New Type Sticker Car Inspection

Austin—Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced today a new type motor vehicle inspection sticker is now available for the new inspection year beginning September 1.

"The only new about the inspection this year is the sticker itself," he said. "This new sticker is a dry mount decal which we believe will adhere regardless of weather conditions and one which has been used very successfully in other states."

More than five million vehicles registered in the state are required by law to be inspected at one of the 5,000 official inspection stations between this date and April 16, 1963. Owners of vehicles not displaying the current inspection sticker after that date will be in violation of the law.

Garrison urged motorists to get their vehicles inspected as early as possible, and pointed out:

"With hard summer driving coming to an end, fall is an excellent time to have vehicles safety checked in preparation for the winter months."

In announcing the new inspection period, the public safety director said the Vehicle Inspection Program in Texas has proved itself to be a valuable tool in reducing accidents on Texas streets and highways.

Four Plead Guilty R. R. Co. Court

Four cases were concluded in County Criminal Court with pleas of guilty before Judge Gavin Watson Jr., during a relatively quiet Labor Day week end in Red River County.

State Highway Patrolman Roy Williams reported no automobile accidents in the County during the official week end statistical period, considered an exceptional record, but a spectacular one-car crash in Bogata early Friday morning before the count began injured two persons and caused extensive property damage.

A 55-year-old man, giving a Talco address, pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated, was sentenced to ten days in jail, fined $350 and costs, and had his driver's license suspended for an indefinite period. Evidence indicated the man lost control of his automobile and crashed through two telephone poles in the west part of Bogata. The driver suffered extensive bruises and a passenger, his uncle, had a head injury, none serious. Patrolman Williams reported the car as a total loss and estimated damage to the utility poles and lines at $500-$700.

A 25-year-old Clarksville Negro man was fined $100 and costs for aggravated assault after hitting his cousin, a female, with a board during an argument. The victim received several broken ribs, but her injuries were not considered critical.

A 55-year-old Clarksville Negro man was fined $225 and costs on a charge of possessing illegal liquor. Members of the Sheriff's Department found a quantity of moonshine whiskey on the premises during a search.

A 37-year-old Negro man from the English community was sentenced to three days in jail, fined $100 and costs, and received a six-months suspension of driver's license on a charge of driving while intoxicated. The man was first stopped in a citizen's arrest by passing motorists but then drove away and outraced his pursuers. He was later arrested near his home by Sheriff's deputies.

Pewitt Ranch Sold Nearly $4 Million

The 43,000-acre Pewitt Ranch in Titus, Morris and Cass Counties has been sold for near $4 million, according to a real estate deed filed in Titus County last Thursday.

The property was sold to the Broseco Corporation of Baltimore, Md., by Paul H. Pewitt, north-east Texas oilman and rancher who resides in Mt. Pleasant.

The sale price indicated was $3,872,000. The ranch is the largest block of land in Northeast Texas, east of Dallas and north of Henderson.

The land, under which is the rich Paluxy oil sand, covers about 25,000 acres in Titus County, 18,000 in Morris County and 200 acres in Cass County.

In addition to the land, interests and oil royalties, some 3000 cattle, and farming and land clearing equipment, also has been sold to the same holding corporation. The price is not known.

Rev. and Mrs. H. O. Scott and family moved Thursday to Sulphur Springs, where Rev. Scott will be assistant pastor of the First Methodist Church.

Mrs. J. W. Via is ill at her home.

Austin.—Senator Culp Krueger of El Campo, a newspaper publisher and radio station owner, is planning to "put the big pot in the little one" sure-enough when he becomes Governor-for-a-Day on Sept. 8.

Krueger not only is inviting all his friends and neighbors to help him celebrate the event at El Campo, but he is bringing a lot of state officials to show his hometown folks how government works.

At least a dozen state boards will have their September meetings in El Campo. For example, the State Highway Commission will be on hand to explain why by-pass loop highways are good for small towns.

Theme of the state agency meetings and exhibits will be "Program of Progress for the Small Towns of Texas."

