Service Stations Real Link Between Oil Companies and General Public

"Oil—At Your Service" is the slogan which the oil industry is using this year to mark Oil Progress Week (October 11-17).

It is a particularly appropriate slogan, for there are few industries which exemplify "service" around the clock, year in and year out, more or better than oil. To confirm this, all we have to do is look around at the many service stations which compete for our business; or to pick up a telephone and get in touch with a fuel oil dealer.

Probably most of us are more familiar with service stations than with any other phase of the oil industry. Before we go much further, we could make a note of the fact that the oil industry is a big industry, and does a big job. But don't let the word "big" confuse you. A recent study of the Oil Industry Information Committee shows these are at least 42,000 separate enterprises in the oil business; and that doesn't include service stations, of which there are about 200,000. It just goes to show that it takes a whole lot of small businesses, medium businesses and large businesses to make up industry.

Service stations are typically American institutions. Ninety-five percent of them are independent operations—run by local men merchandising brands and products. Service station men also are sort of junior chambers of commerce. It is impossible to list the number of times they are asked for information about hotels, stores, cafes, good roads, detours, short cuts, and even where the hunting or fishing is particularly good at any given time.

Over and above this, of course, are the millions of windshield wipers that are wiped, the equally countless number of radiators and batteries that are checked and filled, and the number of tires that filled with air—all, just part of the station's regular "service."

It's true that the progressive oil industry works in many ways, and certainly one of the most pleasant contributions is the service station, and the men who attend it. It's nice to salute them and the industry they represent during Oil Progress Week, 1953.

Trojans Beat New Boston Lions 19-13 Friday Night

By SKIPPER COLE

Talco Trojans rolled up a 19 to 13 victory over the New Boston Lions here Friday night in their first conference game of the season.

The Trojans scored early in the game to take a lead that was good until the third quarter. New Boston knotted the count at 13 all, and threatened inside the 20 yard line twice more, but a stubborn Talco line held for downs twice in the shadows of their goal and pushed another 6 points across to end the scoring.

The game was a thriller all the way, with long runs by both teams. Lilley, Belcher and Ramey shared scoring honors with one TD each. Ramey scoring through the line, Belcher scored on an end sweep and Lilley took a pass from Belcher across the goal line for his marker.

The Trojans opened the scoring in the first period when Billy Ramey carried the ball 10 yards for the first touchdown. Halfback Bud Hanks kicked the extra point.

Early in the second quarter Elton Belcher passed 10 yards to Johnny Lilley for the second touchdown. Hanks kicked the extra point. Late in the second quarter Jack Hendley, quarterback for the New Boston Lions, ran thirty yards for the Lions' first touchdown. Thomas Gibson made the extra point.

Early in the third quarter Willie Willis of New Boston galloped 60 yards for the Lions' second counter.

