World Waits Terms of Peace to France

France, battered to her knees by the German total war asked Hitler Sunday for peace terms, the cabinet having rejected an offer from Britain for union and forced out Premier Paul Reynaud who favored the move. Reynaud was replaced by World War I hero Marshall Petain who immediately announced that he had asked for peace terms.

Hitler and Mussolini met Tuesday at Munch to discuss peace terms but no indication was given as to when they would be presented France. Nothing short of a demand for unconditional surrender is expected. In the meantime verve fighting continued in France, with French troops retreating everywhere except in the Jura mountains where their efforts to prevent contact of German and Italian troops was successful.

Delay in presenting terms for an honorable peace on the part of Hitler lent credence late Wednesday to persistent rumors that France would continue the fight. Unverified reports said the French fleet and air force had fled to African colonies and that the French government was moving to this new base to continue the war.

England prepared for the Nazi onslaught and had returned expeditionary forces from France for home defense. The aerial battle seemed already underway with England's Royal Air Force raiding Germany and the Nazis returning the favor, both on Tuesday night.

On the home front the United States sent specific message to Hitler that the French peace terms could not involve transfer of French possessions in the Western Hemisphere to any other European power. The message was a reiteration of the Monroe Doctrine but was made specific in this case.

Higher Octane in Talco Gasoline

Through a new chemistry process Talco gasoline is being put on the market with a higher octane content, according to reports. First gasoline refined from Talco crude didn't meet the requirements and didn't compare with gasoline made from the East Texas field.

With the new process in operation, Talco gasoline may in time prove as valuable as Talco asphalt.

Draper Breaks from Oklahoma Prison

Posses this week were searching the Kiamichi mountains 25 miles east of Tahihina, Okla., for Charley Draper, 45, who escaped June 8 from the McAlester prison where he was serving three life terms. Draper was sentenced for the murder of three men near Idabel in 1932. The fugitive fired at Oklahoma officers with a high powered rifle when he was sighted Saturday near Pine Valley, Okla., and escaped into the brush.

Draper, a 6 foot 4 inch giant, was arrested in Nov. 1931, on a farm southeast of Clarksville, where he been working. He had no hope of escaping the death penalty at the time of arrest and proposed that officers take a courtroom collection to pay for his funeral. He was sentenced to 99 years in prison.

Draper was captured Tuesday in Southern Le Flore county (Okla.) and returned to the Oklahoma State prison at McAlester.

An emergency 15-day order for East Texas oil fields to become effective Saturday, has been agreed upon by Commissioner Jerry Sadler and Chairman Lon A. Smith. Titus County Has 19,226 Population

Titus county had a total of 19,226 people on April 1, 1940, according to a preliminary census count of the sixteenth decennial census for the county.

This figure represents an increase of 3,223 over the population of ten years ago, when 16,003 were reported. The recent report is subject to correction, but it is thought the figures are practically correct.

Increase in the population figure is largely due to the discovery of oil at Talco and the consequent influx of workers. Population of the city of Talco has not been announced, but figures show that Mt. Pleasant has increased 977 in the past ten years.

Number of farms being cultivated in the county has decreased from 2,487 in 1930 to 2,150.

Fathers' Day Program Calvary Baptist Church on Sunday

Father's Day program was conducted at the Calvary Baptist church Sunday night by the BTU class. The program consisted of a violin duet by Leon Lindsey and Corine Norris, accompanied by Mrs. Bill Norris on the piano. A poem, entitled "Our Daddy," was read by Mrs. Oscar Goodloe, and a duet by Mrs. B. E. Dunagan and Barney Rogers, "Precious Memories."

The BTU class had over 100 members present Sunday night, with four additions in membership. Church services were well attended with a full house and a number of additions.

Members of the Calvary Baptist church and Pastor S. D. Lindsey extend a cordial invitation to everyone to attend their services.—Reported.

OVERALL SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS GETS INVITATION

Jack Caruthers, teacher of the Overall Sunday school class in Mt. Pleasant, has extended an invitation to the Overall class of Talco to meet with his class next Sunday in Mt. Pleasant.

Mr. Caruthers also stated in his invitation that plans for a barbecue for the two classes would be made.

Miss Mary Lou Harbour, teacher of Home Making at Maple Springs, has been appointed by the Extension Service as one of the chaperons for girls at the Short Course, which will be conducted at A. & M. College in July.

Lonesome Bill Thinks Fifth Column Just Four-Flushers

Editor's Note: We have received the following letter from Lonesome Bill, who says he doesn't understand half he knows about the war and thinks the fifth column is just a bunch of four-flushers.

