Jerry Daugherty Appointed Air Academy Cadet

Jerry Daugherty, 19, a 1957 Talco High School graduate, has received appointment to the United States Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo., and will report in Denver for basic training, June 27. He will be one of the first cadets to enroll in the Air Academy when it opens its new quarters in Colorado Springs in September.

He received his appointment through Rep. Wright Patman, and qualified for admission to the academy in competitive examination in March.

This year, he has been attending East Texas Baptist College at Marshall, being elected president of the freshman class.

Son of Mrs. Louie A. Elkins of Talco, he was active in campus affairs in high school here, while making a high scholastic record. President of the student council in his senior year, he played football, basketball and baseball and participated in track events, besides singing in the school choir.

Member of the Baptist Church and its choir, he was often its soloist, and a number of times, filled the pulpit there also.

Father's Day Was Originated By a Spokane Mother

Surprisingly enough, Father's Day was originated by a mother. In 1909, Mrs. John Bruce Dodd of Spokane, Wash., proposed the day as a tribute to fathers everywhere. Her own father, William Smart, was a Civil War veteran who raised his six children after their mother's death.

The Spokane Ministers Association sponsored the first city-wide Father's Day in 1910. The day rapidly became a national holiday, and President Wilson officially opened one celebration.

Father's Day is observed annually on the third Sunday in June. This year it falls on June 15 and Dad will be honored in traditional fashion with gifts, food and affection.

Farm Operators Income Increases Sharply Over 1957

College Station.—Annual rate of farm operators' realized net income rose sharply to about 13 billion dollars in the first quarter of 1958, compared with a rate of 11.7 billion in the same quarter of 1957.

This reflected substantially higher prices received by farmers for beef cattle, hogs, eggs, potatoes and other vegetables, for which supplies were reduced from a year ago, points out A. B. Wooten, extension economist.

Prices of farm products are running well above last year and are expected to average higher for the year than in 1957, says Wooten. Prospects indicate that supplies of some products will increase, notably vegetables, hogs, fed cattle, and eggs, so, current levels of prices and incomes may move toward the levels of 1957. But even so, farm operators' realized net income in 1958 is expected to be from 5 to 10 percent above the 7 1/2 billion dollars in 1957.

This increase is the opposite of last year's situation, he points out. Realized net income to all farm operators was lower last year than the year before, though income per person on farms was about $90 higher last year than in 1956.

Increase in income per person last year was caused by eight percent fewer people on farms, leaving fewer persons among whom the agricultural income was divided, he adds.

L. L. Giegers Move To Fort Worth

L. L. Gieger, evangelist for the West Ervin Church of Christ in Tyler for the last seven years, has moved with his family to Ft. Worth, where he will work with the West Berry Street congregation, located just off the campus of Texas Christian University.

RED RIVER COUNTY NEGROES WILL SING AT WORLD'S FAIR

Folks around the world will soon be listening to the spiritual songs of a group of Red River County Negroes.

Seven singers will leave this week for Denver, Colo., on the first stop enroute to the World's Fair in Brussels, Belgium. They'll be one of the United States entertainment representatives.

Rev. Prince Albert Moreland will head the group including Harden Ford, Johnny Omar Russell, Lee Easter Gray, Joyce Moreland, Lillian Baty and Willie White. Joyce Moreland is a sister of the leader of the group and the youngest member of the troupe. She is 21.

The group has been singing together three years. Their invitation to the World's Fair came as a result of Hub Whiteman's interest. Whiteman and his wife, also of Clarksville, will appear in a Wild West show during the World's Fair. They'll accompany the singing group to Brussels. Whiteman first heard the group at a funeral last spring and suggested to State Department representatives they be invited. The State Department was looking for a group of Negro entertainers.

Each member of the singing group will receive $150 a week. They'll be in Europe up to 18 months and may appear in France and Italy. Whiteman said the tour will be extended to Russia if it is popular in other countries. Until their departure the spiritual singers are rehearsing every day with Prof. Van Bolden, Clarksville music teacher, and learning to ride horses. During their stay in Brussels they must wear western garb and ride horseback.

FROM THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT'S viewpoint, the 10 percent excise tax on all telephone service is a fine thing. But from most any other angle, it is an exceedingly bad tax. In the first place, it's discriminatory. There's no excise tax on water, gas or electricity. In fact, the telephone is the only essential household utility that is so taxed. —Pine Bluff (Ark.) Commercial.

