Austin. — Daring more federal court challenges, the House Reapportionment Committee has advanced a "redistricting" bill that makes virtually no changes in present representative districts.

The Committee bill, approved 12-8, would retain multi-member House districts in all but the three metropolitan counties of Bexar, Dallas and Harris.

Rep. Joe Wyatt of Bloomington, the sponsor, said he would accept an amendment on the House floor to give Tarrant County single-member districts like those in the three larger counties.

Chairman Rep. Fred Head of Troup favored dividing all urban counties, which now have two or more representatives, into single-member districts. Committee action, in effect, took control of the bill from Head on the floor.

A three-judge federal court in January, 1972, ordered single-member House districts for Bexar and Dallas counties and gave the legislature until July 1 to rewrite a 1971 reapportionment scheme.

Representatives were warned before the vote that if the U. S. Supreme Court upholds the 1972 ruling, it is likely to order single member, individual House districts in all urban counties.

The bill as advanced further did not meet federal court disapproval of a 9.9 per cent population spread between smallest and most-populous Texas House districts.

However, Wyatt contended the Supreme Court in a Virginia case later upheld a 16.4 per cent deviation.

UNNECESSARY "ENERGY" ADS — The House Natural Resources Committee held a hearing on HSR 131 last week — a measure that requests advertisers to "not use advertisements to urge the public to use more power or energy than is reasonably necessary."

House authors are Representatives Ben Grant, Marshall, and Wood Denson, Houston.

Grant testified before the Committee that his bill was not intended to regulate advertising of energy companies in Texas — but to urge advertisers to "teach or persuade the public to conserve or decrease the use of energy and to avoid all wasteful uses of power."

He cited some of the copy used by Conn Edison — a major utility in the East.

A spokesman for the Southwest Electric Power Company told the Committee that his company was against the bill because they did not feel the state should "get into the business of curtailing advertising."

"We have a surplus of power," he said, "Conn Edison has a shortage. We need to urge our consumers to use more electricity in the winter for heating purposes. We have the power available, and we need to sell it in order to pay for our bonds."

"Our consumers use our power supply in the summer when air conditioning is needed," he continued. "But we need to 'sell' them on winter-time power consumption through our advertising programs. We don't think the state legislature should get into advertising controls in Texas."

Grant said he was merely trying to encourage advertisers to avoid waste of energy, and that he would oppose "mandatory" regulations also.

The bill was sent to the Oil and Gas subcommittee of the Natural Resources Committee.

VENDING MACHINE FIRMS EYED — The attorney general's office and 14 other government agencies are investigating operations of 11 vending machine corporations in five cities.

Visitorial letters were served on the firms requesting that books and records be made available for inspection. The Department of Public Safety, State Comptroller, State Securities Board, Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission and law enforcement agencies in the cities are cooperating in the probe, coordinated by the Attorney General's Organized Crime Strike Force.

Firms are located in Dallas, Houston, Fort Worth, Grand Prairie and a San Antonio.

Details of the investigation were not disclosed. Refusal of a Grand Prairie concern to allow inspection of records resulted in filing a misdemeanor complaint in Dallas County Criminal Court No. 2.

DISASTER AID AVAILABLE, LIMITED — The federal Small Business Administration will make disaster loans in Hale, Navarro and Frio Counties as a result of April 15 tornadoes.

Sen. John Tower announced the aid, but Governor Briscoe said the Office of Emergency Preparedness rejected his request to declare Hale and Navarro Counties major disaster areas.

Tower said 15 other counties have been declared eligible for emergency loans from Farmers Home Administration due to weather damage including excessive rainfall. The counties are Concho, Crisby, El Paso, Franklin, Hale, Hockley, Hudspeth, Montgomery, Lamb, Lynn, Lubbock, Reeves, Wharton and Wood.

RECORD WHEAT HARVEST REPORTED — Agriculture Commissioner John C. White reported the first wheat harvest of 1973 in Frio County averaged 26 bushels an acre, a record high.

The Texas wheat harvest is expected to reach $3,000,000 bushels this year, double the 1972 yield, from 3,200,000 acres, White estimated. Major harvest in North Texas won't start until late May, and won't reach a peak until June.

AG OPINIONS — A $3,000 homestead exemption applies to property subject to ad valorem taxes for county farm-to-market road and flood control purposes, but a second resident exemption on the same property can't be claimed, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

• A bill allowing the State Board of Control to serve as purchasing agent for college districts is constitutional.

• Cooperative purchasing agreements by local governments with the Board of Control or among themselves would also be constitutional.

• A Commission on Revenue Earmarking would be constitutional.

• Metropolitan county supplementation of Court of Criminal Appeals pay would be unconstitutional.

