New Pettit Pool At Mount Vernon Gets Second Try

Franklin County's Mount Vernon prospect, established as Pettit lime productive last week to open a new Northeast Texas pool, was lined up Tuesday for a second operation.

John B. Stephens Jr., et al. of Mt. Pleasant, has filed application with the Railroad Commission to drill a test for oil in the Carey Pope-James Caudle survey two miles northeast of Mt. Vernon. Proposed depth, 7,500 feet. This test is not far from a well Stephens completed, two miles west of Mt. Vernon.

The new try three miles east and north of Mount Vernon at No. 1 Corey Pope. Permit calls for 7,500 feet and drillsite is 830 from the east and 1,850 from the south lines of James Caudle survey and on a 40-acre tract.

This puts the site about a mile northeast of F. R. Jackson and S. H. Killingsworth No. 1 L. C. Moore, Anna Willis survey, the area opener completed from the 7,000-foot level.

In Bowie County abandonment has been ordered for Sunray Mid-Continent Oil Company No. 1 J. C. Burgess, E. T. Jackson survey, two miles southeast of Maud, following last negative test at 9,098-106 in the Smackover. This well is a failure abandoned last year recently re-entered and deepened to 9,719 and cased for pay testing.

Application to drill—Wildcat in Delta County, Gibson Drilling Co., J. M. Hagood Lease well No. 1, survey Walter Converse No. A63. Proposed depth 3,000 ft., 1,109 ft. east of west line, 330 ft. north of the south line.

Farris A. Brown Honored by Nat'l Safety Council

Rural Route Carrier Farris A. Brown was presented a 15-year safe driving award Monday by Postmaster L. R. Miller upon behalf of the National Safety Council.

Brown's record represents over 300,000 miles without any accident of any kind.

Previous to his mail carrier's job Brown was Talco's postmaster, appointed July 17, 1935. The Talco postoffice was fourth class at the time, but oil activities which began in February, 1936, soon boosted it to third and then to second class.

Brown retired as postmaster to become rural carrier December 1, 1943.

On Feb. 23, 1957 one of Talco's rural routes was discontinued and Brown took on parts of both routes. His present route is 73 miles long and he has 215 boxes for 1310 patrons.

Lamar, Delta and Hopkins Counties Seek New Road

Members of the commissioners courts of Hopkins, Delta and Lamar Counties will be in Austin Wednesday to confer with the Texas Highway Commission on a proposed new highway which would cross Eastern Hopkins County.

The route would extend from Cunningham in Lamar County south to a junction with U. S. 67 near Saitillo, Hopkins County.

Hopkins County Judge Nevt Owens said construction of the highway was approved before World War II and some right of way acquired. The project was abandoned then because of wartime restrictions.

Parents Warned to Caution Children Flying Kites

An appeal to parents to caution their children about flying kites near electric wires was issued today by Community Public Service. The windy season brings kite flying time and this traditional sport is lots of fun for children if it is done safely. Many youngsters don't realize the dangers in this innocent pastime if certain safety rules are not observed. The most important thing is to never fly kites where there is the possibility of their getting tangled in electric power lines.

Other dangerous practices in connection with kite flying include using metallic cord or wire for the kite string, making the kite frame of metal, flying kites in the rain when even a cotton string can become a dangerous conductor of electricity, and trying to retrieve a kite if it becomes entangled in electric wires.

Locally we've had no mishaps in several years, but each year, over the nation, there are many cases of injuries to kite flyers. If kites are made right and flown right, kite flying is an enjoyable and wholesome sport.

To further impress children that safety is all-important in kite flying, Community Public Service is providing posters for school bulletin boards.