WE WANT to congratulate the Lamar County Commissioners Court for its co-operation with stockmen who are attempting to rid the county of wolves. These animals present a real threat to sheep, goat and hog raisers in the county, as well as chicken and turkey raisers. Helping to pay so much per head for wolves is much cheaper than hiring a county trapper and a much better job of killing them has been done during the past year than the $10 per head bounty has been in effect.

THIS EDITOR has had his ugly mug printed on the front pages of a few newspapers—both large and small—over a 40-odd-year period, but he had a new experience the other day: The Texas Press Messenger, monthly slick paper magazine of the Texas Press Association, came out with a large picture of the writer and the Meritorious Service to Journalism plaque recently presented by the North and East Texas Press Association spread over its entire front cover. Texas newspaper people are just too nice to us—we thank them from the bottom of our heart and wish we deserved all the honors they have bestowed.

ALCORN LEARNS BEN FRANKLIN MISQUOTED ON SAVING MONEY

Editor's note: Achin Alcorn, philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sulphur, probably is all mixed up on the economic situation, but who isn't?

Dear Editor: I was sitting out here on my farm yesterday afternoon not doing a thing, that is, it may have looked like I wasn't doing anything but actually I was building up by resistance, as I understand the Secretary of Commerce in Washington has said one solution to the threat of a recession is for business people to get out and do a better job of selling, and if they do any better than they've already done I don't see how some people are going to meet their payments.

Anyway, right out of nowhere a sudden gust of wind dropped a newspaper right at my feet and I reached out and picked it up and after I figured I had my resistance built up enough to resist whatever it had to offer I opened it up and started reading an article that has me puzzled.

According to it, the reason this mild recession, and that's all I suspect it is, has hit this country is because "the people lost confidence and started to salt money away."

Now this may be absolutely right, I don't know, maybe salting money away is unconfident and will bring on a recession, but I've been thinking, what does this do to Benjamin Franklin?

According to Franklin, you remember, a penny saved is a penny earned, but he didn't go far enough, he should have warned us that he was misquoted, what he really meant to say was "a penny saved is a penny earned and a recession one cent nearer."

I tell you, it sure throws a different light on economy when a man has to say to himself when he holds on to a dollar, all right keep the dollar, salt it away, if you want to throw somebody out of work. I have never looked at it in this light before. Up to now there was always a gnawing idea lurking in the back of my mind when I started to spend some money I'd gotten my hands on that it might be better for me and the country too if I held on to it.

Understand, I have never really held on to it, but it sure is nice to get rid of this gnawing idea and to know that spending it is the answer to hard times.

I talked this over with a banker friend who was busy at the moment figuring out how he could cut down on his grocery bill, and he took time off to say I was confusing theory with reality. I will appreciate your get-

FROM YOUR STATE CAPITOL HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS

By VERN SANFORD, Texas Press Association

Austin.—A fresh task force is being organized by Gov. Price Daniel to attack the state's monetary problems.

With oil production still hovering at a historic low and a prime source of state revenue partially throttled, Texas government is, for the time being, at least, 'living beyond its means.'

Governor Daniel named a six-man committee of executive department officials to study ways of bridging the gap between income and outgo. Members are Sec'y of State Zollie Steakley, Treasurer Jesse James, Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, Auditor C. H. Cavness, Budget Officer Jess Irwin and Col. J. T. Ellis Jr. of the governor's administrative staff.

They are expected to work cooperatively with the State Tax Study Commission, a group of legislators and outside experts who have been surveying the state's fiscal position for some months.

Under the present spending pattern, it is estimated the next legislature would have to scratch up upwards of $100,000,000 in new revenue to balance the books.

As in a family that comes up short at the end of the month, the state's advisors, both official and unofficial, are divided between those advocating getting more money and those favoring less spending.

Governor Daniel urged his executives to try both angles. Specifically, he suggested exploring:

1. Every possible economy in use of state funds.
2. Possible elimination or combination of duplicating services among state agencies.
3. Compilation of a list of non-recurring expenses in the present appropriation.
4. Every possible source of additional state revenues which may be available without the levy of additional taxes.

OPEN SEASON — Most major candidates have held their opening rallies and will be campaigning with little let-up between now and the July 26 primary.