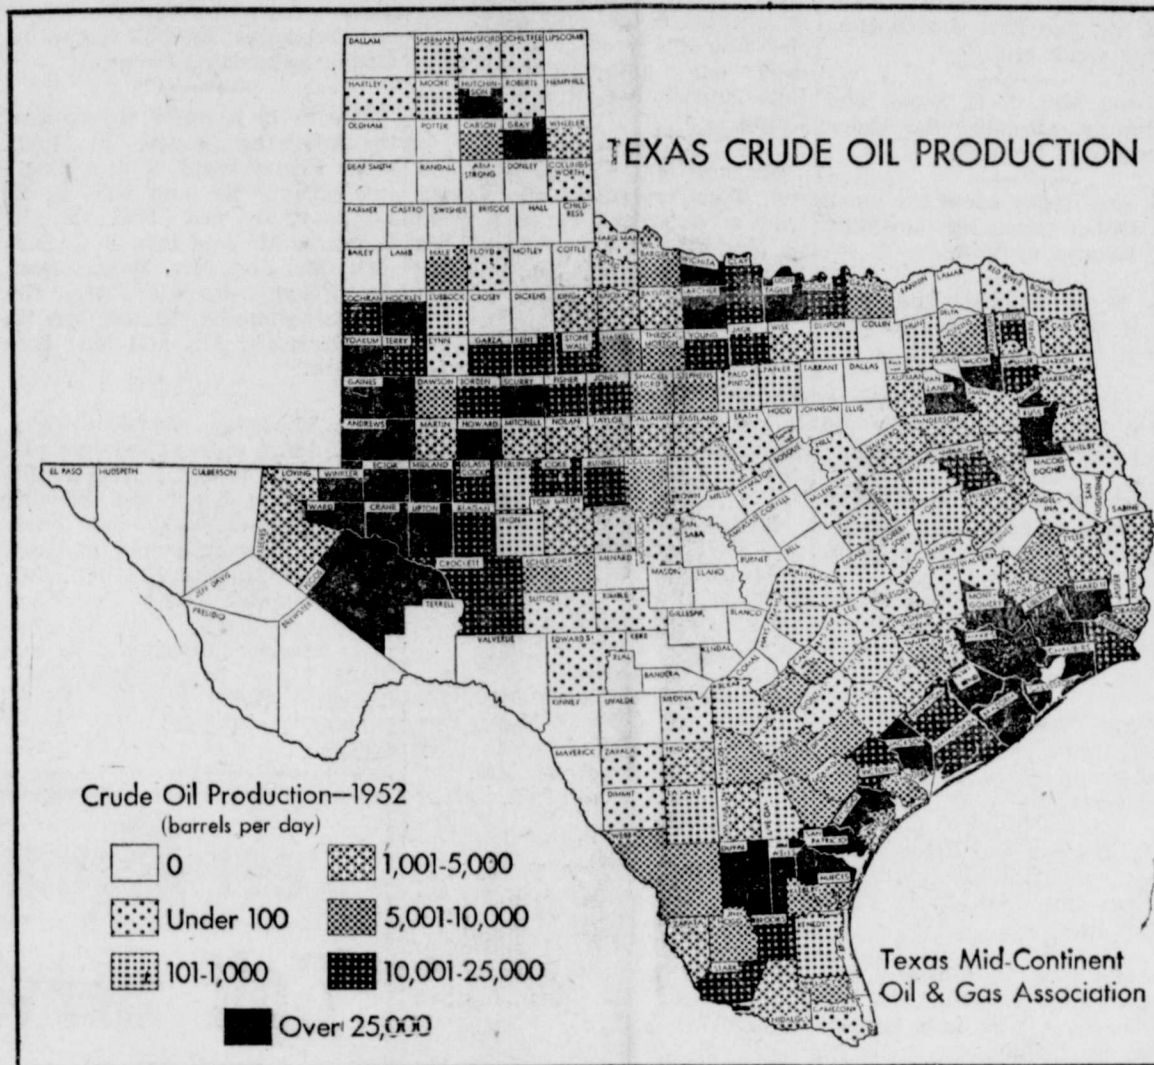

Then Elton Belcher scampered around the New Boston Lions for the Trojans third touchdown.

When the gun sounded the score stood Trojans 19 and the Lions 13.

New Boston's two counters came on long runs, but failed to cash in on two more scoring opportunities. The stout defensive play of the Trojans was the TEXAS CRUDE OIL PRODUCTION comes from 180 of the state's 254 counties, with two new counties being added to the crude oil production picture last year: Floyd County, West Texas, and Grimes County, Southeast Texas. Major producing counties—those which produce more than 25,000 barrels daily—totalled 36 at the end of 1952, a gain of three over the previous year. This map was drawn before discovery of the Cuthand field last month and Red River County should be marked as is Bowie.

Oil Activities of Local Interest

The Railroad Commission has scheduled October 19 for a hearing on discovery allowable for No. 1 J. C. Calabria, Southeast Cuthand Field, Red River County. Allowable already has been set for the No. 1 Coline in the same field.

