FRIDAY, AUGUST 9, 1940

Attendants at the Texas Fireman's Training School at A. & M. College last week found the United States to be really preparing for national defense. Courses included a lecture by a Federal Bureau of Investigation official on fifth column activities and a demonstration on extinguishing fires caused by incendiary bombs. God forbid that any of this training ever has to be used in America, but if war should come, then the average citizen should thank God for the far sighted men who prepared a defense.

If you're worried about what the future may bring, just remember that the past didn't bring much that you didn't go out and get. Fall of the year is near at hand, bringing bountiful crops and a promise of bigger business for those who go after it. But if no effort is made to get business there will be no business—that is true any year and any time of the year. We know of a number of local firms that have made money in the past, and those same firms will make money in the future. Every one of them has "invited" business and proved to their customers that they deserved it. This newspaper is an economical medium for inviting business and it invites local merchants to use it as such.

Maybe it's the falling temperature that is causing a rise in Talco merchants' attitude toward business. Anyway, many of them are this week besting themselves in the interests of better business by starting a co-operative drive for more trade in Talco on the part of Talco and Titus county people. The movement is a commendable one and one that has not been started too soon, considering the nearing fall harvest and consequent improved flow of finance. If this co-operative effort to get people to come to Talco is followed

To The Citizens of Titus County

I am taking this opportunity of thanking those of you who have all these years been so loyal to me in my efforts as a private citizen and as an official of our county. I have made enemies, this I regret very much. I have made friends, this I appreciate beyond words to express, but I am fully convinced those who are my political enemies have been made such because of our difference in views of what would be best for our entire citizenship.

Probably no action of my whole official career has made more political enemies than our Courthouse question. The bond issue, as we know, was defeated by our citizens by a majority of more than 4 to 1. Many of our citizens were against a bond issue for a new Courthouse but preferred to remodel the old Courthouse. This we proceeded to do by issuing warrants; but please bear in mind that if our citizens had desired to vote on remodeling the Courthouse they could have done so by petitioning the Commissioners Court for an election. No citizen asked for an election on remodeling the Courthouse and for that reason all four Commissioners by a unanimous vote proceeded to finance this remodeling by issuing sufficient warrants. They were advertised in the papers, as the law required, and if any citizen had desired an election the Commissioners Court would have been compelled to grant their request. The result of all this controversy is that today we have a Courthouse that is the pride of every citizen of our county. We have offices where our citizens can come to transact their business with ease and comfort, but the greatest satisfaction that comes to me is for the part that I had in this civic improvement, and I believe it will be a source of satisfaction to all of us when we realize in the short space of three years our Courthouse, the furniture and paving around the square will all be paid for, regardless of what you have been told or will be told about this much controverted question.

The little part that I had as County Judge in this improvement to our Courthouse, the complete new furnishings and the paving around the Courthouse, the Court had in mind the benefit that it will be to our farming citizens and at the same time benefit the business establishments of our City. For all our efforts in bringing these benefits to our citizens I must confess I made enough political enemies that cost me the State Senatorship because the true facts were misrepresented as to the real cost of our improvements and the time in which they will be paid in full. I say humbly that I had rather lose the State Senatorship if by so doing I had a part in bringing these benefits to our entire citizenship who have been good to me and my friends personally and politically. To those who were most critical and harsh against me I hold no ill will toward you. I know that your opinion was formed by information given to you for the purpose of hurting me and not to help you.

