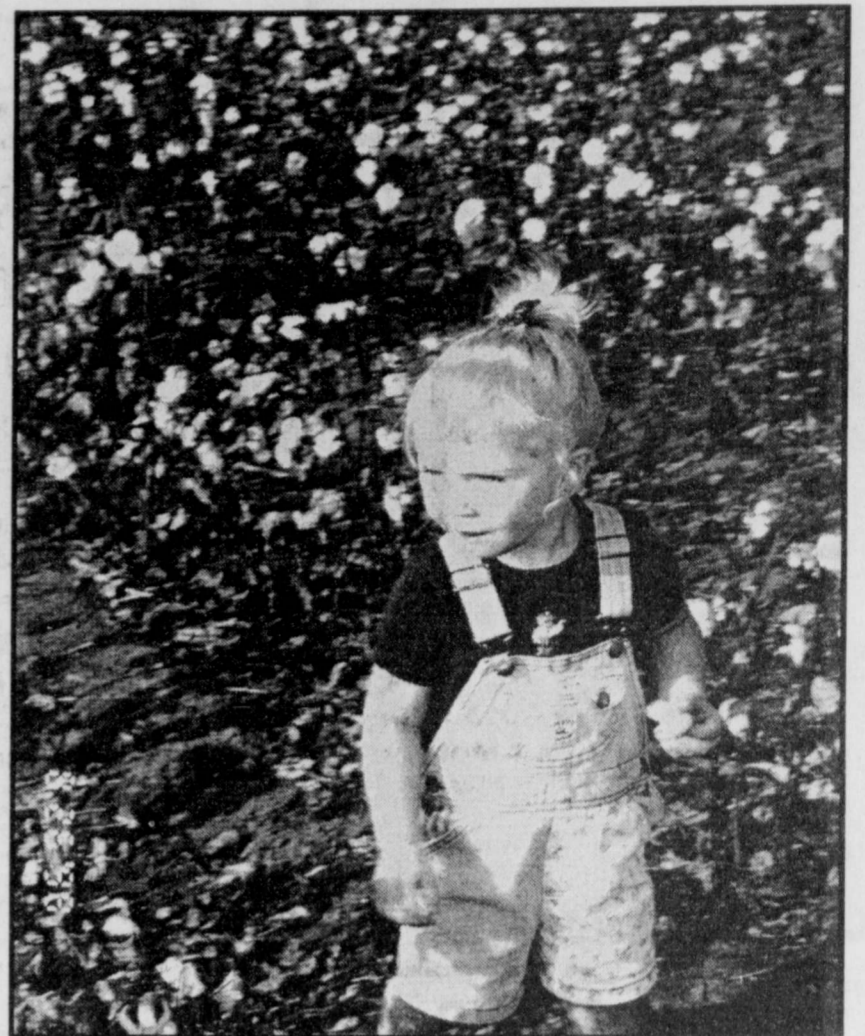

Wright City will host the first PBR ever to be held in the area.

Local sponsors are already getting on board for the event which will take place in one of the most historical rodeo arenas in the area. In its heyday, the annual Wright City Fourth of July Celebration and Rodeo was one of the biggest and most well known rodeos on the International Pro Rodeo circuit.

The Wright City event will be adding $10,000 in added money in its first year. The prize money, along with the fact that it is the only PBR being held the weekend of October 24 should guarantee plenty of top notch bull riders to show up.

An added bonus for bull riding fans and contestants alike is the stock. Well known stock contractors Sammy Andrews, Terry Williams, Scotty Lovelace and Chock Donaldson will provide livestock for the event. Andrews, of Addielou, TX, and one of the most respected names in the rodeo world, has thrilled bull riding enthusiasts across the country with outstanding bucking bulls, including many NFR bulls as Skoal's Outlaw Willie, PRCA's Bucking Bull of the Year in 1991 and Dodge Bodacious, PRCA Bucking Bull of the Year in 1994 and 1995.

NOT SO HIGH COTTON? 22 month old Julia Grossmann stands in Kenneth H. Allen's cotton field examining this year's crop. Kenneth was asked if he could please grow a littler taller rop next year as Julia will have grown talker and they wanted some more good pictures. Julia is the daughter of Karen Grossmann of Deport and the late Andy Grossmann, who was a cotton buyer.