THIS EDITOR has been invited over to Commerce next Saturday to meet journalism students at East Texas State College and to answer, if we can, their questions on newspaper work. Believe they call it a seminar. The last time we attempted to help such students at the School of Journalism, Texas University, Austin, our county seat town of Paris caught fire and burned. That was back in 1916. We disclaim any relationship, co-incidental or otherwise. What we said down at Austin just wasn't that hot. We doubt if any listening student could now recall anything we said—we can't. And we don't know now what we can say at Commerce that will be helpful, but we will do our best.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

BURT LOCKHART
in Pittsburg Gazette

If you are never talked about it is time you were finding out why.

In getting in on the ground floor be sure no dirty work is involved.

In counting your blessings remember you had to send a lot of them to Washington on April 15.

There may be a bright side to everything, but did you see it the last time you stepped in a mud-hole?

Heard of a man the other day who was so old fashioned that he believed every man should pay his debts.

Riding the wild waves of prosperity for several years taught people the important lesson of walking.

This has been designated Candy Week. If your disposition has gone sour maybe this is the week to sweeten up.

Never sell your town nor your business short. Keep the best foot out in front and tell the world about it.

Be careful in driving. The man you kill may be a candidate who is going to cut your taxes next year if he is elected.

State officials are demanding cleaner jails. Probably they think that by making them more home-like they will get a better class of inmates.

Ex-President Truman telling the country how to remedy economic conditions makes millions laugh. When did HST ever qualify on economic matters?

The Hollywood actress whose daughter plunged a knife into the body of her boy friend played one part in life's drama that was not in the scrip. It was an agonizing part that called for real tears and which was completely unrehearsed.

Last week was designated National Laugh Week. There is never a week in this sun-kissed and wren there isn't something to make us augh. If we ever have a National Cry Week the Potomac river at Washington will overflow with political tears.

Generally speaking the "dip" in our economy is being shortened. It was coming to us and not unexpected. Most of it may be classed as psychological and greatly exaggerated by being placed under the magnifying glass of ambitious politicians. There is nothing fundamentally wrong with American economy that common sense and patience can not cure. Politicians are poor doctors.

FIDELIS CLASS WITH MRS. H. L. SHOFFNER

Fidelis Sunday School class of Calvary Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. H. L. Shoffner Thursday evening. Mrs. Eugene Hargrove opened the meeting with scripture reading followed by a devotional by Mrs. C. W. Hawkins.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Gannelle Case, Mrs. Ruby Mitchell, Mrs. Mary Ballard, Mrs. Peggy Hargrove and Mrs. Bina Hawkins.

Baptist Ladies Aid Orphans

Several ladies of the First Baptist Church spent Monday in Waxahachie at the Texas Baptist Orphanage. The purpose of the trip was to give permanents to the girls at the orphanage and to carry some other supplies needed for all the children.

The ladies gave 40 permanents and five shampoos and sets. Some 47 pounds of home made cookies were taken as an extra treat for the children.

Those making the trip were: Mmes. C. U. Carson, Buddy McGee, Elton Welch, Wayman Alexander, Hughie Bogue, George Burleson, Ellis Harris, Roger Hood, Aubrey Harris, and Clifton North, all of First Baptist Church and Mrs. Bill Via of Calvary Baptist Church. Mrs. Maude Daniels of First Baptist Church at Ferris, also was there to help in this project. It is hoped that this can be made into an annual project.

The return trip was delayed for about an hour because of the storms. Hail, wind and rain from this same storm that damaged Midlothian hit Waxahachie at 4:30, delaying the return trip.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM YOUR STATE CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD, Texas Press Association

Austin.—Next summer's campaigners are tuning up to play from a familiar score—the conservative vs. liberal melody Texas voters have been hearing for years.

But, like the rock 'n roll version of a Stephen Foster song, it may sound different. Campaign pitches will have to keep time to the fast beat of 1958's new issues. Such as "curing the recession" and "catching up in education."

On the federal level, talk is of cutting taxes to give the people more money to spend. Here in Texas, it's raising taxes to give the state more money to spend. In a situation like this, a voter can get confused.

For each issue, there'll be several choruses—more or less drowning each other out. Some will chant of scaring away recession with large-scale government spending. Others will say the only way is to give business a break.