Sun Oil Company's No. 1 J. C. Gingery in Bowie County is reported abandoned at 4,423 feet.

Drilling was started Wednesday of last week at the Seaboard Oil Company No. 2 Coline, located 1,200 feet north of the discovery well. This well showed salt water in the Goodland formation and is drilling ahead. This is the third venture in the new Red River County field. Unofficial information was current that other rigs were to be moved into this area to step up operations.

Operators at the Midwest Exploration Company wildcat, three and one-half miles west of Lydia were ready to perforate and swab. One informant said probably three sands would be tested.

The Midwest project is two and one half miles northwest of the Tex Harvey wildcat which obtained a good show of oil in the Smackover but abandoned the well as a failure. It is about nine miles east of the Seaboard discovery.

Friday night marked the opening of the District 14A race. Six of the seven conference teams met, leaving Bogata with an off night. In other conference games Hughes Springs whipped Queen City 36-0; Jefferson defeated James Bowie 25-7. In early season play Queen City defeated Hooks 7-0, then Hooks defeated New Boston 25-0. The Trojans will play Hughes Springs there next Friday night.

At present the Talco club is at full strength since the return of Dean Lewis from the injured list. Talco came out of the game Friday night free of injuries, except the regular scratches and a few minor bruises.

Humble Broadcast Football Schedule Talco Trojans

Humble Oil & Refining Company football broadcasts Saturday will feature four games played by Southwest Conference teams and the Texas Tech-College of the Pacific game.

Kern Tips and Alec Chesser will describe the TCU-Texas A. & M. game from TCU Stadium in Ft. Worth at 1:50 p. m. over WFAA-WBAP.

The conference game between Arkansas and Texas will be announced direct from Fayetteville, Ark., by John Ferguson and Eddie Barker at 1:50 p. m. over KRDL.

The Baylor-Vanderbilt game will be brought to radio listeners direct from Waco by Bob Walker and Jerry Doggett at 1:50 p. m. over KFJZ, Ft. Worth; WRR, Dallas.

Action from the SMU-Rice game will be described from the Cotton Bowl by Ves Box and Eddie Hill at 8 p. m. over WFAA-WBAP.

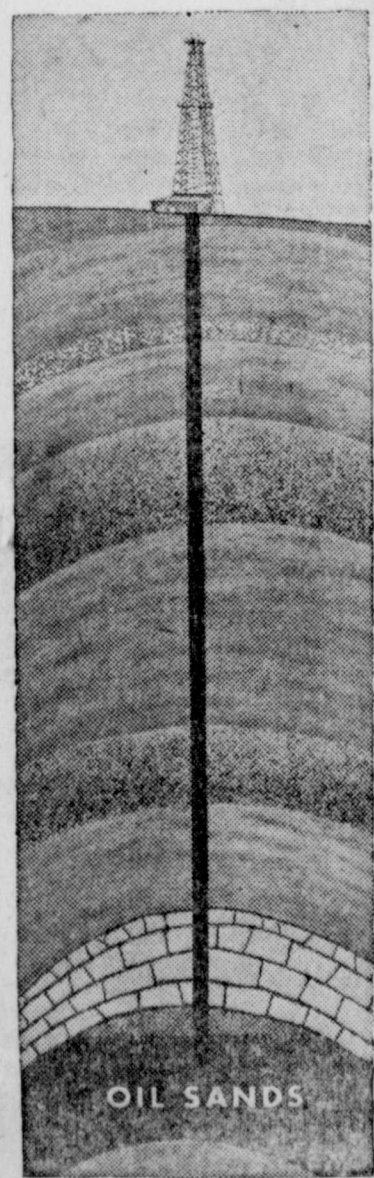

Following is the Talco Trojan football schedule as announced for the 1953 season:

- Oct. 16—Hughes Springs at Hughes Springs.
- Oct. 23—Open.
- Oct. 30—Queen City at Queen City.
- Nov. 6—Bogata at Talco.
- Nov. 13—Jefferson at Jefferson.
- Nov. 20—James Bowie at Talco.