Dear Editor: I been reading and hearing a lot about the war over in Europe and the fifth column trouble over here and I don't mind telling you that I don't understand half what I know about it. It looks, though, like Great Britain and France have decided they can't lick Hitler with little scraps of paper and now are taking to powder and lead. If they'd dropped bombs instead of booklets last fall they might have been in better shape now.

I've asked lots of people what the fifth column over here is and who it is and they can't seem to put their finger on the answer. The way I figure it is we've had a fifth column over here for a long time, only we called them four-flushers instead of fifth columnists.

My neighbor is het up all the time about the war and I reckon it would be pretty dangerous for a candidate to tarry long around his place, -because he is on the lookout for fifth columns with his shotgun and is liable to shoot first and investigate second. He thinks Hitler will lick France and Great Britain and come over here and he has

Hot Weather Follows Big Rainfall

The last days of spring found this section sweltering in mid-summer weather. A hot sun bore down and steamy air rose from a ground soaked by week end rains.

The week end rains stopped all farm work in this area and pushed creeks out of banks Sunday morning. Foulness is increasing in fields and farmers are eager for more sunny weather.

Francis Branch between Bogata and Johtown sent flood waters swirling over Highway 271 and washed out a culvert on the Paris and Mt. Pleasant railroad. Highway traffic was stopped for some time and mail service delayed a few hours while section crews repaired the railroad. Shoulder of the highway was badly washed but the pavement was not cut and traffic was resumed by early afternoon when flood waters receded.

Warn Farmers to Observe New Ruling

Farmers who are over quota on cotton planting and receive notice that some acreage must be plowed under are cautioned to observe the ruling effective this year that all cotton destroyed must be in ONE block. Heretofore growers have been allowed to select the rows to be plowed under wherever they chose. This year they may choose the block to destroy but it must be all together.

Measuring crews are making good progress and checking of acreage is moving along rapidly when weather permits. Reports will be made to farmers as quickly as possible so they may be spared the expense of working out cotton planted over quota and in many cases use the land for some other crop.

A special effort has been made to aid farmers in compliance measures and as most of them had a good idea as to acreage to be allowed, there will likely be little cotton to destroy. Ertra men are also being used in measuring crews to notify growers as rapidly as possible as to the status of their crop.

MT. PLEASANT STORE IS ENTERED BY BURGLARS

A thief, or thieves, is reported to have entered the M. & M. Men's Shop in Mt. Pleasant through a rear window Tuesday night and made away with a large amount of merchandise.

A father and son fish fry was given Saturday night in honor of Talco fathers by their sons. The affair was held south of town on the new highway, with plenty of fish and all the trimmings.

Those attending were: Boyd Jones, Felix Jones, Farris Brown, A. O. Brown, Harold Bonham, Edd Bonham, E. McClinton, Herman McElroy, A. V. McElroy, W. H. Kelley, H. B. Kelley, Dr. W. L. Kelley, R. R. Kelley, J. B. Osborn, Raymond Harper, Rev. J. W. Harper, Rev. S. D. Lindsey, F. E. Jones, C. E. Jones, E. Cato Jr., E. Cato, W. D. Cato, Harry Spruill, J. B. Lee and J. R. Lee. The group reports an enjoyable evening.

DEFENSE TRAINING PLANS OUTLINED FOR SCHOOLS

School superintendents over the state last week were sent a copy of the industrial workers national defense training program as proposed by Federal Commissioner of Education John W. Studebaker, it was announced by the state department of education.

The plan was sent out to the superintendents after a conference of educators with L. A. Woods, state superintendent of public instruction, in Austin.

The plan calls for making available all facilities of local school districts for training workers, and will not be in conflict with any vocational training now in order in the schools.

Under Studebaker's plan, expenses of the educational programs would be defrayed from national defense funds, with local schools furnishing the facilities for work. All legally employable persons would be eligible for training.

Training would be offered mechanics and technicians in the industrial fields according to need, such as airplane mechanics, machine shop workers, auto mechanics, sheet metal work, welding, cabinet making, pattern making, electrical work and communications, heavy blacksmithing and forging.

Stolen Harness is Said Recovered

Much of the harness stolen from the E. G. Morgan barn at Rugby on Saturday night, June 1, is reported to have been recovered in Henderson.

Some of the harness stolen the same night from Cliff Adams near Fulbright is said also to have been recovered.

