Wednesday, March 8. the coaches of District 15-AA met at Rivercrest to select the All-District teams. Rivercrest hosted the meeting since the Rebs won the district championship. On the first team. Jet Savage was a unanimous choice of the coaches. Lejester is a 6'4 junior who averaged some 18 points per game. The remainder of the first team was composed of senior players from other schools in the district. J. T. Morgan continued the Rivercrest "youth" trend as he made the second team, which was also dominated by seniors. Rivercrest led all other schools in the 15-AA "Honorable Mention" department as four Rebel players were selected by the coaches. For the past few years, R. H. S. cheerleaders have been elected by popular vote in a school-wide election, exempting the senior class. This year, however, this method will be slightly altered. Rather than the cheerleaders being elected by popularity, they will be judged and rated on a point system by a panel. This panel will consist of a boy and girl elected by each class as representatives and voting delegates on the panel. Two more students from each class will be appointed by Mr. Tucker to serve on the panel with the twelve students. The girls trying out for cheerleader will perform before the student body just as they do each year. The panel will judge the girls on their performance and spirit. April 13 is the date set for the try-outs.

Austin. - Gov. Preston Smith rates, left timing of a special legislaive session up in the air after the Texas Supreme Court, in effect, said there has to be one.

The High Court, not unexpectedly. concluded that Secretary of State Bob Bullock could not order public financing of primary elections without prior legislative authority.

Smith conceded that apparently left him no alternative but to summon lawmakers back to work in advance of the May 6 primaries. He said he wanted to postpone the unhappy deed as long as possible and was not prepared to say when he would have

Meanwhile, to help Smith with his decision, Bullock's staff compiled data on estimated costs of the May 6 and June 3 elections and when the bills would fall due.

Most legislators faced with election campaigns hope dthe session would be limited to the primary finance issue alone - or perhaps that and highway billboard controls. The latter legislation is needed soon to avoid a threatened $24 million cut in fed eral road building funds allotted

Another special session will be needed later (unless Smith decides to lump all business into a single pre-election call) to approve a 1973 state appropriations act replacing the budget items vetoed last year by the governor.

Bitterness is expected to flare in the House of Representatives on opening day of the sessionwhenever it is. An effort is almost certain to be made to oust Speaker Gus Mutscher who is being tried in Abilene on charges of conspiring to accept a bribe in the form of 1969 bank loans and pre-arranged insurance stock

A coalition, in an effort to avert the House clash, is pushing Rep. L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi as interim speaker. The leading speakership candidate, Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine, wants a showdown vote on electing a new speaker imme-

CRIMES INCREASE - More major crimes were committeed in in Texas in 1971 than in 1970, but the increase actually was the smallest since 1963, the Department of Public Safety reports.

Cities over 100,000 popudation reported fewer major crimes a total of 298,033 as compared with 307,149 in 1970. The overall crime rate for the big cities was up three-tenths of one per

The DPS Crime Report based on information submitted by Texas sheriffs and chiefs of police shows 482,386 major criminal offenses during 1971, an increase of 13,324 over 1970. All categories except theft (which declined 11.7 per cent) increased. There were 1,687 murders, 3, 075 rapes, 14.385 robberies, 137,140 burglaries, 34,472 aggravated assaults, 48,323 auto thefts and 243,344 thefts.

STORM INSURANCE CUT -A 26 per cent reduction in windstorm insurance rates for nonbeach property in 14 coastal counties was ordered last week. The cut, directed by the State Board of Insurance, takes effect before the hurricane season for those structures at least, 2,500 feet from shore, 20 feet above mean sea level or protected by a seawall. Property owners have been paying 150 per cent above normal rates through the Texas Catastrophe Property Insurance Beachfront property will continue at three times standard

The Insurance Board also raised the maximum amount of insurance available through the pool from $100,000 on dwellings and from $500,000 to $1 million on commercial properties including schools and public buildings.

VETERANS LAND BONDS SOLD - Forty million dollars worh of Texas veterans land bonds were sold last week at the lowes rate - 4.03658 per cent paid by the program since 1961.

Land Commissioner Bob Armsrong said the sale assures coninued financing of the program until early 1974. Constitutional interest rate ceiling for the bonds is 4.5 per cent.

The Veterans Land Board is consitutionally authorized to sell another $30.7 million in bonds to finance the program which has enabled alomost 46.000 Texas veterans to buy land.

LABOR RECOMMENDS CANDIDATES - The Texas AFL-CIO Committeee on Political Education recommended support by labor union members of five statewide candidates but didn't agree on a candidate for governor.

Delegates recommended former U. S. Senator Ralph Yarborough for senator; State Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso for lieutenant governor, Houston lawyer John Hill for attorney general; John White for re-election as commissioner of agriculture and Bob Armstrong for re-election as land commissioner. They also strongly recommended State Rep. Price Daniel Jr. of Liberty for speaker of the Texas House of Representatives.