LOCAL DEER HUNTERS EAT VENISON STEW

Shorty Taylor, Blackie Henderson, Lloyd Gauntt and Jack Winn had a venison stew at the Humble salt water disposal grounds Saturday night to make plans for their deer hunt. Dude Emerson and Sam Holloway, who are also members of the party, were out of town.

Mrs. Lloyd Gauntt cooked the stew and a number of bucks were killed during the evening, as the hunters "chewed the fat" over prospects for the coming hunt.

HATS OFF TO TALCO'S PROGRESSIVE OIL COMPANIES

Our hats are off to the oil companies of our community — part of a progressive industry that has met every challenge you and the nation have given it in peace and war.

This week we are glad to join Talco's oilmen in observing Oil Progress Week. By their continuous, faithful service to our community, the oil companies of Talco have helped to make every week of the year Oil Progress Week in Talco.

Amer. Lib.'s New Cracking Unit In Operation Soon

American Liberty Oil Company's modernization project at the Mt. Pleasant Refinery is nearing completion with initial operation scheduled for February, 1954.

The Fluor Corporation, Ltd., of Los Angeles, is erecting a Thermofor Catalytic Cracking Unit for the processing of gas oil. The process, licensed by Socony-Vacuum Oil Company, will convert gas oils into high octane gasoline, heating oils, and liquefied petroleum gas.

The recent trend to higher compression engines for automobiles and conversion of railroad locomotives from fuel oil to diesel fuel were the main factors in the decision to build the Catalytic Cracking Unit. The new process produces no fuel oil for a fading market, and the gasoline produced will be 10 to 12 octanes higher than currently produced by thermal cracking facilities.

Designed to process 5,100 barrels per day of gas oil, the new unit will produce 120,000 gallons a day of gasoline suitable for premium grades, 35,000 gallons of heating oils and 25,000 gallons of liquefied petroleum gas.

Mrs. C. M. Martin visited relatives in Sherman Monday.

Methodist Revival Begins Wednesday

Revival at Talco Methodist Church begins Wednesday night, Oct. 21, at 7:30 p. m. Services will be held each night at that time, through Sunday night, Nov. 1. Day services will begin Tuesday morning, Oct. 27, at 10 a. m. and continue through Saturday, Oct. 31. Special services will be held on both Sundays at the morning worship hour.

Rev. John Brand of Whitesboro, who was born in Vienna, Austria, will be the evangelist beginning Monday evening, Oct. 26. He will also preach at the morning services.

Rev. Larry Meredith of Bogata, will be song leader and will preach Oct. 21 through Oct. 24. He assisted in last year's revival at the same church and was wonderfully received. This year he will preach on the first four nights, and will serve as evangelist song-leader for the entire 12 night period.

CARD OF THANKS

To all of those who were so kind and helpful during the illness and passing away of my wife and our mother, we extend our most sincere appreciation. We shall never forget your thoughtfulness. And we will always remember the many things you have done for us. May God bless each and every one.

Talco P-TA Holds Interesting Meet

Talco Elementary-High Parent-Teacher Association held its regular monthly meeting Thursday evening in the high school auditorium, with a good attendance. The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p. m. by the president, F. S. Tietz. The program chairman, Mrs. Nadine Caldwell, led the assembly in a unison prayer. She then introduced the speaker, Quinton Fannin, minister of Talco Church of Christ. The subject of the speech, "Parents Till the Soil," was very impressively presented in an earnest and fluent address.

Miss Nelda Allen, accompanied by Miss Patsy Easterling at the piano, led the assembly in singing two old favorite songs, "The Quilting Party" and "Long, Long Ago."