For schools, some are calling for a nationwide program to require more work from students, provide better teachers at better pay, more lab equipment, scholarships for promising students, etc. But many Texans say "never" to any scheme that would eat away at local control over schools.

On how to get money to bail out the state treasury, there are already a number of tunes being struck up—sales taxes, income taxes, corporation taxes, more economy in government—but no prospect of close harmony.

COWBOY HAT IN RING

One morning in between pouring his coffee and finishing his bacon, William A. Blakely decided to run for the U. S. Senate.

Blakely served as junior U. S. senator for four months last year as the appointee of former Gov. Allan Shivers. He was not a candidate in the special election when Ralph Yarborough was named to succeed him.

Son of Oklahoma homesteaders who had to "work out" for other farmers, Blakely parlayed a little grit into a lot of money—in law, banking, real estate, ranching, oil, gas, insurance and an air line. He'll not be troubled by most candidates' sorest problem—raising campaign funds.

Incumbent Yarborough has made statements leaving the door open for either of two courses—running for another Senate term or a fourth try at the governorship.

PURSE - WATCHER NEEDED

"Texas" governor should have some power to keep a hand on state purse strings after the Legislature leaves.

So says Vernon McGee, director of the Legislative Budget Board. McGee heads the board with responsibility for studying the fiscal needs of all state departments and making recommendations to the Legislature.

Under present system, McGee pointed out, after the Legislature makes its appropriations, only the individual department heads are responsible for how the money is spent. Many administrators are admirably "tight-fisted," McGee said, but others will spend money, that could be saved for later needs, just because they have it.

McGee's recommendation: give the governor authority to ask for periodic reports from departments and to cut from their budgets items no longer necessary.

Most other states have this system, said McGee.

Austin.—Next summer's campaigners are tuning up to play from a familiar score—the conservative vs. liberal melody Texas voters have been hearing for years.

But, like the rock 'n roll version of a Stephen Foster song, it may sound different. Campaign pitches will have to keep time to the fast beat of 1958's new issues. Such as "curing the recession" and "catching up in education."

On the federal level, talk is of cutting taxes to give the people more money to spend. Here in Texas, it's raising taxes to give the state more money to spend. In a situation like this, a voter can get confused.

For each issue, there'll be several choruses—more or less drowning each other out. Some will chant of scaring away recession with large-scale government spending. Others will say the only way is to give business a break.

For schools, some are calling for a nationwide program to require more work from students, provide better teachers at better pay, more lab equipment, scholarships for promising students, etc. But many Texans say "never" to any scheme that would eat away at local control over schools.

On how to get money to bail out the state treasury, there are already a number of tunes being struck up—sales taxes, income taxes, corporation taxes, more economy in government—but no prospect of close harmony.

COWBOY HAT IN RING

One morning in between pouring his coffee and finishing his bacon, William A. Blakely decided to run for the U. S. Senate.

Blakely served as junior U. S. senator for four months last year as the appointee of former Gov. Allan Shivers. He was not a candidate in the special election when Ralph Yarborough was named to succeed him.

Son of Oklahoma homesteaders who had to "work out" for other farmers, Blakely parlayed a little grit into a lot of money—in law, banking, real estate, ranching, oil, gas, insurance and an air line. He'll not be troubled by most candidates' sorest problem—raising campaign funds.

Incumbent Yarborough has made statements leaving the door open for either of two courses—running for another Senate term or a fourth try at the governorship.

PURSE - WATCHER NEEDED

"Texas" governor should have some power to keep a hand on state purse strings after the Legislature leaves.

So says Vernon McGee, director of the Legislative Budget Board. McGee heads the board with responsibility for studying the fiscal needs of all state departments and making recommendations to the Legislature.

Under present system, McGee pointed out, after the Legislature makes its appropriations, only the individual department heads are responsible for how the money is spent. Many administrators are admirably "tight-fisted," McGee said, but others will spend money, that could be saved for later needs, just because they have it.