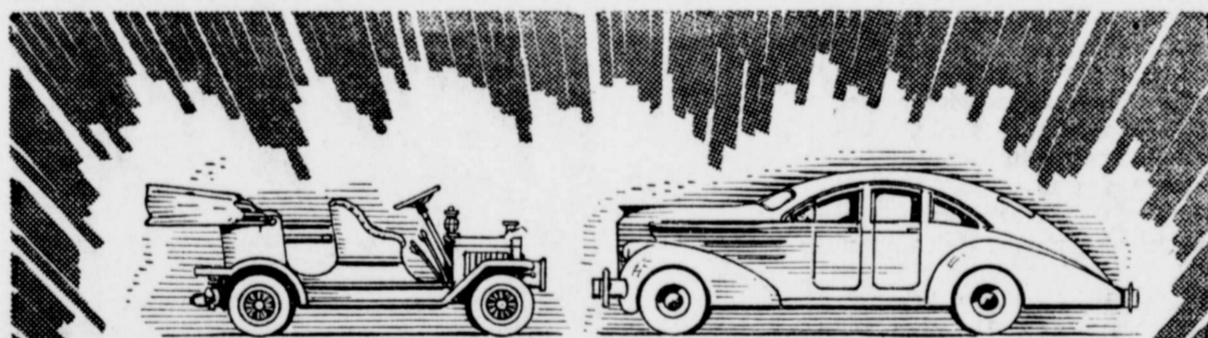

To those who shared with us as private citizens and officials in accomplishing these lasting civic improvements for our citizens, to you I will always be grateful. Certainly I was disappointed in losing the State Senatorial race but I have a greater satisfaction in knowing the part I have had in the past five years in reducing our indebtedness, putting our county on a sound financial basis, reducing our tax rate almost one-half, securing for our citizens a modern Courthouse, parking accommodations and the establishing of one of the best systems of County Roads in Northeast Texas, gives me a far greater satisfaction than to have denied the people these privileges and won the State Senatorship.

I will not have the opportunity to help our citizens as State Senator but for all past favors that have been shown to me and my friends, I will in the future, as I have in the past, give my time and energies for any and all improvements that will benefit our citizens.

With the best wishes for progress, I remain

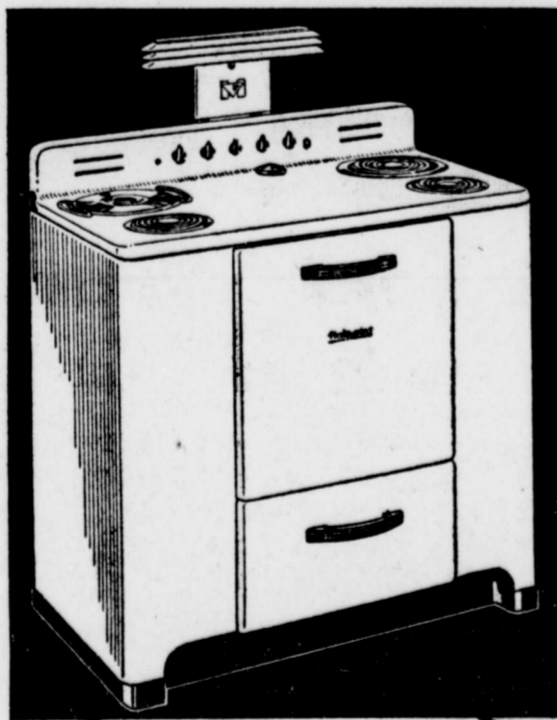

Your friend,

C. T. NEUGENT

Yes indeed, steaks and chops melt in your mouth when broiled the Universal way, because the natural nutritious juices are retained—only the indigestible fats are eliminated. Easy to use, convenient in operation, certain as to results, the Universal actually makes broiling easy, simple and certain.

ARKANSAS LOUISIANA GAS CO.

To the People of the First Congressional District of Texas

This humbly expresses my gratitude to you, my good friends, for the overwhelming vote of confidence given to me in Saturday's primary.

Your vote is an approval of my legislative efforts for the farmer, aged, veteran, unemployed, independent business man, youth, education and an adequate national defense program.

This splendid endorsement gives me a greater incentive to continue to serve you loyally, diligently, and conscientiously, as in the past.

Again I thank you most cordially.

Sincerely and obediently,

Wright Patman