The order of the program was reversed in order that the speaker could address PTA and fill an engagement at Johnstown, where he preaches every Thursday evening.

The usual business meeting followed, with reading of the minutes of the last meeting by the secretary, Mrs. Dorothy Trice; report of the executive committee and approval by general vote of the recommendations of that committee. The budget for the year was adopted. F. S. Tietz, president, was elected delegate to the State Convention, which will be held at San Antonio, Nov. 17-20. Yearbooks were distributed. Membership has reached a total of 109, but the reports were not all in.

Mr. Hawkins reminded the members that there is still need for outgrown clothing to be turned in, to fill the needs supplied by that committee.

In the room count, Mrs. Hopper's 3rd-4th grade room won again. Highest representation by

Fine Arts Club Holds First Meet

Mrs. M. E. Jones was hostess to the Fine Arts Club which met in her home Tuesday afternoon. This was the club's first regular meeting and rasmbley program for the 1953-54 club year.

Planned projects were outlined by the president, Mrs. C. C. Collins. Mrs. Howard Johnson, program chairman, previewed the many interesting programs and special events to be held throughout the year.

While welcoming the club women, including two new members, the president stated that we should take great pride in membership in the world's largest organization of women, the General Federation of Women's Clubs, with its many phases of study concerning women, the home, religion and international good will.

In support of one of the General Federation's projects under its Americanism Department, the Fine Arts Club will sponsor a campaign for the restoration of various rooms in Independence Hall. Mrs. Dick Trice was named chairman of a special committee to promote this project in its various phases.

The club's course of study for this year is "Interpreting the Fine Arts—Book II," and will include many programs and special events of particular interest to club members.

The next regular meeting will be Oct. 20th, 2:00 p. m., at the Humble Hall. This event will be exceptionally interesting to members and their guests, when Mrs. Gladys D. Kolander of Mt. Pleasant, will be guest speaker. Mrs. Kolander's subject for discussion will be "The Fine Art of Entertaining," and will include many attractive displays of table settings pertinent to her subject.

Other important events of the club year will be continuation of the "Friendship Coffees" in which the club has participated the past two years. The first "coffee" will be at the home of Mrs. Howard Johnson, Friday, Oct. 16, 9:30 to 11:00 a. m. for high school was won by the sophomore class.

The meeting was adjourned and a social hour was enjoyed in the school cafeteria, where refreshments of cookies and punch were served by the room representatives of the first grade, Mrs. Lyndon Reed and Mrs. Bill Miller, assisted by the Hospitality chairman, Mrs. Jim Davis.

Swains Entertain For Jim Garretts

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Garrett of Rugby, observed their 39th wedding anniversary last Sunday, Oct. 11. Their daughter, Mrs. Ois Swaim and Mr. Swaim of Talco, were hosts to a bountiful dinner at their home with Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Garrett and children of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. Swaim and two daughters present.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Grant Garrett of St. Louis, Mo., also observed their first wedding anniversary Sunday, having been married on the same date of his parents. They called Mr. and Mrs. Garrett by telephone to congratulate them.

Albert P. Moore Buried at Cuthand

Final rites were held Thursday afternoon for Albert P. Moore, 71, who died Tuesday of a heart attack at the Pine Branch store. Burial was in Cuthand cemetery.

PJC Ex-Student Homecoming Oct. 17

Homecoming for Paris Junior College has officially been set for Saturday, Oct. 17. The student body will elect a homecoming queen from the sophomore nominees of the college. The full day's festivities are scheduled to be registration and reception at the college, a one-dollar-per-plate barbecue, the football game with the arch rivals, Cameron Aggies, presentation of Homecoming Queen at halftime, and following the ball game, the grand ball in the gymnasium.

All ex-students will be able to buy football tickets at the college all day Saturday, Oct. 17, for the student admission price of 50c. All lettermen of any nature can obtain a free football game ticket (you pay the tax) by registering at the college. No ex-students and lettermen tickets will be sold at the gate.

