Austin. -"Future financing of for the next year to the revision public schools in Texas is the task. most talked about, but least understood, problem in the state today," Sen. Pete Snelson told the West Texas Press Association at their winter meeting in Midland.

"The courts have said that the wealth of a school district cannot be the criteria for future financing," he explained. "And all future school financing in the state is affected by the court suit on the Edgewood district of San Antonio. Public school financing has been challenged in the courts in 30 states."

He compared Edgewood with Odessa's school district. Odessa has 24,984 pupils. 1.119 teachers with a starting salary of $7,445. Edgewood has 22,134 students. 805 teachers with a salary of $6,000. This is not the "equality" promised under the 14th Amendment, the courts have ruled-and the U. S. Supreme Court is looking at the appeals on this and other state cases.

The U. S. Supreme Court decision will write the next public school financing formulas in Texas, Snelson added, which might force a special session of the Texas Legislature - after this 63rd regular session has adjourned.

He speculated on the future of school districts - pointing out that ideas have ranged from a "statewide school district" to more "consolidation of school in counties and statewide "property assessment at true market value."

Snelson, vice-chairman of the Senate Education Committee, quoted an El Paso newspaper clipping which said: "We are watching the demise of public education in Texas."

"The wealth of Texas as a whole will determine our future laws on public education," Snelson concluded - and asked these questions: "What will be the effect on the state tax structure? What will it do to consolidation

SALES TAX RECOMMENDA-TIONS -Tens of millions of dollars in sales tax collections are not finding their way into the state treasury. a Senate committee reported last week.

Former Sen. Joe Christie said the final report of the interim committee to study the sales tax reveals "glaring deficiencies in the way sales taxes now are collected."

Christie said the report is not meant as an attack on the office of the comptroller, the state's chief tax collector, but as an effort to suggest better and more efficient ways to get maximum yield out of the lucrative and sensitive sales tax.

In the committee's opinion, the state lost at least $18.2 million in 1971 due to faulty administration of the levy.

Committee members offered these recommendations:

• Employment of more Auditors to monitor payments by business firms to the state.

• Authority for cities to pursue in the courts collection of sales taxes once they are declared delinquent by the comptroller. Requirement that business firms post bond to insure payment of their sales taxes.

Sens. O. H. (Ike) Harris and Escar Mauzy, both of Dallas, served on the committee and will co-sponsor legislation to carry out the report's recommendations in the Senate.

The report charged Comptroller Robert S. Calvert has "pursued a policy which encourages sales tax delinquency" and has refused to demand adequate assurance of payment from new and consistenly-delinquent taxpayers.

The Board of Trustees of the Talco - Bogata Schools met in regular session at Rivercrest on Tuesday, March 6, 1973 at 7:00 p. m. with all members present. Dianne Harris of the Mt. Pleasant Tribune was also present.

The major item on the agenda was the employment of teachers for the 1973-74 school year. Due to retirement, the Board accepted the resignations of Mrs. Edie Stogner. Mrs. Elma Chaloner, and Mrs. Pauline Hutson - all long-time teachers in the Bogata Elementary School. Also, the resignations of Mr. Bill Cooksey, Rivercrest band director for the past three years, and Mr. Marion Foster, a junior high teacher in Bogata for the past three years, were accepted.

The following teachers were re-employed for the 1973-74 school year:

Rivercrest - George Baum, Nadine Caldwell, Bobby Dobbs, Susan Dodd, Richard Frierson, Bonnye Gage, Jewell Haynes, Bonnie Huddleston, Craig Ingram, Fay Montgomery, Billie Pirtle, Kenneth Pirtle,, Ann Roberts, Barbara Russell, Donald Stockton, Anita Stubblefield, L. P. Taylor, Morris Trimm, Wake Wood, W. H. Montgomery, Elizabeth Bell, Odessa Isbell.

Bogata - Maggie Morgan, Billie Garrison, Louise Preston, Georgia Easterling, Mary Vaughan, Kay Kennedy, JaneHolmes, Pat Kilmer, Sue Jackson, Neva Oates, Thomas Young, Richard Garrison, May Dan Bell.

Talco — Ray Miller, Verda Duncan, Billy Joe Vickers, Shirley Brannon, Novie Cain, Fredricka Hudson, Willie Mae Hobson, Mary Coleman, Miram Reddin, Mary Mel Bartlett, Lynda Ballard, Alice Ruth Tidwell.

In other action, Board approval was given sections 402-812 of the revised school Board policies that have been under study the past few months. Superintendnt Talmadg Morgan said that this completes a total revision of the policies. Approval was given to the report of the Textbook Committee Stubblefield, and Robert Giddense concerning adoption of textbooks also attended parts of the Board for use beginning with the next meeting to briefly discuss thei school year. school programs. Miss Hinson Enters ROTC Training

Miss Vicki Ann Hinson, a sophomore student at East Texas State University, has become the college's third female cadet to enter the United States Air Force Rserve Officer's Training Corps. Only recently did the USAF accept women into the university ROTC in a two or four year program. Miss Hinson, a music and photography major, has begun her training in the four year program of Aerospace Studies and plans to enter the Air Force after graduation in the field of Information and Public Relations.