CONVENTION DISCORD RAISED — Senate planners for the 1974 constitutional convention were angered by House efforts to dominate the arrangements committee.

The House adopted a resolution calling for 16 members of the convention planning committee and only five senators. Senate spokesmen said the proposal will never be accepted.

Meanwhile, House Speaker Price Daniel Jr. said he does not condone circulation of a petition endorsing him as convention chairman. Both Lt. Gov. Hobby and Daniel have acknowledged they are interested in the chairmanship, although they say they are not campaigning. Several House members have endorsed Daniel.

LITTLE-KNOWN FACTS ABOUT WATER

Easy to install, the new AMF water filter is the answer to many water quality problems. At right, the woman has found the best solution.

In the Sahara, a rich merchant once paid a camel driver $20,000 for his gourd of water. But delivered to your tap, 60 gallons of this delicious, fresh, liquid asset costs you less than a bottle of pop today.

Though most water suppliers throughout the nation have the purest of motives, modern living conditions are creating various water problems. Already over-burdened water works must cope with them. One is the difficulty in removing matter that dissolves in water, such as fallen leaves, chloride run-off from salted roadways, as well as debris from road washings and storm drains, and petroleum pollutants from traffic.

"Other impurities sometimes found in water supplies," according to Dr. L.S. Goldring, Manager of the Chemical and Physical Research Division of AMF, Inc., "are hydrogen sulfide, which gives water that rotten egg smell, and iron which has a peculiar taste well-remembered by those who have tried it. Both are usually removed by public water works, but both can be a problem in private water supplies. Chlorine, which is frequently added by public water suppliers, is a common problem because of its unpleasant taste."

There are also visible impurities, he observes. Both rust and sediment can come from old pipes in older neighborhoods or buildings. Dr. Goldring adds that "the visible impurities—the particles, the sediment and the rust, and the algae—can be removed by the cellulose fiber section of a new filter." Substances that have off-tastes and aromas, like chlorine, are removed by filtration through an activated charcoal section.

A significant development in making home drinking water taste better and in ensuring that foods taste fresh and delicious is the AMF Cuno Aqua-Pure Home Water Filter. It not only filters out dirt and rust but removes bad tastes and odors such as chlorine and other harsh elements. A homeowner can easily install it with a do-it-yourself kit. Or it can be attached by a plumber. The versatile Aqua-Pure Home Water Filter can also be installed under sinks in vacation homes as well as in mobile homes or boats to ensure quality water... wherever you travel.

Available through plumbing suppliers, the filter puts spring-quality water on tap at a fraction of a cent per gallon.

SKY-HIGH PINK LEMONADE PIE

How many times have you enjoyed those great looking, great tasting, fluffy high pies that are the specialty of many great restaurants? And how many times did you wonder if they were difficult or expensive to make? Well, if you've only eaten these delightful pies when dining out, now you can make a perfect beauty at home with this simple recipe.

Unflavored gelatine is the indispensable ingredient for this special kind of pie, holding the creamy light filling high and firm as it chills. It's an economical dessert despite its look of luxury. Lemonade concentrate is inexpensive, and instead of whipped cream, evaporated milk is used, which helps to cut calories, too.

PINK LEMONADE PIE

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatine
- 3/4 cup cold water
- 1 can (6 ounces) frozen lemonade concentrate, thawed, undiluted
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1 cup evaporated milk, chilled
- Red food coloring
- 1 frozen 9-inch pie crust shell, baked

Sprinkle gelatine over cold water and undiluted lemonade concentrate in saucepan. Place over low heat; stir constantly until gelatine dissolves, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat; add sugar and stir until dissolved. Chill, stirring occasionally, until completely cooled. Pour chilled evaporated milk into chilled mixing bowl; beat at high speed of electric mixer until stiff, about 5 minutes. Fold in cooled gelatine mixture. Add a few drops of red food coloring to make pink color. Turn into cooled pie crust shell. Chill until firm, about 2 hours. For a frosty-cold pie, place in freezer for 4 hours. If frozen overnight or longer, remove from freezer 15 to 20 minutes before serving. YIELD: 6 servings.

SUGGESTIONS

An electric freezer is one of the most helpful appliances you own. And by using it wisely you can save money and electricity while you serve delicious meals to your family. These tips on the proper use and care can help you.

If possible, keep your freezer in the coolest spot in the room . . . away from the range.

If your freezer is not frost free, defrost it before ice builds up to 1/4 inch thickness. Ice causes the compressor to work longer and harder.

Take advantage of sales and foods that are in season.

Don't overload your freezer, as it may require more electricity to keep food cool.

This is one of a series of money saving suggestions from Community Public Service Company to help you get the most efficient and economical use from electricity.