Shallow Oil Test In Red River County

A 1,100 foot shallow oil test is set by Dalton Sprinkle, Paris. Location is in the Kiomitia area twenty miles northwest of Clarksville and about a mile south of the Red River. It is the No. 1 Robert L. Williams, 2,310 from the east and 4,950 from the north lines of a 2,003-acre tract in the Lonson Moore survey. A test two years ago in the Ad-dilou community in that area produced a quantity of oil at about 1,800 feet.

Oil Progress Week

OCTOBER 11th to 17th

It's a large order but we fill it every day by supplying America's oilmen with the tools and equipment needed to bring you and your neighbors the record amounts of oil you call for.

We're proud to work hand in hand with America's competitive, progressive oil businesses. And this week we're glad to join them in observing Oil Progress Week. But we'd like to point out that by their faithful service to all of us, they have made Oil Progress Week every week of the year.

Country Editor at Texas State Fair

The editor and Mrs. Holloway drove over to Big D Friday to attend the annual meeting and initiation of Sigma Delta Chi on Friday night and take in the State Fair and see the Texas-Oklahoma football game.

Sigma initiated a fine class of Texas' most prominent newspaper men and then had a dinner at the Baker Hotel that was the best we have ever eaten—and that statement covers many years and much fine food.

We were two of the 175,000 at the State Fair Saturday and two of the 75,000 who attended the football game. The Longhorns played like a bunch of high school boys and let the Sooners chalk up 19 points in the first three quarters. The fourth quarter they started playing football and made two touchdowns and two conversions. But the Sooners have defeated them every year for a half dozen and the odds were on the boys from across Red River.

Footballers took over the town Friday and Saturday nights. Friday night SMU beat Missouri and celebrators wouldn't let anyone sleep. Following Saturday's game Sooner supporters took the town apart. The Baker and Adolphus were centers of activities.

The editor couldn't get a hotel room, but our friend, Robert Olmsted arranged a room at the Dallas Athletic Club, four blocks away. About all we heard of the celebrators up at the Athletic Club was when a car load drove along with the horn button tied down. It is a great fair and we enjoyed meeting many newspaper folk from all parts of Texas.

By revising the molecular structure, by blending and com-

This Generation

This editor doesn't take much of this talk about the thoughtless, inappreciative younger generation. There were two examples of it Sunday: That night we went to the office on a small errand and left the car headlights burning. Then we found more than just the errand to perform and forgot about the headlights. A young friend poked his head in the door and advised the lights were burning and if we did not want them cut off. We did. He did not just advise us they were on, but wanted to turn them off for us.

The other case was that of a pretty girl whose engagement and approaching marriage had just been announced in this newspaper. She wrote us a letter expressing her thanks for printing her picture and announcement, paid a flattering compliment to her home town paper and hoped she would always have an opportunity to read it.

Both these young people are thoughtful and appreciative. Every generation always has a few heels—always have had, but a majority are just like the ma-

Temperature Varies
 From 39 to 90 Degrees
 In This Section

Temperatures during the past week have covered a wide range. Thursday morning the mercury dropped to a low of 39 degrees, but the cold front lasted only a short time. By Sunday the mercury had shot upward to the mid-nineties to set new record highs for this time of the year.

Scattered clouds prevailed on Tuesday and Wednesday, but the temperatures remained at unusual highs.

Average date for the first killing frost here is Nov. 11, but it came a month early last year. Temperatures plunged to 32 degrees on Oct. 8 last year and a white frost covered the entire area, killing all green vegetation.

Cattlemen would like to see a good rain on grassland, while the cotton farmers are pleased with the dry weather. Scarcity of pickers has caused the harvest to be slower this season than in several years.