Senator Krueger's aim is to show that rural districts like his can be, and are being, helped by the state government.

He has drawn fire from a colleague, Sen. Doyle Willis of Fort Worth, for having a lot of state officials and employees make the trek to El Campo for the day. But he's going ahead with his plans, and many state agencies are co-operating.

CONVENTION TIME — Democratic and Republican leaders are busy planning their state party conventions to be held on September 18. Republicans meet in Fort Worth, Democrats meet in El Paso.

For the first time in many years careful attention is being paid to the party platforms.

Two big endorsements given to John Connally, the Democratic nominee for governor, hinge on what the platform says. The State AFL-CIO and Political Association of Spanish-Speaking Organizations both want to make sure the platform is not in opposition to some of their hoped-for legislation before their endorsements take effect.

Because many Texans remain undecided, both parties hope to gain votes by what they say in their platforms. But the problem is the same as usual. They have to keep the friends they now have, while trying to attract new ones.

So, the careful, slow and demanding process of democracy goes on and on.

Bond Issue Vote Set In Lamar Co. for Sept. 15

On Sept. 15 Lamar County voters will go to the polls to vote on the $450,000 right-of-way and road improvement bond issue for Lamar County.

County Auditor L. C. Johnson said $150,000 of that is earmarked for use in securing right-of-way for the remainder of Highway Loop 286 and for future farm-to-market roads. The other $300,000 would be divided equally among the four precincts for improvement of lateral and feeder roads and bridges.

No tax increase would be necessary in the county bond issue, Johnson said, since the bonded indebtedness of Lamar is now low enough that existing taxes will cover the new issue.

A two-thirds majority of votes is needed to approve the county issue, since it is to be paid out of tax money.

Mrs. Gerard Schneilin and son left by plane Monday for their home in Paris, France, after a visit with her mother, Mrs. John Hargrove in Mt. Pleasant and Mr. and Mrs. John D. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hargrove and Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Hargrove in Talco.

SALTY WATER — Further supervision over oil operators was announced by the Texas Water Commission. It ruled that oilmen must get its approval before they inject salt water back into reservoirs from which it came.

Notice was given during hearings before the Railroad Commission at which oil operators asked permission to use oil wells for salt-water injection.

But Chief Engineer John Vandertulp said the water situation would not be improved if wells used to send the salt water deep underground had poor or faulty casings. He insisted that wells be checked to make sure the cure for one kind of pollution does not cause other types.

TEACHERS' NEST EGG — If teacher comes back to school smiling, it might be because she and the other 180,000 school and college faculties and employees have more than half a billion dollars in the bank.

The state's teacher retirement fund ended its 25th year with $552,000,000 invested in stocks and bonds.

Investments are now advised by a group of leading bankers and investment experts. The Chase Manhattan Bank of New York is hired to advise on investments. Income from investments was almost $17,000,000 this year — enough to pay the retirement benefits to the 13,000 teachers or their survivors who are collecting from the fund. This year, 1,229 more retired.

The teacher retirement fund is larger than either the permanent school fund or the university permanent fund.

SLANT-HOLES AND LOOP-HOLES — Atty. Gen. Will Wilson says that in many cases present laws against false swearing on official documents "will not support prosecution," due to their weaknesses.

Wilson's conclusions were reached as a result of investigation of East Texas slant-hole drilling. In some cases, he says, false affidavits came from as many as four different expert sources to the effect that crooked wells actually were straight.

The Attorney General says that definite proof of the false swearing offense is difficult because the notary public who signed the oath often is an employee of the accused person.

SECOND IMMUNIZATION POLIO VACCINE SET SUNDAY, SEPT. 9

Residents of Talco will receive their second type of the Sabin oral polio vaccine in another mass immunization program, Sunday, Sept. 9. Type III, which gives immunity against the second most prevalent strain of the crippling disease, will be given.

More than 1200 were immunized against the major strain of polio in the August program.