But in many areas of the state an even more intensive struggle is going on at the grass roots for control of the precinct conventions. They'll be held right after the primary, on the evening of July 26.

It's a small-time battle with big-time stakes. Whichever group of the Democratic party gets out the "mostest" to the precinct conventions will control the state convention in the fall. This means taking over the official machinery of the party for the next two years—leading up to 1960 and presidential nominating time.

Governor Daniel has said he will personally lead "conservatives, moderates and all other Texas Democrats who believe in majority decisions." He's been assured of a vigorous opposition from the liberal Democrats of Texas led by Mrs. Frankie Randolph of Houston, Texas' national committeewoman.

DOT will have a statewide rally in Austin May 31 to draw attention to its efforts to oust the governor from official party leadership.

For the average citizens the precinct convention poses a more ticklish problem than primary voting. It may mean voting, publicly, against a neighbor who's running for precinct chairman.

'WARS' WATCHED — Atty. Gen. Will Wilson says his office is keeping close check on the gasoline and milk price wars that have broken out in major cities.

In some areas gasoline prices dropped as much as 10 cents per gallon below normal, and milk has been sold at a fraction of the usual charge.

"Texas anti-trust laws do not prevent price wars which are the free working of competition," Wilson commented, "but they do prohibit agreement or conspiracy to fix or cut prices and selling below cost to eliminate competition."

MORE BUILDING — Effect of the drought's end is being seen in more building in smaller towns dependent on agriculture for prosperity.

UT's Bureau of Business Research reports a 10 per cent rise in the January-April building volume for towns with less than 10,000 population.

BBR's report reflected a fairly general brightening of the building picture. Construction authorizations for April were up 3 per cent from March and 22 per cent from a year ago.

Home builders were found to be cautiously optimistic. Most, BBR reported, hadn't actually experienced much of an increase in home sales. But they were busier than they'd been in months building up a supply for an expected pick-up in buying by fall and next year.

Easier credit and, in some cases, lower costs of materials are expected to make house-buying more alluring.

MORE SALVAGE — Sale of some municipal bonds owned by the bankrupt US Trust and Guaranty Co. has brought another $144,000 for the company's creditors.

An earlier distribution of $2,181,000 represented about 31 per cent of the amount owed some 9,000 persons.

Meanwhile, Insurance Department employees are working against a May 31 deadline to complete an operation designed to prevent such fiascos in the future. They check the annual statement of each company doing business in Texas. If any questionable transactions are uncovered, the company is required to straighten them out before being re-licensed.

During the past year, a period of tightened regulation, there has been no large-scale crack-up in the industry. Many younger companies have merged to strengthen their positions by combining assets.

GUN SELLING LAW — Whether Texas law regulating sale of pistols is constitutional is being considered by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Case in point involves a Houstonite who was sentenced for sale of a pistol to a minor. Attorney for the defendant contends the law is too vague and confusing to be valid.

Texas penal code has two separate and sometimes conflicting sections on sale of firearms, forbidding their sale to minors, persons "under heat of passion" and persons convicted of felonies.

SHORT SNORTS — Texas Employment Commission has announced the first substantial drop in unemployment claims this year. After weeks of tabulating steady increases in joblessness, TEC reports claims had slid from 90,913 to 86,528. Total benefits paid dropped $143,707 for the week.

Accompanying this good news, TEC announced 1,127 new jobs created in the state by the opening of new businesses. Largest was a garment factory in Temple employing 200.

FAMILY ZOO

"Funny, isn't it, Pop, how everyone is some kind of animal?"

"What do you mean?"
"Well, Mom's a deer, the babys a little lamb, and I'm a kid. But I can't think—what are you?"
"I'm the goat, Son."

Squirrel Season Very Irregular

Lamar's shortened spring squirrel season—running from June 1 thru June 30—officially opened Sunday. Bag limit in Lamar is eight squirrels per day, and not more than 16 in possession.

Red River, Fannin and Bowie counties have no spring season this year. Titus County's season runs June 15 to July 15. The squirrel hunting opened May 1 in Hopkins, Delta and Franklin counties and will remain open thru June 30.

DISTINCTION

Little Freddie, aged 7, was not a mental prodigy. However, he was not exactly hampered by an inferiority complex. When asked how he got along in school, he answered:

"Oh, purty good—I'm next to the fastest one in the slow group."