Although the necessary twothirds of COPE delegates did not not rally behind any candidate for gubernatorial nomination, State Rep. Frances Farenhold of Corpus Christi did get a commendation for her legislative reform efforts which she is carrying into the governor's race.

AFL-CIO President Roy Evans said COPE will try to raise $500,-000 for primary campaign ef-to its proportionate share of the federal credit for state death taxes even though the decedent was a non-resident and specific property is exempt, Atty. Gen Crawford C. Martin

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:

- Deputies of county officials are "employees" as defined in a new law creating a county civil service system for counties 300,-000 or more.
- · The Navarro County criminal district attorney paid entirely from state funds is entitled to participate in the Employment Retirement System of Texas, but not the County and District Retirement System.

SIGNS CHANGING - Watch for changes in traffic control devices, signs, signals and markings along Texas highways.

Texas Highway Commission approved them in the manual on uniform traffic control devices, based on recommendations of the American Association of State Highway Officials and Federal Highway Administration.

Changeover will be from words to symbols and pictures as part an international move toward greater uniformity and clarity in road signs. The change will be gradual, with new signs going up initially on a replacement basis. Panels explaining the new symbols will be placed under the signs at first, then removed in about five years.

What girl wouldn't love to look like a glamorous cover girl and be a Super Star too! Cybill Sheppard has this dream-cometrue - an international model turned bonafide actress with a movie for Columbia Pictures! It started when Cover Girl picked Cybill to do their ads and commercials, launching her successful modeling career. Naturally she had Cover Girl Eyes for her movie. This great new eye make-up collection lets you really go to town with eyes of the '40's, '50's, even eyes for the future. From Cybill, "no matter how often I've applied eye make-up, there's always new tricks to master, with exciting results. Look at yourself with new eyes and experiment!"

The"skinny" brows are the "in" look this year. Cybill loves the way they let eyes look larger, brighter, with a big-eyed innocence. Her secret? Tweeze brows to a slim arc and make them up with two coloring shades! Here's how: brush brows towards nose. Using feathery strokes, brush on the deeper shade. Smooth brows into shape and flick on the paler

Blending and shading with eye shadow is super-fun! Mixing and matching pales with deeper tones, all-of-onecolor or a tone-on-tone look can create a devastating femme fatale or wide-eyed innocence. Let your mood lead the way. For little-girl vulnerability, stroke paled gray over lid blending right up to the brow line, Gently stroke blue, green or brown along lid crease and blend toward brow at inner eye and outer corner. More fun -Cover Girl's Eye Shadow Two Color Kits — each with a softly muted basic color teamed with its frosted companion shade, neatly packaged in zippy little deepturquoise compacts. Put the basic shade on lids and frost to the brow blending outward. Or, use the frosty shade on the lid — it's really smashing! For fanciful moods and a dramatic eye, use three shadow colorings and blur the lid color down and under lower lashes. Speaking of lashes, they're the grand finale to fabulous eyes! And long, thick lashes can be yours! For every day, sweep on several coats of mascara, allowing sufficient drying time between each application or make them spikey with the tip of your mascara wand, separating lashes into tiny bunches while still wet.

That's it... the real basics. and happy fun of experimenting with the different, fabulous looks the Cover Girl Eyes collection can create. Who knows, you might be discovered.

Officiating for the double-ring ceremony was John David Wright. minister of the Talco Church of Christ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a streetlength dress of white satin with overlay of lace. It was fashioned with fitted bodice, long sleeves and rounded neck. Her elbow length veil of French illusion was held at the hairline with lace petals. The bridal bouquet of white orchids was encircled with white carnations, satin petals and flowing ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Charles Newman served as matron of honor and was attired in a pink sheath dress, matching accessories and carried pink carnations.

Gary Henry served his brother as best man. The ring bearer was Cary Henry, nephew of the groom. The dainty little flower girl was Miss Susan Stanley of Bogata, cousin of the groom.

Vows were exchanged before an improvised altar of a white arch entwined with greenery and white flowers. A large satin bow centered the arch. Franking this were two cathedral candelabra holding white tapers. They were lighted by Kenny Stanley and Larry Denny. The couple knelt on a white satin prie dieu as the soloist, Mrs. Lola Kirkland sang the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Kirkland also sang "Whither Thou Goest." She was accompanied by Mrs. Carlton Stanley of played the traditional wedding music.

RECEPTION

A reception was held following the wedding for the friends and immediate families who attended the ceremony. The bride's table was covered in satin with overlay of pink lace. Centering the table was a pretty arrangement of pink carnations and fern. The three swan columned cake, with crest of a bride and groom, and pink punch were served.