Stewart Home at Cuthand Burns
 Fire which spread from the oil cook stove at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stewart in the Cuthand community about 4:30 p. m. Monday totally destroyed the house and contents. Nothing was saved. Mrs. Stewart was alone at home at the time and had slipped her shoes off and hadn't enough time to save them.

A man is justified for standing up for his rights. The jails are full of men who stood up for their wrongs.

Someone says this country wouldn't be in this mess if the Indians had had stricter immigration laws.

Funeral Thursday For Mrs. Ray Hall

Funeral services for Mrs. Ray Hall, who died Wednesday of last week, were held Thursday. A report of her death appeared in last week's Times. Mrs. Hall was born and reared in Franklin County and was 35 years of age.

Pallbearers were Renford Sikes, Waymon Alexander, Howard Johnson, Bill Richardson, Milton Bolin and Clarence Leake.

Out of town relatives and friends who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Strickland of Hughes Springs, Mrs. Era Wellington of Lawton, Ok., Mrs. Louise Wilson and Mrs. Ione Brown of Greenville, Mr. and Mrs. Les Buchanan and children of Texas City, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Glover, Mrs. Robert Reid, Mrs. Joe Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Omie Hanks, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stedaman and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spruell of Mt. Pleasant, Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Lindsey and Mrs. Bill Lindsey of Daingerfield, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gurley and son and Mrs. Ethyl Brown of Mt. Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Morris of Garland, Mrs. Howard Brown of Bogata, Mr. and Mrs. Stephenson of Avinger.

Majority of other generations—kind, thoughtful and appreciative. There is nothing radically wrong with this generation of young people just coming into man and womanhood.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Winn and their two young sons, "Butch" and "Chipper," of Salem, Ill., arrived Monday to spend a few days visiting Mrs. Winn's mother, Mrs. Thelma Tarpley, her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Teague, and her brothers and sisters.

In-Out Club Meets With Mrs. Pendleton

Monthly meeting of the "In and Out" club of Humble Camp was held Thursday in the home of Mrs. Helen Pendleton with Mrs. Zelma Poston as co-hostess.

The home was decorated with lovely cannas and bachelor buttons. During the meeting, the members voted on club colors, their selection being Red and White.

Games were played with Mrs. Joyce Orr, Lois Russell and Ruby Mitchell winning prizes. A door prize was won by Mrs. Ruth Hooks. Refreshments were served by Mmes. Ruby Mitchell, Onella

Martin, Wanda Burcalow, Ruth Hooks, Lois Russell, Chloe Stone, Elizabeth Hanks, Joyce Orr, Melvina Winchell, Sis Dyson and Pearl Rothwell.

T. W. and Erby Lewis went to Galveston Sunday to bring their father, J. R. Lewis, home from a hospital, where he had been a surgical patient for several days.

Alcorn Favors Getting Energy From The Sun Without Using a Meter

Editor's note: Achin Alcorn, philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sulphur has a wild idea this week, which he won't get anywhere with.

Dear Editor: I was out here yesterday afternoon drainin the oil from my tractor so I could use it in my car for a trip to town, and people say this is a big waste of time but my time is cheaper than lubricatin oil, and as I was wipin my hands off on a newspaper after I got the oil swapped I noticed an article and while it was a little hard to read on account of the smear I sat down and leaned against the car fender and read it.

This article said the world's supply of oil may play out in about 70 years and the supply of atomic power in 75 years, and we'd better get busy figurin out a way to draw energy from the sun.

Now, I'm not disturbed over this matter, I believe the supply of oil, whatever it is, will last longer than my car or my tractor either, and even if it didn't I can think of worse things than not bein able to plow on account of a dry crank case, and anyway lack of oil ain't the only thing that frequently keeps me from drivin to town in my car, the spark plugs, for example, or the radiator, or a flat tire, or my wife.