Red River county sheriff's force and Constable W. J. Corbell of Bogata have spent considerable time in East Texas this week investigating the case which was cracked when arrests were made and statements secured making possible tracing of the harness which had been sold to farmers over two or three counties. Several other farmers who have lost harness in raids since first of the year have been in Henderson to identify their property. The stolen harness is being traced to farmers to whom it was sold and much more is expected to be recovered.

Son "Shoots" Father in Pistol Play

Sam Roberts of the Whitehall community suffered a blackout in one of his eyes Sunday while playing with his small son, Billy. Each was pointing his index finger at the other, pretending they were pistols. Billy's aim was not stationary and his finger nail pierced the eye ball of his father.

The moral is don't play shoot-out with your son, because his muscular brakes may not be good.

Three Wells Nearing Pay in Talco Field

Talco field has been active this week, with three rigs running and equipment being made ready for another to start.

Humble Co. was drilling on the Penn fee No. 20 in West Talco at a depth of 2500 feet Wednesday at midnight. Pumping equipment is being set on the No. 19, completed last week end. The company's next location is on the P. J. Dawson No. 11, also in West Talco.

McCutchings Drilling Co. is drilling at a depth of 3200 feet on the Texas Co. Barker No. 14.

On the east end, Bill Hinton is drilling around 300 feet on the Adams and Lysle tract.

Lucey Petroleum Co. is making arrangements for equipment to be set on the Williams tract in West Talco, and will be underway just as soon as the boggy land dries sufficiently for heavy machinery to be carried to location. According to report this company has three locations to make on this tract.

Wedding Bells Ring Sunday for Miss Elaine Clifton

The marriage of Miss Elaine Clifton, former Talco teacher to Mr. Alfred W. McNutt of Seagraves, took place at the home of the bride's mother at Dallas on Sunday, June 16. The Rev. Van Arsdale of the North Dallas Baptist Church officiated.

The bride wore a Copenhagen blue dress with white accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

Theresa Slaton, little niece of the groom, lighted the candles in the white candelabra above an altar of fern and white gladioli.

Mrs. D. Loyd, sister of the bride, presided over the register. Mrs. Delbert Vaughn, also a sister, played the wedding march and accompanied Mrs. Truett Carter as she sang "I Love You Truly."

A reception followed the ceremony. The refreshment table was laid with hand-made lace and was centered with a two-tiered cake, which was topped with a miniature bridal couple. Christine Carter of Talco cut the cake and Mrs. Hollis Johnson poured punch, assisted in serving by Mrs. Truett Carter.

Thirty-five guests registered in the bride's book, including relatives and intimate friends of the bride and groom.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Claud V. Hall, Mrs. B. Weems and Miss Williamson of Commerce, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Smith of Wylie and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Carter and Christine Carter of Talco.

The couple left immediately after the reception on a wedding trip to New Orleans, La., and South Texas, the bride wearing a black suit with white accessories. They will make their home in Seagraves.

Italy Has Large Armed Forces

Land forces of Italy number 3,500,000 actives and 4,000,000 reserves, reports say. Italy's 50,000 mechanized troops probably have 3,000 tanks. Experts says she could not support modern fighting of more than 2,000,000.

Air force is manned by 3,000 pilots, 106,000 other actives, 102,000 reserves. She has 800 bombers, 960 pursuits, 400 reconnaissance planes, 5,500 obsolete war-planes.

Sea power lies in 70,000 actives, 35,000 trained reserves, in 6 capital ships (two more are near completion), 22 cruisers, 65 destroyers, 65 torpedo boats, 150 mosquito boats, and 118 submarines. It may be the world's largest sub fleet.

FRIDAY, JUNE 21, 1940

In your enthusiasm for the National Defense program, remember that there must necessarily be an increase in federal taxes to pay for it. The amount of this increase will be governed by the economy that can be effected in other departments. Question your congressional candidates as to their views on this matter. Then, there must be a reduction in state taxes to offset the federal tax boost. Now, just before election, is the time to ask the representative candidate what he intends to do about helping you save on state taxes, in order that the defense program may be carried out quickly and efficiently and as far as possible on a pay-as-you-go basis. The cloth must be cut to fit the pattern and it is evident there is no place for new state taxes. If some of the much talked of but seldom used economy is put in effect there should be a way of carrying on all necessary activities, including old age assistance, with present revenues.

Reading Newspapers Aids Longer Life

PHILADELPHIA.—Regular reading of newspapers was recommended by Dr. William Lyon Phelps as an aid toward longer life.