Everyone is urged to take the doses of the vaccine. Each type of vaccine gives immunity against a particular strain of polio and protection of polio is not complete until all three strains have been given. The oral vaccine is given on a cube of sugar.

The second series will cost a 25c donation for each person receiving the vaccine to help offset cost of the program. However, those unable to make the donation will be given the vaccine free.

The Talco High School, which will be the vaccination center, will be open from 12 noon to 3 p. m. Sunday, Sept. 9.

It is all right to let well enough alone if it's an oil well.

Before one learns all the lessons of life, school turns out.

Newly rich people are often laughed at, but they can afford it.

It is so much easier to save up money to buy luxuries than necessities.

Putting the best foot forward doesn't help much. The other foot will be close behind.

The world was just as mean in the old days. We now have better ways of finding it out.

The trouble with summer vacations is that many who need them most can't afford them.

Some people get terribly disappointed if Santa Claus doesn't come oftener than once a year.

People were most generous in old days. They had nothing and were willing to divide it with you.

Any government which is big enough to give you everything you want is big enough to take everything you have got.

An editor files a complaint. He says we need some new mirrors in our homes. The old ones make us appear so old and wrinkled.

Uncle Ezra is so old fashioned he believes people lived longer in the old days when potlicker was popular and the medicine chest was supplied with quinine and sassafras tea.

It Pays to Advertise.

 the wonderful Spirit of God which is in us. God means us to express all that we are capable of, and He is our combined light and inspiration.

This Is No Fish Story

FIFTEEN million fish were killed in 1961 through pollution—double the kill in 1960—according to a recent report by the Water Supply and Pollution Control Division of the U.S. Public Health Service.

This is only a rough measure, according to the Public Health Service, of the amount of damage done. Such reports do not take into account the effects of adding to a stream small quantities of pollutants which may not kill fish directly, but may affect aquatic organisms that support fish life. Nor do they take into consideration the contamination of shellfish which has taken a terrible toll in sickness and disease.

Pollution of rivers, streams, lakes and bays, and ocean front areas will only be removed when municipalities stop pouring raw, deadly sewage into open bodies of water without proper treatment. Exploding population, increase in home-building, and expansion of water-using appliances is compounding the situation daily.

The National Water Institute cautions Americans everywhere to look into their own local water supply and disposal situations. Look ahead, and anticipate what your town's needs will be ten or twenty years from now, so you can be ready with adequate treatment facilities.

Mr. Merchant

YOU NEED THE NEWSPAPER!

The newspaper of today is the most powerful medium of advertising on earth. In the old days the merchant may have thought he was a benefactor and that he was contributing his bit "as a public-spirited citizen" when he carried a two-inch space in the village paper every week in the year and generally without change of copy. Possibly he was.

But that is changed now. A new order has arrived. People read advertisements. Many find their greatest interest in looking over the advertising pages to get news that will save them money, and, take it from John D. Rockefeller, the way to save your dollars is first to save your pennies.

Advertisements today are right up to the minute. They are as fresh as the news of the world or the latest baseball score. Live merchants cater to live people and they know they must not alone be up to the minute, but they must be some distance ahead. They must anticipate the wants of their customers.

And they do. Turn to the advertisements in this paper right now! Just read what the merchants are offering. Notice the invitations for you to do business with them. Notice how attractively the advertisements are set up and how inviting they are.

Business men—that is the successful ones—know advertising pays big returns. Look over this newspaper right now and pick out the successful firms. They're the advertisers. Advertising is the tonic that puts dividends in the banks.

Everybody reads advertisements today! Mr. Merchant, is your advertisement in this newspaper?

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

REMOVE THE BLINDFOLD!

Why do men react differently in times of danger or difficulty? Some go all to pieces, get panicky, lose their heads and act most erratic. Others keep calm, cool, collected and are unperturbed while under fire. Why the big difference? What do some men have that others lack?

