Those who enter the School of Experience always find the tuition high.

Many a fellow has discovered to his sorrow that liquor and business do not mix.

A new administration often proves to be the old one dressed up in new garb.

Someone with a bit of humor and philosophy observes that "The thing to do with life is live it." Good idea if you have time and can afford it.

Although Texas voted Republican twice it is not regarded as a Republican state. Another test will be made on May 27 between Blakely and Tower.

There may be virtue in loving our foreign neighbors as ourselves, but the reward seems to be small. It is still dangerous to pat a rattlesnake on the head.

School will soon be out. Thousands of bright young students will be looking for easy jobs, little realizing that there are not enough jobs of that kind to go around.

ing of the possibility of our inhabitants migrating to Venus or Mars. Imagine what a rush there

Wright Patman's Weekly Letter

First Congressional Dist. of Texas "Heart of the Gulf Southwest" Constructive Approach. On some recent occasions I have read of speakers criticizing one thing or another about the United States. It usually is destructive, not constructive, criticism. I fear that too often its main effect is to undermine our people's faith in their Government and in their chosen representatives. Unwittingly, and for lack of full knowledge of the problem at hand, these speakers spread seeds of hate that communists and other subversives would love to plant. I agree with George Washington's remark: "The mass of citizens of these United States mean well, and I firmly believe they will always act well whenever they can obtain a right understanding of matters." Thomas Jefferson expressed a similar thought: "Every difference of opinion is not a difference of principle." I think much of the strength of our great democracy rests on this basic respect of freedom in religion, in speech, and in the public press.

Secretary of Urban Affairs?
Last week President Kennedy asked Congress to create a Cabinet-level Department of Urban Affairs and Housing. There is no question but that the growth of urban America is accompanied with a host of housing, sanitation, delinquency, and other pressing problems. The recommendation has much merit. But I wonder if it would not also be a good idea to consider establishing a post concerned with the affairs of Small Town, U. S. A. For many generations much of America's leadership and social philosophy came from the rural areas and small towns of America. We must not be unconcerned with the deterioration of many of these communities. A successful democracy requires a diversity of views and backgrounds. Therefore, I hope careful thought will be given to the special problems of small towns and rural areas.

Medical Costs on the Rise. The latest figures show that medical care in 1960 claimed 50 per cent more than in 1950. It is estimated that these expenditures will be up another 39 per cent by 1970. Skyrocketing medical care costs pose a serious problem for many of our people, especially older persons on social security and retirement income.

will be for corner lots and seats at the pie counter.

Deep down in the archives of memory there are recollections of the time when a man could retire to the shades of private life and live happily on a cash capital of five or six thousand dollars.
But he had better not try it today.

The United States pours billions of dollars into foreign countries to help develop them and steer clear of political pitfalls. What we get in return seems to be nothing but hate, jealousy and threats of war. When will America wake up.

Nehru of India, whom the United States has aided to the extent of millions of dollars, in spite of his communistic leaning, puts the blame for the Cuban invasion on the U. S. And now Nehru is asking the United States for 600 million dollars. He will probably get it.

President Kennedy's pet measures seem to be coming out of the congressional hopper in good shape. If the public wants hospital care for the aged, a higher wage bill, more social security money and more taxes, they should not complain when the bills come in.

Handicapped. The citation is signed for President Kennedy by Daniel by Texas State Chairman Laurence R. Melton, Dallas. Mr.

Boyd's work with physically handicapped students was first brought to my attention by Ken-State rehabilitation students." Mr.

Vegetable Crop Tests. I was very interested in learning recently of the Campbell Soup Company's experimentation in vegetable production in our area.
Campbell has run tests on 12 different vegetables to determine whether they could be grown there.
Our area has a fortunate combination of soil, climate and irrigation facilities which make economical vegetable production possible, and an abundance of community resources helpful in attracting new industry to take advantage of its physical resources. And it appears that the gagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Josephine, to Jackie Robertson, son of Joseph (Jack) Robertson of Court of the U. S. refused to review a decision of the Supreme Court of Vermont which held at the U. S. Constitution prohibits the use of public funds to pay interpret this action as meaning that the Supreme Court also believes this to be unconstitutional.

The Vermont Court said: "The

JUDGING BY APPEARANCE

A man appeared at the gate of A voice from inside asked:

"What do you want?"

The man replied, "I want to with that blue suit on."

The man said, "Who's got a blue suit on? I'm cold!"

Alcorn Admits Watching Television All Day Boring, But Plowing Is Also

Editor's note: Achin Alcorn philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sulphur discusses the television situation this week, without any noticeable effect.

Dear editor: I was reading a newspaper last night while my wife was watching television, you can say this for television, it's easier to read while it's going on than while your wife is, I mean, whatever faults television has, it sure cuts down on the conversation; at any rate, what I was reading was an article by the new chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, the outfit that's supposed to supervise the airways.

According to Chairman Minow, television has got to get better if it's to stay on the air.

He said if you want to find out how bad television is, "sit down in front of your set when your station comes on in the morning an dstay there until it signs off that night." He said you'd see procession of junk, violence, silliness, and commercials, with only a few things you'll enjoy, and most of all, he added, "boredom."

Now I'm no authority on television, but I'm not sure watching the thing fourteen hours in a stretch and complaining because you came out bored, is any real test. I have a notion if Chairman Minow will get on my tractor, glue himself to the seat, bend his head over, and watch the rows fourteen hours a day while he goes up one and down another, he'll get off extremely bored, not to mention other things.

As for violence on television, I'll admit it's bad, but saying it'll have to be eliminated if T. V. is to stay on the air is like saying crime stories will have to be eliminated from newspapers if they're to stay in business. It's like saying violence will have to be eliminated from history books if they're to be read. It's like saying Shakespeare would have been an enduring success if he had cut out all them suicides and stabbing and swordplay.

Understand, I'm not in favor of violence. For one thing it takes more energy than I'm interested in spending, but where the Federal Communications Commission will run into trouble is when it tries to convince the kids only fake bullets are used in war.

Television can continue its violence and stay on the air, but can man continue his and stay on the earth? I could give you the answer, but excuse me, Wagon Train is coming on, just as soon as the newscast about the violence in the Congo goes off.

Yours faithfully, A. A.