But I am interested in this plan to draw energy from the sun, that is, energy to run vehicles, not me, I got all the energy

I want, which is enough to get by on but not enough to be forcin me to be splittin the breeze goin up one row and down another, in fact you might say me and my energy are in perfect balance, and I intend to keep it that way.

The phase of this new source of energy though that interests me is not whether or not scientists can do it, I believe they can, anybody who can invent an automobile without a gear shift and a strapless bathin suit you can dive in can figure out a way to draw energy out of the sun.

What I want scientists to be spending their time on is figurin out a way to get this energy to me without the use of a meter.

We got all the metered energy we can handle, what this country needs is some meter-less variety. If they have to go back to puttin gear shifts in cars or straps on women's bathin suits in order to remove the meter from this new source of energy, I'm willin.

I don't care what makes a light bulb burn or a pump work or a stove heat up, providin scientists could figure out some way to get the stuff to me without runnin it through a meter.

I look for this day to arrive though about the same date they eliminate taxes.

Yours faithfully, A. A.

Modern Art Takes a Licking!

Did you know we had a real artist in town? Yes sir! Handy Jackson was a contributor to the Sculpture Exhibition at the Centerville Fair last week.

His work was streaky pink and curved all around—sort of streamlined. Caused quite a stir. Nobody was sure what it was supposed to represent, but some liked it and thought it was good art. Handy gave me the lowdown:

"Why, it was nothing but a piece of cattle salt our cows have been lickin' at for months. I just had it mounted. Fooled a lot of folks—one fellow even wanted to buy it!"

From where I sit, Handy's "modern art" just shows how some people can be led astray. Some even get to be "experts"—especially about the other fellow's business. Whether it's art or music, or a simple thing like choosing, say, beer or milk with a snack, we should live and let live. There's no call for either of us to set ourselves up as a "model" for the other!

Gasoline

for Sunday driving... or Natural Gas

to cook next Sunday's roast?

Most people think only of gasolines, lubricants, and fuel oils when the petroleum industry is mentioned. The fact is, practically all oil producers are also natural gas producers. So today the driller of a wildcat, or exploratory well, calls his venture successful if the well discovers either oil or gas.

If it is an oil well, then he has helped to supply the country's increasing needs for oil and oil products; if it is a gas well, he has discovered additional supplies of an efficient, economical fuel for household and industrial use.

The petroleum industry's development and conservation of the country's natural gas resources is a practical demonstration of the progress to which Oil Progress Week invites attention.

Beginning with the location of the well, advanced geological and geophysical studies of underground formations aid in the selection of likely oil or gas producing areas, but still the odds against a wildcat well producing either gas or oil are eight to one.

If a natural gas field is discovered, reservoir engineers immediately begin their studies to determine the best producing methods to conserve the underground energy and to obtain the maximum production for the longest possible time.

If the gas that is discovered is "wet," it is processed in gasoline plants which remove the liquid parts and send them to refineries for further processing into motor fuels and aviation gasolines, or to petrochemical plants to be converted into a long list of useful chemical products, among which are the plastics and synthetic fabrics with which you are so familiar. "Dry" gas, the residue from gasoline plants, and sometimes produced direct from the gas field, is the natural gas that burns in literally millions of homes throughout America and under the boilers of thousands of American industries.

So, whether a wildcat well discovers oil for gasoline or natural gas for the kitchen stove, it adds to the available energy resources of the most highly mechanized nation on earth; it supplies products essential for today's and tomorrow's high living standards; it gives additional strength to measures for National defense.

We take our hats off to America's Oilmen because of their continuous, faithful service to this community and to the nation. As part of a service-conscious competitive industry, they are proving daily that our progress and oil progress go hand in hand. Today you can actually measure that progress by improved gasolines that power your car, more efficient fuels for home heating and hundreds of other oil products that make living more comfortable every day.

This week we are glad to join oilmen everywhere in observing Oil Progress Week. But by serving you and the nation so well over the years, America's oilmen have made every week of the year Oil Progress Week.