"The money invested in a newspaper is one of the greatest aids to vitality we have, Yale's famous emeritus professor of English declared at Jefferson Medical College commencement exercises.

"The paper provides us with interests that will take us out of ourselves. The more we are interested in things beyond ourselves, the better we can combat despondency and trouble and the longer we live."

In 1929, agricultural products provided one-fourth of Texas' total cash income while minerals amounted to one-fifth. In 1938, agriculture including government subsidies yielded but one-fifth while minerals, principally oil and gas, furnished one-third.

By NUMBER SEVEN

My country, 'tis of thee,
Sweet land of hysteria,
Of thee I sing . . .

Watching Europe disintegrate and fall into the hunting bag of Herr Hitler is giving America the biggest job it ever had of preventing her people from flying to pieces. Side-walk diplomacy indicates this country is being swept in a hurricane of hysteria, and public opinion clashes between the issue of preparing this country to prevent a possible invasion and preparing this country to launch an offensive invasion.

Swiftly moving events in Europe, however, are beginning to sway opinion toward the belief that if we attempt to thrust our tiny sword into the bloody side of Europe we are likely to lose both the sword and the hand that wields it.

When we recall that in World War No. 1, Germany and Austria-Hungary were opposed by Great Britain, France, Italy, Russia, Belgium, Japan, China, Turkey, Brazil, the U. S. and others, and when we recall, too, that even against those overwhelming odds Germany presented a very serious threat to world dominion, it is enough to make us recoil from any attempt to invade a Germany that must be infinitely more powerful than it was in 1917 and a Germany that today is being held at bay by only one major nation—Great Britain.

Considering the strength of military powers in Europe, America is not nearly so powerful today as it was when it landed its first contingent of troops on French soil in 1917. The U. S. Army in March, 1917, on the eve of its entrance into the war, had a numerical strength of 190,000 men. By Nov. 1918, the strength had been increased to 3,665,000 men, of which number 2,053,374, less losses, were in Europe, 1,338,169 of which were combatants in France.

In April 1917, the U. S. Navy Department reported a total of about 250 vessels of all classes. By Nov. 1918, this number had been swelled to 1900, including 40 battleships, 32 cruisers, 23 gunboats, 125 destroyers, 17 torpedo boats, 68 submarine chasers, 79 mine planters and sweepers, 58 troop transports, 640 patrol vessels and many minor craft.

Gen. John J. Pershing reached Paris with a small staff on June 4, 1917, sixty days after the U. S. declaration of war. Twenty-two days later the first contingent of his army arrived in France.

Total casualties of the war, from all causes, was over 25,000,000, of which the U. S. loss amounted to 74,054, and of which 32,854 represented Americans killed in action.

Have come across some literature said to have been distributed by Jehovah's Witnesses, or representatives of that body, and find that it advises one, if he would escape disaster and find salvation in life, to forsake religion . . . that Jehovah's Witnesses are Christians and must shun religion in obedience to God . . . that Satan has, since shortly after the flood, used religion as a means to deceive people and turn them against God.

Recent events are rapidly convincing the public that Congressman Dies and his committee were about three years ahead of Congress in scenting the "fifth column" menace in this country. Sufficient funds should be provided the committee for the most needful work in our country. The job should have been started ten years ago.

Mid-week services: Teachers of the Sunday school meet with the pastor and superintendent at 7:30 p. m. Prayer meeting and choir practice at 8 p. m.

Do you sing? If you are a singer or enjoy good singing, come and join the choir of the First Baptist Church. Mrs. R. C. Walker, one of the best musicians in this section of Texas, will have charge of training.

Church Notes
Sunday school attendance fell off Sunday, due to the rainy weather. There were 50 present.
The Baptist WMS met at the church Tuesday afternoon and the ladies worked on a quilt.
MAKE MATTRESSES
With Mrs. A. T. Blalock as director, a large group of people met each day last week at the school house and made mattresses. This is a fine work and the people of this community are very glad of this service. Miss Brabham was present two days and got the work started.

If you have boys and girls who like to sing, bring them and let them learn to do something worthwhile. We use both the church Hymnal and popular songs. We want to be progressive and adopt everything that is new and good. We not only want to have the best choir in Talco, but in this section of Texas. We have the talent. It is just a matter of proper training, and we have the trainer in Mrs. Walker. Come on each Wednesday evening for choir practice.
Our scripture for the week. Meditate upon it:—"Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you; not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid."—John 14:27.

We will appreciate your printing orders—large or small.