STILL TOO MUCH OIL

Austin.—Next summer's campaigners are tuning up to play from a familiar score—the conservative vs. liberal melody Texas voters have been hearing for years.

Despite severe cuts in production, Texas is still producing more oil than anyone wants to buy. It could mean even deeper cuts and more idle drilling rigs next month.

Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson noted an increase of 1,208,000 barrels in stocks of crude oil. It shows, he said, that April's lowest-in-history, 8-day production pattern was needed. He suggested that new wells coming in may make an even lower pattern necessary for May.

SET TO GO—Texas Highway Department is poised for a $36,000,000 speed-up in road building if a new stepped-up federal aid bill becomes law.

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer said the bill, sent to the President by Congress, would enable Texas to avoid a summer lull in highway construction. Texas has already planned the projects in anticipation of the money, said Greer.

Designed as an anti-recession measure, the bill specifies the extra money must be spent within 12 months.

It won't put all the unemployed people to work, said Greer, but it will stimulate the economy. And, he added, it's not a "leaf-raking job."

SCIENTISTS MUST EAT

With all the emphasis on scientific education, importance of training farmers and ranchers should not be neglected, said Gov. Price Daniel.

Speaking to a Future Farmers group, the governor said food is as necessary to the nation's defense as development of better weapons. Texas' farm population, he noted, has declined by more than one-half since 1933.

PINCH ON SMALL SCHOOLS

Small schools are going to have to help to meet higher state standards in math and science, says Sen. Crawford Martin of Hillsboro.

Beginning with the 1959-60 term, high schools are to be required to teach four years of science and four years of math. Sen. Martin said he doubted smaller districts had or could get, without assistance, the necessary staff and equipment to meet the new standard.

"Most have gymnasiums," he observed, "but a lot lack laboratories."

SHORT SNORTS

Deaths from industrial accidents dropped from 167 for the first three months of last year to 152 for the same period this year, reports the Industrial Accident Board.

Named by Governor Daniel to the Texas Civil Judicial Council: John Peace of San Antonio, Emil Rassman of Midland, Chief Justice T. C. Chadick of the Texarkana Court of Civil Appeals and Baylor University law dean Abner V. McCall of Waco (reappointed). Council is to advise Legislature on civil court matters.

Other gubernatorial appointments: George Dahl of Dallas and Louis Page of Austin to the Texas Board of Architectural Examiners, Mrs. Jams L. Moore of San Antonio to the State Board of Cosmetology.

Unemployment claims inched up slightly—from 89,326 to 89,786—in latest weekly report, but Texas Employment Commission officials expressed confidence that the month as a whole would show a drop in number of jobless.

Texas' traffic fatality score for 1958 looks better than this time last year—444 compared to 506 in 1957. But Texas is still apparent-

Reduce Delinquency

VII

HOW TO GET WHAT WE NEED
(A distinguished Texas judge offers pointers on combating our rapidly increasing juvenile delinquency problem.)

By JUDGE SARAH T. HUGHES

Texans like to brag — and we have much reason to be proud. But we can't brag about our facilities for handling juvenile delinquents. They're inadequate. The state institutions are heavily overcrowded. There are no state parole officers for children released from them. Many counties have neither institutions nor parole officers.

While the Legislature provided for some additional facilities, the buildings will merely permit less crowding and replace unsafe structures. No more children will be accommodated. No probation officers were authorized.

You Can Get Them
There is, however, something that can be done, and it is up to us, the people, to do it.

Public officials respond to what the voters want. On the county level it is the Commissioners Court, and for the state the Legislature has the responsibility. If there is strong enough public opinion favoring adequate facilities and probation officials, our representatives in county and state office will provide them.

Develop Public Opinion
Public opinion is something you can be a force in developing. Talk to your friends, your clubs, your church. Write your legislators, county commissioners, newspapers. And if your county is too small to afford paid probation people, get volunteer ones, ministers, other people with character... yourself!