An enlightening example of such a contrast is found in the Prophet Elisha and his servant. Early one morning the servant arose to find, to his horror, that the city was completely encircled by the hordes of Syria. The sight of so formidable an enemy, posing a current danger, frightened him. Panic-stricken, he rushed to his master asking frantically what they should do. The bad news had a different reaction on Elisha. He remained calm and even admonished his servant to have no fear.

Elisha's servant saw nothing but the invading army. His vision was limited. He saw circumstances only and forgot about God. He saw the foe but not the guardian host which was also surrounding them. He saw the danger but not the protectors. Elisha saw the guardian angels and knew nothing could thwart the plan of God. He rested confidently on that assurance and said, "Fear not: for they that be with us are more than they that be with them."

By faith we see the unseen, know the unknowable and attain the impossible. Those who have no faith live in a very limited world. He whose knowledge comes only through his five senses is extremely restricted. Those senses which are supposed to be the means of our knowledge actually conceal more than they reveal. The person without faith is in a worse plight than he who is physically blind. Faith opens our eyes to new vistas and understandings.

Faith holds us steady. He who has faith recognizes the presence of God and that He is sufficient for all things. He sees Him as overruling the most adverse conditions. He knows he has a God who is bigger than his enemy.

When a host of enemies surround your camp, look to the Lord and His surrounding angels. See Him who is greater than circumstances. You will be a paragon of calmness. Just ask God to remove the blindfold so you can see the ever-present help at hand. If doubts creep in, then say with the Psalmist, "Open thou mine eyes."

white gloves. Her shoulder length imported bridal illusion veil fell from a crown of seed pearls, and her bouquet was of white carnations, surrounded by satin ribbon streamers falling from bouquet and tied in love knots. The bride wore a drop seed pearl necklace, a gift from the groom.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Joe B. Pavlot of Dallas, who wore a street length orchid linen dress, fashioned with fitted bodice and full skirt. She wore a small hat of seed pearls with short face veil and carried colonial bouquet of white carnations. Lee E. Adler of Dallas served his brother as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church. Miss Barbara Colley of Quitman registered guests.

The bride's table was covered with a white cutwork cloth and centered with the bride's bouquet on a mirror. Silver and crystal appointments completed the table arrangement. The three-tiered wedding cake and punch were served by Miss Charollett Sikes of Paris and Miss Betty Lou Bembrook of Dallas.

Alcorn Not Worried About Plan to Move 2 Million Farmers Into Town

Editor's note: Achin Alcorn Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sulphur has found out about the suggestion to reduce the farm population, his letter this week indicates.

Dear Editor: A lot of farmers around the country I understand are up in arms because the Committee for Economic Development, a group of 200 leading industrialists and business executives, having studied the farm problem, has come out with the pronouncement that the way to solve the problem is to move two million farmers off the farm in the next five years.

It seems to me that what the Economic Development Committee is saying is that if you move two million farmers to town, the ones still left may not make any more, but there'll be less of them to complain.

I have thought about this proposal all week now and I find it doesn't disturb me, mainly on account of I ain't going. The reason I'm not going to a city is that in the first place I like it out here on this Johnson grass farm, and in the second place, where would you find a city so hard up it'd need me.

I know it's kind of galling to a farmer to look up from his problems and have some city people tell him the only solution is to move in with them, but the Committee for Economic Development could have come up with a lot worse solution.

For example, what if they had decided the solution was the other way around, that more city people ought to move to the country? If there's anything that'll make a farmer madder than telling him he ought to quit and get a job in town, it's telling him he ought to make room for city workers in the country.

What some people don't understand is that, as bad as the farm problem is, it's not as bad as us farmers make out. We make it sound worse than it is mainly to keep city people from crowding in on us.

Solving the farm problem by moving two million farmers to town is like solving the problem of under-paid school teachers by cutting the number of teachers in half.

I suppose there are some farmers who wouldn't object maybe to moving to town, but the trouble is they've already looked around a little in town, studied the financial status of a lot of town people and had just as soon stay in the frying pan as jump in the fire.

If you can't quite make ends meet anyway, why move to town when you can do it just as well in the country?

Yours faithfully, A. A.