While in ROTC Miss Hinson has volunteered for the Civil Air Patrol, a national organization concerned with rescue and recovery. She is also a member of the Genral Military Curs Club, a group of freshmen and sophomore cadets working toward becoming proficient officers. As a member of GMC, Mss Hinson serves the Club as its Infirmation Officer, and she is the editor of the corps newspaper, the Cadet Kazette. In corps training she was chosen to be a squad leader in her flight, thus becoming the first female in this position. Earlier in the year, Miss Hinson was chosen as a member of Angel Flight, the women's service auxiliary to the Arnold Air Society, and general support to the corps. As a first lieutenant she now serves the flight as service chairman where she is in charg of national, state and local projects. As a member of Angel Flight she is an official hostess for ETSU where she joins yith other Angels and Cadets in retreat ceremonies, color guards, parades, field days. CONSTITUTIONAL PANEL PICKED - Legislators have until the end of the week to lodge their objections to the 37-member Texas Constitutional Revision Commission selected by the state's top six officials.

In order to reject the slate, a majority of both houses would have to signify their objections with the Secretary of State. Apparently. a relatively small number of objections will be lodged. although complaints on equality of the represtation on the Commission were lodged by blacks, Republicans, women, youth and a West Texan. Mexican - Americans were also among signers of the objection petition.

Former State Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert was named chairman of the Commission which must report its recommendations to the Legislature by November. Mrs. Malcolm Milburn of Austin, former Republican state vice chairman, is Commission vice chairman. The Legislature will sit as a constitutional convention next year. using the Commission's work as its starting point.

The Commission includes four Republicans, four women, three blacks and three Mexican-Americans. Neither group was satisfied with its numerical representation. although individuals named by the selection committee generally drew commendation.

Calvert is expected to call the group together soon after the Legislature's "veto period" expires. Members were warned they may as well be prepared to block off at least half their time

While more Texans may qualify for state Medicaid coverage under the new federal provisions, Hobby said. he is not convinced the number of recipients of the medical care will be doubled as estimated by the Welfare Department.

Texas Research League, meanwhile, accepted Governor Briscoe's request to make an analysis of the impact of new Social Security amendments on state finances and welfare programs. SENATE REFORM ACTION PLEDGED — The Senate will pass "meaningful legislation" on the topic of ethical conduct in government. Lt. Gov. Hobby told the House Rules Committee last week.

Open meetings legislation passed by the House will be on the Senate calendar soon, Hobby said, along with a House bill to limit tax and spending conference committees to adjustments in bills.

A lobby control measure will be heard by Senate Jurisprudence Committee March 13. Hobby stuck by his guns: that he wants advice of 150 citizens at an "ethics conference" this month on ethics, lobby and campaign regulation.

concern seems to be shifting to energy supply. Some ecologists worry about America's accelerating use of fuels - coal, oii, gas and uranium. These basic sources of energy, burned directly or transformed into electricity, propel all vehicles, heat and cool our homes, run appliances, cock and refrigerate foods and power our industries.

The use of aluminum, an environmentally thrifty metal, stretches fuels and energy, the people at Reynolds Aluminum point out. 'Aluminum does not deteriorate and is easily recycled with little expenditure of en-ergy," said Dr. Robert F. Testin, director of environmental planning for Reynolds. "That makes it an energy bank that can be drawn upon again and again. When longlasting aluminum products are finally discarded, melting them down for refashioning into new products takes less than 5 per cent of the energy used to make the aluminum originally.' Because it is so light -only one-third the weight of steel, copper or brass - aluminum provides a greater quantity of material per ton. "This phenomenon stretches the energy used in making aluminum products, as a ton of aluminum yields two to three times more items than are obtained from a ton of other materials," according to Dr. Earl E. Patterson, who heads up Reynolds metallurgical research.

An example of Dr. Patterson's point is beer and soft drink containers. A ton of steel produces 15,400 steel cans, and a ton of glass makes 5,000 bottles, but a ton of aluminum results in 32,680 all-aluminum cans.

An article in the Reynolds magazine reveals many other

Accountability has become the watchword of edu- administrators noticed a cation. In school districts around the country, the emphasis is now on results.

This trend began when the National "Right to Read" campaign was launched because one out of every four students in the nation had a significant reading deficiency.

School "dministrators, recognizing the need and wishing to cooperate with the "Right to Read" campaign, began looking for reading programs to solve the problems of their students.

Many of these programs have been in the schools for a year or more, and parents and others interested in education are now asking to see the results.

One of the reading programs, called "Project Read" operates presently in over 100 school districts across the country. It was developed by Behavioral Research Laboratories of Palo Alto, Calif. and uses the individualized programmed learning approach to reading. The noted lin-guist, Dr. M.W. Sullivan, developed the materials based on the premise that every child can learn to read.

The results of Project Read seem to bear out his premise, for children are learning to read with the BRL-Sullivan method.

Read have shown encouraging progress. And concerned school boards are getting more such projects underway In the Project Read schools in Inglewood, Calif., for example, over 80 per cent of the first and second grade students made impressive gains. One Inglewood teacher remarked, "Project Read reaches the students since its individualization allows them to work at their own pace. You can monitor it anytime, learning where the pupils are, what their needs are." Philadelphia's District Four initiated Project Read in the fall of 1970 and subsequently its rank in reading achievement in the city great-