Next week: The Biggest Factor.

FIRST CHOICE

The Rev. Frederick Brown Harris, chaplain of the U. S. Senate, was on a return flight from a religious convocation in Honolulu when one of the plane's engines conked out. The pretty hostess bustled about reassuring the passengers, but Chaplain Harris felt she needed a little reassurance herself.

"Nothing can happen to this plane," he told her. "There are eight bishops aboard." The hostess forced a smile and said she would relay the comforting news to the captain. In a few minutes she was back, looking uncertain.

"I told the captain," she said. "He said he would rather have four engines." WHEN NEEDED
"The sun," wrote the youngster in his school essay, "is good to have around, but the moon does much more good for the human race than the sun. After all, the moon gives us light at night, when we need it. The sun's only with us in the daytime, and we don't need it then."

Book Lovers Club With Mrs. Kelley

Mrs. Hershell Kelley was hostess to the members of the Book Lovers Club at her home Friday afternoon with 13 members responding to roll call, "First Aid Hints."

Mrs. E. W. Smith, president, presided during the business session. The WSCS of the Methodist Church gave a contribution of $5.00 to the Cemetery Fence Fund, which was accepted with much appreciation.

Mrs. H. O. Williams, program chairman, introduced the study topic, "First Aid." She gave an interesting talk on what one needs, what to do and the special precautions for the four major causes of accidents in the home: burns, cuts, shock and poisoning.

Through the courtesy of the City Drug Store each member was presented a sample of medicine for minor accidents.

Games were played during the social period with Mmes. C. E. Griggs and L. L. Reed excelling in their knowledge of first aid precautions. The door prize was awarded to Mrs. Ed Nugent.

Mrs. Kelly used a lovely arrangement of lilac, bridal wreath and potted plants in the entertaining room. She was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. R. R. Kelly to the following: Mmes. C. E. Blackburn, J. L. Cato, C. E. Griggs, B. L. Gieger, Ed Nugent, L. L. Reed, R. W. Sanford, E. W. Smith, H. O. Williams and Glen Gauden.

Bobby Jack Brown Head District MYF

The annual MYF Sulphur Springs district banquet was held at Clarksville, April 21. Nearly 200 persons were in attendance at the annual affair. Fifteen were from Talco: Bobby Jack Brown, local MYF president, was elected District President to serve during the 1958-59 year. He is going in June. James Michi of Avery, is vice-president, Paula Minter of Picton, is secretary, Judy Penny of Clarksville, is treasurer.

NO SNAKES, BUT 'GATERS

Deep in the swamps of southern Louisiana three men stopped their car and watched a small boy fishing in a roadside lake. After about five minutes of silence one of the men said, "Boy, are there any snakes in this water?"

"Naw, suh, they sure ain't!" replied the lad slowly. The three men left their clothes on the bank and all had a refreshing swim. After dressing one of the men asked the boy, "How come there aren't any snakes in this lake?" "The alligators et 'em," replied the boy.

INTERESTING QUESTION

Parson (meeting a neighbor bringing home a load of hay): "Wouldn't it be better if you attended services instead of working this way?" Farmer: "Parson, I don't know whether it would be best to sit on a load of hay and think of religion or sit in church and think of the hay."

TEXANS PAY ONE-FOURTH OF PERSONAL INCOME FOR TAXES

In 1956 Texans paid a total of $3.8 billion in taxes, a sum equal to one-fourth of their personal income for that year. Federal taxes amounted to $2.6 billion, or 68 per cent of the total. State taxes were $619 million, or 17 per cent; local taxes were $537 million, or 15 per cent.

