Austin. —Top legislators have settled down to the budget-writing job which will decide whether lawmakers — and the taxpayers — will be confronted with a tax bill this year.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe said new taxation must be avoided — for the second legislative session in which would require no new revenue.

Further, the Briscoe budget would leave $300 million in unobligated funds on the table to meet unforeseen court developments in the public school finance case and uncertainties of welfare spending requirements.

Briscoe's no-new-tax proposals met generally favorable reaction from legislative leaders and rank-and-file legislators, although some differed with him on specifics.

The governor delivered to a joint session of the House and Senate a $9.6 billion biennial appropriation recommendation — $391.6 million above the present level of general revenue outlays and federal revenue-sharing income.

Even with the addition and the holding back of $300 million, Briscoe was $173.1 million under former Gov. Preston Smith's last budget draft for 1974-1975, and $91.6 million below the Legislative Budget Board's recommendations.

He recommended $240.3 million more for education; an $111.3 million increase for the state departments and agencies; $29 million more for public health, hospitals, mental retardation and youth institutions and $11 million more for the courts and legislature.

Despite a series of severe weather and tornado warnings and thunderstorms, school at Rivercrest is continuing normally.

On Saturday, March 3, three members of the Rivercrest band, along with Director William Cooksey, traveled to Commerce for the Regional Solo and Ensemble Contest.

World War I veterans and their dependents due to increased social security payments — in some cases resulting in an overall loss in total income — emphasizing the urgent need for a pension based on service alone without regard to other income.

World War I veterans now average over 76 years of age and they and their dependents deserve the same pension benefits that the U. S. has provided to veterans of earlier wars.

NOVEMBER 11 is a significant date for veterans because it is the anniversary of the 1918 Armistice ending World War I and for half a century has marked the traditional observance of Veterans Day.

THE ISSUE: GLOBAL SURVIVAL

As we conclude our involvement in Southeast Asia, the U.S. must start paying more attention to its relations with North Atlantic allies. A good starting point is the Atlantic Union Resolution now before Congress. This resolution calls on Congress to create a delegation to organize and participate in a convention of North Atlantic Treaty nations. Purpose of the convention: to explore the possibilities of a formalized federal union of these democratic countries.

The creation of a supranational government of mature democracies should be neither accepted nor rejected summarily. It deserves careful study.

Supporters see North Atlantic unity as the best hope for preservation of transnational peace, economic stability, quality of life. No one can deny the validity of these objectives.

The concept of such a union is workable. The U.S. political system is a standout example.

Youth for Federal Union, Washington, D.C., a new educational group advocating a federated union of the world's mature democracies, presents this argument for the proposal.

"Scientific development and technology rush on irrespective of national boundaries. So does economic development. The multi-national corporation is commonplace. Social phenomena, such as the youth culture, are not restricted to national boundaries. Poverty and disease do not stop at the border. Nor do environmental problems of air and water pollution. Unity among nations is the way to solve problems of pollution, population, trade barriers, travel restriction and war."

Support for the federal union concept cuts across party and ideological lines. In 1966 President Nixon said:

"It is fitting that the United States, the world's first federal government, should be the main force behind the effort to find a basis for a broad federation of free Atlantic nations. Recent events of history and numerous technological advances of the past 20 years point the way in this direction."

Hubert H. Humphrey, in explaining why he favors the Atlantic Union resolution, says it is time "to explore with our NATO allies a federal union answer to the challenge of how to unite effectively and democratically the great moral and material strength of these free people."

A number of prominent citizens in and out of government tend to disagree on many issues but unite on the principle that our North Atlantic alliances should be strengthened. We must unite, they say, against our problems before the problems unite against us.

How the strengthening of this alliance can best be achieved is certainly open to debate. Formalized federal union is a possibility that deserves closer attention by both the American people and the Congress.

He is survived by his wife, the former Nida Smith, whom he married in 1919; 11 sons, Theodore of Cleburne, Chesley, L. D. Jr., Arvil, Joe, Howard and Charles of Fort Worth, Bobby of El Paso, Raymond and Monroe of Houston, Elton of Dallas, and one daughter, Mrs. Bernice Hefley of Denton; also 51 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Stell Garretson and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Garretson of Ft. Worth were week end guests of their father and grandfather, Raymond Mayes, a patient at Red River County Hospital.

Mrs. Loveless Rites In Okla.

Funeral services for Mrs. Virgil Loveless of Pattonville, Rt. 1 were held Monday at Paoli, Ok. at 10:30 a. m. at the Baptist Church there. Mrs. Loveless died at 6:15 a. m. Saturday at McCuiston Hospital, Paris, following a long illness. Burial was made in the Paoli Cemetery.

The former Miss Mary Ann Bailey, Mrs. Loveless was born Sept. 21, 1936, at Foss, Okla., a daughter of Odis G. and Winnie (Bledsoe) Bailey. She married Mr. Loveless, who survives, in Lubbock on March 1, 1958. She was a member of the Baptist Church at Pattonville.