These facts are contained in the first research staff report made for the Texas State Tax Study Commission to provide it with facts upon which to base its report to the 1959 Legislature. This Commission was created by the 1957 Legislature to conduct a comprehensive study of the entire state and local tax structure. Other salient facts brought out in the report are:

1. The total 1956 tax bill averaged $420 for each man, woman and child in Texas.
2. State and local taxes in Texas totaled $1.2 billion in 1956, as compared with $385 million in 1946 and $853 million in 1950.
3. In 1946 the average per person was $28.90 in state taxes and $24.70 in local taxes. By 1956 the per person average was $69.30 of state taxes and $60.20 of local taxes.
4. Property tax collections account for about 90 per cent of Texas local revenues. The state, however, has in recent years shifted toward greater reliance on selective sales taxes (gasoline, cigarettes, alcoholic beverages, motor vehicles, etc.), severance taxes (on oil, gas and sulphur), and business taxes. Today only about 5 per cent of state tax revenue comes from property.

5. Over the past 25 years, the Texas tax structure has changed significantly. In 1932, local governments raised two-thirds of the combined state and local revenue. By 1940, the state-local division was equal. When World War II ended, state government was collecting 54 per cent and local governments 46 per cent. This ratio has continued unchanged.

Senator William S. Fly of Victoria is Chairman of the Tax Study Commission. Representative Frates Seeligson of San Antonio is vice-chairman. John McKee of Dallas is secretary. Other members are Senators Otis Lock, Lufkin, and David Ratliff, Stamford; Representatives John A. Huebner, Sr., Bay City, and Richard Slack, Pecos; and Hugo Loewenstern, Amarillo, and John R. Stockton, Austin. Six members of the Texas Research League's professional staff have been made available to form the Commission's own staff.

Alcorn Says Scientists Are Fine, But They Don't Have All the Answers

Editors' note: Achin Alcorn, philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sulphur gives an unscientific discussion of science this week, his letter reveals.

Dear Editor: Last night I was reading in a copy of a magazine which a friend handed me, I've heard you're not supposed to look a gift horse in the mouth or a used car under the hood, but still I figure a magazine is put out to be read and what attracted me in this one was an article on the school system.

According to it, the American school system is far behind the Russian system, and the main trouble with ours is that we're not turning out enough scientists.

Now I know that everybody is talking about science today, about how we've got to develop more, pay them more, pay teachers better to turn out more, etc., and how the future of mankind rests in the scientist's hand.

In fact, some people are saying that what this country needs is more scientists in positions of leadership. Maybe a scientist for President.

Well, now, I'll tell you, I'm in favor of scientists, and I'm especially in favor of scientific result. Like a flat-proof tractor tire, but science isn't everything and the scientific attitude doesn't answer all the problems. I'm not acquainted with any live scientists, at least there aren't any living out here, probably not the right kind of soil, but I have a nation that even the purest scientist must have his common troubles.

Don't scientists have unpaid bills, don't they get bad colds, don't they occasionally turn up with a delinquent child the same as other human beings? How would a scientist go about fighting a recession? Is there a scientific formula for arranging for the nations of the world to get along with each other? Can a scientist figure out a scientific system for getting elected to Congress? How's he stand on taxes?

Some day scientists may even grow all the world's food in test tubes, providing us unscientific people will keep them in laboratories, but until they do somebody's got to go up one row and down another if the world is going to keep on eating. For every man launched into space, somebody's got to launch a good many tractors up and down the rows of America.

Maybe the Russians can order a thousand new scientists to be turned out every two weeks in their school system, but over here we sort of let things turn out as they will. I don't mean we shouldn't offer more science courses, but what a boy turns into in this country is mostly the boy's choice. It may not be very scientific, but freedom, like a session of Congress, is no exact science anyway. I don't know whether our school system is behind Russia's or not, but if it has to produce a Stalin or a Krushchev to catch up, I'd just as soon it slid along like it is.

Yours faithfully, A. A.

While his birthday party was being planned, little Donald was asked for a list of friends he would like to invite to the party.

"I want Auntie Mills, Grandpa Smith, Uncle Dick, and Grandma Jones, and—"

"But wait a minute, Donald. Every one of those you have mentioned is an older person!" said mother.

"Well," replied Donald they're the only ones that ever seem to have any money."
